Officers, Athletes Receive Praise, Awards At Assembly

New student body officers were installed and sixty-four varsity athletic awards, five gavels, and two publication's awards were given to JC students at an Awards-Installation assembly Tuesday in the boys' gym.

Presiding chairman Art Margosian introduced Gene Hambelton who installed the new student body officers. Duke Potere was installed as new SB president and Bob Sani, Rudeen Bruce, and Marie Lipscomb took over the offices of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively. Potere then presented a gavel to Hambelton the out-going president.

AWS AND AMS

Lois Tvede, newly elected AWS president, presented the out-going Margaret Margossian with a gavel. The AMS then took the spotlight, with John Mullins giving the retiring president Art Margosian a gavel. Milton Martin, last semester's AMS president, was also awarded a gavel.

Edwin Lombard, FSC speech professor, next handed a trophy, won by the FJC radio class in the FSC play tourney earlier this semester, to Margosian, a member of the cast.

COACHES TAKE OVER

FJC's coaches Warren Johnston and Paul Starr presented athletic awards and announced the names of JCers who made the all-conference football and basketball teams.

Fullback Bob Cobb and halfback Larry DeCarlo were listed on the first team all conference selections. Linemen Lyman Ehrlich and Ledio Fanucchi made the second team, and John Savona, Bob Bradford, Mike Ryan and Warren Wright, third team.

HEAVIN SETS RECORD

Lloyd Heavin, Jr., was a unanimous all conference basketball selection. He set a conference record with 43 points in one game. Willie Perry received a second string berth. Otis Harris and Joe Ybanez made the third team.

Little Don Putman was chosen honorary captain of the Ram baseball team for the season. Joe Spino is the captain-elect.

Rehearsal Called For Baccalaureate

The only Baccalaureate rehearsal will be held at the First Methodist Church at "M" and Tuolumne, from 9 to 11 a.m. on June 1. All seniors who plan to take part in the services should be present.

Lueanna Henson and Marjorie Woodfin, co-chairmen of the student committee, will be in charge of arrangements. Dick Jayne and Pete Topulos are the 12th and 14th year representatives.

MEREDITH TO SPEAK

The services are to be held at 7:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church. Dr. Ronald Meredith will give the Baccalaureate sermon.

The Fresno Junior College choir, under the direction of Mr. Lowell Spencer, will provide the musical numbers for the program, and Miss Carol Johnson, soloist, will sing a portion of Handel's "Where You Walk."

Joe Ragsdale will lead the Prayer of Commitment; Lila Lee Haskell will read the scripture lesson; and Evelyn Steinkamp will lead the responsive reading.

FACULTY SPONSORS

Sponsors for the program are Mrs. Hartley, general chairman; Mr. Spencer, music; Mrs. Dorothy Gossett, printing arrangements; Mr. A. E. Sullivan, seating; and Mr. Joe King, advisor to the speakers.

Joyce McCann, a graduating twelfth year student, designed the cover page for the program.

The services will be informal—no caps and gowns are to be worn—and all friends are invited.

Night Picnic Concludes FBLA Social Activities

A picnic supper ended the social events for the Future Business Leaders of America last night at the home of Miss Gertrude Stubblefield, sponsor.

After the barbecue, dinner games were played by the members and their guests.

Betty Gunderson, social chairman, made the arrangements for the dinner.

Associate of Arts students, and graduating 12th year seniors will receive their diplomas in a combined commencement program this year.

The final commencement rehearsal will be held in the

Clearance Must Be Completed By All Grads On June 2

Clearance papers for all graduating fourteenth and twelfth year students must be obtained on the morning of June 2 from Mrs. Lena Fuller in the main office and returned that afternoon, Maurice Reetz, dean of instruction, said today.

Students will obtain their grades and number of units from each instructor who will sign the clearance slip. Signatures indicating clearance by the librarian and financial secretary must also be secured.

No diplomas will be issued until these clearance certificates are returned, Mrs. Fuller warned.

The information on the clearance slip is needed to complete student records and transcript. Other information is also requested on the form, including the student's extra-curricular undertakings while at Fresno Junior College.

Tvede Installed As New AWS Chief

Lois Tvede was installed as president of the Associated Women Students at an informal luncheon recently.

Others installed were Kathleen Morey, vice president; Beverly Jones, secretary; Phyllis Daugherty, historian; and Toshika Ikuma, treasurer.

The out-going officers presented each new officer with a token of their respective office and an AWS constitution.

The new president then presented Margaret Margossian, the past president, with a gavel, honoring her for the work she had done during her term.

The old officers are Miss Margossian, president; Phyllis Daugherty, vice president; Mabel Lancaster, secretary; Lueanna Henson, treasurer; and Joyce McCann, historian.

Alpha Zetas Plan Party Next Friday

A party will climax the social year of the Alpha Zeta Chapter of the Alpha Gamma Sigma Friday, June 2, from 6:30 to 12 p.m., for the members and their guests in the Ramble Inn Social Room.

"Plans for a buffet dinner and dancing are being worked on by the committee," said Virginia Gilles, chairman.

Leo Margosian and Joan Koller were recently selected to represent the Fresno Chapter on the State Honor Roll of Graduates for the year 1949-50.

AWS Plans 'Big Sister' Program For Next Semester

Council members of the Associated Women Students are planning a "Big Sister" event for next semester in hopes that it will become an annual affair and will stimulate interest in student activities.

The tentative plan is to have each new girl entering the school met by one of the returning girls. The "big sister" will help the new girl to register, show her around the school, and help to acquaint her with school procedures.

"The cooperation of every girl who is returning to FJC next semester is absolutely essential," said Lois Tvede, AWS president, "if you have not been contacted personally as yet, please get in touch with one of the council members for further information."

The council members are Miss Tvede, president; Kathleen Morey, vice president; Beverly Jones, secretary; Toshika Ikuma, treasurer; and Phyllis Daugherty, historian.

Over Half Of JC Students From Fresno, Records Show

By MABEL LANCASTER

Out of approximately 650 thirteenth and fourteenth year students at the Fresno Junior College, 58% of the students are from Fresno and 42% from out of town.

Fresno High students make up 17.8% of the student body leading the other city schools with 116 to Roosevelt's 93, Fresno Tech's 68, Edison's 60, and San Joaquin Memorial's 18.

Out-of-town students number 261 with Arizona leading with five. Oklahoma was second with four and Illinois, Arkansas, Colorado, Texas, New York, and Missouri next with three each.

Thirty-six FJC students represent six foreign countries including

Japan, China, Poland, Greece, Italy, and Germany. China leads with 17; Japan is next with 15; and each of the others have one representative.

From Fresno County, Fowler High and Central Union are tied with eleven students from each school and Washington Union and Clovis are next with 9 and 7 respectively.

Students enrolled at FJC from as far as Connecticut in the East, Florida in the South, Montana in the North, and Utah and Washington in the West.

With the approximate enrollment at 650 there are an estimated 260 students taking commercial courses, 279 enrolled in general education, and 105 taking industrial education.

Fresno Memorial Auditorium on June 7 at 8:30 a.m. All participating students must be present.

Commencement exercises are to be held on June 8 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium, and will be led off by a salute to the flag by Don Bischel.

Erwin A. Dann, assistant superintendent of schools and acting president of Fresno Junior College, will introduce the Reverend James M. Malloch who will speak on, "Why A Junior College?"

The Invocation will be given by the Reverend John H. Gregg, Minister of The First Congregational Church.

Two vocal solos to be featured on the program are, "Song Of The Open Road," by Don Moulden, and "Romany Life," by Jeanette Neal. Both singers will be accompanied by Mr. Lowell Spencer, who will be in charge of all the music for the event.

Presentation of the two graduating classes will be made by Maurice Reetz, dean of instruction, and awarding of the diplomas by Arthur Selland, a member of the school board.

Sponsors for the occasion are Paul Mueller, general chairman, and A. E. Sullivan.

Yearbook Is Late Editor Announces

The new Fresno Junior College yearbook will be ready for distribution about two or three weeks after school is out, Louis Ingraham, editor, announced today.

The 80-page book will have a white cover, red lettering, and will be printed by Thomas Lithograph of Fresno. Instead of the advisory room group pictures used formerly, the new book will contain more informal classroom scenes. The Rambler will be free to holders of $8.50 student body cards for both semesters.

Ingraham stated that when the books are completed, notices will be sent to students who are eligible to receive them and those students may receive their books at the school.

Editor Expresses Thanks

Since this is my last writing for the Rampage, it gives me a chance to express my gratitude to the faculty, to the administration, to my news staff, to the Central California Typographic Service, and last to the publications advisor for the help they have given me in publishing the Rampage during the past year.

Without the help of the aforementioned people, the probability of publishing the Rampage would have been low. A newspaper depends on more than those who contribute articles; it requires cooperation — cooperation among the entire faculty, student body, and the administration.

We on the news staff realize that the paper was not published regularly during the second semester, but students should see that the cause was the limited budget the paper had to run on. The first semester saw the Rampage hit the news stands 10 times, while the second semester has seen only seven issues reach the hands of students.

The current staff hopes that the new student body officers will acknowledge the necessity of a weekly paper on campus, and grant the Rampage enough money to give the students a paper they will appreciate. SB officers must develop a co-operative spirit next semester to enable FJC to improve its financial status.

We of the staff are confident that the new officers will come through next year and provide the students with a paper they will enjoy reading. This year the small size of the Rampage was partially compensated for by the efficiency of the few writers. To Chili, Mabel Lancaster, Nick Millasich, Bill Madden, Don Putman, Larry DeCarlo, Ed Kashian, Evelyn Steinkamp, Gene Hambelton, Jim Wilkie, and Bill Swanson go my thanks for their fine assistance. To the next Rampage editor, the best of luck and may your year be as fruitful as mine.

Many Jobs Await DE Students

"Over three-fourths of all people working in Fresno are in distributive work, and there is always a need for trained salespeople." So spoke Mr. Clifford Hawkins, head of the merchandising classes at Fresno Junior College.

The school cannot be accused of laxity in the field. On entering the merchandising class, one sees the practical experience obtained by the ninety students who, at present, are preparing for their vocational aims.

Three classes comprising the offerings are the co-operative, the advertising, and the retail merchandising classes; each serve a vital purpose in the function of merchandising. The co-operative class serves as a laboratory, while the other two offer practical experience.

Working in soda fountains, drug stores, variety stores, stock rooms, wrapping counters, or as elevator operators and service station attendants, the students are gathering invaluable experience.

Many members of the class have offered various advertising material of their own to insure the advancement of display projects. At present, the class is in the midst of practical display work, using the various materials at their disposal.

There is a noticeable tendency for an increased interest in the field of merchandising. For this reason a plan is now underway to increase the size of the room.

If you happen to be strolling through the halls of Fresno Junior College and you think you see a grocery store, don't be alarmed; it isn't a mirage; it's only the merchandising class.

Bob 'n'round

With BOB WALLAR
and MIKE CANFIELD

With the school year coming to an end and with three months of summer ahead of us, many of us are faced with the question of what to do. It is this question that inspired us to ask:

WHAT ARE YOU PLANNING THIS SUMMER?

Marylea Muir, a Spanish major, is going to Mexico City College, in Mexico for ten weeks this summer. "I'll be coming back to Fresno Junior College in the fall," Miss Muir said. She hopes someday to become a teacher of foreign language in a high school or a junior college.

Don Moulden, twelfth year class president and a music major, is going to enter the maritime service this summer, after a short vacation at Yosemite National Park. He will be stationed first in St. Petersburg, Florida, where he will attend classes at the naval academy for the training of merchant sailors.

Jack McNabb, chemistry laboratory assistant, is going to Mexico this summer for a vacation and will inspect the country around Mexico City. He plans on staying for two months. Jack is enrolled in the wine chemistry class and hopes to get a job along this line.

Tom Cone, soda jerk in the Ramble Inn, is going to Huntington Lake this summer. He will operate the boating concession there and expects to put in a lot of time on the lake racing his boat, the "Missfit," a classy little craft of the outboard variety.

Elio Castillo, will be going back to his home in Caracas, Venezuela, but will return to Fresno Junior College at fall semester time. Castillo is majoring in Engineering. Previous to enrolling at FJC he spent one year at Fresno State College.

HOT STUFF With Chili

GIVE 'EM THE BIRD

A short short story (well, fairly short).

It was a cold wintery night. There was a STARR up in the sky. The KING had spent a delightful evening witnessing a BROADSHOW at the local burlesque house. He had especially enjoyed the FENN dancer; but the fenns which were whipping up a little too much breeze prompted him into leaving for home.

As he passed through the dark, mangy forest he came upon a WOODMAN who was lying on the side of the path. "What's wrong?" asked the king. "I've worked pretty hard and I'm ind of PEDERed-SON," came back the reply. So the King took out a box and offered the tired lumber man a CARTER pill. "This'll be good for your life and it'll pep you up to a point where you will HARTLEY know how tired you were," said the King.

The King reached for his tired friend's canteen. As he was about to pour a drink for the tired one, the canteen slipped from his hands and fell on the STONEY bed. "Now see what you've done," cried the woodsman, "you've BENNETT my canteen!" And with that he took off like a bat out of Mayor Dunns office.

The King made his way thru' the forest and just as he was about to cross the MARSH, a MOCKING bird flew by. The creature circled overhead a few minutes and then plummeted down and dropped at the King's feet. The bird looked as tho' it was half-starved. Sensing this, the King took a REETZ cracker out of his pocket and fed it to the hungry bird. opened one eye, looked at the King and said, "Thank you, kind King. I am Tervoian, Princess of Hosemania. The wicked witch has turned me into a bird. And the only way I can break the spell is to have someone repeat the magic word. But, alas, I know not what the word is."

"I will help you," the King said, who, by this time was a bit cold. "KOZUB, KOZUB," he sneezed. The bird said, "Please don't COFF-MAN. I will fix up a bed in this STUBBLEFIELD and you can LEYDEN and rest. But the King wasn't interested. He wanted to go back to his castle and get his top experts to cipher the magic word. So he took the bird in his arms and said, "I love you, sweet princess of Hosemania." To which the bird replied, "Aw COWAN, I'll bet you say that to all the birds." With this, the King put the bird in his pocket and off they went.

He had just crossed the moat when he met the castle carpenter, an elderly gent. The carpenter was rubbing a piece of coarse paper over his wife's German son. "What are you doing?" asked the King. Answered the carpenter, "I'm trying to SAND-ER-SON!" "HAWKIN you do such a thing to such a DARLING boy?" the King went on. "If you don't like the kid, why don't you sell him to me?" "How much will you SPENCER?" asked the carpenter. "You know he is a Knight. And a German one at that."

"I'll give you a dollar for him."

"GOSSETT on a tack. But I will trade him for that bird you have there in your red FLANNERY's back flap pocket.

"Fine," said the King, "Then we can SULLIVAN up." The deal made, the carpenter grabbed HALD of the bird and walked on.

Realizing what he had done; realizing the barter he had made, the King cried out, "Great SCOTT, I've given away a queen for a knight. Is that better than a queen for a day?

"Come here, Knight," said the King.

"Ach, vot do you vant?"

"The carpenter told me that you are a one man weather bureau. Tell me, what about the storm that is coming up?"

"SO DER STORM is coming up, so vot," came back the reply. Frenzied, the frustrated knight swallowed a vial left over from the Himmler days and dropped dead.

The king was heartbroken. He had exchanged his bird, his queen for a knight. And now his knight had fallen.

As he trogged on to make the last lap of his way home, he stepped in a hole and SPRAGUED his ankle. Taking his head in his hands, she sobbed unMURPHYfully.

Just then, out of the clear night sky, a thought came to him. He recalled reading about Capt. Marvel and his magic word, Shazam. It dawned on him then. It was all a fog before, but now it was clearing up! The magic word had come to him! . . . "ESCHEBECK! ESCHBECK! he puckered. And lo and behold, standing there in front of him, shedding her wings, was the beautiful Princes Tervoian.

They were married and lived happily ever after!

The morale of this story is: How in the hell else could I have worked Eschebeck's name in here!

THE CURTAIN COMES DOWN

Seriously, it's been a pretty good two years for me even tho' I still haven't graduated (3 years) . . . JC has a long way to go. And, man, someday, it IS really going to be great. When the school takes over the FSC plant, ye olde will finally have reached its zenith. I only wish I could be going here then. Who knows, maybe I will still be here.

JC! You can always count on this boy as one of your real supporters!

Hansler Boasts Excellent Placement Record For JC Shop Trained Students

Many job placements by the college this year in trades and industrial occupations has proven the value of the T & I division at the school, Robert Hansler, chairman, pointed out recently.

"More and more employers are demanding that persons whose interests lie in the mechanical fields prepare themselves with specific trade skills and background knowledge in mathematics, drawing, industrial science, typing, business management, and physics," Hansler said.

AUTO MECHANICS FIND JOBS

The biggest demand — and the best placement record — this year was in the field of auto mechanics where 35 men found employment through the division office.

The apprenticeship program in the Fresno community has made great demands for workers, particularly in machine shop work and mill cabinet work. Thirteen men have filled apprentice positions in machine work and six were recently placed in mill cabinet positions.

WELDING FIELD GROWS

Another fast growing occupation which sets up a demand for trained workers is the welding field, where seven men from the junior college have found work this year.

Proof of the wisdom of starting classes in radio and electronics and body and fender repair is found in the fact that five boys each were placed from these first year courses. Mr. Hansler predicts a bright future in the electronics and television fields.

A number of requests for sheet metal and for electrical workers has been received this spring and, to meet this demand, courses in sheet metal and electricity will be offered next fall.

A course in food service trades will also be offered which will be open to men and women.

A man with long pants got on a streetcar and paid a dime.

A boy with short pants got on and paid a nickel.

A girl got on free — she had a transfer.

Additional Business Courses In Offing For Next Semester

By ETHEL McCORMACK

New courses in business education are being scheduled for next fall in the accounting and the office training divisions. Among the new courses will be cost accounting, auditing, and tax accounting. For those students who can qualify, office training will be supplemented by the addition of supervised work experience in local offices. A course in applied bookkeeping will be offered for students training for stenographic and secretarial work.

A new type of introductory class in personal development will be given as a type of orientation for all business students. The course will be a study and application of the basic principles of getting along with other people. A high degree of skill alone does not insure success. All training must be backed by a good personality — general appearance, conduct, manners, attitudes, work habits, and other such traits.

SPECIAL COURSE

For the non-shorthand and non-bookkeeping student, courses in clerical and general office procedures will be available. The school is well equipped with modern office machines.

Prospects for employment are still good for the well qualified person. Too often students do not realize the value of continuing their training until they can meet the demands of business.

WANT OLDER WORKERS

The advancing employment age for new employees is once more apparent. During the war years, it was possible for high school students to drop out at the end of the first or second year and obtain some type of office or store work. Today the situation has changed considerably. High school, and even college graduates, are finding it more difficult to obtain positions in the face of keener competition and the demand for experienced and more mature workers.

Students who are well qualified in several skills have less difficulty finding employment than those who limit their training to one skill.

Teachers Predict Enrollment Rise

A summary of estimates regarding the prospective influx of new students into FJC for the fall semester has been compiled by Maurice Reetz, dean of instruction.

The estimates have been made by 11 members of the faculty. The average estimate indicates that the general consensus of opinion among the teaching staff is an expected increase of 35%.

The average of all expected increases in the shop classes is approximately 27%.

The superintendent of schools has authorized an increase in the staff at the school of four and one-half teachers.

WANT TRANSCRIPTS?

Students of FJC who are going to attend another school must have their transcript of record sent to that school.

This may be done by contacting Miss Willa Marsh, dean of students.

'Moneybags' Gives Report On Finances

By ARCH BRADSHAW

With a year in operating a college budget behind us, much experience has been gained which will enable future problems in finances to be more easily solved.

One of the difficulties has been the transition and transposition from high school to college systems. Under the former, our accounts were grouped under headings such as, in sports, football, basketball, baseball, and track and were classed generally under the heading of "athletics." In the future, a cost breakdown of each sport and event (as in all other divisions of the budget) will be kept so that we have knowledge of where excessive costs are and know the means whereby expenses can be cut without loss of efficiency. This should add additional revenue to the Associated Students Fund.

MONEY RAISERS

The Carnival Committee has shown us that with proper planning and execution we can help meet essential expenses where no budget monies are available.

The financial picture for next year is not perfect. It is not even excellent, but it is a very definite advancement toward sound financing and, if comparison to previous status is made, we have come a long way.

MONEY IN THE POT

In the not too distant future the Associated Student's Bookstore and Ramble Inn should create enough capital reserve to warrant payment of dividends to the student fund.

The Budget Committee will meet to prepare a budget for next year. This will save time and confusion in holding up activities until authority for expenditures are made.

All in all, it has been a good year and with the many problems encountered and some mistakes made — there has been great progress.

Lockers Must Be Cleaned

All lockers will be cleared on June 7 by office personnel. Harold Sanderson, Asst. Dean of Students, asks that the students remove their books and personal possessions by that date.

She was only the plumber's daughter, but every time a man whistled, her cheeks flushed.

Sports Review Shows Good Record For Fresno JC Teams

By BILL SWANSON

The Fresno Junior College athletic department has grown into a definitely potent power as was proven by the school's record in sports the last two years. This was a joint statement made by FJC coaches Warren "Stoney" Johnston and Paul Starr in a recent interview.

All four major athletic teams finished well up in the conference race, with the football and baseball teams taking the limelight.

Coach Johnston's gridiron squad closed their first CCJC season and second season of competitive play with a strong record of 7 wins and 2 losses. The Rams opened their season victoriously over the Reedley College Tigers 31 to 13 here in Ratcliffe Stadium. The second contest of the season found them downing Coalinga 15 to 6 in a dust storm in Coalinga. Hard hit by injuries, the Rams still succeeded in downing a hapless Porterville club 20 to 0 in Porterville.

GRIDDERS FIRST DEFEAT

The Rams were handed their first defeat by the powerful College of Sequoias Giants, 26 to 14. Stoney's boys bounced back and pounded out a 39 to 0 victory over the FSC Frosh in their first non-conference encounter of the season. In their second outside contest the Rams dropped the Cal Poly Frosh, 22 to 6.

The pigskin season ended with Taft on top of the 27 to 20 score here in Fresno.

BASKETBALL RECORD

Paul Starr's basketball team finished the season with a creditable record of 16 wins against 15 losses. In conference competition the Rams did very well, finishing third in the league with a record of 10 wins and 4 losses. The losses were evenly distributed between the COS, conference champions, and Reedley.

Ram forward Lloyd Heavin made the All-Conference team by virtue of his new league scoring record of 43 points in one game and his consistent 19 point average per game sharp shooting.

HAVE FINE SEASON

The FJC nine, although not as strong as last year's club, nevertheless had a fine season, finishing CCJC play in a tie for first place with Taft. In a playoff game here in Fresno the Rams lost a heart-breaker, 11 to 8. The Rams won six conference games before losing to Taft, 11 to 9.

The pitching staff on this year's nine was well fortified with such hurlers as Rich Choochajian, Joe Ybanez, and Joe Boracino. Heavy hitters on the team were Joe Spino,

AMS Swim Party Climaxes Group's Social Activities

The Associated Men Students closed its year's activities with a swimming party and election of officers recently.

The swimming party was a success with a large crowd of hungry boys and faculty members consuming many hot dogs and swimming from 6 p.m. until midnight.

The evening was highlighted by a swimming and diving exhibition by Don Putman. Avis Chilingierian presented his usual antics.

In the recent AMS election the following officers were chosen: president, John Mullins; vice president, Charles Garabedian; secretary, Ledio Fanucchi; and treasurer, Ralph Holton.

At the recent awards assembly newly-elected president Mullins gave his thanks on behalf of the club to retiring officers and sponsors.

A special thanks was given at this time to Don Putman for all the time and effort he has spent working for the club. This was expressed by retiring president Art Margosian.

New Publications Probability At FJC

Pending approval of the budget committee and the student council, the journalism classes of the junior college are planning the addition of two publications for next year, a handbook and a student directory.

Information for the handbook will be gathered by staff members this spring and will be prepared for printing before the school closes. The handbooks will then be distributed free to student body card holders at the time of registration.

The directory will be published sometime after school opens in the fall and will contain the name, address, class, and telephone number of each student.

Jerry Anderson, Don Putman, and Gerry Manfredi.

In their first year of competition the cinder squad has done very well under the tutelage of Paul Starr. The squad placed second in the Reedley Relays and second in the conference meet in Visalia. Six boys — Jack Fiorentino, Boots Edmondson, Willie Perry, Gene Likens, Otis Harris, and Frank Brunolli — will compete in the NCCJC meet in Visalia tomorrow.

SPORTS IN REVIEW

By ART MARGOSIAN

Since this is my last column for the Rampage, I'd like to thank the coaching staff and members of the athletic teams for their cooperation and assistance in helping me to obtain the news for the column.

I would also like to announce my choice for the outstanding athlete of the year. Actually the stiff competition between two JCers forced me to select two men as the year's outstanding athletes. The top performances of Otis Harris in football, basketball, and track and likewise the fine work by Joe Ybanez in football, basketball, and baseball warrant equal recognition.

HARRIS AND YBANEZ

Both Harris and Ybanez proved their worth in their respective sports. Both made third team all-conference in basketball. Since both are freshmen, the FJC coaching staff is looking forward anxiously to their return next year.

Thumbing through the list of school activities in the past I found one student who not only was a superb athlete, but did much to advance JC's events along the social and educational lines. Everyone knows this fellow; his accomplishments were many during the last semester and his rewards few, so I think it only appropriate to say to my ideal 1949-50 student, Don Putman, "THANKS, DON, FOR A JOB WELL DONE!"

Any hard-working male student interested in becoming football manager for next year please see Coach Stoney Johnston in the PE office before school closes.

ishments were many during the last semester and his rewards few, so I think it only appropriate to say to my ideal 1949-50 student, Don Putman, "THANKS, DON, FOR A JOB WELL DONE!"

RAMS BOW OUT

Our Rampaging Ram baseball nine took a back seat to the Taft Cougars in a playoff game last week, but not before scoring the tail off the Cougars. Coach Stoney Johnston's boys played heads-up ball throughout, but due to some pitching wildness in early frames lost out.

During the course of the baseball season I noticed two FJCers who consistently cheered the team on in all games they attended. HATS OFF TO COACH PAUL STARR AND GORDON SCOTT, two JC faculty members who gave their all to help the Rams along. Also orchids to the remainder of the JC faculty for their fine turnout at the Taft game.

SWANSON WARBLER

Bill Swanson, Rampage sports writer has summed up the merits of JC's athletic teams for the last year in another story on this page. Nevertheless, I can further review this year in one sentence: ANY RAM ATHLETIC TEAM THAT TOOK THE FIELD PUT UP A DETERMINED FIGHT, WIN OR LOSE.

The spirit of JC teams has been keen. This keenness can be attributed to the fine job done by the Ram coaches, Starr, Johnston, and Hans Wiedenhofer. NICE GOING, MEN.

Athletes Return Gear

All baseball and track equipment must be turned in by June 2 or final grades will not be released. It was announced by the athletic department today.

Hefty Joe Spino shows the batting form which made him one of the Rams' best batsmen. Spino also was recognized as one of JC's top defensive men. The Rams recently elected Spino to captain the 1951 baseball team.

NJCC Turns Down Fresno Application

Fresno Junior College's application for admission to the Northern Junior College Conference was turned down recently at a meeting of colleges of the northern league. Maurice Reetz, dean of instruction, attended the affair representing F.J.C.

"College of the Sequoias, was also turned down, primarily because of the geographical condition that exists," stated Reetz. "Northern colleges would not approve of the traveling distance to the San Joaquin Valley. As of now, there are 18 NJC teams divided into 3 divisions. Two new colleges were admitted after long application."

FJC will remain in the Central California Junior College Conference at present but has scheduled games with northern teams. There is a possibility for Fresno to be admitted next year as the conference expands.

Ram Track Stars Enter NJCC Meet

Five track men will represent the Fresno Junior College in the annual National Junior College Conference meet this Saturday in Visalia.

Coach Paul Starr named the following lettermen as entrants: Frank Brunolli, pole vault; Gene Likens, high hurdles and high jump; Otis Harris, 220 and 440 yard runs; Boots Edmondson, javelin; and Jack Fiorentino, shot and discus.

Entrants from as far away as Minnesota will compete in this track meet, Polly Wilhelmson, head of the College of Sequoias athletic department, revealed.

FACULTY SUPS

Members of the Fresno Junior College faculty and their families gathered at Roeding Park Tuesday evening for a picnic supper.

Miss Mary Harney, homemaking instructor, was chairman of the affair, assisted by Mrs. Edna Hartley and Miss Eda Kusch.

Ram Baseballers Lose Playoff Game To Taft Cougars

The Fresno Junior College Rams lost a one game playoff for the Central California Junior College Conference baseball title to the Taft Junior College Cougars, 11 to 8.

Going into the game the teams were tied for first place with six wins and one loss each. Taft will meet the winner of the northern division for the state playoff tournament.

CHOOHAJIAN OFF

Lefthander Richie Choochajian just couldn't locate the plate and the score was 8 to 5 at the end of five innings. Choochajian gave up only four hits but walked nine, hit two, and was the victim of three errors by his mates.

Taft hurler Don Gleason went all the way for the Cougars. Fresno out-hit the winners 11 to 9.

Big stick Jerry Anderson, first sacker, was the big gun for the Rams with a double and a long triple into right center field.

YBANEZ LOOKS GOOD

Joe Ybanez took over on the mound in the sixth and gave up three runs and did not walk a man. Ybanez fanned eight for a total of 17 for the Fresno pitchers. Gleason fanned eight and walked six for the Cougars.

Len Anderson and Don Putman also got two hits apiece for the Rams.
