No Cut Is Planned In SB Card Price For Spring Term

The Student Council voted to table discussion on the reduction of the cost of student body cards at last week's meeting.

The council heard a report from the Budget Committee, headed by Marie Lipscomb. The committee's recommendation was that there should be nothing done about it at this time, but if the council were to go ahead and act they should not reduce the cost to less than $8 for fall and $7 for spring.

The Budget Committee believed that this would bring about too drastic a reduction in the working budget and lower the financial status of the student activities which are helped through the sale of the cards. Some of this budget has been committed since last fall, stated Miss Lipscomb.

No more action on this matter will be taken until the newly-elected council takes office for the spring semester, Duke Potere, retiring president, revealed.

CLASSES ENTER TIME CONTEST

Fresno Junior College social science classes will take part in the annual Current Affairs Contest, sponsored by Time, the weekly newsmagazine—with prizes presented by the publishers.

Many junior colleges all over the country will share this year in the intramural competitions, which have developed from successful experiments a number of years ago.

In each college a prize book or a 12-inch world globe will be awarded to the student in each participating academic year who makes the highest score on a comprehensive factual test covering events in the last four months of 1950.

JC Students Invited To Attend FSC Dance

An invitation has been extended to the students of Fresno Junior College to attend the Frosh Mid-Winter Sport Dance sponsored by the Fresno State College Freshmen class.

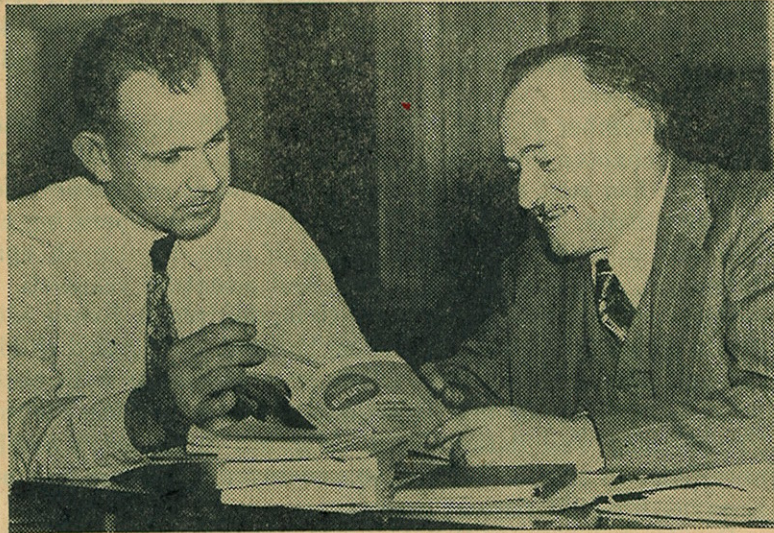

The dance will be held tomorrow night in the student union; Lou Monte and his orchestra will furnish the music. The price of the tickets is $1.20 per couple.

Dick Roth, Frosh class prexy, hopes to see many of his former classmates at the dance.

J. F. TURNER and Paul Mueller, English Department chairman, discuss Turner's educational plans for the spring semester. Pre-registration ends this Friday.

Pre-Registration Ends Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be the last day for students of the Fresno Junior College to pre-register, announced Maurice Reetz, Dean of Instruction.

A study list agreement is filled out by each student, whereon tentative courses for the coming semester are listed; this the student keeps for reference at registration on February 1.

Pre-registration is important to the students because it gives them a chance to make up their minds on the subjects they want to take and simplifies their actual registration. It also gives the administration a chance to re-assign teachers, in case a class is flooded with enrollments.

New students will plan for their courses with assigned faculty advisers on January 29, 30 and 31, and will register on February 2. Classes for the spring semester will begin on February 5.

In case a student is in doubt as to who his faculty adviser is, he may obtain this information from his division chairman in N15.

FJC Workers Man March Of Dimes Milk Bottle Board

Fresno Junior College students have gone all out to help the 1951 March of Dimes campaign, announced Miss Willa Marsh, Dean of Students.

FJC students manned the Milk Bottle Boards in front of Potter's Drug Store on Fulton Street from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. for the past four days. Fresno City High School students will take over on January 19.

Members of the student council and faculty have also been wearing March of Dimes Lapel Boxes collecting donations from the students for JC's own contribution.

Those who have worked on the Milk Bottle Board are Lorelee Brewer, Eleanor Anderson, Rita Dorris, Diane Appleton, Catherine Lowe, Louie Ingraham, Margaret Van Moos, Evelyn Mommsen, Margaret Welch, William Martin, Martin Jachens, Clint Wheeler, Sid Wilson, Lois Tvede, and Dorothy Maybee.

FJC Offers All Types Courses To Variety Of Ages, Abilities

The many and varied functions of Fresno Junior College are suited to the individual needs of students of all ages, interests, and vocational goals.

For those who wish to train for immediate employment, there are courses leading to a career in management, small business operation, merchandising, accounting, book-keeping, or in the secretarial field.

Courses pointing to preparation for a technical career as a nurse, medical laboratory technician, medical or dental receptionist, or as a wine or cotton oil analyst are available, with some of them slanted toward the special problems and situations of the San Joaquin Valley.

FJC has many classes for those who wish to prepare for war emergency employment as a skilled tradesman such as automotive mechanics, body and fender repairman, electrician, machinist, cabinet-maker, radio mechanic, sheet metal worker, welder, or industrial draftsman.

Regular lower division college courses, all transferable to four-year colleges and universities, are available in such fields as biological science, chemistry, physics, economics, political science, sociology, psychology, history, English, speech, journalism, mathematics, and engineering.

Students may attend FJC and take junior college classes for high school credit in order to earn a high school diploma. They may make up scholastic or grade point deficiencies for admission to four-year colleges and universities.

Classes in cooking, sewing, decoration, homemaking, art, and music are available on a full or part-time basis to those who wish to take them for personal skill and satisfaction or as a part of regular college work.

Improving or reactivating skills already learned is the object of many in the trade and industrial classes in bricklaying, carpentry, meat cutting, painting, plastering, plumbing, refrigeration and upholstery.

There are in addition, opportunities to participate in club and social activities, student government, and sports. Anyone can find his or her interests represented in a junior college.

Installation Of Officers Takes Place Tomorrow

Installation of student body officers, elected in the voting Monday and Tuesday, will take place tomorrow at an assembly in the south gym. Athletic and other awards will also be given.

John Mullins was elected president. Joe Spino is vice-president; Rowena Campbell, secretary; and Louis Ingraham, treasurer.

Work Or Get No Yearbook—Editor

A yearbook—or a similar type picture publication—hangs in the balance this week because of the lack of an adequate staff.

The 1951 Rambler, Fresno Junior College yearbook, could not be published this year because of its high cost, but a substitute paper-bound picture book is possible—"If," according to Louis Ingraham, editor, "there is more student support in the way of staff members in the next week."

The idea of a printed, paper-bound brochure was suggested by the editor of the yearbook when students indicated a desire for some sort of booklet to remember their stay at the junior college.

An appropriation of $750 has been approved by the student council for publication of this brochure; Ingraham indicated, however, that the amount would be returned unless an adequate number of student workers indicated their intention of helping with the book.

Double Trio Sings For Service Clubs

The Fresno Junior College double trio which preformed at the Christmas Assembly has been appearing before a number of service clubs downtown this year, Mr. Lowell Spencer, music instructor, said today.

Tomorrow night the group will present a 20-minute program at a dinner meeting of the Pacific Southwest Conference of the American Institute of Park Executives at the Hotel Californian.

Mary Jane Perry, contralto, will sing two solos. Included on the program are religious and light classical numbers.

Next Tuesday the all-girl group will present a 15-minute program at the luncheon meeting of the Quota Club at the Fresno Hotel. The Quota Club is an organization of business and professional women.

The double trio consists of Miss Perry, Wilma Rogers, Virginia Yeram, Ruth Alexander, Thelma Daniels, and Patricia Wiley.

Suggestion Box Remains Empty; Letters Invited

Students are invited to submit suggestions along with the faculty for alterations to buildings and grounds that might aid in improving the appearance of the Fresno Junior College.

Suggestions may be dropped in the little wood colored suggestion box in the main hall. To date, the contents of the little box has been one squash seed and one bit of nonsense.

The faculty has been asked to submit a list of supplies and equipment needed for next year.

Representatives-at-large to be installed are Sid Wilson, Jim Telegram, Ward Longueville, and Harry Kachorian.

The measure on the ballot allowing non-student body members to vote was passed 103-30. In the past, a student body card was required to vote; now any student carrying 12 or more units may vote in all student body elections.

NEW AWS OFFICERS

Associated Women Students officers, who will be installed, are Beatriz Ciesielska, president; Barbara Brooks, vice-president; Toshiko Ikuma, secretary; and Pat Wiley, historian.

Following installation of officers and a message from the out-going student body president, Duke Potere, awards will be made to members of the football team. Several lettermen team members have left school to serve in the armed forces. Letter awards will be presented to those remaining.

Championship jackets to be awarded to the football team have been ordered. Coach Stoney Johnston, who will make the awards, hopes to have the jackets here for presentation at the assembly.

Out-going student body president Duke Potere expressed his appreciation for the help he has received as president.

He said, "It is with regret that I leave Fresno Junior College, but with a feeling of gratitude to all who have helped me during my term of office.

"I wish to thank everyone who served on committees and to thank Dr. Blakely and all members of the faculty who cooperated with the student council and me in furthering the best interests of the students of Fresno Junior College.

"So long, and good luck to all."

Spring Officers Elected By AWS

New officers of the Associated Women Students were elected Monday and Tuesday in a vote which accompanied the student body election.

Beatriz Ciesielska was named president; Barbara Brooks, vice president; Toshiko Ikuma, secretary; and Pat Wiley, historian.

In a write-in contest for treasurer, a tie between Betty Easterbrook and Annabell Calhoun was recorded. The revote for this office will take place in the near future, Lois Tvede, out-going president, announced.

Because of the uncertainty of the presence of men candidates at the junior college, next semester, the Associated Men Students organization held off their election until after the beginning of the spring semester.

John Mullins, president of AMS, said that the nominating committee would convene soon after registration on February 1 and 2 to discuss eligible candidates.

MORE STUDENTS THE MERRIER

What makes a school? Many people will answer "spirit," or some other intangible quality and overlook the first and most obvious requirement. It is, simply—students.

Right now, with the critical world situation and consequent military enlistments, Fresno Junior College needs students. Without students, we have no school; with enough students, we have everything.

Right now, even though many people seem to be unaware of the fact, FJC has much to offer in the way of diversified training and educational program. When we have more students, we will have more to offer; we will have more courses, more classes, more instructors, more and better student activities.

FJC is growing and building. Sooner or later, we will be a big school with everything we need. We can achieve our goal sooner if every person who believes in the future of FJC will get out and tell the world what we are and what we are doing.

Our school has a lot to offer students, and students have a lot to offer the school. Let's see if we can't bring the two together.

MARCH OF DIMES NEEDS FUNDS

Nineteen Hundred Fifty was the third straight year of high polio incidence. There is at present a tremendous backlog of 30,000 cases from other years still needing care, and there is no way of preventing new epidemics in 1951.

As time goes by, more people are being stricken, more communities are being affected, more patients must be cared for. More of us must give help to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Half of all funds raised in this community will remain in this community to care for local cases. The remainder will go to National Headquarters to finance a national board program of scientific research that seeks a solution to infantile paralysis, to train professional workers, and to give epidemic aid to chapters.

By September 9, 1950, 780 chapters in 43 states had used up their chapter funds in caring for patients, and the national office had sent an additional $5,803,050 in emergency aid to those areas. The National Foundation is now operating at a deficit to meet all responsibilities of care, treatment, epidemic aid, professional education, and scientific research.

Polio can hit any person, any time, any place. Every epidemic leaves in its wake a critical backlog, of crippled children and adults. The responsibility grows heavier with each year that passes, as new thousands are added to the roster. The National Foundation during 1950 had to use every available dollar to provide its pledged assistance. There are now no reserves for 1951 patient care.

Besides being a worthy cause, the March of Dimes is an essential cause. The need is great and the need is urgent. All of us must contribute what we can. Any one of us may need the facilities of the National Foundation at any time. We must have facilities available to ourselves, our families and our friends if and when the need for them comes.

Fresno JC Heads Consider Nurses Training Program

A plan to train practical nurses to replace registered nurses who may be called to serve with the armed forces is now under consideration by Fresno Junior College officials and nursing directors of local hospitals.

California at present has a shortage of 6500 registered nurses, and 500 of those now in the state will probably be called into the various services. It takes several years to train a registered nurse, while practical nurses can be trained for the war emergency in a year to take over many of the duties of registered nurses.

HAVE DISCUSSION

These and other facts and ideas were discussed Tuesday night at a meeting at the Fresno General Hospital. Miss Ruth Jorgensen, director of nursing services at the hospital, acted as chairman.

Others of the group were Miss Myrtle Rapp, assistant director of nurses training at the Community Hospital; Mrs. Alice Schindel, director of the school of nursing at the General Hospital; Maurice Reetz, Dean of Education at the junior college; and Dr. Thomas A. Blakely, president of the college.

NO COURSE IN VALLEY

There are at present 7 practical nurses training schools operating in California under a joint hospital-public school program similar to the one proposed for FJC. All are located outside the San Joaquin Valley.

Under the proposed program, trainees would attend classes for 18 weeks, 30 hours a week and then complete the remainder of the year's training at a hospital on a 40-week basis. While at the hospital, they would receive $30 per month, laundry and meals.

Present pay scales for practical nurses are $9 per day on private duty and $165 to $185 per month for general hospital duty.

Shops Construct Redwood Sign For Campus Display

The Fresno Junior College is to further its existence being known with the aid of a redwood sign to be erected in the not too distant future, Dr. Thomas Blakely, FJC president, said today. The sign is in the process of being treated, in a Fresno paint shop, to bring out the redness of the wood; also it is being painted with red luminous paint so that it will show up at night.

The designers of the sign are Miss Kate Darling and Mr. A. E. Sullivan. Mr. Seth Cowan cut out the letters, and the members of the bricklaying class will build the brick piers on which the sign is to be erected.

New Courses In Sheet Metal Fundamentals Now Available

One of the most practical courses added to the Fresno Junior College curriculum this year is the one in sheet metal which meets daily from 8 to 11 a.m. in the Adult School Annex.

Basic Fundamentals of Sheet Metal is a two-year course which offers 7 units of credit each semester. Advanced work in the subject will be offered beginning next September.

According to Mr. Frank Melton, instructor, the opportunities are unlimited for the young man who desires to make sheet metal work his life's vocation. "This is one of the most important trades of modern industry, both in peacetime and in war. Few planes could fly and few ships could put out to sea without the work of the skilled sheet metal man."

The students are instructed primarily in class projects that simulate tasks on the job in shops, airplane factories, shipyards, or automobile plants. These projects consist of parallel line developing, radio line developing, and triangulation.

The first year student is instructed in elementary sheet metal layout and the use of tools, geometric drawing, job safety, trade-related mathematics, and other interrelated subjects. The second year stu-

Fresno Adults Are Invited To Enroll In Day Classes

Adults of all ages are welcome to attend Fresno Junior College on a full or part-time basis. In line with this policy, FJC has scheduled, in addition to regular classes in all subjects, special classes in the business field at times that will be convenient for people who are now working and wish to increase or improve their skills.

Late afternoon classes in typing, shorthand, office practice and PBX will be offered as a part of the Business Education curriculum next semester.

The classes will be held four days a week from 5:45 to 7 p.m. Courses in Typing, shorthand, office training and PBX will be available, and a unit of work may be completed in six weeks.

Dictaphone, ediphone, mimeograph, ditto, electric typewriter, and addressograph operation may be learned in the Office Training course. Typing and shorthand may be learned or improved in the special classes.

Those who have not been working and now wish to be able to help in the national emergency by preparing to do better work may also find these courses helpful.

LOOSE ENDS by Avrico Morgan

Have you students noticed that "devil may care" look in your instructors eyes lately? . . . the look that says, "all semester you have been giving me a bad time, but just wait 'till the final examinations." Yep, come next Monday the heat is gonna be turned on and the questions are gonna fly. I passed by one of the prof's houses the other night at 11:58 and the lights were burning brightly, and a figure could be seen silhouetted against the window pouring over stacks of possible examination questions . . . maybe they were racing forms, who knows?

Rams Meet Porterville, Coalinga This Weekend In Conference Openers

The 1951 Central California Junior College Basketball Conference will officially begin for the Fresno Junior College Rams tomorrow night when they meet the Porterville Junior College Pirates at Porterville.

Saturday night the Rams will play host to the Coalinga Falcons in another conference tilt at 8 p.m. in the Roosevelt Gymnasium.

Cagemen Average 56 Points A Game; Don Davis Leads

The Fresno Junior College Rams have completed half of their 24-game schedule, Coach Paul Starr announced today.

The statistics compiled from the first 12 games show FJC has ran up 674 point against 727 for their opponents, an average of 56 points as against 60.5.

The Rams individual scoring record shows that forward Don Davis leads the field with a total of 208 points—a 17.33 game average.

In second is John Neilsen with a 12.20 average. Willie Perry in third place, has an 11.75 average.

The most points made by one man for any one game is the 25 points which Davis accomplished three times. John Neilsen, center, second with 23. Neilsen also received a gold basketball for being named on the all-tournament first string at the Hartnell Invitational Tournament held in Salinas last October.

PJC IS STRONG

The short but sharp-shooting Porterville Pirates, who have one win and one loss so far in conference play this season, have shown they will be capable of giving the visiting Rams plenty of trouble. The Pirates, after going down to the powerhouse College of Sequoias Giants 39-66, redeemed themselves last Friday night by pulling a surprise win over the Reedley Tigers, 51-49.

FALCONS START SLOW

In Saturday night's contest the Coalinga Falcons will be all fired up to take their first conference win of the season after going down to COS 60-65 and Reedley 50-56 last week-end. The Falcon crew have height and an improvement in speed will give Coach Paul Starr's Rams tough competition.

The FJC five has been idle all week and is in top condition for its Friday-Saturday hardwood tests.

Class Teams Flex Biceps As Casaba Duel Approaches

If you hear loud growls and threats around the campus today and tomorrow don't be puzzled. It's only the freshmen and senior basketball players building up their spirits in preparation for the planned Frosh-Senior basketball dual.

The play-off date has not as yet been definitely set but tomorrow between 12 and 1 p.m. is a hoped-for date.

With both teams claiming superiority over the other, a do or die attitude is stewing. Even though there has been no blood shed up to now and even though both teams still speak to each other, a real flare of team spirit is rising.

FRESHMAN SQUAD

Up to now the Frosh roster shows six bundles of dynamite with addition players expected. The Frosh list is now dominated with such ex-Ram football players as Haig Mosesian, Ward Longueville, Louie Gambello, Pete Belden, Jim Tegan, and Ara Arax. And if these future "globe-trotters" play basketball with as much spirit and drive as was shown during football season, the Senior squad better be prepared.

UPPERCLASS STALWARTS

To counteract the Frosh threat the veteran classmen will put on the floor seven seemingly "House of David" sharpshooters as Don Vaughn, Lyman Ehrlich, Ed Prindiville, Herb Carlson, John Mullins, Glen Gerringier, and Boots Edmonson. The Senior squad averages over 6 feet.

Baseball Equipment Removed From Mothballs For Practice

The issuing of baseball equipment will soon begin for the Fresno Junior College baseball team, Coach Stoney Johnston announced today, with practice starting February 5th.

The tentative league baseball schedule for the 1951 season was made available today, showing eleven conference games listed. A yet-unknown number of practice games are being arranged.

Coach Johnston is hoping for a good turn-out this season even though the draft is giving all college sports activities a jolt.

The signing up of players has already begun and will continue until after the beginning of the spring semester, Johnston announced. The coach also stated that team members will be able to receive 2 units of credit for team participation if they sign up for PE 41. Johnston requested that all potential horsehidors consult with him before making any change of program.

The planned schedule is as follows:

dent is instructed in advanced layouts and standard practices in sheet metal.

JOB PLACEMENT

Students who have completed two years of satisfactory schooling are usually placed in a shop under regular working conditions, where serve approximately two years of apprenticeship.

On the importance of formal instruction in the field of sheet metal, Mr. Melton has this to say: "In many shops the apprentice is used as a tool of a production line; in other shops he is used as a common laborer. Consequently, it is felt that if a prospective tradesman could spend the first two years of training in a trade school, he would have a very good basic knowledge of the trade.

"In a school the student has time to study the whys and wherefores of each problem he tackles; whereas in the trade, the apprentice has to make as much speed as possible on his jobs, thus missing some of the learning experiences that the job should present."

MANY NEW TOOLS

The annex is an ideal location for this class, listed as Sheet Metal 1a-1b. A large amount of modern equipment, tools, and convenient working space is available.
