Ram Campus Will Don Wild West Garb At May 11 Function

Ramblers Day, the annual Fresno Junior College campus revel, will be Friday, May 11. Students and faculty members will don the droll dress of the 1890's and several two-gun versions of the Wild West's most dangerous desperados will appear on the scene.

Festivities will start with reading of the Ramblers Day Proclamation at 7:50 a.m. and will continue through the day, with an assembly at 10:20 in the south gym, a whisker contest, and as a final wind-up, a dance from 9 to 12 p.m.

Tim Potter will be mayor for the day; Joe Spino has been named sheriff and Louis Ingraham will serve as bailiff. A Bastille (junior version) will be set up on the lawn for violators of Ramblers Day precepts and any beardless males seen on campus.

All men, including faculty members are required to have beards for the day. Prizes will be awarded at the assembly to possessors of hairyness excelling in the fields of ticklishness, length and redness. Prizes will also be given to wearers of the best costumes. Mrs. Irma Flannery and Mrs. Hazel Pedersen will be judges for the whisker contest.

An outside band is being considered to play for the Ramblers Day dance in the south gym. Bartenders at the dance will be Dean of Men Harold Sanderson, Dean of Business Administration Arch Bradshaw and History instructor Noel Frodsham.

Everyone is encouraged to take part in Ramblers activities and dress the part. However, live ammunition in gun belts is prohibited in the interest of safety. Classes will be conducted as usual — it says here in small print.

FSC Student To Speak

Jim Willems, Fresno State College student, will speak at the next two Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship meetings. The meetings will be Friday noon, May 4 and 11, in room M-11.

Willems is a director of the Fountain of Youth Fellowship of Fresno and of the Fresno Youth for Christ. He is studying to be a minister of the home mission field.

A musical program is planned, featuring Norvel Nelson singing a solo, "My God and I."

Teachers Plan For Various Year-End Social Activities

Faculty members are planning several social affairs for the last weeks of school.

Charles Kaufman, president of the Faculty Club, announces that the faculty men will put on one of their famous bean feeds tomorrow at noon in the Ramble Inn social room. The women are included, but the men will be hosts.

Tomorrow night Mrs. Hazel Pedersen and Miss Meriam Tervo will be hostesses at the monthly social meeting of the Faculty Women's Club. The dessert canasta party will be held in the new country home of Mr. and Mrs. Pedersen.

A family picnic supper for faculty members will be held in Roeding Park Friday evening, May 18.

The end of the school year will be celebrated the evening of June 3, when a reception for retiring members of the faculty will be held in the garden of the Stubblefield home. The social committee of the Faculty Club is planning the affair.

World Affairs Is Subject Of Meet

April 30, 1951, San Francisco, Calif. — The Student World Affairs Council of Northern California will hold its second annual weekend conference at Asilomar, Calif., May 11, 12, and 13.

Students from California schools will participate in discussing the conference theme: "Western Europe and the United States: The Rally to Action."

The registration fee is $3.00. Room and board for two nights and six meals will be provided for $8.50. Students interested should write Charlotte Trego, Box 1844, Stanford, California, for information and registration cards.

New And Improved Courses Added At FJC For 1951-52

Many new and many improved courses will be found in the Fresno Junior College Catalog for 1951-52. Although the complete schedule of courses is not yet approved, Maurice Reetz, dean of instruction, announces that the following additions and changes are released for publication.

The .G Sario

Chemistry — The present Chem. 1, 2, and 3 will be reorganized into a year course of general inorganic chemistry with the conventional course numbers Chem 1A and 1B. Quantitative Analysis will be re-numbered Chem 6 with 4 units of value. Organic Chemistry will be Chem. 8 with a value of 5 units.

History — Two new courses will be offered. History 1A, 1B, a Survey of Western Culture, is a year course which is required of all entering freshmen at Fresno State College. History 17A, 17B — History of the United States — is a year course patterned after a course of the same number at the University of California in Berkeley. This course will fulfill both the U.S. Constitution and the U.S. history requirement for graduation.

History 10, a one-semester course offered this year will be discontinued.

Political Science — Introduction to American Government — will be the title of Poly Sci. 1, and A Study of Comparative Governments is the subject of Poly. Sci 2. They will constitute a year's course in the political science field.

JOHN MULLINS

MULLINS NAMED HEAD OF STATE STUDENT GROUP

John Mullins, student body president, was elected to serve as president of the next California Junior College Student Government Conference which will be held in Fresno in October with Fresno Junior College as host. Louis Ingraham is the state parliamentarian.

Students from junior colleges throughout California will attend the conference here; between 400 and 500 representatives are expected. Student body officers are working on plans for housing, feeding and entertaining the delegates. A location will be decided upon by May 15, when invitations will be sent to all participating junior colleges.

Mullins was elected at the conference held in Long Beach April 26-28. Other representatives at the convention were Ingraham, Joe Spino, Rowena Campbell, Ward Longueville and Jim Telegan. Speech instructor Joe King was the faculty sponsor.

A resolution approving inclusion of all student activities on student transcripts of record was introduced by FJC representatives and adopted at the conference in Long Beach.

Another resolution was passed approving ROTC training in junior colleges and encouraging California members of Congress to vote for the measure now in the Senate.

Three resolutions concerning sports were passed. One recommended a standardized award to be presented to every athlete who receives a "first team all conference" recognition in his respective conference. Another recommended reduced prices for sports events to a member of any junior college upon presentation of his student body card.

Participation in the National Junior College Athletic Association in basketball alone was favored in a third resolution, because many small colleges cannot support a full sports program.

A list of basic responsibilities of delegates to JC conferences and a code of conduct were also adopted at the Long Beach meet.

Combination Nominations Assembly And Rally Will Be Held Tomorrow At 10:15

A combined nominations assembly and rally will be held tomorrow at 10:15 in the south gym. Since only two candidates have petitioned for the eight student body offices open, several nominations from the floor are expected.

Marsha Yates Is Cotton Ball Queen At Friday Dance

Marsha Yates, elected by her sister coeds, reigned as queen of the Cotton Ball last Friday night in the south gym. Coronation ceremonies were conducted during intermission by AWS representatives. A regal passageway was formed by the couples for the queen, her escort Gene Likens, and her attendants.

A colorful canopy was arched over the dance floor and stage, and the table tops were decorated with crepe paper and roses. The backdrops were decorated with roses and baskets of flowers.

Faye Woo, Beatriz Ciesielska, and Rita Dorris were the queen's attendants.

Queen Marsha and Gene Likens led the Grand March.

A refreshment table decorated with a lace cloth, candles and flowers was presided over by Phyllis Peters. Punch and cake were served after the coronation.

Tokens of honor were presented to the royal couple.

The FJC dance band played for the dance. They are Mitchell Richmond, George McCray, Horatio Orozco, and Lowell Spencer, saxophone; Frank Rincon, Jr., Nick Elias, and George Owens, trombone; Harold Trosian, bass; Charles Kirkpatrick, piano; Billy Bixby, drums; Willie Berry and Billie Contente, trumpet.

FJC Spends Much To Elevate Library To Collegiate Level

Several thousand dollars have been spent in recent months toward building the new Fresno Junior College Library up to a college level. Instructors have ordered hundreds of the latest technical books for each instructional department, and today more than 800 new books have been catalogued and placed on the library shelves for students' use.

A sizeable professional library of science, mechanics, electricity, business, art, music, psychology, economics, and history has been purchased. Many reports of research, theories, and experiments are available for professional study.

Dictionaries of Modern European Literature and of Classical Literature have been added to the reference shelves.

A collection of books costing nearly $500 has been purchased for literature courses.

Available for pleasure reading are many of the outstanding modern novels; and various readable books in the fictional style with factual background serve for pleasure or reference.

Just off the press are American Novelists Today by Werfel; Armstrong's 101 of the World's Greatest, a digest; and.. California's Stately Hall of Fame by Rockwell Hunt.

To satisfy the unusual interests is Festivals in the U.S.A. by Mayer. This book describes and illustrates the traditional celebrations in the United States by states, cities, and districts. The superstitions of one interesting section of America are

John Mullins, student body president, will preside over the nominations assembly and Joe Spino, who is in charge of the election next Tuesday and Wednesday, will be on hand to keep tally on the number of aspirants selected.

Clint Wheeler, chairman of rallies, will introduce Coach Paul Starr, who will speak to the students and introduce the track team.

The track team will go to Reedley tomorrow to compete in the Central California Junior College Conference Meet there. Preliminaries will be held 3 to 5 p.m., and finals 7-9. FJC trackmen will be entered in all events.

Ward Longueville has turned in a petition for student body president and Beatriz Ciesielska has filed for vice president. Two students have filed for candidacy in Full coverage of the nominations assembly will be provided by the Rampage staff. A special Ramette bulletin will be published Tuesday giving the names of all candidates for all offices. The bulletin will briefly state the platforms of nominees. All candidates who wish to make a statement for publication should prepare it in writing and turn it in to a member of the Rampage staff immediately following the assembly.

the Associated Women Students organization. They are Elva McNay, president; and Catherine Lewis, secretary. The AWS election will be held with the student body election.

Voting booths will be set up in the basement in the main hall and in the north wing all day Tuesday and Wednesday. All students currently enrolled at FJC and carrying 12 or more units are eligible to vote, since an amendment to the constitution was passed at the last student body election waiving the requirement of a student body card.

A larger turnout than ever before is expected for this election because more students are eligible to vote. Spino said today that nominations tomorrow should provide enough candidates for a real race.

MEN STUDENTS SHOULD TAKE ARMY DRAFT TEST

Dean of Men Harold Sanderson yesterday said that all FJC students who are of draft age should apply for the deferment tests offered by the army.

Either a satisfactory score on the test or an appropriate grade average may exempt a student from military service, but neither is a positive guard against induction. Having both will not hurt the draft status of any student and, if one fails he can perhaps rely on the other.

Students within the draft age classification may get application cards from any draft board.

LET'S KEEP OUR POLITICS CLEAN

The recent election scandal at Fresno State College is not only an example of what could happen here; it is exactly what did happen here three semester ago. The FJC election was improperly conducted and a revote was held to determine who was elected. The only difference between the two affairs is that the FJC election escapade did not receive the publicity and public blame it so richly deserved.

Perhaps, with a bad example of student thoughtlessness and dishonesty before them, students do not need to be reminded that elections are the foundation of the American system of self government.

Political honesty must start somewhere, though, and here and now seems like a good time and place to be sure that the cloud of doubt and suspicion never again falls upon FJC and its students.

It is the responsibility of not only the election committee members but of every FJC student to see that the majority rule does rule and that there are no infractions of the rules and regulations next Teusday and Wednesday.

Uncle Willie's Wandering Wit

Question of the week — Do the boy's beards, which they are growing for Rambler's Day, interfere with you girls?

"Heck yea! — Look at my complexion," came the first straight forward answer from Janet Ochirero, but she added in a low whisper, "I still like them."

To get some first hand information this week, I started out the hard way. I jumped right into the middle of a Hen Party (brave me) during the noon hour and started asking questions. Since I took the girls by surprise, they did nothing but answer, and what answers!

Frances Gougasian started off with a very modest statement — "They tickle." "My boyfriend can't grow a beard," said Emmy Lou Bray. "Umm, I love beards," was another answer that I heard, but no name. "Of course not" said Beatriz Ciesielska. "I still get my kicks with or without," replied Sally Arredondo. At this point I stood up and motioned for quietness. (Imagine what I got). After a while things quieted down and I explained that I wanted longer answers. (I now am the proud owner of 6 volumes of chatter).

"On some boys they look atrocious," replied Ida Arredondo, "But on others they look SoOH cute. I really do prefer a smooth face to a scratchy one, but — beards don't bother me." Don't crowd me, boys — don't crowd.

For a different opinion, Geraldine Stockman had this to say: "I think the boys look like cocker spaniels, some like head hunters, others like pirates." (Fellas, I don't think she likes us).

"I think that the boys are darling, but I hope they shave them off right after Rambler's Day because I am sure the girls would put up a big protest if they didn't" was the answer of Marian Hardy.

"Look at Mary Ann Hightower's chin," came the quick reply of Elva McNay, "and you have my opinion."

At this point, the answers slowed down. I again rose with dignity and stated that if they were undecided, I would be glad to demonstrate. To my surprise all the girls

Where is the AMS organization? When we bought our so-called AMS cards we men were told that we would get something for our money. The money has not been used to benefit the men who put it there. No doubt some of us were suckers to buy a card which does us no good.

Has our AMS president lost interest in the organization? Why have there been no smokers, dances, assemblies, parties, or even meetings? Get on the ball, Mr. President; either give us some return on the card or refund our money.

You know, we've really got a fine group of people here in FJC who get behind us and help us in every way possible. This group is composed of the custodians of our college. During the Carnival they helped the Carnival Committee with the lay-out plan. They stayed after hours and helped us decorate the booths. They were, at all times, willing to aid all of us who were in charge of the booths and they certainly came and supported FJC the night of April 20, 1951.

The 1951 fishing season officially opened last Saturday, and being an avid participant in this gay sport, I packed my fly-rod, a can of pork and beans and headed for the high hills. All went well until I reached the foot of the local Mt. Whitney—Tollhouse—then some joker pulled the zipper on a water logged cloud and the roof caved in.

Man, with a navigator and a rudder, I could have docked at pier 13, San Francisco Saturday night. I finally skidded, slid, and slushed my way up to the general store at Shaver Lake — just in time to hear a Forest Ranger tell two tourists to pack their gear and high-tail it for Fresno before they got snowbound. (He didn't know that the cooing young couple were newly-weds). AHEM!

I took my pole and beans and quietly crashed 200 feet down a mountain side to an icy stream. B-U-R-R! I unpacked my jug of medicinal alcohol — the mountaineers call it snake-bite juice — and poured some in the water. WOW! Within thirty minutes I caught a limit of trout, but had to throw them back — they were all under 21.

All in all, it was a dreary, wet, slushy trip, and after ten penicillin shots, a few sulfa pills, and a mustard plaster, I feel great. A-choo! Guess I'll try my luck again next weekend. A-choo.

FBLA Members Attend State Meet

The Fresno Junior College chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America has, for the second year, seen one of its members elected Northern California vice president at the state convention. Richard Soares was elected at the second annual convention held at Rosemead High School in Rosemead on Saturday, April 29. He succeeds Rowena Campbell who held the office last year.

Approximately 300 delegates attended the one-day convention in Rosemead, with 28 active chapters represented and many students from schools which are planning to organize chapters.

FJC delegates to the convention were Soares, Eleanor Anderson and Tony Bustillos; they conducted a workshop on "The Sponsor's Problems" with Dr. McKee Fisk, Director of the Business Education Division at Fresno State College, acting as counselor. The FJC group's sponsors were Miss Ethel McCormack, Chairman of the Business Education Division at FJC, and Miss Gertrude Stubblefield, shorthand and secretarial training instructor.

Meetings are held twice monthly and include a variety of parties, games, and opportunities to hear guest speakers, in addition to business meetings. Membership is open to any student who is enrolled in one or more business classes at FJC and membership may be retained for a period of five years after leaving school.

Two meetings which FBLA members reported they enjoyed very much were panel discussions on the subject "Personality Versus Skill." At the first of the two meetings, a group of Fresno employers appeared to discuss relative

FJC Nine Play Under Arcs At 8 P.M. Tomorrow Night

The Fresno Junior College students will have a good chance to watch their baseball team in action tomorrow night when Coach Stoney Johnston's rambling Rams play host to the Porterville Pirates in an 8 p.m. game at the Fresno State ballpark.

Tomorrow's game will be the Ram's first night game at home, giving many baseball fans their first chance to watch the FJC team play.

The local ballplayers hold second place in the Central California Junior College baseball conference and are expected to come out with an all-out performance tomorrow night to keep alive their championship hopes.

The Rams have three remaining league games for the 1951 season and one defeat will give the championship crown to the Reedley College Tigers, who are two games ahead of Fresno. With such high stakes the baseball fans can come prepared for a top-notch baseball game.

The Pirates got a bad thumping by the FJCers in their first game this season and the PJC buccaneers will be all set for revenge.

There will be no admission charge.

FSC Jayvees Eke Out 6-5 Victory Over Fightin' Rams

The Fresno State J.V. baseball team eked out a 6 to 5 victory over the Fresno JC Rams last Friday afternoon in the Fresno State College ballpark in a practice tilt.

The Rams jumped to an early lead with one run in the first inning. Norm "WeePee" Britton reached first on an error; Ben Yano also reached first via the error route; then Jerry Manfredi singled in Britton.

State evened the count in their half of the first on two walks, two stolen bases, and a passed ball.

The Staters added two more runs in the second on two more walks, two errors, and a single.

In the third, JC went ahead 4 to 3. After two were out, Yano singled; Manfredi blasted out his second straight single; Pete Belden singled; Brother Tom singled; Yano, Manfredi, and P. Belden scoring. JC picked up another run in the fourth on two walks, a single by Lou Gambello, and a fielder's choice. The Rams then led 5 to 3.

The Jayvees scored one run in the fifth and two more in the sixth to win 6 to 5.

Jerry Manfredi of the Rams, Jim Stephenson and Bob Cobb of State each collected two hits in four trips to the plate.

Sighs With Si

By SI PIPKIN

What has happened to the Fresno Junior College track and field team? What began as a relatively small and neglected squad of earnest tracksters has developed into an impressive, much larger, and power-packed track team.

The FJC Rams, bursting with team spirit and the will to win, definitely show what can be done when student support is given. In the last track meet, the Rams entered only eight men. Friday night in Reedley, FJC will be backed with 24 men. THAT'S THE SPIRIT!

This much-needed increase made a powerful improvement in Fresno's chances Friday night, and if the new team members show as much strength as the smaller squad has shown, the CCJC contenders are going to have it ROUGH all the way.

The student body is proud of the increased support for the track team, and it must make Coach Paul Starr feel mighty good, too. Nothing would be better than for the Fresno JC Rams to come back tomorrow night with a victory. Win or lose, we are behind you — Good luck Rams — Let's win tomorrow!

To lose to a team you are sure you can beat is hard to take and it was no easier on Coach Stoney Johnston's rambling Rams yesterday afternoon when they lost to the Reedley College Tigers.

A close game was expected and even Reedley gave Fresno slightly higher odds. The Rams, who have been blasting hits all over the CCJC diamonds in their past four games, were expected to give Reedley's moundman John Klassen plenty of trouble.

Since the ways of baseball are as they are, whenever two teams meet, either of the two can wind up the winner, no matter which one is superior. This is especially true when the teams are well matched.

Even if the Rams have to end the season without winning the championship, they and the student body can still hold their heads high because few junior colleges can claim a more spirited team. The Rams had to swallow a game defeat but you can be sure they will end with a seasonal victory.

merits of the two attributes. At the second, a group of local employees talked and answered questions asked them by members.

Ram Cindermen Visit Reedley Tomorrow For CCJCA Meet

Fresno Junior College's lively track and field team will test its strength against all the Central California Junior College teams tomorrow night in an all-important championship meet at the Reedley College track field.

Coach Paul Starr's Rams will go into the preliminaries at 3 p.m. and begin the finals at 7:30 p.m.

Tigers Snap 4-Tilt Winning Skein In 9-1 Heartbreaker

The Fresno Junior College Rams saw their four-game winning streak end yesterday after losing a heart-breaking 9 to 1 baseball game to the league leading Reedley College Tigers at Reedley.

The Tiger's keynote John Klassen did it again to capture his seventh win in as many starts. Klassen went the whole game and allowed only one run on five hits.

The pressure was laid heavy on Fresno from the very first inning and Klassen's cool pitching plus the Ram's luckless trips to the plate kept FJC scoreless until the seventh inning. Bob Brumm put across Fresno's first tally by knocking in center fielder Ben Yano with a well-placed single, and then it began to look like the Rams were getting back to their normal style. But Fresno's hits just could not miss the fielder's gloves and the never-die Rams had to settle for one run.

Moundman Joe Ybanez went down as the losing pitcher for his second loss in five starts. Ybanez' other loss also was by the Reedley eight-game winners. Ellery Mendes relieved Ybanez in the fifth and went the rest of the way, giving up three hits.

The Reedley win put the Tigers two games ahead of Fresno in the Central California Junior College baseball conference and left Reedley with only two more games to be played. FJC has three more league games scheduled.

Over one hundred contenders are expected as the best cindermen of the league will compete for the CCJC crown.

The College of Sequoias Giants have kept the championship award in their possession for the past several seasons, but the FJC Rams are expected to give the Giants and all other JC teams the battle of their life tomorrow night.

The Fresno JC tracksters have more than doubled their strength since their last meet, greatly improving their chances for emerging the victor. The entire team has been hard at work this week, and team spirit is running high for the most important meet of the 1951 season.

Starr predicted that competition will be at its highest, but the Rams are all set to give their best performances and to fight for that championship crown.

The Fresno athletes scheduled to participate are as follows: 120 yard high hurdles — Wheeler, Evans, and Likens.

220 yard high hurdles — Wheeler, Evans, Likens, and Richmond.

220 yard dash — Longueville, Beasley, Moradian, Deran, and Berry.

100 yard dash — Longueville, Beasley, Moradian, Deran, and Perry.

440 yard dash — Berry, Edwards, and Johnson.

880 yard dash — Halderman, Prindiville, and Davis.

1 mile run — Crane, Lett, Nobori, and Trejo.

2 mile run — Adams, Lett, and Nobori.

High jump — Evans, Likens, and Rosemond.

BATTERIES DON'T D-R-O-O-P WITH OUR CARE!

Batteries don't die suddenly, they d-r-o-o-p—unless they have proper care.

Let us take care of YOUR battery. We test it, keep water at the proper level, watch for worn terminals and faulty cables, clean off corrosion. In short, our care makes the difference between a LIVE battery and one that d-r-o-o-p-s.

We also offer battery charging service and nationally advertised, guaranteed new batteries. Budget terms.
