Fresno JC Records Record Enrollment

Fresno Junior College's enrollment at the end of the first week of the fall semester was 2,775 students, 632 more than this time last year.

FJC opened with 1,020 day students registered.

TOTAL DAY STUDENTS

George C. Holstein, dean of admission and records, said the totals for day students are 1,232 including 62 high school students who attend FJC classes three hours daily, and for night students, 1,543.

School officials have predicted an eventual enrollment of 3,000 students, including day and night registrations. FJC's record total was achieved at 2,835 last March, including 1,252 day and 1,583 night students.

REGISTRATION CONTINUES

President Stuart M. White said late registration will continue through next week in many of the day and night classes although some classes have closed. However FJC has opened a number of new sections at night to accommodate the heavy enrollment.

Holstein announced that no student will be permitted to enroll until he has taken the college aptitude and reading tests.

FJC Begins Eighth Year

Fresno Junior College started its eighth year September 12th since its eighth reorganization as a separate institution from the Fresno State College in 1948. FJC actually is in the 36th year of its existence.

President Stuart M. White said that the junior college has had an interesting and paradoxical history. It seems destined to have an ever-widening growth in the future.

OLDEST IN STATE

The two year college is the oldest junior college in California, opening in the fall of 1910 with 28 students and three teachers. After the public junior colleges were authorized in the state by the legislature in 1907, C. L. McLane, then Fresno superintendent of schools, became the first administrator to establish a post-high school institution under the legislation.

On May 6, 1910, the Fresno City Board of Education approved his request for a junior college in the 15-year-old Fresno High School building, now the site of the junior college. The first junior college actually was an extension of the high school.

PROVIDED SUPPORT

From 1910-17 the junior college was maintained at local expense. In 1917 the legislature provided state and county support: By 1921 FJC was combined with the Fresno Normal School, forerunner of the Fresno State College.

The Fresno Junior College remained alive between 1921 and 1948. It offered the associate of arts degree and maintained a terminal curricula. The plant faculty and administration were identical with those of the Fresno State College.

In the spring of 1948 a survey was held, predicting that Fresno County could sustain a junior college potential of 2,000 students by 1950.

White Cites Need For More Serious Attitude

President Stuart M. White of the Fresno Junior College cited a need for a serious attitude in a speech to FJC students and faculty in the first assembly and rally of the school year in the Fresno Memorial Auditorium last Friday.

White stressed the word study is the keynote at any college.

"One of the most concrete evidences of the challenge college life offers the student," White declared, "comes in the form of competition. Here in college you are on your own. Your time is spent largely at your own discretion. Your plans for courses and for getting through them are yours.

"May I ask — where else could you find such a vast challenge, such keen competition, and the tremendous responsibility of freedom?"

FJC PRESIDENT SUGGESTS

He suggested as study aids that students learn how to read more efficiently, keep good notes, prepare for and take examinations, develop scholastic proficiency and use the services available in the school.

White introduced Mrs. Margaret Robinson and George W. Turner of the Fresno City Board of Education and Erwin A. Dann and Lawrence Toddhunter, assistant superintendents of the city schools. Dann greeted the students for Dr. Edwin C. Kratt, superintendent of schools, who was out of town.

NEW INSTRUCTORS

White introduced 16 new instructors who have joined the FJC faculty. Student body officers were introduced by Hubert Ereman, the student body president, who greeted the students and faculty.

Three Campus System Has Need For Students' Help

This year the Fresno Junior College will be operating under three campuses—the Fresno State campus, Fresno Junior College campus, and the campus at Edison High School. Under this three campus system a lot more work will be required by each student concerned about this school.

Probably the heaviest load will be on the student body president, Bert Ereman, himself. However each and every student will have to bear in mind that one person cannot carry on the entire school's activities. Each student must offer his help in trying to better the school in any way.

With the cooperation of each student registered, this 1955-56 school term will be just as active and just as remarkable as any of the previous years of the school's history.

I know that many students will be asked to be on different committees and social groups, so I urge each and everyone of you to say "yes" to whatever job you might be asked to do.

Student Paper Needs Help

This will be the eighth year that the Rampage has been serving the Fresno Junior College students. Every year has been an outstanding one in the prospects of the paper. This year the staff wants nothing to change, as we want to be just as outstanding as our predecessors, but to do this we must have a large enough staff to handle all the FJC news all the time.

That is the reason for this editorial, so that I may take time out to welcome any student who attends FJC to come in and join the staff. Any 12th or 13th year student may join; the class is not for sophomores only.

So any student who would like to join the staff come in and see us about it. We're in room A3 on the Fresno State College campus.

DAMAGED BY EARTHQUAKE

In the fall of 1952 the junior college lost two of the three wings of its main building after the earthquake in the San Joaquin valley during the previous summer. Classes were held in churches, the Memorial Auditorium, and in the south wing and shop building.

Bungalows were built on the campus, and a new shop building was constructed behind Edison High School.

This year most of the general education department classes have moved to the three buildings on the old FSC campus. FJC plans to take over more of state college as FSC moves to its new site near Clovis.

Alfred Copus, Rampage editor, received a scholarship for the second semester running. He is an FJC sophomore, and a graduate of Clovis High School. The $50 award was presented to him for the second time by the Fresno Press Club.

Presidents Speak

White Extends Welcome To All Students

For the faculty and administration of Fresno Junior College I extend a cordial welcome to all students. A milestone has been reached with our partial move to the old Fresno State College campus, which makes it possible for us to provide better facilities and service to our students.

May I urge all students attending classes on the Fresno State College campus to adhere to the rules and regulations outlined at our first assembly. Your cooperation in parking cars, keeping out of restricted areas and respecting the rights reserved for the Fresno State College students will assist all of us in maintaining good relations between the two schools.

I offer my best wishes for a successful and profitable year.

Stuart M. White
 President
 Fresno Junior College

Ereman Predicts FJC's Best Year

On behalf of the student council, I would like to welcome all students to the fall semester at Fresno Junior College. With the largest enrollment in the history of FJC, this should be our finest year to date.

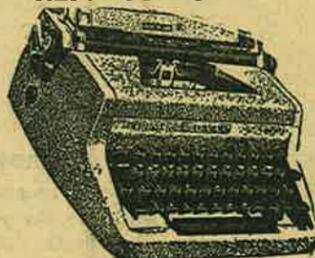

I would like to put emphasis on the fact that each and everyone of you has the opportunity to participate in extra-curricular activities. Take part in them, do your best, and that service which you give and the spirit in which it is given will more than double as it is returned to you.

I sincerely believe that, judging from the friendship and harmony that has so far been evident, this year will not only be the largest in enrollment, but the best in spirit, cooperation and friendliness.

Bert Ereman
 S.B. President

Rams To Play Strong Stockton JC Saturday

The Fresno JC Rams will travel to Stockton Saturday night to play the supposedly strong Stockton College Mustangs in a game that promises to be the Rams first big test of the season.

The Mustangs have been predicted to be a strong team this year even though they dropped a 21-16 thriller to the always rough College of the Sequoias Giants.

Coach Hans Wiedenhofer has scheduled some possible changes in his starting lineup for the Mustang contest in order to gain more strength at the ends and tackles.

SCRIMMAGE AT ROMAIN

The Rams hold scrimmage practice on the Romain Playground turf. Spirited competition for starting line jobs and some improved blocking were the highlights of the scrimmage sessions recently.

The local coach has recently stated that the boys are showing a little more coordinated blocking which should improve their defense.

NURSE LEG INJURIES

Starting halfbacks Larry Kaprielian and J. C. White are nursing leg injuries but both are expected to be ready Saturday night.

Quarterback Don Birkle is rapidly rounding into shape after reporting late. Birkle saw considerable action last year for the Rams.

Wiedenhofer, in a regular weekly meeting singled out backs Tom Flores, Kaprielian, and White, and linemen John Aldredge and Richard Fendorak for their play in the Cal Poly game. A game which saw Fresno JC edge the Cal Poly Jayvees, 12-6.

FLORES SPARKLES

Flores, whose deadly passing aim and amazing alertness brought the local team along way last year, will again be at his quarterback position. Flores, a graduate of the Sanger Union High School, did not get a good chance to show off his ability last Saturday night because of the lack of pass protection on the Ram squad.

White is a graduate of the Edison High School in Fresno. White was picked on the Fresno City All Star team recently.

RECEIVE BOOST

The Rams should receive a boost Saturday with Center Bernie Zarasua returning to full speed following an ankle injury. Zarasua played for Central Union High School last year and was picked on the Fresno County All Star team.

Line Coach Dick Handley reported some real scraps for the guard and tackle jobs. At right tackle Mike Fishback, Tom Sano and Dick Barstow, are pushing for the starting job. John Aldredge has the left side guard slot sewed up.

Bill Ruby is being pressed for his right guard job by big Thurman Burson.

The end situation, a weak spot

RUBY AGAIN ON TACKLE—Bill Ruby, who played an outstanding game for the Rams in Fresno's 12-6 victory over Cal Poly is seen stopping a Mustang back. Identified Fresno players are Center Bernie Zarasua (37); End Larry Anderson (19); Guard John Aldredge (40).

Gridders Win In Season Opener; Dump Mustangs

Coach Hans Wiedenhofer's gridders opened the 1955 football season with a 12 to 6 victory over the Cal Poly Jayvees last Saturday in Ratcliffe Stadium.

Ace Ram Fullback, J. C. White, took the opening kickoff on his own five and worked his way to the 34 yard line. Fresno picked up a first and ten on the Mustangs 48, where Cal Poly was penalized to their own 33 for illegal use of the hands.

Larry Kaprielian and Charles Hevron alternated on handoffs for short gains to push the ball to the 22 yard line of Cal Poly. Tommy Flores, Fresno signal caller, then shot a pass to Kaprielian on the five, where the Ram halfback shook off some tacklers and went into the end zone for the first counter for Fresno. The try for the extra point failed.

HOLDS POLY DOWN

After holding Cal Poly for downs and taking possession of the ball, the Fresno club returned the pigskin to the Cal Poly 48 only to fumble on the next play.

Cal Poly recovered the Ram fumble, marched 51 yards from where Bill Gurney, Cal Poly fullback, swept right end for the final 2 yards and the tying touchdown. FJC guard John Aldredge broke up the extra point effort by blocking the kick.

Both teams battled back and forth but could not score in the second and third quarters.

ALDREDGE INTERCEPTS PASS

Aldredge intercepted a Cal Poly pass on his own 26 where Nick Rendino plunged his way to the 35. Kaprielian carried to the 48. White receiving a pitchout from Flores, got away from various tacklers and scooted down the sideline and to the inside before being stopped on the 23 yard line. White again carried this time to the 3. After three tries at the line, Flores scored on a quarterback sneak from the one foot line.

White's try for the extra point was blocked.

Rams Look Shaky In Opening Game

By RUBEN BARRIOS

In opening the 1955 football season with a 12 to 6 victory over the Cal Poly Jayvees last Saturday night in Ratcliffe Stadium, the FJC Rams looked a little shaky due to lack of conditioning.

The Rams started out in a blaze of fire when the opening whistle blew with former Edison Star J. C. White leading the way, the Rams scored in the first three minutes of play.

Tom Flores, quarterback who is usually deadly on his passing, could only complete one pass out of four tries because of lack of protection. The outstanding play of stellar guard John Aldredge, a rookie from Edison High School and Larry Kaprielian at halfback were the main factors in the Ram victory. Although nursing an ankle injury Bernard Zarasua, playing center for Fresno, was a key man through the center of the line along with Bill Ruby who had an injured hand.

FJC Adds To Coaching Staff

Two new faces will be seen on the Fresno Junior College coaching staff. They are Coach Claire Slaughter and Richard H. Handley.

Slaughter will take over coach Ray McCarthy's job as head baseball coach and will assist Hans Wiedenhofer with the football chores.

Handley will be assistant football, baseball, and track coach.

Wiedenhofer is again head football and track coach. Joe Kelly will return as head basketball coach and will assist Wiedenhofer in football. Paul H. Starr is the director of athletics.

Slaughter was the head baseball coach last year at Sanger High School. He was graduated from the College of Pacific and has coached at Sanger for seven years.

Handley was assistant football coach last year at Edison and graduated from Fresno State College.

General Education Classes Move To State's Campus

The Fresno Junior College last week opened more than 100 day classes in its general education division on the old Fresno State College campus.

President Stuart M. White of FJC said the move was the partial fulfillment of years of planning. As FSC continues its move to its new campus, FJC will move more of its program to the University Street site.

MOCK WILL MOVE

John Mock, division chairman, will move his office to the FSC campus, and FJC deans will operate on both campuses. Mock's office will in annex 16, which will be the night office the first two weeks from 7 to 9 p.m. for 14 evening classes FJC will offer on the state college location.

FJC is taking over McLane Hall, the science building, the annex, the former teacher training structure, and the girls' gymnasium.

STATE COLLEGE CAMPUS

The junior college now has about 400 student and 30 instructors operating on the FSC campus. Some of the instructors and a few of the students have classes on both campuses.

FJC was housed on the state college campus from 1921 to 1948, when it was combined with the four year college. In 1948 the junior college moved to its present O Street site, where the former Fresno Technical High School was located.

Actually the junior college now has four campuses — the other two are shop buildings near Edison High School and nursing students are located at the Fresno County General Hospital.

Students Hold First School Social Event

Fresno Junior College students held their first social event of the school year last Saturday night in an after the game dance in the Washington Junior High School from 10:30 p.m. to midnight.

The dance followed the opening football game between the FJC Rams and the Cal Poly jayvees in Ratcliffe Stadium.

The rally committee was in charge of the arrangements for the dance and the roter section at the game. The group met last Tuesday with Ed Wilkins, chairman, and Joseph W. King and Franz Weinschenk, advisers, to plan for the events.

SPONSORS RALLY

The committee sponsored a rally Friday in the Fresno Memorial Auditorium, following an assembly.

Another rally dance is scheduled for November 4th from 10:30 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. in the Moose Hall after a game between the Rams and the Hartnell College of Salinas.

Temporary committees which were chosen at the meeting are, Stan Tusan, posters and announcements; Pat Hart, decorations for dance; Olga Hernandez, programs for game; Miss Margaret Tylor, Joseph W. King, and John Castine, faculty sponsors; Edd Suddjian, program director; Rochelle Hartford, budget committee; and Dick Takakjian, head rally man.

process of signing up on the staff. Copus said all students who are interested in journalism are more than welcome to join the staff. You may contact P. D. Smith, Rampage adviser in the newspaper office, A3 on the Fresno State College campus from 1-4 p.m. on Monday through Wednesday.

Kratt Announces TV, Radio Policies

Dr. Edwin C. Kratt, superintendent of the Fresno City Schools, announced policies affecting appearances of students appearing on radio and television programs that apply to all member schools of the district, including the Fresno Junior College.

Dr. Kratt said it is now the opinion of the Administrative TV and Radio Policy Committee that students who are excused from school to appear on radio and TV programs during school time are representing the schools. He said participation in programs during school time should be cleared with the central office of the city schools by telephoning Mrs. Elisabeth B. Kircher at 8-4331.

However, the committee said that students appearing as individuals or as representatives of non-school groups require no school clearance, but if the student is introduced as a representative of a certain school the school is held responsible for what is said or done. In this case, the committee cleared through Mrs. Kircher and the central office.

The committee also announced that students who appeared on sponsored or commercial shows

Rally Committee Plans Bus Ride

The rally committee met Tuesday noon in S22 to discuss plans for the Bakersfield College game, October 1.

Ed Wilkins, rally committee chairman, said a bus will be taken to Bakersfield, and anyone wanting a ride should contact Miss Willa Marsh, dean of students. The bus will leave Fresno at 5 p.m. and return here after the game.

There are 37 seats on the bus and the price is $2.45. They will be sold on the first come, first serve basis.

should be cleared through the central office if they are to be introduced as coming from certain schools. It also stated that if a student is to make a personal endorsement of any commercial product, he should not be presented as a representative of the Fresno City Schools.

Dr. Kratt added in an announcement to all principals:

"We are glad that you are convinced, as we are, that students from our schools should always be guided by good taste in all public appearances, whether they appear as individuals, as representatives of the schools, or as representatives of other groups."

Faculty Gains 17; New Total Is 91

President Stuart M. White announced that Fresno Junior College began the fall semester with 16 new instructors and one administrator making a total of 91, the largest faculty in FJC's history.

There are 63 day instructors and three administrators who do not teach: White, Miss Willa Marsh, dean of students, and George E. Holstein, the new dean of admissions and records. The night faculty totals 53, with 28 of these also teaching day classes.

White predicted a record enrollment of at least 3,000 students when all registrations are tallied in October.

The new staff members include Holstein, Neil Bartlett, Dorothy D. Bliss, John R. Castine, Cervase A. Eckenrod, Keith M. Emmert, Lewis A. Fallensbee, Noel D. Frodsham, Matilda Gassman, Richard H. Handley, Branton C. Henderson, Wallace D. Henderson, Dr. Lee Roy Just, Nettie A. Scott, Clare L. Slaughter, J. L. Tullis, and Margaret E. Tylor.
