Recording Artist Will Perform At FJC Nominations Assembly

Ella Mae Morse, famed night club and recording star, will perform during the latter half of the student body nominations assembly, Friday, Dec. 21, at 9:30 AM in the University Avenue campus auditorium.

Ruben Barrios, chairman of the Fresno Junior College elections committee, announced that students may vie for the offices of president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary, and nine representatives at large.

Students who will vie for a student body office must meet the following qualifications as required by the Constitution of the Associated Student Body and regulations passed by the student council of FJC:

1. Must be a member of the Fresno Junior College Associated Student Body.

2. Must have attended FJC for one semester or more.

Must Have "C" Average

3. Must have at least a "C" average for his total college record at the close of the previous semester. Eligibility of first semester students will be based on mid-term grades. A student has a "C" average when he has as many grade points as units.

4. Mid-term grades recorded by the registrar and reported to the election committee cannot be changed. Incompletes on mid-terms will disqualify the candidates unless the incompletes have been made up and recorded with the registrar prior to securing the eligibility form.

Based On Grade Point System

5. Eligibility of all candidates will be based on the grade point system adopted in September, 1955. Units are charged and grade points given, as earned, for each attempted course.

6. Candidates should be maintaining at least 12 units during the semester of their candidacy. All elective and appointed officers must carry at least 12 units during their term in office.

Barrios said that students desiring an office should secure their eligibility slips from Mrs. Lena Fuller in the registrar's office at which time the student's grades will be checked. Upon approval, candidates for office should see the deans, Mrs. Kay Seagraves for the women and Paul Starr for the men.

35 Signatures Required

Candidates are required to have a minimum of 35 signatures of student body card holders before they can become eligible. Campaigning may begin Jan. 2 through the 9th. Election will be on Wednesday, Jan. 9 from 8 AM to 4 PM and on Thursday, Jan. 10 from 8 AM to 4 PM.

Eligible candidates may be nominated from the floor. However, office seekers must adhere to procedures governing other candidates. Barrios further stated that no one person is permitted to sign different petitions for the same office.

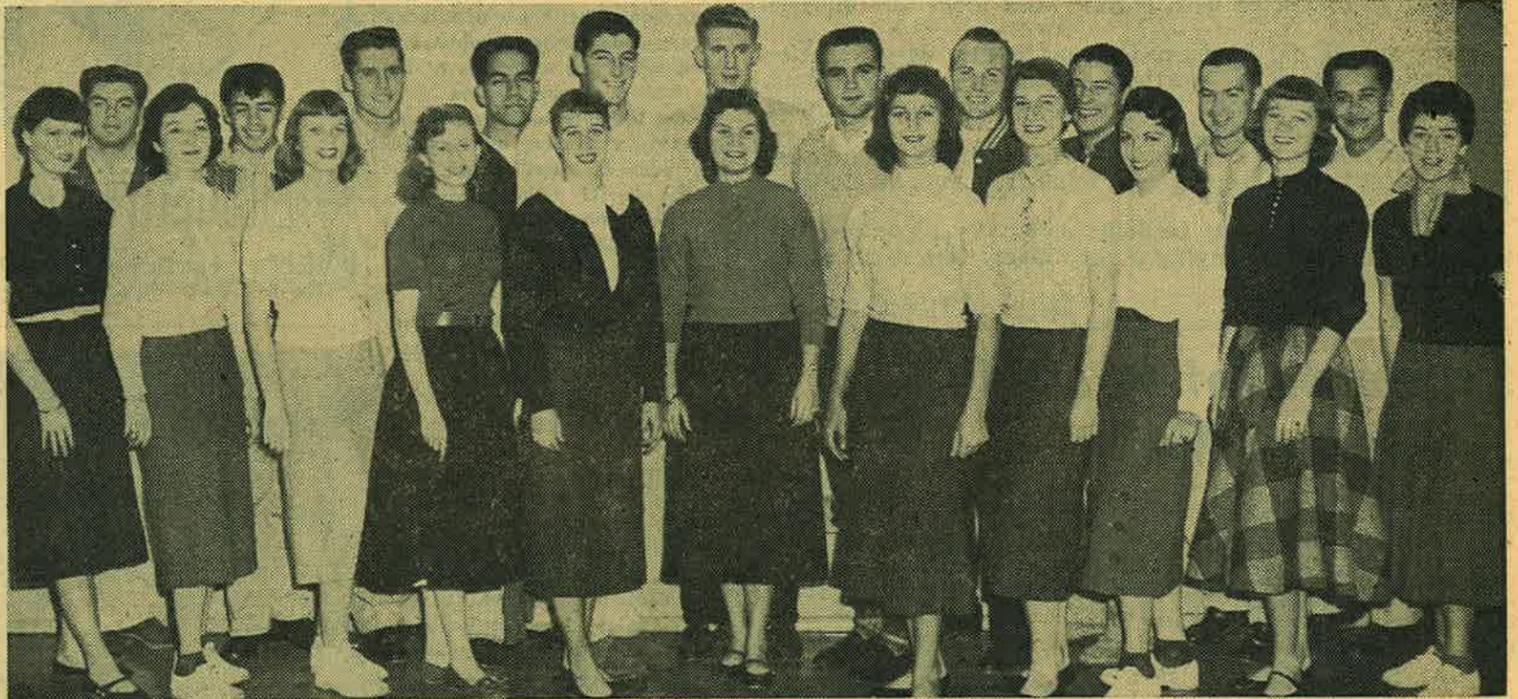

Present student body officers are Ben Elchman, president; Barrios, vice-president; Rochelle Harford, secretary; and Frankie White, treasurer. Representatives at large are Muriel Maxwell, Tom Williams, Bob Russell, Dorothy Rubald, Ralph Lawrence and Harold Neilson.

Posters must be approved by Mrs. Seagraves.

White said, "Fresno State recently completed and opened its new cafeteria at the Shaw Avenue campus. This will give FJC the badly needed space for a cafeteria in the student union."

Students and teachers from Fresno State are welcome to eat in the cafeteria after FJC begins its operation on Jan. 2, and FJC will offer the same courtesy that FSC has given to them.

White said, "The Ramble Inn will operate as usual after FJC takes over the FSC cafeteria."

FJC and Fresno State have been sharing the student union for the past two years.

Mary Lanotte, president of FJC's Associated Women Students, has announced a revised list of the candidates for the King and Queen. They are as follows: Gilbert Chacon and Jovita Huerta, Newman Club; Adolph Mendoza and Yolanda Marquez, Latin American Club; Kenneth Pipes and Barbara Fragus, Red Key; William Eads and Dulcie Spellman, Phi Beta Lambda; Joseph Gibson and Deanna Lipari, Freshman class; Gene Wiggins and Beverly Underwood, Associated Men Students; Muriel Maxwell and Marilyn Isheim, AWS; Gordon Smith and Diane Diamond, Rally Club; Ruben Barrios and Paula James, Rampage; Hugh Awtry and Carol Bowman, Alpha Gamma Sigma.

Rampage Staff Expresses Happy Holiday Greetings

As Mr. Jack Frost brings a white covering on the ground and turns the leaves to golden brown, most of us realize the closing of the year is fast becoming a reality.

Santas jingle their bells on street corners, and the soft sound of carols in the background act as the prelude to the happiest day of the year, Christmas. But also we know that the baby year will be born only a week from this glorious day.

For most of us, Christmas means a few days vacation from school where no worries of homework are involved. Some of us plan on snow trips, dancing and gathering with the family, and even midnight mass.

Yes, Christmas is a happy day when you are surrounded by your loved ones, keeping your mind free from all troubled thoughts.

But whatever you may be doing or wherever you may be, the staff joins me in saying a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Home Econ Majors Learn Family Living

One of the most active departments of Fresno Junior College is the Home Economics department. There are different classes, foods, clothing, nutrition, and home and family living. There will be a new addition next semester, the home decoration class.

In the foods class the emphasis is put on cleanliness and organization in preparation of foods.

In October, Miss Josephine Blauch from the Corning Glass Company in New York, visited them and talked to the girls about Pyrex ware. She illustrated her talk with slides and showed some of the new Pyrex ware that was put on the market for Christmas. Each girl was presented with a complimentary copy of the Pyrex Cookbook.

Another of the activities of the class was a demonstration of a Japanese tea ceremony by Yoshiko Nishikawa, a member of the foods class, who is from Japan. She brought special dishes necessary for the ceremony and the whole class participated. Mrs. Kay Seagraves, dean of women, was a special guest.

Miss Nishikawa explained the symbolisms and ritual of the different dishes and gestures.

The clothing class had a visitor from Arnold's Beauty Shop. A demonstration was given on how to apply make-up and how to care for the skin to avoid complexion problems. Mrs. Edmonds and her class from the Continuation High School were special guests.

The clothing class went to Yosemite Junior High School to watch a fashion show of the Vogue Pattern Company on Nov. 26. The garments were especially designed for school wear. The speaker encouraged the audience to major in home economics and told of the many fields available.

In the clothing class emphasis is put on the fitting and the workmanship of the garment. The past projects have been a blouse, a skirt and the next one a party dress.

On other departments in home economics, such as home and family living, they have learned home management, budgeting of time, money, and energy. They have learned how to perform household tasks in the most efficient manner. Etiquette and table setting have also been reviewed.

In the nutrition class which is considered a science course, more or less, they have learned to recognize food fallacies, how to avoid diet fads, how to plan a balanced diet on a modest income.

Lebanon Student Gives Views On Mid-East Crisis

By REZA SYED

"We will unit with the devil, if the devil leads us to victory," is the motto of the Arabs at the present time borrowed from Churchill, who said it in World War II.

"The Arabs are not communists; they hate communism because it is against their religion," said Munir Khalidy, a Moslem student from Lebanon.

Munir Khalidy came into the United States in Sept. 1955. His major is business administration.

Khalidy declared that the function of the UN police force is limited according to the agreement between Egyptian President Gamal Nasser and UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. Its action will consist of guarding the Egyptian-Israeli frontier after the withdrawal of the British and French forces.

Concerning the Syrian-Iraqi situation the Lebanese student believes that it is a conflict between politicians, not among the peoples.

"Those who know about the situation in the Middle East will not blame Syria for taking steps toward defending its land." He adds, "Syrians do not have any trust or confidence in the French or British after what they did in Egypt. They broke their declaration, which states that the borders of the Arab and Israel states will be protected against any aggression from each other. The United States is the only one which kept its word. The Syrian army leader is pro-Nasser probably, but the accusation of the British and the French makes the situation worse. Their aim is to win the free world's support for their action in Egypt, and probably in Syria.

Khalidy thinks that the solution of the Middle East problem is to locate the UN police forces along the borders of Israel and the Arab states, until they find a permanent solution — if there is any solution.

For the Suez dispute, he said, the only solution would be to help Egypt in the Aswan dam project. It will be a "dam" against the Soviet intervention in the Middle East, he asserts.

The United States has offered $1.6 million to help the shipping agencies to make their tour around Africa. Khalidy suggests if this money is loaned to Egypt, the United States then will be the only helper for the Arabs, to stop the Soviet influence in the Arab states.

FJC Will Add Instructor At 2nd Semester

One new instructor will be added to Fresno Junior College's faculty next semester. Hugh K. Golway will transfer from Roosevelt High School to FJC at the beginning of the spring semester.

Golway will teach two sections of English 1A and two of History 17A on the University Avenue campus, and two of History 2B on the "O" Street campus.

He has bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from the University of California at Los Angeles. His undergraduate work included a major in history and a minor in English, including 64 units in social science. His masters degree is in history.

He has been teaching at Roosevelt since September, 1955. Other teaching experience includes a junior high school in San Diego, 1946-47; part-time instructor at San Diego Junior College, 1947-49; and Desert High School at Edwards, 1953-55.

Golway served with the navy from 1941-46 and 1950-53. During his wartime service with the Pacific Fleet he was promoted from ensign to commander.

Carpentry Class To Build Home Show Playhouse

The Fresno Junior College carpentry class, located on the "O" Street Campus, is building playhouses for the home show in April. They are looking forward to building their full scale home.

The carpentry class is under the vocational education division. It is run on the same principal as the auto shop program. The Federal Government and State Government are backing the course.

Traditions Of Other Nations To Be Shown

Do you want to go on a world tour for only one dollar?

An imaginary world tour is scheduled by the Cosmopolitan Club of the Fresno State College for Friday, Dec. 14, at 7:30 PM in the University Street auditorium.

Om Bhala, vice-president of the club, said that the club, which represents 80 students from several countries, has previously produced two successful shows.

Tickets are available at the Alumni office on the old campus. The donation is $1 and may be given at the door at show time. These donations will be spent on a dinner party for the underprivileged children of Fresno.

Each year the carpentry class builds a full scale home which they sell. The funds are returned for a future home.

Playhouses are being built because of bad weather and the advisory board has not given them permission to build the full scale home. These playhouses are being built by three carpentry students. Bryant Washington, freshman, Michael Colina, freshman, and Robert Newfield, freshman.

The playhouses are being built from material which cannot be used for any other building. Merle Sons, instructor, designed the playhouses. He said "I took the design from story book design. This design is a forerunner for the playhouse to be built for the home show in April. The one being built now is to be put under the Christmas tree on the University Street Campus."

Feb. 29 Is Deadline

George Holstein, dean of admissions and records of Fresno Junior College, reminds fourteenth year students that February 29, 1957, is the final date that students may apply for Associate in Arts degrees.

Of the 420 sophomores of FJC and 153 part-time students, only 90 have taken the necessary steps by signing up in the administration building.

Ram Quintet Looks For Wins In Coming Tilts

Basketball continues to reign supreme and Coach Joe Kelly has many games in store for his Ram five before league competition starts Jan. 8, 1957.

Last night the Bakersfield College Renegades invaded the local court with Fresno very much the underdogs. The Renegades are fresh from winning the Second Annual Bakersfield College Tourney this past weekend and promise to give anybody rough competition.

The Rams will enjoy the home court for the last time before league play starts in January, when FJC hosts visiting San Bernardino Junior College, this Friday evening.

Play Renegades
The following week the Rams hit the road for games with Bakersfield, Dec. 18, and Sacramento, Dec. 21.

Tournament play again beckons, this time the Rams travel to Glendale for the seventh annual Sam Berry Memorial Basketball Tournament on Dec. 26-27-28-29. Entered in the tourney are Fresno, Los Angeles Harbor, El Camino, Glendale, Santa Monica, Los Angeles City College, Ventura, Pasadena, East Los Angeles, Long Beach, Stockton, Reedley, Valley, Fullerton, Bakersfield, and Compton.

Following a few days for rest, the Rambling Rams move on to Modesto for the Modesto State Tourney, Jan. 4-5. The Rams placed third last year behind Modesto Junior College and Los Angeles City College, winning over West Contra Costa, 92-77, Stockton, 81-65, and San Francisco City College, 80-60; losing only to the champs, LACC, 85-76.

16 Teams Listed
Sixteen teams are listed including LACC, West Contra Costa, Stockton, Allen Hancock, Sacramento, Fresno, American River (Grant), Bakersfield, San Jose, Ventura, SFCC, College of Sequoias, San Mateo, Long Beach, El Camino, and Modesto JC.

Fresno is paired with Sacramento in its first game which will begin at 6 PM, Jan. 4.

With such an array of "tough" games on tap before the league opener, Kelly has high hopes on settling his starting five. To quote Kelly, "This is the first season of my college experience where I don't know who my best five cagers are." In league play Coach Kelly believes his squad will finish third with Allen Hancock College tabbed the team to beat.

Rams Wind Up Winter League

Winter League baseball ground to a close for the Fresno Junior College Rams last Sunday afternoon on the local diamond. The Rams met the Fresno State Bullpups and came out on the long end of a 2-0 score.

Rams Place Seventh At Tournament

Bakersfield College's Renegades continued their winning ways to capture the second annual Bakersfield College Tourney.

Bakersfield defeated the San Jose Junior College five in the final game, 56-50, to sew up the championship for the second time in the two year history.

The first game found Fresno paired against Orange Coast Junior College.

The Rams stayed in the game until the final minutes when Fresno Junior College changed their zone defense to a man to man style, whereupon the roof promptly fell in and Orange Coast went on to win in handy fashion, 53-32. Ram forward, Warren Schmidt, hit for 20 points in the losing cause, with forward Al Brown playing six minutes, scoring four points and re-injuring his ankle to be out for two weeks.

Dropping into the consolation bracket, Fresno matched buckets against Los Angeles Harbor Junior College, but came out on the short end, 53-40. Harbor tallied first, led at halftime, 32-17, and went on to win, 53-40. High scorer for the Rams was forward Warren Schmidt with 23 pointers, followed by Ram guard Ben Eichman with nine.

Fresno's hour of glory in the tourney came at the expense of the Coalinga Falcons. The Rams rocked and rolled along to bury the Falcons, 75-53. Fresno loosened up somewhat in this contest with Ram guards Eichman hitting for 14 and Jack Zimmerman notching 12 points. Schmidt again was high man with 19 before fouling at the half.

Coach Joe Kelly did a lot of experimenting in all three games in an effort to come up with a winning combination.

As was previously mentioned, Brown reinjured his ankle and will be out for two weeks. Ben Eichman and Ernie Clark both had sprained ankles but nothing too serious. Ex-footballer Kenny Guinn looked like he had just finished a rough grid contest with seven stitches around his right eye. Seems his eye got in the way of an elbow.

Ski Club Plans First Outing December 30

"There's snow in them there hills," was the expression overheard while conversing with Miss Tylor, an advisor of the Fresno Junior College Ski Club.

Last night the Fresno JC Ski Club discussed the topic of the evening, their first ski outing on December 30. While this is not a definite date, it is perhaps the most likely day. Fundamental warm-up exercises were also held at the meeting helping to show the student how to loosen up in the proper way without pulling a muscle or various other ailments.

The feature attraction of the meeting was the showing of two movies; Skiing in Sun Valley and Techniques of Skiing, these movies will help to aid the beginning, said Miss Tylor.

Miss Tylor said, "Anyone seeking ways or means of transportation may contact Margaret Ryan, chairman of the JC Ski Club transportation committee."

For the doubters in the crowd, contact Bob Baffa, president of the ski club for any further information. Baffa also urges anyone who wishes to learn to ski, to attend the meetings and the Fresno Bee Ski School.

James Aldredge Signs For Bonus With Hollywood Stars

Fresno Junior College baseball star James Aldredge, young strong man for the Fresno Rams winter league club and former Edison High School star athlete, inked a contract with the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League, a triple A club, for a neat $4,000 bonus last Wednesday night.

Hollywood Scout Bob Fontaine, who has been following the fabulous career of Aldredge since his first Fresno Bee KMJ All Star outing in 1953, discovered the pounding talents of this young powerhouse slugger who is capable of giving the ball a long ride at any time.

Keeping track of Aldredge proved quite a worthwhile project as Fontaine and his colleague, Don Linderberg, managed to out-jump eight other major and Pacific coast league clubs, who were hoping to rope the youngster to their side of the fence.

Linderberg took his first look at the slugging youngster during the winter league campaign and decided this was enough for a workout before the critical observing eyes of the Stars' head men, who were pleased over the signing of the 18 year old lad.

The junior college athlete will report to the Stars' spring training camp in Anaheim, March 10, where he will get the chance to break into big-time baseball.

During high school, Aldredge had an impressive record while batting a tremendous .417, he received the B'nai Brith and student athlete awards for the most outstanding player and student.
