

'Bus Stop' Cast Begins Rehearsals

The cast of "Bus Stop," this semester's drama production, has started rehearsing for the presentation on Dec. 11 and 12 in the FCC auditorium.

Clyde G. Sumpter, drama coach, reported that all the roles in the play have been filled.

Sumpter had a little trouble in filling three male roles. They will be portrayed by Mike Parker as Carl, the bus driver, Rodger Dunham as Bo, and Garth DeLeon as Dr. Lyman.

The other cast members are Marilee Knoler as Cherie, Lori Slifman as Grace, Laurel Monson as Elma, Tom Westerfield as Virgil, and Carl Wheeler as Will, the sheriff.

Sumpter said that students who are interested in working on the stage crew, painting scenery, or working on ticket sales should contact him by Monday.

Barbara Anderson is the business manager for the production. Ben Tayan and Richard Esajian will be the stage managers.

7 Delegates To Attend Convention

The California Junior College Student Government Association Conference will be held in Oakland November 19 through 21.

The main purpose of the student government convention is to allow students from all the California junior colleges to exchange ideas.

Doris Deakins, the dean of women, and Joseph King, the council adviser, along with seven Fresno City College delegates, will attend the conference.

The delegates are Shirley White, FCC student council president; Barbara Anderson, vice president; Diane Nixon, secretary; Carrol Jacobsen, treasurer; and Pete Farmer, the Associated Men Students president.

Robert Roe, the Central California Junior College Student Government Association parliamentarian, and Eric Radanovich, the association student coordinator, will also represent CC at the conference.

The students will attend workshops in the fields of student government, campus activities, finance, athletics and publications.

Sandra Getchell Wins Homecoming Queen Contest

How does it feel to be chosen Homecoming Queen? Sandra Getchell said it was a happy, warm, and surprised feeling to be chosen the Homecoming Queen of 1959.

"First of all," said Sandra, "I would like to thank the Delta Psi Omega dramatic club; for without their help I wouldn't have won. I would also like to thank all the students who voted for me."

Delta Psi Omega won a trophy for the best campaign for Homecoming week.

The campaign started the first week by displaying a football float at school during the noon hour. In the center was a huge football out of which Sandra popped when announced.

On the final day the club put on a talent show with fellows dressed up as previous football queens.

The club advertised their candidate by wearing sloppy white shirts with weird designs on them, and "Sandra Getchell" painted on the back.

The queen was announced at the half time ceremonies at the homecoming game. Miss Getchell was very happy about getting to keep the crown. A sparkling reminder of a thrilling event.

Reports said that the voting was very close. Sandra's four attendants and club sponsors were Sherry Smith, Technical and Industrial Club; Janice Pistacchio, Newman Club; Deanna Dominguez, Latin American Club; and Brenda Daum, Campus Christian Fellowship Club.

Following the game a dance was held at the social hall. Jack Martin's band played the first dance in honor of the queen and her four attendants who danced exclusively. The dance lasted from 10 PM to 1 AM. Sandra went home a tired but very happy queen.

Sandra is planning to become a dental assistant. She is a freshman and is a graduate of Bullard High School.

Staff Wins At Section Conference

Three Rampage staff members entered writing contests in Sacramento Saturday, and all won prizes.

They competed during the annual fall conference of the Northern California Journalism Association of Junior Colleges in the Sacramento City College.

Larry Adams, the sports editor, and David Hanna, a co-editor, won the top two places in sports writing. News Editor Eleanor Patton placed second in news writing.

Junior Colleges represented at this conference were Fresno, Sacramento, American River, Oakland, Stockton, Diablo Valley, Hartnell, Allan Hancock, and Foothill.

Fifteen delegates and two advisers from the yearbook and newspaper staffs attended the conference.

Nursing Class Has Larger Enrollment

By FLORENCE HARPER

There is a steadily increasing interest in the vocational nursing program which is in its ninth year at FCC.

Forty-two students and three teachers under the direction of Mrs. Josephine E. Hostetler comprise the program now. Mrs. Mildred Bosteder and Mrs. June Pool are full-time teachers, and Mrs. Matilda Gassman is a part time instructor.

The increased interest is bringing higher standards in the program, which in turn is causing a more careful screening of prospective vocational nurses.

While it is not a specific requirement that applicants have a high school diploma, Mrs. Hostetler stated that because of the surplus of applicants preference is given to the high school graduates.

Qualifies For Exam

On completion of this three semester course the student is a graduate vocational nurse eligible to take the state board examinations to qualify as a Limited Vocational Nurse.

The first semester consists of five hours daily. The second and third semesters consist of 36 hours weekly, 32 of which are spent on floor duty in the Fresno General Hospital, the Valley Children's Hospital, or the Fresno Nutritional Home.

Good Health

To be eligible for admission to this program women must have the equivalent of a 10th grade score on their entrance examinations. They must have good physical and mental health.

The home responsibilities of applicants are also considered very carefully, Mrs. Hostetler said, because students can miss no more than three days during the three semesters and remain eligible for the state board examinations. Applicants must be at least 17 years of age and not more than 50. Once enrolled the student nurse must maintain a "C" average and carry 17 units per semester.

Class Costs $100

The cost to the student for the course is approximately $100 which includes books, transportation to the hospitals, and uniforms, which are gray pinafores with white blouses.

The instructors are Registered Nurses and are qualified in education instruction.

Mrs. Hostetler is a graduate of the Fresno County Hospital. She has done post-graduate work in surgery in Oakland, and was the afternoon superintendent in surgery at the Peralta Hospital in Oakland.

Students Will Observe Holiday Wednesday

FCC students will have a one day vacation from the classroom Wednesday which is Veterans Day.

The students will return Nov. 12 to begin midterm examinations which will continue through Nov. 18.

Diane Nixon and David Hanna, the coeditors of the Rampage, announced the paper would not be published next week because of the holiday and also examinations.

Library Receives Many New Books From Shipment

A shipment of new books will tighten the shelves of the FCC library. Among the books is the "Portable Steinbeck."

Jackson C. Carty, head librarian, in making the announcement, also said that the books will be ready to check out as soon as they are catalogued.

The John Steinbeck book has such readings as: "In Dubious Battle," "The Grapes of Wrath," and "The Pastures of Heaven."

The new books range in subject from archery to good dancing. From Hitler as a young man to the American "Turncoats," in a book entitled, "21 Stayed."

Beginning with fiction the other books are entitled:

"Best American Short Stories, 1959," "Elephant Hill," "A Yankee Doctor In Paradise," "How To Do Nothing Alone By Yourself," and a Spanish novel, "Nada."

Two biographies are "Elizabeth the Great," and "Ben-Gurion—biography of an extraordinary man."

In non-fiction the books are "History of Archery," "How to Become a Good Dancer," "Young Hitler I Knew," "21 Stayed," "Admiral of the Ocean Seas," "Bane of Drug Addiction," "Par Golf For Women," "Fifty Years at Ringside," and "Photo-Journalism."

Other books of non-fiction are, "House Beautiful's Building Manual, 1959," "The Miracle of Light and Power." From the U. S. Children's Bureau: "Your Child from 1-6," and from the Post Office: "Postage Stamps of the U. S."

NEW SPIRIT IS ALL OVER FCC CAMPUS

There is something new on the FCC campus. It can be found hustling along the corridors between classes. It can be found in the coffee shop and in the cafeteria. You might find it on the lawn enjoying the sun. If you look carefully, you might find it in the library and in the parking areas.

What is it? What is this new thing? Is it alive? You just better believe it. The new school spirit is terrific. Homecoming Week was the spark that gave it life. The competition between clubs was a positive force that accomplished a miracle.

Last year a funeral was held for the dead spirit of FCC. This week has seen the resurrection! A great big bouquet is in order for all those who worked so hard to make Homecoming Week the success it was.

Special thanks go to Miss Doris Deakins, the dean of women; Allen Graves and Sid Craighead, co-chairmen of the homecoming committee. This was the best Homecoming ever put on. The enthusiasm was terrific; as evidenced by the fact that 11 of the 15 campus clubs sponsored a queen candidate, and the student body cast 693 ballots — more than twice the total number of votes at the last general student body election.

Congratulations to all participating clubs for the pep and good will shown during their campaigning. Could it be that more inter-club competition would keep alive this wonderful school spirit?

American Hero Falls To Ranks Of Humble

One of America's greatest hero's tumbled to the ranks of the humble when Charles VanDoren, the $129,000 winner on the quiz show "Twenty One," confessed he was coached on the answers before appearing on the program.

Besides pointing out to the American public the ease with which a popular media such as television can influence the people, the confession also showed the courage of a man who was not afraid to admit he made a grave mistake.

VanDoren had much to protect when he first denied any connection with the fixing of the show. His proud family reputation was at stake. His own reputation, which had blossomed as a result of his success on "Twenty One" and his work as a commentator on the "Today" show, would suffer an irreparable blow. He would lose his jobs at Columbia University and the National Broadcasting Company.

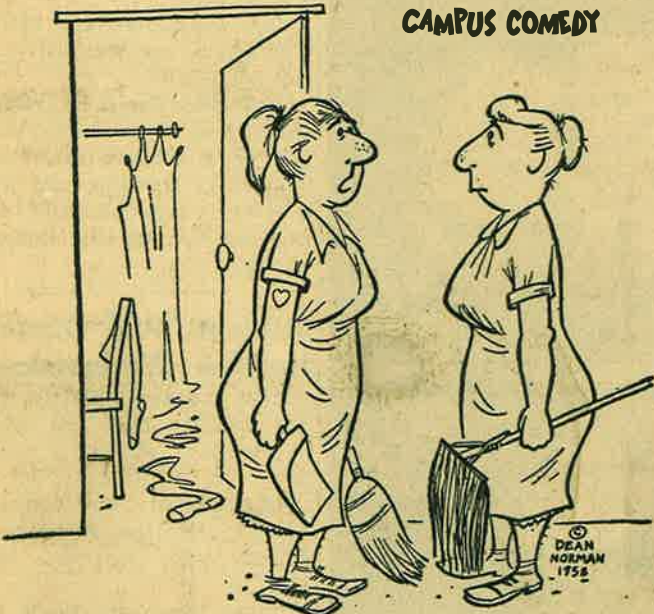

It must have taken more courage than most of us can imagine to do what VanDoren did. Yet we, as an unlearned judge, sit and pass judgment on a man who is much superior than most of us have ever dreamed of being.

It is folly of the American public to think that our great national figures can have no vices. These men are human, and humans always have and always will have virtues and vices.

What VanDoren did was wrong. Perhaps he won't be able to make up for this for the rest of his life. I think it is the duty of the American public to give him a second chance.

CAMPUS COMEDY

"...FINGERNAIL POLISH ON THE DESKS, CRUMBS IN THE BEDS, CLOTHES EVERYWHERE EXCEPT IN THE CLOSET LUCKY FOR THEM ALL THAT MEN THINK ABOUT IS SEX!"

DANCE CLASS RESOLVE GRACE

You can obtain social grace through dancing. FCC offers many courses in dancing, including the very popular modern dance.

Modern dance is "lots of fun and really helps you achieve grace," said Mary Gulke, a student in the above picture. Miss Sara J. Dougherty, the dance instructor, said that there is a modern dance class every Tuesday at 11 AM in the women's gym. This class is open to anyone who would like to attend.

Boys Outnumber Girls!

Another dance class that seems to interest almost everyone is the social dance class. Miss Dougherty said that the social dance class has just finished learning the fox trot, and is now learning the cha cha. Miss Dougherty is pleased that the boys in this class, outnumber the girls!

McCauley's Dosi-Do

An added attraction of the square dance class this semester is a real, live caller, Dennis McCauley, a square dance student. Unlike the social dance class, the square dance class has a shortage of boys. If you chance to visit the class, and see a girl running around yelling "I'm a boy," there is nothing wrong with her. Miss Dougherty puts a sash around the girls' waist, and they take the boy's part.

Most of the students taking square dance said that it is a lot of fun, in spite of the lack of boys. Miss Dougherty makes the plea, "Boys, we need you. It isn't as bad as you think!"

Adds To Social Grace

Students at FCC are privileged to have these classes to aid their social graces, and should take advantage of them. It's a lot cheaper than Arthur Murray!

Men are reminded that the social dance class is equal to half a unit of regular Physical Education.

WHAT IS NEW?

By ANDREW FEDERICO

Joe Pacheco and Bill Bridges were about to have a ping pong game at Frank H. Ball playground.

Joe Pacheco started the serve. The ball made a definite sound off his paddle and bounced on his side of the table to Bill Bridges' side. Bill caught it with a strong backhand and pushed it over the net.

"Good shot," Joe said, poking the ball back.

"It was on the right side," Bill said, hitting the returned ball.

Nickle On Game

"Want to put a nickle on the game?" Joe said.

"You know I can't play for money."

"But why?" Joe said, putting much spin on the ball as he returned it.

"I don't know. I still freeze-up when it comes to winning," Bill said, knocking the ball over the net.

"But you can play as good as anyone else."

Makes Difficult Shot

The ball hit the far corner of Bill's side of the table, and he had to go back in order to arch it back over the net. It was a perfect shot.

"But I can't play when it comes to close competition," Bill said.

"You could, if you tried."

"It's my nerves; I get haywire when it comes down to the last points."

"Everybody does."

The ball took a crazy bounce, but Joe got it.

"I know, but it's worse with me," Bill said.

"You've got to get over that."

"I wish I could."

Misses Return Shot

Joe missed the return shot and started another serve.

"It's that way with anything you do," Joe said while serving. "Whether you're playing ping pong or trying to get a job done, how well you do depends on how you hold up under pressure."

Not Enough Desire

"I know, but I just can't want to win strong enough. I guess it's because wanting to win strong enough will bother me that much more when I lose."

"You shouldn't think about winning or losing, just about playing," Joe said starting another serve.

"I can't help it, though. It's my nerves. Some people have good ones and others have them bad. I've got lousy nerves when it comes to winning."

The game started to gain momentum — from Bill's side to Joe's side, back and forth the ball bounced.

"You're going to miss," Joe said.

"You are," Bill responded.

Game Gets Rough

The game turned into a contest, one side trying to outplay the other. There were some good shots made by both. Joe blasted, and Bill recovered nicely. The ball crossed the net several times. The pressure got heavy.

"A dime says you miss," Joe inquired, returning a shot.

"OK," Bill said.

The game started to move even faster.

"You're going to miss," Joe warned.

"No, I'm not," Bill said.

The sound of the ball, the paddle and the table expressed a well played game.

Loses Game

But Bill tightened, and lobbed the ball just over the net. Joe lined it back for an impossible recovery.

"You'll never be a ping pong player," Joe said, and laughed, but not so much in spite as in relief.

"I know."

"And I'll always beat you because you do know," Joe said.

"Here's your dime," Bill said.

Library Offers Students Music

Fresno City College students combine studying their text with listening to classical music in the library's reserve book room.

Jackson C. Carty, head librarian, said that there are now 42 records available for students.

The records range from such Broadway musicals as "Oklahoma" and "An American in Paris," to the correct pronunciation of the languages.

Records are listed under six divisions: Spanish, Russian, French and music appreciation.

President Young Plans Social Club

Freshman class president Leonard Young would like to organize a freshman class social club this fall semester.

When asked of his plans for this semester, Young stated, "I would like you, the members of the freshman class, to let me know what you want at FCC. I will be glad to discuss any ideas you may have."

Sam Adds Spirit To Activities

By JOE McGEHEE

Sam the Ram the Fifth, this year's school mascot, won the praise of Allan Graves, co-chairman of homecoming, as one of the best rams this school has had.

In addition to being high spirited, he was fierce when he wanted to be, tame when he wanted to be, and a very good subject for the camera. In short he was a temperamental ram.

At first Sam the Ram was an unruly ram. He kicked over his water bucket and tried to jump out of his pen until Graves took the ram by his lowered horns and rode him.

The ram was brought to school Friday by Buddy Murchison in a trailer decorated by Graves and Murchison.

Friday his interest in the game was exceeded only by his interest in the pep girls. Graves said that when Sam wasn't posing for pictures in his new blanket, made by Joyce Jarret, he was following the activities of the pep girls.

Sam was borrowed from a farmer in Raisin City by the homecoming committee.

Graves and Sidney Craighead, co-chairmen of homecoming, thank everyone for making homecoming so successful. Special thanks goes to Doris Deakins, the dean of women, and to the members of the student council who gave so freely of their time.

International Club Is For All Students

The International Club is designed for those students, both American and foreign, who are interested in international affairs, foreign customs, and further international understanding.

William A. Reynolds, sponsor of the club, said the membership isn't too large at present. He feels the reason is because the students don't understand the club's purpose and who is eligible to join.

The club is open to all students and there are no requirements. Reynolds said that the American students don't realize that the club is also for them as well as foreign students.

The club meets every other week in B-6. Reynolds would like to see more interest in the club and he feels that the students will greatly profit by it.

The president of the club is John Haddad, a student from Iran.

Fresno State College also has an International Club and often the two clubs meet together.

Spring Semester Counseling Begins

Spring semester counseling and program scheduling for currently enrolled day students at Fresno City College will start Nov. 9.

The counseling center has announced that students may make appointments with their counselors immediately.

Spring semester pre-registration and counseling will begin Nov. 30 and continue until Feb. 3.

Evening division counseling and registration for returning students will begin Nov. 30 and continue through Jan. 15.

Spring semester instruction will begin Feb. 4 for both day and night students.

Veterans Have Enrollment Drop

The admissions office reported that 404 veterans are enrolled at FCC this year, which is a big drop compared to the 705 enrolled last year.

Mrs. Murphy, secretary in the veterans office, said the reason for the drop is because fewer veterans are qualifying for the benefits of Public Law 550, the Korean GI Bill. To qualify a veteran must have entered the armed forces before January 31, 1955, and started his education within three years after his discharge.

Veterans going to school are paid according to the number of units they are carrying and the number of dependents they claim. For example, a full time student carrying 14 or more units would receive $110 if he claims one dependent, $135 if he claims two dependents, and $160 if he claims three dependents.

Mrs. Murphy said there are 391 students under Public Law 550, nine under Public Law 894, the Rehabilitation Act, and four under the state "Cal-Vet" law.

Sixteen students are attending FCC under the two federal "war orphan" acts. There are 11 under Public Law 881 and five under Public Law 634.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS HOMECOMING DANCE

The Homecoming Dance last Friday in the social hall had the largest crowd of any other dance at FCC. Miss Doris Deakins, the dean of women, comment, "There was hardly room to dance," is a good description of the attendance.

Many Reedley students took advantage of their invitation and attended this affair.

Homecoming queen Sandra Getchell was introduced at the dance, and she and her escort led the next dance.

Jack Martin's band provided the dance music.

College Has Top-Notch Body Shop

By GARY COOKE

"The body and fender shop at Fresno City College is one of the finest and best equipped as far as school programs go in the state of California," announced Carl Rustigian, the shop's instructor.

The main objective of the four semester body and fender course at FCC is the training of students in the basic skills of repairing collision damaged automobiles. Among the modern machinery used in the shop are the facilities for a new course at this school, which is the spray painting of automobiles.

This spray painting course is available to fourth semester students who have proved themselves to be good, capable students during their first year and a half of the shop course.

The body and fender job placement program at FCC has been very successful. Rustigian reported that during the past five years, City College has been responsible for training approximately 45 percent of the body and fender apprentice repairmen in Fresno and outlying areas. He went on to say that there are still many jobs open for students who complete the course.

Rustigian has been the instructor of the body and fender course here at FCC for the past eight years. He also has 16 years of experience in the trade prior to his instructing at this school.

Modern Homemakers Serve Planned Meals

By FLORENCE HARPER

The modern homemaker knows how to take advantage of her home freezer so she may serve "planned-overs" instead of "left-overs."

This knowledge is an important part of the education of the home economics students. In the cooking class the stress is on management, of money and shopping, as well as managing the actual work.

Nutritious Meals Important

Planning nutritious meals is an important part of the duties of a homemaker. Mrs. Norma Carpenter, the instructor, said that anybody can learn to cook by using a good cook book but it is these other related fields of information that make the foods class so important to the inexperienced homemaker.

Class Is Divided

To gain experience in management, the class is divided into uniform groups, making it possible to cook and work on a family basis.

In old style cooking classes it was common practice to cut recipes into fractions and let each girl bake one biscuit, for example. The approach practiced in Mrs. Carpenter's class provides much more practical experience.

16 Is Ideal Class

This semester there is one class with an enrollment of 14 students. Sixteen would be the ideal number, Mrs. Carpenter said, but 18-20 students could be accommodated.

This cooking class is a one year course, but a student may enroll in the second semester and then pick up the first part of the course the following semester. The second semester course does not depend on material learned the first semester, and students can reverse the order of the course without jeopardizing their grades. Mrs. Carpenter stated that this plan has the sanction of the administration.

The teaching plan of the actual cooking is to give the students the experience of cooking as many different types of food as possible.

A Modern Kitchen

The kitchens have been furnished with many modern appliances. One kitchen unit has a dishwasher and disposal unit in addition to the standard fixtures.

There is an upright freezer which provides adequate freezer space for the cooks and Mrs. Carpenter plans to include lectures on freezing techniques. The processing and wrapping of foods for the freezer will be taught when fruits and vegetables are in surplus supply.

The fact that this class meets twice a week for three hour sessions makes it possible to have a rich and varied program with whatever combination of lecture and laboratory time that seems pertinent to the problem at hand.

150 Students Have School Insurance Plan

Archie Bradshaw, dean of students, reported that only 150 students took out the student insurance policy provided by the school.

Bradshaw said he has received many inquiries concerning the insurance plan. He said the students who have the insurance are covered under a blanket policy No. 8584 which protects all students who applied for the insurance.

The insurance company notified Bradshaw that individual policies will be sent to each student at an early date. This was delayed while certain terms were being worked out.

Out of the 150 students having the school insurance plan, 93 have taken it for the calendar year. Twenty-two students have the policy for the school year and 35 have it for just the fall semester.

The purpose of the plan is to give adequate financial protection to students confronted with unexpected medical expenses.

The policy costs $6 for one semester, $12 for the school year or $16 for the calendar year.

Bradshaw said students who want to check to see if they are included on the list of policy holders may do so in his office.

History Society Meets At FCC

"The Professional Entomologist" was the subject of Dr. Ralph Barr's discussion last night at a meeting of the Fresno Natural History Society in McLane Hall.

Last night's meeting was the first of a forthcoming series. The series will feature educational programs designed to reach future members, according to the society.

These programs will be presented by members of specialized fields of natural science who will explain their fields and describe requirements for persons interested in attaining professional standing in those vocations.

Dr. Barr is from the California Department of Public Health.

Entomology is the branch of zoology which has to do with insects and their habits.

Combinations Lead Rams To Easy Victory

The combinations of Daniel Ramirez and Coach Len Bourdet provided the power and Bucky Hoover and Thad Tillotson the pitching as the Fresno City College Rams annihilated the Fresno State College JV's, 17-1, in a Winter League baseball game.

Ramirez had four hits in six trips, including a home run, a double and two singles. Ramirez scored four runs and drove in three.

Bourdet had a home run, double and single in three trips and drove across four runs.

Both Ram homers came in the six run fourth inning in which the Rams knocked out starting FSC JV pitcher Calvin Keyes.

Hoover pitched the first five innings for the Rams, giving up only two hits to the JV's. Hoover struck out six and walked two.

Tillotson hurled the last four frames, giving up three hits, walking none and striking out eight.

Len Bourdet Wins Muny Golfing Cup

Head FCC baseball coach Len Bourdet, who also is an assistant football coach for Clare Slaughter, and coaches and plays in the Fresno Winter League, found time to win the President's Cup of the Fresno Muny Golf Club, Sunday.

Bourdet, who carries a ten stroke handicap, fired a 75 in the first round and an 81 in the second. His 36 hole total, minus his handicap, was 136, one less than Ralph Hirst and Ed Rosenthal who had 137 totals, and tied for second.

Homecoming Ruined; Rams Lose To Tigers

The up and down Fresno City College Rams had an otherwise good Homecoming ruined by the Reedley College Tigers Friday night as the Rams went down in defeat to the Tigers, 28-7. The win for Reedley marked the first time the Tigers had beaten Fresno in eleven years.

The game, which was called even by the experts, turned out to be everything but even. Reedley took the lead with 40 seconds out of the first quarter and then played games with the otherwise inert Rams.

In almost every instant the Ram line and backfield were beaten by a harder playing and more win conscious Tiger team. Two Tigers did more than their share of stopping the Rams.

Ed Donahue, a 210 pound tackle, gave Ram quarterback Don Stockton more trouble than the rest of the Tiger line. Dick Cohee, a Reedley halfback, was always dangerous with the ball, indicated by his 90 yards gained in 14 carries.

Scoring Begins Early
Reedley took little time, and as it appeared little trouble, in taking the lead. On their first play from scrimmage, quarterback Bob Hayes tossed a pass to end Stan Beach for 69 yards and a TD. Beach was in the clear with no Ram defenders near him.

From then on it was Reedley's game. They scored once more in the second quarter on a pass from halfback Cliff Stahl to Beach. Hayes passed to Beach for the conversion, making the halftime score 14-0.

The Rams made their lone touchdown with six minutes left in the third quarter. A poor Reedley punt gave the Rams possession of the ball on the Tiger 36 yard line. Willie Turner, with a key block from Abe Kimble, carried to the 18. Two plays later Turner skirted off left tackle for twelve yards and the Rams' only score. Mike Martin converted, making the score 14-7 with Reedley leading.

Fresno Threat Erased
The Tigers ended all Ram chances when Cohee picked up the Ram kickoff and raced back to the Ram 39 before being stopped. Stahl passed to end Joe Fisher, who was unattended in the Ram backfield, for the score.

The final Reedley tally came in the final quarter when Stahl took a handoff and skirted right end for 20 yards and the score.

Fresno's Bright Spots
Little can be said about the poor Ram showing. Of the 20 to 30 players Coach Clare Slaughter put in the game only two or three are worthy of mention.

Abe Kimble, who has been one of the best blockers for the Rams, did another good job. Many times his key blocks let Willie Turner slip through for some added yardage. The Kimble-Turner combination made Turner the leading ground gainer for the Rams with 128 yards in 22 carries. Kimble netted 33 yards in eleven carries. The entire Ram backfield only netted 176 yards.

Scoring Summary:
Reedley 6 8 6 8 — 28
Fresno 0 0 7 0 — 7

Rams End Season With Road Trips

As far as Fresno City College is concerned, it's a little too late to worry where their Ram football team will wind up as far as league standings are concerned.

The Rams have two more games left on the schedule and have a long way to go if they intend to finish in a respectable spot when the season ends. Undoubtedly this is the worst season the Rams have had in the history of the conference.

The Rams are currently in a tie for fifth place. By Saturday night the Rams could either be where they are now or in last place. The worst record the Rams have compiled while in the league was in 1949. They finished with a three win four loss league record.

Previous to this year the Rams had lost only five league games in ten years. The Rams now have three losses and have two more games yet to play.

Rams Meet Porterville
The Rams will meet the winless Porterville College Pirates, who are now dwelling in the cellar, Saturday night. On the following week the Rams will travel to meet the Allan Hancock Bulldogs who are now tied with the Rams.

The contest with Porterville should be a good one. Both the Rams and the Pirates have numerous injuries. The two teams both possess a lot of speed in the backfield and both throw the ball quite a bit. The game should be a wide open affair with the Pirates trying to get out of the cellar and the Rams trying to keep from falling in.

Hancock Game Ends Season
"Stop John Thomas" will be the cry when the Rams take on the Allan Hancock team. Thomas is a very explosive runner that could give the Rams a lot of trouble. This game will conclude the season for the Rams.

Starting for the Rams in the backfield will be Willie Turner, fullback, Abe Kimble and Lamont Whittle, halfbacks, and Dan Stockton, quarterback. On the line will be ends, Joe Williams and Willie Wheaton, tackles, Chet Rooters and Dennis Scott, guards, Eddie Gomes and Ray Merrill, and center Jerry Nimmo.

Modesto Pirates Beaten By FCC

The Fresno City College cross-country track team avenged their only loss of the season Friday when they beat the Modesto Junior College Pirates, 25-30. The meet was held on the three mile Roeding Park course.

Tomorrow the Rams will meet the College of Sequoias Giants in Visalia. The following weekend they will travel to Reedley for the Central California Junior College Athletic Association league meet.

Fernie Montanez, the Rams most consistent winner, led the field with a winning time of 16.3, one tenth of a second ahead of second place Rich Myers of Modesto.

Other finishers in order were Art Cardova F, Jim Hart F, Gar May M, Tom Pickens M, Zack Kepler F, Ken Bentz M, Jim Ali M, and Ben Hall F.

Water Polo Team Meets SJ Frosh

The Fresno City College water polo team will travel to San Jose tomorrow afternoon to meet the San Jose State College Frosh. The Ram mermen are still seeking their first win of the season. They were beaten, 13-5, by FSC Wednesday.

Next week the FCC water polo team will extend an invitation to all Fresno City College students interested in the sport to a match at the Fresno High School pool.
