Events Are Planned For Next Week

The Fresno City College is planning three activities during Public Schools Week.

President Stuart M. White has announced that parents and other interested persons are invited to visit classrooms on FCC's three campuses, University Ave., O St. and Edison.

White will be the host at a luncheon Wednesday at 12:15 PM in the student center committee room, given for members of the Fresno City Board of Education and of the FCC citizens advisory committee and Fresno City School's administrators. After the luncheon they will be taken on a tour of the six new shop buildings which will house the FCC technical and industrial division during the next school year.

White said the purpose of the luncheon will be to report on the development of the college and the building program.

Teachers For A Day

Forty FCC students who are majoring in education will participate in the "Teacher for a Day" program of the Fresno Teachers Association Wednesday. Each student will be given an opportunity to observe a classroom situation and, as time permits, will conduct a lesson under supervision of the regular teacher.

The students were chosen by city college instructors of education classe on the basis of scholarship, citizenship and appearance.

AWS Sponsors Tea

The FCC Associated Women Students will sponsor a mother and daughter tea and fashion show Thursday at 2:30 PM in the student center social hall and patio. Sharon Sue Martin, the AWS president, will be the moderator of the fashion show.

SB Petitions Are Still Available

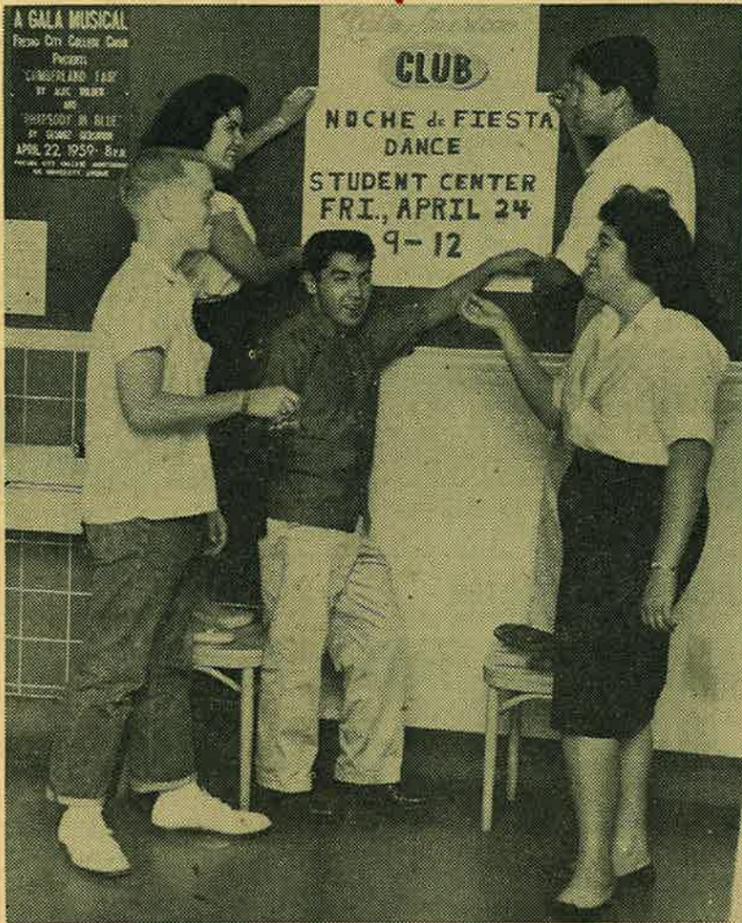

Eric Radanovich, commissioner of elections, urges all candidates for student body offices to obtain their qualification form and petition from Mrs. Lena Fuller in the admissions office.

Candidates for student body president and vice-president must have completed at least one year at FCC at the time of taking office and shall be maintaining at least 12 units during the semester of candidacy with a 2.5 grade point average.

Candidates for secretary, treasurer and representatives at large must maintain at least a 2.0 grade point average. The candidates for Associated Women Students' president and Associated Men Students' president will be governed by the qualifications of their respective organizations.

Radanovich stated that mid-term grades will be available on Apr. 27 and must be on the qualification form. The petitions with 40 signatures must be turned in by 3 PM Apr. 29.

The student election will be May 11 from 8 AM to 2 PM on all FCC campuses.

Sophomore Activities Will Commence Friday, May 1

Friday is a red letter day in the busy life of the graduating sophomore at Fresno City College for the month of May.

May 1 is the deadline for the ordering of caps and gowns. May 15 is the final day to file petitions to be excused from an active participation in the commencement exercises. On the social calendar for May 22 is scheduled the spring formal.

Rush Expected

Mrs. Jewel Herbert, manager of the bookstore, reports that only 67 sophomores have paid their fee of $3.50 for caps and gowns.

"We are appealing to all students who have yet to be measured to come in as soon as possible. With only a little more than a week to complete the measurements for over 150 students, we are bound to be rushed at the last minute."

Mrs. Herbert added that the graduation announcements can now be ordered in the bookstore. They are priced at 18 cents each.

Few File Petitions

George C. Holstein, dean of admission and records, reminds all nonparticipants in graduation to obtain petition forms in the admission office before May 15.

"As of last week only 13 petitions have been submitted," said Holstein. "Barring a last minute rush of petitions, the graduating class should attend the night of June 12 in a record number."

Dance Scheduled

Under the joint sponsorship of the Associated Women Students and the Associated Men Students, a dance will be held in the student social hall, May 22, in honor of the sophomore graduating class. A reigning king and queen will be announced during the dance.

Latin American Club Will Sponsor Dance Tomorrow At 9 PM

By KAREN McDOUGALD

A pinata, "La Jarabe" and a cantina are the main symbols of Mexican life that will be seen at the Latin-American dance, "Noche De Fiesta" tomorrow night from 9 to 12 in the Student Center.

The pinata originally was a vessel containing sweets and broken into by a blindfolded person cracking it with a stick. This game is as popular to the Mexican people as the "Pin The Tail on The Donkey" is to people of the United States.

Counseling For Next Semester To Begin Monday

Fall semester counseling and program scheduling for currently enrolled day students at Fresno City College will start Apr. 27. It will continue until the end of the spring semester.

President Stuart M. White announced students may start making appointments with their counselors Thursday.

White urged all students who plan to return to city college in fall to be counseled. They will complete preregistration Aug. 25 and 26, but they may make class reservations this spring.

For the first time FCC officials are inviting high school seniors who plan to enroll at the college in the fall semester to be counseled this spring.

Bradshaw said entrance examinations will be given to seniors May 23 and June 6.

Fall semester preregistration and student counseling are scheduled from Aug. 25 to 31 and from Sept. 2 to 9. Registration is set for Sept. 4, 8 and 9, and classes will start Sept. 14.

The star-shaped vessel surrounded by a maze of silver stars will be suspended from the ceiling of the center. Balloons, guitars, sombreros, palm trees and a Spanish styled well will complete the decorations.

"La Jarabe" commonly known as "The Mexican Hat Dance" will be presented at intermission by Charles and Theresa Lozano. Dick Nunes, Art Fernandez and Lou Bozigian will sing songs.

A cantina will be erected in the committee room adjoining the student center, where refreshments will be served throughout the evening. Small tables covered with red and white checked cloths and silver bottles containing greenery will constitute the decorations for the room.

"Music played by the Rhythm Knights," said Ernest Martinez, Latin-American club president, "will range in beat from the Rock 'n' Roll to the Cha Cha."

Fresno City College students and their escorts are admitted free with the presentation of a student body card at the door.

The dance, Martinez said, is stag or drag and the clothes are strictly casual.

Committee chairmen for the dance are Hank Mendoza, entertainment; Beatrice Olais, refreshments; Donna Garcia and Karen McDougald, publicity; Irene Torres, decorations, and Bud Duffield, cleanup.

Capacity Crowd Views Musical

A light musical, "Cumberland Fair" and "Rhapsody in Blue" was presented by the Fresno City College choir yesterday morning and night in the auditorium.

Clyde G. Sumpster, drama instructor, said, "'Cumberland Fair' and 'Rhapsody in Blue' included the combined efforts of the modern dancers, the chorus and the piano styling of Judy Unruh and Gary Sexton."

The cast of "Cumberland Fair" included in the leading parts: Phoebe, Deanna Miller; Polly, Caralee Blizzard; Ben Blake, Roger Dunham; Billy Barlow, Willis Wash, and Reuban, Gary Sexton. The chorus and dancers included Judy Monson, Jean Holmes, Sylvia Kirby, Mattie Combs, Shirley Kumano, Veloyce Rowe, Janet and Joan Alexander, Tom Dorn, Carl Wheeler, Carroll Christiansen, Don McGugin, Dick Nunes, and Ben Tayan. The barkers will be Les Lusk, Allan Kennedy and Bob Frisen.

MISS FRESNO COUNTY APPLICANTS — Dee Neece Kandarian, Sandy Sue Reno, and Doris Daniels, Fresno City College coeds, are applicants for the Miss Fresno County pageant. The affair will be held in the Fresno Memorial Auditorium on May 20. Ken Ruth photo

Does Athletics Draw Too Much From Student Funds?

Recently there has been an upheaval in some of our major colleges as to whether athletics is overemphasized. Fresno City College is not foreign to this problem. It does exist, although some choose to ignore it.

The question we would like to ask is whether athletics is overemphasized at FCC in the light of student funds.

Let's break down the figures. Of the $19,000 available for the spring student body budget, $18,000 is used because $1,000 goes into undistributed reserve. $10,686 of the $18,000 goes for athletics, whereas the remaining $7,314 is left to be divided up between the remaining 14 budget accounts. From the $7,314, $4,000 goes for the two publications, Rambler and Rampage, leaving $3,314 for 12 accounts. Last semester football appropriated $5,000 and had gate receipts of $5,755.

Athletics get $10,686, publications, $4,000, and the 12 remaining accounts get $3,314, why does so much money go to sports? Is it that important?

Some defend our intercollegiate sports budget by saying that the athletes are the representatives of our school; it is something which all students can identify themselves with as a whole; gate receipts pay for athletics. These attitudes are unsound for three reasons.

First, athletics is not a good representative of this school because this is basically an educational institution, not an athlete factory.

Second, students should not be so insecure that they must have only something visible with which they can identify themselves. Perhaps some can't identify themselves with the cultural element?

Third, football is the only sport which even approaches meeting its expenses with receipts. But the money appropriated is not available to the other organizations during the semester since it is allocated to the sports division.

We don't expect intercollegiate athletics to be dropped from any college, but we must be fair and keep everything in balance. Perhaps our modern colleges have been pushing things out of perspective with all the college athletic scholarships and grants.

The spring budget allocates scholarships worth $325, while $475 is going to athletic awards and letters. Is this proportion logical for an institution whose purpose is educational rather than athletic?

We can't deny that we have been making great strides toward the cultural ideal of a college with the new programs at FCC drama, forensics. And the new Alpha Gamma Sigma federation will aid in the obtaining of educational scholarships.

But this is not enough, we must reach an equilibrium and put educational ideals back on the level where they belong.

Improvisations In Jazz Traced Back To Bach

By BARNEY KESSEL

Many people listening to jazz for the first time feel it is a raw art form and that modern jazz is a completely fresh concept.

Actually, each school of music can be traced to an earlier one from which it borrowed rhythmically, melodically or harmonically—just as, incidentally, each school of jazz can be traced to previous schools of jazz.

Jazz is noted for improvisations—but even in the lifetime of Johann Sebastian Bach there was improvising, and actually, he was a great one at it. It has been said that he was the first man ever to use his thumbs in playing keyboard instruments and this added to his technique. (At one time, another Leipzig musician who was also a master improviser challenged Bach to an improvising contest, but he called it off when he heard that Bach used his thumbs.)

Early History

In the early history of music, many composition were written so that an additional part could be improvised, giving the work a spontaneous flavor—so it would never be performed exactly the same way each time. This, of course, is true of a great deal of jazz also.

Also in early days, minstrels would have to improvise words and music while entertaining the royalty at court. Does this recall Ella Fitzgerald and her "scat" singing?—though the court, of course, may be the customers of the Blue Note.

Many works of great composers have a principal theme and variations: these variations were often improvised and later incorporated into the work. Again—this is how many of our jazz standards came to be.

When listening to jazz, I like to listen at first without analyzing—and just react to everything as it naturally impresses me.

Clock-Alarm System Costs $25,000

Architect's drawings for the new clock and fire alarm system of Fresno City College are being studied by Stuart M. White, college president.

The new electronic system, which will include about 250 new clocks, will be installed during the summer. It is estimated that the new system will cost around $25,000.

Included in the plans is a new fire alarm system with alarm boxes to be located in each building.

Regarding the fire alarm system, White reminds students that in event of fire each student should know school fire regulations. Each classroom has a fire drill procedure bulletin posted

Concerning fire regulations, White states that "both student and college employees should realize the seriousness of fire in a school and should one ever occur common judgment on the part of each student is essential."

Females Take Time Out To Discuss Male Styles

By ANN KONE

A switch was pulled at Fresno City College this week when the women students were asked the question: "Out of all the different styles that the men on campus are wearing, which style do you prefer?"

Here are their answers:

Lena Lopopolo: "The new Ivy Leagues without the belts are very nice looking. I prefer that the men didn't wear levis, but I like those cute little bermudas and the shirt sweaters look tough."

Midge Wegley: "Ivy League, cords, and slacks are what I prefer the men to wear to school. I like bermuda shorts, but I don't think they should be worn to school."

Jan Maglio: "I like the Ivy League, green shirts and pants with buttons on the sides. I'm crazy about bermudas, but not at school."

Judy Derbyshire: "I think the bermudas are ugly, but I do like the Ivy League. Sport shirts, casual clothes and neat hair cuts are cool."

Joan Van Doorn: "Tennis shoes, levis, sweat shirts, white wool socks, with the red and blue stripes and goatee are what I prefer."

Mari Lou Parker and Janey Husted (Bobbsey Twins): "We like Ivy League, plaid shirts, khaki pants and tan shoes with pink shoelaces."

Judie Cady: "I like the white dress shirts and slacks for school and not bermudas. I prefer the dark Ivy League and the fashion of wearing a beard."

Judy Brehe: "It seems like all the guys like the Ivy League, and I agree with them. They sure look cool. I also like the bermuda shorts, crazy!"

Pirate 'Chant' Names Tours

Reedley College

The Jungle Chant announces that this summer 800 college students all over the United States will have the opportunity for a European tour, being offered by the US National Student Association Educational Travel, Inc.

Harold Hand From T & I Wins Tourney

Harold Hand, a welding student at Fresno City College, recently won a welding contest sponsored by the technical and industrial division. He was one of 24 students competing in the contest.

Dean Larsen, welding instructor, stated that there are numerous tournaments in sports, such as football, baseball, basketball, so why not have one in welding. The competent welder should develop skill in finger dexterity, iron muscle coordination, and these coupled with a judgment of selecting proper welding heats are just a few of the basic fundamentals the welder must employ.

The tournament, just held, consisted of welding a certain type of joint with the oxy-acetylene process. More contests will be given in the future and will be open to outsiders.

Larsen stated, "The tournament was fun for all who participated and seemed to greatly improve some students techniques."

Welding is taught currently at the Edison campus. The classes will move to the University Ave. campus by next Sept. for the fall semester.

28 Student Aid Deadlines Are May 1

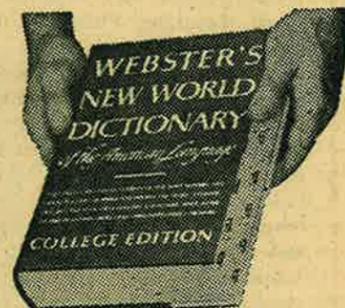

Twenty-eight scholarships to Fresno City College will be awarded to high school and returning FCC students for the 1959-60 school term.

Archie Bradshaw, the FCC scholarship committee chairman, announced May 1 as the deadline by which letters, applications, and high school transcripts must be sent to the committee. Applicants will be judged on scholarship, leadership, citizenship and financial need.

The scholarships open to seniors include $100 awards provided by the FCC Faculty Club and the Fresno Technical High School Alumni Association.

Scholarships of $50 include five provided by the Fresno Central Labor Council in honor of the late Chester Gary; two offered by the Fresno Council of Parents and Teachers, and one each given by the FCC student council, the American Business Women's Association, the North Fresno Kiwanis Club, the National Secretaries Association, and friends of Dean James M. Malloch in his honor.

Two $30 awards are offered by the Fresno Council of Jewish Women. The interclub council is offering four of $25 each.

Club Discusses Dance Plans For Tonight

An adoption of a new constitution, and final plans for the dance, "Noche De Fiesta" will be discussed by members of the Latin-American club at noon tomorrow.

Ernest Martinez, club president, said all members are urged to help decorate at 3 PM today and again tomorrow for the dance.

Campus Christian Fellowship "Sin" was the topic under debate by members of CCF at the Monday meeting in Ad-113.

The discussion headed by club president Jim McDandel will resume on the same topic at the Apr. 27 meeting.

"All Fresno City College students," said Barbara Hochderffer, secretary of the group, "are welcome to the weekly meetings if they are interested."

Rampage

The staff of the Fresno City College newspaper, the Rampage, has selected the Motel Fresno as the site for their annual journalism banquet.

Dr. Theodore Kruglaty, instructor of journalism, and replacing journalism instructor John Duke, while he is on his sabbatical leave will speak on "Foreign Correspondence" at the May 28 affair.

Coed Wins Title Of Miss Future Business Executive

Patricia Ann Ryan, a Fresno City College freshman from Merced, captured the title of Miss Future Business Executive of California in Sacramento Saturday.

Miss Ryan was chosen during the annual state convention of the Future Business Leaders of America. She will compete along with David Baker of Fullerton Junior College, winner of the state Mr. Future Business Executive Leader, for the national title in Washington, D.C., June 14-16.

Kenneth M. McCullough, a FCC sophomore from Madera, placed third in the contest for a state male finalist. Glorie Rawcliffe, FCC student, won a first place trophy in the vocabulary contest for college students at the convention. The FCC Phi Beta Lambda chapter of the FBLA took first place honors in the club membership contest, having 45 members in the chapter for the current school year.

Representing the FCC chapter at Sacramento were Miss Ryan, McCullough, Rawcliffe, Patsy Cox, Roberta Calhoun, Carolyn Steffen and two advisers, Mrs. Wilma Weston and Gervase Eckenrod.

Freshman Class Will Sponsor Noon Dance

Charles Young, freshman class president, announced that the freshman class will charge five cents admission to the noon dance Wednesday.

The admission fee will be split between Ray Comacho's band, which will provide the music, and the freshman class treasury.

Foot Notes

By RUSS FOOTE
SPORTS EDITOR

At the bottom and to the right of this column is an advertisement for a fan club. There's nothing unusual about a person organizing a fan club. There's probably nothing very odd about a person organizing a fan club for a clod. But there's something mighty peculiar about a clod organizing a fan club for himself.

Doug Knight is just such a clod.

When I found out that someone had had the conceit to buy such an ad on my sports page, I had to find out who this character was. So I went to his house in the Fig Garden for an interview.

Knight is a rich playboy. He lives in a nice house simply furnished with full length mirrors and enlarged pictures of himself on the walls, ceilings and floors.

Knight Is A Clod

We sat down and he offered me some baby pictures of himself. The interview went well, although he was a bit peeved because he couldn't buy the entire Rampage for ads about himself. In the background a small vocal group was chanting "An Ode To Doug Knight."

Perhaps you have had the misfortune to be in the same class with Knight one time or another. He's the guy who never answers the roll call the first time so he can hear his name called again.

Knight has always been a complete flop at sports, and this is the only way he figured he could ever get his name on the sports page. He was so lousy in high school he got cut from 19 varsity sports in one year. When Fresno High guys went to burn an "F" on Roosevelt's lawn before a big game, Knight went to burn his own initials.

Good Luck

All along Van Ness Ave. Knight has bought billboards for the sole purpose of putting his name in big, black letters. He has already rented advertisement space on several city busses. He even offered to pay the manager of a local movie theatre to put his name (Knight) on the marquee of the theatre.

Don't join this fan club! Because you'll just be wasting your money; because you'll be supporting a psycho case; but mainly because I want you to join my fan club. Just slip a crisp five dollar bill into . . .

Rams Meet Pirates In Two Saturday

By DAVE HANNA

The Fresno City College Rams will return to Central California Junior College Athletic Association league action Saturday when they will host the Porterville College Pirates in a doubleheader. Game time is 12:30 PM at John Eules park.

The Rams, meanwhile, stretched their phenomenal seasonal record to 20-1 with a win over the Visalia Redlegs of the Class C California league, a pair of wins over the Fresno State Frosh and a win over the Sanford Jayvees.

The Rams combined a five and two thirds one hit pitching performance by Les Lusk and the wildness of the Redlegs hurlers to score a 10-8 win over Visalia. Two Visalia pitchers held the Rams to five hits but gave up 16 walks. The Rams bunched their scoring, posting four runs each in the third and fifth innings.

Darrell Woofter hurled seven hit ball in the opener and added a pair of singles as the Rams coasted to a 9-3 win. Third baseman Jack Goodwin backed up Woofter with three singles.

The Rams traveled Monday to Palo Alto and came home with a 3-1 win over the Stanford Jayvees. Tillotson and Lusk shared pitching chores for the Rams. Tillotson went the first six innings to garner the win. He gave up seven hits, walked four, and fanned 11. Lusk hurled the final three frames, giving up one hit, walking two, and striking out two.

Havenhill, Polley Top Five League Records

By LARRY ADAMS

Chuck Polley, leading Ram point getter for the swimming team, led the FCC splashers to second place in the Central California Junior College Association meet last week. The league meet was held in Visalia at the College of the Sequoias swimming pool.

Polley, who has won his three events in all but one meet this year, repeated his wins and set three new league marks in doing so. He captured firsts in the 100, 220 and 440 yard freestyle races.

Roy Havenhill, running Polley a close second, garnered two first places and was one leg of the winning 400 medley relay team. He also set records in his individual wins.

College of the Sequoias won the three way league meet by amassing 123 points. Fresno placed second with 55, with Reedley getting 48. Ten league marks fell in the meet, with Fresno setting five of them.

The results:
