Bradshaw Writes Chapter In Text

Archie Bradshaw, the dean of students who teaches a night class in business law, is one of the co-authors of a new textbook, "College Business Law," which has just been published by the Pitman Publishing Corporation.

The book was written by a committee of business law instructors from all over the United States. Bradshaw wrote chapter 8, "Contracts of Guaranty and Suretyship."

Bradshaw, a graduate of the School of Law at the University of Southern California, was a judge advocate while in the army and has practiced law.

Bradshaw has taught business law at FCC since 1948.

Bradshaw is now writing a general book on law for the layman.

It will be designed for the public and for classes in law.

Bradshaw anticipates completing the book in about a year. He has a contract with Prentice-Hall Corporation to write the book and has completed five chapters.

Bradshaw has also written or contributed to three other books. He is the author of "Orientations and Group Guidance," published by the Heeme Press in 1959. The book is used in psychology 2 classes at FCC.

"Leadership, Command and Morale," written in 1938 for leadership classes in the United States Army can be found in the reference room of the library.

Bradshaw also contributed to "Student Personnel in College," published by McGraw Hill Company. He wrote the section on community organizations in guidance programs.

Other Californians in the list of co-authors of "College Business Law" include Charles H. Diehr, Oceanside-Carlsbad College; Louis J. Fischl, Jr., San Jose State College; Dr. William H. Hippaka, San Diego State College; Richard D. Jones, Whittier College; John M. Soares, Santa Rosa Junior College; Calvin A. Strother, Calif. State Polytechnic College, and William J. Thacker, Santa Monica City College.

FSC Hosts Journalists

Students from the FCC year-book staff and the Rampage will attend the conference of the Journalism Association of Junior Colleges, Northern Section, Saturday at Fresno State College.

Competitions will be held in the field of news writing, sports writing, editorial writing. A photography contest which was done through the mail will be judged by Charles Dowell, journalism-photography instructor at FSC, formerly chief photographer for KFRE-TV.

The newswriting contest will

Talent Show Applications Due Friday

All applications for the club talent show must be submitted to Miss Doris Deakins, dean of women, by tomorrow afternoon.

The talent show, which will be held Thursday Nov. 10, has been approved by the assembly committee.

All school clubs are urged to participate in the talent review. The club with the winning act will be awarded $25.

No limitations have been set on the type of acts that may be presented by a club. The club may use talented people who are not club members providing they are present FCC students.

Miss Deakins said, "The club's act must be approved by its faculty sponsor before submission to the assembly committee."

Professional entertainers will be brought in to judge the talent show.

Only one rehearsal has been set for 7:30 PM, Nov. 9, in the school auditorium.

Clubs wishing to enter the talent show may obtain application blanks from the dean of women's office, Administration Building 128; complete with the club's name, type of talent, names of persons involved and the faculty sponsor's signature.

ARCHIE BRADSHAW

Confab Held At Yosemite

Yosemite National Park was the site of the annual fall conference of the California Junior College Association this week.

Representing FCC at the conference were Stuart M. White, the president; John S. Hansen, the vice-president; Dr. Edwin C. Kratt, superintendent of the Fresno City Schools, and Erwin A. Dann, an assistant superintendent.

White, the association president, said important educational problems and a Master Plan for Higher Education in California were the main topics considered.

Among other things, the delegates voted in a new proposal concerning athletic zoning which will go into effect in July.

Spooks, Goblins Expected To Show

Tomorrow night the spooks, goblins and witches will come out of hiding to celebrate Halloween.

The occasion is the Halloween dance, sponsored by the FCC International Club from 9 PM to midnight in the social hall of the Student Center building.

Cast For Fall Production Is Now Complete

The cast for the fall play "Charley's Aunt" has been completed. Clyde Sumpter, the director of the play, announced that William Workman will portray Jack. Workman is a marketing major.

Business manager for Charley's Aunt is Beverly Phelps. Mrs. Phelps participated in both production last year, "Bus Stop" and "Antigone."

The stage manager is Richard Esajian. He was manager of "Bus Stop" and worked on the spring play, "Antigone."

Costume mistress is Melba Skiles, a newcomer to the drama group. Desi Woods is in charge of properties. Miss Woods worked on "Bus Stop" and "Antigone."

Ben Tayan is head of the stage crew and Ronald Scott is in charge of the painting crew.

Sumpter said rehearsals this week concerned the blocking of Act I.

Sumpter explained, "The blocking of a play is the plotting movement and action of the actors on the stage. Inasmuch as this play is a comedy of action as opposed to a comedy of dialogue, the blocking is very important."

"The club wants everyone to come masked and in a costume," said Fred Bayati, the club president.

Two movie theater student discount cards will be given as the prizes for the best dressed costumes.

The walls of the social hall will be lined with masks.

The admission is free to student body card holders. Abdulaziz Issa, chairman of the planning committee, said each student may invite one guest.

Helping Issa with planning are JoAnn Lackie and Sue Sanders.

Music will be provided by Jack Rustigan and his band. Entertainment will be given by the International Club members during the intermission.

William Reynolds, sponsor of the club, said the members of the club — mostly from foreign countries — are very excited about presenting the dance to the students and by not charging admission they hope there will be a large outcome.

Fellowship Hears Dr. Just's Talk

Dr. Roy Just, FCC instructor of sociology and philosophy, spoke on "This Crisis Hour and the Christian Teacher" at a meeting of the National Educators Fellowship.

The meeting was held Saturday in Parlier at the Mendocino Elementary School. A banquet dinner followed.

New Statistics Show 700 On Probation

George C. Holstein, dean of admissions and records, presented the new statistics on student probation rise and drop.

For the 1959-60 period, fall semester, the total number of probationers reached 532. This represented 32 per cent of the full time enrollment.

Second semester of the same year 213 dropped from the probation list. This equaled 20 per cent of the full time students. Those students removed from the probation list at the end of the second semester were .01 per cent.

Students disqualified at the end of the second semester totaled 195. This was 1 per cent of the enrollment.

For the 1960-61 fall semester, 700 entering students were placed on probation. This is 6 per cent of the enrollment.

To be placed on probation a student's record must show a cumulative deficiency of eight or more grade points below a C average or 2.0 grade point average.

Students remain on probation until they attain a C or a 2.0 grade average.

Holstein said restrictions of unit amount shall be placed on those on probation. The amount shall be no more than 13½ units per student. To exceed this amount a student must petition the admissions office.

Disqualification shall be based on the fact that the student increases his grade points by seven or more.

Students disqualified will be informed by mail. If so dropped he will not be readmitted until a lapse of one semester or an immediate petition of the admissions office.

AWS-AMS Need More Student Participation

Associated Women Students President, Jackie Riley, and Associated Men Students President, Clark Bridgeman, ask the help of all men and women students of FCC. The two clubs are making preparations for their annual "Christmas Formal" which will be held in December. To make this dance a great success it is necessary for the two clubs to have more active members. An active member is a student that comes to the meetings regularly, and there are only approximately 15 active members in both clubs.

There is a lot of work to be done in organizing this dance, therefore the two presidents and the active members are encouraging all FCC students to attend the meetings. It is not all work; it is also fun. You are able to meet and get to know other students which is important in college education. Every male and female student is automatically a member of AMS and AWS. Plan to become active members by participating in the club meetings.

Basic Art Students View Various Paint Splotches

By ROBERTA SILVA

Everything from soup to nuts is drawn, painted, silk screened or sculptured in the various art classes that are found in the halls of FCC.

Paint splotches are viewed in the dreams of various art structure students. In this basic of basic art courses, Curtis D. Draper expounds to his students on the methods of paint mixture and use of color combinations.

Lectures From Land of Cacoons

From the land of cacoons and silk worms, William McLelland derives his material for lecture on silk screening for his print making classes. At present reindeer and jolly Santa Clauses are being exchanged for silk worms to utilize the Christmas theme for greeting cards.

Delectible commercials must pass through the minds of commercial art sign-ups. At the present time these people must learn the use of different materials before they work with them effectively.

Must Be Compositional

To compose, artists must learn to be compositional, so the study of advanced composition is slated for the ensuing days of the drawing and painting classes. Cones, cubicles, trees and shrubs will land in the desert or be found thrashing in the middle of a gray sea.

Did you ever study a drape? If not ask one of the free hand drawing students on his findings of the different valleys and lines created in the fold of a drape.

Pinched any pots lately? Ceramic classes are making pinch pots now. "It is a simple form of pottery," states Draper, "students pinch the clay to conceive the different forms."

Pinch pots, reindeer, cacoons, paint splotches all strain through the values of contemporary student artists in FCC's variegated moods.

The art classrooms were remodelled during the past summer along with many other facilities in the east wing of the administration building. All this is a part of the expansion and improvement plans FCC has for students of future years.

Snap, Crack, Pop-Mid-Terms Near

"The shot that was heard around the campus."

In actuality the shot is a snap, crack and pop. The snap is the turn of a radio knob by a heavy hand, the crackle is the opening of that thick, thick, history book. The pop is the ultimate idea of how to get out of that up and coming mid-term exam.

Scanning those history, short-hand, or geometry books, masters of these fields are reaching for that certain brain twister that will cause their subordinates to squirm with the weight of preponderance.

From golf to English, stances and participial modifiers will be drummed in and passed out of brains in hurried manners, all for the final moment of cold sweating nerves.

But shaky nerves will not last long, for around the corner is the wonderful time of the year, holidays. But don't take a vacation before. There are only 15 more days until Veterans' Day recess and only 56 more days till Christmas and Santa Claus.

Although the mid-terms are just preludes to the students, for it will not be long until the finals come ending the first semester.

New Books Are Added To FCC Library

New books are continually being added to the FCC library each week.

Jackson C. Carty, librarian said that many of them are ready for checking out.

Some of these books are: "A Survey of Buddhism" by Bhikshui Songharashita; "Best Science Fiction Stories" by Edmund Crispin; "Drag Strip" by William Campbell Gault; "Men of Mathematics" by E. T. Bell; "Passage of Arms" by Erie Ambler; and "The Laws of Scientific Hand Reading" by William G. Benham.

Adds New Books

Last year the library added 1,142 books and 126 bound magazines, making a total of 11,142 bound magazines and books at the beginning of this year.

Carty said the library is trying to build up the weak sections through the help of the librarians and the teachers. In 1952-53 the library had five books on philosophy and it now has 123.

In 1959-60 the library received 112 books as gifts. Economics and speech instructor Stanley M. Bennett has donated over 150 books to the library over the past three years.

Report On Foreign Student

Persian Student At FCC Majors In Engineering

By BILL BARNETT

Feridoon Kermanshahi (Fred) Bayati, a foreign student, is a 19 year old sophomore who is majoring in electronics engineering at FCC.

Bayati has been in the United States for two years. During these two years he has gone to George Washington University in Washington, D.C. for one semester and has gone to FCC for a year and half.

Bayati is active at FCC. He is president of the International Club.

He stated he came to FCC through the help of Governor Brown's secretary whom he met in the Moslem Mosque in Washington, D.C. and she helped to direct him to admission at FCC.

Bayati came to the United States through the embassy in Persia and is very happy to live in the United States for it is a new and different life than his native country.

Lives With American Family

At present he is living with an American family while going to school and he stated he likes them very much because they help him and give him the parental guidance of an American boy.

He added that he is very enthusiastic with the American way of life but in conjunction with his native country, he felt it was more of an advantage in his country as far as purchasing power with money.

He also stated that he has traveled widely since living in the United States, but of all his travels he liked California the best with Fresno and San Francisco his favorite cities.

Tells of Persian Education

He also commented on the education system in Persia and how different it was from the United States system. In grammar school he said there is more stress on the sciences than in the United States. Discussing it briefly, he stated that each student takes a total of 21 subjects per semester, and in these subjects the student studies primarily basic chemistry, math, and physics. This system prevails in the grammar schools and as the student gets into the secondary schools he continues with the same subjects but in a broader phase.

Bayati stated that the student is allowed to fail two courses of the 21 subjects but if more than two are failed the student must repeat all 21 subjects over again until a suitable grade is reached. Upon graduation, he stated that the student has a broad background in the scientific field.

In the schools that he attended he stated that these were run by the American government but were recently sold to the Persian government.

Persian Government Different

In the field of government the Persian government is much different, he added, for Persia has a king as the head of the government in which he agreed that was appropriate for the condition of his country. However he felt a president was good for the United States.

While going to college he is being supported by his parents and upon graduation from FCC he plans on going to UC at Berkeley.

After graduation from Berkeley he plans on working in the United States for a year and then he plans on returning to Persia to work for his government.

In conclusion he stated that he liked the United States very much and upon returning home he said that he would like to make frequent visits back to the United States.

FCC Business Instructors Go To FSC Conference

"Automation In the Office — Present and Future" was the theme of the California Business Education Association conference held last Saturday at Fresno State College.

Attending from FCC were Ger-vase Eckenrod, Mrs. Mary Miller, William Billeter, John Fenn, Miss Francis Svlich, Lawrence Martin, Mrs. Eloise Hansen, Miss Nancy Webster, Paul Soderstrom, Mrs. Edna Hartley, Jack Hill, Gilbert Peart, Mrs. Leneve Leathem, Miss Sylvia Jaskari, and Mrs. Margaret Taylor.

These teachers are business instructors.

Club News

Book Drive Continues Until Nov. 4

By JULIANNA RASMUSSEN

The International Club Book drive, which began Monday, will continue until Nov. 4.

All books that are in good condition and on a university, college and secondary level published before 1945 are needed. Novels by standard authors are also needed.

These books are being collected for Asian students. This drive is part of The Asia Foundation's program for supplying Asiatic Countries with books.

William Reynolds, International Club sponsor, said boxes have been placed in the foyer of the Administration Building and in the student center for the collection of these books.

Delta Psi Omega

Delta Psi Omega and the Players Club are constructing the scenery for the Emblem Club's annual charity variety show to be presented at the Rainbow Ballroom Nov. 4 and 5. The Delta Psi Omega is doing this as a community service.

AMS-AWS

Students who would like to help in planning the Christmas Formal are invited to attend the joint AWS-AMS meeting today at 11 AM in Bungalow 8.

T & I

An Autorama Show will be presented by the Technical and Industrial Arts Club on Wednesday, Nov. 2, from 9 AM to 3:30 PM.

The club will present various types of cars, new 1961 model cars, custom cars, rods, motorcycles, go carts, foreign cars and sports cars.

T and I membership booth will be on hand for all people eligible for membership. A student is eligible for membership if he is enrolled in technical and industrial arts classes.

Forensics Club

Charles Overs, Forensics Club president, defines the club's purpose as, "the encouraging of public speaking." He went on to say, "during the meetings, members practice by participating in the art of debate."

Jack D. Vance, Inter-Club Council representative, stated, "the club has not quite decided whom it will sponsor for the talent show, but it is quite sure Overs will present an oration on "The Rights and Duties of All American Citizens."

An organizational meeting and planning meeting will be held Nov. 1 in Bungalow 8.

Choir Sings 65 Seats Available At Dinner On FCC Rooters Bus

A new vocal ensemble of the Fresno City College made one of its first appearances last Tuesday night at the annual dinner of the California Junior College Association in the Yosemite National Park's Ahwahnee Hotel.

The ensemble and the entire choir of 55 voices also will sing for the Shrine luncheon tomorrow in the Californian Hotel.

Soloists with the group include Shirley Kumano, Margaret Reta and Richard Nunes.

C. Lowell Spencer, director, said the program will open with "Good Day" and close with "It's A Great Day." Other numbers on the program include "Memories Are Made of This," "Autumn Leaves" and "No Man Is an Island."

The women made their costumes which are black dresses trimmed in white. The men wore red jackets and dark slacks.

Several other appearances are planned for November and December.

ing becomes one of the more difficult parts of rehearsals."

Sumpter said there is a great need for seamstresses to help with the nine "1890" dresses that have to be made. Anyone who is interested and would like to help to make this play a success can sign up in Rm. 154 of the administration building.

Sixty-five seats are available on busses going to the Reedley-Fresno City College game Friday night in Reedley.

"To reserve a seat on the bus, students must pay 50 cents which will not be refunded," said Bill Giese, rally commissioner.

The tickets are now being sold in the Student Center foyer by the rally committee; and the first students to come will be the first served.

The rooters' busses will leave from in front of the Administration Building at 6 PM this Saturday and will return back to the campus after the game.

Giese added that there will be a pep rally tomorrow in front of the Student Center building at noon.

Kelly, Reetz Will Speak

Robert M. Kelly, dean of FCC evening division, and Maurice G. Reetz, the director of the Fresno adult school, will speak at the annual convention of the Associated Adult Education Administrators in Pasadena Wednesday through Friday.

Kelly will speak on "Evaluating the Educational Objectives of Adults in the Junior College Evening Program." This talk will be delivered during a panel discussion on "Raising Standards of Education in Junior Colleges."

Reetz will report on school finance measures proposed for the 1961 state legislature.

Blind Students Get Readers

Reading to the blind is the main project for the Fresno Council of Jewish Women. The local branch of the international organization has different social functions for which the proceeds go for the blind. The present money is going for automatic braille writers.

The Jewish women read voluntarily to the blind but the state pays $1 an hour to the readers who are chosen by the blind students themselves. The paid readers read outside assignments and help the student study for tests and go with the student to the instructors office to take the tests orally.

The blind students attend regular classes.

Anyone legally blind may qualify for this service. Having 20/200 vision in both eyes with correction is considered legally blind.

If anyone is interested in reading for these blind students they may contact Miss Doris Deakins, Dean of Women, or Mrs. Marjorie Cahn in the library.

X-Ray Service Is Available

X-ray facilities were made available during registration for all students enrolled here. Services for taking x-rays are available at the Fresno Health Department for those who couldn't get their x-rays taken at the time of registration.

Mrs. Nora Simpson, FCC nurse, stated that everyone should bring his card to the health center to be recorded on his health record.

Schools See Film Telling CC History

Civic groups and junior and senior high schools are invited by Archie Bradshaw, the dean of students, to view a program telling the story of Fresno City College.

The program which is 45 minutes in length includes a 20 minute picture story on colored slides, "The Story of Fresno City College," and an informal discussion by an administrator or counselor on the place of the junior college in the state's system of publicly supported higher education.

"The program has been presented to civic groups and senior high schools in the past, but this is the first time it is being given to junior high schools," said Bradshaw.

The picture presentation was produced from pictures taken by Keith Emmert, a counselor, and is narrated on tape by John S. Hansen, the vice-president.

Ninth grade social studies classes which have vocational planning units will have the program presented to them. Emmert, who is making many of the presentations, said this is the grade where students should decide whether or not they should go to college in order that they can prepare in high school.

The program will also be given to many high schools during the spring semester. Each spring the FCC administrators and counselors meet with more than 3,000 seniors in 21 Central San Joaquin Valley high schools to help them with their plans for going to college.

Rams Team Effort Dumps Falcons

FCC Spirit Socks Coalinga 30-12

The Fresno City College Rams are once again back on the victory road, after a smashing win over the Coalinga College Falcons in Coalinga Saturday, by a one-sided score of 30-12.

The Rams jumped to an early seven point lead in the second quarter on a thrilling exhibition of hard running attacks on the part of the FCC backfield.

Glen Schmidt, a back that has seen limited action this season, put up the ground work that enabled the Rams to move to the Coalinga three yard line. Fullback George Ward plunged over for the FCC tally. Mike Martin provided the extra point by splitting the up-rights with his kick.

Second TD

After a grueling battle by the pigskin gladiators, FCC once again moved the ball deep into the Coalinga territory, and on a six yard run by Ram halfback, Ed Aubuchan, scored their second touchdown. Mike Martin again provided the extra point on a kick.

Mid-way in the second quarter, it appeared that the game was sliding to the side of a complete rout by the Rams, but Coalinga was having none of this type of football and romped 72 yards in nine plays, behind the hard running of halfback, Greg Baines, for the first Falcon score. The Falcons failed in their pass attempt for the extra point.

Falcons Threaten

Coalinga threatened again, with only two minutes left to play in the first half, but the stubborn Ram defense held the Falcons four times on the FCC four yard line. This powerful defensive work was credited to the fine hard hitting of Ram linemen, Eddie Gomes, Cliff Beagle, Jerry Prine, and Jerry Gaynor. Gaynor was clearly the most outstanding defensive lineman that the Rams threw up against the Coalinga eleven.

The Rams scored two more touchdowns in the second half, and added two points to each by running the extra points.

Steve Hopper, Ram end, intercepted a Coalinga pass on his own 31 yard line and ran the ball back through the would-be Falcon tacklers to the Coalinga five yard line, where he was brought down from behind by Baines of the Falcons. This long run was one of the factors that enabled the Rams to pile up thirty points.

The score by quarters:

FCC	0	14	8	8
Coalinga	0	6	6	0

Determined Ram Eleven To Face Improved Tigers

The Fresno City College Rams and the Reedley College Tigers will battle for second place in the Central California Junior College league standings Saturday night in Reedley.

At the present time the Tigers hold the Ram's hopes of capturing the league title, for if the Rams are beaten, they will be out of the picture and out of the race.

This game is also a must for the Tigers. Currently both teams possess 2-1 league records and trail Allen Hancock that leads with a 3-0 record.

The starting line-up for the Rams has been changed by Coach Clare Slaughter and his staff due

FCC Harriers Battle Reedley

The Fresno City College Ram cross country team will be out to get their fourth consecutive win of the season when they meet Reedley College here tomorrow.

City College edged Monterey Peninsula 31 to 33 to win a five team cross country meet held in Salinas last Saturday. Hartnell finished third with 75 points, Coalinga College was fourth with 116 points and Vallejo Junior College finished fifth with 132 points.

Jose Azevedo of Monterey finished first, covering the three mile course in 15:21.

Second, through fifth places went to Fresno City College runners; De Wayne Peterson, Fernie Montanez, Jim Barnes, and Jarvis Crocker, in that order.

RAMS GO TO SACRAMENTO

Water polo coach, Mickey Shelley will take his water polo team to Sacramento tomorrow to meet the Arden Hills Swim Club and Sacramento City College Saturday.

Coach Shelley's swimmers will be out to better their present two win and five loss record. After dropping their first three games they bounced back with two quick wins.

Last week they were set back by Stockton College and Sacramento CC by the score of 13-7 and 18-9, respectively.

Coach Shelley did give credit to the outstanding efforts of Mike Osborne, Mike Satterburg, and goalie Chris Heil.

"All the fellows did a good job in last week's games," said Shelley. He continued and said, "with the continued good effort of the fellows we will have a good season."

This is the first year Shelley has been at FCC.

The Inside Out

By RICHARD KRIKAVA

The Ram football team won't be beaten if they continue to play with the hungry, mean attitude they played with in last weekend's contest with Coalinga. Coach Clare Slaughter played his entire bench against the Falcons except for halfback Clark Bridgman who is still suffering from injuries.

The second and third team lines played tough while they were in action. And at one time the FCC line held the Falcons on the FCC five yard line for a series of four downs, keeping them from scoring. With a team effort like this, the Ram team could finish the season without another loss.

Volleyball Players Needed

Unless more interest in shown in the intramural volleyball tournament, the program will have to be called off.

According to Hans Wiedenhofer, men's physical education instructor, only six students showed up at the first meeting, which is enough for one team.

Unless enough students for eight teams sign up by the deadline, Nov. 1, the program will be abandoned.

If enough people want to participate, teams will be formed of three men and three women. The tournament will be single elimination with a consolation bracket.

Each team will play twice, the four winners of the first round competing against each other while the four losing teams will battle for the consolation title.
