Polls To Open Tomorrow For Frosh-Soph Elections

Booths for the election of freshman and sophomore class officers will be set up tomorrow in the main foyer of the student center, in the front hall of the Administration Building and in front of the library.

Carol Cloves, commissioner of elections, announced that 15 candidates have filed for offices in the freshman division, while only three have registered as candidates from the sophomore class.

Miss Cloves said that the candidates for president of the freshman class are Robert Armer, Daniel Cuning, James Elia, Albert Fox and Dixie Sinkovits. Candidates for the office of vice-president are Harold Comstock, Arthur Philpot and Elizabeth Ross.

Barbara Ehrenburg and Jeanette Clare have announced their candidacy for the office of freshman treasurer, while Carol Borham is the lone candidate for secretary.

Only three candidates have filed for election to the offices in the sophomore division. Terry Eogman is running unopposed for president, while Gene Musso and Barbara Didier are seeking posts as vice-president and secretary, respectively.

Miss Cloves said that the voting booths will open at 8 AM tomorrow, and students may cast their ballots any time during the day. The polls will close at 3 PM.

"The results will be posted Monday," said Miss Cloves, "and we urge everyone to turn out to support their class. It's important to know who your class leaders are, and elections serve that purpose," she concluded.

Controversial Speaker Slated For Noon Today

"I understand you spend more money on cosmetics than on education. Which is more important—your armpit or your brain?"

This is the opening statement of Dr. Gyorgi Nyetski, a visiting Russian cultural delegate, who will address the student body on "Democracy, U.S. Version, Versus Communism" at noon today in the auditorium.

Nyetski, who speaks English with a heavy Russian accent, "wowed the 1,800 students who chose to attend the voluntary session from a student body of 3,900," stated Dr. Gerald Smith, head of the committee which hires lecturers for Sacramento College.

Teachers Furious

Two faculty members, who heard the lecturer's opening with rising anger, stalked out of the room, according to Smith.

The auditorium doors will close promptly at noon, and no one will be admitted late to hear Nyetski, who is reported to "unashamedly and enthusiastically" praise his system and insult democracy, the American republic, and capitalism.

"Everyone should hear this fiery Russian speak," commented Dorothy Feldmann, commissioner of assemblies. "His talk will be educational, interesting, and of benefit to all who attend."

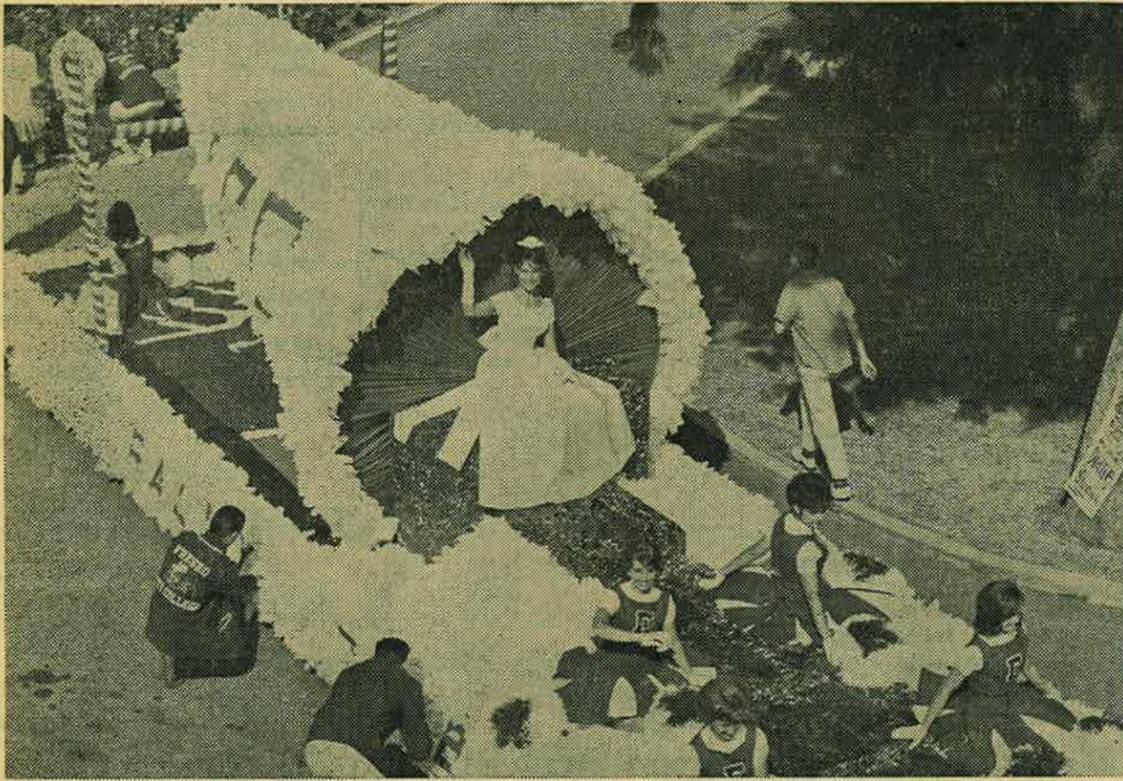

Topics touched on by the "railing Russian" include the United Nations, Soviet science, Castro and Cuba, and current events.

Versatile Orator

Nyetski has also spoken on reaction in Russia, downtown Moscow, Red racial equality, exploring the North Pole, the Soviet space program and American and Russian cultures.

The most recent appearances of the Russian orator include talks for the Burbank Kiwanis Club, the California Association of Public School Business Officials at the University of Southern California, the Delano Chamber of Commerce, and the California Association of Secondary School Administrators.

Afternoon Football Game Tops Homecoming Schedule

The Fresno City College Homecoming football game is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, Oct. 26, at 2 PM in McLane Stadium.

This game, which will be the first FCC homecoming game to be held in the afternoon, will be against American River Junior College.

"Prior to the game many activities and ideas will be promoted to liven up the spirits of all the FCC students," said Kathy Murphy, student body vice-president.

Urges Competition

Clubs and organizations on campus were urged to prepare booths and floats from which they might campaign for their respective candidates.

The queen candidates will be officially introduced to the student body on Thursday, in a general assembly at noon. They will then meet the alumni at a luncheon in the committee room of the student center at 1 PM.

Friday will be the biggest day of the homecoming week. The agenda includes the queen elections, a parade and a dance.

Polls Open Early

The elections will be held from 8 AM to 2 PM; the parade at noon on the FCC campus and the dance will be held in the Social Hall at 8 PM.

Miss Murphy said, "the theme of this year's homecoming activities is 'Harvest Homecoming' and all clubs and organizations should try to maintain this theme in their booths and floatmaking."

Dorothy Feldmann is in charge of the assembly; Diane Goodwin, the alumni luncheon; Carol Cloves, the queen election procedures; Irving Lee, the parade and Susan Reid, publicity. Phi Beta Lambda is sponsoring the dance and Bill Mazzeo will preside over the half-time activities.

Evening Enrollment Climbs To New High

Evening session enrollment is up eight per cent over last year, according to Robert M. Kelly, Dean of the Evening Division.

Tentative figures show that 2600 students are registered in night division work. Class enrollment boasts a high of 3703 students. The average student load is 4½ units.

Of the 143 classes, 22 are offered in business, 57 in letters, arts and sciences, and 64 are in the technical and industrial field.

In order to meet the increasing demands, the evening division teaching staff has been increased to 131. Of these, 60 are employed in both day and night classes, 65 teach full time in the evening division and the remainder is made up of local professionals and tradesmen holding teaching credentials.

Approximately 300 of the students are enrolled in both day and evening classes.

Kelly pointed out that evening enrollment has been steadily increasing from four to eight per cent over the past years.

He stressed the fact that while the day and evening divisions are split, the college is considered as one and maintains the same academic standards on both levels.

Scholarships Go To 116 Students

Fresno City College awarded 116 scholarships to students this semester, more than three times the number offered three semesters ago, announced Mrs. Betty Anderson, financial secretary.

Most of these scholarships are $25 per semester, however, many range up to $125. They are based on the applicant's character, financial need, scholastic record, and promise of future success.

Students who receive awards on the basis of two semesters are required to maintain above average grades in the first semester in order to receive second semester awards.

The scholarships are open to students who either apply directly to the college or are restricted in that the student applies to the donors in care of the college.

The college also administers a $2000 scholarship fund from the American-Samoan government to two students who attend FCC.

"The increase in scholarships means more work for me," said Mrs. Anderson, "but it is worth it to know that these students will have the opportunity for more education."

Rampage To Get 'New Look'

Rampage Editor-in-Chief Tom Walls announced this week that plans are under way for a "revitalization" of the appearance of the campus weekly.

Walls said that a new type font will be used to provide more contrast in headlines, and a new emblem is on the drawing board for the front page.

"The new type face, called Eden, will be used to break the monotony of our present appearance," he said. "Starting next week the Rampage will resemble the New York Times—we hope!"

Letter To The Editor

Editor:
Kudos are in order for your triumphantly terse editorial concerning Fresno City College's free-loaders.

Today's FCC free-loader is tough—straight out of a Marlboro ad. He is the sort of fellow who is physically strong enough to push the caps of soft-drink bottles with his thumb, but is not intellectually strong enough "to explode a few brain cells" in the classroom.

He is the fellow who knows the lineup of every baseball team in the American and National Leagues—and does not know half the words in the FCC Alma Mater.

Yet behind the free-loader's attending FCC lies a very practical motive: he prefers an education to drills and forced marches, and college dormitories to army barracks. He fails to understand that one of the purposes of FCC—or any institution of higher learning—is the production of persons who are both more civilized and more civilizing.

Of the 4.5 million people in college right now, I wonder how many are free-loaders.

Campus Glances

Homecoming Is Coming

By DAVID PACHECO, Feature Editor

Ramland's major social event of the year takes over the campus next week. A parade, a queen, a coronation, a football game and a dance will highlight the Fresno City College homecoming activities—1963 style. During this week homecoming preparations are in full swing as the various clubs choose a homecoming queen candidate and make final plans. Let's support these clubs and make this year's Homecoming bigger and better than ever!

Rams are still rejoicing this week over the triumph turned in by Coach Slaughter's eleven over the Cabrillo College Seahawks this week. Approximately 1,800 fans witnessed the Rams' first victory as they combined a smashing defense and flashes of offensive punch to win. The Rams ramble into Modesto this Saturday night to open Valley Conference action against the Modesto Junior College Pirates. Plan to attend—the Rams just might steal the show!

At this time I would like to say a special hello to you life-timers. Life-timers are students who are here for "life" or at least for more than two years—Boy do I like their sentences! Idlers, that is what they are called by hecklers, and some "lifers" agree with this label. Their position is not admirable, it is more, like, fashionable. It's not the thing to do to zip on to a four-year college, like that campus across the Blackstone strip (Egad!), receive a degree or facsimile, and plunge into "life" or "after life" and sink into oblivion. Scary isn't it? So what, disregard what others say, a third year or even a fourth, maybe even a fifth year at FCC may benefit you.

CONGRATULATIONS . . .

Those Yankees must be commended for performing a service to athletics in general and the baseball world in particular for rolling over and playing dead in four consecutive games. Guess they play for fun too (sometimes)!

But no (choke) let us not take anything (cough, cough) away from the Bums (gasp), oops, LA Dodgers to you, but laughter. HA! HA!

CONFIDENTIAL . . . According to a nation-wide poll taken in colleges and universities throughout the country, college students agree that alcohol, in fused acids, imbeded, forms esters in reaction with organic acids which is lots of fun but illegal—If you're under 21.

Economizin' Woods Travels Half-Way Around The World

William Woods, a Fresno City College sophomore, had exactly $15 in his pocket when he left Fresno last February on a hitch-hiking trip.

It proved to be enough, as he returned six months later without a cent to his name, but not until after he had compiled a total of 27,000 miles travel through much of the United States, Africa, and Europe.

He hitch-hiked from Fresno to New York where he worked in a factory for a ticket to Europe.

He stated that on the boat trip there were many amusing incidents. Such as the time a yellow slip was hung atop the mast as a prank. A ship passing by the next morning radioed the ship's captain—asking if they needed medical supplies (a yellow flag denotes cholera)!

Criss-Crosses Europe

He criss-crossed the map of Europe thumbing his way through Holland into Germany, up into Denmark, back to Germany, once again to Holland and then back to Germany.

While on his travels Woods traded stories for food.

Woods did all his traveling by hitch-hiking, wearing boots and a 10 gallon cowboy hat and carrying a sign reading "American student." The hat and sign were helpful, he says, because many of the natives wanted to "take the cowboy home to show the family."

Woods' Travels

Woods' travels took him into Belgium across to France over to Spain then crossed the Strait of Gibraltar into Morocco, Algeria, and Libya.

On his return trip he took a route which led him up the Spanish and French Riviervas. He went on through to Italy, Austria, Yugoslavia, Hungary, and Greece.

Smuggled Into Berlin

According to Woods he gained

illegal entry into Germany when he climbed a 12 foot fence between the Dutch-German border. Later he was smuggled into West Berlin after hitching a ride with a truck driver.

While in Berlin Woods threw a rock at the East Berlin wall. Woods' explanations for throwing the rock were that it had been a lifetime ambition and besides he did not like it.

While in Spain Woods ran with the bulls in Pamploma for four days in a row—the fifth day he ran too, but he got trampled and he ended up in a field hospital.

Spain is his favorite country, says Woods. Why? Because it was exciting, beautiful, and friendly.

"I like France the least," he said. "The people are extremely unfriendly to Americans. They seem to hate Germans and Americans—and I'm inclined to believe they even hate other Frenchmen."

"North Africa—Morocco, Algeria, Libya, Tangiers—were the worst as far as living conditions go, and there seemed to be a complete disregard for other people's property and life."

Woods found that European students are nice, intelligent, well-informed and friendly overall. They seem to be more serious but go for American music and they consider America very rhythmic.

In his travels Woods slept in haystacks, under buildings, in fields, and sometimes when he was lucky people invited him into their homes.

Meals were anything but steady according to Woods. At one point—from Madrid to Gibraltar—his diet consisted of three apricots.

He is preparing for another journey—this one to the Far East and the Pacific in about two years.

Next time maybe he won't return penniless!

Rooter Buses Will Travel To Modesto

A rooter bus will travel to the Modesto football game this Saturday night.

"In order to ride the bus, students are requested to sign up with the Rally Club members stationed in the foyer of the Student Center, Monday through Thursday," said Bill Mazzeo, Rally Commissioner. "There is a $1 deposit required to secure all reservations. The deposit will be refunded on the return trip from the game." This is to assure the FCC administration that those who ride the bus will return on the bus.

According to Mazzeo, there will be a rooter bus taken to all out-of-town football games this year. They will be in Sacramento on November 2, 1963 and at the College of the Sequoias on November 16, 1963.

If more students sign up to attend the Modesto game a second bus will be available.

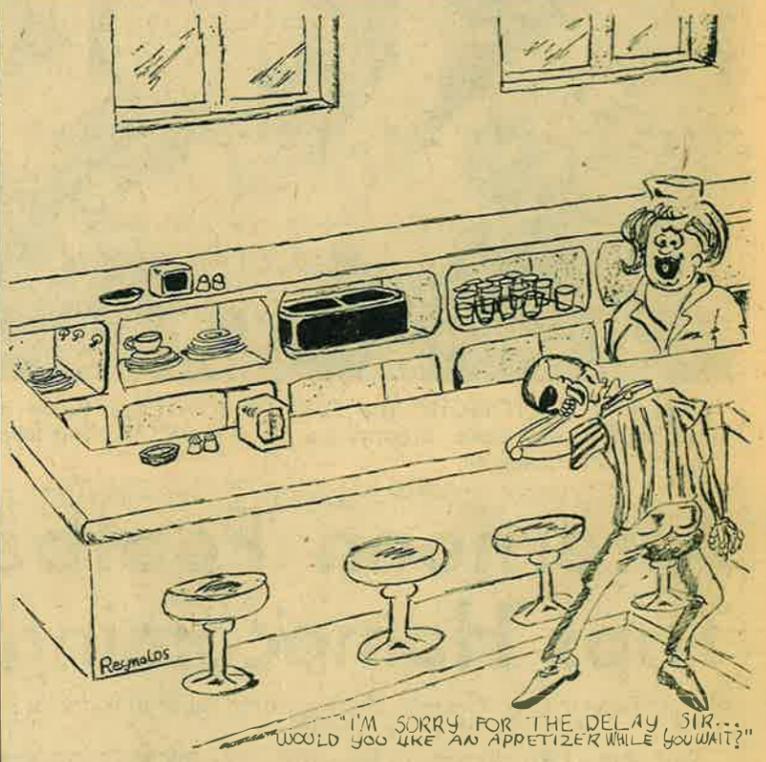

Departure times for the buses will be 5 PM and 6 PM.

Students attending the FCC-Modesto football game Saturday night must present their Student Body Card and pay 50 cents for admission," announced Mr. Starr, Dean of Men.

The Valley Conference League has ruled that this should be the case for students of the visiting teams at all out of town games of league teams.

Deadline To Drop Classes Set For Tomorrow

Archie Bradshaw, dean of students, said to secure a program change, a student must first see his counselor and explain the reasons for his dropping the class. Day students must secure approval from Bradshaw; night students from Mr. Kelly, evening division dean.

Bradshaw stated that foreign students must be taking a minimum of 12½ units to meet the requirements of their visa.

Students participating in student government or athletics must maintain at least a "C" average in a minimum of 10½ units.

If a student waits until after Friday to drop his class, he will receive a WF unless he can show just cause for dropping the class.

Bradshaw stressed that any student wanting to drop a class at any time must have a valid reason.

Kentfield

A record crowd turned out to hear Albert J. Lima, head of the Communist Party in Northern California, speak on the College of Marin campus in Kentfield Oct. 8.

Lima's speech agreed with the COM students on such topics as racial discrimination, world peace and co-existence but radically disagreed when he launched into an attack on capitalism and United States intervention in Cuba and Viet Nam.

Two FBI agents on campus during Lima's speech were on the lookout for individuals sympathetic to Lima's cause. There were no demonstrations staged during his visit.

Rams Win—Ready For VC Starter

By DON FOSTER

Ram headknockers warmed up for Modesto Junior College Valley Conference lidlifter by drowning the Sea Hawks of Cabrillo College, 18-11, Saturday for their only season victory.

Fresno City College, invading Modesto Stadium Saturday at 8 PM, were led by the broken field running of fullback Brendon Ounjian who jig-jags totaled 127 yards.

Rams, 1-3, Still Without Long

The Rams, 1-3 in the fall's won-lost column, are still minus star halfback Ken Long. But when the mountaineer from Sierra Union High School returns to full strength he may have a hard time winning back his former post.

Substitutes Dave Ruiz and Allen Longcor played like season veterans against the Hawks of Aptos (near Santa Cruz).

Ruiz Shines on Pass Receptions

Ruiz (pronounced "reece") stole the show several times Saturday, with his pass receptions, plucking one way from three defenders in a late drive period. Ruiz's three catches produced 63 yards.

Longcor in five carries gained 27 yards for a 5.4 average per run.

The only lineup change is Tom Daigle for Larry Gardner at end. The Modesto PC Pirates have won only one of four matches, the one win being 7-0 decision in the first battle in 1952.

The following two years the squad registered 12-12 and 33-7 scores. Then last year, after an eight-year layoff, the duo met in a VC contest. FCC took a 17-15 nod.

"Nothing has changed. We patched up our mistakes that lost our games with San Jose CC, Los Angeles CC, and Reedley JC," added head coach Clare Slaughter about his first victory.

Drawing praise for a good night's work were Al Morales, tackle; Harry Miller, halfback; and Ounjian for excellent defense and offense chores.

The Bucs, who have a 1-2-1 won-lost-tie record, clipped Monterey Peninsula 21-6 Saturday.

COS Top Standings

The practice game standings are: College of Sequoias, 3-1-0; American River JC, 2-1-1; Modesto, 1-2-1; San Joaquin Delta College (formerly Stockton), 1-2-1; Fresno, 1-3-0; and last year's champion Sacramento CC, 1-3-0.

The loop slate goes thusly, Fresno at Modesto, Oct. 19, 8 PM; American River at Fresno, Oct. 26 (homecoming), 2 PM; Fresno at Sacramento, Nov. 2, 2 PM; San Joaquin Delta at Fresno, Nov. 9, 8 PM; and Fresno at COS, Nov. 16, 8 PM.

Harry Miller, Fresno City College halfback-quarterback, crashed into the end zone twice in Saturday's 18-11 win over Cabrillo College to take undisputed leadership in team scoring with 18 points.

Brendon Ounjian, starting his first game at fullback, surged into top position in rushing offense with 127 yards against Cabrillo and now has 178 yards.

Dave Ruiz, substituting for injured halfback Ken Long, grabbed three passes for 63 yards to give him 73 yards for the year, and makes him the leading Ram pass snatcher.

Quarterback Roger Blehm completed five out of ten passes for 98 yards to pass the ailing Long for total offense honors.

Stockton, Modesto JC's Dunk Poloists

By DON MENCARINI

The Fresno City College water polo team, under coach Gene Stephens have begun by losing their opening two matches with Modesto, 17-6 and Stockton, 14-1.

This season should be a constructive one, according to coach Stephens. There are a lot of men who will get some experience this year and be back next year to put some of it to work winning way.

Modesto has been a powerful team for a number of years. Center forward John Winstead scored half of the Rams six points. Winstead's three points is leading the Rams in total scoring this year.

In their second meet against Stockton at the end of the first half, the score read, 6 to 1 in favor of Stockton.

Stephens commented: "The lack of reserves hurt us in the second half."

On October 25, at 3:30 PM the tankers will host Sacramento City College. The student body is welcomed to watch the finmen in action. Starting for the Rams will be: Jim Majors, goalie; John Arme, left guard; Rich McGee, right guard; John Winstead, center forward; Wayne Deaver, right forward; Corky Vandersluis, center back; and Vernon Klavon, left forward.

Other team members include Ken Miller, Paul Hart, John Coke, Cress Lundstrom, John Rohner and team manager John Samuelson.

"Corky Vandersluis, Wayne Deaver and John Winstead have been the outstanding three swimmers, so far this year. With the student body behind the team, we might see the Rams drop Sacramento City College. The team has a lot of determination and spirit," concluded Stephens.

Sporta-Rama.....

Sports—School Tradition

.. by Don Foster

S-P-O-R-T-S is a big thing at Fresno City College, it should be. There have been some well known figures in Ram athletics that have left and gone elsewhere into the world of sports.

Jim Maloney, 24 game winner for baseball's Cincinnati Reds, is the most famous.

Due to this contract and the signing of Dale Rudolph, another ace hurdler, the Rams, which were thought of as a state title contender, lost out even in their bid for league championship.

Another prominent sports figure of the FCC past is Don Kloppenburg, back coaching at the school he made famous by being the first Ram to make an All-American team.

The star center transferred to Fresno State, where he made all-coast and all-American recognition.

Football's Tom Flores, Oakland Raider quarterback; Gary Alcorn, former Los Angeles Laker cager; Gene Johnson, University of California seven-foot high jumper; and Odell Johnson, Saint Mary's all-American basketballer are some popular names that have won acclaim.

Jim Long, FSC star fullback, and Joe Lee, Saint Mary's flashy cager, are two more of the numerous former FCC athletes to give sports an important role to one of the countries oldest junior colleges.

These great sports figures of course did not exist without some of the best coaches in junior college history.

Names like Hans Wiedenhofer, Joe Kelly, and Len Bourdet, who are still coaching at FCC and have or will become legends in their respective sports.
