Radio Club Participates In PCC's 'OSO Field Day'

The Fresno City College Radio Club participated last week in the Pasadena City College 1963 spring "QSO Field Day" for school club stations.

The club sponsors are Gerald J. Fries and Chester S. Garrison.

Fries said the contest is the first such contest held here at FCC. He said the radio club started this semester and since this is its first participation in any school club event it has a pretty slim chance of winning.

The winner will be the school which has the most points in the contest.

Points are determined by the number of contacts made with other stations, for example, one point is given for each contact plus a bonus of five points for each new state worked other than the home state. In addition a bonus of 10 points will be given for each new country contacted other than the United States.

The contest lasted 18 hours from 6 AM to 12 midnight.

The school club call letters are WA6DBI.

The radio club members who participated in the contest were:

President Charles J. Wright, WA6SLS; Timothy McCabe, K6KPI; Fredrick Capshaw, WA6AFW; Donald Lockhart, WB6ECY; Leonard Walker, WA6EWQ; and Victor Helzer and Joseph Golden, both unlicensed.

The winners of the fall 1962 "QSO Field Day" was Fullerton Junior College, W6YAA/6 with a score of 1,514 points.

Pasadena City College W6BAB/6 with 953 points, was second; Los Angeles Trade Tech, W6YAS, 406, third; Oakland City College, W6YM, 201, fourth, and Long Beach State College, K6ZZQ, 100, was fifth.

All stations taking part in the contest receive certificates. Wright said that the winner won't be determined until after June 1 when school logs are evaluated.

He said that the use of the letters "QSO" on the field day represent a designation used by ham radio operators.

He also explained that a log is a requirement of the Federal Communications Commission according to the law.

A log contains the date and time of all operation. The stations called must be recorded, along with the operator and his location, the log band used and the frequency.

Also it must have the type of signal transmitted, the power out-

The Boy Friend To End Art Festival

The second annual Fresno City College Festival of Arts is rapidly drawing to a close as "The Boy Friend," FCC's first musical comedy, will be presented for the last times tonight, Friday, and Saturday in the college social hall at 8 PM.

Clyde G. Sumpter, the play's director and festival coordinator, said that tickets may be obtained for the three-act comedy.

Tickets are priced at 50 cents for FCC student body card holders and $1 for general admission tickets for the public.

Students may purchase tickets in the foyer of the student center between the hours of 10 AM and 2 PM. The campus drama club, Delta Psi Omega, is in charge of the ticket sales.

Tickets Are Available

Tickets will also be available at the door before each performance. Reservations can be made by telephoning Sumpter at AM 4-5721, extension 118.

Art students of Curtis D. Draper and Walter E. Witt will present their third annual Art-O-Rama for the last times today and tomorrow from 8 AM to 10 PM in the student center patio.

The outdoor art exhibit displays ceramic sculptures, drawings, paintings, and portraits. Many of the items on display will be for sale.

Lead Players

Diane Benbrook, Stephen Berglund, Kathryn Thomas, Anna Tookoian, and Richard Fagundes play the leads in "The Boy Friend."

"The Boy Friend" was written by Sandy Wilson as a musical satire on the 1920's. The whimsical comedy's central theme is the basic problem of every girl getting her man. The setting is the French Riviera at a girls' finishing school during carnival time.

Sumpter said the play has been a success the first two performances as the audiences have enjoyed the play. He encourages everyone to attend before its closing.

UC's Shepard To Speak At Graduation Exercises

Dr. William F. Shepard, acting director of the office of relations of the University of California, Berkeley, will speak on "Fresno, Forty Years, 1943-1983," at the June 7 commencement exercises. During the night 299 candidates will receive Associate in Arts degrees.

Student speaker Fred Faieta, student body president, will speak on "The Wasteful Years." Invocation and benediction for the exercises will be presented by the Reverend Henry Hayden, minister of the College Community Congregational Church.

Awards will be presented to Phi Theta Kappa honor students Anita Bachant and Marilyn Goodenberger. Requirements for PTK are a 3.5 total grade point average with at least 12 transfer units per semester.

Top students of the business division and the technical and industrial division are Miss Goodenberger (3.85) and Donald R. Lockhart (3.52 gpa).

The valedictorian address will be delivered by Shirley Futlock, letters, arts and science division (3.96).

David Nelson, student soloist, will sing "I Love Life" under the direction of C. Lowell Spencer, FCC choir director.

Jo Beth Jackson Chosen Leader At SC Banquet

Jo Beth Jackson, the Associated Women Students president, was presented with the Student Council Outstanding Leadership award by FCC President Stuart M. White.

The award consisted of an inscribed gavel and the placing of the winner's name on a perpetual plaque. The recipient was surprised, since the award was kept secret until the Student Council Banquet held last week. Last semester student body President Fred F. Faieta, Jr. was awarded the plaque.

The outstanding leader is the one student on the council who is considered to have done the most to complete the work that the council has planned for the semester, according to Vice President Fred K. Martin, who conducted the election for the award in Student Council.

Faieta awarded spring council members their awards. First semester students received a life membership in the Associated Student Body. The remaining students received certificates of service. All Student Council members received pins showing semesters of service on the council.

Anne Marie Bernheim, FCC's People to People chairman, and Frank Conway, western states regional People to People coordinator, were awarded honorary life membership in the Associated Student Body.

They received this honor in a vote of the Student Council. It was for their work in helping the students of FCC become more aware of international affairs, according to the student council resolution.

Martin, after being installed, installed his new cabinet.

EDITOR'S FAREWELL

Not much is ever written about The Rampage and its staff, but, as editor, I would like to congratulate the staff and instructor for the tremendous job they've done during the past year.

It has been a privilege to serve FCC as the Editor of the Rampage this past year, and I hope that Tom Walls' staff next year will treat him as well as I have been treated.

I regret to say that our instructor, Phil Smith, will be leaving FCC next year to teach in Greece. This will be a great loss to the paper, but I will feel assured with Walls at the helm.

The Rampage has won a few awards this year, but it's not the awards that count—it's the spirit.

West Point Accepts Freshman

Phil Phillips, an FCC freshman, has received an appointment to West Point Academy, and will report to the four-year academy the first week in July.

Qualifications for admittance are congressional appointment, in this case, by Congressman Sisk, and satisfactory completion of competitive physical and civil service examinations. A military science background and maintenance of above average grades throughout the candidate's school career are also necessary. Candidates must be between the ages of 17 and 22.

Once ranked the first cadet in California as a full colonel, Phillips was named the regimental commander of the Fresno City area cadets in his senior year at Fresno High.

Phillips has also maintained a B average throughout his schooling.

The Academy, which is located near New York City, serves as the training ground for U.S. Army officers.

Smith, Ross Receive Fulbright Fellowships

By DAVID PACHECO

Philip D. Smith, an instructor of journalism, and D. Lee Ross, a Spanish instructor in the Fresno City College, have been awarded Fulbright Fellowships to teach in Greece and Paraguay, respectively, during the 1963-64 school year.

The award is Smith's second. He won a Fulbright Fellowship to teach in Italy at the University of Trieste in 1961-62.

The Fulbright awards were the fifth received by FCC faculty members. Noel D. Frodsham, a history instructor, was the first to receive a grant to teach in Denmark in 1960-61. Hans Wiedenhofer, FCC's director of athletics, also a recipient, is currently teaching in the Netherlands. He went on a direct exchange, which brought Francis Kools as his replacement to the FCC faculty.

Awarded By State Dept.

Fulbright Fellowships are awarded by the board of foreign scholarships of the United States State Department.

Smith said he and 22 other teachers will teach English in Greece. His assignment is in the northwestern part of Greece in the city of Ioannina, the provincial capital of the Epirus region. The Epirus region is near the Albania border.

He will go to Washington, DC on July 15-19 for briefing. On Aug. 1 Smith and the other teachers will gather at the island of Spetsai on the Aegean Sea for a month of study of modern Greek, Greek culture and methods of teaching English as a foreign language.

A month of orientation will follow in Athens.

Smith said he will teach in a gymnasium in Ioannina, a combination elementary-high school, and a nearby teachers' college. The school year will begin on Sept. 25 and last until June.

Mountainous Area

Ioannina is an historical city of approximately 35,000 situated in a mountainous agricultural area. The city, dating back to the sixth century, played a prominent role in Greek and Roman times.

Smith said he and his wife,

Sylvia, who will accompany him, hope to do plenty of sightseeing while in Greece.

Smith, now in his 12th year on the FCC faculty, did his undergraduate work at the University of Southern California and holds a master's degree in journalism from the University of Minnesota.

Ross will teach English in Asunción, the capital of Paraguay, at the National University of Asunción.

He will be one of three teachers assigned to Paraguay and one of two assigned to the university. One of the two positions available at the university require a teacher to teach English at all levels and the other will assist in organizing a school of languages, which does not at present exist at the university.

A knowledge of Spanish is an essential requirement for both positions.

Ross said he will go to the University of Michigan for orientation and study methods of teaching English as a foreign language prior to June 15 before his departure for Paraguay.

Enrollment Swells

Ross noted that there has been a 100 per cent increase in the university enrollment, now approximately 3,600.

"I'm looking forward to this wonderful opportunity and I hope to see many of the major cities of Latin America," said Ross.

He said Paraguay is a cattle raising region and the home of maté, a kind of tea. It is the main source of quebracho, an extract tan for leathers.

Ross said that two languages are spoken there, one is Spanish, the official language, the other is Guareni, an Indian dialect.

Ross will be accompanied by his wife and his two sons.

He has lived in three Spanish speaking countries previously. While in the service he was stationed in the Philippines and he later lived in Cuba. He also attended the University of Mexico for a year.

Ross studied at San Jose State and holds a master's degree in Spanish from Stanford University.

Potpourri, Largest Ever, To Go On Campus Sale Monday

The 1963 edition of the Fresno City College literary magazine, "Potpourri," the largest in its brief history, will go on sale Monday in the Student Center.

Jo Beth Jackson, publicity chairman for the magazine, said that this year's edition will include approximately 40 pages of poetry, articles and fiction along with photographs of artwork and sculpture by FCC students. Miss Jackson said that six of the stories will feature illustrations by Barbara Roth and Joyce Schatborn.

'Best Yet'

Robert J. Shaver and Dean Draper, "Potpourri" advisors, agreed that the new edition is the best yet.

"The response this year has been better than ever," Shaver said. "We had to turn down some 45 articles because of the lack of space."

He pointed out, however, that only five students failed to have something published, due to the fact that many students contributed more than one article.

One of the articles which will certainly draw attention was written by two students, Sarkis Avakian and Jesse Wagner. It is a fantasy on human nature. It deals with the problems encountered by two people—the last two people on earth!

Worthwhile Experience

Shaver feels that this type of expression by young authors is a worthwhile experience.

"The primary purpose of Potpourri," he said, "is not to make money, but to represent one of the many cultural aspects of the college."

The outside cover of the magazine bears a design by James Ferris, which the artist describes as "abstract."

Work Of Students

Shaver also emphasized that this year's "Potpourri" is the result of the efforts of the staff of the magazine, with very little outside help.

The "Potpourri" staff includes Nancy Driozanne, editor; Anita Smith, associate editor; Arthel Cake, business manager; Cress Lundstrum, fiction editor; Lynn Andrews, associate fiction editor; Julie Troiano, circulation manager; Michael Minyard, feature editor; Diane Wolfe, assistant feature editor; Morgan May, poetry editor and Richard Frey,

What price this collector's item?

"Less than a pack of cigarettes!" said Miss Jackson.

Martin: Extra-Curricular Change; Faieta: Credits Student Council

FRED MARTIN
President Elect

FRED FAIETA
Past President

By CHARLES WRIGHT

Fred K. Martin, next semester's Associated Student Body president, has announced his policies for next semester.

The 20-year-old electronics engineering major hopes to increase student participation in all modes of extra-curricular activities.

"These activities are beneficial and provide a valuable addition to our education," Martin commented.

Plans Orientation

Martin is planning an orientation program to establish a closer bond between incoming freshmen and FCC activities.

He also hopes to promote a closer working relationship between the student government and the student body as a whole.

Students interested in student body commissioner offices may get an application in the Student Center's office in the student center building.

Martin said that he would welcome any application.

Several tentative appointments have already been made, but none will be final until approved by the student council next fall.

Commissioner Posts

The commissioner posts are assemblies, elections, oral arts, publicity, publications, student welfare, athletics, rallies, scholarships and social affairs. New posts created this semester are international relations and conferences.

A 2.0 gradepoint average and a 10 unit class schedule are the pre-requisites for holding office.

By FRED F. FAIETA, JR.

May I say that I have thoroughly enjoyed the experience of serving as your ASB President this past year.

I am convinced that the success of this year's student business was due to the harmony in which tasks were undertaken by the council and the fine cooperation of the faculty and administration with the Student Council.

Recaps Year's Reaches

In recapping some of this year's achievements by council we see:

(1.) New interest in International affairs by our affiliation with the University People to People Program; Delegations sent to World Affairs Conferences; three returning FCC students chosen as student ambassadors to Europe.

(2.) Increased good relations with our community by our involvement in the UGP drive, the Red Cross, March of Dimes, Easter Seal, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club and etc.

(3.) The compilation and approval of the largest student budget in FCC history ($65,000). Along with this, the appropriation of moneys for the purchase of two new station wagons to facilitate transportation problems. And $20,000 for the remodeling and furnishing of a new student lounge.

(4.) The execution of the activities calendar for 1963. The revision of the ASB Constitution and one of the finest contested elections we have ever witnessed.

(5.) The building of a fine relationship with the eight neighboring junior colleges on the student government level, along with the semi-annual participation of the 73 JCs throughout the state in a three-day convention for the betterment of government, athletics, activities, and etc.

As you can see, much has been going on this year (were you aware of the preceding?), and we have a great deal to look forward to in the coming years.

Suggests Letterman's Club

I am looking forward to the time when FCC can boast a powerful club to stimulate the entire student body. May I suggest a letterman's club for the many students who participate in athletics, but carry their interests in FCC no further.

In closing, I offer my wishes for good luck to you and my congratulations to the newly elected officers who will serve you next year. Under the able leadership of Fred Martin, I am sure Fresno City College will continue to build on the past for the success of the future.

Club News

Fine Arts Club Sponsors Music

By LINDA McDONALD

The Fine Arts Club is and has been sponsoring the music this week during the arts festival from 12 noon until 1 P.M.

Roger Derryberry, president of the club, said that Monday, John and Lee provided the music. Tuesday and Wednesday a jazz trio from FCC; today the Big House Three and tomorrow John and Lee will perform again.

Circle K

The Circle K Club has elected new officers for the fall year. They are: Barry Turner, president; Malcom Chaddock, vice president; Douglas Bradford, secretary; and Pete Pierre, treasurer.

Marketing Club

There will be a joint business and social meeting of the Business and Marketing Clubs on May 23. The meeting will be held in the student lounge.

Delbert Davis of the Fresno Planning Commission will be the guest speaker. His topic will be, "A Look at the Future—You and Fresno."

State Tournament Opens Tomorrow

By RICH SALAIS

Northern California junior college powerhouse Fresno City College will attempt to repeat as state champions for the third consecutive year as they play host to the Southern California titlist Long Beach City College Vikings in a best of a three game series in Eules Park this weekend.

The Friday game will start at 3 PM and Saturday's encounter will begin at 12 noon, followed by a second game, if necessary.

The clash with the Vikings of Long Beach shapes up to be one of the finest junior college state tournaments in many years. Coach Len Bourdet of the Rams will start ace righthander Dick Selma in the opener against curve ball artist Jim Parks of the Vikings. Parks, all-Metropolitan conference and player of the year, is unbeaten in nine starts and will be facing his toughest test of the season.

Selma, a former Fresno High School standout who has recorded, so far, 143 strikeouts in 103 innings, is near completion as one of the finest City College moundsters in the history of the school. The 5'11" 160-pound sophomore who will open the playoffs against Parks may even bounce back Saturday if the Rams are in need of his services.

Fresno gained the right to compete in its third successive state tournament by defeating the Vallejo Junior College Falcons in the first round, 11 to 0, and drubbing Reedley College in the final, 8 to 5, in Vallejo's Wilson Park.

Howard Schmidt, who reached the climax of the year against Reedley in the Northern California playoffs by pitching a one hit shutout over five and one-third innings of relief, will probably start Saturday. Long Beach, on the other hand, will start righthander Don Strucker (10-1) against the Rams in the second game. The Vikings, who arrived by air today, won the Metropolitan conference with a 19-2 record and swept the Southern California title by defeating San Bernardino 5 to 3 in the final.

Tickets for the two days affair are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. The gates on Friday will open at 2 PM and on Saturday at 11 AM.

Six Rams To Grace State Junior College Meet In 5 Events

Speedy low hurdler Fred (Tex) Teixeira and discus ace Bob Jacobs, a pair of promising freshmen, will lead a six man FCC contingent to the California JC Championships Saturday in Modesto.

Hot and cold high jumper Lonnie Hughey, half miler Curtis Craig, and the mile relay team of Oscar Haynes, Houston Williamson, Teixeira, and Craig also qualified for the Rams Saturday on the popular Modesto oval.

The top four finishers in each event were to qualify for the state meet, which will start at 1 PM.

Coach Erwin Ginsburg reported one unfortunate incident for the Rams at the Nor-Cal meet. He said that Al Williams was involved in a mixup at the start of the high hurdles race which cost him a state berth.

One of the runners made a false start and Williams, expecting it to be called back, broke his stride and finished fifth. Even so, he equalled his season's best time of 14.6 seconds.

Hughey finished in a tie among several athletes at 6'2" in the high jump. He was awarded third place on the basis of fewer misses ahead of College of Sequoias aces Wes Mitchell and Max Souder.

Teixeira lowered his state pacing best mark in the lows to a winning time of 23.3 seconds, and Jacobs snapped out of a long standing slump in the discus with a toss of 153'3" for fourth place. Teixeira will be favored to win the state championship in the lows.

Craig clocked 1:56.3 in placing third in the 880. His best is 1:55.7 which he ran last week in the Nor-Cal trials.

The mile relay team clocked a slow 3:21.0 in finishing third. College of Sequoias won in 3:19, more than a second slower than the Fresno quartet's previous best mark.

COS ran away with the team scoring title and will be one of the favorites at Saturday's state championships.

The Giants tallied 75 points, compared with 58 for City College of San Mateo and 56 for Foothill College. FCC placed fifth with 33 points.

FCC, COS Power First Valley Conference Season

The Valley Conference, although new-born among the state's junior college circuits, proved itself a far cry from a baby push-over for the older loops in its first year of existence.

Since its inauguration with the start of football season, the newly formed conference has left no doubt that it is as sound and as well equipped with talent as most any JC loop in the country.

The Valley loop also bears an amazing similarity to the other conferences. In all nine sports, the circuit was marked with strong teams and weak teams, upsets and routs, and good spirit along with a lack of spirit.

It's popular opinion now that the Valley Conference is a strong circuit with plenty of competition. Over the past year Fresno City College and College of the Sequoias gathered the greatest share of the laurels from their four other rivals.

Using a point system based on five points for a first place, four for second, three for third and so on down the line for each of the nine Valley sanctioned sports, FCC and COS tied in total points for the year with 31 1/2 apiece. (See point table below.)

However, we feel this may be a little unfair. FCC's 31 1/2 points includes a basketball championship which might be disputed by Stockton Junior College sports fans.

The Rams were tied with Stockton after regular season play but won a playoff to decide who would go to the state tournament. Some feel this should still be considered a co-championship which would give the Rams only 31 points on the season compared to COS's 31 1/2. Suit yourself—we narrow-minded people like to call it a tie by giving the Rams a cage championship.

All-in-all it was an interesting year in Ram athletic history. Rich Turney, a 6'7" forward on the state championship cage squad, set numerous scoring records, and Lonnie Hughey, a newcomer on the cage scene this year, led the Valley Conference in scoring.

Gabe Terronez, a hard-fisted Fresno City College choir boy, defended his state welterweight title in the professional ring, and the water polo team, although winless, was coached by a pleasing gentleman from Holland, Franz Kools.

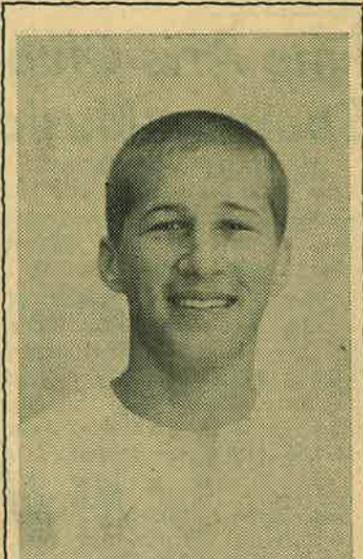

FCC's baseball team could very well add another state championship to the 1962-63 trophy case in the state tournament this weekend. After a slow start, the Rams got wound up and are now hitting and pitching with remarkable consistency.

On the track scene, Fred Teixeira, a diminutive low hurdler, has the best time in his event in the state and is favored to take the state crown.

STEVE MAZZONI Sportsman of the Year

Steve Mazzoni, 5'11" guard on this year's state championship basketball team, has been named "Sportsman of the Year" by the Rampage staff. Mazzoni was a big factor in holding the Ram cage squad together. His willingness to let the other four starters carry the scoring load and to concentrate on defense and a steady floor game stabilized the Ram attack throughout the year.

Spring Sports Fete To Be Held May 30

Fresno City College athletes taking part in spring sports will be awarded Thursday May 30, 1963 at the annual Spring Sports Awards Banquet at the FCC cafeteria.

Students participating in swimming, tennis, golf, track, wrestling, basketball, and baseball will receive school letters and certain individuals will be awarded special honors.

Making presentations for swimming will be Darryl Rogers; for tennis, Dan Ozier; golf, Clare Slaughter; track, Erwin Ginsburg; wrestling, Paul Cookingham; basketball, Joe Kelly; and baseball, Len Bourdet.

Athletic Director Joe Kelly will welcome guests to start the banquet after the dinner starting at 6:30 PM. FCC President Stuart White will give the introduction and Joe Dale Sr. will be master of ceremonies.

Special awards to be given at the banquet are the Harry Coffee blanket award and an award from Pepsi Cola.

USED BOOKS

Used books will be purchased by the bookstore on June 6-7, from 8:30 AM to 3:30 PM and 6:45 to 8:45 PM for night students.
