Mestas Says Martin Breaks Contest Rules

Election enthusiasm is moving in leaps and bounds in the final days of the campaign with a controversy over the candidacy of two nominees in the freshman class.

At Tuesday's council meeting, Wayne Martin, candidate for freshman president, was charged with having broken an election committee rule forbidding any campaigning prior to the nominations assembly which was held Monday.

Luis Mestas, nominee for the same office, charged that Martin had placed a poster on the 300 building of the technical and industrial division during the Ram-burger Roundup.

Mestas said the poster also bore the name of Dianne Heller, vice presidential nominee.

He further charged that Martin had been using his present position on council to aid him in his campaign. He claimed that when the candidates had their campaign plans approved by Martin, who is commissioner of elections, "he (Martin) has an unfair advantage over the other candidates."

Council voted to put the question of his candidacy into committee. The committee met last night and is to report at the next council meeting.

Martin, after facing these charges, chose to temporarily resign his post and turn the election committee over to Marihelen Thomas, representative.

Other candidates for freshman class president are Buddy Tackett, John Lynch, John Porter and Thomas Little.

Kenneth Clouse, Tina Gyer and Miss Heller are freshman vice presidential candidates.

Richard Sander and John Vlakkis are opponents for the office of freshman treasurer.

John McDaniel is unopposed for the top executive post in the sophomore class. He and Carol Cloves, who is running for vice president, are the only candidates on the sophomore slate.

"The Fresno City College mascot is a ram; the sophomore mascot is a sheep," said H. E. (Rick) Comstock, Associated Student Body president, of the lack of sophomore candidates.

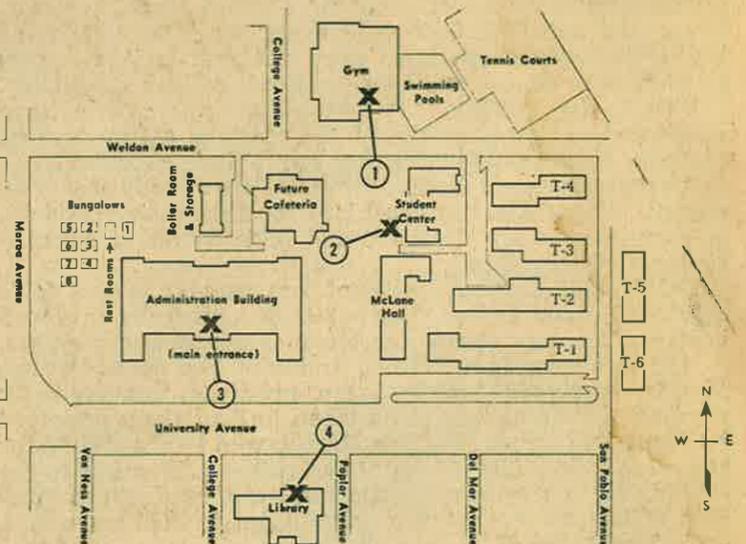

"It must be, because they certainly haven't shown any interest in leadership," he said.

Commissioner Martin said that students who are interested in running for the open positions may conduct a write in campaign.

"I had much rather see these offices filled this way than to have them appointed," he said.

Election polls will open tomorrow at 8 AM and close at 4 PM. An additional booth placed in the gymnasium will be added this semester.

Other polls will be placed in the main foyer of the administration building in front of the student union and on the library patio.

POLLING PLACES — A fourth balloting position will be added to the regular polling spots on the campus for the class elections tomorrow. The new booth, located in the concourse to the gymnasium (1), will afford more convenience for students. Regular polls are outside the student center (2), in the lobby of the administration building (3) and outside the library (4).

Cal Initiates New Entrance Procedures

Students planning to attend the University of California next fall will find entrance procedures different than published in the 1964-65 catalogs of the campuses of the University.

The deadline for receipt of applications for the fall semester has been fixed at March 1 and students applying will be notified of their eligibility on or about April 15, announced Merle Martin, dean of students.

"Students contemplating attending the University should apply as early in the filing period as possible," he said.

Applications are now being received on all campuses.

INTERNATIONALS PLAN PHOTOGRAPHY CONTEST

International friendship in action is the subject of a nationwide college photo contest just announced by People-to-People according to Rick Wrightson, chairman of the Fresno City chapter.

Only students enrolled in colleges and universities that have People-to-People chapters are eligible to enter the contest, the chairman said.

A Rollei Honeywell Rolleiflex T camera and an award certificate will be presented to the photographer who submits the photograph that, in the opinion of the judges, best depicts international friendship. Photos also will be judged on print quality, ingenuity, emotional content and photographic excellence. Other prizes will include two Honeywell Pentax H1A cameras and a Honeywell Strobonar 65C electronic flash unit in addition to award certificates.

RAMPAGE SUPPORTS ELECTION WINNERS

The Rampage has received some undue criticism from various people, including some council members, concerning the Rampage political support policy.

The editors were told by several students that the Rampage should refrain from supporting any one candidate in an election because it is unfair to the other nominees.

This is not, and has not been, the Rampage policy.

The Rampage policy is to support the winner in any and all student body and class elections.

It is the policy and duty of the Rampage, as the school newspaper, to give information which is as complete and accurate as possible about all candidates during their campaigns.

The Rampage is not, as some believe, in opposition to the student government; rather it is present on campus as an information and news service for the student body as a whole.

The Rampage serves to inform students of the various aspects of school life which happens to include all sides of the political races.

SLIM SLATE SEEN—SLACKENS IN SPRING

The sophomore class election slate is slightly fatter this week than it was last Thursday. Two persons, John Cates and John McDaniels, have filed for president and Carol Cloves for vice president.

The same story prevails on the election scene, however. Every fall the freshman slate overflows with candidates while the sophomores have slim pickings. In the spring election, both classes will have problems getting candidates.

What's the problem? It seems that those who have dominated council activities in the past and at the present continue to do so, discouraging any future candidates. In this election, two candidates for office are already seated on council. Wayne Martin, candidate for freshman president, is commissioner of elections, and Miss Cloves is commissioner of social affairs.

This double seating precedent was present in last fall's council. Barbara Didier, who was then commissioner of student welfare, was elected secretary of the sophomore class.

And this sometimes creates problems. For example, Luis Mestas, candidate for freshman president, inadvertently disclosed his campaign plans when he had them approved by Commissioner of Elections Martin, who is a candidate for the same office. Said Mestas: "Not only is this unfair to the candidates, but it decreases the number of students who can hold office. It's not fair for one student to hold more than one office."

How about somebody coming to council and asking for legislation?

Yell Leaders, Pep Girls Chosen; Have A Lot Of Enthusiasm

The 1964-65 pep squad has been chosen!

Mrs. Georgene Wiedenhofer, who's taking the place of Mrs. Sara Dougherty for the fall semester, has assumed the sponsorship of the pep squad and the rally club.

Mrs. Wiedenhofer said that the pep squad will try something new this year. The pep squad will do dance routines to the music of the pep band, led by the music instructor Vincent Moats.

"The squad has showed me a lot of enthusiasm for the coming football season," said Mrs. Wiedenhofer. "Right now we are working very hard to get ready our new routines and preparing plans for future rallies," she added.

The new majorettes for fall semester '64 are, Mary Cabrera, Jeannette Ginder, Sherry Garcia, and Gail Tipton, head majorette.

The new pep girls are as follows: Barbara Blue; Janet Clemens; Rosella Gentry; Nancy McIntyre; Sue Ortega; Carolyn Taylor; Sandy Taylor; and head pep girl, Robbie Rheam.

The cheerleaders include Diana Hamby, Gary McCurry, Frank Rodriguez and Sue Romias, head yell leader.

Mrs. Wiedenhofer said that something different will be tried at the Rally club meetings. One girl from each of the pep squads will inform the club members of the various activities. In that way the pep squads and the rally club can work closer together to coordinate their activities.

Barry Leads Rampage Poll

By CHARLES WRIGHT
Editor In Chief

GOLDWATER LEADS: Republican Presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater is slowly but surely pulling ahead of Lyndon B. Johnson in the Rampage Presidential Poll. As of today his lead stands at a meager three votes, but three votes may as well be a million.

In the Senatorial Poll, Carpetbagger Pierre Salinger, recently appointed US Senator by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, after Clair Engle's death, holds a four vote lead over the Republican song and dance candidate George Murphy.

What do these results mean? They indicate the general trend of the student body even though the results remain small. Response to the poll has been greater than expected but almost a month remains before the final decision of the voters. Send a postcard to the Rampage or write your choice on a slip of paper and bring it to the Rampage office.

LOCAL POLITICS: Students at FCC will be playing an important role in the success or failure of at least two major proposals for California voters next month. Headed by John Walke — a physics major from Ravensbourne College in London—a student committee is being formed against Proposition 14, a move which would repeal the Rumford Fair Housing Act. The Act is a bit too strict in its demands but the wording of the initiative for its repeal would prevent the state legislature from ever passing such a law in the future — even a milder Rumford Act. It is better to keep such an act in force rather than freeze the legislators from further action. Perhaps in 1966 initiative can be taken before the voters for the repeal of the Act without blocking further laws.

In another smoke filled room, plans are being made to assure the passage of a bill that will provide junior colleges in California at least $50 million out of a total of $380 million for college campus improvements. In the past state colleges and universities have always pulled the lion's share of bond issues, leaving junior colleges with what they can get.

According to H. E. (Rick) Comstock, student body president and San Joaquin Valley region chairman of the Students for Proposition 2, Fresno City College will get "a fair share" of the funds.

Both committees are subdivisions of larger statewide organizations.

TELEVISION: Student Council Tuesday passed a motion allocating funds for the purchase of a television set so students will be able to watch the World Series contest between the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals. Today marks the second game of the Series. The TV is set up in the social hall for any interested students. Maybe with a little pushing they will turn it on for the election returns on Nov. 3.

Students Earn Credit From Merchants, Class

Students enrolled in the Merchandising Field Experience program are literally working their way through college or, at least, through that class.

FCC has adopted a fairly new method of teaching in the field of merchandising. This new approach was adopted four years ago. The method is to have students work in part-time jobs in connection with the class.

Their jobs involve some type of retail selling. One-third of their class grade depends upon the employer's credit given to the students work, according to Dr. Peart. The class meets two hours a week and students get three hours credit. The job must be no less than 15 hours a week, per semester, and students get one hour credit for their work in the stores.

The advantage of this type of teaching the class is that it gives the student first-hand experience in the field of retail selling. This enables the students to discover their aptitudes and talents in the merchandising field.

The students are enthusiastic about the course and the merchants are most enthusiastic. There will be an employer-employee breakfast in the near future so that students may get to know their employers better. Also, in the spring, there will be an employer-employee banquet to give the students the opportunity to express their gratitude to their employers.

Twenty-three students are presently enrolled in the course. FCC isn't the only college to have adopted this course for there are 25 junior colleges in the state that have similar courses in the merchandising field.

CC Offers 7 New Classes

This year FCC is offering many new courses in both the day and evening programs, stated John T. McCuen, dean of instruction.

Approved last spring for this semester are seven new courses in apprentice training which deal with operation and stationary engineering.

Students will be able to earn their AA in insurance because of the seven insurance programs the business division is offering.

Four courses in food service, a short term program, are now being held.

Prehistory and cultural growth is the subject of the new class in anthropology.

In order to accommodate the large increase of students this semester, three English courses were started.

To bring the engineering department up to date a course dealing with radio isotopes is being presented.

Newman Clubs Meet, Hold Elections

The first convention of the newly formed district of Newman clubs in the Monterey-Fresno diocese was held in Fresno Saturday and Sunday. Officers were elected, a schedule of events was approved and a constitution construction committee was appointed.

Officers to serve for the current school year are chairman, Mike Rucker of Porterville; extension vice chairman, Lou Montville of Cal Poly; secretary, Rose Ann Burkart of Fresno; and treasurer, Throc Greenlesh of Cal Poly.

Scheduled events for this semester include a district retreat in Three Rivers sponsored by the Porterville club; an executive committee district meeting November 21-22 at Cabrillo College; and a district snow trip at Yosemite Lodge January 29-31 sponsored by the Fresno Club.

Diocesan Newman clubs represented were Bakersfield, Cabrillo, Cal Poly, College of the Sequoias, Porterville, and Reedley, as well as the local FCC-FSC club.

Data Processing Program Trains Students For Jobs

"Modern data processing machines make possible the elimination of monotonous clerical work and provide a variety of reports which are used in decision making in business," stated Gervase A. Eckenrod, the dean of business division.

The data processing program, coordinated by Joseph Safer, who also instructs introduction to statistics and report writing, began operation three years ago under the National Defense Education Act.

A request for a data processing program was made through a local data processing advisory committee consisting of businessmen who have data processing machines in their offices. The businessmen felt that the colleges should offer training to prepare students to follow this up and coming field.

The Data Processing Program is expanding; as of now, there are seven classes offered at FCC and students may major in data processing and graduate with an Associate in Science degree.

The machines are widely used throughout the valley by insurance companies, banks, savings and loan companies, public utilities, accounting offices, city and county offices and Producers Cotton Oil Company. The machine provides automation in the office coupled with automation in production.

The production of data processing equipment is under constant change. As computers come off the production line they are already made obsolete by developments which are on the drawing board.

"The opportunities," Dean Eckenrod states, "provided by these machines are vast. The machine takes the guesswork out of management and there is less occasion for errors. Since everything is done on a grand scale when an error is made it is a whopper!"

Statistics Show Campus Has Average Drop Rate

The fall semester of 1964 at FCC has started out with an average drop-out rate. In the first two weeks of school 124 students have dropped out for various reasons.

The average drop-out rate, as stated in a statewide survey, shows that FCC is average with about an 18% drop-out rate.

The statistics for the past four year's enrollment/drop-out rate are as follows:

Enrollment	Drop-Outs	Per Cent Drop-	Per Cent
Enroll.	Outs
Fall 1960 .. 2875	391	13%
Fall 1961 .. 3148	244	8%
Fall 1962 .. 3374	365	11%
Fall 1963 .. 3564	391	11%

Most of the drop-outs come in the first month because of the five week option to drop classes without penalty. There is a large number of drop-outs at mid-term and at Thanksgiving.

The reasons given are usually financial or opportunity for a job. Usually it is found, however, that the real reason is because of low grades. The drop-outs at Thanksgiving usually do have jobs, it is found.

Club Doomed By Membership Lag

"Due to a lack of interest, there will be no social science club this year," stated Hugh Golway, an FCC history instructor who was to have been the group's adviser.

"We have announced our meeting dates and sought student support, but it seems only eight people took an active interest in the club, and it takes at least 20 members to organize a club properly.

London Transfer Heads Committee On Fair Housing

"Youth for Fair Housing, Fresno City College Chapter," gained its first official members last Thursday.

"Last week 17 FCC students became official members of our committee for the defeat of Proposition 14," said John Walke, a physics major from Ravenbourne College in London.

This committee is not just a local organization, but is affiliated with a statewide campaign against the proposition.

At the meeting last week Walke was elected chairman of the committee, along with Michael Cunningham and Tom Gough as co-chairmen.

Chosen to fill the offices of secretary and treasurer were Mary Ann Lumsden and Patti Wynn, respectively. The publicity officer is Tim Kellogg.

The committee plans to attempt to influence people to vote "No On 14," primarily through discussion and campaigning.

Bookstore Gives Variety Of Items

Looking for a good novel or a helpful reference book? If the answer is yes, then the FCC bookstore is the place to go.

Mrs. Jewell Herbert, the FCC bookstore manager, stated, "Any book we do not have in stock can be ordered and should arrive about a week after ordering."

Besides a variety of books, the bookstore carries paper, binders, candy, cigarettes, gym suits and just about anything else the student might need.

The bookstore is open Monday through Friday from 8 AM to 4 PM and Monday through Thursday from 6:45 to 8:45 PM.

Besides Mrs. Herbert, the bookstore staff includes two full-time and two part-time employees and had a few student workers during registration.

Local Realtors, Brokers Instruct Realty Classes

Novice and experienced are mixed into the same class when they take a course dealing with real estate.

The real estate program at FCC offers principles in real estate, practices in real estate, appraising, financing, and elements of resident structure and design.

TV Show Is Teaching Aid

On Oct. 5, the San Joaquin Valley Community Television Association will begin its third consecutive year of telecasting Spanish Language Programs for approximately 8,000 elementary students in the San Joaquin Valley over KJEO TV, Channel 47.

The programs will be aired Monday through Friday at 10 AM in conjunction with enrichment films about our Latin American neighbors. This year an advanced Spanish Lessons series will be shown entitled La Familia Fernandez.

In addition, two other Spanish televised courses will be featured namely, Saludos Amigos for beginners and Hola Ninos for the second year Spanish language students.

It is planned in the near future that a non-commercial Community-Educational Television station will be built in Fresno with the support of the public, so that many additional classrooms may receive numerous other types of Instructional Television programs.

Contest:

Deadline for mailing entries is December 15, 1964; winners will be notified during February, 1965. In addition to the four top prizes, 25 honorable mention certificates also will be awarded.

Rule sheets and entry forms are available from People-to-People chapter members on campus.

These classes are taught by local brokers and by Paul Busacca, a local attorney; Phillip Bates, a local architect, and by local realtors.

In these classes there are beginning students and men already in the profession.

"This proves interesting," said Gervase Eckenrod, dean of merchandising experience department, "As the men in class sometimes know more than the instructor because of specialization they have had in certain areas."

"This course proves especially good for those planning to follow up a business career," said Eckenrod. "It can be used either for small business opportunity or in real estate sales. Also for different work in the real estate field or in banks or state building sites such as highway construction."

The instructors in this field are Harvey E. Bailey, a former teacher at Washington Union High School; and by Ted Lance, a past president of the state realty board.

"There is a strong demand for realtors and students trained in the legal aspects of real estate," said Eckenrod, "and this class provides them with career and in-service training experience. It also exempts the student graduate from two parts of the state real estate exam. The course also provides advancement for those already licensed."

LONG LEADS RAMS PAST TIGERS

Slaughter Has Material To Win VC Crown

By DAVID R. PACHECO
Rampage Sports Writer

The Reedley Tigers came to town Saturday night with their claws sharpened and blood in their eyes. But Fresno's fired-up Rams played a tremendous game to dump the Bengals, 20-13.

Slaughter's Rams must have read the sign in his office which reads, "We play hard-nosed football here," as his troops got a little meaner, a little tougher, and hit a little harder.

The two high spirited elevens battled on even terms for three quarters before the Rams iced the game in the fourth stanza.

"I'm glad that we won," said Coach Slaughter. When two fired-up teams meet anything can happen. Our team stayed in firm control of the game and we won."

Slaughter pointed out that the victory (sweet revenge after last year's defeat!) was a team effort, but there were a couple of top individual efforts. He cited Ron Cox and Mike Freeman as doing a great job covering Reedley's pass catching end John Williams. He was also very pleased with the outstanding work of rookie Don Peterson, a 250 pound lineman from Caruthers.

The Rams will travel to Santa Cruz this weekend to collide with the Cabrillo Sea Hawks.

This is the final tune-up for the Rams before they start the Valley Conference action. This game ought to be a whale of a battle as the Coast eleven will give our gang a rough workout.

Fearless Reporter (?) . . . It seems that every year about this time a breed known as the sports writer sits down and tries to become somewhat of a genie and predict the future.

And every year he is usually wrong — but he comes up with enough excuses to fill the whole paper on why his prognostications went haywire.

But upside down is right side up in the topsy turvy world of junior college football as injuries, breaks, and penalties play a large part in deciding the winner.

Here goes on how the Valley Conference race will turn out this season:

1. Fresno City College
2. College of Sequoias
3. Sacramento City College
4. American River
5. San Joaquin Delta College
6. Modesto Junior College

This sounds like I'm really sticking my foot in it by saying that Clare Slaughter will bring back the title to Fresno City (we can forget the Los Angeles game). I don't want to put Coach Slaughter on the spot, but I do definitely feel that we have a first division caliber club.

Of course, anything can happen during the season to change the standings around, as the Valley Conference is very tough this year. There are no push-overs in the league.

Slaughter has the makings of a very fine football team, superb in the air with good ground offense and a tough defense.

He's got the horses (Long, Mal, and Figueroa to make yardage on the ground and two good passers (Robinson and Blehm) to zero in on three good targets (Nolte, Marini, and Daigle) to score through the air. It is a good well-balanced ball club.

FCC Picked Over Seahawks

Coach Clare Slaughter's fighting Rams, after bouncing back with a thrilling win over the Reedley Tigers, will invade Aptos (near Santa Cruz) this Saturday night to tackle the pass-happy Cabrillo College Sea Hawks.

"I hope it doesn't rain," said Slaughter. "Two years ago we played them in the mud and it was murder. I think it will be an interesting game as Larry Siemering's crew throw a lot of passes."

Slaughter, who played under Siemering when he was line coach at the University of Pacific, reports that the Sea Hawks play wide open football.

Willis Injured

"Siemering's Hawks can be counted on to display a slot-T passing offense," added Slaughter.

"We'll be at full strength against Cabrillo, except for defensive back Larry Willis, who's out with a leg infection. He'll probably be out for one more week. I expect a tough battle Saturday night, but I think we can take them (Cabrillo)."

Fresno City College (2-1) for the season staged a second-half comeback against the Reedley Bengals last Saturday to win a 20-13 verdict over the tough Reedley Bengals.

In other pre-conference games, FCC massacred the San Jose Jaguars in the season opener, 44-6, and two weeks ago suffered a 25-8 plastering at the hands of the Los Angeles Cubs.

Hawks Start Fast

Coach Larry Siemering's Sea Hawks started the season off with a bang by upending last year's Valley Conference runnerup, the Modesto Pirates, 41-15.

Then they faced another VC opponent, the San Joaquin Delta Mustangs, and were beaten, 20-7. Last week, while the Rams were dumping Reedley, the Foothill Sentinels trounced Cabrillo, 26-6.

The Sea Hawks are led by signal caller Augie Lindemeyer, a flashy slinger, who is capable of throwing the long "bomb" from anywhere on the field.

Nolte Still Impresses Ram Football Coach

The Fresno City College Ram football team literally fought their way to a 20-13 victory over inter-district rival Reedley College last Saturday night at McLane Stadium before a thrilled audience of 3,500.

Fresno's Ken Long, a 195 pound halfback, did a yeoman's job as he scored two second half touchdowns to snap the Rams from the brink of defeat. Long's first score came as a result of an electrifying 89 yard return of a kick-off, with Lyle Buckert's block setting Kenny free. The second one was sort of an icing on the cake as he sprinted 28 yards around right end for the score.

The game at the very outset was a bone crunching type of a contest as the two defenses displayed an awful lot of hard blocking and tackling. The heralded "Head-Hunters" of Reedley were as tough as previously announced as they held Fresno to 134 yards rushing and 102 yards through the air while "the Animal Unit" of Fresno did an even better job as they held the big Reedley backfield to just 50 yards on the ground and 100 yards through the air lanes. The "animals" backfield of Mike Freeman, Ron Cox, Mark Bogdanovich, and David Mai did an outstanding job in holding down Reedley's all-American end John Williams to two pass receptions for only 17 yards and intercepting three of Frank Monis' 18 pass attempts.

Rams Score

Late in the first quarter of play the Rams got a drive going. They drove 66 yards in 11 plays for the first touchdown of the game with a pass from Dan Robinson to tight end Tom Daigle for 23 yards being the six pointer.

Reedley College did their first bit of scoring in the third quarter as they went 28 yards in two plays after an Ernie Nolte fumble of a punt set up the Tiger score. John Jones on the first play went 26 yards around left end to the FCC two where he plunged over on the very next play to knot the score at 6-6.

The Bengals a couple of plays later scored again as they drove 67 yards in six plays for a 13-6 lead.

Tigers Score

A couple of plays later Frank Monis passed to Gary Masich right over center, and Masich rambled into the end zone from nine yards out. Terrence Driskell's conversion kick split the uprights.

On the ensuing kick-off Long received Jones kick-off and went 89 yards for the score. The Rams then decided to take a chance as they went for the two-point conversion and were successful as starting signal caller Dan Robinson passed to Ernie Nolte all alone in the left side of the end-zone to give the Fresnoans a 14-13 lead that they never relinquished after that.

The fourth quarter was probably the most action-packed of them all as the Rams and Tigers after Long scored the deciding TD broke out into a fight. Luckily no injuries came out of the fracas.

Water Polo Team Loses Opener

The Fresno City College water polo team opened its first home game in the Valley Conference against Bakersfield College with a final score of 17 to 11, Bakersfield's favor.

In two successive games, last Friday and Saturday, the FCC squad again matched its ability against Cabrillo and San Jose State. On Friday, the Ram team came out on top against Cabrillo by defeating them by a score of 20 to 12.

However, the following day's game with San Jose proved to be one of the roughest played this season. After five of "our" men had been fouled out of the game, San Jose was able to gain a decisive lead on the Rams with a score of 17 to four.

This season's starting water polo line-up includes: John Rohner, goalie, Bob Armeey, right guard, Dick McMath, left guard, Mike Garrison, center back, and three forwards, Bob Meserve, Roy Purves and Wayne Deaver. Bob Meserve, a letterman from Fresno State, has proven to be the high point man on this year's squad. In the two successive games against Cabrillo and San Jose State, Meserve has respectively made 14 and four point contributions to the final scores.

Coach Gene Stephens remarked, "With the exception of four returning lettermen, the rest of the men have never played before. Considering these facts, I am very pleased with the team's results."
