Weekend Rain Storm Dampens FCC Homecoming Festivities

Ruth Olivar Wins Queen Competition

Homecoming at Fresno City College last week withstood the additional competition of an element of nature — rain — to find honors going to the following participants:

1. Ruth Olivar was named Homecoming queen for 1965 while Josette DeLece and Sandi McClurg were named first and second runners-up, respectively.

2. Circle K's float was judged the best in Friday's Homecoming parade.

3. The International Club was awarded two trophies for having the best overall Homecoming participation and for the best Homecoming campaign.

4. The Ram football team won the Homecoming game against San Joaquin Delta College, 27 to 16, to complete its 1965 season.

Miss Olivar, sponsored by the Latin American Club, was crowned by 1964 Homecoming Queen Elaine Silvera during half-time ceremonies at Saturday night's game in Ratcliffe Stadium.

The International Club was the sponsor of Miss DeLece, the first runner-up, while Miss McClurg was the candidate of Alpha Gamma Sigma. Miss McClurg finished third in the balloting.

Other candidates for Homecoming queen were Carol Bedrosian, Nancy Brunner, Jan Clemens, Renee Clendenning, Barbara Kuykendall, JoAnn Lambrecht, Wylena Powers, Lydna Prospero, Rhondda Stewart and Nancy Taylor.

Circle K's award-winning float was entitled 55 Years of Progress, corresponding to the Homecoming theme of Our Past and Progress.

The Homecoming parade was held at noon Friday on the University Avenue parking area. The FCC marching band led the parade and candidates, and floats were introduced by Jim Shipman, Homecoming Committee co-chairman, as they passed the judges.

Circle K was the sponsor of Friday night's Homecoming dance held in the FCC cafeteria.

FCC Students Get Vacation

In observance of the Thanksgiving holiday, Fresno City College will not hold classes next Thursday and Friday.

Because of the holiday, the Rampage will not be published that week. Students may expect their next issue on Dec. 2.

Police Unit To Enforce School Laws

Parking violators at FCC will be a major assignment of the new campus student police unit which will begin operations this week.

"The parking problem is extreme and probably will get worse," said Richard Clelland, dean of men.

Clelland also considers the traffic condition on University Avenue another major problem.

"The campus police are authorized to help the student body provide a more orderly traffic flow," added the dean.

Earl Pugsley, instructor in police science and organizer of the force, listed parking violations as parking over white parking space dividers or in red zones, faculty zones, "no parking" areas. Double parking and parking without a proper sticker are two other violations which he cited.

"Our average fine for a citation will be one dollar," said Pugsley, "but occasionally the administration may have the car towed away at the owner's expense. Every effort will be made to contact the owner before moving his car," he said.

Pugsley defined FCC police parking jurisdiction as the campus grounds and University Avenue between San Pablo and Van Ness Avenues. Citations will be issued between 8 AM and 10 PM.

"The authority for issuance of citations comes from the California vehicle and educational codes authorizing campus regulation of traffic," he said.

Thanksgiving Dinner Set

The cafeteria will offer a Thanksgiving dinner buffet style to all students Tuesday from 11 AM to 1:30 PM for 75 cents.

Tickets may be purchased in the main foyer of the cafeteria. They must be obtained in advance. Only a limited amount will be sold on Tuesday.

"Take all the food you want," said Dale Lumsden, cafeteria manager, "because you will not be allowed to return for seconds."

Door prizes will be given from 12 noon to 1:15 PM. Prizes include hams, turkeys and fresh fruit.

Everyone will receive a gift, said Lumsden.

Students who purchase tickets for the Thanksgiving dinner should hold them for the drawing.

TOP JC TEAM

Debaters Place In UP Tournament

John Porter and Marty Nichols, competing as one of Fresno City College's debate teams, were the only two-year junior college team to reach the octafinals in the University of the Pacific debate tournament.

The tournament, which attracted 38 schools from California to Utah, was held last Friday and Saturday in Stockton.

The five teams entered by FCC competed in the categories of oratory, interpretive speaking and debate.

Of the 80 teams that competed in the lower division, Porter and Nichols were the only junior college team to reach the octafinals, but they were defeated in their competition by a University of Southern California team.

"I am very encouraged by the progress of our debate squad," commented Coach Franz Weinschenk. "We have done very well so far; but, like any coach, I expect them to do even better in the future."

The debate team is now preparing for the fourth annual Debate Tournament Dec. 10.

FCC Police Unit Begins Operation

When the newly formed FCC campus police unit begins operation on Monday, only one student will be authorized to carry a side arm under certain conditions.

"At the moment only one student, John Simonet, is qualified to carry a weapon," said Earl S. Pugsley, coordinator of police science.

Conference Draws Ram Delegation

Six Fresno City College students are attending the California Junior College Student Government Association conference at the El Dorado hotel in Sacramento today through Saturday.

"Every JC in California will be represented," said Ron Primavera, FCC student body president.

Primavera said that the state student government conference is provided to present new ideas and discuss problems that are of concern to all of California's junior colleges.

"The main resolution that FCC wants to see put into effect is the call for the making of a documentary film that will show the function of student government in California's JCs," said Primavera.

The documentary film was one of the resolutions proposed at the recent area five conference held October 23 on the FCC campus.

Another resolution FCC may propose is a plan to simplify the constitution of the state junior college association constitution, which, at the Area 5 association conference, was considered to be "drawn out."

Students representing FCC at the conference are the following: Steve Noxon, chairman of the FCC delegation; Carol Andrews, Myra Aten, Lynn Irons and Darryl Khan. Primavera will attend as student government president representing the entire area five junior college district.

Schools in the Area 5 of the association are in Bakersfield, Taft, Santa Maria, Porterville, Visalia, Reedley, San Luis Obispo, and Fresno.

Kenneth C. Clark, FCC student government adviser, and Miss Doris Deakins, associate dean of students, will accompany the FCC students.

"Any member of the unit who might on occasion carry a gun will be a sworn special officer employed by FCC."

Pugsley said that to become a sworn officer a person must be over 21, trained in the use of side arms and pass a thorough background check by the swearing agency.

In Fresno the swearing agencies are the Fresno Police Department and the Sheriff's Office.

In the case of sworn officers, "liability and responsibility lies with the sworn officer as an individual and his employer."

"In this case," said Pugsley, "the student will be an employee of FCC and not acting as a student. He will be allowed to wear the FCC police unit uniform."

The decision of whether or not to use a student sworn officer will ultimately rest with Dr. Archie Bradshaw, president of FCC.

Pugsley said that the sworn officer carrying a weapon will be used only at the specific request for armed service from Dr. Bradshaw.

He also said that all students who are members of the campus police unit have an oral interview with a four man police board.

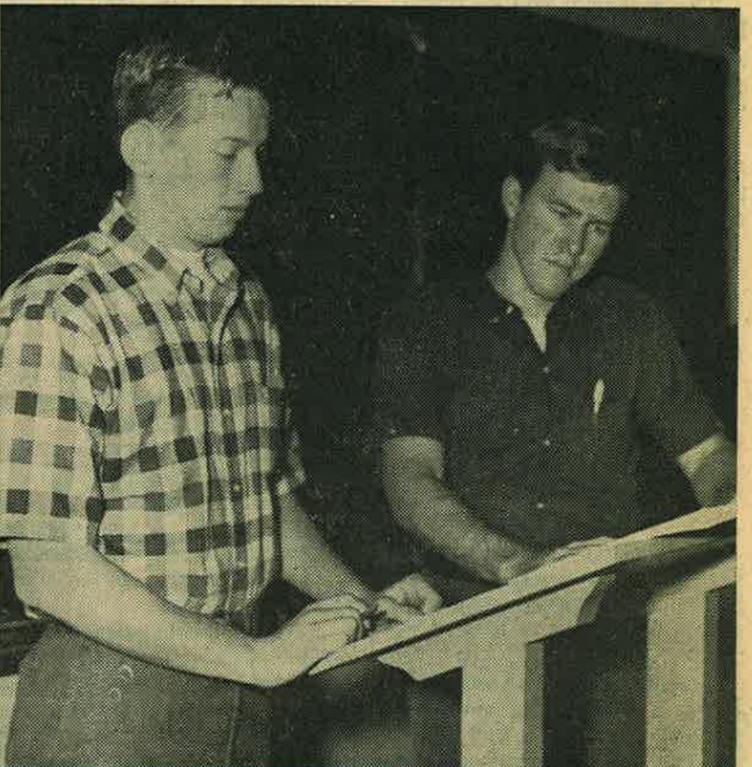

The board consists of Deputy Chief Lawrence M. Kast, of the Fresno Police Department, Lt. Alvin J. Bilbo of the FPD, Capt. Harold C. McKinney of the Fresno County Sheriff's office and Capt. Eldon D. Heringer of the California Highway Patrol.

Other requirements are of a physical, scholastic and moral nature and have been set up by Pugsley and Curtis E. Lackey, associate dean of the technical and industrial division.

Franz A. Weinschenk, president of FCC's Faculty Senate, added his support to the program.

"I think it's a good thing, and as far as the gun situation is concerned, I have confidence in Dr. Bradshaw's judgment."

Weinschenk said that not only is he in favor of the program but that it has long been needed both from an instructional and student point of view.

John Porter and Marty Nichols discuss facts during a rebuttal in debate competition.

Modern Dance Group 'Precise Movements'

Fine arts, in the form of Dr. Patricia Sparrow and her company of five dancers, made its performing debut in the Fresno City College auditorium Friday, Nov. 5.

The program marked the second time within two months that a fine arts production has been presented on the FCC campus. On Oct. 20, the Inter Club Council sponsored the Johnny Mathis Show. The Patricia Sparrow production was sponsored by the Fine Arts Club along with the Fresno State College Fine Arts Board and the FSC Orchestras.

All the dances were performed mathematically and gracefully. The music was simple, unadorned, and received an amazingly disciplined interpretation by the dancers.

The company glided through each score, their movements measured, their timing precise.

Dr. Sparrow and the other dancers — Merrily Smith, Rona Sande, Jane Johnson, Karen Curtis, and Adelaide McCabe—were accompanied by Miss Emma Lou O'Brien on the piano, a Baroque pipe organ, a gong and woodblock percussion.

Miss O'Brien composed the scores for the dances.

First Play Of The Season Anything But A Farce

The drama department's presentation of The Farce of the Worthy Master Pierre Patelin last week in the auditorium was anything but a farce.

What resulted from many long hours of rehearsals was an entertaining presentation which was both well directed and well produced.

The play's success must be credited to the combined efforts of play director Frederick Johnson, technical director Charles Wright and all the cast members and stage hands who helped make it the polished production that it was.

Standout efforts by Malcolm MacGregor, portraying the scheming, cunning Pierre and Zorro Ohanessian as the frugal draper carried most of the acting load. Each played his role as if it had been especially made for him. Al Cirimele's portrayal of the lisping, bumbling shepherd and Leslie Sheet's performance as Pierre's nagging wife also were among the acting highlights.

The only major problem was sound — too much, too often. Poor auditorium acoustics resulted in an annoying effect which made it difficult for the audience to understand what was being said on stage.

The sound problem, however, does not change the fact that Pierre Patelin was a commendable production, and one that the FCC Drama Department has reason to be proud of.

Exchange Papers Available; Review Column Beginning

The Rampage office staff will arrange their exchange papers in order and place them at the disposal of interested FCC students.

The material will be placed on the desk at the front of the Rampage office, Room 211 of the student center. All students are invited to come in and read any of the available material on hand.

A review of outstanding stories from the selection of papers will be placed in this column every week.

Viet Nam And Seniors

In the Oct. 29 issue of the Lancer from West Leyden High, Northlake, Ill., was the headline Poll Seniors On Viet Nam.

Three hundred and twenty seniors were polled on their views of the situation in Viet Nam. The questions and results are presented in percentage form.

Yes Or No?

One question was "Do you believe the U.S. should be in Viet Nam?" Seventy-two percent answered "yes," and 28 percent said "no."

Dorothy Healy, a communist, spoke to a crowd of more than 2,500 in the Ventura College gym Nov. 3. This was reported in the Nov. 5 issue of the Pirate Press of that college.

Students Are Given Chance

"Junior college provides the only single institution where flexible programs and guidance services give students a chance to become a stimulation rather than a humilitation to society."

This was stated by John McCuen, dean of instruction, at a faculty meeting Tuesday.

Success Of FCC

McCuen said that the trustees, administrators, faculty and the students should be interested in and committed to the success of the college if it is to be more than mediocre.

Sound Education

"The courses and instructors should be geared to providing a sound general education for the student of wide ranging abilities in the same classroom while not diluting the course for the brightest," he said.

Question Arises Concerning Listing

By KATHY MOULTHROP

What does the telephone company owe the State Center Junior College District?

In July of 1964 Fresno City College became a member of the State Center Junior College District, but no one contacted the phone company to change the heading from Fresno City Unified School District to State Center Junior College District.

Why? What happened?

Mrs. Violet Rhodes, service representative for the phone company, said that according to company records it had never been notified.

Couldn't Understand

Mrs. Betty-Rae Anderson, FCC finance officer, couldn't understand how it could have happened: "There were phones being taken out and put in and a special system installed to guard against unauthorized long distance phone calls . . . there were phone men all over the place. I don't understand it."

Donald A. Lindell, SCJCD principal account clerk, was amazed. "The reason I stutter is that this is news to me."

When asked how it happened, his only retort was, "That would be the telephone company's fault."

Whose Department?

Whose department was in charge of such things? was the next question . . . "No one was in charge of it," he answered, and said he would look into it.

"Call back in an hour," he said.

An hour passed and when contacted Lindell said that the listing had been incorrect in the previous directory and that it would be corrected.

Monday Mrs. Claire Pelletier, SCJCD executive secretary, said that the office had received a memo from Dr. Archie Bradshaw, president of FCC, to have the listing corrected.

Was Informed

That same day Garland P. Peed, assistant superintendent, said that contrary to previous information given to the Rampage, the telephone company had been informed of the needed change in the school's listing.

Despite this, he added, the phone company failed to correct the error.

Peed also noted that Mrs. Pelletier had contacted the telephone company's adjuster that morning to see what would be done.

Think this is bad? The Reedley Telephone Directory failed to list FCC's sister school, Reedley Junior College, at all.

Concert Series Begins Season

Fresno area high school musicians will perform with the Junior Chamber Concert Series under the direction of the Fresno Philharmonic Association.

The first performance will be Sunday Nov. 21 at 3 PM at the Cafe Midi, corner of Maroa and Fern Aves.

There will be no admission charge.

Student groups up through the second year of college may audition by contacting the Fresno Philharmonic Association, 227-3869.

Campaign Finished

FCC's part in the Bit of Christmas From Home Campaign wasn't outstanding according to Student Body President Ron Primavera. But he said that contributions were substantial.

Sponsored by the Civil Air Patrol, the drive at FCC was headed by Chairman Pat Lane. Primavera is donations chairman for Fresno.

Primavera said, donations consisted mainly of magazines and more than enough Christmas cards. Other donations he mentioned included cases of candy, gum and figs.

Primavera said several contributions came from those in the community who heard of the campaign. Others have come from as far north as Modesto and as far south as Bakersfield.

The donations will be trucked by a local firm to El Toro Air Base, according to Primavera. From there, he said they'll be flown to Saigon, arriving about Dec. 1.

Then, Primavera said, individual packages and Christmas cards will be given to the chaplains. As close to Christmas as possible, the chaplains will distribute the gifts and cards to the men of the 3rd Marine Division in Viet Nam.

Campus Question Man Asks Why Students Shirk Responsibility

RITA CALHOUN

LOUIS BOZIGIAN

GLORIA MARTINEZ

Why are some students so neglectful towards parking regulations, bussing their own dishes and smoking regulations?

Several FCC students were asked, "Why do you feel some students are apathetic toward campus responsibility?"

Phil Byrne, freshman elementary education major:

"Some students feel that the school doesn't care about them so why should they care about the school."

Rita Calhoun, freshman speech arts major: "I feel some students attend FCC for status reasons only. Others attend mainly for learning purposes."

Margaret Anderson, sophomore art major: "I feel that some students do not feel they belong or are attached to the school; so they don't care about their responsibilities toward the school."

Gloria Martinez, sophomore clerical major: "I suppose that they feel that as long as other students are doing the work that is all that's needed. That what they do or do not do is not important."

Don Peeler, freshman photography major: "They figure if they don't pick it up, someone else will; so why bother?"

Louis Bozigian, "I believe student indifference on campus stems from lack of individual, personal spirit. Not enough students feel that matriculating in FCC is an important part of the pursuit of knowledge."

"We should all try to remember that being here is not just a stepping stone to "State" or other colleges or universities."

Dean Notes Rules On Fire, Smoking

Students are reminded that fire and smoking rules on the FCC campus are enforced for their safety.

Richard Cleland, assistant dean of men said all students need to remind each other that smoking in the halls and class rooms is hazardous. He added that the school rule on smoking applies to students in both evening and day classes.

Cleland said that although there is no serious problem at this time, students need to be aware of the danger and damage fire might cause if they are careless.

Floyd Watson, Fresno city fire marshal, said that the fire rules at FCC are enforced in accordance with the Fresno Fire Department and the State Center Junior College District. He added that these rules are not city rules but State Center District rules enforced for the safety of all students.

Cleland said that students need to be reminded often about the no smoking rule on the FCC campus. He suggested it would be a good idea to have signs in the halls.

Students To Hear Mayor

Mayor Floyd H. Hyde will speak on the Values of Student Government at the regular meeting of the Student Council Nov. 30. The meeting will be held at 12:30 PM in the student lounge in the Student Center. Suzanne Moxley, a council member, said that the meeting will be open to interested faculty and students.

Prior to the meeting there will be a luncheon for FCC student council members and their parents, high school student representatives and their advisers.

Report

Following Mayor Hyde's speech, there will be a report from the delegates of the California Junior College Government Association state convention which will be held today through Saturday in Sacramento.

Two FCC students were recently elected to offices of the Phi Beta Lambda chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America during the state convention at FCC.

Jim Shipman was elected central California vice president and Carolyn Kuehn, treasurer.

JC Trustees Grant Funds

The State Center Junior College District Board of Trustees has authorized the expenditure of $147,756 to remodel FCC's student center.

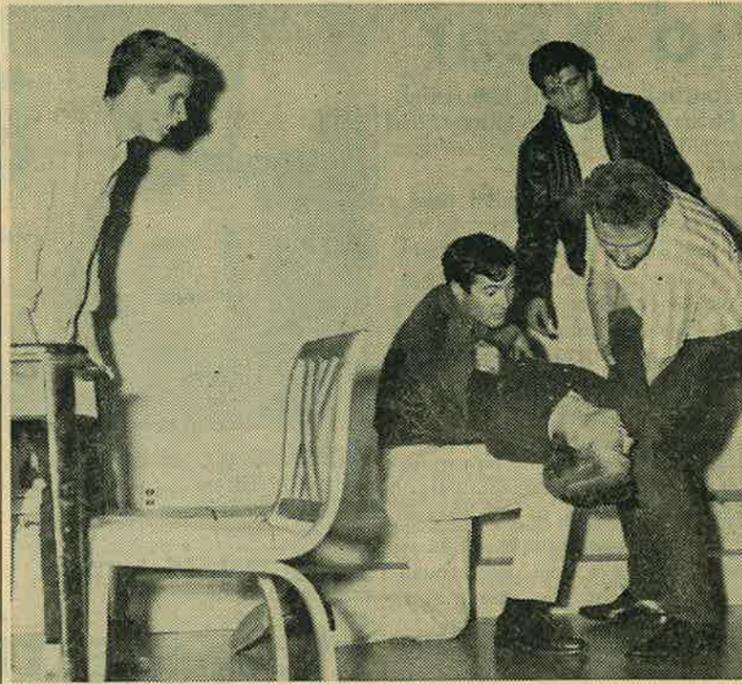

At Monday's meeting the board made cuts totaling $31,199 from the original cost estimate of $178,856. This estimate was more than $100,000 above the amount budgeted for this year.

The 1956 budget authorized an expenditure of $75,000 and the remaining $72,756 will be allocated in the '66-'67 budget.

Thespians To Become 'Russian'

By SANDY DRALLE

Inspector General, a three-act play by Russian writer Nicholi Gogol, will be presented by the Fresno City College Drama Department Dec. 2, 3 and 4 in the Social Hall.

Ken Kennedy, Zorro Ohanessian and Cherie Franklin have been cast in the lead parts of the production.

The play is set in Czarist Russia in 1880. It tells the story of a small village and its corrupt politicians.

Sudden Arrival

They are living a life of ease until an inspector general arrives from St. Petersburg. He proceeds to charm the women and frighten the men.

Danny Kaye starred in the motion picture version of the comedy.

Tickets will go on sale Nov. 29. They will be sold from 10 AM to 4 PM in Room 154 of the Administration Building. FCC students will receive a free ticket by presenting their student body cards.

Ticket Prices

Tickets will be priced at 75 cents for students and $1.50 for adults.

Other cast members are Teresa Leal, Steve Burgess, Alex Hakobian, Frances Sullivan, Mark Atkisson, Dan McGeorge, Al Cirimele, Theron Price and Joe Dukukian.

Ronney Shatto, Ron Comer, Malcolm MacGregor, Pete DeLeo, Janice Holms, Linda Jones, Renee Clendening and Janet Fager. Carolene Lung is stage manager.

Faculty Assistance

Frederick Johnson, a drama instructor, will direct the play. Charles T. Wright, another drama instructor, has designed the set.

Students interested in working backstage may contact Wright in 154 of the Administration Building.

Pediatrician Speaks To Nursing Group

"Couple Is Guilty of Neglect in Tot Death" read the headlines in a recent newspaper article.

In connection with this topic, Dr. William H. Ziering, chief resident pediatrician at the Fresno County General Hospital, gave a speech entitled The Battered Child Syndrome at a recent Phi Ru No (Nursing Club) meeting on the FCC campus.

Information

"Over the last three years there has been a tremendous amount of material on the abuse of children under three months by the parents," said Dr. Ziering.

He further said "that a summary shows some form of injury to children by parents caused more deaths in infants than any other factor."

Dr. Ziering indicated that one factor contributing to the improper abuse of children is anxiety and strain on the parents due to problems. "Every parent at some time or another have done something to their children and many feel that given a certain type of personality, a baby and a situation something will develop."

Example

For example, suppose one had a baby at the time a husband lost his job, that child might represent something to fight back at.

What can be done about child abusing, was answered by Dr. Ziering. If anyone knows of this type of a situation report it immediately to some authority. Right now the juvenile courts are handling cases of this nature.

FINE ARTS CLUB

FCC Club Holds Art Sale

The Fine Art Club will end its art sale tomorrow.

The sale is in the main foyer of the cafeteria from 9 AM to 3 PM. It began Monday.

Ken Hewitt, club president, said the paintings and drawings prices start at $1. Pottery items may be purchased at various prices ranging from five cents to $1.

Field Trip

Two-thirds of the money of each art work sold will go to the artist. Hewitt said the rest of the money received will be used to finance a field trip to either San Francisco or Los Angeles art museums and galleries.

Some of the artists are Susan Crossley, who has chalk drawings, Hewitt and his ink drawings and studies and Anthony Garvin with his oil paintings. Betty Walls displays water color scenery.

Class Work

Pottery items were furnished by the Fresno City College ceramic department.

"Last year's sale was very successful," said Curtis D. Draper, club sponsor and art instructor. "We made $98."

Homecoming Win Closes Grid Year

The Fresno City College Ram football team put the finishing touches on a winning season Saturday night as they rolled to a 27 to 16 Homecoming victory over the Mustangs of San Joaquin Delta College in Ratcliffe Stadium.

Saturday's win gave the Rams a 6-3 season record and a 3-2 Valley Conference record, good for a second place tie with Delta. College of the Sequoias won the league championship with a 4-0-1 conference record.

For nine or Coach Clare Slaughter's men the game was not just Homecoming; it marked the last time they would take the field for FCC.

The nine men who completed their second year of eligibility are Mark Bogdanovich, Clyde Corsby, Paul Mahlow, Dave Mai, Fred Figueroa, Dave Rickerd, Ernie Nolte, Gene Suglian and Lyle Buckert.

These second-year men all played a prominent part in bringing the Rams back to the win column after losses in the first two conference games this year.

A week ago Saturday FCC downed pre-season pick Sacramento City College 14 to 7 in the state capital. The Rams were able to control the ball most of the game as the FCC defense managed to come up with timely interceptions and fumbles.

Two pass interceptions and a fumble recovery by the Rams stopped three SCC drives within the FCC 15 yard line. Mai picked off the first pass on the 12 yard line, Corsby got the second pass on the one, and Suglian recovered a Sacramento fumble on the two.

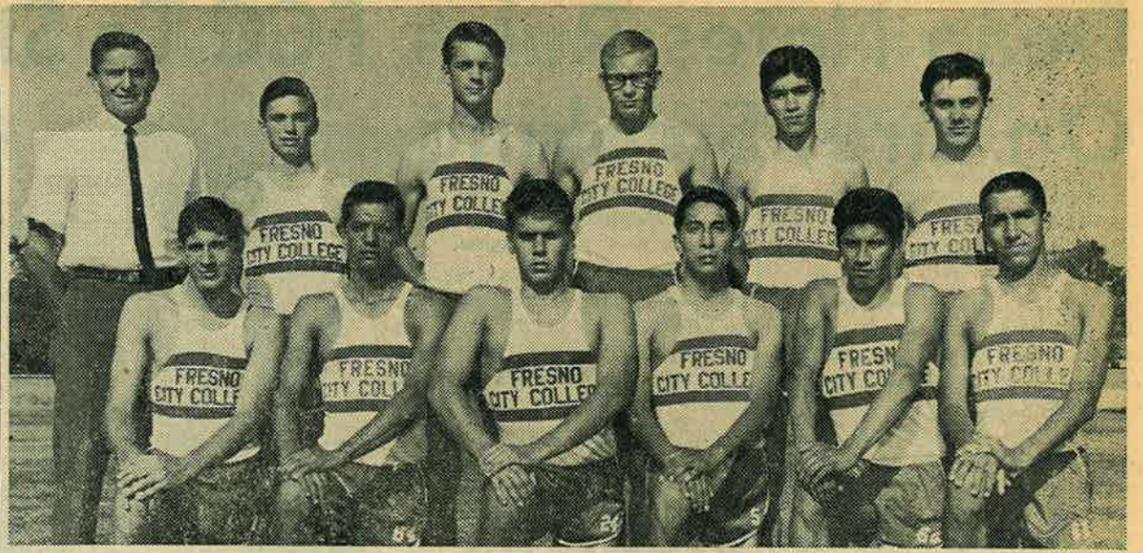

The Ram offense featured the running of Figueroa and Don Valerio, the passing of Jess Ruelas, and the receiving and punt run-backs of Nolte.

The story was nearly the same in Saturday's game against Delta. Corsby set up the first Ram touchdown with a pass interception in the second quarter. After the half he got the ball again in a fumble recovery which led to another Ram score.

Figueroa packed the ball 24 times for 87 yards and two touchdowns while teammate Valerio gained 54 yards in 12 carries.

Ruelas hit on eight of 13 passes for 139 yards and two touchdowns. Two of his passes were "bombs" caught by Nolte, one for 43 yards and the other good for 36.

STATE FINALS NEXT

FCC Harriers Win VC Crown

Fresno City College Ram harriers will travel to Sacramento tomorrow to participate in the Northern California cross country finals.

The action will get underway at 10 AM on the American River Junior College course.

The Rams won the Valley Conference cross country championships last Friday when they defeated the College of the Sequoias 17-43.

In summing up the season's performance, Coach Bob Fries said the team did a "tremendous job."

"The team really developed its potential as the season progressed," he said. Every member of the team worked for the whole team, not just for themselves."

Coach Fries said the team is "looking forward" to the Northern California meet.

"I think the meet will be a battle between FCC and Foothill Junior College, which is considered the perennial power of the north."

FCC Matmen Face Opener

Fresno City College's wrestling team will open its 1965 season with a three-way meet against Reedley College and Merced Junior College Nov. 30.

The mat action will get under way at 4 PM in the Fresno City College gymnasium.

Coach Hans Wiedenhofer's championship team went undefeated in last year's Valley Conference action and placed fifth in the State Wrestling Tournament.

Polo Team Finishes Fourth In Conference

By HOWARD SAIKI

Coach Gene Stephens' water polo team registered the best record ever in Fresno City College's tank history as they compiled an overall won-loss record of 6-12.

The Rams with a won-loss record of 3-7 tied for fourth place with the College of Sequoias in the Valley Conference among the six teams in the league.

Coach Stephens commented "FCC has a problem with the water polo program because the sport is not played in the State Center Junior College District among the high schools. Consequently we have to train them at the same time while playing against experienced players."

Although the Rams have finished their season and San Joaquin Delta finished the regular season tied for first place and must engage in a playoff to determine who will represent the VC in the Northern California Playoffs this Friday and Saturday in Sacramento. The state finals will also be held in the state capital on December 3 and 4.

The Rams completed their season last weekend with two losses. San Joaquin Delta College bested the Rams by the score of 11 to 3 on Friday.

Coach Stephens' men had more success in putting the ball into the net on Saturday against Modesto College, but the Pirates were even more successful as they popped in 19 goals compared to FCC's nine.

Cagers Set For Action

Coach John Toomasian's Fresno City College basketball team will open its 1965-66 season against the Bakersfield College Renegades next Friday night.

The following night, the Rams will meet Allan Hancock Junior College.

Both non conference games are scheduled for 8 PM in the FCC gymnasium.

The Rams, winners of last year's Valley Conference championship and second place finishers in the state tournament, will play 23 games and will compete in three tournaments during the course of their 1965-66 season.
