

Tournament Draws Ram Debators

Fresno City College debators will travel to Eureka tomorrow to participate in a Northern California Forensics Association tournament.

The tourney will be held on the Humboldt State College campus Friday and Saturday.

The team of nine FCC students who will participate in the tournament are Phil Barnett, John Black, Dolores Dade, Lonnie Hayhurst, Tim Mancini, Marty Nichols, Gary Owers, John Porter and Tom Stringfield.

Franz A. Weinschenk, coach of the forensics team, said most of the junior colleges throughout the western states will enter the tourney. Some teams from as far east as Battle Creek, Mich., are entered.

"This will be a very difficult tournament," Weinschenk noted. "However, we have done well in the past, and we're hoping we can do so again."

Some of the events scheduled for the tournament are in extemporaneous speaking, debate and oratory.

Two weeks ago the FCC debate team won first place honors for the best all-around team in a forensics tournament held on the Fresno City College campus.

Porter won an individual award when he placed fourth in the tournament with a total of 46 out of a possible 55 points.

Nichols received a certificate of excellence for placing in the tourney.

Schools that participated in the tourney were San Francisco State College, University of Southern California, University of the Pacific, Fresno State College, San Mateo College, Brigham Young University, Sacramento State College, West Valley College and Western Washington State College.

Exam Week May Bring Free Coffee

Free coffee may be offered to FCC students during final examination week Jan. 20-21 and 24-26.

Dale Lumsden, cafeteria manager, said free coffee will be offered to day and night students only if they will help keep the cafeteria area clean.

The approval of this plan came from the cafeteria committee in hope that this will be an incentive for students to remove their dishes and papers from the tables for the next two weeks.

The cafeteria committee will announce Jan. 20 if the student body is to receive free coffee.

Lumsden said it is now costing $45 per week to clean up after careless students.

"Food prices have not as yet been raised," Lumsden said, "but if it is necessary to hire additional help we will raise prices."

He said the free coffee consideration is being offered by the cafeteria committee this semester only and will not become a regular occurrence.

Rampage, Magazine Searches For Best Dressed Girl Of 1966

This year an FCC coed will have the chance to distinguish herself as one of Glamour magazine's 10 best dressed college girls.

The contest is sponsored by the Rampage. The entry forms should be brought to the Rampage office on the second floor of the student center no later than 12 noon, Thursday, Feb. 10.

The forms will be found attached to posters located at various places on campus and in the residence halls after Jan. 24.

A committee consisting of the heads of five campus organizations will interview the contestants Monday, Feb. 14, at 3 PM in Committee Rm. B of the cafeteria.

Upon completion of the interviews five finalists will be chosen by the committee.

The five finalists will be invited to a luncheon on Friday, Feb. 18 at noon when they will be able to meet the judges again and become better acquainted with one another.

Following the luncheon, FCC's representative will be chosen. She will be photographed in a typical campus outfit, an off-campus daytime outfit and a long or short party dress. The photographs will accompany the official entry form, which must reach New York by Mar. 7.

The candidates should excel in

Aliens Report

During January every alien in the United States must report his address to the U.S. government.

Aliens in this country on the first day of January of each year must report their address within 30 days to the commissioner, Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The alien address report card may be obtained at any post office. After the card has been filled out, it should be given to one of the postal clerks.

deft use of make-up, a good figure and beautiful posture.

If she is chosen as one of the 10 best dressed college girls in America, she will receive national recognition for herself and FCC.

She will also receive an all-expense paid visit to New York from May 30 to June 11 as the guest of Glamour.

Vote Wednesday

Candidates Petition For Office

Fresno City College students will be given a chance to exercise their voting rights next Wednesday when the polls open for the spring semester student body election.

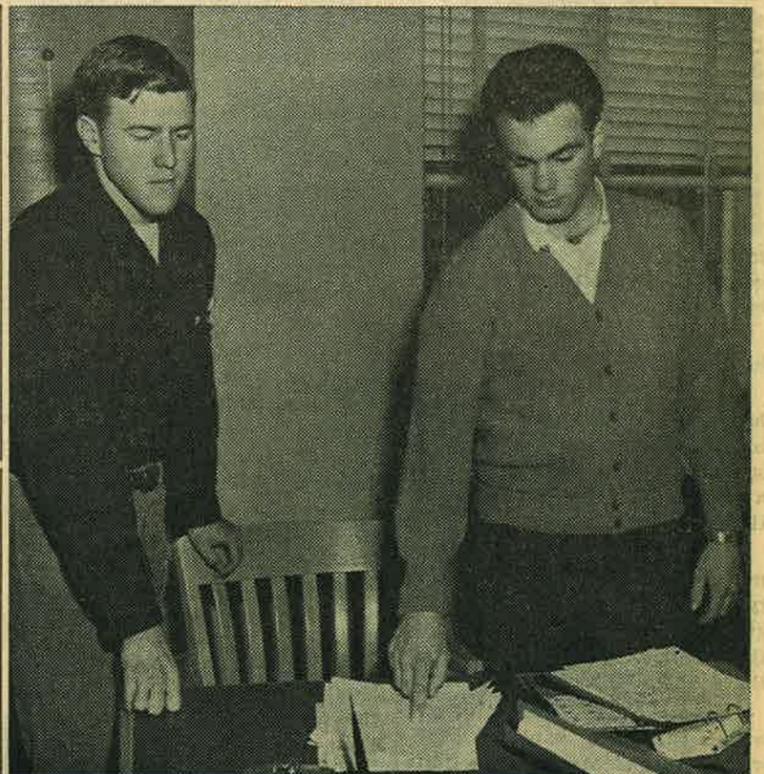

By Tuesday, 35 students had filed petitions for the 18 student body offices up for election. All petitions must be turned in to the admissions office by 3 PM today.

A candidates' breakfast is scheduled for 7 AM tomorrow in Committee Room B in the cafeteria. The breakfast will be open to all students who have filed for spring semester student body offices.

Eight students have filed petitions for the four major student body offices of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. Candidates for these offices are Michael J. McGinnis and John C. Porter, president; Bart L. Turner, vice president; Myra Aten, Suzanne Moxley, and Linda Cox, secretary, and Linda Wood and Nancy Bryant, treasurer.

Ron Winter is currently the only candidate for the office of Associated Men Students president. Until Tuesday, no Associated Women Students presidential candidates had been announced.

Students who will be seeking representatives at large posts include William M. Lawless, Wayne Nash, John Taul, Mike Frame, Louise Frame, Patty Weaver, Darryll Kahn, Terry Corbett, Janis Miller, Buddy Tackett, Diane Linebarger, Philip Nava, Pat Lane, Carol Andrews, Tim Hensleit, Co-lette Silva, and Jim Blocher. Twelve representatives at large posts will be up for election Wednesday.

Campaigning is scheduled to officially begin Monday at 12 noon, at which time all candidates will be introduced at a special nominations assembly in the auditorium. Each candidate running for any of the four major student body offices will be allowed a four minute acceptance speech.

The election will be held Wednesday on campus. Voting booths will stay open from 9 AM to 3 PM.

Council Receives Budget Revision

The budget investigating committee presents its recommendations for new budget procedures at the Student Council meeting Tuesday noon in the student lounge.

The recommendations were submitted to the budget committee for its members to decide which procedures will be changed. The Student Council will not formally review the report.

Some of the recommendations to be presented for council approval are:

● Campus organizations asking for appropriations must fill out new forms and have new procedures for preparing their tentative budgets.

● The budget is composed of five sections and each section will have its own budget request form.

● Each campus organization asking for appropriations must present a more detailed list of the properties it will purchase.

● These organizations will follow a new procedure to acquire extra money during the semester.

Better Procedure

LaCreta Poyer and Jim Shipman, non council members appointed by Ron Primavera, student body president, to serve on the committee, say this new budget procedure should have begun long ago because it will show just what each organization needs the money for and enable the council to better distribute the money.

"If the new budget procedures are approved by the council," Shipman said, "the deadline for turning in budget requests will then be decided."

Too Vogue

"In previous semesters all accounts used one standardized form which required only vague mention of why the money was needed."

He added that other information given to the Student Council include comparison forms which show the percentage of increase of each account over the past six semesters.

"Also included in the committee's report was a list of all ac-

Be Active By Voting In Student Elections

Next week Fresno City College students will have an opportunity to participate actively in student government by voting!

However, many students may decide not to take five minutes of their time to vote but will instead stay with friends in the cafeteria dining room drinking coffee and talking.

To students who have no intentions of entering politics, either now or in later life, elections are probably a formality in which their votes couldn't amount to much because the elected candidate usually wins by such a majority that their votes would be like one straw in a haystack.

Nonetheless, those who think it is unnecessary to vote should realize elections mean much more than just casting a ballot. Elections give them a chance to become active, participating members in student functions, not just bystanders. They give them a chance to look into school politics, meet candidates and try to push through ideas that correlate with their own.

Active interest now in student body elections helps to set a precedent for later years. They will make students aware of current events and enable them to keep up with the latest developments in state, national, and world affairs.

If students have ever complained about FCC not having enough student activities or of the parking space problem, now is their chance to voice an opinion. They may do this by voting for their student body officers who will represent them in student government.

Sleet, Snow Impairs Athletic Endeavors

"Brrr, it's cold out here!"

"Yeah, especially when you've got to go swimming when the temperature is a chilly 40 degrees."

Despite the wind, rain, mud and frost, FCC's determined physical education students marched outside each day to participate in the sport they enrolled in when the sky was blue and the month was September.

Little did Mrs. Shirley Stillwell's archery class realize that they would have to leap mud puddles to reach the shooting range or break the ice surrounding the arrows before removing them from the target.

Mrs. Margaret Tylor's tennis enthusiasts are determined that they are volleying with snowballs rather than tennis balls. And Miss Jane Shriner's students pretend they have only five miles more to swim through the dense fog before reaching the undeterminable shore.

Terry Lizotte, a seasonal sports student, said it took "sheer determination" to stay out on the football field to learn the fundamentals of football.

"It gets very cold sometimes," he remarked.

Students in Paul Cookingham's badminton classes wish that the birdie they bat around would somehow miraculously change into a bird of paradise and announce the arrival of spring.

Mrs. Georgene Wiedenhofer's modern dance classes have it pretty easy — they stay indoors. But even that barefooted jaunt across the open air foyer provides its fair share of chills and excitement.

"Even though it gets cold, cold with a capital C," said Mrs. Stillwell, "the students are doing quite well."

"Students," she added, "are allowed to wear sweatshirts and pants over their regular gym attire."

But just ask one of those students how much good that extra clothing does when that ol' north wind blows through them, driving out all natural warmth and depositing brisk coldness direct from the Sierras.

Skyros Girl Tells About Celebration

Greeks celebrate the New Year at the same time but differently than Americans do.

Maria Mavrikou, from Skyros, Greece, was interviewed to learn how Greeks celebrate the New Year. A first semester FCC student, Miss Mavrikou is a foreign language major and plans to teach a foreign language after graduation from a four-year college.

She said New Year's Eve in Greece is often spent at a party in someone else's house. Gifts are exchanged at this time rather than Christmas.

"The city joins the celebration by turning off the power for a moment at midnight," she said.

At the party a traditional cake with a charm inside is cut. Miss Mavrikou said the one who gets the charm, as she once did, is supposed to have good luck that year. She said it is also a superstition that the first person to visit a house on New Year's Day has bad luck.

The Greek upper-level educational system is different than the American, according to Miss Mavrikou.

"Technical schools, similar to FCC, are very common," she said.

Courses of study last from two to four years depending on the student's major. She said there are two universities in Greece, one in Salonica and the main one in Athens.

Miss Mavrikou feels that keener scholastic competition makes Greek students more serious about their education than many American students.

Paper To Viet Nam

A former Fresno City College student who is now in Viet Nam wants to receive the Rampage each week.

PFC Dennis K. Jacoby worked as a reporter and a news editor on the Rampage in the spring of 1964. He recently wrote to Mrs. Dee Roshong, a former FCC counselor, asking to be placed on the Rampage mailing list. Since Mrs. Roshong has retired Mrs. Dorothy Bless will be writing to him. The following is a copy of his letter: Dear Mrs. Roshong:

You probably won't remember me, but perhaps as you read on you will.

I attended FCC in the spring of '64 and you were my counselor at that time. I'm writing to ask you a favor (you probably get dozens of requests for favors). But I would appreciate it very much if you would see about having my name put on the circulation list of the Rampage.

Having once been a member of the Rampage staff and a member of the FCC study body, I would like very much to keep up with the current events.

At the present time I'm serving with the 11th Aviation Battalion in Viet Nam and I must say I wish I were elsewhere. But that's life I guess. If there is any question you would like answered about Viet Nam please feel free to ask it, I'll give you an honest answer. I'd tell you all about it now but you may not wish to hear about it. Also if there is any item I can send you from Viet Nam let me know. You know such as mosquitoes, snakes, heat and humidity, etc.

I hope you had a very Merry Christmas and I hope you have an equally nice and prosperous New Year. If you ever have a spare minute or two, you can spend it writing to me if you like. Mail is one thing we never get enough of over here in Viet Nam.

Thank you for your indulgence and whatever assistance you may have to offer. If it isn't possible for my name to be added to the Rampage circulation list please let me know. Take care of yourself and thank you again.

Yours always,
Dennis K. Jacoby

Jacoby will be receiving each week a copy of the Rampage.

Nursing Department To Graduate Students

Mrs. June Pool, a vocational nursing instructor, said the Fresno City College Vocational Nursing Department will graduate approximately 35 students Jan. 27.

After three semesters of school the students are eligible to take the state board examination to qualify for a license.

Students in the vocational nursing program spend approximately 23 hours a week training in a local hospital and eight hours of classes.

Theories Put To Use

"Here," Mrs. Pool said, "the theories they have learned are put into practice."

Students graduating from the three-semester program are Kimiko S. Mochizuki, Bobbi J. Martin, Carolyn Souza, Phyllis L. Sanders, Ruby Hamparzoomian, Valma Hess, Nell M. Rhine, Judith Lyon Churchill, Carole Jean Eberlein, Pauline Case, Dolores Elena Lopez, Carolyn Sue Shroeder, Roberta Clara Jackson, Wanda D. Woods, Lois E. Thomas, Lillie S. Hayes, Rebecca Mikel.

Others Are

Ugly Americans And Stuffed VW's

Vice, Snipers Infest Vietnam

A letter from Larry Rose, former Grossmont College student, to a faculty member at GC discusses a squalid war that he sees in Vietnam, where he is stationed.

Rose said he saw "Ugly Americans," drunken GI's on their way back to base, throwing beer cans at the Vietnamese.

"A few idiots in military uniform along with well publicized demonstrations by college pseudo-intellectuals at home can undo the work of thousands in making friends and allies of the Vietnamese people," Rose said.

VW Stuffing

Bill Carson, a student at Monterey Peninsula College hopes he has set a national record for Volkswagen stuffing. Carson donated his Volkswagen to challenge Mike Thompson's success in stuffing 16 people into his little German import.

Carson broke the record with 18 people and no casualties and no car damage.

Mixture Of Old And New In FCC Library

Although Fresno City College's library provides such modern conveniences as language labs, an instant photo copier and speed reading machines, it could easily be mistaken for a European castle or museum.

The building was completed in September of 1933 at a cost of $250,000 as a part of the old Fresno State College campus.

It was designed to conform to the Italian Renaissance style of the older buildings on the campus. The architecture of the building is that of Northern Italy, which is Romanesque influenced by Byzantine architecture.

A reference room is the main reading area of the library. It is 107 feet long and 50 feet wide with a ceiling height of 30 feet. The beamed ceiling is painted in contrasting colors.

The paintings, in narrative form, tell the story of the evolution of culture and civilization through various epochs of history. Incorporated in the design are portraits of Horace Mann, John Dewey, John Comenius and other educators.

Another feature of the library is the reserve room. Here students may check out periodical magazines. Listening tapes for various history classes are also provided.

Other areas of the building include two classrooms, a language lab, a listening room, display cases and the FCC Board of Trustees meeting room.

"When the library was first built, the board room was a browsing room for students," explained Jackson Carty, head librarian. "Since then it has been a faculty library, an office and the board room for the city unified school district."

The room is wood paneled with a fireplace.

"Our listening room is located upstairs," Carty said. "Individuals may check out tape recorders and record players to be used in the room."

Glass cases in the lobby are used to show student crafts and art work or to display items of interest to FCC students.

Rampage Promotes Groups

By VIVIAN JOHNSON

Many club activities are offered to Fresno City College students. In order to inform students of activities concerning different organizations I am requesting sponsors and officers of all clubs to appoint publicity chairmen.

The publicity chairman will then contact me, Vivian Johnson, club news editor, either in the Rampage office (Room 211 of the student center) or at home (229-1353). This would enable the Rampage to give better publicity coverage to all clubs on campus.

If your club wishes publicity for any one week, the information should be in the Rampage office by 1 PM on Mondays in order for me to meet my 5 PM deadline. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

Club Aids Project

Circle K, an FCC service club affiliated with the Kiwanis Club, will sponsor a drive to collect money for the March of Dimes.

The fund raising campaign will begin with a "crutch drive" on Jan. 15. Members will be stationed at all the shopping centers from 9 AM to 5 PM.

"From then on the club will sponsor three or four more activities for the March of Dimes," said Bill Parks, co-chairman of the drive.

Orien Willoughby, the sponsor of the club, said, "The whole success of this drive will depend on the participation of the students and the community."

Touring One-Act Continues

Pierre Patelin, a medieval farce presented by FCC drama students here last November, is going on the road with a new cast to surrounding high schools.

"This cast will be directed in the same manner as the first," Frederick Johnson, a drama instructor, said, "but will be performed with a slightly different approach due to the new players."

Sixteen performances with the new cast are scheduled from Feb. 8 through Apr. 19 at 10 high schools.

Cast

Francis Sullivan, Cheriè Franklin, Alex Hakobian, Larry Stocks, Peter Di Leo, Al Cirimele and Mark Atkisson are included in the new cast.

"The set was designed to fit any size stage," Johnson said. "In the high schools we played in with the first cast, we used everything from conventional stages to a gym."

Backstage

Students involved in producing the play are Ramona Burford, stage manager; Dan McGeorge, technician; and Jane Firebaugh, wardrobe mistress. Charles T. Wright, designer and technical director. Wright designed the set, costumes and supervised construction of sets.

A 15 minute performance by the FCC vocal ensemble led by C. Lowell Spencer, choral director, will also be included.

"We are offering the performances to provide live drama for high school students," Johnson said. "We hope to interest prospective music and drama students in the FCC programs in these fields."

The one-act play is being produced this year in addition to one three-act play in the fall and one in the spring.

Two members of FCC's surveying class gain experience by surveying the campus. There are 29 students in the year long class (engineering 1A and 1B).

Surveying Class Gains Experience

"Are they going to run a highway through the Administration Building?"

You may have asked yourself this after seeing Fresno City College's surveying classes practicing around campus.

Fred M. Green, an FCC engineering teacher, reports that 29 students are currently enrolled in his surveying classes.

There are two 3-unit surveying classes offered at FCC, Engineering 1A and 1B.

Equipment

"1A students learn to use the 100-foot steel band tape and how to use an engineer's level, a magnetic compass and the telescope known as a transit," Green said.

"The transit is more than a telescope. It measures horizontal and vertical angles as well as distances. It can also be used as a level and as a magnetic compass."

Green said that the transit is known as the universal surveying instrument and is the instrument most used by the surveying students.

He said that approximately 40 per cent of his classes are engineering majors and at least one-half are technical majors.

"Two-thirds of my classes are spent in field work, and consequently there are both written tests and a test given on the students' ability to use the surveying equipment," said Green.

Project

Green said that the advanced class provided all the markings for the Hoover High School track, which is going to be used in many junior college track meets.

"We have staked out residential lots for the building of homes," said Green.

Operator Assists Students

"A good memory is important to a PBX (private board exchange board) operator."

This is the contention of Mrs. Floanne Hunter, Fresno City College PBX operator, who operates 10 incoming lines and 68 extensions.

Mrs. Hunter, who has had no formal training as a PBX operator, has worked at FCC for four years.

Husband

She is the wife of Burl Hunter, an orderly at Fresno County General Hospital.

Mrs. Hunter also operates the lost and found department.

Students should report any loss of articles and turn in items found on campus at the switchboard desk, Mrs. Hunter said.

Sweaters, keys, pens and pictures are the most common articles turned into the PBX desk.

A dozen eyeglasses collected over a three year period were given to the Salvation Army for distribution last August.

Letter

Mrs. Hunter said the most unique article turned into the PBX desk was the first page of a letter dated in 1908 with the masthead of a Houston newspaper. She traced the letter to an elderly man living on San Pablo Avenue, whose name she has since forgotten.

Mrs. Hunter is relieved during her breaks by Mrs. Beverly McFadden, a clerk and typist at FCC, and during her lunch hour by Mrs. Louise Najarian, the secretary of John McCuen, dean of instruction.

FCC-COS Tilt Will Open Valley Conference Action

By HOWARD SAIKI

Retaining a league crown might be too big of a bite for some teams to chew after losing four players from the starting lineup through graduation, but Coach John Toomasian's cagers are not going to give up the Valley Conference crown that easy if they can help it.

The VC champions will travel south tomorrow to invade the home of the Giants of the College of the Sequoias of Visalia, starting at 8 PM in the COS gymnasium.

The Rams are led by 6 foot 3 inch, 190 pound forward, Bobby Lee. He is currently the leading scorer with 247 points. Lee can be assisted by diminutive guard Jimmy Hart Polk, who has chipped in 184 points to help the CC team in scoring.

The CC followers will see Paul White and Donny Ray Slade in action as they will try and control the backboards for the locals as they have gathered in 122 and 96 rebounds.

Ken Delpit, a 5 foot 10 inch guard will guide the offense for the Rams. If needed Delpit can give the Rams an outside scorer as he has proven by the 157 points he has scored.

Coach Toomasian can call on Floyd Sanders, John Rouanzion, Lloyd Sanders, Jack Redford, Andy Wulf and Ransom Kennedy if he needs to use his benchmen.

The Giants are coached by Tom Gilcrest. He is in his second year at the helm for the COS Giants.

The Giants are counting on veteran Dan Shelly and James Reid to lead their fast breaking offensive team.

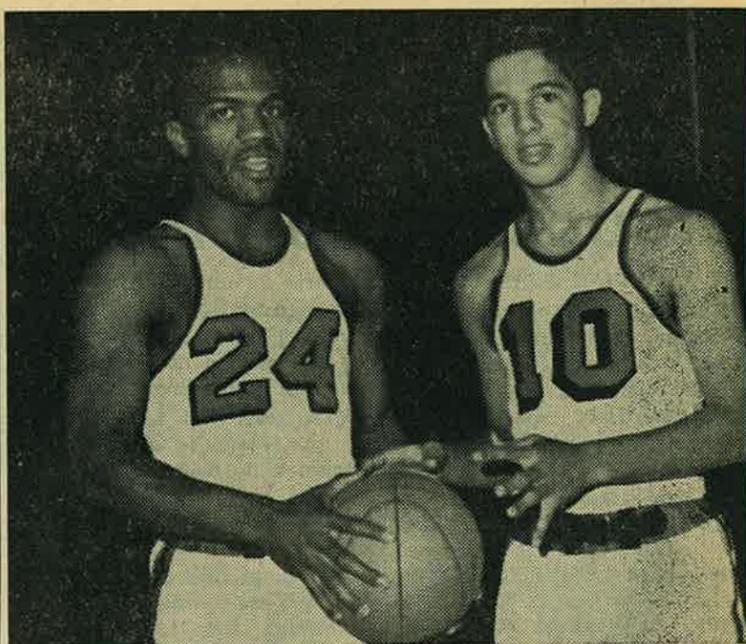

Rounding out the starting lineup for the Giants will be 6 foot 6 inch center, Terry Hardin, a freshman from Tulare Western, Dan Jensen, a 6 foot 1 inch guard, from Mt. Whitney High, and Jay Adams, 5 foot 9 inch guard from Redwood High School in Visalia.

During the holiday, the Rams were entered in two tournaments but failed to win them, but they did not lose any stature of kind since they were outsize. In the Modesto Tournament the Rams lost to San Mateo College and City College of San Francisco by the score of 76 to 64 and 76 to 66.

In the Hancock Tournament the Rams were outmanned and out-sized but they did come through as they defeated Monterey Peninsula College 88 to 77. The loss to Foothill College was mainly due to that the Owls were connecting on 62 per cent of their shots. The Rams played great ball even though they lost a heart breaker 80 to 78. Last year's Tournament champion team, San Jose City College Jaguars just barely slipped past the Rams.

Slade, White Lead Rams Over RC

By VERNON PETERS
Rampage Sports Editor

The Fresno City College Rams overcame a dismal first half performance Tuesday night to down the Tigers of Reedley College 86 to 72 in the FCC gym.

Sparking the second half comeback were freshman forward Don Slade and second-year center Paul White. Slade was good for 18 points via eight field goals, and two free-throws, while White hit on eight field goals and four free-throws for a total of 22 points.

Although the score was tied 34 to 34 at the half, play in the first two quarters had not been the Rams desired way to begin the new year. The Rams hit on only 12 of 42 fielders for 29 per cent.

Ram Coach John Toomasian described his men's second half comeback as a matter of "pride." Apparently the Rams know their potential for they hit on 23 of 42 shots, good for a 55 per cent average. Unlike the first half the Rams were able to use the fast break to their advantage and keep their momentum going.

Toomasian was pleased with the play of Slade, an all-metro star in high school last year: "Don was the inspiration we needed after our slow start. Without a doubt it was his most complete and best game of the season. FCC fans should see him blossom into a real star this season and again next year."

Slade turned in an excellent performance of stopping Reedley's Les Festeso in the second half. Festeso was RC's top scorer with 23 points, most coming in the first three quarters.

Toomasian also had praise for center White: "Paul's been doing his job well on defense all season, but this game he finally got his chance to show his offensive ability too."

DOCTOR, LAWYER, OR A LOT OF GRIEF?

Grief is graduating with a B.A. degree and no idea of what to do with it. A lot of grief is graduating with a B.A. degree and the wrong idea of what to do with it. And wasting the most important years of your life discovering (the hard way) that you chose the wrong career.

Enrolling in our Campus Internship Program now could save you a lot of grief at graduation. How? By giving you the opportunity to become involved in —not just exposed to—life insurance sales as a career. You learn life insurance as a profession, from a professional. You put what you've learned into practice, and find that a life insurance sales career pays off in dollars as well as a sense of satisfaction. By graduation, you know what you're going to do with that B.A. degree.

We're old pros at saving graduates a lot of grief while they're undergraduates. And we can prove it.

Matmen Set For JC Tournament; Eye VC Opener Next Weekend

The Fresno City College wrestling team will be in San Luis Obispo tomorrow and Saturday to participate in California State Polytechnic College's wrestling tournament for junior colleges.

The Cal Poly tournament, the largest junior college meet in the United States, will be the final tune-up for the Rams as Valley Conference action begins next week.

Ram Coach Hans Wiedenhofer stated that there will be about 50 teams from throughout the state participating in the tourney, including all the members of the Valley Conference.

El Camino Favored

Wiedenhofer estimates that FCC should be one of the leading contenders for the title while El Camino Junior College should be the team to beat. El Camino was the highest placing JC team in last month's tournament at UCLA.

Other strong contenders are Cerritos College, Bakersfield College, Diablo Valley College, College of the Sequoias and Grossmont College.

Rams Beat OCC

The Rams brought their season record in dual meet competition to 3-1 Dec. 17 with a 26 to 16 win over Orange Coast College of Costa Mesa in the FCC gym.

Rams Fred Contreras, Roger McClaughry and Ben Brase scored pins in their matches to lead the FCC scoring.

Contreras, wrestling in the 115 pound class, pinned OCC's Raul Duarte in six minutes and 20 seconds.

In the 123 pound class Ram

Phil Wells and Orange Coast's Bill Harris battled to a 3 to 3 draw.

John Geyer of OCC, last year's state JC runnerup in the 130 pound class, scored a surprising 11-0 shutout win over Ram Carlos Gayton. Gayton was the winner of the 130 pound class in the UCLA tourney in which Orange Coast also competed.

Roberts Wins

Louie Roberts of FCC decided OCC's Bob Barrett 5 to 1 in the 137 pound class to gather in his first win since his switch from football.

In the 145 pound class Orange Coastman Mike Parkison eked out a 6 to 4 decision over Ram Ron Lott, while in the 152 pound class FCC's Lonnie Patterson was returning the favor with a 13 to 12 win over Dave Hunter.

Ram Tom Opperman was the victim of the only Orange Coast pin as Jim Hodge felled him after five minutes and 40 seconds. Hodge was first runnerup in the UCLA tournament.

Rams Finish Strong

Al Binatina, wrestling at 167 for the Rams, squeezed out a narrow 2-0 win over OCC's Terry Lorentzen.

In the 177 pound match FCC's Don Gilbert lost a 3 to 1 decision to Orange Coast's Ray Naylor.

McCloughry set the pace for the last two matches with the pinning of OCC's Jerry Milford with four minutes and 47 seconds elapsed in the 191 pound bout. Heavyweight Brase followed McCloughry's example with the pinning of Pete Lane in less than four minutes.

Second year men wrestling for FCC are: (top row) George Peverill, 123 or 130; and Fred Contreras, 115; (bottom row) Roger McClaughry, 177; Bill Arthor, 191; and Ben Brase, unlimited.
