Fresno High Students Attend FJC Classes

Sixty-eight Fresno high school students are spending half of the school day at the Fresno Junior College in vocational training classes, Robert P. Hansler, FJC trade and industrial education coordinator, announced yesterday.

Hansler said 42 of the students are from Roosevelt High

24 FJC Delegates Attend Confabs

Fourteen faculty member and ten students of the Fresno Junior College went to Bakersfield Saturday for two conferences at Bakersfield College.

President Thomas A. Blakely and 12 FJC faculty members participated in the fall conclave of the Central California Junior College Association.

The students and Joseph King, FJC student council adviser, attended the central regional meeting of the California Junior College Student Government Conference.

Meanwhile, another student, John Mullins, was in Stockton for the northern regional meeting of the student government conference. This conclave will be held at Stockton College.

In addition to Blakely and King, faculty of the Fresno Junior College who were in Bakersfield Saturday were Mrs. Mildred Botsford, Mrs. Irma Flannery, Mrs. Edna Hartley, Ethel McCormack, Willa Marsh, John Mock, Paul Mueller, Mrs. Hazel Pedersen, Floyd Quick, Mrs. Phyllis Spencer, Gertrude Stubblefield, and Meriam Tervo.

Marine Corps Invites FJC To Train Cadets

President Thomas A. Blakely said that the Marine Corps commandant in Washington had invited FJC to institute a training program for officers in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Dr. Blakely has written General Cates, the commandant, that FJC

Washington High Band Plays At FJC

The Fresno Junior College has invited the Washington Union High School of Easton to send its 70-piece band to play for Thursday night's football game in Ratcliffe Stadium between FJC's Rams and the Stockton College Mustangs.

The invitation was accepted by George Nixon, director of the high school band. Nixon informed Joseph King, FJC student council adviser, that the band would parade before the game and during halftime.

Arrangements for the appearance of the high school band at the junior college football game were made by a member of FJC's student rally committee, Kenneth Wright.

King said that the junior college plans to invite other high school bands to play for future sports activities at the Fresno Junior College during the current school year.

Tentative arrangements are being made to have high school bands play for the Rams' games with Monterey Peninsular College November 2 and with Taft Junior College November 17.

Nixons said the Washington Union High School band will play "Salutation" as it parades around the Ratcliffe turf. It will open the pregame activities with "The Star-Spangled Banner."

During halftime the band will play "Our Director," "On Wisconsin," "Mr. Touchdown," "Truly Fair," and "High School Cadet."

The Washington High School band will bring its own drum majorettes, Nixon said.

Thomas Belden, FJC rally committee chairman, announced that the eight junior college pep girls and two yell leaders will cooperate with the visiting band to lead the FJC rooting section. The yell leaders are Jackie Walters and Clinton Wheeler. The head pep girl is Carol Johnson.

X-RAYS SCHEDULED

The mobile chest X-ray will be here at the south side of the school, near the chemistry lab, on Wednesday, October 31 and Thursday, November 1.

FBLA Picks Joanne Hiebert As New Semester President

The Future Business Leaders of America held an election of new officers Monday in N-35. President is Joanne Hiebert.

Betty Gunderson, past president of the organization, presided over the meeting. Several members of the club spoke to the group. The main theme was "The Importance of Becoming a Business Leader."

George Bramlett said, "The importance of college education, new methods and new ideas must be kept in mind in order to adapt ourselves to better business positions and adjust ourselves to the business world."

Other student speakers were Eleanor Anderson, Richard Soares and Martin Jachens.

Jachens stressed his belief in Ideals of American Government. "The United States is a great land of opportunity, for everyone is given a free chance to reach the top.

Rams Take On Stockton At 8

By SAL LOPEZ

Fresno JC Rams will encounter the mighty Stockton Mustangs tonight at 8 in Ratcliffe Stadium.

The Mustangs feature an unbeaten and very tough squad. With four wins and two tied, the Mustangs will be out looking for win number five against the Rams tonight. This will be the Rams toughest opponent in the four years of competition they have had.

Just barely squeaking by a stubborn Modesto squad, Stockton remained unbeaten and strengthened its claim as the No. 1 JC team of Northern California with an enrollment of more than a thousand.

Stockton College completed only two passes during the night but the second was good for a last minute touchdown which was the deciding factor of the game.

The final score — Stockton, 19; Modesto, 13. The pass thrown by quarterback Bob Gillespie to end Bill Hoppe broke the ice. It was a 13-13 tie up until the last few seconds of play.

The Rams are not in the same class with the Mustangs; going into the game tonight, the Rams will be the underdogs. Last year Stockton rapped the Ram eleven, 39 to 14.

The Rams still remember the lacing they took last year and are gunning for an upset. The Mustang regulars are big, rough and pretty rugged.

Coach Hans Wiedenhoefer reported Babe Obradovich will be in action tonight. Obradovich has been out of play for the last two weeks.

Coach Wiedenhoefer is counting on every man on the squad to do his best in order that they may hold the opposition down and continue in the winning column.

It seems that injuries are always hampering the Rams. Big Harry Spence will miss action tonight due to a throat infection.

Faculty Club To Sponsor Picnic Saturday In Park

FJC's Faculty Club will be hosts to the annual fall picnic of the Fresno Junior College faculty and their families Saturday at 4 p.m. at Palm Point in Roeding Park.

Charles Coffman, club president, said that T and I instructors would prepare the food.

Joe Drilling Sparks FJC Rally Today

The weekly pregame rally held this morning was climaxed by the appearance of Joe Drilling, KMJ sports announcer, as master of ceremonies.

Featured acts by student performers highlighted the rally. The pep girls and cheer leaders led the FJC students in yells, and the pep band played during the singing of the alma mater.

The increase in size of today's rally should mean an increase in the rooting section tonight. Ratcliffe Stadium, 8. See you there!

IVCF Plans Friday Party

A Hallowe'en party will be held tomorrow night, October 26, from 7:30 to 11:00. This party is being given by the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, and will be held in the social room of the Ramble Inn. Any member of the student body is invited.

Those on the planning committee for the party are Robert Colburn, Garry Pimentel, Don Ebel, Kamia Peterson, Eleanor Anderson, and Gladys DeVore.

The group held a Bible study meeting October 17 and have had a prayer group ranging from seven to eleven people every morning from 7:30 to 7:50 in room M-11.

The officers of the club are Eleanor Anderson, president; Kamia Peterson, vice-president; Ruth Dick, secretary; Robert Colburn, treasurer; Catherine Lowe, publicity chairman; Don Ebel, reporter; Lucile Christensen, song leader; and Larry Hackett, pianist.

The faculty adviser of the group is Dr. Lucile Williams.

FJC Freshman Wins Fair Prizes

Robert "Bob" Larsen, freshman student at Fresno Junior College, entered three Poland China pigs at the Fresno County Fair.

His boar (aged class) took first place; another boar (senior class) placed second; and a senior class sow won third.

An agriculture major, and a native Fresnan, Bob has a total of eleven pigs. Active in sports at Central Union High School, he played football for three years, track for three years and baseball one year.

RAMPAGE NEWS EDITOR CALLS FOR SCHOOL SPIRIT

Congratulations to Ken Wright for his fine work on this morning's rally! Ken also secured the Washington Union High School band for the game this evening. Keep up the good work, Ken!

Thanks also to SB Prexy Ward Longueville for his cooperation every time we need some information. And to Karl Oyer, Bea Ciesielska, and Stan Wilson (the big guns behind much of the conference planning) for their work.

Because there are no sororities or fraternities here at FJC, many of you should have more time to devote to the school, and to the support of its activities. What about rooting at the game, or coming to the rallies, or writing a story or two for the Rampage each week? We could use a few reporters and no experience is necessary.

A student body card is one of the soundest investments that can be found anywhere these days, with the prices up and the money down. Just think of the many games throughout football, track, basketball and baseball season at which you could use a student body card. Those alone would more than make it worthwhile, let alone the dances (?) and other affairs. Why not buy one? It will make you a direct member of the FJC student body, and a person to whom the elected officers must be responsible.

The friendliness of this school never ceases to amaze me, and it is commendable. In how many other schools — both smaller and larger — do you find the same close friendships and good will? Very, very few, believe me. But why not do something valuable with the same spirit — such as being on committees and helping the big wheels around campus produce the assemblies, etc.?

—Tere Robinson—

The President
Says

Pres. Thomas A. Blakely

Two weeks ago I told you how the administration is striving to improve campus parking and that we are attempting to have the one hour restrictive signs removed from the east side of O Street in front of our building.

The Board of Education unanimously approved my request that it ask the Fresno City Commission to rescind the city ordinance which placed the one hour signs on O Street.

This morning at 9 the City Commission was due to act on the Board's request. I plan to be there in person, and property owners across the street from FJC's building have signed a petition to have the signs removed on their side of the street. I hope the Commission acts to remedy this situation.

I want to congratulate the FJC students on the excellent care they are giving our campus and grounds. I have noticed few papers and other trash around the campus — things that mar the appearance of other college campuses. Thanks for the good school spirit, and please keep up the good work!

Speaking of the care of our campus, I would like to make a personal appeal to all FJC students to be careful of the tables, chairs and other equipment in Ramble Inn. A few students have put their shoes where they do not belong, and a few other such actions have detracted from the fine appearance of the Inn. Please help us keep it the attractive place it is.

Fresno Bee Story Gets Fast Action

A testimony on the "drawing power" of a story in The Fresno Bee was made by Violet Eleazarian, vocational nursing instructor at the Fresno Junior College.

The Bee ran a six-paragraph story to report that the FJC vocational nursing class had adopted a new type uniform. The article mentioned that there were still openings in the program for more students.

Within a few days, Miss Eleazarian said, eight women who saw the story in the Bee applied for entrance to the course. She said that the "after effects" of the story has boosted the enrolment in vocational nursing to 30, which is the maximum which can be accommodated.

Miss Eleazarian said the junior college will accept applications for the vocational nursing program for registration during the fall of 1952, but she said that no further enrollment could be accepted this school year.

SERIOUS MATTER: How would you like it if we had no football team? You wouldn't? — Then, why the heck don't more of you attend the games? — Tonight the pigskin is really going to get a workout when we play against Stockton so let's really support our team by showing up!

YUK: Once upon a time, a very dirty boy attended a certain school. One day the teacher sent the boy's mother a note saying that she ought to bathe him oftener, as he was not clean. The mother sent the teacher a note in reply, saying: "My boy, Freddy, ain't no rose. Don't smell him! Learn him."

MUSICAL NOTE: One of our students (not to mention any names) claims that the new record "Gambella" is named after him! He says he's collecting royalties already. Ha!

STOLEN YAK: A drunk lying on the floor of a bar began to show signs of life, so one of the customers smeared a little limburger cheese on his upper lip. The drunk arose slowly and walked out of the door. In a few moments he came back in. Then he went out again, only to return in a few more minutes.

Shaking his head with disgust, he said, "It's no use. The whole world stinks."

Help Wanted!

Urgently need 25 to 30 junior college students to aid in badly needed promotional and organizational scheme. The purpose of this group will be to contribute ideas and material aid to a campaign to publicize the Honor Society; to make it more attractive by substituting a social atmosphere for the "BRAIN" flavor (?) which has always been associated with such groups.

If you are interested and have a grade point average of 2.0 or above or have belonged to the California Scholarship Federation, please come to Room M-11 on Monday, Oct. 29 at 12 o'clock. We need your help.

Rams Beat Porterville JC

The Fresno Junior College Rams defeated the Porterville Junior College Pirates, 32-7, in a hard-fought football game last Thursday night in Ratcliffe Stadium. The Rams and Pirates were in a nick and tuck battle in the early minutes of play. With FJC receiving the opening kick-off, the game got under way. Winston Beasley fumbled the ball momentarily on the kick-off; this caused a little excitement in the Rams' rooting section.

Ronnie Chapanian plunged for six yards, only to be called back on a penalty. With three consecutive penalties and their backs to the wall, the Rams elected to boot. With the ball on their own 40, the Rams started a drive which was never stopped until they hit pay dirt when quarterback Bob Rodgers scored on a bootleg play from the 18 yard line.

On the attempt for the extra point, Williams was stopped. In the second quarter, defensive halfback Tom Crocker intercepted a Ram pass and went all the way. The Pirates conversion was good. They thus led momentarily in the second quarter.

On the kick-off the most spectacular play of the night game was executed when halfback Ward Longueville returned the ball for a T.D. to tally again for the Rams on a 95 yard sprint.

The Rams lashed out a ground attack that smothered the Pirates' forward wall, although the Porterville backfield was a constant threat to the Rams.

Gilwitz and Rosales were stopped effectively with a tricky defense set up by Coach Wiedenhofer of the Rams. The FJC line, led by tackle Neville Crane and guard Kieth Tucker, aided by defensive halfbacks Halvorsen and Longueville, played a rugged game.

FJC Has 326 Veterans Enrolled, Emmert Says

Less than 30 per cent of the Fresno Junior College's 1150 students are veterans, Keith Emmert, veterans coordinator, said yesterday.

Emmert announced that the junior college has 326 veterans enrolled under the G.I. Bill and Public Law 16, the Rehabilitation Bill.

Only 66 of the veterans receiving federal subsistence are day school students, Emmert said, or less than 10 per cent of FJC's day-time registration. During the years immediately after the war the percentage was about 50.

Emmert said that 260 of the veterans were enrolled in evening classes in the college's trade and industrial division. These include 80 in trade preparatory courses and 180 in the apprenticeship training program. FJC has no students enrolled under the California G.I. Bill.

The 66 day school veterans include 60 enrolled under the provisions of Public Law 346, the G.I. Bill, and only six under Public Law 16.

He announced that he has received a letter from Robert P. Shields, regional manager of the San Francisco regional office of the Veterans Administration, which said that 45 per cent of veterans enrolled in the Fresno Junior College and the Fresno State College will receive their subsistence checks by November 1. Seventy per cent will get the checks by November 9. All but five per cent will have their payments by November 23 and all but one per cent will get the checks by December 7.

Three FJC Faculty Go To Conference In Modesto

James E. Weldon, FJC trade and industrial education chairman; Keith Emmert, apprentice training counselor; and Robert P. Hansler, trade and industrial education coordinator, recently attended the Central California Industrial Administrators Conference in Modesto.

A 76-page report presented was entitled "Labor and Education;" it was given by S. L. Fick, chief of the state bureau of trade and industrial education.

PROPHETIC? — This picture was made at the end of last year's pigskin game with Taft JC, which the Rams won by a 33-12 margin to win the conference title. FJC plays Taft Nov. 17 in the last game of 1951 for the conference crown again — no doubt — since Taft walloped COS 47-20 last week.

More Students Needed In Carpentry Course

Merle Sons, instructor in carpentry and mill cabinet, told the Rampage yesterday that he needs more students in his carpentry class.

Students in the class have taken part in several projects this semester. They include building a new tool room for the shops, constructing a glassed-in partition for radio broadcasting, erecting a storage room for the electrical shop, and building storage racks for lumber and plywood.

Marketing Class Plans Speakers

J. B. Williams, sales manager of the Hill Feed Company, talked to the Fresno Junior College marketing class recently on the operation of a San Joaquin Valley feed concern.

Williams was invited to address the class by Stanley Bennett, marketing instructor. Bennett said other speakers are planned, and the class will make field trips to such plants as the one Williams represents.

Bennett said the marketing class has 22 students. They meet three hours weekly Tuesdays and Thursdays to study marketing principles, policies and functions.

The course also includes consideration of price policies and controls, trade channels, merchandising, market research, advertising and competitive business practices.

The carpentry course meets from 1 to 4 p.m. daily, while Sons' mill cabinet class meets from 8 to 11 a.m. daily.

"The carpentry class is a small one but a busy one," Sons pointed out. "If students see FJC students looking through telescopes and wonder what they are doing, they will be seeing students in my class learning how to level a building."

The Board of Education has allocated $7000 for the carpentry and other shop classes to build a house, Sons said plans are being made to start on this project during the fall semester and that it will continue during the spring semester.

Students in the mill cabinet class are building bookcases, chests of drawers, cedar chests, and desks, as well as doing wood turnings such as fruit bowls and table legs.
