CITY SCHOOLS carpenters Gerold Tarvin and Jack Bracich (pointing) explain the plans and incompleted construction of Fresno Junior College's new radio production lab to Jerry Turner and Joyce Wilson.

Fresno Junior College Radio Studio Is Near Completion

A year's work in planning and making specifications, both in class and out, is now taking concrete shape in the form of a radio studio in M46. The studio is a joint project of students and faculty members of Fresno Junior College.

Actual construction of the studio is now underway. Costs of building have been cut approximately 60 per cent by using reclaimed lumber from old city school buildings.

The three-unit structure, when completed, will consist of a small announcing studio, a larger main studio, and a control room. Large glass windows will permit easy vision into and out of the three rooms.

Students of A. E. Sullivan, engineering instructor, made the actual layout and specifications. Bob Mobley, a student, put the final plans on paper.

Students of Louis Kozub, radio instructor, will install, maintain, and operate the equipment, which is already on hand. Mr. Kozub took an active part in determining equipment requirements for the new studio.

Station managers and chief engineers of Fresno's radio stations have agreed to act as FJC's Radio Activities Advisory Board. Station managers are Hal Brown, KMJ; Clyde Coombs, KARM; Gene Chennault, KYNO; and Paul Bartlett, KFRE.

Chief technicians are Bill Williams, KMJ; Elbert Dean, KARM; Bert Williams, KYNO; and Keith Mealy, KFRE.

All plans have been approved by the board and all members have pledged cooperation and support of programs and use of local radio station broadcasting facilities.

The studio will be used by students who enroll in the course, Principles of Radio Broadcasting. The class will be taught by Joe King, and no pre-requisite, other than approval of the instructor, will be required.

The course will cover reading and writing commercials, mike technique, continuity writing, and program production. Programs originating at FJC may be aired over any Fresno station.

Experience in using actual radio equipment will be available, in addition to Mr. King's students, to Mr. Kozub's students, who will have the opportunity of maintain-

Council Will Hear Committee Report On SB Card Cost

A report is due today at the Student Council meeting, on the proposal to lower the price of Student Body Cards. At last week's meeting there was much debate on the subject; finally the matter was given to the Budget Committee for study.

It was proposed that the cards be lowered to $7 for the fall semester and $6 for the spring.

The Budget Committee is comprised of Marie Lipscomb, chairman, Louis Ingraham and—until his departure into the armed forces—Norman Dewaney. An appointment to replace him is forthcoming.

If this plan were adopted, some council members believe, it would cause an increase in the sale of the student body cards and the overall income. Other members believe that the anticipated increase in sales would not match the income derived from cards sold at the present price of $8.50, even though fewer cards are sold.

One council member pointed out that the Information Center Chart posted in the Dean of Student's office shows that Fresno Junior College is near the top in the price charged for student body cards.

The Information Center Chart was compiled by San Francisco City College surveying various student activities of junior colleges. Forty-nine California junior colleges were included in the survey.

JCers Will Take Charge Of March Of Dimes Booth

Fresno Junior College students will man the Milk Bottle Booths in front of Potter's Drug Store on Fulton Street as they have in past campaigns, announced Miss Willa Marsh, Dean of Students.

Students will work in teams of two, three hours at a time, during the four opening days of the March of Dimes drive, January 15, 16, 17, and 18. After the four days, students from the Fresno City High Schools will take over.

Work will be done on a volunteer basis and anyone interested in representing FJC should contact Miss Marsh in her office as soon as possible.

Student-Faculty Group Works On New Constitution

A new constitution will be presented for adoption by the Associated Student Body organization early in the coming semester, Student Body President Duke Poters announced today. A two-third vote will be necessary for ratification.

The old constitution, which was drawn up while the holdover Fresno Technical High School students were still in the building, no longer applies to present conditions in the junior college.

The combined student-faculty committee working on the constitution include Dr. Thomas Blakely, president; Harold Sanderson, dean of men; Joe King, radio and speech instructor; Potere; Bob Sani, student vice-president; Marie Lipscomb, treasurer; and John Mullins, Associated Men Student's president.

Dr. Blakely Talks At Assembly

Dr. Thomas Blakely, Fresno Junior College president, in his speech to students and faculty at the nominations assembly Friday, January 5, emphasized that Fresno Junior College is still a going institution.

As proof that there has been no curtailment of activities at FJC, Dr. Blakely pointed out that the number of courses offered this year shows an increase over last year, that the number of teachers this year is greater than last, and there will be more issues of the paper this year than last.

In spite of the present world condition and the fact that many students have dropped out of school to enlist in the armed forces, present enrollment stands at 582, he reported.

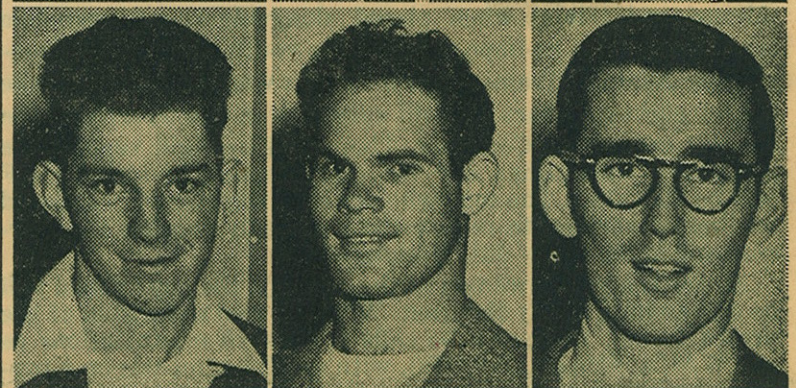

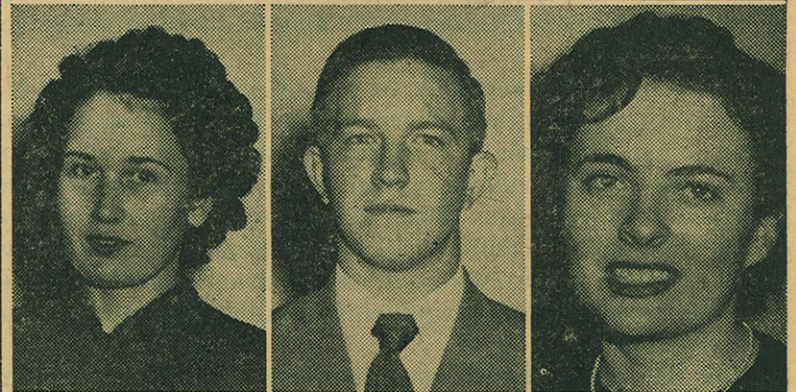

In Dr. Blakely's opinion, it is to the best interest of every student to remain in school as long as possible, whether he goes into a gainful occupation, on to a four-year college, or into the armed forces.

EMPHASIS ON EDUCATION

He stated that FJC is prepared to take its part in preparing citizens for the present national emergency, and that in addition to helping build and maintain combat strength, America's educational institutions must prepare the oncoming generation for life in a changed world.

In addition to armed might and preparedness against attack, America needs courage and faith in herself, Dr. Blakely believes. A realistic attitude and calm appraisal of the world situation will help to differentiate between essentials and non-essentials and to determine how best to carry on the ordinary and necessary activities of life at present.

PRINCIPALS in the election next week will be (top) representatives-at-large candidates Jim Telegan, Sid Wilson, Harry Kachorian, and Ward Longueville. In the second row are Marie Lipscomb and John Mullins, candidates for president, and Rowena Campbell, lone secretary nominee. Bottom is Bill Davidson and Joe Spino, vice-president hopefuls, and Louie Ingraham, running unopposed for treasurer.

Little Campaigning Is Evident As Student Body Vote Nears

The polls will be open next Monday and Tuesday, January 15, and 16, for the election of officers of the Associated Student Body for the spring semester. All members of the Associated Student Body are eligible to vote.

The candidates are, for president, John Mullins and Marie Lipscomb; vice-president, Joe Spino and Bill Davidson; secretary, Rowena Campbell; and treasurer, Louis Ingraham.

There are no hotly-contested issues in the election, and campaigning has been quiet. Both candidates for president have been active in student government.

CANDIDATES STATEMENTS
Mullins said in a statement today, "If I am elected, I will try to represent students to the best of my ability and try to build student spirit. I will work with the student council to strive to make Fresno Junior College one of the top junior colleges in the state of California."

Miss Lipscomb's statement was, "If I am chosen president, I will carry out to the best of my ability

Petitions For AWS Spring Offices Due Tomorrow

Tomorrow noon is the deadline for filing petitions for Associated Womens Student offices, announced Kathleen Morey, vice president of the organization.

The rush on filing, according to Miss Morey, was necessitated after the group decided to hold the election in conjunction with the student body elections next Monday and Tuesday.

Petitions are available and must be returned to Mrs. Irene Stewart, Registrar.

The following are qualifications for running for AWS office: Be an active member of the Student Body Association and of AWS; carry a minimum of 12 units of work at FJC with an average grade of at least C, with the exception of the president who must have a B average; must not hold class or student body office; must have completed one semester of work at FJC.

Lois Tvede is the retiring president of the organization.

PROSPECTS FOR 1951

It is not the intention of this writer to attempt to make a prophecy of the exact events that will occur in this newly-born year, or to predict the dates of the momentous trials that will confront us in the near future. On the contrary, this is merely my interpretation of the general trend of things to come.

This year will certainly be one of unprecedented sacrifices and un-certainties. There will be price and wage controls, but at this time it is difficult to ascertain to what extent these controls will be applied. There is to be less civilian production in numerous lines, and the washing-machine, refrigerator, and automobile will be replaced on the assembly lines by tanks, planes, weapons, and thousands of other items that are essential for the equipping of millions of service men and women.

The above mentioned home front sacrifices will appear minute and trivial when placed alongside the tremendous tasks that are to be imposed upon the youth of America. Compulsory Military Training for all males who have reached the age of eighteen years old will surely be in the agenda of the current session of Congress. There will be rigid regulations governing exemptions and the classification of men as 4-F will be abolished. The men who are handicapped will be placed on limited service, to relieve the physically capable for overseas and other heavy duty assignments.

As for the young women of the country, the days ahead will be demanding, to say the least. With the vast expansion of the armed forces, there will be calls from such organizations as the WAC's, SPARS, WAVES, with special emphasis on a program to induce women to enter the various nurse corps.

The nucleus of the voluminous task that we have undertaken will be formulated this year and during the next score of years we will live by, and carry out, the policies and plans that are being drawn up at this very moment.

As we enter the doorway of this most trying year, it is my firm belief that all is not lost and that all hope for a world free of the shackles of slavery has not vanished from the road ahead. But we cannot afford to be unprepared for the most unfavorable of all plagues that has haunted man-kind since the beginning of time . . . War! May we all have the strength to face this situation as it really is, not as it should be, or could be.

It is my opinion that nearly every one of our statesmen, by sounding his individual bugle, has attempted to warn the masses of what can happen to this old world if we revert to a policy of international laissez-faire. We must not allow ourselves to become so accustomed to hearing the low notes of these horns or we will surely fail to hear the high note of attack, if it should come.

—Avrice Morgan

ONLY MEMBERS SHOULD VOTE

The measure on the ballot in the student body election Monday and Tuesday does not make sense. It would permit students who are not members of the Associated Students organization to vote in all student body elections.

No constitution ever written permitted non-members to vote in elections of the organization for which it was written. Fresno Junior College should not be an exception to this.

Changing requirements for membership to the Associated Students of FJC would be a much better way of permitting all students to vote.

Members of the Associated Students are bound by the constitution. Why should those who are not governed by it have voice in its functions?

Aliens are not permitted to vote in elections in the United States or in any other country, and for very good reasons. Elections are for citizens of the country and members of the organizations to which they belong. Democracy is based on this fundamental fact.

If it is not democratic for students to be prevented from voting because they do not have a student body card, then possession of a card should not be a requirement for membership.

Civilian, Military Job Preparation Stressed By Dean

By HAROLD SANDERSON
Dean of Men

What are you qualified to do?
A lot of thinking should be done about preparation for the job that you are going to be asked to do in the near future, whether it be in a military or civilian capacity.

It is the opinion of many people who experienced the last war that any education in some specific line of work is invaluable in placing a person in the type of work he desires.

An example of this was forthcoming from a former student at this school a few years ago. The student, an 11th grader, was irregular in attendance and likewise lax in attention while he was in radio class. Both his instructor and I, (as dean of men at the time) through constant effort, persuaded the boy to stay in school. After a year and half in the radio course, the boy quit school to join the navy.

A year later I received a letter from this erstwhile student thanking me for keeping him in school and thanking the radio instructor for pounding some information into his head.

The navy had taken him in and had sent him to Pearl Harbor in a communications set up that was very much to his liking; he attributed this "break" in assignment to his radio training.

The moral of the above is that you must have something to sell in order to be wanted for the job—whether it be civilian or military. Take advantage of some type of training and as much of it as possible before attempting the job.

Class Schedule Revisions Listed

A number of changes in the pre-registration schedule were announced by Mr. Maurice Reetz, Dean of Instruction, early this week.

Before completing preliminary plans for pre-registration the Dean suggested that students consult their advisers for a complete list of the schedule revision.

Some of the more important changes are as follows:

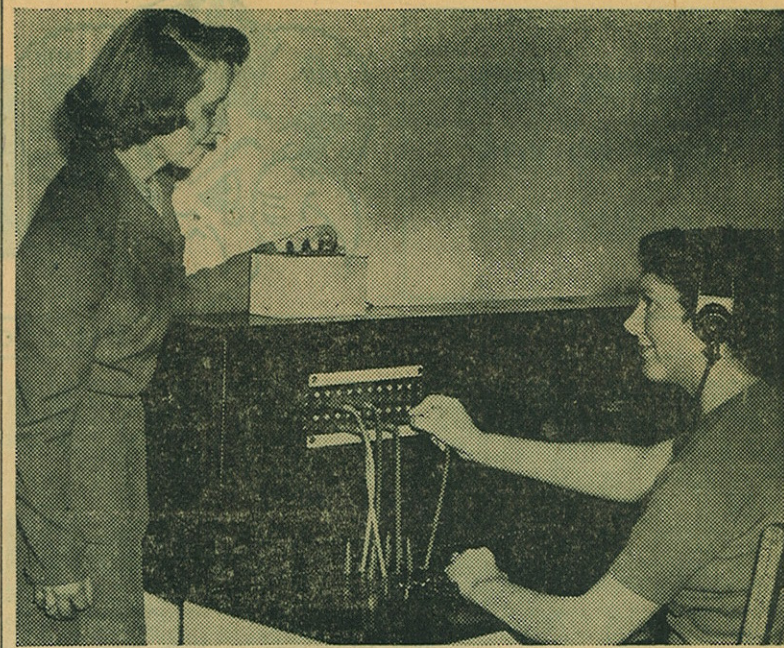

H. Ec. 1a-1b, Elementary Foods, T-Th 1-3 p.m.; H. Ec. 2, Bachelor's Course, T-Th 11a.m.; H. Ec. 2 Brides' Course, MWF 1 p.m.
Engl. A, not offered at 9 a.m.; Engl. 80, daily 1 p.m.; Engl. 2b, English Literature, MWF 9 a.m.; Engl. 18a, Modern Communication, daily 10 a.m.; Engl. 18b, Modern Communication, daily at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.; Engl. 18c, Oral Communication, T-Th at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

PRACTICE on a "live" switchboard is now possible in the PBX course offered by the Business Education Division. Mrs. Dorothy Gossett, instructor, observes as Margaret von Moos performs a call routine.

PBX Class Gets Live Board

A live switchboard with standard equipment and flashing lights is now available for use in the PBX classes offered at Fresno Junior College.

Classes will be open in the spring semester daily at 11 and Monday through Thursday at 5:45 to 7 p.m. They are six-week, one-unit courses that will equip students to operate the conventional switchboard. Mrs. Dorothy Gossett is the instructor.

The switchboard has two sets of controls so that two people may operate it at the same time. The board was bought at a surplus store and converted to use by Mr. Louis Kozub's radio class. The board apparently had come from Honolulu, as it was set up for use in Hawaii.

the duties and obligations of the office. With the co-operation of the faculty and administration of FJC, I will work at all times for more and better student activities and more public recognition of FJC as a going and growing institution."

NO COMPETITION

The four candidates for representative-at-large were unopposed. Ward Longuville, Jim Telegan, Sid Wilson and Harry Kacholan will take the oath of office at the installation assembly next week.

There is a proposed amendment to the constitution on the ballot. It reads: All members attending Fresno Junior College and carrying 12 or more units shall be eligible to vote. At the present time only members holding student body cards are eligible.

TWO BOOTHS

The election booths will be located near the entrance to the Ramble Inn and in the archway connecting the main wing with the north annex. Student Body Cards do not have to be shown to vote but each person will have his name checked from a master list. Persons whose names begin with A through M will vote in the north annex, while those with N through Z will vote in the lower corridor at the Ramble Inn, stated Bob Sani, election board chairman.

Both Sani and Student Body President Duke Potere hope for a good turnout of voters. "Let's all vote and make this a good election," stated Potere today.

The polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. on both days.

New Courses Are To Be Offered In Spring Semester

Four additional courses will be available to Fresno Junior College students this spring semester, bringing the total number of courses open to 263, Mr. Maurice Reetz, dean of instruction, announced today.

Courses added are Economics 2, Problems of San Joaquin Valley; Economics 3, Economic History of United States; History 30, California History; and General Studies 2, Introduction to Physical Science.

Economics 2, a 3-unit course, will be open MWF at 11-12 a.m. This course will be a survey of the San Joaquin Valley and its economic problems. It will include the extent of, and the development of, the irrigational systems, transportation facilities, agriculture growth; in addition, such problems as the 160-acre irrigation limitation law will be studied. With the growing importance of cotton development in the San Joaquin Valley, time will also be spent on a study of the economic problems from the cotton development.

Economics 3 will be a study on the history of the US from an economic standpoint. Such fields as the vast development of the railroads and their effects on economy, the increasing manufacturing strength of the US, and the economic changes coming from the rise of mechanized agriculture will be investigated. Economics 3 will be open MWF at 1 p.m. Mr. Stanley Bennett, economics instructor, will teach both courses.

History 30, a two unit course to be taught by Mr. Noel Frodsham on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10, will be a concentrated study of California History. It will cover the state's growth beginning before the gold-rush era and continuing to the state's present standing as the number two state in size and population.

General Studies 2, a three unit course, will be taught by Mr. Richard Jones on MWF at 11 a.m. It is a non-laboratory course with lectures on the fundamentals of physics, chemistry, astronomy, meteorology, and geology.

Two Hour Final Exams Are Planned By Office

Fresno Junior College will have two-hour final examination periods this semester for the first time since the beginning of the school.

Examinations in all classes will be conducted from Monday to Thursday, January 22-25 inclusive. Final grades will be posted with the registrar in the library before 3 P. M. on Friday, January 26.

The schedule for all examinations is printed above.

WANT GRADES MAILED?

Students who wish to receive their fall semester grades by mail may leave self-addressed envelopes with the registrar, Mrs. Irene Stewart, at the main office anytime before January 26.

FJC Offers Job Training Courses To School Seniors

Beginning with the Spring semester, a half or full day program of intensified Trades and Industrial Training or Business Education will be made available to a limited number of Fresno City high school seniors.

Students enrolling under this program must have the recommendation of a high school Industrial Arts or Business teacher or counselor; they must have good citizenship records, and must complete academic requirements for graduation at the high school.

English Entrance Exam Scheduled

The English and Reading Classification examination for new students and other students who have not qualified in English A will be given on Saturday, January 27, at 9 a.m. in the Library.

Mr. Paul Mueller, head of the English department, will administer the test. He announced that the examination has two purposes: to determine the student's assignment to English classes, and to discover specific areas in the subject in which he is weak.

LOOSE ENDS by Arvise Morgan

The New Year youngster came charging down the path of time, hot on the heels of the old gentleman who was just vanishing over the horizon of a very tired 1950. But as our bounding bundle of mythical myth paused to peer through the open door of the year '51, he gave a cry of dismay, and said, "Man this is not for little ol' me," and started to run the other way . . . however, he stopped, reconsidered, and decided to give us a brand new year after all, instead of making us retread the one that had recently departed.

Oh, man! What in the world happened to California, the U. of Texas, and the powerful Sooners of Oklahoma in the bowl games of New Year's Day??? As usual, I lost my shirt and a few additional items of clothing by placing a small wager on the Golden Bears; however, I was able to retain my dignity by cutting two arm holes in a G.I. blanket and pretending that I was a foreign ambassador from Reykjavik, Iceland. Bur-r-r-r!

The first hit tune of 1951 will be a sequel to "Don't Cry Joe" . . . This new tune is titled "Don't Sob Bob, She's A Slob."

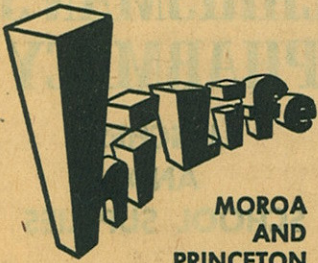

There must be a shortage of actors in Hollywood these days 'cause James Stewart can be seen talking to a six foot tall invisible rabbit in the cinema flicker, "Harvey."

A sure way to make $30,000: Print a story in a leading newspaper, stating that Miss M.T. sings like a deflated tire (flat), and you will receive a ?!@ note from H.S.T., which in ten years will be worth a fabulous sum of loot.

My word for the week: The lowly porcupine, with his deadly quills, is a gentlemen of the forest, and he attempts to live peaceable among his friends and neighbors. But when an evil force invades his burrow and tries to annihilate him he is always prepared to meet such an attack. Our leaders should take a lesson from mother nature and use the lethal weapons that we possess as wisely and sparingly as the porcupine, but at the same time keeping the realization in mind that an attack can materialize at any moment.

Hoopsters Break Even In Tourney Play At Modesto

"One and one"—One win and one loss, is the standing Coach Paul Starr's Rams made at the All-California Junior College Basketball Tournament held at Modesto last week.

In the first game the Rams were matched against a top-notch five, the Hartnell Panthers from Salinas, California. The Panthers had to come from behind to take this one, 62-55. The Hartnell five are rated high in JC basketball circles after they won the championship title of their own invitational basketball tournament, held at Salinas last month.

BEAT VALLEJO

The Rams matched their first game loss by overpowering the Vallejo JC Cagers the following day, 63-57. The FJC five kept the game well in hand and commanded a 30-16 lead at halftime.

In the Fresno-Hartnell court tilt, the Rams held a 29-27 half-time advantage, but the tall Panther five came from behind in the latter part of the game to take a seven point lead.

FOULS HURT

The Rams had to finish the last minutes of the game short three first string men, who left the game on fouls. Hartnell went on to take a win, 62-55.

DISPLAYING the gold basketball he was awarded after being named on the all-tournament team at Hartnell recently is John Nielsen, FJC center.

BASEBALL WORK STARTS FEB. 5

The old familiar cry, "batter up", will soon be heard again as Coach Stoney Johnston announced today that baseball practice for the Fresno Junior College ball team will start February 5th.

Coach Johnston asks all F.J.C. men planning to sign up for the school team to consult him for additional plans before February 5th, if possible.

A team member will be able to receive 2 units of credit for participation by taking PE41. This course is a daily three hour course from 2-5 P. M. Before making a change of program to work in this course, consultation with Johnston at the PE office is suggested. This course is optional.

Blind Musicians To Give Concert

A Hammond Organ Concert by a blind musician will be given at an assembly next Thursday at 11 A. M. in the south gym.

The National Transcribers Society for the Blind, a non-profit charity organization will bring the program to the junior college. A demonstration of the Braille system of writing and the steps in making books for the blind will be given.

Pierce Knox, blind xylophonist who appeared with Horace Heidt last year, was one of the musicians who the Transcribers Society sponsored in the past. Knox appeared at this school in 1940 and 1941.

Ram Five Beats FSC Frosh 68-60, In Crowd-Pleaser

The Fresno Junior College Rams evened up the score with the Fresno State Bullpups during the Christmas vacation by beating the Frosh 68-60. Both teams show one win and one loss in their scheduled three game feud.

Coach Paul Starr's cagers kept the scoring well in their favor during the first half of the game, and held a half-time lead of 34-25.

The second half developed into a close, nerve-straining dual. The Rams, stubbornly holding a 9-point lead at half-time, had to give up part of their hard-fought advantage as the inspired Bullpups steadily closed the gap.

BASKET FOR BASKET

With three minutes of playing time left, the Ram's lead was seriously threatened as the State cagers edged up to within two points, 58-56. JC forward Willie Perry pushed in a swisher, easing the tension for the Rams. Mitchel Richmond then capitalized on a foul and stretched the JC lead to 61-56. But the Bullpups matched this as R. L. Benson hit for 2 points and Hugh Shafter followed with one making the score 61-59.

LAST MINUTE THRILLS

The Rams saw their two-point lead lessened to only one as Froshman Barnes made good his awarded free throw shot, making the score 61-60 with only 60 seconds remaining.

The Fresno JC five, who held a steady lead throughout most of the game and now holding a slim one-point margin, came through in the last seconds of the game, scoring 7 points in quick succession. The final score was FJC 68 - FSC 60.

FJC forward Don Davis boosted is game average to 18.6 by leading the field with 25 points. Frosh forward R. L. Benson followed up with 21 points.

The Summary:

Stockton Mustangs Outplay Rams 68-42 In Tuesday Tilt

The Fresno Junior College Rams suffered their second defeat of the season at the hands of the Stockton College Mustangs, Tuesday night by the score of 68-42.

The Rams were definitely caught off stride by the Stockton quintet who moved into an early lead and never once faltered. The favored

Mustangs held a considerable height advantage over the shorter Fresno crew and Stocktons impressive team work kept the game well in their favor.

Coach Paul Starr's cagers, who normally can exhibit an impressive show of dead-eye shots, just couldn't find the hoop in the first half and were able to drop in only 4 field goals to Stockton's 15 during the first 30 minutes of play.

Fresno did better in free-throws by completing 11 against Stockton's 5. Stockton lead at half-time by the score of 35-19.

The Mustangs kept things rolling in their favor during the remaining half with two of their lanky centers, Lee Kaupke and Ted Romanoff putting on a flashy show of controlling the backboards.

Ram forward Don Davis, lagging behind his normal performances, still was able to tie for high point honors. Davis completed 7 out of 8 free throws plus 4 foul shots, giving him a 14-point total which tied with Mustang center, Ted Romanoff's 14 points.

League play which ends March 2, will consist of five home games and five away games. In addition the Rams will play two other teams, Bakersfield College at Bakersfield and a third and last game with the Fresno State Frosh.

The planned games with Ventura JC and the California Poly Freshmen have been cancelled leaving an overall total of 24 games for the season.

Twelve or half of the scheduled games have already been played, and the Rams have won 4 and lost 8. Fresno's outcome on the remaining twelve games stand very unpredictable. With COS, Reedley and Taft all boasting impressive teams and not leaving out the possibilities of the Porterville and Coalinga teams, Fresno will have no easy task in posting a 50-50 record.

FBLA Sponsors 'Personality-Skill' Panel Discussion

Four people who once attended the Technical High School, which was in the present Fresno Junior College building, returned to take part in an informal discussion of "Personality Versus Skill" at a meeting of the Future Business Leaders of America, Tuesday at 7:15 p.m. in the social room.

The four people and the firms for which they work are Virginia Byrd, Hunter Scott Advertising Agency; Pat Mastro, Penny-Newman Grain Company; Janet Drieci, County Council Office of the District Attorney's Office; and Bill Ryckman, Roberson-Martin Company.
