

FJC Rams To Play Bakersfield

The gauze-swathed and splint-riddled Fresno Junior College Rams will take on the third non-league opponent, the Bakersfield College Renegades, Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Ratcliffe Stadium.

Coach Hans Wiedenhofer has really been having his share of troubles these past few days as he has been running his charges through their paces prior to Saturday's tilt with the Renegades.

Following last week's heart-breaking battle with the Modesto Pirates, the Rams have been nursing the many battle wounds, which may cause the loss of end Ray Baker and fullback Carmen Eanni for the rest of the season.

Others nursing wounds were halfbacks Johnny Souza and Bill

Smith. Also end Nick DeLiddo is working over a badly swollen ankle, while quarterback Gil Starkey is mending from rib bruises.

Tackle Charles Ratliff has been working off a bad leg, and guard Dick Yecny is mending from a painful hip injury. Fullback Jim Travis is still recovering from a shoulder injury suffered during the Ram's initial contest.

The Ram's hopes are bolstered somewhat by the return of Millard Hampton to the lineup. Hampton saw some action in last week's Modesto game and at times showed fine form. Also joining the squad was John Murdock, who will strengthen the end position. Murdock was a standout performer at Edison High last year.

According to Wiedenhofer, who saw the Bakersfield eleven beat

Glendale 27 to 0 Saturday night, the Renegades are really loaded. He had high praise for fullback Cuen and quarterback T. H. Lockhart along with backs Nick Smith and Gene Fitzgerald of the Renegades.

Two weeks ago Bakersfield College's potent squad scalped the Stockton College eleven, 18-7. Last week Stockton College defeated Los Angeles City College, 47-12.

FJC Moves Classes Back To Campus

Fresno Junior College is scheduled to have a unified campus Oct. 12 for the first time since September 15, 1952, when two wings of the old FJC building were condemned because of earthquake damage.

Members of the Fresno City Board of Education inspected the 13 new portable bungalows yesterday afternoon along with President Stuart M. White of FJC, Superintendent Edwin C. Kratt and three assistant superintendents.

Board members present included Mrs. Margaret R. Robinson, president; Arthur L. Selland, vice-president; and George M. Turner, Dean James M. Mallock is ill, while Mrs. Geraldine R. Wheeler is in Europe.

White announced yesterday all FJC classes except two shop courses and some vocational nursing subjects will meet on campus Oct. 12 if no further delays are encountered.

The shop classes at Edison High School and the nursing courses at Fresno County General Hospital regularly are scheduled off campus. FJC has been using classroom space in the Memorial Auditorium, Dickey playground and several churches since the two wings were condemned and while the bungalows were being constructed.

FJC was able to use part of the bungalows during the first two weeks of the semester, and last Monday the music and art classes, which were meeting off campus, were moved to their portable buildings.

Subcontractors began building sidewalks and parking areas on the campus this week.

The buildings were originally scheduled to be completed by August 28th, but because of several strikes the completion was delayed by more than a month. They were built by Hopkins and Son, a Fresno firm, on a low bid of $93,336 and will be used by FJC until it moves to a permanent campus.

The certificates were presented by Stuart M. White, the president of the college, at a ceremony in the FJC library.

Enrollment Hits 1,788, Tops 1952

With late registration continuing, Fresno Junior College today has 1788 students enrolled for day and night class, 349 more than at this time last year.

The 1788 total includes 1014 students who have completed registration for day classes.

President Stuart M. White of FJC said the 1014 day students, which include 150 high school students who attend FJC shop classes three hours daily, show the largest increase. At the end of the second week of the fall semester of 1952, the day total was 795.

White said night students now total 784, compared to 634 a year ago.

The 784 evening students include 432 in apprentice and trade extension classes, 72 in pre employment shop classes, and 280 in business and general education courses.

The 864 junior college students in day classes is the largest 13th and 14th year classes in FJC's history.

Erwin A. Dann, an assistant superintendent of the Fresno City schools, spoke on Satisfactions Through Service. He stressed the urgent need for vocational nurses to be trained for employment in hospitals, doctors' offices and homes all over the United States.

Mrs. Edythe M. Gordon, student speaker, spoke on Team Relationships in Nursing Care. She emphasized the need for vocational nursing, the hospitals' need and the importance for the vocational nurse to get along with all personnel, particularly the trained registered nurse.

Mrs. Anna Thompson presented the class, and Rev. Floyd L. Hawkins of the Full Gospel Tabernacle pronounced the invocation and benediction.

In addition to Mrs. Gordon, Nancy Beatriz, Mrs. Iris Bland, Norma Cole, Mrs. Neva Jeffries, Mrs. Lola Schroeder, Mrs. Nancy Stickels and Mrs. Helen Turney received certificates and pins.

Dr. Elred J. Renk, a former social worker for the Fresno County Welfare Department, is now teaching Spanish, English and remedial reading at Fresno Junior College.

Renk, who plays the guitar, sings and writes music in his spare time, is a former member of the Fresno State College faculty. He did his undergraduate work at the Idaho College in Idaho and has a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Washington.

Dr. Renk said, "I think FJC is terrific. The majority of the students are much more sincere than the jaded, sophisticated campusites one is apt to meet in some colleges where students are, on the whole, better off financially."

He is married and has an eight-year-old son. Dr. Renk replaces Dr. Maurine LaCaff, who resigned last spring.

Rams Lose To Modesto

Long Passes And Runs Aid In Defeat Of FJC

A first half one touchdown lead by Hans Wiedenhoefer's Fresno Junior College Rams did not seem to dismay the Pirates of Modesto Junior College, as they combined an 80 yard run with two long passes to score three touchdowns in the last half to defeat the Rams 19 to 12 in Ratcliffe Stadium last Thursday night.

Sparked by the passing and running of Ram quarterback Gil Starkey, the Rams got off to a fast start as they scored early in the first quarter on a pass from Starkey to end Nick DiLiddo.

Starkey played the leading role in setting up the score, when, following an exchange of downs between the two teams after the opening kickoff, he carried the ball on two consecutive plays from his own 37 to the Fresno 48. Here he handed off to Johnny Souza, Ram 140 pound halfback, who wiggled for 9½ yards before being dragged down.

Starkey then toted the pigskin around his own right end for 16 yards for a first down on the Modesto 25. Fullback Carmen Eanni and Starkey bucked the middle of the line for two straight plays for no gain. Starkey then stepped back and fired a beauty to halfback Bill Smith, who carried the ball to the Modesto 3 yard line. Smith lost two and Starkey's pass to Di Liddo was incomplete.

Eanni lost two more, and then Starkey hit DiLiddo, who was standing in the end zone, with a 10 yard pass for the initial score of the contest. Smith's kick was wide to the right of the goal posts. MODESTO TAKES LEAD

Early in the third quarter the Modesto Pirates tied the score when fullback Bill Beasley grabbed Starkey's 55 yard punt on the Modesto 20 and wiggled, reversed and ploughed his way through the entire Ram team to ramble for 80 yards and the tying touchdown. The attempted conversion by Gene Peterson was blocked.

The Pirates scored again a few minutes later, when Arlo Wandstrand intercepted Lee Storelee's pass on the Modesto 43. Two plays later George Pickney tossed to Peterson, who was standing all alone on the Ram 30. Peterson ran untouched for the score. This time Peterson's boot was good to make the score 13-6, Modesto.

RAMS SCORE IN 4TH QUARTER

A fumble and a wild pass attempt to an illegal receiver by Modesto end Dave Malinoff set up the second Ram touchdown on the Modesto 33, when the Pirates lost the ball on downs. Fullback Millard Hampton bucked for five and then for one. Quarterback Starkey then gave the ball to Souza, who carried to the Modesto 5. Hampton scored on the second play from here; however the Rams were off-sides and the score was nullified. Smith smashed through for five; then Hampton carried again and scored the Ram's second touchdown; Smith's kick was no good.

The Pirates took advantage of another break to score their final touchdown. Starkey fumbled the ball on a pass attempt, and the ball was recovered by Modesto tackle Ted Edling. A few plays later Wendstrand went over the goal line standing up. Peterson's conversion try was no good to make the score 19 to 12, Modesto.

Halfbacks Souza and Smith were major ground gainers for the Rams during the contest with quarterback Starkey breaking away on several occasions for long gains and connecting with some fine passes. Fullback Hampton showed brief flashes of last year's form. Charles Ratliff and Dick Yecny turned in fine performances at the guards, while Tex Rankin, Nick Cippaglia, Gene Backman, and Don Kloppenberg played a fine brand of ball on the line.

Stan Beasley and Peterson were consistent ground gainers for the Pirates as were quarterbacks Ray Dellavecchia and Pinckney with their long passes.

Rams Suffer Many Injuries

By DON SHROYER

Although the Fresno Junior College Rams fell victim to the Pirates of Modesto Junior College last Thursday evening, the fans of FJC should not feel disappointed over the loss.

Coach Hans Wiedenhoefer pointed out that the Rams were up for the LA game. He feels the team turned in an outstanding performance for the LA game and cannot be expected to turn in the same kind of performance just six days later. A lot of the fellows on the team were still trying to recover from injuries suffered during the LA contest.

Wiedenhoefer pointed out also that the tackling by the Rams during the Modesto game was poor, but he said he couldn't risk adding any more names to the already long injury list by having rugged tackling drill this week.

Future Jobs Polled In Orientation

By MARGARET SISNEROS

Polling 100 students in his three Fresno Junior College orientation classes on their vocational preferences, Archie Bradshaw, FJC director of guidance, found auto mechanics the most popular field, with teaching and law tied for second.

The largest number of students, 13, however, said they were undecided in the selection of a vocation. Students indicated an interest in 23 professions or vocations, including two who said they wanted to prepare for a career in marriage and one who wants to be a professional dancer.

Bradshaw said 43 of the students said they planned to transfer to a four-year college or university, while 28 indicated they would complete their education at the junior college. Eighteen were undecided and 11 failed to answer the question.

The students also stated that sports, photography, music, dancing, cooking, and sewing, fashions, cattle raising, art and model airplanes are some of their added activities.

In church preference, 20 students are non-sectarian, 19 are Roman Catholics, 13 are Methodists and 13 failed to answer the question. Other faiths were Baptist, Church of Christ, Presbyterian, Lutheran, Jewish, and five others.

The 13th grade has 473 students as compared to the 14th grade of 219 students.

Men, it will be harder to get a date this year since there are only 210 women on the campus and 482 men trying to get dates. If you already have that one-and-only, keep her! Because a good woman will be hard to find.

Girls, if you don't have a date or are not going out it isn't due to the fact there aren't enough to go around—try chlorophyll.

College Has 184 Veterans

Keith Emmert, the Fresno Junior College veterans' coordinator, today reported the school has 184 veterans registered for the fall semester, including 152 ex-GIs who served in Korea.

The total figure shows a decrease from last year at this time, when there were 201 enrolled. Two years ago 326 were registered.

Emmert, however, pointed out the total Korean veterans constitutes a marked increase over the 75 enrolled for the fall semester of 1952.

FJC has only 26 students attending under the GI Bill, seven of whom are in day classes and 12 in night courses.

Veterans receiving state assistance total but two, while eight FJC students are registered under provisions of the federal rehabilitation act.

Program Change Ends Tomorrow

"Fresno Junior College students are reminded that tomorrow is the last day to add courses for credit in the office," stated Mrs. Lena A. Fuller, FJC registrar.

Students may change their program providing that proper petition procedure is observed.

Courses added after the end of the third week are added on an audit basis only. Credit may be allowed for such courses by petition at the close of the semester.
