Organizations Nominate Their Queen Candidates

Four organizations have nominated one of their members to be a candidate in the basketball queen contest, which is to be decided on the number of season tickets to FJC's basketball games sold by each candidate and their club.

LIBRARY STAYS OPEN WEDNESDAY EVENINGS

Fresno Junior College's library will be open Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 beginning January 6, the first time the FJC library has maintained night hours.

Jackson Carty, the librarian, said the new hours will be designed to accommodate both night students and day students who want to use the library in the evening.

Meanwhile, Carty has announced the library now contains a total of 6,000 volumes, including about 5,000 separate titles.

Nearly 500 books have been added to the shelves since last May and more than 300 others are on order. The library subscribes to more than 100 magazines and newspapers.

To provide for new acquisitions, the library has added new shelves to hold nearly 700 books. A vertical file system is also being extended to permit enlarging the library's collection of pamphlets and brochures.

Carty said the library is also increasing its collection of bound volumes of periodicals, including popular, news, scientific and educational magazines.

Bradshaw Reveals Examination Dates

Archie Bradshaw, FJC director of guidance, announced yesterday three examination dates for students entering FJC for the first time in the spring semester.

Bradshaw said the English classification test for new freshmen will be given from 2 to 4 p.m. January 4 and again from 9 to 11 a.m. January 23.

Mental aptitude tests for women applying for entrance to a year's program in vocational nursing are scheduled from 1 to 3 p.m. January 13.

He said the English test is required of all regular entering students. However, no student is allowed to take the examination if he has previously taken it in any college or university or if he has taken a course in English A.

Applications for the vocational nursing program, which begins February 2, are now being made in the office of James E. Welden, chairman of FJC's trade and industrial education division.

All the examinations will be given in the FJC library by Bradshaw.

The Rampage is seeking additional students on its staff. Any student wishing to join the staff should preregister with his adviser or see Phil Smith, Rampage adviser, during January 4 to 29.

The student newspaper offers FJC students experience in advertising, circulation, business, reporting and editing.

Cage Team Faces Rough Schedule During Holiday

By DON SHROYER

There is no rest this Christmas vacation for the Fresno Junior College basketball squad as they find themselves scheduled to meet three separate opponents and participate in the Hartnell cage tourney in Salinas over the school holiday.

First on the list of scheduled opponents for the Rams is Stockton Junior College, which is hosting the Rams there tomorrow night. The following evening the Rams will play host to the Sacramento Junior College quintet on the Yosemite Junior High hardwood.

The Rams will take a one day rest over Sunday and return to action on Monday evening, when they begin playing in the Hartnell tournament. If the Rams continue to win as they have in the past, they possibly will play there every day from Monday through Wednesday.

A rematch contest is slated with Bakersfield on December 30. This game will be the finals for the 1953 year. The Rams will take a breather after this tilt and not return to action until after classes have reconvened.

The Rams will begin league play on January 15, when they are slated to meet Taft Junior College in Taft.

The 1953-54 cagers, composed almost entirely of ex-Edison High cagers under the guidance of ex-Fresno High Coach Joe Kelly, have high hopes of a very successful season this year. Kelly has been working hard with his charges, and they have been rapidly whipping their fast break into a smooth operating setup.

Rampage Staff Takes Christmas Vacation

"The next issue of The Rampage will be issued on January 14," stated Haruo Yamaoka, editor.

During the Christmas holidays there will, of course, be no paper, but publication will again resume after the vacation.

The Rampage staff wishes you an enjoyable vacation, a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Christmas Celebration Brings Long Vacation

The big Christmas rush is here! With it comes the last minute worries of getting presents and the most important thing MONEY.

Since the Yuletide brings along with it the problems of financial and emotional difficulties, (Will he or she give me a present?) the administrators have excused all of the students for two weeks.

We hope that during this time you will attain spiritual understanding and an unshakeable devotion toward your fellow men.

We of The Rampage staff wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Candidates Must Have Necessary Requirements

Freshmen, how many of you are running for a student body office? We are sure that you have the necessary requirements to hold any office except the office of president. For this you must have attended Fresno Junior College for one year.

The other requirements are you must have a student body card and you must carry at least 12 units and have a C average.

It's a little too late to petition, but you can still organize a nomination group and speak your piece at the assembly, January 8 at 11:15 in the library.

Who knows? You may be the next treasurer or representative at large.

Red Key Offers Scholarship Fund

Red Key's scholarship fund of $25 a semester and the qualifications required for the receiving of it were set up by members in their meeting Monday.

The qualifications are that the applicant be interested and active in student affairs. He must not be receiving another scholarship or going to school with government aid.

He must also have attended junior college for two semesters, with not less than 12 units a semester toward an AA degree, with a two point grade average.

The money will be administered through the financial secretary for school activity cards, towel fees, and books by purchase orders signed by Red Key president and sponsors of Red Key. The student is eligible for this scholarship only one semester.

Applications will be judged by the Red Key president, vice president, secretary, and sponsors. A "no" vote of two from the member judges and one from the sponsors will disqualify the application. Miss Willa Marsh, dean of students, will act in an advisory position.

Newman Club Will Have Snow Party

The Fresno Junior College Newman Club's snow party will be held at Big Stump on January 10.

Al Herrera, president of the Newman Club, announced tickets for the snow party will be on sale in the main hall.

After skiing and tobogganing, the lunch will include fried chicken, salad, bread and coffee.

"The snow party is to encourage more of FJC's Catholic students to join the Newman Club," Herrera said.

F. J. Svilich is the adviser.

Globetrotting Instructor Once Worked For FBI

By BEVERLY CRANE

Stanley Bennett, Fresno Junior College's globetrotting instructor, with the help of the army and the FBI, has a rich background from which to get information for his economics and labor problem classes.

Bennett spent three years in the service of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, part of which was spent in Lima, Peru, doing research. He says that he liked the work but that he wouldn't go back; he would rather teach.

During the war years he was a member of the army intelligence, spending time in both Australia and China.

Students at JC, he says, are "a good bunch of kids."

"If you give them plenty of material, they will do a good job." He likes teaching in junior college because the subjects are varied and are not taught in high school. They require more research and, therefore, make them more interesting to teach.

Bennett was born in San Bernardino but was brought up in Long Beach. He graduated from Long Beach High School and continued his education at the University of California and at Fresno State College, obtaining his AB degree.

He and his wife, Edna, have two children, Steven, 10, and Anne, 7. In his leisure time he likes to hunt; he got a buck this year. He also likes to putter around home, "keeping the place together."

Rams Win Three More Cage Tilts

Down Renegades, Bombers, Revenge Loss to Modesto

Coach Joe Kelly's Fresno Junior College Rams added three more contests to the victory side of the 1953 ledger last week as they marked up wins over Bakersfield College, Castle Air Field, and Modesto Junior College.

The Fresno cagers banged out an impressive 82 to 68 victory over the Bakersfield College Renegades in Bakersfield Tuesday night, December 8, when they ran away with a wild scoring spree in the final period. The following evening the Rams lowered the boom for a second time on the Castle Air Field Bombers in the Yosemite Junior High School gym to the tune of 88 to 71.

Kelly's outfit gained sweet revenge from the Modesto Junior College Pirates, who hold the only victory over the Rams, as the Rams surged to a 72 to 62 win Saturday night on the Yosemite Junior High floor.

Although the Rams trailed 38 to 33 at halftime, they managed to overcome that lead during the third stanza with the lead changing hands three times during that period. In the final period the Rams pulled away rapidly with the tosses of Odell Johnson, Don Steitz and Green going through the hoop neatly.

The Rams, with their fast-break type of ball, took a 23 to 9 lead in the first quarter of the Castle Air Field contest and held that lead throughout the contest. Fresno guard Cleo Coleman came into his own during this conflict and registered 18 points to be high man for the Rams Wednesday.

Fresh from a string of three straight victories and with revenge on their minds, the Rams really went to work on the Modesto Pirates Saturday night. The contest was a closely fought affair with few points separating the teams throughout. The score was 72 to 62 when the gun sounded, and the Rams had won their fourth in a row.

Modesto held the lead at the end of the first period by a 14 to 13 score. The score was all tied up at half time, thanks to the fine ball stealing of Steitz, who dribbled the length of the floor for a layup which knotted the score at the buzzer.

At the end of the third frame the score was still deadlocked 45 to 45. With six minutes remaining in the final stanza the Rams were

Cagers Start Season Strong

By DON SHROYER

The Fresno Junior College Rams, who appear to be on their way to one of the finest seasons ever enjoyed by an FJC cage outfit, have roared through two rugged weeks of hardwood action as they marked up five wins in six starts against some pretty rough competition.

Under their new basketball coach, Joe Kelly, the Rams have counted up 450 points against their opponents 337. Ex-Edison High cager Harvey Green personally has accounted for almost one-fourth of that figure with his 125 points in six games for an average of 20.8 points per game.

The other FJC forward Odell Johnson has collected 92 points in five contests and comes out with an average of 16.4 points per contest. Center Ray Williams has connected with 69 points in six contests and posts an 11.5 game average.

The Rams have averaged 75 points a game so far this season, while holding their opponents to an average of 62.8 per game.

leading 54 to 50, but the Pirates pulled up to a one-point deficit when the score was 55 to 54 with four minutes to play.

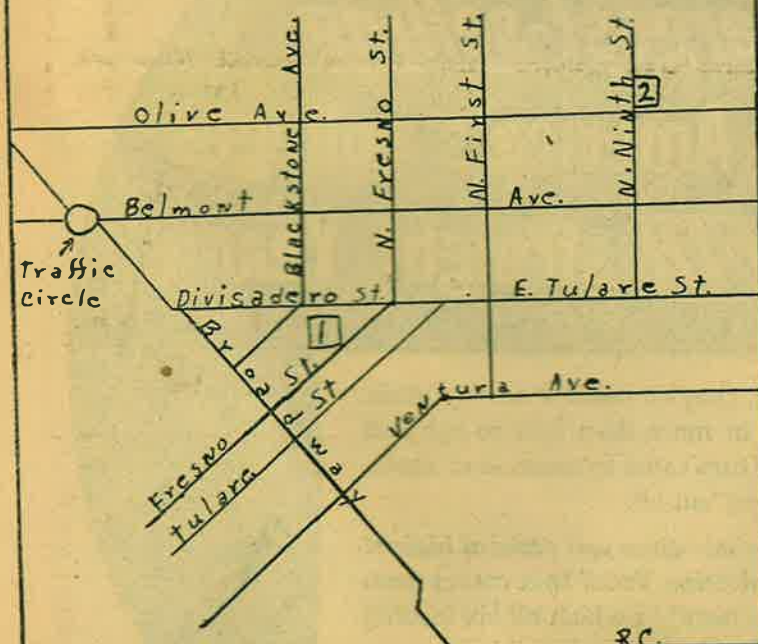

FJC's Green turned on the steam as did the rest of the Rams, and they pulled away from the fading Pirates. High scorer for the Pirates was guard Ray Sampson, who collected 17. Forward Willie Rock was second with 13.

RETURNING VETERAN — Don Steitz, one of last year's high scorers, talks things over with Coach Joe Kelly. Even though he is only 5 feet 7 inches, he makes his share of points.

BASKETBALL RALLY CALLED OFF

The rally planned for yesterday noon was called off by Gilbert Starkey, rally commissioner, because of the weather.

"Joe King, rally committee adviser, and I thought it was too cold out to have the rally on the lawn, so it would have been too late to plan anything, as we did not know how it would be by noon," commented Starkey yesterday afternoon.

Free Hand Art Will Be Offered Next Semester

John Mock, chairman of Fresno Junior College's general education division, announced last week that FJC will offer a new art course in free hand drawing during the spring semester, which starts February 2.

Walter Witt, the instructor, said the course, to be designated as Art 50, will be designed to aid students in developing the ability to draw various types of objects free hand.

Witt said the class will include fundamentals of perspective, problems of light and shade and composition, all of which will be taught to create a convincing and an accurate drawing.

Mock said the course will be open to all students interested in learning to draw and will be of special interest to students majoring in engineering and related fields, business, home economics and industrial arts.

Ernest Wolf, who teaches engineering and architectural drawing, said his students would be encouraged to enroll in the new course, since they are usually concerned with mechanical drawing, but often

Business Division Has Advisory Group Meeting

Four students from the business division, representing the campus chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America, presented a panel of questions to the members of the advisory committee of Fresno Junior College business division last week.

President Stuart M. White of FJC was the panel's moderator. Miss Ethel McCormack, the division chairman, reviewed recent accomplishments and operations of the division.

The student participants and groups whose viewpoints they presented were Martin Isler, veterans; Joseph Marselli, non-veteran men; Pearl Pugh, mature women students; and Judy Hawthorne, coeds just out of high school.

Two other students, Dolores Moya and Shirley Cunningham, took a full record of the panel in shorthand.

The questions were answered by the committee, whose members are G. E. Daniels, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company; Ralph Eastman, Zellerbach Paper Company; Earl Foley and V. C. Redman, Pacific Gas and Electric Company; F. Louderback, Bank of America; A. T. Mann, Producers Cotton Oil Company; M. E. Sappenfield, Security First National Bank; A. L. The class will meet at 9 a.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays in B-13.
