Preregistration Totals Largest In JC History

More than 800 students are expected to complete spring semester preregistration by tomorrow, constituting the largest preregistration total in FJC's history.

Mrs. Lena Fuller said the total was 773 Tuesday. More than 200 veterans had preregistered at that time.

Preregistration continues through next week, but Mrs. Fuller urges students to preregister as soon as possible in order to assure getting into the classes they want to take.

Mrs. Fuller said 17 classes have been closed, and many others will soon reach their capacity because of the large number of presemester reservations.

Registration will be held February 1 and 2 from 8 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. Students will register at the time stated on their reservation card, obtainable in Bungalow 1 from Mrs. Clare Chisholm, the division chairman's secretary.

Mrs. Chisholm said if a student has preregistered without getting his reservation card he should pick it up before attending reservation.

Registration in the extended day classes will be held the first night of class.

Classes will open February 3. Night courses will begin the week of February 1 and are not affected by the changes in dates.

James W. Bradshaw, director of health, physical education and recreation for the Fresno City Schools, was the guest speaker at a banquet honoring the Fresno Junior College Rams football squad last night in the Washington Junior High school cafeteria.

The affair was sponsored by the Fresno Junior Chamber of Commerce along with help from several local Ram boosters.

Bradshaw, a former University of Nevada all time football star, was also a former Fresno State College football coach.

Fresno State College coaches Clark Van Gilder, Bob Burgess and Kenny Gleason were guests along with the city high school coaches and the board of education.

Dick Bressler, sports chairman of the junior chamber of commerce, was in charge of the affair. Al Radka was the master of ceremonies.

New Instructor Joins FJC Faculty

President Stuart C. White of FJC announced today that Mrs. Ruth L. Stoughton, 1243 Delmar Avenue, will join the junior college faculty during the spring semester as an instructor in the business division.

Miss Ethel McCormack, division chairman, said Mrs. Stoughton will teach classes in the principles of accounting, applied bookkeeping, basic accounting and typing review.

The new FJC instructor is a graduate of the Fresno State College, where she majored in business education. She also attended the University of Nevada.

White said Mrs. Stoughton has had many years of experience as an auditor, an accountant, a bookkeeper and a general office worker.

Arthur Lea Becomes New Student Body President

Arthur Earl Lea, the newly elected spring semester president, will be installed in an assembly at 11 a.m. in the Memorial Auditorium on February 5.

Poi Hei Chow Sends Letter To Registrar

Poi Hei Chow of Hong Kong notified Fresno Junior College in a letter received last week that he still plans to register although his admission acceptance by FJC was dated November 20, 1952.

His letter, written Monday and received at FJC two days later by air mail, explained the delay and requests the college give him an extension to permit entrance at some future date.

However, Chow said circumstances will prevent his arriving for the spring semester. The letter follows:

"I, the undersigned, have received your document of November 20, 1952. It states that I have been accepted for admission to your college, with permission to enter at any time during the fall semester which extends from September 1953 to February 1954, and I was introduced by my uncle, Mr. Howard Joe of 1018 F. Street, Fresno 1, California.

"I should go to join your college in time, but I am a helpless orphan. I found great difficulty and spent several months in getting my Hong Kong birth certificate and now I am getting the English passport.

"In my opinion, I can say that all these and the waiting of the ship for going to Fresno will take me about two months...

"I sincerely hope you will understand my explanations and will give me another document to prolong my time of entering your college.

"In July, 1953, I had passed the Hong Kong School Certificate Examination (i.e. the graduate at a college) and I had passed English. (I may give my certificate to prove that if you want). I hope you will allow me to join the higher class of your college. I am not proud to say that in according to the standard of education of Hong Kong, the students who pass this school certificate examination may join the University of Manitoba, Canada, and I had some friends there.

"In view of the above statements, I hope you will see your way to take all these under consideration and allow me to hear from you soon.

"Thanking you in anticipation, I am Yours faithfully, Poi Hei Chow."

Mrs. Lena M. Fuller, FJC registrar, said she wrote Chow explaining the institution will accept his enrolment anytime during next fall.

Nisei Club Amends Rules

The Nisei Club, a Japanese organization at FJC, has amended its constitution to admit Chinese students. The club meets Fridays noon in B-7a. "All interested Chinese students may attend," said Ben Koda, president.

Rams Seek Win Over Pirates

By DON SHROYER

The Fresno Junior College Rams will seek their second Central California Junior College Athletic Association Cage league win Saturday night when they entertain the Pirates from Porterville Junior College in the Yosemite Junior High School gym at 8 p.m.

The Rams made a wonderful recovery from the losing slump they fell into during the holidays when they won a decisive victory over the Taft JC Cougars Friday night and are all set to knock over the Pirates.

The Pirates have one league victory and one league loss. The victory is a 72 to 64 decision over the Falcons of Coalinga Junior College, and the loss is to a strong Reedley Junior College quintet.

Fresno's new cage coach, Joe Kelly, has been working hard with his charges this week and has high hopes of marking up a second league victory in two starts.

Harvey Green, who scored 25 points against the Cougars Friday night, is in fine shape and is expected to turn in another fine performance as he has in every contest this year. Don Steitz, who has been connecting from the middle of the floor, is also set to give the fans a real thrill and aid in bringing home another win for the Fresno JC.

Students, Rampage Seeks Several New Staff Members

Students, can you write stories about people, events, or unusual circumstances?

You can! Well, head for S-14 and join a little group called the Rampage staff. We welcome all persons who are willing to inform the students of Fresno Junior College on campus activities.

The position of reporter, or any position, offers a student a chance to acquaint himself with others. It also gives him the opportunity to know what is going on around the campus.

If you have thoughts of writing, talk things over with our adviser, P. D. Smith. He'll be looking for you!

Alaskan Receives Scholarship

Mrs. Lucille H. Allen, a Fresno Junior College student who is preparing to teach Eskimo children in Alaska for the United States department of interior, will receive a Fresno Council of Jewish Women scholarship in a junior college assembly February 5.

Mrs. Allen, who has a near perfect grade point average at FJC since her enrollment in the fall of 1952, will be awarded a $30 scholarship by Mrs. Sam Albert, the council president.

Having lived in Alaska for 15 years with her husband, Bennett Allen, a mining engineer, Mrs. Allen hopes to complete her preparation for teaching by the fall for 1955 by taking a full year and two summer sessions at a four-year college.

"I like Alaska," she declared. "My ambition is to help the native children in Alaska. The need for teachers is great in the native schools, for so many teachers return to the states after only one year in the territory because of the isolation and loneliness."

The Allens lived "all over Alaska" during their 15 years there. The last five years were spent on Kotzebue Sound, 175 miles northeast of Nome, in the village of Candle, which has about 100 Eskimos and five or six whites. They plan to make their home in the territory again in September, 1955.

Joe Woodman, Auto Mechanic Instructor, Wants To Travel

By BEVERLY CRANE

"Papa, where does this part go?" This would have been a probable question to have been asked by Joe Woodman, now auto mechanics instructor at Fresno Junior College, when at the age of ten he took his father's car apart.

Woodman declared in a recent interview that mechanics has always interested him along with the field of medicine but that the thought of cutting people open didn't appeal to him. He would much rather probe the intricacies of an automobile.

Before coming to FJC in 1946 he worked at Rodman Chevrolet and H. F. James and Son, and spent time during the war at Hammer Field as an aircraft electrician.

Fresno Technical High School is his alma mater. He also attended Fresno State College, Carter Carburator School, an aircraft electrical school in Sacramento, and Northrup Electrical School in Hawthorne.

"I very much enjoy teaching at FJC; it is one of the nicest jobs I have ever had," Woodman stated. He says that the job has personal satisfaction that he likes.

In his opinion the standards of the junior colleges are very high and he feels that the colleges are filling a great need for institutions of higher learning. Going to a junior college is better than going to other institutions on a scholarship, he stated.

Woodman teaches two classes of auto mechanics daily. Each class is of three hours duration. His classes consist of both junior college students and students from Fresno high schools who come for half days.

Woodman is married and he and wife, Lutie, are the parents of two children, Douglas, 15, a student at Fresno High School, and Katherine, 12, who attends Hamilton Junior High.

While at home he likes to garden and to study the latest developments in his field. Fishing and boating also take a great deal of his spare time.

If he ever gets the chance he would like to travel around the world, taking in all the historical spots, especially in Europe and the Holy Land.

Frances Purroy Is Basketball Queen

Frances Purroy is the 1954 Fresno Junior College basketball queen. Miss Purroy, a sophomore student and an active participant in many clubs and organizations, was announced queen by Gerald Bender the FJC student body president.

She will be crowned February 5 during a junior college assembly in the Fresno Memorial Auditorium by the new FJC student body president, Art Lea, who will be installed the same day along with other spring semester officers.

Frances Purroy

Miss Purroy will reign over the first student body dance of the spring semester and the first basketball game, both on February 5. The dance will be held in the Longfellow Junior High School auditorium. Molly Williams is the chairman of the dance committee.

Coach Joseph R. Kelly and his FJC basketball team, who will play the Reedley Junior College Tigers Feb. 5, will be introduced during the assembly.

Miss Purroy was sponsored by Red Key, a student service organization, in a contest for basketball queen, the result of which was based on the number of season tickets to FJC home games the competing organization sold.

Blanche Milhahn, the rally committee chairman, is in charge of arrangements for the ceremony, assisted by Ann Nelson and Cherrill St. John.

Committee Plans Rally

The rally committee met to discuss the dance and the rally which will take place on February 5. Carole Gostanian and Blanche Milhahn are in charge of the rally. There will be a pantomime skit. The carpentry class is making a throne for Frances Purroy, who will be crowned during the assembly.

Rams Win First Conference Tilt

Green Sparks Fresno Quintet In Lopsided CCJCAA Contest

Coach Joe Kelly's Fresno Junior College Rams got off to a booming start in their Central California Junior College Athletic Association cage league Friday night when they roared to a 71 to 49 victory over a powerful and tall Taft Junior College five on the Taft court.

Fresno's sparkling forward, Harvey Green, who has averaged 18.6 points per game this season, was once again the spark that drove the Rams on to victory as he marked up 25 points for the evening's work. The Ram's miniature guard, Don Steitz aided the cause by bagging 16 points.

Taft managed to stay in the ball game during the first period with the score being 20 to 17 at the buzzer. However, during the second stanza the Rams pulled away by racking up 18 points while the Cougars could only squeak in five. This scoring spree gave the Rams a 38 to 22 halftime lead which was never again disputed throughout the contest. The third period saw the Rams sinking 21 points while their opponents netted only 15, giving the Rams a 59 to 37 margin at the end of that frame.

Taft's ace forward, Don Zumbro, who has been in the double numbers in every game this season and who tallied 27 points against Bakersfield in a contest three nights before the Taft contest, was held to 15 points. Charley Hanna, Cougar guard, netted 12 points to place second high for the Taft five.

All was not happiness for the Rams, however, for Fresno's other high scoring forward, Odel Johnson, who has averaged 11.4 points per contest this season, managed to collect only four points.

Cleo Coleman, who really plays a fine brand of basketball, flipped in 10 points for the evening with the number of points really not giving him true credit due him for an outstanding job.

Prior to the lopsided Taft victory Coach Kelly rated the Cougars as a "tough one," and felt them "capable of winning our league." The Cougars had been proving this capability by downing San Luis Obispo Junior College, 84 to 47, and Santa Maria Junior College, 101 to 63. The Cougars lost a close contest to the Bakersfield Renegades just three nights before the Rams invaded Taft.

The Rams split with the Renegades this season by winning an 82 to 68 decision on December 8, and losing a hard fought battle during the Christmas holidays 66 to 52.

Adding in this Taft league win, the Rams have scored nine victories against seven losses thus far this season under the leadership of their new cage coach, Kelly.

The Rams are slated to meet the Porterville Junior College Pirates in the Yosemite Junior High School gym Saturday night at 8 p.m. in the Rams second league outing. The Pirates scored a league win over Coalinga Junior College Friday night when they knocked the Falcons over 72 to 64. However, the following evening the Reedley Junior College Tigers downed the Pirates to the tune of 69 to 59.

The College of Sequoia Giants scored two league victories last week end when they downed the Reedley Tigers, 53 to 39, in a very low scoring contest and defeated the Coalinga Junior College Falcons, 76 to 61. The Giants are slated to meet the Rams in a league contest in Visalia on January 30.

ExEdison Cagers Do Well Under Kelley's Guidance

By DON SHROYER

Fresno Junior College's ex-Edison High cagers, under the guidance of new cage mentor Joe Kelly, really got off to a fine start in the Central California Junior College Athletic Association cage league Friday night when they dumped the Taft Junior College Cougars in an impressive 71 to 49 victory.

Kelly's cagers, who took off real fine early in the season and fell into a slump during the holidays, made a quick recovery by turning in an all around excellent performance on the Taft hardwood.

Sharpshooting forward Harvey Green was the main spoke in the wheel as he turned in another outstanding scoring spree to lead the Rams to a smashing victory. Green slipped in 25 points against the Cougars.

Fresno's midget guard, Don Steitz, started finding the range with his long shots from a good way out, and he accumulated 16 points while his partner guard, Cleo Coleman, collected 10.

If Kelly can keep his boys inspired as they were Friday night, he is sure of gaining another victory Saturday night when the Rams entertain the Porterville Pirates.

So far the COS Giants seem to be the team to beat as they have already posted two league wins.
