Cagers Strive For Seventh Straight Win

By DON SHROYER

The Fresno Junior College Rams will be striving for their seventh consecutive league victory when they travel to Porterville Saturday night to clash with the Porterville Junior College Pirates in Central California Junior College Athletic Association cage league play.

The Fresno outfit broke school scoring records last week when they really poured it on the Taft Junior College quintet 104 to 56. This has been the Ram's peak performance of the season, and they are apt to turn in a very similar performance Saturday night.

The Pirates bounced back from a Tuesday night loss to Reedley Junior College to down the Coalinga Falcons last Friday night and win their fourth game in league action this season.

Captain Don Pierson led the Porterville attack during the Falcon contest as he dropped in 20 points, followed closely by Vern Rymer with 13 points.

Forward Harvey Green has been the big gun in the Fresno attack all season and turned in his usual high scoring performance during the Taft contest last week when he marked up 25 points.

She was on a tour of a number of junior colleges last week, including Bakersfield and Porterville in the lower San Joaquin Valley.

Mrs. Lena M. Fuller, FJC registrar, said the 949 students enrolled in spring night classes include 550 in trade extension and apprentice training classes, 68 in preemployment trade courses, and 331 in 12 business and general education division classes.

IN THE still of the night—high above a sleeping American city—an unidentified aircraft is spotted. In a matter of seconds a lightning-like jet interceptor takes to the air. Unerringly, with an Aircraft Observer showing the way, the Air Force F-94 Night Fighter speeds to intercept the stranger. The Aircraft Observer is the man behind the pilot—the officer who keeps America's planes flying on course and on target. Without him the Air Force couldn't do its job.

What is the Aircraft Observer?

He's a Radar Officer . . . employing an all seeing eye that penetrates where human sight fails.

He's an Aircraft Performance Engineer Officer . . . knowing everything there is to know about his plane . . . keeping it fit for the skies and ready for action.

He's a Navigation Officer . . . plotting his plane's course . . . with an entire crew depending on him for a safe flight.

He's a Bombardment Officer . . . in full control of the plane over the target area . . . the Air Force Officer who "lowers the boom" on the enemy.

What the Aircraft Observer gets

He earns over $5,000 a year. His silver Aircraft Observer wings give him prestige and distinction, and he wears the bars of an Air Force Lieutenant. They mark him as the eyes, ears, and brains of America's Number One flying team.

What it takes to be an Aircraft Observer

The Aircraft Observer must be sound of limb, keen of mind, and above all, must have the determination to be the best.

To qualify as an Aircraft Observer you must be single, between 19 and 26½ years old, and a high school graduate. However, it will be better for you and the Air Force if you stay in college and graduate before you apply. Then you, too, can be one of the best . . . as an Aircraft Observer.

Rams Set Top Scoring Mark In Lopsided CCJCAA Win

The red hot Fresno Junior College Ram cagers waxed even a little hotter when they established a school scoring record in their sixth consecutive league victory by racking up 104 points against Taft Junior College's Cougars 56 in the Edison High School gym last Thursday night.

FJC Coach Joe Kelly's Ex-Edison High cagers were quite at home on their own court of high school days and went on a wild scoring spree.

The Rams took an even firmer grip on their first Central California Junior College Athletic Association cage crown, with this victory putting them way out in the lead while the rest of the league continues to play sporadic ball by winning when are supposed to lose and losing when they should have a cinch game.

At the end of the first quarter of the Taft contest the Rams held a eight point margin as the score was 25 to 17, which put the Rams in a lead which was never in danger after that point. The Rams plunked in 23 points during the second stanza and 28 points each in the final two frames.

Setting the pace for the Rams, as he has throughout the season, was Forward Harvey Green, who socked in 25 points to round out a fine evenings performance. Odell Johnson marked up 17 points.

Van Greene, center for the Cougars, was high man for the Taft quintet as he dropped in 18 points while big Forward Don Zumbro was held to 13 points.

Four of the Fresno Junior College cagers scored 10 points, two of them being reserves. The Rams connected on 24 out of 40 free tosses, while the Cougars dropped in 16 of the 25 called against the Rams.

Elsewhere in the league action the College of Sequoias Giants marked up two league victories last week as they downed Reedley Junior College, 75 to 69, in Visalia on Friday night and turned right around and trounced the Coalinga Falcons, 99 to 69.

The Reedley Tigers scored a Tuesday night victory over the Porterville Pirates. The Pirates downed the hapless Falcons on Friday night to the tune of 81 to 51.

The Rams are slated to meet the Porterville Pirates Saturday night.

Edison Gym Gives Rams Extra Drive

It looks like the Fresno Junior College Rams should play all of their games in the Edison High School gym. At any rate, look what they did to the Taft Junior College Cougars last week. Of course it is just like old home week when the Ram cagers play their contest there because most of them played their prep ball there.

Ex-Edison cager Harvey Green set the scoring pace during the contest, closely followed by Odell Johnson and Ray Williams, both of whom were Edison High cagers not so long ago.

Another two or three games and the Rams will have achieved the first CCJCAA cage title for Fresno Junior College.

It surely is inevitable that the Rams will do just that, too. They collide with Porterville Saturday night and then meet the cellar dwelling Coalinga Falcons on February 26. The following night the

FJC Students Must Maintain C Grade Average

President Stuart M. White of Fresno Junior College told the faculty at a recent meeting that the newly revised scholastic regulations set up a system of placing students with a below C average on probation for the semester following unsatisfactory work.

White said a student's work will be considered satisfactory when he maintains an average of C or higher.

White said the scholastic requirements set up are designed to help in the counseling and guidance program of FJC rather than attempting to find means to eliminate students from school.

A student's record must not show a total grade point deficiency of more than four points at the end of the semester. Grade points are computed on the basis of three for each unit of A, two for each unit of B, and one for each unit of C. Grades of D and F provide no grade points, nor are any subtracted.

A grade point deficiency of five or more points will place the student on probation and this status will continue until the grade point deficiency is reduced below five or the student is disqualified.

A disqualified student may apply for readmission after an interval of one semester and when readmitted, must make a C average during his first semester or he will be ineligible to reregister for the next semester.

The new regulations do not change the college's entrance requirements. Any high school graduate or student who is 18 or over will be admitted for the first semester; the grade requirements apply after his admission.

Students Enter Speaking Contest

The Fresno Junior College is entering a state wide junior college public speaking contest, sponsored by the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Joseph King, public speaking instructor, said that several faculty members will decide who the student will be to represent FJC. The qualified student will compete with ten other college students in the area contest for this area.

The state of California is divided into four sections for the purpose of this contest. The preliminary for this area will be held in Fresno, Saturday afternoon, May 8. The awards will include first place, $50; second, $25; third, $15; and fourth, $10.

The winner of this contest will represent this area at the final state contest at Grand Parlor, San Francisco, the third week in June. Three judges shall decide upon the winner. The awards will be: first place, $125; second, $100; third, $75; and fourth, $50.

Expenses and transportation will be paid for students who are to speak in the area and the state final contests.
