Baseball Squad Plays State JV's

By DON SHROYER

The Fresno Junior College baseball squad will take a rest from league action this week when they engage Fresno State JV's in Romain Park this afternoon and again on Monday afternoon.

Tony Fragus or Charles Ratcliff will probably get the starting nod from coach Ray McCarthy for this afternoon's contest.

The Rams will return to league play next Thursday when they travel to Reedley Junior College to meet the Tigers.

The Rams' initial test in the league against the College of the Sequoias last week resulted in 4 to 2 victory for the Giants. However, the Rams had two men on base in the top of the ninth with only one out when the umpires called the contest because of rain. Thus far this season the Rams have been a late innings ball club.

Porterville Junior College will be the Rams' next opponent in league play when they travel here to play in Romain Park on April 10.

Recruiting Team's Stress Of Service Is Interesting

Lt. Mary Ann Bohen of the Women's Air Force and Lt. Helen Peterson of the Women's Army Corps interviewed women students, who may be interested in the service as a career, Tuesday, in the Ramble Inn.

Lt. Bohen said the women have a choice of 34 career fields, including administration, personnel, medical, supply, communications, weather, and intelligence.

Contrary to popular belief, Miss Bohen urged that the women, whenever possible, should finish their education before enlisting in the service. Their advancement will be speeded up, and they will be more valuable to the service. However, for those unable to do so, they have the opportunity of completing their college education while in the service.

Travel opportunities, medical and dental care, $10,000 insurance, food, clothing, and housing are offered besides the regular pay.

Lt. Bohen said candidates must be between 18 and 34, high school graduates, with single status and no dependents under 18. Other qualifications are US citizenship, and the ability to pass mental, medical, and reference checks.

Guest Speakers Entertain Night Sociology Class

The Monday evening sociology class conducted by Dr. Lucile Williams was entertained by three guest speakers last Monday.

Sheriff Joseph Tracy, introduced by Captain Jim Long, a student, gave a brief talk on criminology, then turned the program over to Captain Larry Hoskins, in charge of the crime prevention bureau, who presented a movie entitled, "A Criminal Is Born." After the movie, Hoskins gave a brief talk and answered questions for the students.

Philip M. Jenkins, assistant probation officer of Fresno County, introduced by Nora Barton, student, reported on local problems and treatment of juvenile delinquency.

Mr. Jenkins said the office does not regard the problem as much a juvenile delinquency as "parental and social delinquency" and believes in treatment instead of punishment.

Tips On School Spirit

Here at Fresno Junior College the football and basketball team took the league championship this year, but why can't the athletic teams win the support of the students?

With close to 2,000 students enrolled here, why is it that only 30 to 50 student cheer for the team? Where are the rest of the 1,970 to 1,930 students? Do they stay home, go see Jerry Grey, or don't they know we have an athletic team?

This isn't a bawling out, but just a suggestion that you should support the team a little more.

P.S.—Track and baseball are in full swing.

Slaughter Week Is Here!

Students! A warning, you'd better start cracking your text books open because it's slaughter week at old FJC, March 29 to April 2. Yes, sir, it's mid-term time.

This is the time all the teachers dream about getting even with the students sleeping in the front row while he is giving his lecture!

Joseph King Named Parliamentarian

Joseph King, a former salesman and now a speech instructor at Fresno Junior College, has been chosen Faculty Parliamentarian for the state conference at San Diego. Here at FJC he is the student council adviser and also the rally committee sponsor.

With his ambition of becoming a teacher, he attended Fresno State College where he received his AB degree; then he went to the University of Southern California where he got his MA degree. So far he has taught at Fresno State, Reedley, and FJC.

King's all around hobby is taking care of his yard. Keeping up a good lawn is mighty tough, but that isn't the most important thing in his life. Three of the most important things in his life are Mrs. King and their two children. He could talk about them at a drop of a hat.

He enjoys working with organizations and clubs at FJC.

"Working with students is always a lot of fun," said King.

Pat Still Is Vice Prexy

By MARGARET SISNEROS

Pat Still, a Fresno Junior College 14th year student, is student body vice president.

Born in Valeant, Oklahoma 20 years ago, she went to Visalia High and graduated from Fresno High School. Majoring in law here at JC, she plans to get her AA degree in June. After graduation she plans to join the Women's Air Force so that she can travel and later continue her education. Marriage will have to wait.

Works at Phone Co.

Miss Still works at the Telephone Company at night besides being a full time student and being active in school organizations. She is vice president of the Alpha Gamma Sigma, a member of the student council and Phi Theta Kappa and former Rey Key president.

Her favorite foods are pizza and spaghetti. She likes her men tall, dark, and handsome and strictly gentlemen.

Favorite Pastime

As the Rampage's new editor last year she enjoyed giving students assignments and watching them slave over a typewriter. As a child she recalls setting fire crackers under chairs, with people sitting on them of course, as one of her favorite pastimes.

At present as vice president, Miss Still is chairman for the fall election committee, and takes Lea's place in his absence.

FJC Males Prefer Wool Sweaters

By Ella Papagni

Cashmere sweaters seem to be the style around the campus. Don Knight was seen around the campus in his bright red cashmere. Kenneth Bain was wearing a rust colored one. Allen Eldred was wearing a navy one.

It seems as though vests are coming back in style, Tom Ryan was wearing a navy and white checked vest, with his navy blue suit. Dick Contino also was wearing a bright red and yellow plaid one.

Along with the cashmere sweaters wool shirts are still very popular. Sam Duncan was wearing a very pretty shirt of white and brown linen. Wally Wallace was wearing a white and yellow plaid shirt. Pete Lempesis had on a beautiful linen shirt that was white with black design.

Just to prove that spring is here and a man's fancy runs to love or is it baseball, Art Lea appeared with a striking green and brown shirt.

Rams Lose Initial League Game

College Of The Sequoias Wins Soggy Baseball Tilt

A ninth inning drive by the Fresno Junior College Rams to take the lead over the College of the Sequoias Giants came to a sudden end Friday afternoon in Visalia, when the umpires called the game. The Giants won the eighth inning affair, 4 to 2.

The contest, which was the initial league tilt for both teams, saw the Umpires George Bogdanoff and Mike Masich finally call the game with two Rams on base and only one out in the top half of the ninth frame.

COS's star pitcher, Bob Holowaty, who hails from Canada, could not deliver his pitches effectively from the slippery mound, and the batters were troubled by the slippery turf around home plate.

Although the Rams out hit the Giants six to three the errors by the Rams led to the defeat of Coach Ray McCarthy's Rams. The Rams committed seven errors while Coach Chuck Taylor's Giants bobbled only three. Three double plays by the Giants also aided their cause.

Rams Draw First Blood

The Rams drew first blood when they pushed over a run in the second inning. It was during this frame that Holowaty got a little wild and issued two successive walks to Chuck Ratliff and Steve Santillan. Ram Pitcher Richard Knight smashed a grounder through the legs of Giant Shortstop Kirby Wyllie to drive Ratliff home.

The Giants bounced right back in the last half of the second by scoring a run on a double steal. COS's Ken Burcham and Don Martin reached base on errors, and the former marked up the Giants first score as the two executed a beautiful double steal.

The last half of the fifth saw the Giants add another run to their total as Bill Finley made first on an error and then scored on a double by Giant first sacker Ed Girado. The Giants added two more in the sixth when Corky McFarland doubled, Martin was hit by a pitched ball, and Wyllie slapped out a double to score two runs.

Rams Score

The Rams added another run to their score in the top half of the eighth when Holowaty issued two walks and Ratliff teed off on a beauty and drove in another run.

The threat of postponement hovered over the contest from its very beginning as it drizzled throughout the affair and halted the contest on several occasions.

FJC's hard slugging first baseman, Ratliff, continued his batting as he collected 2 hits for four trips. His batting average prior to the contest was a neat .469.

Reedley Meet Cancelled Because Of Rainy Weather

The nasty 'ole weather brought a postponement of the Fresno Junior College thinclads initial track meet in Reedley as rain made the track and field too muddy for the athletes to compete last Thursday.

The meet which brings teams from Reedley Junior College, the College of the Sequoias, and Fresno State College was slated for Tuesday of this week. If not held then the meet will take place next Tuesday.

The rain has limited the track practice sessions this past week, but Coach Hans Wiedenhofer felt his squad was working up well, and he pointed out that he is counting very much on performers like Floyd White, George Kerr, Walter Torosian and newcomer George Montrose to collect a few points.

Wiedenhofer commented this week that his biggest problem this year is organizing a relay team. He said his only quarter-miler is

White, and to get a relay team he has to have four quarter-milers.

White has been working out by running the 220 and the quarter, while Kerr has been doing the high and low hurdles. Torosian is practicing the 100 and 220 yard sprints while Montrose is working hard on the mile. He has never run the mile before but is putting forth a lot of effort in the event.

Billy May Band Is Minus Leader

"Down Beat", the Billy May band, formed some 22 months ago, takes to the road this season minus Billy May. Ex-leader May will do occasional writing for the band, but the new front man for the organization will be tenor-saxist Sam Donahue.

The band, hereafter will be billed as "The Billy May Band with Sam Donahue," and will retain the May sound — slurping saxes and all. And, of course, Capital Records will continue to record the group.

Swing King
Donahue first gained prominence in music circles during the swing era when he was a featured sideman in several top bands. In 1938-40 he was with Gene Krupa's group and later joined the bands of Harry James and Benny Goodman. In 1941 he was fronting his own orchestra but was forced to disband when the Navy called him up for service.

In the Navy, Sam had his own service band and was put in charge of all Navy music for the Armed Forces Radio Service. The tenor ace was also featured on many service programs, and played the armed forces network all over the world. While in London, he had his own shows on the British Broadcasting System in addition to the regular AFRS broadcasts.

Navy Calls
After being discharged, Sam formed another band but once more the Navy called him for duty during the Korean War. This time Donahue was stationed in Washington, D.C. where he arranged for all Navy Bands.

Upon his second discharge from the Navy, Sam joined the band of Tommy Dorsey as assistant leader; then settled on the west coast to do radio, recording, and studio work.

Popular music fans who have followed the meteoric rise of the Billy May group, which in an amazingly short time has become an outstanding musical organization, will have the opportunity to hear the band under Donahue's direction during its current nation-wide tour.

Library Offers Enjoyment For Book Loving Students

By Joe Rampage
In the Fresno Junior College Library, the students can treat themselves by reading some of the best sellers of the nation.

"Undercurrent" by Barbara Jeffers is a psychological mystery story that will tickle the spine of all the psychology students at FJC. It is a story about an elderly spinster in Australia.

Another exciting book is "A Window in Red Square" by Frank Rounds, Jr. In this true novel he gives the vivid description of Russia with its social life and customs. With this setting he gives the accounts of his 18 months in that country as an attache at the United States Embassy in Moscow.

One of the most inspiring biography in the library is the story by Francis Bearchesne Thornton, entitled "The Sea of Glory." This is an actual account of the lives and the ultimate sacrifice of the four US chaplains, Protestant, Jewish, and Catholics, who went down with the troop ship Dorchester, which was torpedoed in the North Atlantic in January, 1943.

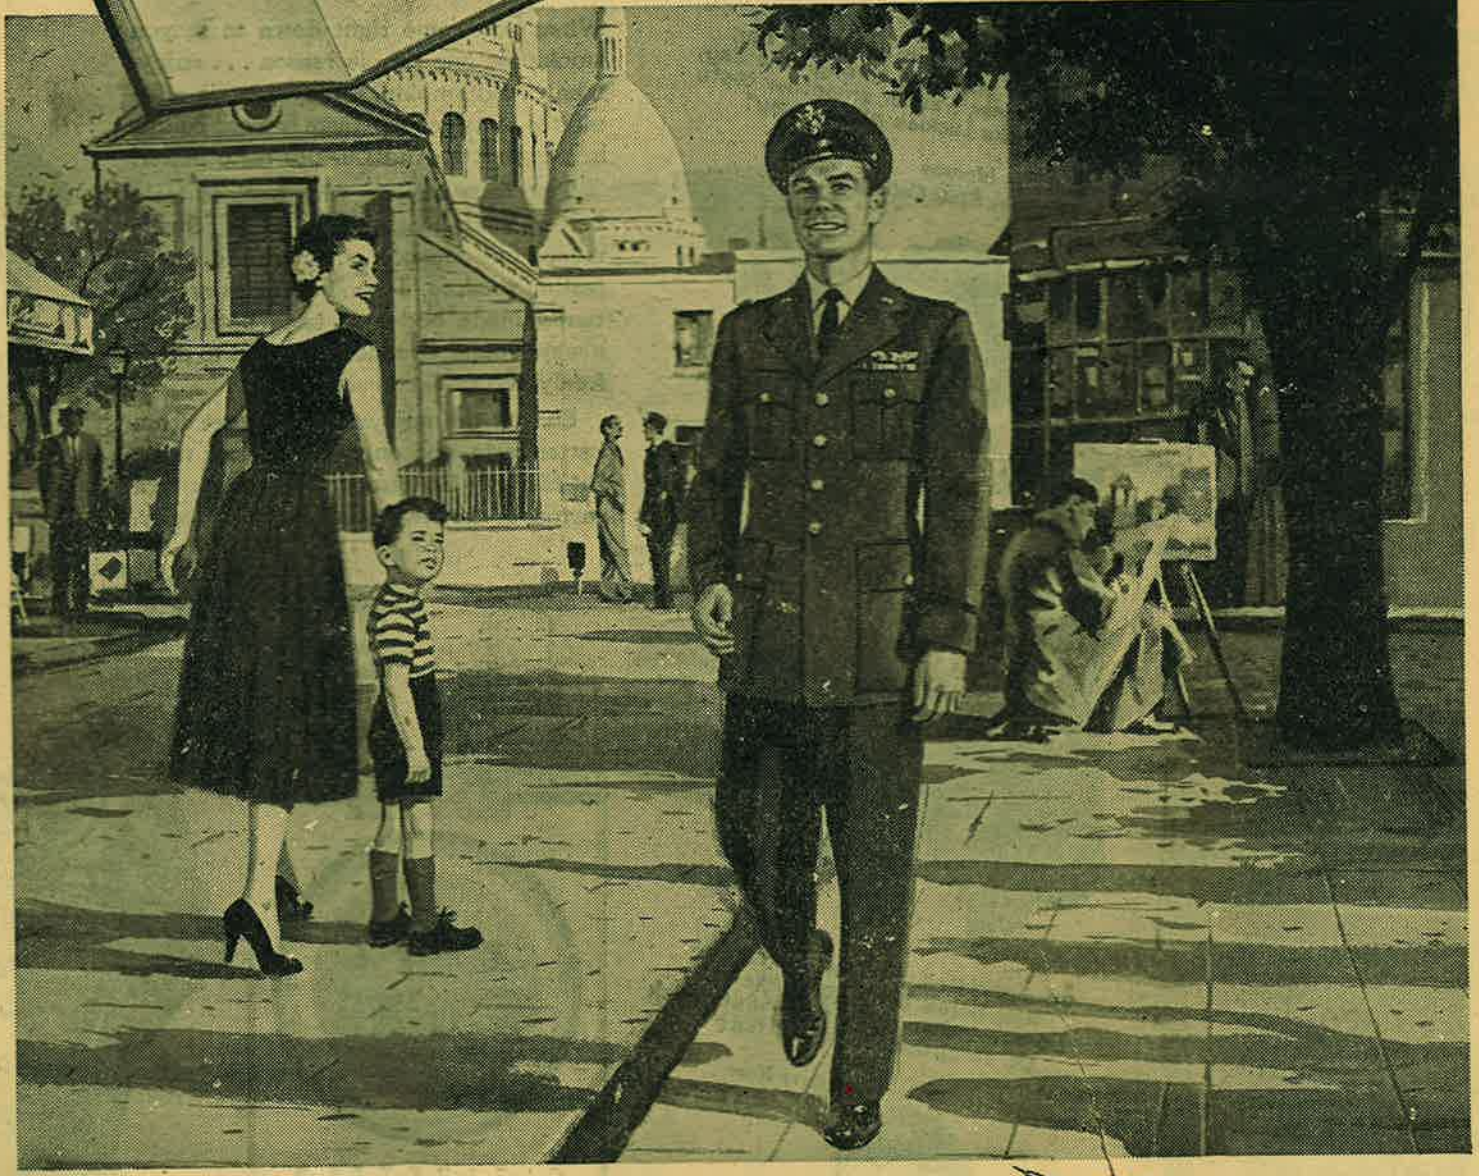

"These are but a few of the novels you will enjoy in the library. There are many more with equal quality in writing," said Jackson Carty, school librarian.
