President Lists New Procedure

President Stuart M. White, president for Fresno Junior College, announced that registration activities for FJC students will be conducted from January 9 to 20.

White said a new procedure will prevail. Students will obtain a line card from the admissions office which will give them a reservation for registering the first day of official registration, January 30.

Three hundred reservations will be made for the morning from 8 to 11 a.m. and 300 for the afternoon from 1 to 4 p.m. Students who do not obtain a reservation will have to enroll the second day, January 31. They will have no assurance that they will be able to enroll in all classes, many of which may close the first day.

White said that the English entrance and basic mathematics aptitude tests will be given January 5 when spring semester preregistration activities begin for new Fresno Junior College students. The mathematics examination will also be given the following day.

The English examination, required for all entering fulltime students, will be given again January 10 by Archie Bradshaw, the guidance director. The English test for January 5 will be given at 9 a.m., and 3 p.m., January 6.

Classes for the spring semester will begin February 1. FJC night classes will start the same week, however, White said instructions on night registration procedures will be made later.

Newman Hopeful Crowned Queen At Xmas Formal

Don Lovelace, master of ceremonies, crowned petite Frances Rodreick queen of the Christmas Formal Friday night.

Miss Rodreick, a 19-year-old Roosevelt High School graduate, was sponsored by the Newman Club. She and her escort led the queen's dance to the theme song "My Blue Heaven."

Irene McLaughlin, sponsored by the Freshman Class and Ann Sirabian, sponsored by Red Key, were chosen as attendants.

"Blue Heaven" was the theme of the Christmas Formal. The theme was carried out on the bids which were blue with silver lettering. Blue and silver stars and streamers hung from the ceiling of the Yosemite Room of the Hacienda Motel. The queen sat in a silver throne with a huge blue star trimmed with silver tinfoil and sparkles as a background. A little angel hung from the center of the ceiling.

The Harmonettes, an FJC girls trio, sang four numbers, one of which was "White Christmas." Jack Riley and his orchestra furnished the music for the dance.

Student Election Brings Two Definite Problems

(Ed.'s Note: Election for spring student body officers will be held January 10 and 11. There is no scheduled Rampage until January 12. This editorial deals with the election. The Rampage hopes that everyone will participate.)

With the election of new student body officers comes a very precise problem, that of finding students who are qualified and willing to fill the various offices and also that of getting enough students to go to the polls and vote.

Past officers of the associated student body here at FJC can verify the fact that any student office is a difficult, time consuming, and thankless job. The present student council, under the reins of Bert Ereman, is doing a top-notch job. At the beginning of this year there were many rivers to to cross and the council crossed all of these without sinking.

A main problem which hampers student body officers is the non-participating attitude of some students here at JC. This attitude makes the task for other students much more difficult and involved.

The job of selecting candidates for offices is a most important one. When thinking of a person who would be a possible candidate for the different offices, first find out if he would be competent for the job.

Some of the many questions which might be asked about a candidate are as follows:

1. Is your candidate a member of the student body?
2. Is your candidate carrying 12 or more units?
3. Has your candidate attended one semester at FJC?
4. Is your candidate not on probation?
5. Does your candidate have all delinquent grade points made up?
6. Has your candidate a C average?

Other characteristics of a good officer are intelligence, fairness, tactfulness, and possession of good old common sense.

Students should remember to select persons by their mental attributes and not because of their athletic contributions or good looks.

A nomination assembly will be held Thursday, January 5 at 11 a.m. in the Fresno Memorial Auditorium. At this time students may be nominated from the floor. However these students will have to be found eligible and they will have to have petitions signed as do the other candidates.

If students would only realize that their vote counts as much as any other student's vote, there probably would be a bigger turnout on election days. It is unfortunate that more students do not take time out to vote for good student officers.

Last spring approximately 340 students voted for our present officers. It is hoped that this time the voters will outnumber this figure by three to one.

Fred Hall, vice president of the FJC student body, is the chairman of the election committee and he should be contacted for further information.

The main thing to remember is to think before you nominate a person, and pause for a second before you vote, but don't pause too long, the polls may close.

Pakistan Student Compares Cities Of Both Countries

Reza Syed, a foreign student from Pakistan, had this to say about the United States, "The large cities in our country are big and modern just like those in the USA, but the small villages differ greatly from the small towns here. His father is an attorney-at-law in one of the smaller villages in Pakistan.

Reza, who is a transfer student from the University of California at Los Angeles, came to the United States a year and a half ago on his own expense. He came to Fresno this year to attend the Fresno Junior College. His major is business administration.

He said that the American educational system is the best in the world at present, because there is a larger choice of subjects, which are easier and more interesting. "The boys and girls impressed me a lot, because they are free in expressing their ideas," Reza said. "The things I like best in America are lemon pie and ladies' slacks; they are hard to find in any other country."

PE Teacher Thinks Highly Of Students

Miss Margaret Tylor, physical education instructor at Fresno Junior College, said she thinks highly of her students in the P.E. classes, and she enjoys being with them as well as the members of the faculty.

This is Miss Tylor's first year at FJC. Before coming here she was teaching at the Sequoia Junior High School in Fresno.

Miss Tylor Comments

She stated that FJC's physical education department will be able to offer more facilities to the students in the near future.

Miss Tylor is a graduate of Fresno State College and did graduate work at University of Southern California. She served with the Red Cross in Europe for two years during the war. She enjoyed her sojourn in Europe, although the climate was not very favorable. She said it was a very interesting experience.

Teaching Experiences

Before teaching at Sequoia Junior High, she taught at Fresno High School. These past teaching experiences enabled Miss Tylor to be acquainted with many of her students, besides obtaining valuable experiences in her field.

She finds the division of FJC into two campuses very confusing but extremely interesting.

"I would like to see a little more unified spirit among the students at games. I think the towns people should also co-operate and lend a backing to FJC," commented Miss Tylor.

Married Couple Of Iran Attend Classes At FJC

Siavosh Ghaffari and his wife Lily, who are from Iran, are both attending the Fresno Junior College this semester. Ghaffari, and Mrs. Ghaffari are majoring in chemical engineering and laboratory technician, respectively.

The Ghaffaris came to the United States in 1950 from Iran's capital city, Tehran, and the expense was paid by Ghaffari's father, a retired army officer.

During their five year stay here, the couple have resided in Michigan, Colorado, Kansas, and San Francisco, where Ghaffari worked as a flower designer, a dance instructor, and as an employee at a rubber company. Here in Fresno, he is working part time as a dance instructor, at a local studio.

After arriving in Fresno, Mrs. Ghaffari had a little girl, which they named Nadimeh. She is now three months old.

When asked what was different in education between Iran and USA, the Ghaffaris said that the Iranian educational system was higher than that of this country. "The high school students in Iran go for six years, said Ghaffari, and then go to a university." "There are no colleges." When asked what they liked best in the USA, the Ghaffaris said, "We like the freedom best of all in the United States."

The Ghaffaris' stay in the USA is questionable, because they are here on a visa. The couple plan to continue with their education by transferring to Fresno State College next year.

FJC Opens Play Today In Hartnell Tournament

Fresno Junior College will take part in the eight team Coast Conference Basketball Hartnell. Tournament today when they clash with San Jose Junior College at 2 p.m. in Salinas.

Fresno is not expected to have too much trouble with the Jaguars, and should Fresno win they will entertain the winner of the Monterey Peninsula College-Allen Hancock Junior College of Santa Maria game.

If both Fresno and Hancock reach the tournament finals it would prove to be an interesting contest. According to reports from Joe Kelly, Ram basketball coach, Hancock is supposed to be "loaded" with basketball talent.

Hancock Won Tourney
Hancock won the Hartnell tournament last year, however, Fresno did not participate. The Rams last year posted two victories over the Hancock Bulldogs. On their first meeting Fresno dropped the Bulldogs 74-68 in Santa Maria and trounced them 91-76 on the Fresno court the second time.

Larry Arnerich, who is in his first year of coaching the San Jose Jaguar basketball team, will probably go with the following lineup against the Rams:

Larry Heffner, the captain of the team, and Bob Oehler, a 6'2" 17 year old will be at the forwards, Fred Maroni and Jack Searfoss will hold down the guard position and 6'6" Carl Westenskow, the tallest man on the team, will be the pivot man.

Only One Setback
The Rams will go into the Hartnell tourney with only one setback against them and four wins to their credit. The lone Ram loss thus far has been to Bakersfield JC in the Bakersfield tournament by the count of 60-51. Fresno in that game went without the services of ace Forward Huey Davis who took time out to get married.

Kelly is expected to start Davis and Al Brown at the forward posts, Gary Alcorn at center, Marion Daniels and Polly Carver, the guards.

New Coach Is Big Man

Fresno Junior College's new head baseball coach and assistant football coach Clare Slaughter is a big man.

Slaughter standing six feet two inches tall and scaling 205 pounds, was born in Porterville on December 8, 1920. He grew up there and attended Porterville High School, where he played football, baseball, basketball, and was an outstanding performer on the track team.

After high school Slaughter attended College of Pacific in Stockton, where he again participated in the four sports. He made all conference in football and basketball. His football coach was the immortal Amos Alonzo Stagg.

Slaughter joined the Marine Reserves in April of 1941, and after graduating from COP in February of 1943, served in Saipan, Okinawa, and Palau as a captain in the Second Marine Division.

He was discharged in November of 1945 and nine months later married Evelyn Crudelli in Stockton.

Slaughter began coaching at Galt High School between Lodi and Sacramento in 1946. At Galt he coached football, basketball, and baseball.

This is Slaughter's first year at FJC as head baseball coach and assistant football coach.

Rams Take Second Place In Bakersfield Tourney

The Fresno Junior College Rams won two games and lost one to capture second place in the Bakersfield College invitational basketball tournament.

The tournament, scheduled to be an annual affair, was won by the Bakersfield College Renegades. Edwards Air Force Base took third place.

Coach Speaks At Banquet For Gridders

Members of the Fresno Junior College football team were honored last night in the Washington Junior High School cafeteria. Joe Verducci, head coach of the San Francisco State College football team, was the guest speaker for the evening.

George Bryson and Jack Grady, two KYNO sports announcers, gave the two Arden Farms awards trophies which are awarded to the most improved and deserving athletes on the team.

These awards are not necessarily given to the best player on the team but are given on the basis of hard work.

Bryson and Grady checked with the coaches on individual players and came up with Harold Marquez as the outstanding lineman and Larry Kaprielian as the outstanding back.

The players on the squad voted for Tom Flores as their outstanding player and also selected the slick quarterback as their honorary captain.

J. C. White, who was the team's leading ground gainer was voted the outstanding back and John Aldredge, perhaps the best blocker on the team, was selected as the outstanding lineman. Both White and Aldredge starred for Edison High School last year.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

Friday morning the Rams got off to a winning start by dumping Santa Barbara Junior College 82-71. At halftime Fresno led by only two points, 48-46 but steadily drew away in the second half.

Huey Davis led the Rams in scoring with 28 points. Gary Alcorn, 6 foot 8 inch center, made 26 points before fouling out in the last quarter.

In the semi-finals the Rams had a close call before defeating Edwards Air Force Base 68-67. Alcorn dunked the winning bucket with only seconds remaining.

Alcorn Led Scoring

Alcorn led the scoring with 21 points, followed by Davis with 14 and Al Brown with 12.

The Rams were defeated Saturday night by Bakersfield by a score of 60-51 in a closely fought contest.

Alcorn scored 19 points to be the games high scorer, followed by Bakersfield's Steve Burnett with 16 points and Bill Cowan with 14.

Renegades In Command

The Renegades were in command nearly all the way but the Rams put on a spirited rally midway in the second half to trim their lead to three points, 46-43.

The difference was the excellent play of big Bakersfield guards Burnett and George Fields.

Bakersfield swept through two games to gain the right of meeting the Rams in the finals.
