Student President Extends Welcome To Student Body

Welcome Students:

Welcome to the fastest growing college in the San Joaquin Valley. We are glad to have you here.

In the past, student councils at FJC have set high standards and codes in their endeavor to obtain the best government for their student bodies. In order that the students of FJC will be assured of a sound student government, it is the aim of the student council and myself to met these previous levels of service, and if it is possible raise them to the highest that we can.

I would like to put emphasis on the fact that each and everyone of you has the opportunity to participate in extra-curricular activities. Take part in them, do your best, and that service which you give and the spirit in which it is given will more than double as it is returned to you.

The student council is nothing more than a body functioning for the sole purpose of serving you. And I sincerely believe that, judging from the friendship and harmony that has so far been evident, the student council will not lack in any effort when they perform the duties that you have bestowed on its members.

Al Salcido, Jr.

Privilege Cards Will Cut Down Theater Prices

The student council voted unanimously to accept a privilege card which will admit all FJC students who obtain the card into three Fresno theaters at special prices.

Karlo Demoorjian, student body vice-president, said that the cards go on sale tomorrow and will remain so until all are sold. Only those students who have a student body card will be able to obtain one.

The card, which will be sold for one dollar, will be good at the Crest, Wilson, and Tower Theaters in Fresno. Demoorjian said that the reduction price with this card is so great that the student will have paid for the card after going to any one of these theaters four times.

Future Leaders Elect Upperman Spring President

The Future Business Leaders of America Chapter at FJC has elected Shirley Upperman president for the spring semester.

Other officers are Gerald Morse, first vice president; Barbara Wilkinson, second vice president; Louella Williams, secretary; Pat Cetti, treasurer; Genny Schellenberg, historian, and Ann McElwain, reporter.

This morning, at 8 and 9 a.m., half of the business students at FJC heard Arthur Selland, a member of the Fresno Board of Education and manager of the Fresno office of E. F. Hutton and Company, talk on, "How To Be A Success In Business." Other speakers were Miss Ethel McCormack, business chairman; Miss Upperman, and Fred Hall, FBLA state president.

All interested business students are invited by the newly elected officers to attend a noon meeting in B8 to make plans for a pot-luck dinner to be held in the Ramble Inn on Thursday, February 17.

Any student in the business department is invited to the pot-luck. The FBLA will furnish food and entertainment. Sign-up sheets for the dinner will be available at tomorrow's business lecture, as they were at today's.

Fresno JC Gains 92 New Veterans

Mrs. Louise Murphy, veterans' secretary, stated that as of February 7, 1955, 370 veterans were enrolled for the spring semester day classes. This is an increase of 92 veterans over the 278 that were enrolled during the previous semester.

Of the 370 veterans that are enrolled, all but 18 are under Public Law 550.

FJC Nurses To Graduate

By Bobbie Burton

The Fresno Junior College's seventh graduating class in a year's program in vocational nursing will receive certificates of completion and class pins February 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theater of the Roosevelt High School auditorium.

There are eight girls graduating. These include Carolina Aparicio, Evelyn B. Bettencourt, Frances Castillo, Margaret Castillo, Mary Ann Johnson, Beatrice Mitchell, Adrienne Streets, and Mrs. Mary Urutia.

These girls will have completed a program sponsored jointly by FJC and the local hospitals which qualifies them for state licensing examinations.

President Stuart M. White will introduce Dr. Elizabeth Kelly, professor of health education of the Fresno State College, who will speak on "Health Education and the Vocational Nurse."

Miss Frieda Lebensbaum, director of the School of Nursing of the Fresno County General Hospital, will congratulate the graduates, and the student speaker, Margaret Castillo, will talk on "Where Hope Is Found."

The certificates and pins will be awarded by Robert P. Hansler, chairman of FJC's trade and industrial division.

Mrs. Mildred Bosteder, a vocational nursing instructor, will be in charge of a capping ceremony for the graduates. Mrs. Anna Thompson, FJC's vocational nursing coordinator, will present the class to Hansler for their awards.

Dr. Lucille H. Williams, a faculty member, will play the processional and recessional. Three of the graduates, Misses Streets, Mitchell and Johnson, will sing "Halls of Ivy." Members of the Vocational Nurses Alumnae Association will be the ushers.

President Says Let's Cooperate

Students:

With the beginning of our spring semester many interesting and challenging problems face our associated students, faculty, and administration, but wholehearted cooperation by all should make this semester most outstanding for our college.

Our constant growth in enrollment is evidence of the fine educational opportunities available at Fresno Junior College and of the service the college is rendering to our community. May I urge all students to take full advantage of these opportunities in order that they may gain the most during their time at Fresno Junior College.

Rams Hold Down First Place; COS Remains Big Surprise

Now that the Rams are undisputably in first place, I would like to jump my neck out and say that nothing will knock them from this high and mighty platform.

The quintet has shown strength in every game and has lost only two so far this season. These were to Modesto and Bakersfield. Both teams had been beaten by the Rams earlier.

Hancock and Reedley JCs were supposed to have caused the Rams the most trouble, but it seems to me as if COS has pulled the most surprises of the league. The Giants, who were supposed to have a 50-50 team, are now in second place.

Taft is also a team which has pulled a few mild surprises, however, not as big as upsets of the Giants have.

Porterville and Coalinga are still putting up a terrific battle for the cellar spot. Both have equal records since Porterville dropped Coalinga in their latest outing.

Hancock should come out in second place when the final standings counted up. Reedley and COS should be tied for third, while Taft is preserving fifth place. And, as I said, Porterville and Coalinga will be at the bottom. It is a flip between the two teams, but I'll take "Porty."

Nisei Club Elects Teraoka President

Henry Teraoka was elected president of the Nisei Club at the last meeting of the fall semester. He succeeded Mack Sanwo.

Other officials elected were Art Yamaguchi, vice-president; Caroline Haw, corresponding secretary; Mary Ueki, recording secretary; Frances Chow, publicity chairman; Jane Kobashi and Joe Kamimoto, historians.

The club sponsor is Miss Meriam L. Tervo.

The first meeting of the spring semester is scheduled tomorrow at 12 in S-10.

Instructor Wants To Be Outstanding

By Cecil Tange

Carl Rustigian's main ambition is to be an outstanding instructor.

Rustigian, a transplanted Californian, was born in Worchester, Massachusetts.

The body and fender instructor at the west campus attended the University of California at Berkeley, a trade school in Fresno, a radio trade school in San Francisco, and a trade school while in the Air Force.

After his Uncle Sam beckoned him to serve the cause of his country, he spent one and a half years in the service. He was in a heavy bombardment squadron.

Three years ago he came to FJC as an instructor for his trade. He is an ardent candid camera fan.

What does he like about FJC? He claims he likes the friendly atmosphere found here.

"All the instructors—vocational and academic — are friendly and kind toward new teachers and all the students who attend here are also friendly," said Rustigian.

He is married and has three children—a girl and two boys. He lives in Fresno at 7 Swift Street.

Robert Bangs, vice-president of the Associated Men Students, stated he hopes there will be more unity between the Associated Women Students and AMS during this semester.

The AMS is planning its annual barn dance for the spring. This is expected to be one of the large activities during this semester.

Ed Suddjian was appointed publicity chairman of the AMS for the spring semester by the president, Boyd Deel.

The newly elected officers for the AMS are Deel, president; Bangs, vice-president; Tommy Flores, secretary, and Frank Fiorentino, treasurer.

Odell Johnson, sharp shooting forward of the Rams, is in third place in the high scoring department of the COC league.

Johnson has hit for 181 points in league play.

FJC Has First Mid Semesters Vacation Break

Fresno Junior College students and faculty had last week the first vacation between the fall and spring semesters in the history of this school.

Students who had completed pre-registration, which was held between January 3 and 21, were able to enjoy five days of vacation before spring classes started last Monday.

Students who had not preregistered did so February 3 and 4.

The faculty and office staff were able to prepare for spring classes and bring grade records up to date.

Washington's Birthday, spring vacation on April 7 and 8, and Memorial Day are the only holidays scheduled for this semester.

Rams Blast Foes; Grab League Lead

FJC Quintet Wins Five, Drops One Practice Game

Fresno Junior College has had a troupe of very busy little Rams since the last edition of the Rampage. Kelly's five competed in five league games and one practice game, winning all of the conference tussles and dropping the one practice game.

Porterville: The Fresno club invaded Porterville and handed the Pirates a sound thumping by the score of 72-56. It was by far not an easy game for the Rams. Intermission time found the score tied at 25-25.

Forward Odell Johnson had another fine night, scoring 28 points and making 12 out of 15 free throws. Guard Ernie Slade, who has since been relieved by R. L. Benson, was second in the scoring column with 19 points. Alcorn, who had an unusually bad night, came through with only 9 points.

Coalinga: After a brief breather, the FJC quintet trekked to Coalinga, where they delivered a severe 111-66 beating to the confused and outclassed Falcons. After only ten minutes of play, the score stood at 31-19, and at the halftime the score was a disinteresting 60-30. After ten minutes of the second period had elapsed, Kelly benched the regulars and sent in the hustling reserves.

College of the Sequoias: Perhaps a little tired from the Coalinga game, the Rams then played host to the powerful COS Giants in one of the most suspense-filled games of the season. It was a give and take battle all the way before the Fresnoans finally got by the Visalia five, 62-57.

The Rams led most of the first half and were leading at the half by five points. Early in the second half the Giants rallied because of the superb playing of forwards Ray Borges and Billy Cook. The score was soon tied at 40 all, and a few minutes later the COS team pulled away from the favored Rams in a wonderful display of ball handling.

The steady playing of the Fresno club soon closed the gap, and the Rams trailed by two points. With the aid of Johnson and three charity shots, the Rams spurted ahead of the visiting club and from then on into the final two minutes of the game the score see-sawed back and forth.

With a little over a minute remaining in the contest, the strain and tension could be read on every face under the roof of the new Roosevelt High School gymnasium. The taut nerves finally snapped as a fight started under the Fresno basket. It was but a short-lived display of tempers, and the officials quickly put an end to the free-for-all, but not before Referee Toby Lawless received a flying elbow in the mouth and was promptly relieved of one of his favorite teeth.

The scuffle having ended, the Rams pulled away, and the final buzzer found the score 62-57 in favor of the Fresnoans.

Reedley: Moving onward to Reedley, the Rams faced the Tigers on their home boards, squelching them by the score of 76-66.

At the intermission the Fresno five were leading 45-31, but late in the second half the Rams were leading by only a shaky three points. The Tigers were getting desperate as the final minutes closed in and the Rams cashed in on numerous fouls, which put them ahead by ten points as the buzzer blurted. This was Slade's last game with the club, his eligibility having run out.

Bakersfield: Continuing south to the home of the Bakersfield Renegades, the Fresno team dropped a practice game to the Gades, 83-74.

The Rams were leading the local boys at the half by four unstable points. With eight minutes left to play, the Renegades tied the score

61 all, and in the minutes following, passed the Rams and never relinquished their lead for the remainder of the game. Alcorn led in the scoring with 20 points; Johnson swooshed in 18, and R. L. Benson, newcomer to the team, popped in 17 points. Benson is an ex-Roosevelt star just discharged from the armed services.

Taft: After getting their fur rubbed the wrong way by the surprising Bakersfielders, the Rams avenged themselves by crushing outclassed Taft Cougars, 100-69, on the Taft JC boards.

Johnson again rode over the Cougar defense and scored 36 points, 12 field goals and 12 free throws. Benson, who seems to be worthy of fitting the shoes of Ernie Slade, scooped in 19 points.

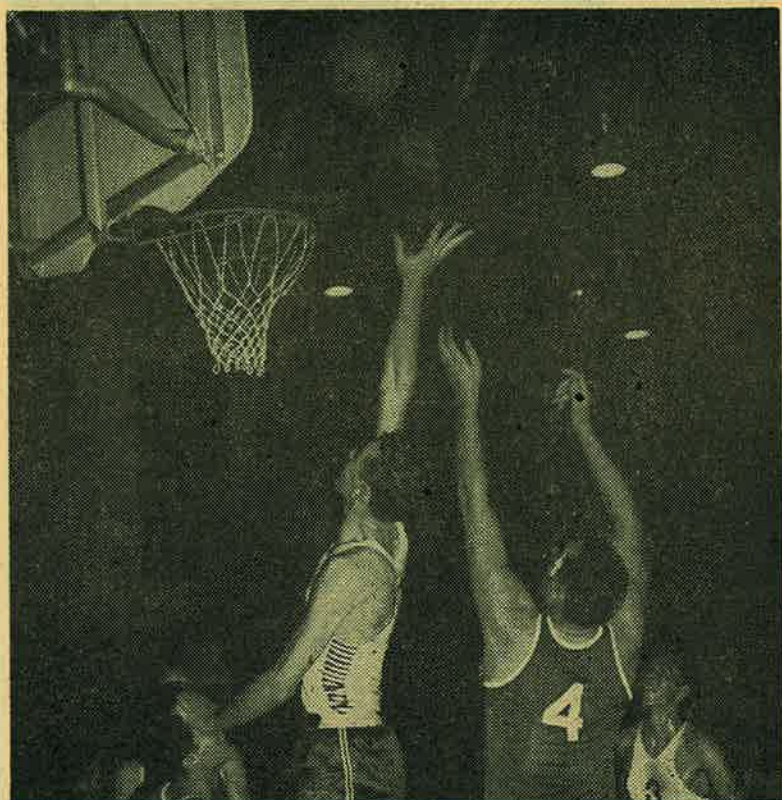

FJC SPORTS

By MARVIN LUTZ

The Fresno Junior College Rams are still doing well on the basketball court even though they lost to Bakersfield last Tuesday night. They made up for it by scoring a hundred points against Taft Friday night. The games of last week were a good test for two newcomers, R. L. Benson and Victor Antonino. Benson is doing very well as a replacement for Ernie Slade, and Antonino is also helping the reserves.

We should give a lot of credit to Ernie Slade, who has used up his eligibility. A job well done," Ernie.

So much for basketball, and now I turn to baseball. The FJC nine will play their first game of the '55 season tomorrow afternoon against the Fresno State JV's. This game will be at Romain Field at 2:30 p.m. I hope to see you fans at the baseball games as well as the rest of the basketball games this semester. Try to get more students to come out and come more often yourselves. I will appreciate it.

FJC's TALL CENTER, Gary Alcorn, is shown shooting a tip-in shot. The 6 foot 8 inch former Roosevelt High School star is one of the outstanding centers of the league. Alcorn has an average of 18.5 points per game.

Fresno Tech Alumni Association Awards Scholarship To Student

The Fresno Tech Alumni Association will award the Fresno Junior College with a $100 scholarship for the 1955-56 school year.

Thomas Flores of Sanger was given the group's first scholarship awarded to FJC for the 1954-55 school year.

Funds will be raised for the scholarship from the group's annual reunion dance Saturday night in the Serbian Hall on North First Street just north of Shields Avenue.

Gail Mason, the association's president, said the alumni and their friends of the old Fresno Technical High School may purchase tickets at the Washington Junior High School, Mid-Valley Sports Center, Dale Brothers Coffee Company, at the door, or from any member of the association.

The arrangements for the dance are being made by a committee and the group's officers, who include besides Mason, Mason Reid, vice-president; Mrs. Vahram Kriamidjian, secretary; and A. E. Rimer, treasurer. The committee includes Gordon Scott, James Capozzie, Mrs. Eldon Gearing, and Mrs. Chester Corbett.

Hancock To Visit Fresno Saturday

The Fresno Junior College Rams will play the strong Allan Hancock College of Santa Maria in the Yosemite Junior High gym Saturday night at 8 p.m.

The Rams are currently boasting a two game edge in the Central California Junior College Association basketball race.

Coach Joe Kelly's men won the first contest, 74 to 68, in Santa Maria with Hancock.

The Bulldogs, led by high scoring Dick Valentine, Ted Boggs, Dick Rife, and company, are expected to give the Rams plenty of trouble.

Coach Kelly will go with Odell Johnson and Ray Williams at forward; Gary Alcorn, center; and Marion Daniels and R. L. Benson at the guard slots.

RAMBLER TO BE SOLD LAST TIME TUESDAY

Franz Weinschenk, yearbook adviser and English instructor, stated in a recent announcement that the last day to buy annuals will be February 15.

Weinschenk said with the help of the students and a few more sales, the yearbook will be a success. Copies will be available by the end of May.
