Students Should Help In Keeping Campus Clean

The new Fresno Junior College campus has everyone talking about its beautiful landscaping.

The campus has over twenty acres of lawn, with many trees, shrubs and flowers making the campus one of the most beautiful in the San Joaquin Valley.

Taking care of the grounds is a tremendous job for the gardeners, and as students of FJC, we must do our part to help them.

Ralph Trosi, gardener for Fresno Junior College is busy daily trying to make the campus one that we can be very proud of.

He said, "The lawn is here to give color and beauty to the campus, and we should use the sidewalks instead of the lawn." Let's return cold drink bottles and papers to their containers that are placed around the campus, and do our best to keep the grounds clean.

Fair Exhibit Shows Change From Buggy To Modern Age

The FJC technical and industrial division has provided several exhibits in the Fresno City Schools section at the Fresno District Fair.

Against a background which includes a 30-foot mobile suspended overhead and a cutout showing the transition from the horse and buggy days to the electronic age, the exhibits show what the schools are doing in such fields as welding, machine shop, carpentry and mill cabinet, engineering, auto mechanics, radio and television, and electricity.

A tape recorder is being used to explain how FJC students are trained for radio and television repair work. Instructors Erret Smith, James Dinsdale and Chester Garrison set up the exhibit.

The inner workings of a transmission are spread out for inspection in FJC's section of the exhibit.

Photographs of students working in class, blue prints, tools and machinery, automobile parts and examples of finished wood and metal crafts are used to tell the theme of the booth.

These petitions should be submitted to the admissions office.

BUSINESS DIVISION COMPLETES DISTRIBUTIVE CAREERS SURVEY

By EDDIE BRIGGS

The Fresno Junior College business division has completed a distributive occupation survey which began last March.

The survey was made in cooperation with the bureau of business education of the state department of education, the Fresno City and County Chamber of Commerce, and the division's advisory committee of local business and professional men and women.

Th survey's coordinator, Ger-vase A. Eckenrod, said the school plans to add courses in several distributive fields such as salesmanship, merchandising and advertising, and that the object of the survey is to determine what job opportunities there will be for students at the college who enroll in these courses.

A total of 636 business firms were mailed questionnaires, and 291 completed the forms. Each firm was interviewed by a survey representative in person or by telephone. Members of the business projects class and the faculty tabulated the returns and were responsible for correlating them with the interview results.

Questions Asked

Questions asked on the forms included the number of employees a concern has; their sex, age and length of employment; the number of full-time and part-time employees; source of workers; and the percentage of employees who have the education their employers desire.

Eckenrod announced the following conclusions of the study of 291 businesses in the Fresno area:

(1) FJC should give more emphasis to training in the distributive occupations by providing a marketing curriculum to meet the needs of students preparing for jobs in the distributive field and of employees who desire more education to qualify them for promotion.

(2) Such courses as salesmanship, marketing, advertising, retail store operation and management, and product information should be included in the curriculum.

(3) Occupational tests used by FJC should be coordinated with those in industry to prevent duplication and to make an exchange of test results possible.

(4) The placement function of the junior college should be emphasized both to students and employers.

(5) Information from the survey should be made available to counselors in secondary schools in Fresno and nearby communities.

Night Classes

(6) Extended day (night) classes should be used to supplement day courses to provide an opportunity for men and women in distributive jobs to receive college credit toward a degree.

(7) A follow-up study should be made of employees and employers to assist in evaluating the effectiveness of the new marketing curriculum at FJC.

(8) FJC instructors should be oriented to the need for qualified employees in the distributive field in Fresno and to the importance of the function of distribution in the San Joaquin Valley economy.

Typical Employee

The survey revealed that the typical employee is a male salesman working full-time in a retail firm. He comes from the local community and is between 26 and 35.

Before employment while in junior college, the typical student has a part-time job of 20 hours per week in a retail outlet. He is hired on a full-time basis after graduation, when he has 74 per cent of the training desired by his employer and 76 per cent of the desired amount of education.

He secures his position by personal application, and the chances were that he was given a test before being hired.

Training Programs

Two out of every three firms participating in the survey reported that they have a training program, and 82 per cent of the firms with the programs consider them adequate.

Employers indicated that the junior college can best assist in providing personnel for distributive educations by encouraging youngsters to go into the field, making its program better known to employers and employees in business, offering night classes for people in service, stressing fundamentals, incorporating selling on credit, investments, and finance courses into its curriculum, and increasing emphasis on selling.

Types of Business

The 291 firms include the following types of business: manufacture, 30; wholesale, 60; service, 79; and retail, 122. They employ 1,963 men and 581 women as cashiers, salesmen, sales clerks, shipping clerks, credit managers, decorators and designers, delivery service, owners and managers, purchasing agents, sales managers, service managers, stock clerks, store managers, and traffic managers.

According to the survey, 399 employees were replaced in a year, 144 were added to staffs, and 75 lost their positions through reduction in personnel. It also reports that 58 per cent of the employers report the supply of labor is inadequate, 4 per cent consider it in surplus, and 37 per cent term it scarce.

The most common cause for discharge of employees during the past year in include laziness, 26.

Student From Pakistan Likes American Collegiate Life

Life in America, and especially college life, is interesting and pleasant for a young Pakistani student.

Reza H. Syed, 21, of the capital city, Karachi, has very definite ideas about American education, girls, and politics. He said that the American educational system is the best in the world at present because there is a larger choice of subjects which are easier and more interesting.

What About Girls?

He believes Pakistani girls are more beautiful than American girls. They have natural beauty and they don't wear makeup.

"American women, with their short hairdos, who smoke and drink have lost their femininity," he added.

The dark haired student likes the American dating system very much, which is far different from that of Pakistan.

Saari Disappears

The storied Moslem girl with purple "saari" and exotic veil has disappeared from sight.

"Women are playing a great and important role in building up Pakistan," Syed stated.

He believes Pakistanis enjoy complete freedom and a democratic way of life. He recalled that during the last general election in his country he saw people walk several miles to the polling places just to cast their votes.

The pleasantly awed youth plans to return to his country when he completes his education and obtain a position with an American company there.

Larson Pitches Perfect Game In World Series

Sports history was rewritten last Monday before 64,519 screaming fans in Yankee Stadium as Don Larson of the New York Yankees pitched the first perfect game in World Series play against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Larson chucked the ball like a modern Rube Waddell as he blanked the Dodgers with no hits, no walks, and no runs. He pitched to 27 power-laden batters and threw 97 pitches.

Larson was in command all the way with two tremendous assists by lanky Gil MacDougald and slugger Mickey Mantle.

Jackie Robinson smashed the ball to Andy Carey only to have it bound away. McDougald covering on the play, promptly shot the ball to first and nailed Robinson by a hair.

Gil Hodges, in the fifth, blasted a tremendous long ball to left center only to have fleet-footed Mantle make a running-lunging back handed catch to rob Hodges of an extra base hit. From there on in Larson was never headed.

Old Sal "The Barber" Maglie tried to match the pace until the fourth inning, when Mantle found the range and uncorked a long hit ball into the right field stands. The Yanks got another run in the sixth with Andy Carey singling, Larson sacrificing Carey to second, and then Hank Bauer singling to left to drive Carey into score.

Larson ended the game with a flourish by striking out hard hitting Dale Mitchell a former Cleveland Indian.

Larson's perfect game was the first since April 30, 1922, with Charley Robertson of the White Sox pitching.

The sixth game found the Dodgers winning in the 10th inning, 1-0. The Yankees wrapped the series up yesterday with a convincing 9-0 shutout over the hapless Dodgers.

FJC Men May Join Reserves

Students attending FJC may participate in the officer's candidate or enlisted reserve programs of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, or Air Force. They also may participate in the California National Guard.

Acceptance by any of these reserve branches of the armed forces will allow a student to request active duty with the branch of service of his choice for a period of twenty-four months in the event he fails to qualify for deferment as a student and is ordered for induction.

FJC Rams To Play Reedley Saturday

The Rambling Rams of Fresno Junior College take to the road again this Saturday for a night game against the Reedley Tigers at Reedley.

Reedley, the Central California Junior College Athletic Association doormat last year, has shown considerable improvement over last year's club.

Games already played this year show Reedley winners over Palomar Junior College, 33-7, and Sierra Junior College, 32-7. Last weekend the Tigers lost to a potent Porterville College outfit by a score of 27-7.

Ace backfield man for the Tigers is Bruce Stone at quarterback, who is rated as the sparkplug for the club. Holding down the line are the two Ericson brothers, Bob and Dick. Both are 200 pounders and were All-Star prep selections at Kingsburg.

The Rams so far in season competition have a one win and two lost record. The first game pitted the Rams against the bruising East Los Angeles Junior College eleven with the Rams coming out second best.

The second game found the Rams hosting the strong Stockton Mustangs and the Rams posting a convincing 14-0 win.

Last Saturday the Rams traveled to Taft to play in the wind and rain. The Cougars of Taft worked the breaks to their advantage and came out on top 19-7.

The Rams took the Tigers into camp last year to the tune of 25-7 and will be out to make purring kittens of the roaring Tigers again this year. Game time at 8 PM.

Foes Aware That Ram Hits Hard

The Fresno Ram football opponents are well aware of a hard hitting guard in the form of Bob DiFuria.

Bob is 20 years of age and in his second year at Fresno Junior College. He is a graduate of Fresno High, where he played two years of varsity ball for the Warriors. His major is general education, and at the present he is undecided as to where he will transfer after FJC.

Coach Hans Wiedenhoefer stated, "DiFuria has shown great improvement over last year. He is strong on line backing and pass defense and a hard charging guard on offense."

Mid-Valley Rams Rap Tigers 9-3

Coach Clair Slaughter's winter league baseball team continued its winning ways last Sunday when the Rams met the Reedley Tigers on Holmes Playground and notched a 9-3 win. This is the second win in a row for the Rams.

Jerry Burcher chucked the first five innings and gave up three hits and one run. Coming on in the sixth was Danny Spino. He gave up three hits and two runs in his four inning stint.

GO, MAN, GO! — Charging thru the line and picking up yardage in the Taft game last Saturday is Ken Guinn, Ram halfback. Identified also on the Ram line-up are J. C. White (27), and John Aldredge (40). (Pendergras Photo)

Lowdown

By BOB & JOHN

Mud and fumbleitis were the main themes last Friday night as the FSC Battlin' Bulldogs ran into a slippery, muddy pigskin, and muddled to 2-0 shutout over the stumbling San Diego Marines before 9,000 unmoved onlookers in rain-soaked Ratcliffe Stadium.

The only score of a lack-lustre game came on a first period safety, when three plays after the kickoff mass confusion in the backfield of the Leathernecks caused center Louis Hallow's snap to sail into the end zone.

Attempting to grab the loose pigskin, Leatherneck Harlton Willman was immediately pounced upon by on-rushing Bulldog Bill Harvey for the only score of the evening. The Bulldogs' running attack will have to show much more improvement when they meet the ever dangerous College of the Pacific and their fabulous halfback Dick Bass.

Rams Lose

Fresno Junior College's Rams found little relief from the weather at Taft, as the elements of nature banded with the Cougars of Taft to pin a defeat on the luckless Rams of Fresno, 19-7, before a few rain drenched, diehard pigskin fans.

Sanger Wins

Glancing to the high school front, the high rolling Sanger Apaches handed the Roosevelt Rough Riders their third consecutive loss in as many games before nearly 4,000 fans on the Apaches' home grounds in a 14-0 whitewash.

Warriors Defeated

The Paso Robles Bearcats eked out a 19-14 win over the Fresno High Warriors after a wild first-half that saw the lead see-saw back and forth at Paso Robles Friday night.

Edison Victorious

Ratcliffe Stadium again was the scene of a grid battle between cross-town rivals, Edison and San Joaquin Memorial High School, when the win-hungry Edison Tigers completely mauled their smaller opponents, 31-6, before a nearly empty stadium Saturday night.

Gazing far and wide the Raisin City's football outlook grows gloomier with each grid week; here's hoping it can perk back up to the usual level.

The time has come when yours truly again leaves till the war chants of the pigskin are heard throughout the country. Farewell!

Taft Cougars Defeat Fresno Junior College

Taft Junior College received an assist last Saturday night as 40 mile an hour winds and showers aided the Cougars to drop the Rams by the count of 19-7 before a few scattered rain-soaked onlookers at Taft's Memorial Stadium.

The Rambling Rams jumped to a short-lived lead, when rifle-armed Mike Flaherty fired a 26 yarder to Larry Boies standing in the end zone for the Rams' only tally of the evening. Flaherty also converted for the extra point.

Following the kickoff, the Cougars war machine gathered momentum in a sustained drive, climaxed by the Cougars' fullback Len Eastwood on an 11 yard slant off tackle for six points.

The Rambling Rams received a setback in the second quarter, when end Fred Raco juggled a low pass from center on a fourth down punt situation; lumbering 285 pound tackle Larry Chaney drove in to block the kick and in one motion swept the pigskin up and bounded into touchdown land. Berslinger booted the conversion.

Held to meager yardage, the Cougar's took advantage of the Fresno Rams' miscues. A 15 yard penalty in the final stanza assessed against the Rams' coaching staff helped set up Taft's final TD. Ronnie Gilliam lateraled to Alfonso Muro, who scampered 25 yards for the tally.
