White To Attend JC Conclave

President Stuart M. White is making plans to attend another conference of the California Junior College Association. The conference will be held in Yosemite again this year with headquarters at the Ahwahnee Hotel.

At the present, the advanced registration has totaled over 350, which indicates a large attendance.

Lasts Three Days

The conference will be held over a three-day period beginning October 30 and continuing through November 1. The registration begins at 1 PM Tuesday, October 30.

The first session will begin at 3 PM October 30 lasting until 7 PM which is the time for the conference dinner. The other sessions are Wednesday at 9 AM; luncheon meeting at 12:45, 7:45 PM and Thursday at 9 AM. The conference will adjourn Thursday at noon.

Dr. Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education, will be speaking on "The Place of Junior College Education in the Future of Our Country."

Speaks On Future Of JC's

Dr. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction is speaking on "The Future of Junior Colleges in California."

Dr. Jesse P. Bogue, executive secretary of the American Association of Junior Colleges, is another featured speaker, topic unknown. He is the editor of publication for the American Association of Junior Colleges for '56.

Dr. Thomas F. McConnell, director of research study on diversification in higher education and professor of education at the University of California, is another of the featured speakers.

Mid-Term Exams Set For Nov. 5-9

Look out everyone! The fate-filled week of November 5 to 9 is fast approaching. For those few uninformed individuals, this is the week of mid-term examinations.

Mid-terms are held each year at Fresno Junior College, and mark the end of the first nine weeks of school. Anyone who does not attend mid-terms may receive a failing grade in the course. An examination may be made up only if one has a very excellent excuse for not attending at the designated time. Grades will be given out in the classes, for there will be no special schedule to receive the grades.

November 16 is the last day for students who are taking courses on the audit basis to petition for grades. The petitions must be turned into the office by the end of this day for them to get full consideration.

Naomi Morales Chosen As Ram Week Queen

Naomi Morales, an 18 year old freshman was crowned Friday as the Homecoming Queen of the Fresno Junior College.

Selected as the queen's attendants were Barbara Jean Fragus and Cecilia Juanita Caudillo, both 17 year old freshmen.

Miss Morales was crowned by Bruce Fankratz, president of the newly formed FJC Alumni Association, which in cooperation with the Fresno Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored Ram Week.

A graduate of the Roosevelt High School, Miss Morales is majoring in secretarial techniques. She was sponsored by the Latin American Club.

The Ram Week rally featured two speakers from the Fresno Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Joe Parker, master of ceremonies introduced Malcolm De Orian, chairman of the FJCC to the student body.

De Orian said that he was very impressed by the enthusiasm shown by the students during Ram Week.

Dean Bailey, FJCC president introduced the queen candidates to the student assembly. Bailey a former FJC student praised Ram Week and the new college home.

C. Lowell Spencer, music instructor of the FJC dance band presented a few selected numbers for entertainment during the rally.

Attending the rally were the following College of the Sequoias student government members: Galen Greswald, president of the student body; Janice Stone, vice president; Gary Houk, commissioner of finance; Shelby Fennel, Interclub Council president; Jack Hanna, freshman president; Cichal Wlasichuk, sophomore president; Alice Soares, AWS president; Joyce Baumgarten, commissioner of arts; and Gayle Nelson, commissioner of records.

JC Students Take In COS Conference

"The College of the Sequoias fall conference was one of the most successful regional conferences which I have ever had the pleasure of attending," states an enthusiastic Joseph King, who in addition to being FJC student council advisor, is also the state faculty coordinator.

The conference took place Saturday at Visalia, on the COS campus, 9:45 AM to 4:30 PM.

The guest speaker was Fresno State's Dr. Forest Brown, dean of students. The fruit of Dr. Brown's talk was stressing the importance of members of student government recognizing their responsibilities.

Ben Eichman presided as chairman of the student government workshop.

Mrs. Kay Seagraves, the dean of women accompanied the group.

Publications, Student Government, Athletics, Finance, Campus Activities, and Associated Women Students were the topics which the students had an opportunity to discuss in the workshops.

Top-notch entertainment highlighted the lunch hour, when hot lunches were served to everyone.

FJC representation at the conference numbered 27 of the total 250 in attendance.

Alpha Gamma Gains Five Members

Alpha Gamma Sigma, the California Junior College Scholastic Honorary Society, initiated five FJC sophomores in a ceremony on the University Avenue campus on October 18.

Haruo Kizuka, a social science major, is in this country on a student visa from Tokyo, Japan.

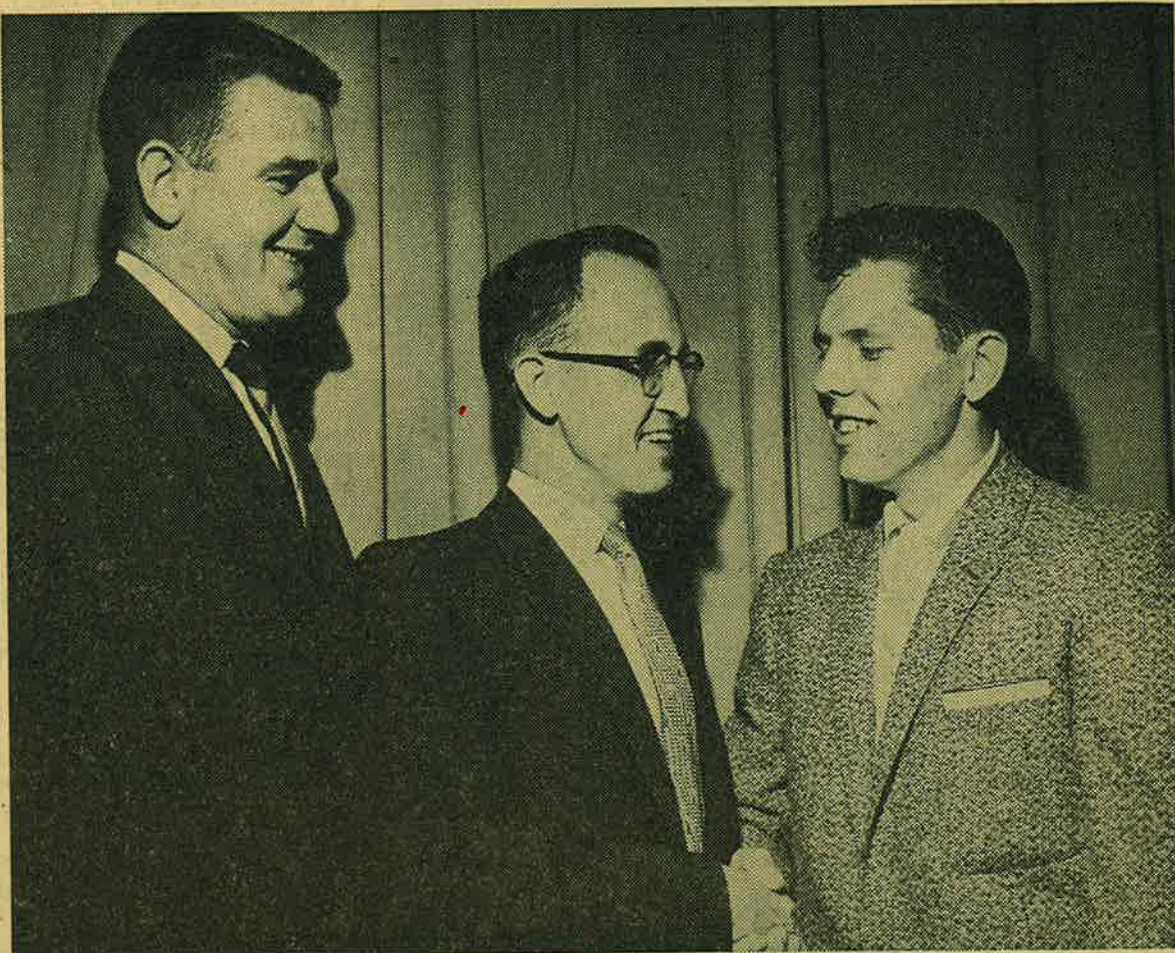

The others are Felix Alfred Aycock, business administration 2565 DeWitt, Clovis; William Haist, business administration, 1340 North Calaveras; Leland Weppeler, political science, 2333 Thomas; and Carol L. Bowman, physical education, 1465 North Calaveras.

They were initiated by Rodney Hill, the president of the chapter, and Dr. Rolf Ordal, the advisor.

Jaquitta DeWitt is the secretary of the chapter. Other members who returned from last year are Burgan Rose, Janis Ross, Ann Smith and Edna Holland.

'I'm Right' Attitude Brings Disagreement Among Nations

Today the world is trembling from fear of the H-bomb; civilization is frightened by the roaring jet fighters; progress is threatened by the next war; peace is pierced by the dictators. Why? Only because we do not understand each other. We think, "He is wrong;" "I am right." The United Nations has failed to create a needed understanding.

Think, can we do something to achieve greater world harmony? Yes, we can, not on a big scale, of course. On our campus we have many foreign students — the unofficial ambassadors, the leaders of the future in different countries. There is much we can learn from them. And we have an opportunity to explain to them what we are.

Last week the president of the Fresno Junior College Student Council received a letter from the vice-president of the Fresno State College Cosmopolitan Club. The Cosmo Club invites the FJC students to join with them in the club's activities.

The Cosmopolitan Club, whose main objective is to promote good neighborhood feelings and to further understanding among American and foreign students, has attained a prominent position on the State College campus, as well as in the Fresno community. Its regular fortnightly meetings attract not only the students but many people from the community, too. The club's activities include speeches by significant persons, movies from different countries, social dances, light refreshments, etc.

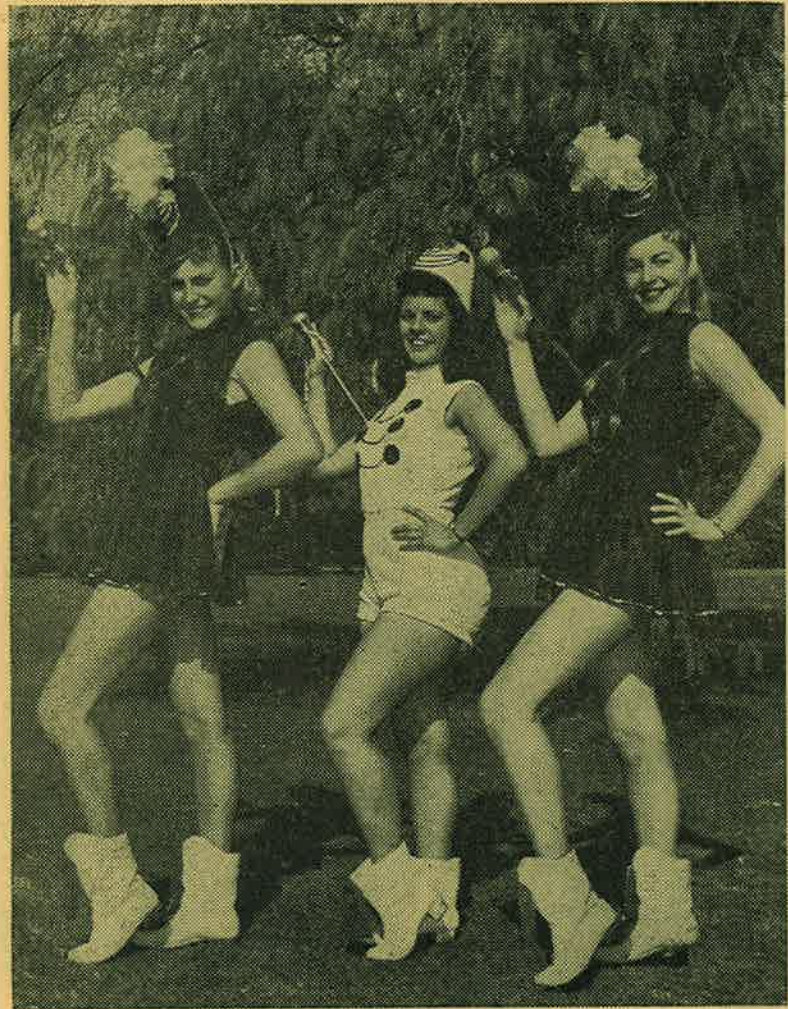

Besides its regular meetings, the club holds an annual World show in December, in which students from all countries including the United States produce something interesting and conspicuous about those countries. For example, they offer foods, show dresses and customs, perform dances and music, etc. The income from the World Show is spent on a dinner party for the underprivileged children of Fresno. Last year the World Show was performed before a hall-packed audience.

Since the Junior College has only 30 foreign students, we cannot establish a successful parallel club on this campus. It will be best for us now to accept that invitation whole heartedly and with much thanks.

Let us prove to them that we are as much interested in better international understanding as FSC's students are. Let us demonstrate that FJC students can work for the benefit of the underprivileged children. Let us establish a good tradition of cooperative work between the two colleges.

Shall we all meet on Wednesday, November 7, at 7:30 PM in the student union hall?

—Reza Syed

Exchange Notes

The Pirate Press

The Pirate Press of Ventura College ran an editorial denouncing their present board of commissioners policy of "padlocked dances." The Pirate Press feels that they have demoted the maturity of the college students to that of a kindergarten level.

If the student board does not begin fulfilling their objectives, the student body will feel that it is their responsibility to place representatives on the board that will.

The San Matean

The San Matean of San Mateo Junior College, reports their students have purchased more student body cards than at any other time in the history of the school. Only fifty-five per cent of the student body bought them, however.

But, since a student will save about twenty dollars during the year, it is a very good investment. Students with a card get reduced prices at the book store, a rate on the UC, Stanford, and Forty-niner games, and a student rate on dances and all student functions.

The student body cards can also be used for many other events as well.

President Of FJC Is Speaker At Berkeley

Stuart M. White, president of the Fresno Junior College, and Dr. Forrest D. Brown, the dean of students of the Fresno State College, were two of the speakers at several meetings of the State Affiliations Committee of the University of California, junior colleges, state colleges and high schools in Berkeley last Thursday and Friday.

Dr. Brown spoke at a meeting Friday morning on the topic, Is It Advisable to Encourage Junior College Students to Transfer to State Colleges prior to Completion of 60 Units?

White, who has been a member of the group for eight years, said the committee maintains liaison between all four types of public schools and helps to improve relations between all levels of public education in the state from the high school through the university.

Students Offered Clinical Training

The Fresno Junior College offers a year of pre-clinical training to qualify candidates for admission to the various schools of nursing.

The high school requirements are one year of algebra and geometry, four years of English, one year U.S. History, two years science including chemistry.

Any or all of these deficiencies may be satisfied in college.

PERSIAN STUDENT AWED BY NEW YORK'S SKYLINE

It was cold and very foggy in New York on the morning of January 6, 1956, when Mrs. Frieda Ghaffari landed to make her home in the United States.

Mrs. Ghaffari, from Persia, is a freshman at Fresno Junior College.

When asked what her first impression of the United States was, she stated, "I was very impressed with the city (New York) and its citizens, especially the way the women dressed and how busy the people were." Mrs. Ghaffari said that New York was very much different than what she had pictured it to be from movies and stories.

After landing in New York she flew to San Francisco, and then Fresno, where she was greeted by her sister and her husband.

Mrs. Ghaffari is majoring in laboratory techniques here at FJC. She plans on getting an associate of arts degree upon graduation.

"The educational system in the States is very different from that in Persia," stated the dark-eyed beauty.

In Persia they have six years of grade school, six years of high school, and the university schooling is about the same.

After this reporter had asked all his questions, Mrs. Ghaffari had one for me.

"How come, she asked, "the girls dress up so nicely, when the boys don't seem to care how they dress with their blue jeans and crew-cuts?"

JC Clubs Sponsor Halloween Dance

A Halloween Ball will be held Wednesday, Halloween night, from 8 to 11 PM.

The ball will be sponsored by the Fresno Junior College Newman and Latin clubs.

Marilyn Snyder, president of the Newman Club, said, "All FJC students and their guests are invited. The admission is free."

Miss Snyder said the exact location would appear in the weekly bulletin. Tentative plans for the ball is the Saint John's Cathedral.

Five Fresno JC Students Given $50 Scholarships

William T. O'Rear, the executive secretary of the Fresno Central Labor Council, presented $50 scholarships to five FJC freshmen.

Students receiving the scholarships include Sharon Cummings, a graduate of the Fresno High School; Bonnie Smith, a graduate of the Roosevelt High School; and Sharon Wallem, a graduate of the Kingsburg High School. These girls are majoring in the secretarial field.

Attendance At FJC Sets New Record

Fresno Junior College's current enrollment is 2,985, including 51 in training classes FJC maintains for the United States Air Force, and 60 high school students in shop classes.

George C. Holstein, the dean of admissions and records, reported the school's registration this semester has exceeded 3,000 for the first time in FJC's history. He said 3,094 students have actually enrolled, but 109 have withdrawn.

Holstein said FJC now has 2,874 students in regular classes, not counting the high school and Air Force registrants. The regular students include 1,488 in night classes, including 780 in apprentice and trade extension courses in the technical and industrial division and 708 in academic subjects.

The 1,386 day students include 155 in shop classes and 1,231 in other curricula.

The enrollment by divisions of regular students includes technical and industrial, 1,548; general education, 797, and business, 529.

Holstein also reported a study of FJC students, excluding those in apprentice and trade extension classes at night, shows 929 are attending college for the first time and 1,165 have previously been enrolled in a college.

Their high school of graduation includes the following schools: Caruthers, 8; Central Union, 56; Chowchilla, 35; Clovis, 86; Dos Palos, 15; Edison, 105; Fowler, 22; Fresno, 256; Kerman, 15; Kingsburg, 6; Madera, 70; Riverdale, 5; Roosevelt, 214; Sanger, 38; San Joaquin Memorial, 76; Selma, 15; Sierra Union, 23; Tranquillity, 9; Washington Union, 57; Fresno Adult School, 43; others in California, 299; others out of state, 278; foreign countries, 47; and non-graduate, 316.

Holstein said FJC has also made a study of the students by their major field of study.

In the general education division the number of students by major includes agriculture, 11; art, 28; criminology, 48; English, 5; forestry, 9; home economics, 15; journalism, 10; liberal arts, 294; music, 8; physical education, 26; political science, 6; pre dentistry, 11; pre-legal, 6; premedical, 9; premedical laboratory technician, 11; pre-nursing, 10; prepharmacy, 10; pre-X-ray technician, 5; public health, 2; science, 17; social science, 16; social work, 4; speech, 4; elementary teaching, 119; secondary teaching, 54; and others, 81.

In the technical and industrial divisions the students by major include architecture, 10; automotive mechanics, 165; body and fender, 37; bricklaying, 14; carpentry, 59; commercial art, 33; drafting, 33; electricity, 103; engineering, 263; industrial arts, 81; laboratory technician, 2; machinist, 46; mill cabinet, 58; painting and decorating, 6; plastering, 11; radio and television, 197; vocational nursing, 90; welding, 87; plumbing, 94; roofing, 7; and meat cutting, 8.

Rios, a graduate of the Edison High School, who is majoring in auto mechanics.

Archie Bradshaw, FJC scholarship committee chairman, said that the scholarship was started four years ago.

Bradshaw also stated that the scholarship is in the memory of the late Chester Cary, who was executive secretary of the council.

NOMA Sponsors Poster Contest

The Fresno chapter of the National Office Management Association is sponsoring a poster contest, THE OFFICE OF TOMORROW.

Entry blanks may be obtained from the head of the business department. All posters should be submitted to this department by October 31.

Posters from Fresno Junior College will be submitted by the Business Department on November 2 to Miss Ethel McCormick, secretary, Fresno Chapter of NOMA, 1101 University Avenue, Fresno 4, California.

There will be two prizes awarded to the Junior College Division which is open to any student. The first prize will be $15; the second will be $10. The best entries, whether winning prizes or not, will be displayed at the National Business Show in the Fresno Memorial Auditorium on Nov. 7, 8, 9.

The posters should show the Office of Tomorrow as you think it will be. For example, you might show a plan for the lay-out of equipment and space; use of color; variety of textures; use of woods, plastics, metals, synthetics, or any other features of an office which you feel will exist in the future.

The posters may be drawings, collages, photographs, paintings, or any other medium you wish to use to express your conception of The Office Of Tomorrow.

USC Professor Speaks At Fresno JC Assembly

Dr. Paul Saltman, assistant professor of biochemistry and nutrition at the University of Southern California, was guest speaker yesterday at the Fresno Junior College University Avenue campus auditorium.

Speaking before FJC students and various civic and professional groups, Dr. Saltman talked on the relationship of smoking and smog to cancer. His talk was the first assembly open to the public in the history of the college.

Student Gets Scholarship

A 30 dollar scholarship was awarded to Mrs. Charlotte Sybolt, a Fresno Junior College student, by the Council of Jewish Women.

The award was presented by Mrs. Marvyn Schwartz, chairman of the Fresno Chapter. The scholarship is awarded to a student majoring in public service.

The 26 year old sophomore is the wife of Kayo George Sybolt, a student at FSC. She was born in Cambridge, Massachusetts, and attended Cambridge High; she later joined the Waves where she met her husband at a naval station.

The scholarship, one of the first to be received by the college in the fall of '51, is given semi-annually.

Naval Cadet Team Will Visit FJC

A Naval Aviation Cadet Information Team will visit Fresno Junior College's "O" Street Campus on Tuesday, November 13, and will hold interviews in the Ramble Inn from 9 AM until 3 PM.

To be eligible to fly with the fleet, an applicant must be 18 to 25 years of age, have 60 semester or 90 quarter hours, be unmarried, not have received orders for induction, and pass the physical and written aptitude examinations at the Naval Air Station, Oakland, which is the processing center for all Naval Aviation Cadets in Northern California and Nevada.

The program permits students who soon will have the necessary educational requirements or will have the requirements within the next 90 days to apply for flight training during their current semester of school.

Rams Drop COS 37-18

Alternating three sets of backs the Rambling Fresno Junior College Rams overpowered the College of Sequoias from Visalia 37-18, in a show of offensive might before 2500 homecoming spectators last Friday night in the Ratcliffe Stadium.

The Rambling Rams of Fresno proceeded to procure three quick tallys in the beginning stanza as the front shock troops took complete command and opened gaping holes for Fresno's powerful backs, who were alternated in a series of sets throughout the contest.

Scoring on a march of 70 yards in 7 plays, the Rams came right back for a second tally when Kobzoff countered on a 53 yard end sweep and highpoint-man Kenny Guinn converted.

Intercepting a Giant aerial, Guinn returned the pigskin back into COS territory where a new set of backs, Ken Pipes, Bob Wagner and Clint Letlow, drove to the one with Dick Valentine scoring before the quarter ended.

The College of Sequoias garnered their only first half score in the closing minutes of the second quarter on a key pass play from Jim Damron to Dale Messer, with Messer plunging over for the final two yards.

Picking up the tempo, injured J.C. White reeled off 19 yards as the second half opened. The Rams sustained a scoring drive capped by Guinn's bust through the middle for 6 points.

Hard-charging Bob Di Furia set up the next Ram score on a blocked punt on the Giants' 24 from where Guinn and White rolled to the six, and climaxing with White going over for the score.

John Lujano, the third quarterback of the evening fired a 48 yard pass to Bill Herron, who gathered the ball in at the 20 and went the rest of the way unmolested.

Tired, mauled, but not outfought, the Giants managed to score twice against the Ram reserves.

The final score found the Rams out in front, 37-18, and their second CCJCA win against one loss.

Tomorrow night it will be Porterville Pirates invading Ratcliffe Stadium. The Pirates are sporting a 217 pound line and an array of speedy backs who promise to offer more opposition than the COS Giants.

Almost every type of sports scribe is voicing his opinion over the PCC hassle, this young man has decided to hop on the band wagon, so here goes.

Skipping the prelude of the city high schools and glancing at the maddening PCC scramble, the Tee Pee of Coach Chuck Taylor, Stanford Indians, may run into their first formidable foe, the Southern California Trojans.

The men of Troy have been pointing to this game ever since the PCC officials started a spring cleanup campaign of the notorious alumni clubs who were slipping goodies under the table to the grid-ders of UCLA, SC, and UC. "A gentleman" of high standing, via Stanford, helped in getting the so-called "pros" out of the aca-demical basis of football, when he voted for various forms of punishment for the above schools and their bad boys.

The academical Stanfordites are certainly going to have their hands

The Bears of California will be games, and hoping to dump the little of their lost prestige.

Fresno Junior College foes, Por-stumbling blocks in the path of the Rams' hopes to regain the CCJCA conference flag. Off the showing of Friday night, the rampaging Rams are looking every part of championship caliber.

Fresno Rams Host Porterville Pirates

Coach Hans Wiedenhoefer's Rambling Rams will match wits and brawn tomorrow night against the Porterville Junior College Pirates in Ratcliffe Stadium. The game shapes up as the game of the week as both clubs have shown strong offensive and defensive units in previous games. The Rams and Pirates will both be gunning for their third conference win of the season against one loss.

The Pirates have fielded one of their stronger teams this season. Their forward wall averages out at a mere 217 pounds and is led by such stalwarts as Stan Connor, former All Valley prepster; Bob Stafford and Louie Wilson. The mainstay of the line is center Slug Lesniski weighing in more like a moose than a football player at 258 pounds. Backfield speedsters for the Pirates are Bob Askins, Jim Baxley and quarterback George Stamatz.

The Pirates lost a heartbreaker to the league leading Coalinga Falcons last weekend, 7-2, while the Rams were shellacking the cellar dwelling College of the Sequoias Giants, 37-18. The Pirates met the COS eleven week before and emerged victorious, 21-12.

Wiedenhoefer has two of his lads out with injuries this week. Kenny Guinn is limping with a twisted knee as a result of the COS game but is expected to be ready by game time Friday evening.
