Students Crossing Streets Should Use Extra Caution

The State Division of Highways has requested that all Fresno Junior College students on the old campus use extreme caution in crossing all one way streets.

Paul Starr, dean of men, said "all students on the main campus should not cross Divisadero from the west side of Stanislaus to the north side of Divisadero. He said to use the cross walks which are clearly marked, at the end of Shop 8 building, to cross P Street and to cross Divisadero." He added, "do not jay-walk."

Students Donate Blood To Two Women; Not One As Reported

Even the best newspaper staffs "goof" at least sometimes and that is what the Rampage staff did last week.

It was reported that the Red Key donated blood to the sister of Miss Kate E. Darling, an FJC faculty member, but her sister is not Mrs. Glee Donnell as was reported.

Mrs. Donnell was given blood by members of the FJC student council. Miss Darling's sister was given blood by various Red Key members, who are James Ringer, Bert Eremann, Don Lovelace, and Lloyd Cullins, an FJC student.

FJC Speech Instructor Has Faith In Present Generation

"I have tremendous faith in the students of this generation and I am sure that it will outshine the previous generation in every phase of life," said Joe W. King, speech instructor at the Fresno Junior College since the fall of 1949.

King, who said he loves to teach and that he gets a lot of fun out of student activity work, graduated from Fresno State College in 1936, and received his master's degree from the University of Southern California in 1937.

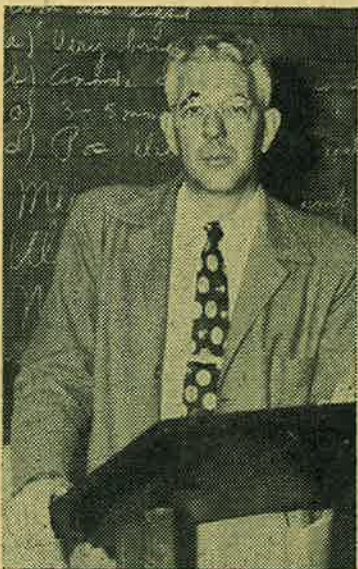

In the fall of '38 King started teaching at Fresno State College and taught drama and radio production, almost exclusively, for the next five years, taking a leave of absence in 1942 to be an instructor in the pre-flight school at Santa Ana.

After the war King went to work for an electronics firm and was with them for three years, at the end of which time he was a sales manager.

King came back to teaching in the fall of '48 and taught at Reedley College for a year before coming to FJC.

King said that he accepted considerably less pay when he came back to teach, but he finds it worth the 'monetary sacrifice to be able to spend more time with his family and friends.

"The biggest thing in teaching is to be able to help the student in some small way and hope that the students have benefited from our teaching experience," said King.

"The 'race charts' which are posted in McLane Hall near the bookstore on the state campus and in front of the bookstore on the main campus will be kept up to date," said Lane.

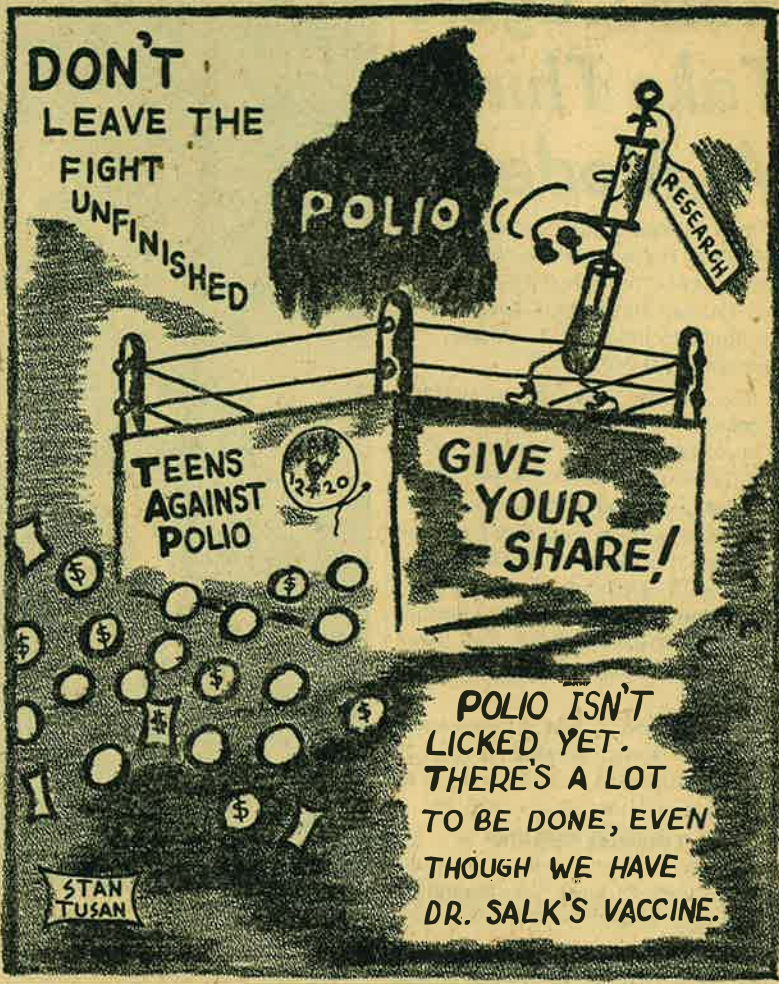

Will Collect Moneys

Under the co-chairmanship of Barbara Wilkinson and Olga Hernandez, the student body council will have student volunteers at each home basketball game to collect the moneys.

Classroom contributions were collected at 10 a.m. yesterday and night classes are being contacted each evening the classes meet at 7 p.m. this week.

Classroom and basketball solicitors include Hall, Miss Franco, Miss Hernandez, Alfreda Barton, George Thursby, Glynn Bryant, Wilma Koenig, Ann Sirabian, Teresa Barile, Fred Garcia, Flores, Gene Francis, and Bert Ereman, the student body president.

Ram Cagers Take Third At Modesto

The Fresno Junior College Rams, winning three and dropping one, placed third in the California Junior College Basketball Tournament in Modesto held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Rams, last year's tourney winners, opened their defense Thursday with a sound 92-77 trouncing over West Contra Costa.

Fresno Takes Command

Fresno was in command all the way leading 54-40 at halftime and 69-53 with ten minutes left to play. The Comets trimmed the margin to 71-64 before wilting and from there the Rams ran away from them.

Gary Alcorn, 6 foot 8 inch center led the Ram scoring with 20 points followed closely by Al Brown and Huey Davis with 19.

Tramples Stockton

The following evening the Rams again looked good in trampling Stockton, 81-65.

Alcorn was again the big gun, scoring 29 points. He was followed by Brown with 22 and Polly Carver with 11.

Fresno led at halftime, 40-31.

Saturday the Rams met their one and only defeat in the tourney losing to Los Angeles City College, 85-76, after leading most of the way.

Rams Pull Away

Fresno held a 44-40 halftime lead and still clung to a 59-58 margin with 10 minutes left.

Center Joe Laemmle led LACC, dropping in 28 points. Davis scored 27 for Fresno followed by Brown with 17 and Alcorn with 13.

Wins Tourney

That afternoon LACC went on to dump Modesto JC, 90-80, to be declared tournament champions.

Fresno then tromped San Francisco City College, 80-60, after leading all the way.

SPORTLITES

By RUBEN BARRIOS

It will be no easy task for Fresno Junior College to repeat as the Central California Junior College Association title holders this season.

The Rams, who last year breezed through their regular league play with 12 straight victories and wound up with a 28-2 seasonal record, will have rough going in trying to defend their title.

Allan Hancock of Santa Maria is rated as the team to cop the CCJCA conference with Fresno and College of the Sequoias also strong contenders.

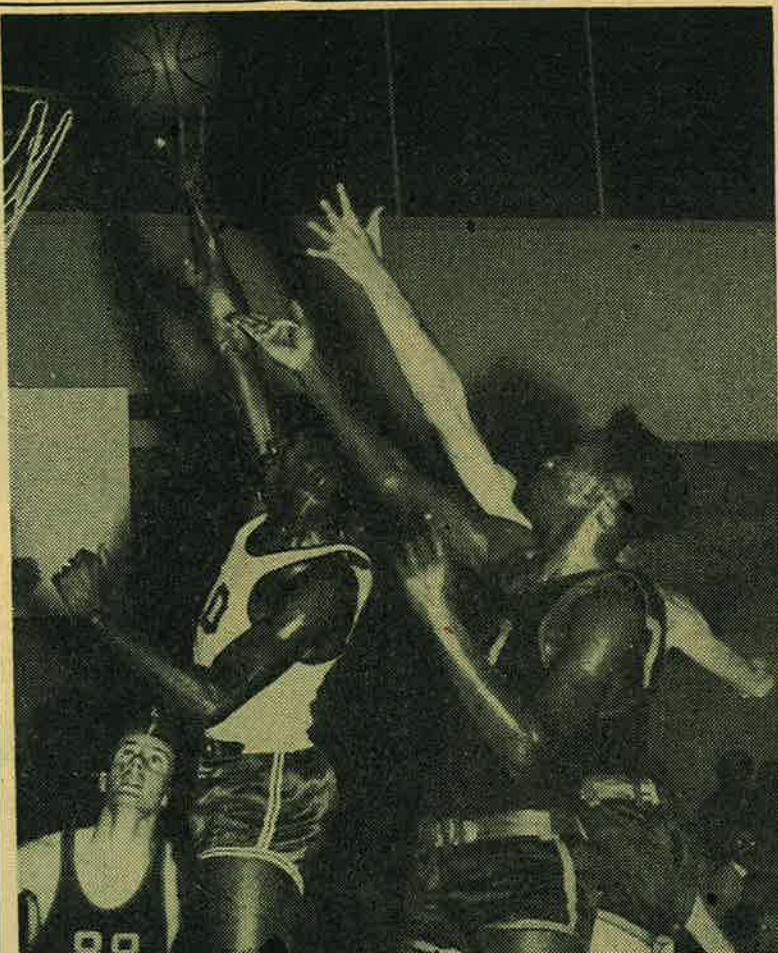

The tall Hancock cagers have topped the 100 point mark on nine occasions, their latest being over El Camino Junior College with a 124-103 victory in the Modesto tournament.

Hancock defeated Fresno in its first meeting, 75-65, in the Salinas tournament.

Most of the FJC basketball fans of last year's state champion Rams probably remember the uncanny shooting of the Ram's high scoring forward Odell Johnson who broke the Fresno scoring record with 664 points in league play.

The former Edison High School performer has won a starting berth on the St. Mary's college basketball team.

Johnson, who is attending St. Mary's on a scholarship, broke the school scoring record when he poured in 40 points to lead St. Mary's to a 93-87 victory over Pepperdine College Saturday night in a California Basketball Association game.

UP AND AWAY — Huey Davis, Fresno's ace forward with the ball, tries for two points against Reedley College. Hank Nickels, number 88, is Reedley's forward.

Fresno To Play Cougars In Second League Game

Fresno JC will go after its second Central California Junior College Association basketball game tomorrow when they travel to Taft to meet the Taft College Cougars at 8 p.m.

From there the Rams will go to Bakersfield to play a non-conference game with the Renegades Saturday night.

Committee Votes To Pep Games

The rally committee of Fresno Junior College has voted to pep up the FJC Rams' home basketball games by providing at least two pep girls and one yell leader.

Edgar Wilkins, the committee chairman, said the committee hopes to have all the pep girls and several of the yell leaders at some of the games.

Fresno Junior College yell leaders are led by Manard Stewart. He is assisted by Janice Roush, Isabel Serrano, and Ernest Clark.

Carol Barsotti is the head pep girl, and she is assisted by Barbara Wilkinson, Marlene Stefano, Diana Avila, Veda Luhm, Lorraine Jacinto, and Patricia Jones. Ellen Niere and Priscilla Daniels are the alternates.

Taft is not regarded as too strong a basketball team in the CCJCA conference and the Rams are favored to win game No. 2 in league play.

Joe Kelly, Ram coach, hopes to start Al Brown and Huey Davis at forwards; Gary Alcorn at center, and Marion Daniels and Polly Carver at guards.

Fresno will probably have plenty of competition coming Saturday when they clash with the Renegades. Bakersfield has already defeated Fresno once which was in the Bakersfield Tournament.

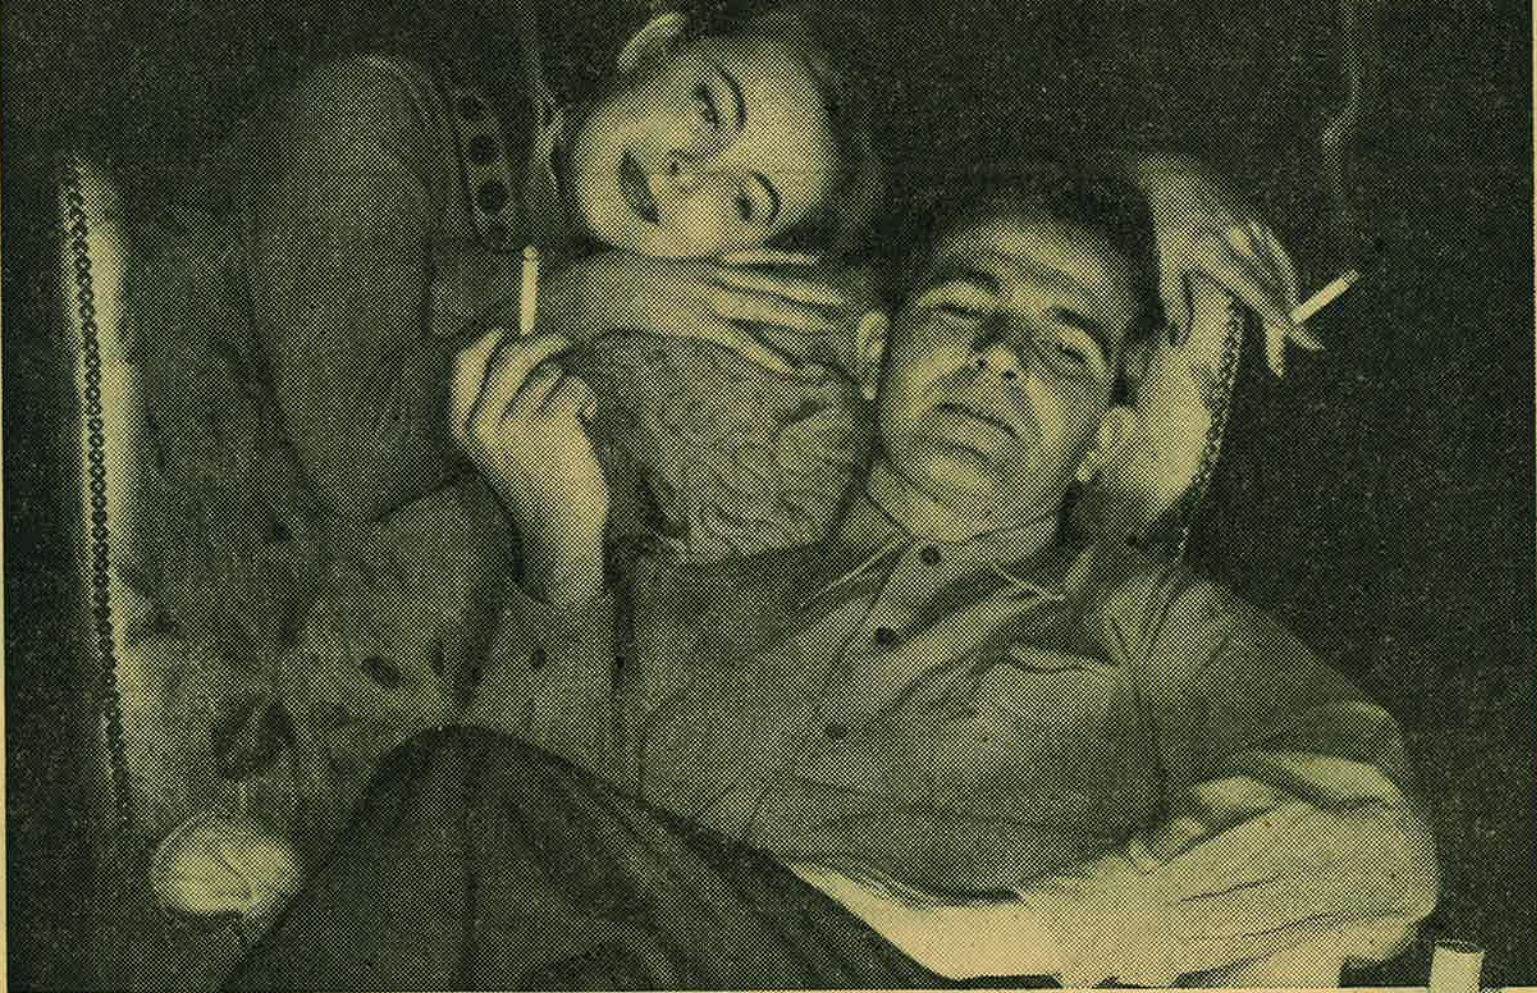

Fresno in the latter game was not at full strength because of the absence of their starting Forward Davis.

The Rams last week garnered their first league victory over a surprisingly stubborn Reedley College quintet, 82-73, in the Yosemite Junior High School gymnasium.

Alcorn took scoring honors for the Rams with 29 points.
