Janice Ross Takes First In Spring Talent Show

Janice Ross of the Campus Activity Club won first prize for her group in Fresno Junior College's fourth annual talent show held Friday in the Fresno Memorial Auditorium. Her song was "Song in My Heart."

A comedy dance number by six members of the Associated Women Students placed second. The members included Joy Anderson, Carol Bowman, Bonita Clair, Eleanor Franco, Pat McCormack, and Genney Schellenberg.

The Campus Activity Club and the AWS will have their names inscribed on perpetual trophies. The trophies were presented to the groups by Gene Francis, the student body president. Jack English acted as master of ceremonies.

Moses Hernandez of the Associated Men Students was crowned King Cole at the beginning of the affair and reigned over the entire show which followed the theme of His Majesty's Kingdom.

Hernandez was chosen from 11 nominees by a system of voting, where students paid a penny per vote. Alfred Copus, the show's general chairman, said $32 obtained in the voting will be given to the Fresno Crippled Children Society.

Participating groups were AWS, AMS, CAC, Red Key, Interscholarship Christian Fellowship, Phi Beta Lambda, Latin American Club, Newman Club, Rally Committee, Phi Beta Kappa, Alpha Gamma Sigma, and Freshman Class.

Judges included Bill Folks of KBIF, Arthur Miller, principal of the Sequoia Junior High School, and Dan W. Ozier, an audiometrist for the Fresno City Schools.

The show committee included Copus, Miss Franco, Mary Lanotte, Lois Raybourn, Dorothy Rubald, and Francis.

Degree Candidates Plan Organization Meeting April 3

Candidates for the associates in arts degree will hold an organization meeting April 3 at 12 on the main campus.

Officers will be elected who will, in general, carry on the business of the AA group. Miss Willa Marsh, dean of students at Fresno Junior College, said few general meetings will be held because of the divided campus.

Other pertinent information released by Miss Marsh is as follows:

1. Tomorrow is the deadline for cap and gown payment. Pay in the bookstore on either campus.
2. Orders for announcements may also be placed at either bookstore. The price is 22 cents each.
3. Personal cards may be ordered.
4. Deadline for announcements is April 15.

Murphy Warns Veterans To Sign Monthly Form

Mrs. Louise Murphy, veterans' secretary, reminds all veterans attending under Public Law 550 to sign their monthly certification (VA Form 7-1996a) between April 2 through 5 in order to receive their subsistence for the period March 1 through 31.

AWS Sponsors Easter Basket For Children

The Associated Women Students of the Fresno Junior College are sponsoring an Easter basket project for the children in the Fresno Nutritional Home.

Baskets have been placed in the FJC bookstore on the Fresno State College campus and in the bookstore on the main campus.

Bobbie Burton, AWS president, urges everyone to donate candy, cookies and small toys.

Those helping with the project include Gayle Kovick, Mary Lanotte, Eleanor Franco, Dorothy Rubald, Pat Jones, Marion Bitter, Sally Bennett, Rochelle Harford, Marilyn Snyder, Genny Schellenberg and Miss Burton.

Phi Beta Lambda Members Travel For Conference

Eight members of Phi Beta Lambda, with one of their advisers, Mrs. Edna Hartley, traveled to Delano March 15 to attend the annual central region conference.

Mary Lanotte and Dorothy Rubald were nominated for the central region vice-president and college section vice-president, respectively.

Barbara Wilkinson said that the election of the officers will be held at the state conference in Riverside April 28.

Those attending were Don Ball, Sally Bennett, Eugene Johnston, Pat Jones, Miss Lanotte, Miss Rubald, Shirley Upperman, and Miss Wilkinson.

All Formal Queen Applications Must Be In Tomorrow

Ray Hamilton, chairman of the queen contest for the spring formal, said that all organizations must submit their candidate's application by tomorrow.

He said that all candidates must be sponsored by an organization and must have some sort of talent.

The spring formal is set for April 20 from 9 p.m. to midnight in the Yosemite room of the Fresno Hacienda Motel.

FBLA Is Sponsor

Phi Beta Lambda, the Future Business Leaders of America Club, is the sponsor for the event, and Dorothy Rubald is the general chairman.

Hamilton said that the queen contest is going to be run different this semester than in the past. Instead of the students electing the queen, she will be chosen by a group of judges made up of prominent citizens. He said, however, that students will still hold a deciding factor, in that they will vote for their candidate at the dance. This vote will be the judge of popularity, one of the most important factors.

Rules of Contest

He said other rules concerning the contest are:

1. All candidates must have an escort to and at the dance.
2. Each candidate must be a member of the organization sponsoring them except Associated Men Students.
3. All candidates must be in attendance at FJC and hold a student body card.
4. All candidates must attend rehearsals and the audition.
5. Campaigning will begin on April 2 and end on April 20 at 3 p.m.
6. Each candidate must be carrying a minimum of 12 units of work in day classes at FJC.
7. Each candidate must have at least a "C" average.
8. The act must be approved by the board and must be suitable for a formal dance. If not, the act will have to be changed or another candidate selected.

Hamilton said that rehearsals and the audition will be announced later. He said that the audition will be under the board's approval.

Honor Club Initiates Members

Alpha Gamma Sigma held an initiation Monday in the Ramble Inn. The ceremony was held in the evening by candlelight.

Judith Hill, Stella Ballew, Stan Tusan, and Waneta Jantz, the club's officers, and Genny Schellenberg and Olga Hernandez were the members who organized and carried out the ceremony.

Those initiated were Janice Ross, Dorthy Pinner, Beverly Martell, Lillian Monno, Ruby Erickson, Jo Ann Wilson, Rodney Hill, Dorwin Anderson, James C. Brennan, Ronald R. Edminster, Stella M. Lindley, Ann S. Smith, Curley M. Harris, Moses Hernandez, Patsy Simons, and Dorothy Rubald.

Gayle Kovick Outshines 18 Red Key Coeds

Gayle Kovick, who collected $8.25, won the Red Key "shoe shine derby" by winning over 18 other coed members. The shoe shine day was March 14.

Miss Kovick received a trophy at the talent show assembly from Bobbie Burton, the president.

Stan Tusan, treasurer, reported that $34.40 was collected. Miss Burton termed the project as "very successful."

The money was used to help finance the service pins that the club gives to four students for their scholastic records and group participation.

Serving on the shoe shine award committee were Alfred Copus, Gene Francis, and Tusan, chairman.

GOOFY — These are the costumes that won second place, for the Associated Women Students at the talent show.

Rampage Code Of Ethics Explained To Its Readers

The Rampage is responsible to all its readers—students, faculty, administration, and others who read the publication—to present news, features, and opinion with truthfulness, accuracy, good taste, and impartiality.

The primary purpose of the Rampage is to keep its readers informed on what is going on in the school. It also strives to aid the Junior College's public relations program by keeping other schools and individuals outside the Junior College informed on what FJC students and faculty are doing.

Specifically, the Rampage adheres to the following code of ethics, an adaptation from the code of ethics drawn up by the American Society of Newspaper Editors in 1923. The ASNE code has been the basis for most statements of ethics by American newspapers, large and small alike. The Rampage code of ethics is as follows:

(1) Responsibility: The editor and staff of the Rampage are responsible to the student body, faculty and administration for publishing a newspaper of which the college can be proud. Members of the staff are directly responsible to the editor in the accomplishment of this policy; the editor, in turn, is directly responsible to the administration.

(2) Sincerity, Truthfulness, Accuracy: Good faith with the readers is the foundation of all journalistic writing in the Rampage. It is the responsibility of every writer, the editor, and adviser to maintain this goal of sincerity, truthfulness and accuracy in the Rampage.

(3) Impartiality: News reports shall be free of expressions of opinion or bias of any kind. Expressions of opinion shall be confined to editorials, columns, features, and signed articles. These expressions of opinion shall be in good taste and will give both sides of any case.

(4) Fair Play: The Rampage will not hold up to ridicule or negative criticism any individual. The Rampage respects the individual's right of privacy. In any expression of opinion it is the writer's responsibility to investigate both sides and to state them.

(5) Decency: The Rampage will avoid journalism that supplies incentives to base conduct and it will not pander to vicious instincts to achieve notoriety. It will respect the religious, philosophical, and patriotic beliefs of its readers.

(6) Scope: In general, the Rampage will limit its coverage to the school and campus activities. This policy will not be interpreted to prevent the publishing of features of general interest to the readers.

Rampage Wants Clubs To Send Reporters To Office By Deadline

Do the presidents of various clubs and organizations want their club news in the Rampage? Do they want to publicize news of their clubs?

If so, we would like your group's publicity chairman or reporter to bring the news of your organization into the Rampage office (room A-3) on the Fresno State campus. The Rampage deadline is 4 p.m. on Mondays.

Remember, the only way to let your fellow students know what your club is doing is to publicize it.

We would appreciate your cooperation.

Five Agree Summer Vacations Are Needed

The Inquiring Reporter roamed around both the main campus and the state college campus this week with a question dear to the hearts of most of us. The query posed was the following: "Do you think the schools should eliminate summer vacation and operate on a 12 months basis?"

A Western Michigan College professor from Kalamazoo said last week he was in favor of discontinuing them; that they were a holdover from days when children were needed for farm work.

Most of the opinions voiced here, however, differed slightly from those of the Michigan savant.

Jaquetta Richardson, freshman student whose major is library, said: "Shortened vacations are the answer. A shorter vacation makes it easier to refresh your memory and you don't tend to put off studying until the last minute."

Sally Bennett, freshman business major: "No, I don't think they should. You need a little rest from your studies even if you attend summer school. The short vacation relaxes a person."

Dr. Leroy Just, a Fresno Junior College sociology instructor, said: "I would like to give two answers to that question. From a professional point of view, yes, because the forgetting curve drops sharply during the summer. Orientation is difficult, then in the fall. From a personal point of view, no. I enjoy the summer vacation."

Manuel Ocha, a sophomore whose major is engineering, had this to say: "Everybody could use a break between semesters. Some students work while they are attending school and need the time off in summer to rest from their studying."

Carol Waite, a freshman majoring in secretarial science said: "No, because summer vacations give both teachers and students a chance to rest. They will do better work in the nine months if they have a vacation to look forward to."

Haruo Kizuka, a freshman student in education and in the United States only since last August, had this opinion: "No, I don't think so. I think every student may have special plans for summer vacation and needs the time off."

Francis Appoints Lacy As Rally Commissioner

Gene Francis, president of the student body council, announced that John Lacy has been appointed as commissioner of rallies.

Lacy has been assistant rallies commissioner.

Dr. L. Williams, Frodsham Compose, Write Alma Mater

FJC's Alma Mater

Beneath the High Sierras
Here arched by blue above
Hail to thee, Alma Mater
Memories may we always love.
Tho' years may pass, we'll not forget
The red and white ne'er fail
Fresno JC may it still prevail
Hail—Hail—Hail!

By ROBERT RUSSELL

Way back in the fall of 1951, the students of FJC felt the need for an alma mater. A contest was held that was open to the faculty and students alike. There were many entries, but a set of words entered by Noel Frodsham, a faculty member, won.

The music, previously composed by Dr. Lucile H. Williams, was combined with the words to form a distinctive anthem.

When Frodsham wrote the words of our alma mater, he had the beautiful sceneries of the San Joaquin Valley in mind, before the smog that is.

Dr. Williams, who retired last June, was the sociology, philosophy, and piano teacher. She is a native of Fresno and taught for 25 years.

The alma mater was presented first at various football games in the fall of 1951. In the spring of 1952 at a student body meeting, Lowell Spencer, FJC's music instructor, gave it a full choral treatment and it was widely accepted by the students.

Our alma mater is distinctive not only because it belongs to us, but because it was written by two people who felt an inspiration and had the spirit of loyalty to FJC.

Business Division To Conduct Survey

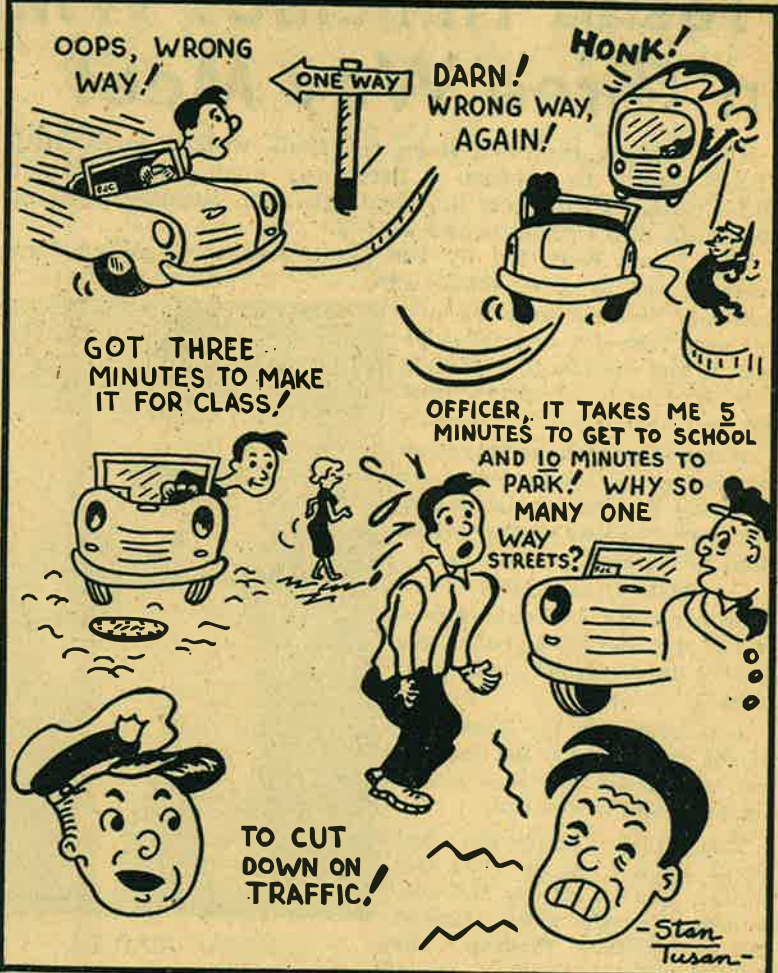

FJC business division, assisted by the Fresno City and County Chamber of Commerce, will conduct a survey of local business establishments to determine the value of distributive education courses.

At a March 14 meeting of the Fresno Junior College business advisory committee, Gervase A. Eckenrod, the survey's coordinator, introduced plans for the Distributive Occupations Survey to be conducted in April. The purpose, scope, and methods to be employed were discussed and plans were made for a pilot run of the survey among members of the committee yesterday.

The survey will include a questionnaire and an interview by division faculty members of 35 per cent of the business men and women who return the form.

Questions will include the number of employees a concern has; their sex, age and length of employment; the number of part time and full time employees; the source of workers, including local and out of area, and the percentage of employees who have the education their employer desires.

Fresno Thinclads Win In Three Way Meet

The Fresno Junior College thinclads walked away with 71 2/3 points to capture a three-way meet with Coalinga and Reedley Friday on the Coalinga oval. Reedley piled up 35 points and Coalinga had 14 1/3.

The Rams were led by the performances of Miler John Foreman and by J. C. White, a dashman. Foreman took the mile in a good time of 4:31.1 and came back to run the 880 in a winning time of 2:04.1. Al Brown from the basketball team was second.

White took high point honors by topping the 100-yard dash, in 10.4, and the furlong, in 23 flat. The young speedster also placed third in the shot put.

Make Clean Sweep

Fresno made a clean sweep in two events, the 220 and shot put, placing first, second, and third in each.

John Aldredge, the Rams' top weight man, heaved the shot 45 feet six inches and was second behind White in the 220.

Tom Sano, usually the best discus spinner for the Ram cinderman, had an off day and only managed second place. Manuel Chavez, another Fresnan, was third.

In the 440 Mylum Kelly of Fresno broke the tape at 52.9 and was the third man in the 220 dash. Al Hicks, a freshman, was third.

Baker Clears 11' 6"

Lee Baker cleared the bar at 11 feet 6 inches to grab first in the pole vault. Jim Burke, a former Clovis High school star, tied for second. Baker and Burke were in a three way tie in the high jump.

Joel Smith and Ronald Winter ran first and second respectively in the 120 low hurdles. The winning time was 14.2.

John Derby won the two mile event in 11:50.1.

Track Coach Hans Wiedenhofer still lacks men in the high hurdles, high jump and the broad jump. Weidenhofer said that prospects should contact him.

Rams Have Big Inning, Club Giants

A big second inning is all the ham baseball nine needed to defeat the previously unbeaten College of Sequoias Giants 7-5 last Tuesday on the Romain playground in a Central California Junior College Association game.

The Rams pounded Darrell Martin, a former Exeter High School hurler, and the Giants' ace pitcher, for seven runs in the second frame and survived a COS rally in the third to win their first conference game in two starts.

Error Starts Fireworks

An error by the COS center-fielder on a long fly ball hit by Larry Kapreilian started the fireworks. Kapreilian advanced to third and was squeezed home on a beautiful bunt single by Ram Shortstop Dormin Martin.

Dick Kelton and John Misakian were hit by pitched balls to fill the sacks. Fred Garcia, the winning pitcher, blasted a sharp single to drive in Martin and Kelton.

Don Birkle brought Misakian home with another single and Floyd Linderman followed with another single and an error on the play by the COS left fielder gave the Rams three more runs.

Linderman with two for five led the Ram hitting; Glen McMillan with two for four led COS.

Taft College was unable to field a team to play the Rams and therefore forfeited the game, giving the Rams a 2-1 record.

SPORTLITES

By RUBEN BARRIOS

Coach Dean Larsen's netters should be in a good position to defend their second place in the Central California Junior College Association which they garnered last year.

Again this year the strong College of Sequoias will be the number one team to win the league; however, any of the other five teams should give the Giants strong competition.

Pirates, Rams Play

The Porterville Pirates, who played the Ram squad yesterday should have a strong women's squad and should perhaps battle it out with Reedley JC for the women's title.

Taft should be stronger than they were last year when the Rams defeated them 4-1.

Coalinga JC is making its first appearance in the CCJCA competition; however the Rams played a practice match with the Falcons last year and FJC defeated the oil town netters 5-0.

Fresno has returning letter winners. They are John De LaRosa, Eleanor Franco, and Josephine Quintana.

Rams To Play Tigers Tomorrow At Romain

The Fresno Junior College Ram baseball nine will meet the always tough Reedley Junior College Tigers in their third CCJCA game tomorrow on the Roman diamond at 2 p.m.

Fresno and Reedley both hold a two win one loss record in league play. The Tigers beat Taft and Porterville and lost to Coalinga. Fresno defeated College of Sequoias 7-5, and won from Taft on a forfeit. The Rams were beaten by Coalinga early this year.

Fresno also will meet the Stockton College Mustangs Tuesday on the Romain diamond. The Mustangs have lost only two games this year, to COS last week when the two teams split a double header and to Fresno Tuesday.

Slaughter's probable starting lineup for the Reedley game is Davis or Barserian, first base; Larry Garcia, second base; Don Birkle, third base; Dorman Martin, shortstop; Floyd Linderman, left field; Larry Keller, center field; Wallace or John Misakian, right field, and Kapreilian, catcher.

Starting on the mound for the Rams will be Fred Garcia or Jim Call.
