Chairman Defines General Education

John Mock, general education department chairman, asserted that general education courses offered at FJC are not snap courses.

Mock declared, "We believe that standards in such courses can be and are maintained on as high a level as in the so-called intellectual courses."

Occasion for the assertion was a report made by Dr. Afton Y. Elis, physics professor at Fresno State College, to the effect that many of the general education courses had degenerated into "pipe" and "gut" courses (those which require a minimum of student effort to pass) which will continue to stigmatize them unless a concerted effort is put forth to raise the standards of the program.

Mock said, "The general education department of FJC believes that there are many aspects of human development other than those which are fundamentally intellectual, academic and technical. It believes that education in the Junior College should not only give this intellectual training together with vocational training but should also prepare the students for a full satisfying life."

"We believe that if we train man to master matter alone and not train him to master himself he is but half a man."

"There should be no conflict between professional, technical, and vocational training and general education. Both types of education are vitally needed in a free society. General education gives us fundamental values and purposes in life. Professional, technical and vocational training give us skills to carry them out."

"The purpose of the Junior College is to take all entering students who vary greatly in general capacities, special capacities, social and economic background, interests, and aims and to give them an education which will permit them to develop themselves as far as their native capacity will permit."

"Specifically, any of the 22 liberal arts curriculum offered at FJC for transfer to FSC will fulfill the 45 general education requirements at FSC with no loss of units."

Great Demand 13 Scholarships Are Available

If it's not an engineer's world now, it's fast becoming one. Industry has sent out the siren call and students are responding. College trained beginners have before them one of the best paying professions open today and the field ranks at the top in opportunities for advancement.

President Stuart M. White, of Fresno Junior College, has announced that in the fall semester 143 students chose engineering as their major, with 123 registered in the current semester. Most of these students are preparing for transfer to four year colleges or universities but FJC also offers a terminal course for junior engineers. Also open this semester is an all day course in surveying on Saturdays for employed persons who want special preparation for advancement.

HISTORY OF FJC IS TOLD

Fresno Junior College, California's oldest junior college, was founded in 1910. Several men are credited with being the pioneers of this college. Among them are C. L. McLane, A. C. Olney, George W. Huntting, and J. A. Nowell.

State legislation which was responsible for establishing FJC in 1910, was also the cause of its demise in 1921. FJC did, however, remain alive, in name at least, between 1921 and 1948, the date of its reemergence as a separate institution.

Committee Head

In the spring of 1948 a committee led by George D. Strayer completed a survey of publicly supported higher education in California, including the junior colleges. The survey predicted that Fresno County would sustain a junior college potential of 2,000 students by 1960.

As a result of the Strayer Reports recommendations, a committee was appointed to arrange for the reestablishment of FJC as a separate institution from Fresno State College.

In the fall of 1948, FJC was formed at the place of its birth, Fresno Technical High School. Those responsible for this action were Erwin A. Dann, Maurice Reetz, and James Welden. Reetz did much of the work in organizing the curricula of FJC.

Three Divisions

The college was organized into three divisions, with John Mock heading the general education division, Miss Ethel McCormack in charge of business education, and Robert Hansler as chairman of the trade and industrial education. This arrangement is unchanged today.

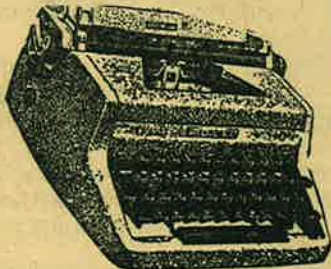

FJC's total enrollment is now 2,792, including 1,428 night students, 72 high school students, and 53 in training classes for the United States Air Force.

While taking care of the present with respect for its traditions of the past, FJC is also building for the future.

Ordal Says Republicans Will Renominate Nixon

By RUTH ALLEN

Dr. Rolf Ordal, FJC history instructor, is convinced the Republican Party will renominate Richard Nixon for the vice-presidency at their convention this year in San Francisco.

"The primary reason," says Dr. Ordal, "is that Eisenhower is the only bridge between the two widely-separated factions of the GOP and custom has left the selection of a vice-presidential nominee up to the president.

"Since he was favored by Ike in 1952 there has been nothing, apparently, that has caused him to change his mind," said Dr. Ordal.

Dr. Ordal feels that Republican critics of Nixon fall into either one of two categories. The first deplores his faults and feel that any man so ill-regarded by so many Americans will make a poor president. This is particularly true, said Dr. Ordal, of those who feel a vice-presidential candidate should be chosen for his qualifications as a potential president rather than his ability to deliver votes in any particular geographical section.

The other group feels that the election is going to be close and want to jettison him as a party liability.

When asked if he feels there will be an intra-party fight before Nixon is named, Dr. Ordal replied he felt there definitely will be one but not an open battle such as raged in 1952 between Taft and Eisenhower. He said the need for party harmony is great and will determine, to a great extent, the degree of controversy on the floor at the convention.

Dr. Ordal said there are very few candidates on which both wings of the GOP could agree. Outstanding are Senator Knowland, whose power lies in the Far West, and ex-Governor Dewey, who still holds considerable power in the eastern part of the country. It is the opinion of Dr. Ordal, however, that both men would probably refuse if offered the opportunity to replace Nixon.

Students Attend Fourth Annual Leaders Meeting

Four Student Council members represented Fresno Junior College at the fourth annual Student Leaders' Day Saturday at the Fresno State College Shaw Avenue Campus.

The representatives were Olga Hernandez, vice-president; Stan Tusan, treasurer; Barbara Wilkin: son, parliamentarian and state parliamentarian of the Future Business Leaders of America; and James Barile, representative-at-large.

Fresno State College President Arnold E. Joyal welcomed the San Joaquin Valley high school and junior college student leaders.

Rambler Will Be Out At May 29

Franz Weinschenk, the yearbook adviser, announced that the tentative distribution for the Rambler will start May 29.

Weinschenk said that students who bought the annual but who went into the armed forces should send their forwarding addresses so that the yearbooks may be sent to them.

He said students who left school for other reasons must have someone get the annuals for them. Weinschenk said the only yearbooks that are sent through the mail are for the students in the armed forces.

Weinschenk also announced that students who want to buy pictures in the annual may buy them when they come in for their Ramblers.

Rampage Gets Highest Rating At Conference

The Rampage, the Fresno Junior College newspaper, was awarded the "Certificate of Excellence" as the top junior college newspaper in the valley, at the San Joaquin Valley Press Association conference at the Fresno State College.

Alfred Copus, Rampage editor, received the "Certificate of Merit" for his outstanding work on the FJC newspaper. Copus also won the award last year.

The three junior colleges that attended, Modesto, College of Sequoias, and Fresno agreed to break away from high school conferences and meet separately. COS was appointed to draw up a constitution, which will be voted on at a conference on Saturday, May 26, in Visalia.

Presiding over the JC conference was George Wilson, and Jerry Mobley, vice-president, both of COS. Eleanor Franco, of FJC, acted as secretary-treasurer.

Coalinga Belts Rams To Stay Undefeated

The Coalinga Junior College Falcons continued their winning ways by scoring an 8-6 decision over the Fresno Rams in a Central California Junior College Association baseball game on the home diamond last Tuesday. The win gave the Falcons a 5-0 record in conference play and put them a solid favorite to cop the CCJCA baseball title.

Fresno, with a 5-2 mark is the only team with a slight chance of catching the oil towners.

Fresno coach, Clare Slaughter, threw his ace pitcher, Fred Garcia, against the Falcons, but the easy going hurler hurt his arm on a curve ball and had to retire from the game after walking the first batter.

Pitches Good Ball

Slaughter waved John Troxel into the game and Troxel pitched five innings of good ball until the sixth when Coalinga tagged him for three runs. Jim Call took the mound in the seventh and the Falcons hopped on him for five runs, two in the seventh and three in the ninth.

Fresno will not meet Coalinga again but COS has one more game with the Falcons. If the Glants upset Coalinga, it would take one more loss by the Falcons to throw the league into a scramble.

Larry Keller, Ram centerfielder, led the hitting with three singles followed by Don Birkle with two. Larry Yogi had three hits and Doug Burton and Bobby Lee had two each for Coalinga.

The Rams split a double header with Parks Air Force last Friday, winning the first game, 10-4, on seven hits and dropping the second, 7-5, on nine hits. Dorman Martin and Huey Davis had two hits apiece in the first game. Birkle and Keller led with two singles in the nightcap.

The scores:

Fresno Wins Track Meet

Fresno will take part in the Hartnell small college invitational meet in which 12 schools will participate on Saturday in Salinas.

Wiedenhoefer's Rams won a four way meet Monday in Reedley by piling up 73 points. Their closest competition came from Coalinga College with 24½ points.

Fresno had a trio who scored double victories. John Foreman captured the distance runs, winning the mile in 4:44.8, and the two mile in 9:59.8.

Fred Ruffin grabbed two firsts in the dashes. Ruffin took the century in 10.1 and the 220 in 22.2.

Tom Sano had his best effort of the season in the discus with a toss of 140 feet 11½ inches. The big Fowler lad heaved the shot 46 feet, 7½ inches.

Other firsts went to Mylum Kelly in the 440 with a time of 52.7 and Al Brown in the 880 was clocked at 2:04.6.

The pole vault saw Jim Burke and Lee Baker, both of Fresno, tie with vaults of 12 feet, six inches. Fresno won the mile relay in 3:36.6.

Rams Nip COS 7-5, Take Over Second Spot

Pushing across two runs in the twelfth inning, the Rams defeated College of Sequoias Tuesday in Visalia, 7-5.

The Rams thus took over second place in league play and also won the Bakersfield Tourney championship game that was postponed because of rain.

SPORTLITES

By RUBEN BARRIOS

Things do not look too bright for the Rams right about now. They trail the Coalinga Falcons by two games with only five more league tilts on the schedule.

Besides tomorrow's game against Taft, the Rams play a doubleheader against Allan Hancock College of Santa Maria, and single games with Reedley College, and Porterville Junior College.

Pitching depth has been the main handicap for the Rams this spring. At the start of the season, Coach Clare Slaughter had a sound pitching staff but ineligibility and injuries dimmed Fresno's chances for the championship. However, the league is not over yet and anything can happen in baseball, especially in the Central California Junior College Association conference.

Rams, Cougars Play Tomorrow At Romain

The Fresno Junior College Rams, holders of a five win two loss record in CCJCA play, will meet the Taft Junior College Cougars in a league game tomorrow on the Romain diamond.

The Rams, who hold second place in the standings, won from the Cougars on a forfeit earlier in the season and are not expected to have too much trouble.

Martin, Garcia Top Ram Averages

In CCJCA games up to the COS game, Dorman Martin led Ram hitter with 10 hits in 21 times at bat for a .476 batting average. Included in Martin's hits were one double, one triple and one home run. Martin had seven runs batted in to lead in that department.

Following Martin in the batting parade were Larry Kaprielian with a .350 average and Larry Keller, .300.

Sore-armed Fred Garcia led the hurlers with a two win, no loss record. He struck out six and walked nine in 24 innings. Behind Garcia came John Troxel, who had won one and dropped one, walked nine and struck out 10 in 12 innings.

Garcia had been the workhorse of the Ram staff this year, winning two and losing none in CCJCA play. In 24 innings the righthander struck out six and walked nine.

Coach Clare Slaughter will probably start Jim Call on the mound against Taft. Call has won none and lost one this year in league play, walking four and striking out five in 10 innings.

Slaughter's lineup for the Taft game will probably be Larry Kaprielian, catcher; Kalem Barsarian, first base; Larry Garcia, second base; Don Birkle, third base; Dorman Martin, shortstop; Huey Davis or John Misakian, right field; Larry Keller, center field; and Milt Wallace, left field.
