Annual Fall Formal Dance To Be Presented Tomorrow Night In Student Center

A blue banner, stars, and a silver staircase are the setting for tomorrow night's annual fall formal dance "Stairways to the Stars," to be held in the social hall of the student center building at Fresno Junior College from 9 PM to midnight. The dance is being sponsored by the Associated Men Students and the Associated Women Students. Music will be provided by Johnny Matesso's orchestra with special entertainment by the Blue Velvets.

Orientation For Counselors Will Commence Today

Archie Bradshaw, Fresno Junior College dean of students, said a new orientation program for counselors will start today to acquaint them with the total school program and the contributions each division and each subject make to the total education of students.

The technical and industrial division will be first to play host to all FJC counselors and division chairmen. This division includes Robert P. Hansler, dean, and Norvel R. Caywood, Keith Emmert, Ernest Wolf, counselors with 1,491 advisees.

The activities will start with a luncheon in the Ramble Inn on the O Street campus and an explanation of the functions of the division by Hansler and Curtis P. Lackey, apprenticeship training coordinator, followed by a tour of classrooms and shops on the O Street and Edison campuses.

A receiving line, composed of Jim Richmond, AMS president, Shirley Huber, AWS president, Al Grace, FJC Student Body President, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart M. White, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Starr, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Bradshaw, Mrs. Kay Seagraves, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. King, Mr. and Mrs. Erret Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Dougherty, will welcome the people at the door.

Miss Huber and Richmond are in charge of the dance. Several committees were set up to help them. The chairmen are Ruth Erysian, refreshments; Richmond, decorations; Margaret Christensen, publicity; Augie Caldera, orchestra; Kathy Sharum, bids; and Donna Dell, entertainment.

Bids for the dance are being issued in the main foyer of the student center building. They are free to any student body card holder. Dress for the dance will be formals for the women, and dark suits, tuxedos, or white dinner jackets for the men.

FJC Receives Accreditation For Five Years

President Stuart M. White of Fresno Junior College last Thursday night reported to the Fresno City Board of Education that the Western College Association has voted FJC a five-year period of re-accreditation.

White was notified of the action by Mitchell P. Briggs, the association's executive secretary and treasurer.

"It is my pleasure to inform you officially," Briggs wrote, "that the executive committee of the Western College Association at its meeting on November 6, 1957, voted a five-year period of re-accreditation to Fresno Junior College.

"This action was taken upon the recommendation of the commission on membership and standards for accrediting Junior Colleges, which was based upon the evaluation report submitted by the committee which visited the college. This action of the executive committee was confirmed by the membership of the association at its meeting on November 7. This period of re-accreditation will terminate on June 30, 1963."

Briggs said the primary purpose of the accrediting program of the California Junior College Association and the Western College Association is the improvement of higher education.

FJC was visited by an accreditation team of the Western College Association April 9 and 10. On the basis of the team's recommendations the re-accreditation was voted by the association recently in San Jose. Algeo H. Brill of Yuba College was chairman of the team.

In the spring of 1963 the association will send another accreditation team to FJC.

Phi Beta Lambda Holds Convention Theme Contest

Phi Beta Lambda, the business fraternity at Fresno Junior College, has organized a convention theme contest.

The rules for this contest are as follows: (1) The contest is open to all people taking a business class; (2) The title of the slogan must be suitable for the Business Leadership Convention; (3) The slogan should contain not more than seven words; (4) The person who submits the winning entry will receive $2.00 in cash; (5) The contest closes Nov. 27, 1957; (6) The box in which to place all entries is located in B-8; (7) You may enter the contest as many times as you wish, but each entry must be on a separate entry blank. Entry blanks are available in B-8.

The suggestion box is described as royal blue in hue, and the top is scattered with gold stars.

The judges for the contest are: Jack H. Hill, Ethel McCormack, and Gervase Eckenrod, representing the faculty; Donna Young, Nola Myers, and Raymond Beach, representing the student body.

Counseling, Programming Will Begin For Spring Semester Fresno JC Students

Students may now make appointments with their counselors for pre-registration counseling and programming, which will start on Monday, Dec. 2.

When a schedule of classes has been worked out by a student and his counselor, the counselor will give the student an information procedure sheet and a pre-registration routing slip. The student will take the routine slip with him to AD-118, where the attendance clerk will confer with the student concerning his residence.

The student will next report to AD-110 where the clerk will collect the white copy of the pre-registration program so that the appropriate class cards may be placed in an envelope with the student's name on it. This envelope will be held in the admissions office. The student retains the pink copy of the pre-registration program. He should have this copy with him when he registers on Feb. 5.

"We urge students to get their appointments early, in order that they may get the classes they desire," said Arch Bradshaw, dean of students.

When a student has completed the pre-registration process, the pre-registration routing sheet will be collected in the admissions office. A line card will then be given to this student. The line card will specify the time, as well as the date, Feb. 5, when the student who has completed pre-registration is to register. Students will not be permitted to register on this date without a line card.

Pre-registration will be held from Dec. 2 to Jan. 24. Advantages of these pre-registration procedures are to expedite the counseling procedure and obviate the need for so many students to return for additional sessions with their counselors; to enable personnel in the admissions office to process most of the student's cards well in advance of registration week; and will increase student morale by assuring students who have completed the pre-registration process and who enroll on the proper date that a place will be held for them in the classes for which they have been programmed by their counselors in advance of registration.

Student Council Expresses Thanks

The Fresno Junior College student council wishes to express its appreciation to all those who participated in the homecoming activities. The council feels that the celebration was a success and that this was due to the hard work and full cooperation of everyone concerned.

CARL MORGAN

Talks of Satellites

Morgan Says Russ Will Make First Trip To The Moon

"The Russians will win the race to the moon," stated Carl H. Morgan, Fresno Junior College physics instructor.

In view of Russia's disregard for human life, Morgan believes that Russia will make the first one-way trip to the moon. However, he expects the United States to be first to return from the moon.

A space platform will be necessary for any two-way attempt to the moon by either nation. The expense of such a project would be so tremendous that lack of sufficient funds is the biggest barrier to space travel, Morgan stated.

Atomic Fuel Needed

"Atomic fuel will be necessary to conquer space," maintains Floyd J. Quick, FJC chemistry instructor.

"The recent Russian satellites have had more psychological effect on the world than two wars," maintains Morgan. People the world over fear Russia because of their recent success in rocketry.

"The reason for Russia's supremacy in the missile program is that they have been working longer with a more concentrated effort in that field," Morgan stated.

Children Encouraged

Russia's dictatorial educational system is superior for producing scientists. "American parents should encourage their children to go into scientific fields," asserted Morgan.

"American scientists will rally and fight hard to gain leadership in the field of rocketry," maintains Quick. He cited Pearl Harbor as an example of America's potential after being aroused.

Morgan maintains that the average citizen can aid the United States missile program indirectly by keeping informed, thereby creating good public opinion and reducing the possibility of spreading misinformation.

Significance Of Holiday Ignored By US Students

This time of year is filled with many holidays that are celebrated by students the nation over. Of course, this is a likeable situation for many students. One of these holidays will take place next week. Nov. 28 is the date set this year for Thanksgiving in the United States.

However, this brings a definite problem to mind. This day, according to tradition, is set aside for all of us to give thanks for the bountiful blessings which we have received.

However, are we truly thankful or do we, as citizens of the greatest nation in the world, take our blessings too much for granted? To this writer, the latter seems more likely.

Let us sit down for awhile and think back through our lives. There has never been a time in our lifetime when we really were lacking any of the necessities. We are in a country where no man, woman or child need go hungry or without clothing due to any reason but their own lack of desire to work for their needs.

It is rather apparent to us in this land of plenty that there are many people throughout the world that are not as lucky as ourselves. People all over Europe are scratching out a meager, threadbare existence and are truly thankful for every little thing they can get. And yet here, where we need not suffer the way our world neighbors do, it seems we are more apt to be complacent and take for granted that everything about us is owed to us by our birthright.

Once, several years ago, the world renowned sociologist, Dr. Carol R. Freeman, made one of the world's most profound statements in regards to this matter. Dr. Freeman stated, "We here, who should be the most thankful people in the world, seem to give our world friends the idea that without us, no one could exist in the entire world. And yet, we do not realize that we owe everything we have to a power far beyond our own comprehension. We should actually get down on our knees and humble ourselves before this power. For, only through humility can we show our true gratitude."

Why Go To College?

Why are you going to college? It might seem that this question is easily answered by such statements as "I want to be a lawyer" or "I want to be a businessman."

This may be the outward goal set by the majority of students, but is it the real motive which is driving them to pursue a college education?

Today there is an extreme emphasis on the possession of a college degree. It has become an almost absolute necessity that a person hold a degree if he is to be successful in the business or professional fields.

This emphasis on degrees has caused somewhat of a complete reversal in the original concepts of what a university should provide for its students.

It is common for a college student today to put the highest premium upon obtaining his degree. This may occur through a student taking the specific requirements toward his degree and using all of the available snap courses as fill-ins.

By repeating this practice the student is conforming to a general trend in colleges today.

The student is also committing the grave error of avoiding many of the inroads leading toward a true education.

Through serious consideration, the student may avoid this error, and select the courses leading to not only a degree but also a well balanced education.

Miss McCormack Travels To Oregon To Attend Funeral

Maynard McCormack, 46, of Roseburg, Oregon, was killed Sunday in a non-collision accident in Oregon. He is believed to have had a heart attack while driving.

McCormack was a brother of Miss Ethel McCormack, dean of FJC's business division. Miss McCormack left Monday for Roseburg to attend his funeral which was yesterday.

Her brother had been a school principal in Oregon, and her mother and other relatives also live there.

Varied Reactions Greet Art Display

"Terrific! Just terrific!"

"It shows marvelous talent!"

"Extremely expressive."

These are just a few of the comments heard around the display case in the main foyer of the Fresno Junior College library.

The case displays several of the works of Ernie Palomino, noted artist and FJC art major.

The display consists of one original print entitled, "Mary," and three reprints from Palomino's book, "In Black and White."

The reprints are called "Jalopy Carol," "Jealousy," and "Drum Solo."

"It is easy to see all the emotions in the artist's life," stated Jackson Carty, head librarian. "You can see the religious aspect, humor, good times, hard times, and musical interests, in his work."

Edison Shops Still Exist

Because of the fact that Fresno Junior College is so widespread in its stages of moving, very few FJC students realize that there is an exstant third FJC campus located at Edison High School.

Robert P. Hansler, Dean of Technical-Industrial Education, said "The shops on the Edison Campus are well equipped with machinery that is used in industry, and offers to many, a variety of skills which include auto mechanics, welding, body and fender, automatic transmissions, plastering and bricklaying."

The buildings for these classes were constructed in 1953 and are two in number. These buildings accommodate 150 day students and 185 students enrolled in night classes.

Hansler said, "It is quite likely that as of next year the classes which are on the Edison Campus will be housed in the new facilities adjacent to the University Avenue Campus whereby it will be much easier for the students to obtain the related courses that are necessary for a full program. The students now at the shop classes at Edison, have to go to the "O" Street campus for related instruction."

After completing the training in the pre-employment classes, students are placed in the occupation for which they have been trained. The level of placement depends entirely on the information and skills that the students will have developed in class. Many who have progressed rapidly go out as journeymen workers in some occupation.

The instructors for these shops are Joe Woodman, Charles Coffman, Dean Larsen, and Carl Rustigian. These are all daytime instructors. Night instructors are Howard Goolsby, Elmer Blom, Creighton Smith, Edward Herron and Kenneth Evereton. Larsen and Rustigian, daytime instructors are also on the night faculty.

FJC STUDENTS ATTEND THEATER PARTY NOV. 11

A theater party for Fred Waring and the "World's Greatest Pennsylvanians," was held Monday night, Nov. 11 after the "Hi-Fi Holiday" performance. Those in attendance after the performance met in the foyer of the Roosevelt high school auditorium to attend the party.

 ... International Club President

Mekhitarian Heads World Association

By SUSAN CYR

Turkish by birth, Armenian by nationality, and Syrian by citizenship — this is the background of Hagop S. Mekhitarian, better known as "Jack" by his fellow students at Fresno Junior College. The newly elected president of the International Club attended Racine, an Armenian college in Aleppo, Syria. At this Armenian institution he studied ancient Armenian literature, and the Arabic and French languages. While attending high school and college in Aleppo he lived with Americans.

"They were very kind to me," said Mr. Mekhitarian about the people he stayed with. "They didn't charge me even half a penny for those three and a half years. But I helped by working the switchboard four hours each day."

He then attended Aleppo College, an American school sponsored by Presbyterian Evangelical Missions, to learn to speak and write English.

After saying goodbye to his mother and four brothers and sisters in Beirut, Lebanon, he came to America in March, 1956, with Queen Frederika of Greece.

Said Mr. Mekhitarian of his arrival in New York, "The Statue of Liberty has not lost its precious meaning to immigrants. I am very grateful for the services and assistance of the YMCA especially. Its members helped arrange my trip to California."

While in college he is majoring in pharmacy. After graduating from FJC he hopes to transfer to the University of California at Berkeley.

Mr. Mekhitarian announced, "I would like to invite all students interested in foreign culture and people to join the International Club. A foreign student feels lonesome and homesick when he comes to this country. He should give credit to the American people who are willing to explain customs to him even though some of his ideas about their country hurt their feelings. As a foreign student from Syria, I wish to express thanks to this wonderful country for extending to me the opportunity to acquire an excellent education."

Students To Take Part In Spelling Quiz

Approximately 1,800 local high school and junior college students in business classes will attempt to prove that they can learn to spell by participating in the National Office Association's Spelling Project.

This announcement was made by Miss Ethel McCormack, chairman of the Education Committee of the Fresno Chapter which will administer the project in this area.

The project is open to all students in business classes.

"This is not a spelling bee to sift out the best spellers in the schools," Miss McCormack said. "It is designed to help students become better spellers."

An official list of 900 words commonly used in business has been given to each participant with instructions to study them.

A series of three 100 word tests based on the master list will be given in December, February and April. Teachers will assist in scoring the written examination.

Certificates will be presented to the students passing the tests in three categories: spelling, spelling progress and spelling proficiency.

PRESENT PRESENT CHECK — Henry Weldon, Joe Mooser, and Charles Coffman, left to right, representing Fresno Auto Parts Co., present a fifty dollar check to FJC Trade and Industries teachers, Carl Rustigian and Joe Woodman, for the auto body and auto body fender classes for the two best students in each class. Rustigian, a body and fender instructor, said the scholarship will probably be given each year to the two best students. The FJC grades and industries class is held on the Edison High School campus.

Wills Speaks To T And I Group

Ted C. Wills, legislative commissioner of Fresno and the secretary-treasurer of creamery workers, local 517, spoke to the Trades and Industries Club Friday noon.

Wills spoke on the contribution of labor unions, such as child labor laws, social security, public education, minimum wage laws, unemployment insurance, and public roads, to the general public.

At the end of his speech, he held a question and answer period. During this time, Wills pointed out that the creamery laborers pay in Fresno was generally higher than in the south, although the prices in the south are two cents higher per quart of milk.

The club's next meeting will be Dec. 6 in the T & I's clubroom next to the Rambler Inn on the O Street campus.

Fresno JC Parking Problems Cited

Fresno Junior College is looking ahead to overcome the difficult problem in years to come of providing sufficient parking space for students.

Stuart M. White, FJC president, says there are spaces for 1,207 cars, but about 300 of these spaces will be lost when the building needs take up land now being used for parking.

The college has 1,250 students on the University Avenue campus and 525 students on the Edison and "O" Street campuses combined. Next year the technical and industrial classes will be moved to the University Avenue campus. Two thousand students are expected to enroll for daytime classes next year and 3,500 are expected by 1965.

The city board of education is considering a suggestion to make the present botanical gardens area a parking lot and setting up a smaller garden area elsewhere. This would provide for 300 cars.

They are also considering a site west of the botanical gardens, now occupied by two business structures. The land occupied by the two buildings is not owned by the school district, but a small portion at the rear of the structures belongs to the school.

BILL HERRON
... All-Star

Fresno JC Has All-Star End

The Fresno Junior College football team has the honor of having the only player from California to be chosen for the East-West All-Star game to be played in Jackson, Mississippi, on Dec. 7.

Bill Herron, 20 year old, 200 pound, six foot one inch end on the Ram squad is that player.

Herron last year was picked as all-conference for the Central California Junior College Athletic Association and was also named honorable mention on the All-American team.

Herron hails from Sanger High School where he starred in football for three years. At FJC he has started at left end for two years under Hans Wiedenhoefer's Rams. He is majoring in physical education.

The all-star game to be played in Jackson is the annual East-West game that is played by gridders picked solely from national junior colleges.

Competition Is Tops Among FJC Ram Cage Team

Basketball Coach Joe Kelly is attempting to pick his top five men on the squad, now that the practice season is drawing to a close.

He said that he would have trouble if he were to have to pick a starting team for a game to be played tomorrow because of the tremendous depth of his squad.

Nathaniel Haskins has just about tied up the center spot because of his height advantage over the rest of the cagers.

Frank Johnson, brother of St. Mary's top scorer, Odell Johnson, is vying with Larry Gambrell, John Kruzic, and John Hampton for a starting forward spot. Stan Busch, Polly Carver, Dennis Mathis, Mike Siegel, and George Sarantos are all putting in fine efforts for a starting guard position.

Because of the competition the players are putting forth, the team should have very good bench strength this year.

Uses Familiar Attack

Because the overall average height of the team is so small, Kelly will probably employ the same type of offensive attack that he used in his upset win over nationally-rated Hancock Junior College at the close of last season. In this pattern all five men are constantly moving and passing, never staying in one spot, and watching and waiting for a chance to break for the basket and get a clear shot.

JC Wrestlers Will Begin Practice Now

Coach Hans Wiedenhoefer has announced that wrestling practice will be starting immediately for all men at Fresno Junior college that are interested.

Wiedenhoefer said that he is looking forward to having a fine season. There will be plenty of chances to wrestle as nine tentative meets and three tournaments have been planned. The tournaments will be held in Los Angeles, San Luis Obispo and San Francisco.

He urges wrestlers to contact him as soon as possible in the men's gym. Workouts will start immediately and a meet is scheduled for Dec. 13 with El Camino Junior college.

There are nine different weight divisions open to wrestle in. They are: 123, 130, 137, 147, 157, 167, 177, 191 and heavyweight.

Spotlighting the Sports

By BILL SEWALL
Sports Editor

Now that the Rams have taken all the laurels in the Central California Junior College Athletic Association as far as football is concerned, it is time to look ahead to the up and coming basketball season.

The attendance for the football season has been much better than was expected. The home game with Reedley, which drew 7,500 fans, surpassed all estimates in attendance. Even some Fresno Junior college students went all out so that they could go to Santa Maria on the Pacific coast to see the Rams clinch the CCJCAA title with an easy win over the Hancock Bulldogs.

Now that we have made such a grand start in school spirit, why not continue it when Joe Kelly leads his basketball team forth to continue CCJCAA competition on the courts?

Poor Attendance

The attendance last year in basketball was not too pleasing. With the exception of the game with Hancock generally between 50 and 75 fans would turn out for the games. Let's see, about 2500 students attended JC last year and roughly four per cent of those went to the ball games. It isn't exactly a record-setting figure.

Fresno Rams Win CCJCAA, May Get Bowl Invitation

The Fresno Junior College Rams wrapped up the Central California Junior College Athletic Association league football title and a possible bowl bid by rolling over Porterville and Allen Hancock JC by scores of 42 to 12 and 41 to 14 respectively.

The Rams, 16th in the national junior college ranks, finished the regular season with a six win one loss two tie record under the coaching of head coach Hans Wiedenhoefer and his able assistants, Clare Slaughter and Dick Handley.

Porterville took the opening kickoff and drove 62 yards in 13 plays. The key play was a 15 yard aerial from George Lewis to Roy Springmeyer. The conversion was no good.

Poor Pirate Defense

Fresno took the ensuing kickoff and won 44 yards in 12 plays with John Lujano sneaking over from the one.

Bill Herron set up the next Ram score by recovering a Pirate fumble on the Porterville 24. Six plays later Fresno scored on a 27 yard run by Vestee Jackson.

Fresno scored again driving from its own 33 to the Pirate two where Jackson banged over.

Paris, Raco Score

Joe Paris circled right end for 21 yards and another FJC score. Frank Eller ran six yards for another Ram tally. Lujano passed two yards to Fred Raco for the final Fresno touchdown.

Lewis passed 28 yards to Dick Freeman for the Pirate score. The point after touchdown was no good.

Alex Kobzoff kicked four of Fresno's extra points; Henry Stennis added the other two.

Paris Starts The Scoring

Paris scored the first Ram touchdown of the Hancock contest by bucking over from the three.

Jackson set up the second Fresno score by rambling 44 yards. Lujano passed 37 yards to Raco for six points.

Fresno's Jim Nowell ran 28 yards to the goal line but fumbled and teammate Eller recovered in the end zone.

Hancock scored on a 38 yard pass play from Rod Mitchell to Don Villers. Don Gatewood added the extra point.

Eller scored again racing five yards into paydirt.

Henry Stennis climaxed a 65 yard Ram drive by scooting six yards for the score.

Vern Newman added the final Fresno tally by plunging over from the one.

Hancock added a touchdown and a extra point to make the final score 41 to 14.

Lee Baker added three conversions and Eldon Tex Bryant and Kobzoff each kicked one apiece.

579 Total Yards

Fresno racked up 18 first downs and 579 yards by running and passing as compared to 15 first downs and 329 yards for Hancock.

Score by quarters:
Fresno ..... 6 21 7 7—41
Hancock ..... 0 7 0 7—14

The Rams currently are still holding practice sessions in the hope that they will get an invitation to a bowl game.

FRESNO JUNIOR COLLEGE

RAMPAGE

PUBLISHED BY THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS

VOL. X FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1957 NO. 9

FJC COUNSELORS MEET — Fresno Junior College deans and counselors met recently at the O St. campus, where they discussed counseling problems in an orientation session. Robert Hamsler, dean of the technical and industrial division, presided.

Spring Pre-Registration And Counseling Begins, Will End January 24th

Spring semester pre-registration and student counseling for currently enrolled Fresno Junior College students has started this week and will continue until Jan. 24.

New students will be counseled and pre-registered Feb. 3-4, stated Archie Bradshaw, dean of students. Registration for all returning students is set for Feb. 5 and new and night students will enroll Feb. 6 and 7.

FJC students may obtain spring semester schedules of day and night classes from their counselors.

President Stuart M. White said the schedules list 464 classes, including 364 to be offered in the day program and 100 at night. The day classes include 53 on the O Street and Edison campuses and 311 on the University Avenue campus.

The night classes include 55 academic sections and 45 in the technical and industrial division's pre-employment, trade extension and apprenticeship programs.

Bradshaw said students should make appointments with their counselors as soon as possible so they may get the classes they want. Instruction for the spring semester will begin Feb. 10.

FJC President Speaks To Sanger High Students

Fresno Junior College participants in the Sanger High School Annual Career Day included President Stuart M. White and Miss Ethel McCormack, business division dean. The activity was held Nov. 26 in Sanger.

White, the main speaker at the event, talked on "Trends In Education Beyond High School."

He said, "The urgency of our time requires that the yardstick for education must be the need, not the dollar."

"I have the feeling that the message which 'Sputnik' carries to all Americans, is that in the last half of the 20th century — in this age of incredible technological change — nothing is as important as the trained and educated mind," he continued.

Miss McCormack talked to those students interested in the business division at FJC.

BRADSHAW IS APPOINTED TO JC COMMITTEE

Archie Bradshaw, the Fresno Junior College dean of students, has been appointed to the committee on advisement program for the California State Junior College Association.

The appointment was announced by Dr. Ralph Prator, the Association's president, and the president of the Bakersfield College.

Dr. Prator said the committee will study, and

ARCHIE BRADSHAW recommend to the association, procedures and policies for junior colleges to employ in their relations with high schools in attempting to inform high school seniors of the opportunities offered by junior colleges. They will include testing, college orientation programs for seniors, principals and parents.

Bradshaw has submitted a preliminary draft of recommendation to the committee chairman, Dr. O. W. Noble, the Riverside City College president, for the agenda of the first meeting, to be scheduled sometime in the spring semester.

NOTICE

Students who plan to receive their Associate of Arts degree at the end of this or the spring semester are urged to check their records at the administration office immediately since grade points and the completion of required and major curricula are subject to change.

White Attends U Of C Confab In Berkeley

President Stuart M. White of the Fresno Junior College will attend a meeting of a special advisory committee of the Study of Real Estate Education and Research Needs of California tomorrow and Saturday at the University of California in Berkeley.

The committee was appointed by Roy E. Simpson, the state superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. Robert G. Sproul, the president of the University of California, to develop a plan for real estate education and research among the state's junior colleges and state colleges and the university.

The group includes three members each from the university, state colleges, junior colleges, and the State Realty Board and the California Real Estate Association.

Assembly Bill No. 5, passed by the 1956 budget session of the California Legislature, made extensive amendments to the Business and Professions Code "relative to business opportunity, mineral oil and gas, and real estate brokers and salesmen and fees therefor." Section 44 of the bill contains this provision:

"All money paid into the State Treasury and credited to the Real Estate Education and Research Fund is available for appropriation by the legislature to be used by the commissioner in carrying out the provisions of this part of Chapter 1 of Part 2 in the advancement of education and research in real estate at the University of California, state colleges and junior colleges."

FBLA Hosts Statewide Conference

Phi Beta Lambda, the Fresno Junior College chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America, will be hosts to the annual state convention of FBLA, March 21 and 22 in the Californian Hotel.

Gervase Eckenrod, a chapter advisor, said, "Between 500 and 600 members and advisors will come from out of town chapters throughout the state." The Fresno and Roosevelt High School chapters will assist the FJC group in arranging the details of the conclave.

Phi Beta Lambda conducted a contest to pick a theme for the convention. The contest, which ended November 27, was open to any student in the FJC business division class. The theme could not be more than seven words.

Raymond Beach, the FJC chapter president, was general chairman of the committee planning the convention. The contest judges included Beach, Donna Young, and Nola Myers, and three faculty members of the business division, Eckenrod, Miss Ethel McCormack, and Jack Hill.

Tomorrow Is Last Day For FJC Office Seekers To File Candidacy Forms

By HELEN HORTON

Tomorrow is the last day to circulate petitions of candidacy for the spring semester student body offices. Petition slips and a copy of election procedures may be obtained in the registrar's office from Mrs. Lena Fuller.

Augie Caldera, head of the nominating and election committees, said the offices to be filled include the student body president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and nine representatives at large on the student council.

The election committee will post a list of the approved candidates on Dec. 13.

The nominees will campaign from Dec. 16 through Jan. 20. The installation of new officers will be held during an assembly Jan. 22.

The nominating committee includes Jesse Jones, Sally Camacho, Sharon Cummings, and Phillip Bertelsen. The elections committee includes Shirley Huber, Victor Takeuchi, Gene Dudley, Barbara Fragus, Ronald Hogan and James Richmond.

The present student body officers include Al Grace, who will seek re-election, president; Augie Caldera, vice president; Barbara Fragus, who will seek the vice presidency in the coming election, treasurer; Sally Camacho, Victor Takeuchi, who will oppose Barbara Fragus; Jesse Jones, Harold Sinner, Ken Pipes, who may seek the presidency; Richard Armstrong and Arvid Allen, representatives at large.

Shirley Huber and Jim Richmond are the AWS and AMS presidents at the present time. Miss Huber, Caldera, Phil Bertelsen, Susan Cyr, Margaret Christiansen and Jones have indicated that they will seek representative at large titles.

The nominating committee wishes to make it clear to the student body that the slate of candidates which will be posted Dec. 13th is not final because many will undoubtedly be nominated from the floor at the nominating assembly. However, the names of those students on the list, will have been approved and cleared.

Caldera urges any and all FJC students who are interested in the welfare of their school and their fellow students to get a petition today or tomorrow and to support student government here at FJC.

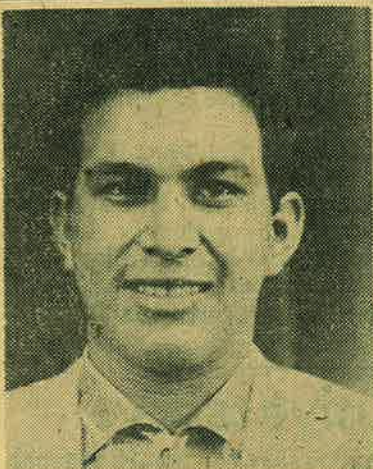

"We would like to see many freshmen on the ballot election day," commented Caldera, "because we know that there are many fine leaders among this year's freshman class. Remember, tomorrow is the deadline for getting your petitions."

WORLD AFFAIRS CLUB MEETS OFF CAMPUS

The World Affairs Club, officially dissolved from an on-campus club, hopes to carry on activities as a group of students interested in current world affairs.

At the last meeting of the club, it was decided that at least fifteen members must appear at that meeting to facilitate recognition as an FJC club. The club was dissolved when the desired number of members had not attended.

Those who still hope to reorganize during the spring semester agreed to attend the meetings of the Fresno chapter of the World Affairs Club, held in the Hattie May Hammat Hall at T. L. Heaton School.

Playnight To Be Offered Jaycee Students Monday

"Those of our students who attended the last Fresno State College play on this campus are very enthusiastic about seeing Tiger at the Gates, this Monday evening at 8:15." This was asserted by Mrs. Kay Seagraves, Fresno Junior College dean of women. She concluded by stating, "If enough clubs sponsor theater parties it will fill the house for the night of the performance and the students will have a really enjoyable time."

The play was first entitled "La Guerre De Troie N'Aura Pas Lieu," or "The Trojan War Will Not Take Place." When this Grecian myth was translated into English by Christopher Fry, it had an underlying theme, can man escape destiny?

This costume piece has its plot war and thus escape his own centered around the legendary city of Troy and of the main characters of Hector, Paris, Helen, and Priam who are a part of a mythical by-gone age.

The main cast included Tom Hodges, Hector; Remi Barron, Paris; Frances Barbata as Helen, and Charles Sant Agata, Priam.

Tickets may be purchased for this production every day this week between the hours of 10-12 AM and 1 to 3 in the afternoon. They can be purchased only with a student body card and 75 cents.
