FJC COUNSELORS MEET — Fresno Junior College deans and counselors met recently at the O St. campus, where they discussed counseling problems in an orientation session. Robert Hansler, dean of the technical and industrial division, presided.

Spring Pre-Registration And Counseling Begins, Will End January 24th

Spring semester pre-registration and student counseling for currently enrolled Fresno Junior College students has started this week and will continue until Jan. 24.

New students will be counseled and pre-registered Feb. 3-4, stated Archie Bradshaw, dean of students. Registration for all returning students is set for Feb. 5 and new and night students will enroll Feb. 6 and 7.

FJC students may obtain spring semester schedules of day and night classes from their counselors.

President Stuart M. White said the schedules list 464 classes, including 364 to be offered in the day program and 100 at night. The day classes include 53 on the O Street and Edison campuses and 311 on the University Avenue campus.

The night classes include 55 academic sections and 45 in the technical and industrial division's pre-employment, trade extension and apprenticeship programs.

Bradshaw said students should make appointments with their counselors as soon as possible so they may get the classes they want. Instruction for the spring semester will begin Feb. 10.

FJC President Speaks To Sanger High Students

Fresno Junior College participants in the Sanger High School Annual Career Day included President Stuart M. White and Miss Ethel McCormack, business division dean. The activity was held Nov. 26 in Sanger.

White, the main speaker at the event, talked on "Trends In Education Beyond High School."

He said, "The urgency of our time requires that the yardstick for education must be the need, not the dollar."

"I have the feeling that the message which 'Sputnik' carries to all Americans, is that in the last half of the 20th century — in this age of incredible technological change — nothing is as important as the trained and educated mind," he continued.

Miss McCormack talked to those students interested in the business division at FJC.

White Attends U Of C Confab In Berkeley

President Stuart M. White of the Fresno Junior College will attend a meeting of a special advisory committee of the Study of Real Estate Education and Research Needs of California tomorrow and Saturday at the University of California in Berkeley.

The committee was appointed by Roy E. Simpson, the state superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. Robert G. Sproul, the president of the University of California, to develop a plan for real estate education and research among the state's junior colleges and state colleges and the university.

The group includes three members each from the university, state colleges, junior colleges, and the State Realty Board and the California Real Estate Association.

Assembly Bill No. 5, passed by the 1956 budget session of the California Legislature, made extensive amendments to the Business and Professions Code "relative to business opportunity, mineral oil and gas, and real estate brokers and salesmen and fees therefor." Section 44 of the bill contains this provision:

"All money paid into the State Treasury and credited to the Real Estate Education and Research Fund is available for appropriation by the legislature to be used by the commissioner in carrying out the provisions of this part of Chapter 1 of Part 2 in the advancement of education and research in real estate at the University of California, state colleges and junior colleges."

FBLA Hosts Statewide Conference

Phi Beta Lambda, the Fresno Junior College chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America, will be hosts to the annual state convention of FBLA, March 21 and 22 in the Californian Hotel.

Gervase Eckenrod, a chapter advisor, said, "Between 500 and 600 members and advisors will come from out of town chapters throughout the state." The Fresno and Roosevelt High School chapters will assist the FJC group in arranging the details of the conclave.

Phi Beta Lambda conducted a contest to pick a theme for the convention. The contest, which ended November 27, was open to any student in the FJC business division class. The theme could not be more than seven words.

Raymond Beach, the FJC chapter president, was general chairman of the committee planning the convention. The contest judges included Beach, Donna Young, and Nola Myers, and three faculty members of the business division, Eckenrod, Miss Ethel McCormack, and Jack Hill.

Tomorrow Is Last Day For FJC Office Seekers To File Candidacy Forms

By HELEN HORTON

Tomorrow is the last day to circulate petitions of candidacy for the spring semester student body offices. Petition slips and a copy of election procedures may be obtained in the registrar's office from Mrs. Lena Fuller.

Augie Caldera, head of the nominating and election committees, said the offices to be filed include the student body president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and nine representatives at large on the student council.

The election committee will post a list of the approved candidates on Dec. 13.

The nominees will campaign from Dec. 16 through Jan. 20. The installation of new officers will be held during an assembly Jan. 21.

The nominating committee includes Jesse Jones, Sally Camacho, Sharon Cummings, and Phil Bertelsen. The elections committee includes Shirley Huber, Victor Takeuchi, Gene Dudley, Barbara Fragus, Ronald Hogan and James Richmond.

The present student body officers include Al Grace, who will seek re-election, president; Augie Caldera, vice president; Barbara Fragus, who will seek the vice presidency in the coming election; treasurer; Sally Camacho, Victor Takeuchi, who will oppose Barbara Fragus; Jesse Jones, Harold Sinner, Ken Pipes, who may seek the presidency; Richard Armstrong and Arvid Allen, representatives at large.

Shirley Huber and Jim Richmond are the AWS and AMS presidents at the present time. Miss Huber, Caldera, Phil Bertelsen, Susan Cy, Margaret Christiansen and Jones have indicated that they will seek representative at large titles.

The nominating committee wishes to make it clear to the student body that the slate of candidates which will be posted Dec. 13th is not final because many will undoubtedly be nominated from the floor at the nominating assembly. However, the names of those students on the list, will have been approved and cleared.

Caldera urges any and all FJC students who are interested in the welfare of their school and the fellow students to get a petition today or tomorrow and to support student government here at FJC. "We would like to see many freshmen on the ballot election day," commented Caldera, "because we know that there are many fine leaders among this year's freshman class. Remember, tomorrow is the deadline for getting your petitions."

Playnight To Be Offered Jaycee Students Monday

"Those of our students who attended the last Fresno State College play on this campus are very enthusiastic about seeing Tiger at the Gates, this Monday evening at 8:15." This was asserted by Mrs. Kay Seagraves, Fresno Junior College dean of women. She concluded by stating, "If enough clubs sponsor theater parties it will fill the house for the night of the performance and the students will have a really enjoyable time."

The play was first entitled "La Guerre De Troie N'Aura Pas Lieu," or "The Trojan War Will Not Take Place." When this Grecian myth was translated into English by Christopher Fry, it had an underlying theme, can man escape destiny?

This costume piece has its plot centered around the legendary city of Troy and of the main characters of Hector, Paris, Helen, and Priam who are a part of a mythical bygone age.

The main cast included Tom Hodges, Hector; Remi Barron, Paris; Frances Barbata as Helen, and Charles Sant Agata, Priam.

Tickets may be purchased for this production every day this week between the hours of 10-12 AM and 1 to 3 in the afternoon. They can be purchased only with a student body card and 75 cents.

WORLD AFFAIRS CLUB MEETS OFF CAMPUS

The World Affairs Club, officially dissolved from an on-campus club, hopes to carry on activities as a group of students interested in current world affairs.

At the last meeting of the club, it was decided that at least fifteen members must appear at that meeting to facilitate recognition as an FJC club. The club was dissolved when the desired number of members had not attended.

Those who still hope to reorganize during the spring semester agreed to attend the meetings of the Fresno chapter of the World Affairs Club, held in the Hattie May Hammat Hall at T. L. Heaton School.

Congratulations, Rams!

The powerful Fresno Junior College Rams, who missed getting a spot on the Dec. 14 Junior Rose Bowl in Pasadena, certainly deserve a round of applause and thanks from the FJC student body for the exceptionally fine showing during the 1957 grid season.

The Rampage staff is very proud of the team and feels that the 11 man selection board which met in Pasadena Sunday made a mistake in not selecting the Rams. However, our Rams captured the Central California Junior College Association grid title by defeating the top teams in the valley. To the Rams, Coach Hans Wiedenhofer, and assistant coaches Clare Slaughter and Dick Handley, our thanks for a fine grid team and season.

A Grim Anniversary

Saturday is the fifteenth anniversary of Pearl Harbor. Perhaps there may be a few speeches but there will be no gay parades or celebrations. It is regarded as a day of infamy.

As the years slide by, that fateful Sunday morning of long ago becomes more and more vague to our memories. Even World War II, the aftermath of that grim day, will soon be remembered only by the historians.

Compared to today's air power, those squadrons of Japanese planes which devastated Pearl Harbor would seem a tiny force indeed.

But their influence that day cannot be denied. They were influential enough to be significant even in 1957.

Their visit to Pearl Harbor resulted in the then embryonic United States Fleet taking a catastrophic loss. The Army Air Force, neglected since World War I, suffered just as severely. Also, over 5,000 men lost their lives. This lack of readiness upon the part of the United States is an old story.

Today there are reports that the United States is about to launch its first earth satellite. If this happens, many people in this country will again relax. "Ah, we've caught up with the Russians, we're safe again," they will say to themselves. The fact that these people will overlook is that the first satellite launched by Russia weighed 120 pounds, and the second satellite over 1,000 pounds. The first United States satellite will weigh only 4½ pounds.

This is hardly a balance of achievement, or even a comparison. The smug flaunting by people in this country, of the American way of life, toward that of the Russians, may one day seem terribly ironical.

It would certainly seem that this country enjoys a higher standard of living than does Russia. But it is doubtful whether our automobiles, with their forward look, or our multiple TV set homes, will be able to stave off the might of the Russians should the need ever come.

We may not "Remember Pearl Harbor," but we should not long forget its meaning. —Pat Rafferty

Holiday Program Set

The FJC choir under the direction of C. Lowell Spencer will present the Christmas assembly on December 13th. All classes from 11:30 am. to 12:30 pm. will be excused to attend.

Opportunities Are Offered By Business Class

"The Fresno Junior College business division is concerned primarily with training students for immediate entry into business life," commented Miss Ethel McCormack, business dean.

The division is made up of seven specific majors; those being bookkeeping and accounting, secretarial and stenographic, marketing, business administration, clerical, office machines, and general business.

Fourteen instructors comprise the business education faculty. The total enrollment figures for the division are 514 students.

Enrollment figures for the individual majors include 207 men and 21 women in business administration; two men and 152 women in secretarial; 81 men and 46 women in general business; 65 men and 23 women in accounting; seven men and 78 women in clerical; 16 men and no women in marketing; and one man and 28 women in office machines.

"The two main features of the business division are the job placement bureau and Phi Beta Lambda, the business club," Miss McCormack related.

The placement bureau is under the sponsorship of Gervase Eckenrodt, the placement officer. Eckenrodt declared, "The main objective of the bureau is to find jobs for FJC students who have the ability and training and wish to work."

Phi Beta Lambda, the business club, is sponsored by Eckenrodt, Mrs. Edna Hartley and Mrs. Wilma Weston.

"The business division offers the following opportunities to students; Regular two year lower division courses for those planning to transfer to upper division work at a four year college or university; regular two year vocational courses for students who wish to get an associate of arts degree and go directly into business," Miss McCormack continued.

A night program is also offered by the division. Courses in accounting and business law are offered to regular students and also to those who are unable to attend daytime sessions.

RATIO OF MEN TO WOMEN IS RELEASED

More than seventy per cent of the 3,418 Fresno Junior College students are men. The total number of men students are 2,507, while the total number of women students are 913. However, the proportion is only about two to one among day students.

Stuart M. White stated that the main reason FJC has such a large preponderance of men students is that the Technical and Industrial division has 1,399 men and only 89 women plus 55 high school students.

In the Business division there are 394 men to 359 women, in the General Education division there are 614 men to 465 women, in the Technical and Industrial division there are 626 men to 82 women, and in Liberal Arts there are 209 men to 124 women.

Faculty Members To Represent FJC At Statewide Conference

Three Fresno Junior College faculty members will represent Fresno Junior College at a statewide Conference on Moral and Spiritual Values. J. Philmore Collins, dean of the education division; Dr. Lee Roy Just, a counselor, and Jackson C. Carty, head librarian, will travel to the University of California's Davis campus for the conference which will be held Jan. 31 through Feb. 2, 1958.

Those personally invited California junior colleges may have three delegates who will enjoy the conference, expense free, because of a grant from the Edward H. Hazen Foundation.

The ultimate aim of the conference as stated by the conference committee on moral and spiritual values is "to find some new and specific ways of helping students to help themselves more fully to the rich heritage of moral and spiritual values available to them."

To do this, a series of workshops has been designed to investigate whether or not school curriculum and activities might make these values more understood and desired by the students. The members of the workshops will try to determine which aspects of the junior colleges will further religion and also help students find a faith by which to live.

Such authorities on religion as Dr. Seymour Smith, professor of religion in higher education at the Divinity School, Yale University, and Dr. Clarence P. Shedd, professor of religion in higher education at the Pacific School of Religion, will address the delegates.

Christian Group Will Sponsor Pot Luck Dinner

A movie entitled "Time and Eternity" (in color) will be shown, and a Pot Luck Dinner held in the co-ed lounge, on the second floor of the student center tomorrow at 7 P.M.

The film and dinner will be sponsored by the Campus Christian Fellowship, formerly Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.

"The purpose of the affair will be to have a good time and get better acquainted," stated Bill Johnson, club president. A quartet, some skits and special numbers, a 45 minute movie entitled "Time and Eternity" and group singing will provide a good time for all those who attend.

"Everyone of high school or college age is welcome," stated Johnson, who also said that admission will be 25 cents for girls and 50 cents for boys.

A panel discussion on Christian Living will be held at the next meeting with pastors and youth directors serving on the panel.

"Rabbi David Greenburg of the Temple Beth Israel explained the principal beliefs of the Jewish faith at the last meeting," stated Johnson, who said that periodically the club is inviting different religions to explain their beliefs. "This program of better understanding different religions does not mean that we are compromising our fundamental Christian beliefs," stated Johnson.

Speaker Is Announced

Miss Petchari Prachuabmah, the only student at Fresno State from Thailand, will speak about Thailand, its educational, social, and political movements at the meeting of the World Affairs Club, Monday, Dec. 9, at 7:30 P.M. in the Activities Building of the YWCA at 1660 M Street.

FJC Rams End Fine Season, Lose Several Lettermen

By AUGIE CALDERA

Although the Fresno Junior College Ram football team failed to gain a berth in a post season bowl game, Coach Hans Wiedenhofer's gridders walked away with the Central California Junior College Conference title in one of the most successful seasons in the history of the school.

Herron gained national recognition by being the only player from California selected to play in the All-American football tilt in Jackson, Miss., Saturday, Dec. 7. The 200 pounder is undecided as to where he will continue his education but the chances are he will enroll in a very prominent institution, perhaps a member of the Pacific Coast Conference.

Pipes and Kobzoff were outstanding on all departments and they, too, will be sought by many four-year schools. Both are sophomores and will not be back next fall.

Raco, the other end, is thought by many to be the equal of Herron and he plans to play for the FSC Bulldogs next year. He is a 200 pounder.

Sophomore Lujano directed the Ram attack from his quarterback post and was a main cog in the Ram defensive secondary. He too has played his final game for the red and white of FJC.

Fresno JC 6, Fullerton JC 6

The Rams opened the '57 season in fine fashion as Fullerton's favored Hornets had to settle for a 6 to 6 tie in a bruising battle in Fresno's Ratcliffe Stadium. Herron, Raco and Jackson played outstanding ball.

Fresno JC 13, Stockton JC 26

Louie Sanders, Bill Pritchard, and Pete Mehas, Ram linemen, played excellent ball as the Rambling Rams battled the huge Stockton College Mustangs to a stand-off, for three quarters, only to have the northerners erupt for a twenty point scoring spree in the final four minutes of play as the locals dropped a 26 to 13 contest in the northern city.

Fresno JC 20, COS 20

The flu ridden Rams met the Giants from COS in Visalia and came home with a 20 to 20 tie. Herron, Raco, Pritchard and Dale Lowery, all starters, were in bed with the flu. COS was undefeated at the time and favored to win the league.

Fresno JC 20, Taft 0

Taft College came to Fresno and fell before the Rams, 20 to 0 as Lujano threw two touchdown passes and completed 8 of 13 for 122 yards. Herron was the top defensive performer.

Fresno JC 40, Citrus 25

With Vestee Jackson, Alex Kobzoff, and Kenny Pipes leading a fine touchdown second half offensive thrust, the Rams scored a wild 40 to 25 non-league win over the Citrus Owls.

Fresno JC 47, Coalinga 7

The Coalinga College, Falcons, defending champs, were crushed by the rampaging Rams 47 to 7 in the local stadium. Jackson was the outstanding Ram.

Fresno JC 20, Reedley 12

The Rams, playing before a homecoming crowd of 8,000, smashed the unbeaten Reedley Tigers 20 to 12 as Jackson ran wild. Herron, Bill Lamb, and Pipes were the stars as the Rams took over first place in the CCJCA race.

Fresno JC 42, Porterville 12

Porterville College entertained the Rams and fell by a 42 to 12 score. Kobzoff played his best game both offensively and defensively.

Fresno JC 41, Hancock 14

The Rams closed the season in fine form as they journeyed to Santa Maria to crush the Bulldogs, 41 to 14. Joe Paris was the offensive star with Tex Bryant.

COS Invites FJC Council

The Fresno Junior College student council has received a letter from the executive board of the College of the Sequoias, inviting the FJC student council to attend a luncheon at COS Thursday, Jan. 9, 1958.

Spotlighting the Sports

By BILL SEWALL
Sports Editor

This week I will devote this space to better acquaint you with the Fresno Junior College students that have been bowling at the Blackstone Bowl for the past few weeks. The team is composed of seven students from FJC.

The team is being sponsored by members of the alumni association and have been playing under the team name of Rams.

Bob Bertholf was chosen as captain of the team and also was elected by the members of the league to the position of sergeant at arms. Dick Nunes, a member of the rally committee and president of the Newman Club, and Art Fernandez and Red Ely, also of the Rally Committee, are on the team.

Bill Sewall, Gary Becker, and Jim Rehm, who batted .290 with the FJC baseball team last spring, round out the squad.

FJC To Play In Tournament

The Fresno Junior College Ram cagers will participate today and tomorrow in the third annual Bakersfield College invitational basketball tournament.

The first round pairings for the tournament are as follows; Bakersfield versus Mount San Antonio, Los Angeles Harbor versus Modesto, Fresno versus San Francisco, and San Jose versus Los Angeles Valley.

The Rams will play San Francisco at 12:30 PM today. Coach Joe Kelly's probable starting five will be Larry Gambrill and John Hampton at forwards; Dennis Mathis and Polly Carver at guards and Nathaniel Haskins at center.

Kelly's second unit of John Kruczic, Stan Bush, George Sarantos, Mike Siegel, Frank Johnson, Marty Olson, and Voyce Hendrix also will see action.

Novice Cerritos Team Gets Junior Rose Bowl Invitation; Other Grid Teams Lose Out

Cerritos Junior College of Norwalk, California has been selected as the western representative in the annual Junior College Rose Bowl classic scheduled for Dec. 14 in Pasadena.

Cerritos was chosen by an eleven man selection board in a close race with the Central California Junior College champion Rams of Fresno Junior College and Orange Coast College.

Athletic Director Paul Starr said, "We felt that with Cerritos and Orange Coast having only one loss, the two ties on our record hurt us although we were in strong contention until the last."

This is the first year of athletic competition at Cerritos and the southern school certainly made it a successful one. Orange Coast, which was in contention for the bid all the way, contributed seven of its starters of last year to the Cerritos squad of this season. The players on the bowl bound Cerritos team are from several of the surrounding districts, including Compton and Orange Coast.

Fresno failed to gain a post season bowl bid despite the fact that the Rams were rated in the top ten nationally. With 25 members of this year's squad returning next year, the prospects are bright for an even better season in 1958.

In summing up the season Starr said, "We had a very successful season winning the CCJC conference. We played representative teams from three other conferences. I think the entire squad and coaches are to be congratulated on their fine season."
