Fresno JC Administration Hosts County Schools Liaison Conference Today

Fresno Junior College administrators hosted high school and junior high school principals, senior class advisors, deans, and counselors of the Fresno City high and junior high schools and San Joaquin Memorial High School yesterday afternoon. Today's meeting is intended for high schools outside of Fresno from which many of FJC's students attended.

Both meetings start with a campus tour at 4:30 PM, which includes the board room, main reading room, and reserve back room of the library; rooms M-219, M-223 and M-227 of McLane Hall; bungalows 2, 3 and 5 of the business division; and the bookstore, student coed lounge, publications, and social hall of the student center building. After a dinner in the student center committee room, Stuart M. White, FJC president, will conduct the orientation session.

White will introduce members of his administrative staff. Arch Bradshaw, dean of students, will discuss the counseling and testing program, and each of the division deans will outline opportunities of each of their division. They are Ethel McCormack, dean of business education; Robert P. Hansler, dean of technical and industrial education; and James P. Collins, dean of general education.

Robert P. Kelly, dean of the extended day program, will speak on FJC's evening classes, and John S. Hansen, the administrative dean, will summarize the liaison meetings. A question and answer period will be held for the high school representatives at 7:15 PM.

Invitations to tonight's meeting have been sent to Sierra Union, Dos Palos, Chowchilla, Fowler, Tranquillity, Washington Union, Clovis, Sanger, Central Union, Kerman, Bullard, Selma, Kingsburg, Caruthers, Riverdale and Madera High Schools.

Rotary Club Plays Host To Student Presidents

Six student body presidents conducted the Monday program at the Fresno Rotary Club luncheon meeting in the Hotel Californian. Among them was Carl Allan Grace, Fresno Junior College.

Business Division Serves As Hosts To Counselors

FJC counselors and deans held the second in a series of three orientation meetings Tuesday in the student center committee room with the business division as hosts.

Miss Ethel McCormack, the division's dean, described the division's organization, classes and special services to students to aid counselors in programming students for the spring semester. She also outlined the division's relationships with local businesses.

She said counselors should give students an over-all picture of the college's curricular offerings and not counseling for one particular division. She added that counseling should be based on what is best for the student.

Miss McCormack also described the division's vocational, transfer, refresher course, and general objectives and conducted a tour of several business classrooms.

Gervase Eckenrod, the division's placement officer, described placement functions, and Archie Bradshaw, the dean of students, spoke on general counseling problems.

Members of Phi Beta Lambda, the FJC chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America, decorated the tables for a luncheon that preceded the meeting and served the luncheon.

White, Bradshaw Accept Invitation

Stuart M. White, Fresno Junior College president, and Archie Bradshaw, dean of students, have accepted an invitation to speak to Sanger Union High School seniors Jan. 14, 1958.

White will address a general assembly. The topic of his speech will be "College and Your Future." Bradshaw and student body officers Al Grace, Augie Caldera, Barbara Fragus, and Shirley Huber will talk with seniors in groups of 25 during various senior problems classes throughout the day. They will discuss the curriculum and also the social offerings at FJC.

Bank Of America Offers $100 In Business Awards

For the second consecutive year, Fresno Junior College will participate in the Bank of America Junior College business awards program.

Stuart M. White, president of the college, and S. Clark Beid, the bank's area manager, have agreed to let FJC participate in the program.

In its second year of operation, the program offers $100 each to the two outstanding business students as well as other participating students from other colleges.

The purpose of the program is to encourage students to complete their junior college training and to consider a business career.

Last year's winners at FJC were Dorothy Rubald of Fresno and Felix Aycock of Clovis. Miss Rubald was first rated in the secretarial category.

Choir, Fine Arts Club Give Annual Christmas Assembly Tomorrow

The Fresno Junior College music department and the FJC Fine Arts Club will sponsor the annual Christmas assembly tomorrow at 11:40 AM in the University Ave. auditorium.

The program, which will feature the junior college choir and will be directed by C. Lowell Spencer, will also be pre-

Students Are Urged To Pre-Register

Spring semester pre-registration and student counseling for currently enrolled students started last week and will continue until Jan. 24. Pre-registration and counseling for the new students will begin Feb. 3 through 4. Registration for all returning students will be Feb. 5, and for the new and extended day students, registration will be Feb. 6 through 7. The schedules for the spring semester for day and night students will be given to the students by their counselors.

Archie Bradshaw, dean of students, stated that he would like for all students to be registered before the Christmas holidays, which will only be one more week away. He also stated that all students should register right away, because some of the classes will be closing soon.

The test schedule for the spring semester is as follows: Vocational Nurse, Jan. 21, 9:30 AM, in M-200; English Placement and Teacher Transfer Examination, Jan. 23, 9 AM, in M-200; English Placement and ACE, Jan. 30, 9 AM in M-200; English Placement and ACE, Feb. 4, 9 AM in M-200; English Placement and ACE, Feb. 6, 9 AM in M-200; and tests for the extended day students will be given Feb. 4 and 10 at 7 PM in McLane Hall.

It is necessary for students to pre-register if they are to be enrolled in the classes they will need. Counselors should be seen for advice in selecting the correct courses.

Alumnus Thanks Rampage

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a letter received from Mr. Henry (Duke) Potere of the FJC Alumni Committee.)

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank you very much for the time and consideration you have shown in mailing me each issue of The Rampage. I thoroughly enjoy and look forward to receiving it. I feel as though I can now keep up on what is happening at my old school.

At one time, I was privileged to be a member of The Rampage staff. We felt that we had a good paper, but yours is every bit as good.

Further, I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and your staff for the fine publicity job you did during the recent Homecoming Week celebration.

As part of the alumni, we feel as though your staff had much to do with the success of both a fine homecoming and the success of the Rams, in winning the CCJCA championship.

I am looking forward to many more copies of your paper.

I remain,
Duke Potere, Class of 1951

Rampage Spots Open

At this time most of the students at FJC are engaged in pre-registration. The thought of taking a journalism course will be entertained by many.

At this time it should be mentioned that The Rampage will have several vacancies for reporters during the spring semester. Previous experience is not necessary for a person to become a reporter on The Rampage.

Seeking information, interviewing persons, and writing news stories are among the duties of a reporter. The practice of these duties is a great assist toward a person gaining a diversified education, regardless of whether or not he is a journalism major.

For students in education a course in journalism does much toward enabling them to better express themselves through writing. Also, for students in the business division, a background in public relations and publicity is oftentimes a valuable asset.

Besides gains of an educational value, a person may also derive a great deal of self-satisfaction from this type of work.

Students desiring to engage in clerical, secretarial, and business capacities on The Rampage should enroll in Journalism 9.

Those who wish to be reporters on The Rampage should enroll in Journalism 8B. If a conflict exists with this course they may enroll in Journalism 9.

—Pat Rafferty

Fresno JC General Education Division Offers Students Varied Courses

By HELEN HORTON

"The General Education Division of Fresno Junior College," said James P. Collins, division dean, "attempts to give students enrolled in it exactly what the name implies—a general education."

The division offers programs to non-transfer students, who will finish their formal education at FJC and to transfer students who plan to attend a four year institution.

Collins encourages high school graduates to enroll in the general education division who are undecided on the vocation for which to prepare but who want a broad, general background preparing them for effective citizenship and enriched personal living to earn an associate of arts degree.

"Some of the majors available for transfer students," Collins continued, "include liberal arts, art, chemistry, criminology, pre-forestry and agriculture, home economics, journalism, physical education, speech, social work, social science, teaching, English, pre-medical, pre-pharmacy, public health, pre-nursing, laboratory technician and music."

The total enrollment for the division of day and night classes as shown by George C. Holstein, dean of admissions and records, is 1079 students.

The faculty comprises 45 instructors in the general education division area, including nine part-time instructors who are either serving as counselors or administrators. There are approximately 250 day classes offered and 37 night courses.

New Rampage Editors Named

Pat Rafferty, a journalism major, and a native of Kenosha, Wisc., has been appointed assistant editor of The Rampage. He succeeds Bob Berthoff who has withdrawn from school.

Gary Becker, also a journalism major, a Fresnan, will succeed Rafferty as managing editor. Becker previously was a staff reporter.

Susan Cyr of Fresno has succeeded Geraldine Stevenson as news editor. Miss Cyr is an English major.

CONGRATULATIONS —

TO COACH HANS WIEDENHOEFER AND
ASSISTANT COACHES CLARE SLAUGHTER AND DICK HANDLEY FOR LEADING THE RAMS TO THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE CCJCAA.

Three FJC Faculty Members Are Listed In 'Who's Who'

Three faculty members of Fresno Junior College and Dr. Edwin C. Kratt, the superintendent of the Fresno City Schools, are listed in the new "Who's Who in American Education."

According to the third edition of "Trustees and Colleges of American Universities" and Volume 16 of "Who's Who in American Education," Stuart M. White has been president of Fresno Junior College since 1953.

White was born in Lindsay, Calif., June 9, 1912. He received his bachelor of arts degree at Fresno State College in 1935, and his master of science degree at the University of Southern California in 1945. He taught at Vineland Elementary at Bakersfield from 1935 to 1936, Avenal Elementary from 1936 to 1940, and at Edison High School from 1940 to 1942. He was also vice principal and principal of Edison High from 1942 to 1953. White is a member of Sigma Chi and the Lion's Club.

In volume 18 of "Who's Who in Education," it was stated that Mr. Arch Bradshaw, dean of students at FJC, was a district lightweight boxing champion of the Navy.

Bradshaw was born in Sheffield, England, May 28, 1905. He received his bachelor of science degree at the University of Southern California in 1929, bachelor of arts degree at Santa Barbara College in 1940, and master of science and master of education at Oregon State in 1950. He did his graduate work at Stanford University. Bradshaw's hobbies are boating, hiking, and rock hunting. He belongs to the Elks, Shriners, and Knights Templar.

Jackson Carty, head librarian and audio-visual co-ordinator at

FJC, is found in volume 18 of "Who's Who in Education," "Who's Who in the West," and "Who's Who in Library Service."

Born in Pineville, Kentucky, on Sept. 19, 1941, Carty received his bachelor of arts degree at the University of Kentucky in 1937, and his master of science degree at the University of Southern California in 1948.

MRS. LOUISE MURPHY,
... Veteran's Secretary

Louise Murphy Serves Veterans In Many Respects

In 1952, Mrs. Louise Murphy became the secretary in the Veterans office at Fresno Junior College. Mrs. Murphy, "Louise" as she is better known, has an extensive job which effects many people.

Her main duties are, to aid those veterans attending and striving to obtain a higher education. She also is responsible for sending in the monthly certificate which controls the checks the veterans receive. She also aids them in changing their certificate in case of marriage or a new addition to the family. Those veterans who wish to change schools or programs must also begin with Mrs. Murphy.

Mrs. Murphy and her husband moved in 1946 back to California from Provo, Utah, and took up residence near Stanford University, where her husband received a doctorate in teachers education. Mrs. Murphy did various types of work before she attained the position of secretary to the Director of Stanford Village. She was a quality control supervisor at a Remington Arms plant during World War II, she took a position as secretary at the Prisoner of War office at the Ninth Service Command that had moved from Utah to San Francisco for the duration. Her final job before coming to our campus was as a secretary in a lawyer's office.

To facilitate matters and do away with delayed checks Mrs. Murphy suggests that all veterans check their monthly certificate because it holds up the check. "The earlier the better," she says, when it comes to signing up.

Campbell Speaks On US Language Problems

Dr. Douglas Gordon Campbell, an associate professor of clinical psychology at the University of California, recently spoke in the Fresno Junior College before the Fresno Council of Teachers of English. He spoke on "The Psychopathology of Language." Dr. Campbell told his audience, "It is the teachers' duty to teach their charges not to take literally such fairy tales, which he described as fantasies of sick, bygone people."

"A great many teachers are not aware of this," he said. He urged them to attempt to immunize children from the dangers of myths and "if the myths are 2,000 years old, they must be labeled as such."

This faculty, he added, is the difference between humans and animals. The lower forms of life, he said, when born, begin their lives at the same period as when their parents were born. They do not profit by past examples.

Dr. Campbell also said there would be no reason for artists, painters, musicians and dancers, if everything could be expressed in words. This also is good, he commented, because, conversely, if everyone could express his thoughts in words there would be no other forms of art.

Officials Discuss Nursing Program

Fresno Junior College officials and vocational nurses and the staff nurses of the St. Agnes Hospital met in the staff room at St. Agnes Hospital recently. Discussion was centered around the improvement of instruction both at FJC Vocational Nurses classes and the practical experience which the students obtained at the St. Agnes Hospital.

"It was pointed out that the training of the vocational nurses should be a well-rounded program with experiences in all areas of training both in private and public hospitals," stated Robert P. Hansler, dean of technical and industrial education.

Suggestions were made that perhaps in a private hospital students might be assigned to a supervising nurse rather than in several areas under the direct supervision of a staff nurse from the Junior College.

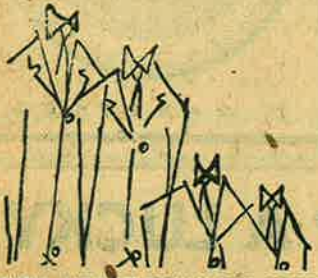

Present from St. Agnes were Sister Mary Laurencita, administrator of the hospital; Mrs. Margaret Truax, director of nurses, Sister Mary Presentation, Sister Mary Ann Partrice, Sister Mary Laurent, and Sister Mary Rosella.

Those attending were Stuart White, president of Fresno Junior College, Robert Hansler, dean of technical and industrial education, Mrs. Hosteder, registered nurse, and Mrs. Josephine Hostetler, registered nurse.

The hospital expressed a desire to continue the training program in cooperation with the Fresno Junior College. Further meetings are being planned to continue this discussion.

Caduceus Group Holds Conference

A fried chicken dinner and a medical film were the highlights of the Caduceus Club's confab, held in the student lounge Nov. 26.

Dr. and Mrs. Pastor and Mrs. Ann Gable, the club's former sponsor were among the guests who attended the occasion. Dr. Reuter, a dermatologist, spoke on skin disease and gave some helpful hints on relieving acne at last Tuesday's meeting.

A tour of the central blood bank was among the recent activities of the club.

FJC Library Exhibits Fresno Area Plans

Plans for the future metropolitan developments between Fresno and Clovis prepared by the Fresno-Clovis Area Planning Commission are posted in a series of panels in the Fresno Junior College Library.

The map panels are divided into various sections showing past planning and growth of the area, research, objectives, problems and principles involved.

The Planning Commission has placed the exhibit in the FJC Library in order that the community may understand and criticize the plans.

FJC Participates In Spelling Tests

An estimated 210 Fresno Junior College students took the first in a series of three spelling tests being given to students in the FJC business classes. The test was given yesterday.

Miss Ethel McCormack, dean of the business division, is in charge of the project.

A total of 1600 students from the Fresno high schools and FJC are taking part in this test.

This series of tests is being sponsored by the Fresno Chapter of the National Office Machine Asso-

Rams Will Play Three Basketball Games This Week

Coach Joe Kelly's Ram cagers will be away from home this weekend for a pair of practice tilts and will return to the Yosemite Junior High School gym Wednesday night for another practice contest.

The Rams will play the San Bernardino JC quintet Friday night in San Bernardino and the Marine Supply Base five Saturday in Barstow. Kelly's cagers will host the Citrus JC men on Wednesday.

John Hampton, freshman forward from Edison High School, has been the chief offensive threat for the locals in previous contests. The quick sharpshooter has averaged close to twenty points in the three games to date.

Another top performer has been sophomore guard Polly Carver whose sharp ball handling and play making have kept the Rams in each of the losing outings. Tall Nat Haskins, Ram pivot man, has not found the range to date but Kelly expects the six foot five incher to do his share of scoring and pick off the rebounds.

Larry Gambrell, a top rebounder, has picked up in his scoring and is the top man on the boards. Dennis Mathis is a good ball handler and one of the finest defensive men of the squad. These five are expected to start most of the games.

Stan Busch, John Kruzic, and George Sarantos are expected to see plenty of action.

JC Rams Open Home Season

The Fresno Junior College Rams opened their home basketball season last night against the Bakersfield Renegades. At the time this edition went to press the results of the game were not available.

In their previous meeting this year, the Rams fell prey to the Renegades, 66-55.

Bakersfield this year, has won five games including a tournament held in their home city. In the finals of that game they overcame a talented San Francisco five, 43-42. Another of their victims has been Mt. San Antonio.

Bakersfield's top scorers to date have been forward Buddy Canady, guard Jimmy Granata, and forward Dave Van Wagenen.

Up to this time the Rams have not won a game this season, although they scored 82 points against one of their opponents.

Bradshaw Was Former Champion

Archie Bradshaw, Fresno Junior College's dean of students, was a district inner-service lightweight boxing champion of the Eleventh Naval District in 1926.

His record was seven wins, two of them by knockouts, and one loss. His sole loss came when he competed for the fleet championship and was KO'd in the fourth round of a scheduled eight round bout.

Bradshaw spent 20 years in the Navy. He entered as a second lieutenant and for four years saw active duty. The next three years he spent in the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. After leaving the academy, he spent 12 more years and went from the rank of Lieutenant, jg., to Lieutenant commander. During this time, one of the experiences he had was to have his ship torpedoed and sunk by the Germans in the Atlantic area.

Among the many medals he received are the Meritorius Service Medal, the Purple Heart, the European-African Theatre Medal, and the Bronze Star.

Bakersfield Wins Tournament, Fresno JC Rams Drop Two

The Bakersfield College Renegades walked off with their third tournament championship in as many years, while the Fresno Junior College Ram basketballers were dropping two contests to San Francisco City College and Los Angeles Valley by scores of 64-48 and 89-82, respectively, last Thursday and Friday at the third annual Bakersfield College invitational basketball tournament.

San Francisco jumped to a slight 13-11 first quarter lead. The bay area boys built up a 31-20 halftime margin. They maintained a 47-34 advantage at the three quarters mark and coasted to a 64-48 win.

John Hampton and Polly Carver were the two big guns for Fresno scoring 17 and 13 points respectively.

Los Angeles Valley took a 21-20 first quarter margin. The Monarchs increased their lead to 46-32 at halftime. The Rams came roaring back in the third quarter and the score at three quarters was 65 all.

Los Angeles pulled away in the final quarter to win 89-82. Bill Wald let both teams in scoring by tanking 35 points. Wald set a tournament record by scoring 40 points against Mount San Antonio.

Hampton, Carver and Larry Gambrell led the Rams in scoring in a losing cause. Hampton and Carver scored 22 points apiece while Gambrell was getting 11.

Rams Drop First Game To Bakersfield

The Fresno Junior College Ram cagers dropped their first tilt of the season to the Bakersfield College Renegades, Dec. 3 in the Bakersfield gymnasium.

The scoring was nip and tuck in the first quarter with the Renegades holding a 17-15 lead. Bakersfield opened the margin to 32-23 at halftime.

Fresno came storming back in the third qarter to take a 45-43 lead. Bakersfield overcame the two point deficit to win 66-55.

Fresno's John Hampton was high point man of the game with 27 points.

Fresno connected for 25 out of 81 from the floor for a 30.9 percentage and five out of 13 from the foul line for a 38.5 percentage.
