Body, Fender Shop Keeps Up With Auto Industry

The Fresno Junior College body and fender shop located near the Edison High School campus is working hard to keep up with the ever changing, modern automobile body designs.

Carl Rustigian, instructor of the body and fender shop works closely with the students in both group or individual training, to assist them in achieving their goal in the industrial world.

Different Silhouettes

Rustigian said, "The new sleek and low design of new automobiles represent long broad body panels that are in some instances almost flat, and in other areas carry sharp multiple contours. All of the students are trained to develop the highest technical skills possible to be able to repair collision and damaged parts."

He went on to say that the FJC body and fender shop is unique, in that it is the only school in central California that offers a complete training program with the latest techniques for the student in body and fender reconstruction trade.

51 Take Course

The junior college enrollment for the body and fender course in the industrial division totals 51.

Thirty-four of the 51 receive the course at night from Elmer Blom. The remaining 17 take the course during the day from Rustigian.

Sadie Hawkins Hop Ends Twirp Week

George Rossler's Western Band is being featured at the Sadie Hawkins' Dance, tomorrow night, as a grand finale to the three-day Twirp Week funfare.

"The attire for the evening's festivities has been slightly altered, announced Freshman Representative Pat Pryce, in

Sadie Hawkins Western Hop Is Tomorrow

The freshman Sadie Hawkins dance to be held tomorrow evening in the student union social hall, is the climax of TWIRP week.

The girls are to ask the boys to the dance. The suitable wearing apparel will be old ragged or western clothes, patches and all. The music will be furnished by George Rossler and his western dance band.

At 6:30 PM there will be a box supper social on the Annex lawn. During the dance the final beard growing contest will be held. Prizes will be given to the men with the best beards. The dance is free to students with student body cards.

The class officers urge everyone to attend the dance.

that those attending will enjoy an open market and can wear whatever they like. Suggestions are gay plaids in skirts, pedal pushers, bermuda shorts, slacks, and dresses. The fellows have free reign too, with levis, cords, bermudas."

The plans for the dance were made by Phil Bertelsen, president of the frosh class and Augie Caldera vice-president of the freshman class with the aid of John R. McCarthy, advisor to the first year students.

The beard-growing contest is in full swing from all obvious indications, noted Augie Caldera, Freshman class vice-president.

The slave sale gave the week a colossal send-off on the annex lawn, yesterday. Girls were sold to the highest bidder or bidders, as the case may be.

The box social has been cancelled by executive committee sponsoring the affair.

The dance is from 9 PM to 12 midnight, Mar. 13.

Comic Strip Originates Ladies Treat Procedure

By SHIRLENE SUMMERS

The "Freckles and His Friends" comic strip was the originator of the unique season several years ago, which was called Twirp. The standard procedure was reversed and the slogan was "Ladies Treat."

Since that time America's young set has adopted it and popularized it somewhat.

Twirp usually comes in early spring, as the story goes, and the fellows can sit back and do a little capitalizing while the girls cater to their wishes.

The gals receive quite an education and insight into "ways and means" and emerge none the richer but much wiser for it.

Somehow they become more understanding and less assuming individuals, and of course everybody gets a big bang out of the new twist in the usual montony.

Everybody is hep by now on the fact that Fresno Junior College is now having a short Twirp Season.

Phil Bertelsen, freshman class president, has materialized the idea into three fun-packed days that are the topic of so many conversations these days.

The beard-growing contest which got underway Mar. 1, will have its preliminary judging today.

Twirp Week was given a rousing sendoff Wednesday with a Slave Sale, in which the gals were auctioned off to the highest bidders.

A Box Social will begin at 6:30 PM on Annex Lawn tomorrow. Mysteriously wrapped dinners for two will provide the focal point of interest and amusement.

A Sadie Hawkins Barn Dance will be staged in the social hall from 9 to 12 PM that same evening, and prizes will be given to the cutest garbs worn to the affair. Bright plaids and levis will be the order of the evening.

The whole affair is a regulation deal! Be good sports, gals. The ride is on you!

Associate Of Arts Applicants To Hold Meeting To Discuss Graduation Plans

George Holstein, Dean of admissions and records, stated that the Fresno Junior College administration office sent 244 letters Tuesday informing sophomore student Associate of Arts degree candidates that a meeting will be held Tues., Mar. 19, regarding graduation plans.

The purpose of the meeting will be to make plans for graduation exercises, choose committees, for such plans, and elect sophomore officers.

The deadline for selection of graduation announcements ends April 10. Announcement displays are located in the FJC library and on the "O" street campus for the sophomores' selection.

All applicants will receive letters and a roster will be written at a later date in the Rampage.

Clinic For Vaccine Is Scheduled

Fresno Junior College and Fresno State College students will be afforded an opportunity to obtain free Salk polio vaccinations in a forthcoming drive to combat the dreaded disease.

Mrs. Anne Gabel, the FJC school nurse, said "College students should take advantage of the opportunity to be vaccinated against polio. If everyone would get their shots, we could greatly reduce the disease and perhaps someday control it."

Less Reaction

Mrs. Gabel stated that "there is less reaction to a polio shot than to any other type vaccination. The first two shots are paid for by the state under the new health program. The third shot is a 'booster' shot and is given seven to twelve months after the second. Students over 20 years of age will be required to pay for the third. The county health department will give the third inoculation free to anyone under 20."

The polio vaccination drive is being offered to college students and members of their families under the age of 40. It is part of the $3,000,000 program financed by the State of California.

Vaccine Is Safe

the Salk vaccine have been given the Salk vaccine have been given with safety and effectiveness. Last year, there were no deaths attributed to polio in the United States among persons who had received all three injections, and in California no confirmed case of paralytic polio occurred in anyone who had completed the series of 3 shots.

Mrs. Gabel stressed that persons who are allergic to penicillin or other antibiotics are safe in being vaccinated for polio. She said that Dr. Robert D. Monlux, the county health officer, had stated there have been few reactions to the Salk vaccine in individuals who are allergic.

Will Hold Clinics

The two colleges will hold clinics during late Mar. FSC will hold its clinic on the Shaw Ave. campus on Mar. 27 and April 24 in the campus cafeteria conference rooms. FJC will run its clinic beginning March 28 and April 25.

Dr. Edna Winter, the FSC director of health services, is organizing the two clinics with the assistance of Mrs. Gabel and Dr. Earl Coleman, a retired FSC director of health services.

Four FJC Reps Attend Confab

Four Fresno Junior College administrators are attending the Central California Junior College Association Spring Administrator's Conference at Coalinga Junior College today.

They are Stuart M. White, president of Fresno Junior College; James P. Collins, dean of instruction; Archie Bradshaw, dean of student personnel; and George C. Holstein, dean of admissions and records. William S. Houpt, dean of Allan Hancock Junior College, is the president of CCJCA.

Talent Show Will Be Held On March 22

Assemblies Commissioner Muriel Maxwell has announced that there will be a Talent Show Assembly presented in the Fresno State College auditorium, on Mar. 22 at 11:30 AM.

The show will be composed of one talent or a talent group representing each organization on the campus.

Latin American Club offers a group skit. Associated Women Students will present an individual pantomime, and Associated Men Students will have a solo vocal-instrumentalist.

A band and a singer will represent the Campus Activity Club, and Red Key is volunteering a vocalist also.

Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship has a reading with a choral arrangement prepared, while California Scholastic Teachers Association wishes to present a skit.

A male quartet will be Alpha Gamma Sigma's donation, and Rally Committee offers vocal talent.

Newman Club plans to contribute a vocalist, as does Phi Beta Lambda.

Future Nurses Club has a movie on polio. Freshman class wishes to entertain with a five-piece combo.

At least two other clubs on campus have not, as yet, entered the show. Harold Neilsen, assisting Maxwell, urges those organizations to do so.

A certain amount of incentive to participate in the Talent Show lies in the fact that the assembly commissioner and his assistant will be observing performers in this talent show, for possible material to use in the organization of an exchange assembly for Reedley Junior College.

All 11:30 AM classes are dismissed for those students who plan to attend assembly at that time.

Rampage Reviews Charges Made By FSC Newspaper

In the Mon., Mar. 11 issue of The Collegian, the Fresno State College newspaper brought to light the parking situation and litterbug problem on the combined FSC-FJC University Ave. campus.

The Rampage agrees that there is a parking and litterbug problem. However we do not feel that all the blame for such a situation belongs on FJC students.

We are not trying to shift the blame that The Collegian so carelessly put on the students; but merely suggesting that the student body of FSC take their rightful share.

The Collegian stated that before the JC students moved on to the campus there was no parking problem and that parking lots have become, "paint scraping and fender-smashing driver playgrounds." However if the police records for the 1956-57 school year were checked we are sure they would show students of both schools have been guilty of parking violations.

The Collegian also suggested that possibly the FJC students didn't have a feeling of social responsibility to other students and that the FSC students shouldn't be made to suffer. The Rampage wants to know about the State College students' feeling of social responsibility. Are they not sharing the campus with us, and therefore equally responsible for the campus problems?

There is, of course, a definite problem in littering the campus with garbage, which The Collegian points out. But should not some, possibly half, of the blame go to FSC students?

If the old FSC is all but dead, as The Collegian says, it isn't because FJC students are making it unrecognizable, but because the junior college is moving on to the University Ave. campus before FSC is completely moved to Shaw Ave.

As stated before, the Rampage recognizes the fact that there is a definite problem, and we appreciate that the Collegian brought the matter up. We simply feel the FSC paper does not have the right to place the entire blame on the FJC doorstep. There are approximately 1,000 Fresno State students on the campus, and about 1,000 FJC students. Is it not reasonable to assume then, that since approximately 50 per cent of the students on campus go to FSC, that they cause at least 50 per cent of the littering, parking problems and other dilemmas that The Collegian is blaming the junior college students for?

Dates Set For Poliomyelitis Vaccinations Draw Near

The date for the free polio vaccinations at Fresno Junior College is drawing near, the dates set are Mar. 28 and Apr. 25.

The polio vaccinations are being offered to college students and members of their families under 40, as part of a $3,000,000 program financed by the state.

The vaccines have been proven successful. Last year, there were no deaths attributed to polio in the United States among persons who received all three shots.

All students at FJC should be sure and be vaccinated and should also take care to see that every member of their family has the vaccinations.

Polio is a terrible disease that strikes young and old alike; the Salk vaccine is stamping out the dreaded terror, but it cannot help if it is not used before polio strikes.

Platter Chatter

Jazz fans will be glad to hear of more swinging sounds on the latest contemporary records now on sale at the local record stores. Mel Lewis has a new album out called "Gotcha." Chet Baker's latest is "Pacific Jazz 1224." One long playing record album that can't be overlooked is Nat Adderley and his brother Julian "Canonball" Adderley's new side called "To The Ivy League From Nat." This record really swings with Nat Adderley on the cornet, Julian "Canonball" Adderley, alto sax; Junior Mance, piano; Charles Wright, drums; Sam Jones and Al McKibbin, bass.

Shelley Manne has made another terrific album called, appropriately enough, "More Swinging Sounds."

Fads N' Fashions

Soon spring will be in full regale and the car coats, wool skirts, shirts, and sweaters will be cast aside for the cooler type of clothing. For the men this year, the spring and summer sessions will feature the Hawaiian motif. Swim trunks and matching shirts will carry out the vivid colors of Hawaiian decor. The women will be wearing more conservative colors in the new ivy league dresses which have the stripes, plaids, and pretty prints.

I have an exclusive for the women alone. If you long for a dewey glowing complexion, pearl powder is the latest discovery in cosmetics. The powder is made with real pulverized, cultured pearls.

Reminiscing

With all the trees in bloom and the days becoming sunny and lazy, a person tends to think of far off places to be instead of a classroom. Many of you might dream of surfboard riding in Hawaii or basking in the sun in Trinidad and listening to the beat of the calypso music by the natives. Others may even dream of their own island of paradise. But the more down to earth people on the campus think of completing their homework and taking a drive to the nearest lake for the day.

FJC Students Like, Enjoy Calypso Music

The Inquiring Reporter went roaming around the Fresno Junior College campus recently to ask students their opinions on the current calypso craze.

Of the six interviewed, all but one preferred the latest rage in music. Here are the replies given the Inquiring Reporter when he asked, "What is your opinion of calypso music."

Yolanda Marquez, secretarial major: "I like it very much. It's got rhythm, it's lively and easy to listen to. I prefer it to rock and roll. It'll eventually take over the music world."

Dulcie Spellman, general education major: "I like calypso. I like the many varied musical changes in it. It is the real music of the natives of Trinidad."

Donna Dell, general education major: "Personally, I don't think that it is as good as progressive music, but it's nice and enjoyable. To each his own."

Max Olvis, music major: "I dig calypso, in fact I believe that it is a true form of music. Being a music major, I can appreciate the true qualities of various types of music and calypso is real music."

Richard Johnston, engineering major: "My honest opinion is I don't care for calypso at all. Sure, it has a beat, but not enough to make it lively and interesting enough to sit and spend any time listening to it."

Sharon Wallem, business major: "Yes, I like it. It's becoming very popular and has a lot of rhythm. Although it isn't my favorite type of music, I do like it and enjoy it."

Class Enjoys Field Journey

A field trip was made by Stanley Bennett's class last Thursday to Pine Flat Dam. The class is based upon economic problems of the San Joaquin Valley.

The purpose of the trip was to investigate conditions arising at the dam site. Information was obtained as to water level and distribution of water being fed to irrigation canals at the Pine Flat Dam area.

This semester the students have been discussing flood control problems of the San Joaquin Valley. The class is responsible for turning in notebooks pertaining to observations made at field trips. Earlier this semester the same group made a field trip to Friant Dam.

Last Thursday the group was led through the interior of the dam to observe the machinery before returning to the campus.

Student Council Gets New Room

Fresno Junior College has acquired two more rooms from Fresno State College. These rooms are on the second floor of the student union building. Room 15 will be used for the student government office and the office of the student body president and secretary. Adjoining that room is a conference room which will also be used by the Inter-Club Council.

Newman Club Members Hold Business Meeting

The Fresno Junior College Newman Club held a meeting yesterday at 7:30 PM in St. John's social hall, after attending Lenten Devotions at St. John's Cathedral.

The significance of Lent and the installation of new officers were the topics discussed at the meeting.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Industrial Dept. Receive Job Requests

The industrial department has received many requests for students to work part and full time in the technical and industrial areas. The requests for employees now exceeds the number of qualified people in the fields of drafting, engineering, auto mechanics, body and fender, carpentry, electricity, machine shop, mill cabinet, radio, welding, and vocational nursing.

Students desiring employment are encouraged to fill out application forms available in the Industrial Education Placement Office in B-3 on the "O" Street campus. Those desiring summer employment in an occupation they have been trained for are encouraged to make out application forms also.

Future Nurses Club Tours Northern Calif. Schools

The Future Nurses Club left last Thursday for a whirlwind tour of schools of nursing in the northern part of the state.

The members, their advisor, Mrs. Anne Gabel; and the chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Simpson, went by car Thursday to San Jose State College where they visited the school of nursing.

Spring Enrollment Sets School Mark

George C. Holstein, dean of admission and records said, "This spring semester's total enrollment of 3,052 students is the largest in the history of the Fresno Junior College." The total enrollment for the spring semester of 1956 was 2,709 students.

Attending day classes, there are 1,320 students in academic classes, 175 students under Smith Hughes Vocational Training Program, and 55 high school students attending FJC half a day.

In extended-day classes 569 students are in academic classes, 886 students in Trade Extension and Apprentice Training, 47 students under the Air Force Reserve Program, 759 veterans attending FJC under the GI Bill or Cal-Vet subsistence program.

On Friday the girls visited the school of nursing at Stanford University and the University of California, and Kaiser school of Nursing. The future nurses were able to look over the programs and facilities of each school visited and then decide where they will transfer.

There is no school of nursing in the valley. A person may take her two years of lower division work in any junior college or state college but must transfer to a school of nursing to receive her Bachelor of Science Degree and Registered Nurse pin.

The following members of the Future Nurses Club went on the trip; Sally Martinez, Norma Jeanne McFarland, Anita Amparano, Kathleen Fendorak, Eileen Cruz, Margaret Giannapoulos, and Angie Sisneros.

Track Team Gains New Head Coach

Erwin Ginsburg, head track coach and English instructor at Fresno Junior College, is engaged in his first year of college instruction.

After graduation from high school, Ginsburg went directly to Fresno State College. During the four years at FSC, he built up a very impressive record.

On the athletic fields of Fresno State he won ten letters. Among these letters were four letters in basketball, four letters in football, and two letters in track. Ginsburg also played baseball for four years but at that time letters were not distributed to baseball players.

Upon graduation from FSC, Ginsburg went on to the University of Southern California for his post-graduate work.

After completing his work at USC, he was immediately hired by Fresno High School. While at FHS Ginsburg coached basketball, baseball, track, and football. When he first came to FHS in 1929, he coached the "B" team in basketball and headed the cinder squad. In 1933 he became head basketball coach, and four years later he also became head football coach.

In 1940 an ambitious young man at FHS named Joe Kelly took over the head basketball coaching position. At this point Ginsburg was glad to rid himself of some of his coaching responsibilities. Coaching three major sports, football, basketball, and track, didn't leave much spare time.

In 1942 Uncle Sam caught up with him and sent him into the infantry for four years.

After his discharge from the service, Ginsburg returned to FHS where he remained until coming to Fresno Junior College.

Rams Score

The Rams started the game in championship form, racking up ace Giant hurler Dick Doepker for eight hits and six runs in the initial inning.

Stan Bush led off for the Rams with a solid double to left field. Phil Bertelsen followed with a walk, whereupon Clyde Reed blasted a long double to right center to bring in Bush. Larry Keller not to be outdone by Reed, came through with another double to the same spot scoring Bertelsen and Reed. Cloyce Keeney went down swinging and Don Ferguson walked to set the stage for Jim Richmond. Richmond laid the wood to a fast ball and lofted it some 400' into dead center for a three bagger, driving in Keller and Ferguson. Augie Caldera lined the single over the box to score Richmond with the final Ram score.

Burcher chucked for six innings, giving up ten hits and 11 runs. Keller, relieving Burcher in the seventh, was nicked for seven hits and six tallies.

Giants Unload

After the shock had worn off, the Giants proceeded to hit the Ram offerings in regular fashion. One run in the first, one more in the second, six in the fourth, one in the sixth, and eight in the seventh and eighth innings to cap off the scoring.

Handcuffs Rams

Giant chucker Jim Hansen relieved Doepker in the first and handcuffed the FJC squad with three hits through the remaining eight innings. Busch led the Ram attack with three hits in five times at bat, including one double.

Commenting on the game, Caldera stated, "We expected good men on the mound but the manpower at the plate just cut us to pieces."

Loschke, Sanderson Anchor Fresno Ram Racket Squad

Quietly, and with little fanfare, the Fresno Junior College Racket Squad (tennis, that is) has been slowly getting into shape for the Central California Junior College Association League opener against Porterville. The Rams will go against the Pirates on Mar. 21 on the Roeding Park courts, and the first match will start at 3 PM.

The Rams made a practice swing last week against the San Joaquin Memorial High School Panthers. The FJC squad scored a 5-2 victory in the seven matches played.

Commenting on competition this season, Coach Margaret Tylor stated, "College of Sequoias will be the team to beat, with the rest of the league pretty well mixed up. As for Fresno's chances, well, let's wait until the first real match is in the books before I make any rash promises."

Miss Tylor feels that the big guns for FJC will be John Loschke and Zeke Sanderson in the men's doubles. Both have shown good coordination and an ability to play together.

Leading contenders on the tennis ladder are Jerry Doell, men's singles; Catherine Podsacoff, girls' singles; Bob McIntyre and Louise Taylor, mixed doubles; and Nancy Armstrong and Anne Mowery, girls' doubles.

Trackmen Lack Full Strength

The Fresno Junior College Cinder squad opens Centra California Junior College Association competition with a three way track meet on the Coalinga oval tomorrow afternoon. Competing against the local spike men are the Coalinga Falcons and the Reedley Tigers.

Coach Erwin Ginsburg's squad has been working hard in the Ratcliffe stadium, but due to a shortage of man power, full team strength may not be forthcoming. It seems that at the beginning of the season there was a small number of men out and instead of growing, the team has decreased.

Showing steady improvement and promising to be a point getter is Dave Wimer in the pole vault event. Wimmer is a former student of Ginsburg's in high school, and has vaulted over 13 feet. His best mark in practice sessions so far is 12'6".

The discus and shot put appear to be strong positions with Frank Eller doing the honors. Eller placed second in the discus at last year's state meet.

Fresno Golfers Start Practice

Coach Hans Weidenhoefer is currently holding forth on the Airways fairway with his pride and joy, the golf team.

Golf is being initiated for the first time this semester at Fresno Junior College and promises to be an active sport for all would-be Ben Hogans and Sam Sneads.

Wiedenhoefer has several lads shooting in the high 70's and low 80's but still needs about four to six members to round out the squad. Anyone desiring to try out for the squad, should contact Wiedenhoefer in the men's gym.
