Official Ground Breaking Ceremony Signals Start Of $1,670,000 FJC Shop Construction

Ground breaking ceremonies for the Fresno Junior College's $1,670,000 construction program on the University Ave. campus were conducted last Tuesday.

Turning over the first dirt with shovels were Mrs. Margaret Robinson of the Fresno City Board of Education, Charles Pashayan, the chairman of FJC's advisory committee, and Paul Stockburger, the vice chairman of the Fresno Apprenticeship Council.

FJC President Stuart M. White was host to the participants of the ceremonies in a luncheon in the student center committee room.

White has stated that the erection of the buildings will present FJC with a serious parking problem throughout the remainder of the semester.

He said that the problem will be partially relieved in the spring semester of 1959 when 800 to 1,000 Fresno State College students move to the new campus.

However, the parking problem will again be aggravated next year in the fall semester when technical and industrial students are expected to arrive. White said that everything possible is being done to curb the problem.

The five new buildings to be constructed on two blocks east of the main campus will house FJC's technical and industrial division and give the school a unified campus.

Workmen are now removing pipe lines, walks and dirt from the site of the buildings.

Robert P. Hansler, the division's dean, said the target date for completion of the construction is Feb. 2, 1959.

Other participants in the ground breaking ceremonies included members of the board of education and the FJC advisory committee, city schools and FJC administrators, Walter Wagner, the Architect, and R. H. Long, the contractor.

Miss Campopiano graduated from San Joaquin Memorial High School in Fresno and Miss Sons is a graduate from Fresno High School.

Lusk Is Unopposed

Les Lusk, a 19 year old physical education major, is running unopposed for the office of Associated Men Students president. Lusk is also a graduate of Fresno High School.

Fall Semester Preregistration In Progress

Preregistration for fall semester classes at Fresno Junior College began last Monday.

George Holstein, dean of admissions and records stated that students should come in early to their counselors and then they will have an easier time and have no lines to contend with while preregistering. Classes are expected to fill up fast and they will be run on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Students will make out their programs with their counselors, who will give them a white slip, pink slip, and a routing sheet. Then the student will proceed to AD-110 and turn in the white preregistration slip and the routing form.

Double postcards will be sent in the mail around Aug. 1. Students are requested to fill these out and mail them back to FJC as soon as possible. These cards will ask if the person is definitely coming back to FJC for the fall semester and if a place in the class should be held for them.

Sept. 8 is the date set for registration of all students who preregistered this month. Students are to report to the library with their pink slips. They will pick up the routing sheet and go through the line, completing registration.

Top Journalism Rating Is Awarded To FJC Rampage

The staff of the Fresno Junior College Rampage received word this week that the publication had been awarded an All American rating by the Associated Collegiate Press' 58th All American Critical Service for the fall semester's publications.

The All American rating is the highest award the Collegiate Press Association grants. The ACP announcement stated the rating "indicates distinctly superior achievement."

The Rampage was one of eight junior college newspapers in the United States to receive this high award. Of a possible 3,800 points, The Rampage scored 3,340 points. The paper also received 13 ratings as excellent, seven as very good, and three as good.

Ed Briggs is the editor of The Rampage and Alice Alvarez is the business manager. Assisting Briggs are Pat Rafferty, assistant editor and editorial writer; Gary Becker, managing editor; Bill Sewall, sports editor; Irene Britigam, copy editor; and Susan Cyr, news editor. Karen McDougald was the fall semester copy editor. Philip D. Smith is the adviser.

The Rampage has received many first class and excellent awards from the ACP in former semesters, but this is the first time it has been awarded the All American rating. The FJC weekly also received an excellent rating for the fall semester from the San Joaquin Valley Scholastic Press Association.

Dick Kobak, assistant to the editor of the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune, judged the junior college papers. He commented, "The Rampage staff does an excellent, workmanlike job." He rated the newspaper excellent in news balance, content, style, features, editorials, sports coverage, sports writing, front page makeup, nameplate, sports page makeup, inside news page makeup, headlines, and headline schedule.

Judges for the ratings were Gareth D. Hiebert, columnist; Duane Andrews, public relations staff, Minneapolis Honeywell; Mrs. Peter Pafiolis, former reporter; Kobak; and Joan Worrall, editor, Mondakonia, an employee magazine.

The ACP rated 459 newspapers of junior colleges, four-year colleges and universities for the fall semester.

The Woman's Role In College

With the ever-increasing attention that is being focused upon education in this country, questions have arisen over the status of women students in college.

An eastern college professor has proposed that co-educational colleges should remove their women students in order that the problem of over-crowded colleges be alleviated.

This educator maintains that men students need a college education more than women do.

Since this professor is a man of note in his field, it can be construed that he does not wish to see all women banned from higher education. There is an ever-increasing number of women with college educations who are making invaluable contributions to fields which they enter. They would not have been able to do so, had they been deprived of a college education.

It has often been said, "The college is the world's best marriage mart."

It cannot be denied that each June many women graduate with a sheepskin in their right hand, and their left hand extended to receive a plain gold band. Once married, many of these women never formally engage in the profession for which they receive a college education.

Also, many women students do not wait until graduation to become married. The drop-out rate of women students for marriage reasons is noteworthy in colleges throughout the country.

Many women attend college with no intention of pursuing a career upon graduation. They attend college for the social activities and prestiges involved, and also because "it is the thing to do." These women students have only a casual relationship with the most substantial aims of a college.

As it was previously noted, however, there are many women, who upon gaining a college education, make notable contributions in their chosen fields.

Fields which earlier were dominated by men are now being entered by women, who are capable of performing as ably as their male colleagues. This would not be the case, however, had this country continued to keep closed to women, its doors of higher learning.

As college standards continue to rise, both men and women students who are not attending college for a valid reason will be prevented from creating an unnecessary surge in college enrollments.

The number of college applicants is increasing at a critical rate. In order that only the most competent and sincerely ambitious persons be allowed to enter college, a program of careful long term planning must be engendered.

Contest Accepts Students' Poems

Two Fresno Junior College students have had their poems accepted in a contest sponsored by the Pacific Coast Poetry Association in Berkeley.

Mrs. Lavron Leach, liberal arts major, wrote the approved material called "The Lesson" and David Joseph Ruggeri, education major, wrote "The Sea."

To be eligible for this contest, the student must be enrolled in a junior college, the work must have been an original, and he must not expect a monetary prize; only the literary rights of the accepted poem.

The poems were selected from those contributed by the schools along the Pacific coast and many of the eastern states. The contest closed Mar. 31, 1958.

"Sputnik vs. Notenik" is the title of an article written for the May issue of the music magazine "The Instrumentalists" by Marvin Belford, an instructor in the Fresno Junior College music department.

The article appearing under the Idea Exchange column, spoke in behalf of the music curriculum in our schools today.

Belford said that in these days of the expanding curriculum and new emphasis on science and mathematics, the music teacher is finding less time for his music activities.

Record Equipment Installed In Library

The Fresno Junior College library has just installed a new facility—records.

The beneficiaries of the new record equipment will be for the most part foreign language classes and shorthand students. Jackson Carty, the librarian, said that the library hopes to add some records of good music soon.

He also said that any other teacher or student requesting records through FJC from the central audio-visual aids headquarters will have use of the equipment.

The set-up consists of 18 ear-phone listening posts and two turntables in the reserve reading room of the library.

All the cabinet and woodwork was done in the FJC mill cabinet class under Merle L. Sons.

The electronic equipment was installed by two students, Vernon Dettman and Clyde Fore, under the supervision of James B. Dinsdale, an instructor in radio and television.

Constitution To Be Revised

The Fresno Junior College student body constitution must be revised in parts. This action was approved by a special constitution committee headed by Augie Caldera.

Other members of the committee include Margaret Christensen, Joan Campopiano, King Morris, Jesse McFerren, Les Lusk, Phil Bertelsen, and Gary Pyle.

The revisions will be presented to the student body in the election on May 14. The revisions are that the duties of representative at large have been omitted and they must be included.

The student council addition of commissioner of elections and also a recommendation that there be a certain specific number of candidates who can run for representative at large was also asked for.

There is no code of elections included in the constitution and no code of finance and these should be included in the fall semester of 1958.

CCJCAA Season Will Close With Tomorrow's Game

By GERALD MANFREDI

The Fresno Junior College Ram baseball team will wind up Central California Junior College Athletic Association play with a doubleheader tomorrow starting at 12 PM on the Fresno High School diamond.

The Giants are currently in third place in the league standings, with Coalinga and Fresno resting above them.

In their last league outing, the Giants split a doubleheader with the Reedley College Tigers, winning the second game 3-0, after dropping the opener 5-4.

Hancock Falls

The Rams edged the Hancock Bulldogs 7-6 and 3-2 their last time out to bring their conference record to eight wins and two losses.

The Rams need both wins desperately to stay within reach of the fleeting Falcons. The Falcons dropped Fresno twice this year to give them their only losses. As of their two wins over Fresno, Coalinga had a record of seven wins, no losses, and one tie. Two more wins for the Falcons would make it difficult for the Rams to take league honors.

Lusk Will Start

Ram coach Len Bourdet will probably start Les Lusk in the opener. Lusk is unbeaten in league play. Either Joe Gibson or Harvey Shiraga will get the nod in the nightcap.

The rest of the lineup will remain the same: Phil Bertelsen catching, Jerry Grimstead at first base, Augie Caldera at second, Jack Goodwin at shortstop, Stan Busch at third, and Mike Noakes, Don Oberg, and Lupe Ramirez in the outfield.

Coalinga is scheduled to play Reedley the same day the Rams host COS. Fresno's chances of winning the league will depend upon the outcome of these two games plus their own two.

Coalinga JC Gives Baseball Team Twin Setback

The championship hopes of the Fresno Junior College Ram baseball team were given a severe jolt Wednesday, Apr. 29, as the Coalinga College Falcons dumped Fresno 7-6 and 14-8 on the Falcon diamond.

Coalinga is leading the Central California Junior College Athletic Association with a record of seven wins and one tie. Coach Len Bourdet's men have a record of six wins and two losses.

Fresno third baseman Stan Busch led the Rams by cracking out a double and a single in four times at bat. His double was the only extra base hit of the game.

Les Lusk started for Fresno and pitched four and one-third innings. He was touched for five runs and six hits. Harvey Shiraga relieved Lusk and was charged with the loss. Shiraga gave up two runs and one hit.

In the second game Fresno's seven errors and Coalinga's 14 hits proved too much for the Rams.

Phil Bertelsen, Jerry Grimstead, and Joe Gibson all collected two hits apiece in a losing effort. Grimstead banded out a double and Jim Richmond tripled for the only Fresno extra base hits.

Eller, Richardson Take Firsts At Four-Way Meet

Discus-thrower Frank Eller and middle-distance runner Paul Richardson turned in outstanding performances as the Fresno Junior College track and field team tuned up for the West Coast Relays in a four-way meet Saturday in Visalia.

The Rams were runner-up to the powerful College of Sequoias squad with Taft Junior College finishing third and Coalinga Junior College fourth.

Eller, who had taken second in the shot put by the margin of an inch earlier in the meet, spun the discus 154 feet to shatter the Fresno school record.

Richardson, in his best effort of the season, won the mile by nearly 50 yards in 4:26.7. Less than 30 minutes later he came back to narrowly defeat Tom Noice of COS in a 1:57.9 880.

Fresno's mile relay team of Dave Dixon, Jess McFerren, Spencer Johnson, and Ernie Prewitt edged out the COS quartet in 3:29.8 and Voyce Hendrix cleared the crossbar at 13 feet, six and one-half inches to give the Rams their fifth first place.

Sprinters Joel Ciegelski and Prewitt finished second and third, respectively, in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Taft's Tom Boswell won both races in 9.9 and 21.8.

Coach Erwin Ginsburg will enter several members of his squad in Saturday's West Coast Relays at Ratcliffe Stadium.

Eller and Hendrix, who have the best Jaycee marks in the state this year in the discus and pole vault, respectively, figure to make good showings in the junior college division.

JC Baseballers Remain Alive By Sweeping Doubleheader From Hancock JC, 7-6, 3-2

The FJC Rams are still in contention for the Central California Junior College Athletic Association baseball title after posting a twin win over the Hancock College Bulldogs, 7-6 and 3-2, last Saturday on the Fresno High diamond.

Coach Len Bourdet's Rams, who meet the defending champion College of Sequoias Giants here tomorrow in a doubleheader, have an 8-2 record in CCJCAA play. The Coalinga College Falcons top the league with an unblemished record.

Relief hurler Harvey Shiraga, who replaced starter Les Lusk with one out in the ninth inning of the opening game, cut short a Bulldog rally that had scored three runs and knotted the score at six all. Shiraga won the game for the Rams when he singled home the tie-breaking run in the bottom of the ninth.

Right fielder Don Oberg, third sacker Stan Busch and first baseman Jerry Grimstead collected a pair of hits apiece to pace the Fresno attack. Busch drove in three runs with his two hits.

Tight Pitching Duel

Righthander Joe Gibson and

Hancock ace Paul Denham hooked up in a tight pitching duel in the seven inning nightcap. Gibson showed fine form as he struck out seven and walked only three batters to post the 3-2 win for the locals.

Busch's big bat was active again in the second contest as he drove a Denham fast ball over the right field wall for a bases empty homer.

Grimstead Triples

Grimstead had a pair of hits including a triple to right center field in the second inning.

Catcher Phil Bertelsen drove in a tally in the eighth with a long sacrifice fly to right field.

Spotlighting the Sports

By BILL SEWALL
Sports Editor

Fresno Junior College PE instructors have devised many ingenious ways of keeping the competitive spirit of the students at a high level during the two hours a week that they work out.

A typical PE period is a 10:40 Tuesday and Thursday class instructed by Len Bourdet, who is also FJC baseball coach.

The class is classified under men's PE. This particular one is group games. These include volleyball, touch football, and, later in the semester, softball.

Captains Are Chosen

At the beginning of the year, Bourdet picks four captains to choose teams they will keep all semester. Each team will then commence to see if it can't compile the best record in the class.

On a given day, two teams will play touch football while the other two have a game of volleyball. The next class period, the teams will alternate.

Last week this particular class played softball. Softball will enter into the class schedule for the remainder of the semester.

Badminton Is Rising

Another popular and fast-rising PE sport at FJC is co-educational (naturally) badminton. Lately all of these classes offered have been filled.

Miss Margaret Tylor, one of the badminton instructors, will spend part of the semester letting the students get used to playing.

Later, she will start a doubles tournament with each team consisting of a boy and a girl. Records are kept of each win. After each team has played against each other, another tournament will start, this time with different teams.

One question remains unanswered. Do the instructors grade according to how you do in these games? I dunno. Chances are some of them do, while some of them don't.

At any rate, the risk isn't worth taking, so get in there and play your games hard, get a good won-lost record so you won't have any worries.
