

Musical Show To Be Staged By Choir

Band Is Selected By AMS, AWS For Spring Formal

Miss Doris Deakins, dean of women, announced Keith Williams of Hollywood and his band, the New Starbursts, will provide the music for the annual spring formal.

"This is the first time," said Miss Deakins, "that we have had a prominent band from out of town play at a school dance. The band is rated one of the top in California."

She said Williams has played for college dances all over the nation and at many of the finer hotels. He is under contract with Coast Records.

The Associated Men and Women Students, sponsors of the spring formal, have chosen "Rendezvous in the Stars" for the theme.

Shirley White, co-chairman of the decorations committee, said the dance will be held in the social hall and adjoining patio of the student center building on May 22.

She revealed that the social hall will be decorated with blue clouds and stars. There will be white lawn furniture and a large fountain on the patio.

Miss White said that anyone who would like to serve on one of the committees for the dance should see Sue Martin, president of AWS, Pete Farmer, president of AMS, or Miss Deakins.

The AWS officers, with the freshman and sophomore executive committees, will pick the coed to reign as queen over the formal.

HILLIARD STREETS

Young Singer Begins Climb For Stardom

At Fresno City College pop music is present in the form of Hilliard Streets, a young singer under the guidance of Frank Sinatra's manager, Henry Sanicola.

Streets, a pre-medical student, will be remembered by last semester's students when, at the talent assembly, he sang his latest recording of "River Love."

On the Al Radka's Open House program Streets started his jump into the recording field. Streets, with a voice smooth as pulling taffy, was signed by Sanicola and Capital Records to put on wax the songs, "It Will Never Happen Again" and "River Love." His latest record is the ballad "There's No One Like You."

At the recording studio Streets got a chance to meet such recording artists as Nat King Cole, Ella Fitzgerald, Ed Townsend, and Sinatra, himself.

On meeting Frank Sinatra, Streets said, "We had a short introduction. Hello and goodbye; more or less to say that we were going to get along fine."

Asked what he thought about his portion of fame, Streets said, "It's like something hard to get used to. You never know exactly what's going to happen next."

Streets is a 1958 graduate of Edison High School. At Edison he was a member of the choir and active in school events.

Streets may be seen performing at school dances and assemblies.

National Tuberculosis Drive Goes Over At FCC

The total number of students and faculty of Fresno City College x-rayed last week was 1,336.

Miss Virginia Curry, executive secretary of the National Tuberculosis Association of Fresno County said, "The percentage of students x-rayed in the Fresno City College survey was the highest of any school ever done in Fresno County, including Fresno State College."

The drive was made possible through the courtesy of the National Tuberculosis Association through sales of Christmas seals.

"The success was achieved through the efforts of the entire faculty and the student council," said the college nurse, Mrs. Nora Simpson. Douglas A. Eudaly, Sue Martin and Pete Farmer were in charge of the publicity. X-rays were made on the University Ave. and O St. campuses.

Mrs. Simpson said that students unable to be x-rayed still have a chance to get free x-rays at the County Health Department or they can go to a private physician.

Card Playing Action Taken

Douglas Eudaly, student council president, appointed a committee to assist Miss Doris Deakins, dean of women, in setting up a list of recommendations regarding card playing on the campus.

John Alexander, representative; Sandy Torbit, commissioner of social affairs; and Irene Brietigam, commissioner of publications, will serve on this committee. Miss Brietigam is chairman of the committee.

Eric Radanovich, commissioner of elections, reported that the card playing on the lawn had ceased during the past week. Eudaly said that he had talked to some of the students who had been playing cards and had received their cooperation in this matter.

Eudaly said recommendations set up by the committee will require the student council's approval before the rules can be published and released to the members of the student body.

Eight To Attend Long Beach Parley From City College

Six delegates and two sponsors from Fresno City College will participate in the California Junior College Student Government Association conference in Long Beach on May 7-9.

Student Body President Douglas Eudaly, vice-president King Morris, secretary Diane Nixon, treasurer Carolyn Steffen and representative Pete Farmer will attend the conference. Albert Cunningham, state coordinator for the CJCSGA, will also attend, with two student council sponsors, Joseph King and Miss Doris N. Deakins.

"The conference," said Eudaly, "is divided into workshops with each delegate from FCC participating in a different shop."

Eudaly will work in the student government-current problems workshop in campus activities; Farmer in athletics; Miss Nixon in publications-public relations, and Miss Steffen in finance.

Fall Officers To Be Named

Political activity leading to the election of fall semester student body officers will start Apr. 22.

Eric Radanovich, election commissioner, announced petitions of candidacy for students wanting to run for the 14 offices will be available in the admissions office.

Petitions must be returned with a minimum of 35 signatures of student body members by Apr. 29. The candidates will be introduced in a nomination assembly May 1 in the auditorium.

Nominees may campaign from May 1 to May 8. The election is set for May 11 in the student center from 8 AM to 2 PM.

The new officers will be introduced at the spring formal May 22 and will be installed during a student government conference at the Sierra Sky Ranch, Oakhurst, Madera County.

Radanovich will supervise the elections.

Campus Card Players Create Bad Impression

The recent wave of card playing has brought a similar wave of reactions from the student council, the administration and the faculty.

The general consensus of opinion of the concerned groups is that card playing on the campus does not give a good impression to the many visitors we have. In other words, it does not reflect the atmosphere that should prevail at an institution of learning such as this college.

Douglas Eudaly, the student body president, emphatically labels campus card playing as a "many-headed monster." He feels justified because card playing is undermining the rules of the student lounge, over which his student council has charge. Although there is a ruling against it, there has been eating, drinking and card playing in the student lounge.

A few years ago the administration found it necessary to to set a general policy toward card playing, so they decided not to allow it. Unfortunately many students are either ignorant of this fact or they have chosen to conveniently ignore it.

President White gave the administration's viewpoint: "We feel that certain standards should be maintained in a college situation. And card playing is not necessarily a college campus activity."

"In most cases the students playing cards are those who cannot afford to. They probably need the study much more." Mr. White even went so far as to venture the opinion that the majority of those perennially playing cards around the campus are on probation, or soon will be.

"We don't believe," he went on to say, "that card playing in itself is necessarily an evil. The first time we clamped down on it was because of gambling."

Let's face it, Fresno City College is an institution of learning, not recreation, and should reflect it.

Three Fire Engines Rush To Discarded Cigarette Butt

Where's the fire? What's burning? This was the question three fire engine companies had on their minds when they parked in front of the administration building last Tuesday morning.

Later it was discovered that a mop was burning in a closet, started by a cigarette butt.

Ernest Wolf, engineering instructor, returned from his 10 AM class to discover that his office was full of smoke. He called the janitors and together they searched his office. Finding nothing and the smoke still pouring into the room, N. T. (Bill) Goolsby, the head janitor, advised Wolf to call the fire department.

Along with the three fire engines that responded to the call, a patrol car, a motorcycle patrolman and the chief fireman came too, plus reporters from KMJ and KFRE, who were also interested in the fire.

HOLLAND

CC Dutch Student Tells Some Country Customs

By IRENE BRIETIGAM

"The United States is richer and has more cars than the European countries."

This was one of several statements expressed by Anjes Hoogveld, a freshman nursing major at Fresno City College from Holland. She came to the United States in 1956.

"One difference between the United States and Holland," Miss Hoogveld exclaimed, "is in the educational system. The high schools are harder and all courses are required. After graduation from elementary school, passing an examination is required before being allowed into the secondary schools. If the test is not passed, the pupil must remain in the last grade of the elementary system. The average pupil usually remains in at least one grade two years during his education and graduates from high school at 18."

She added that girls dress very plain and do not wear makeup in Holland. Boys wear short pants, more like our bermudas, with long stockings to school.

Student dates are on bicycles or by trolley car. The schools do not emphasize sports but soccer is the national game in Holland.

"The climate," she declared, "is cold and windy and not at all like the one in California. The windmills, read about so much in United States books, are mainly a tourist attraction."

Miss Hoogveld stated that Holland's form of government is a socialistic monarchy.

Miss Hoogveld was born in Cheriborn-Lingadja, Java, Indonesia, in a Japanese concentration camp. She exclaimed that the Japanese were not as cruel as the Germans were to the Jews, but they gave the prisoners a lesser amount of food each month and slowly starved them to death. Many prisoners died from dysentery, malnutrition and tropical diseases. After the war many died from overeating, due to their miserable conditions.

When Indonesia became an independent nation in August, 1950, the Dutch people were forced to leave the islands. Holland is one third the size of the state of Virginia and has a population almost as large as that of California. Some refugees went to Holland; others to Australia and the United States.

He graduated from Fresno City College in 1955 as a music major.

High School Seniors May Attend CC

Top high school seniors in the Fresno Unified City School District will probably be allowed to take one course for college credit at Fresno City College or Fresno State College.

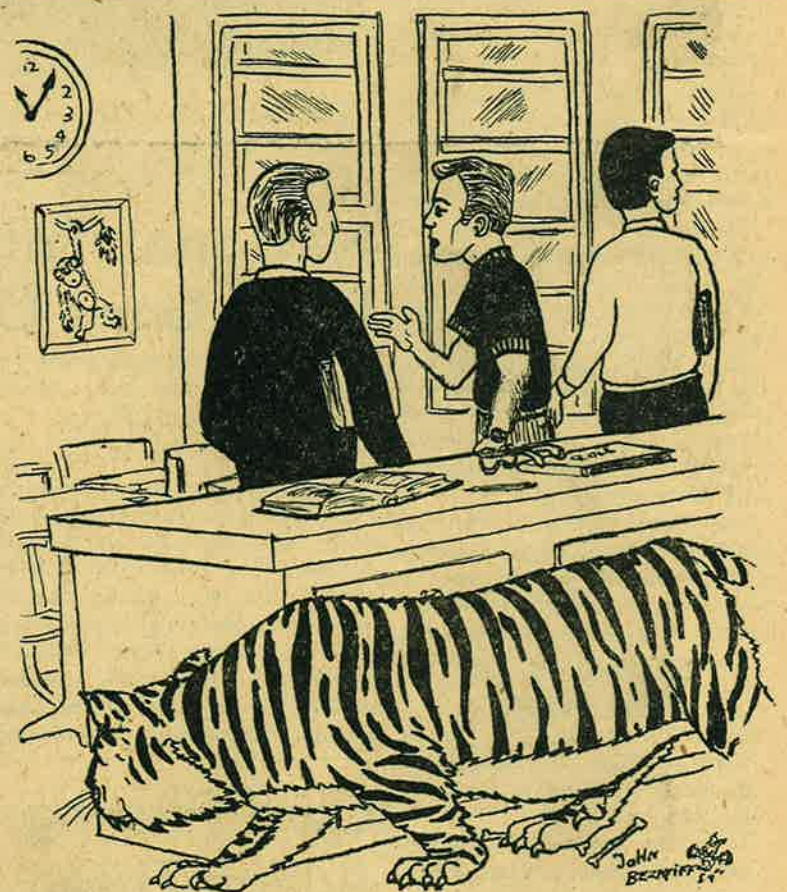

John S. Hansen, dean of administration at FCC, said there will be a steering committee meeting in the council room Monday at 3:30 PM in the University Ave. library.

The committee composed of representatives from high schools in the district will discuss student eligibility requirements, procedure for registration, and selection of college courses.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Erwin Dann stated that most seniors will attend the Fresno City College because it is nearer the senior high schools.

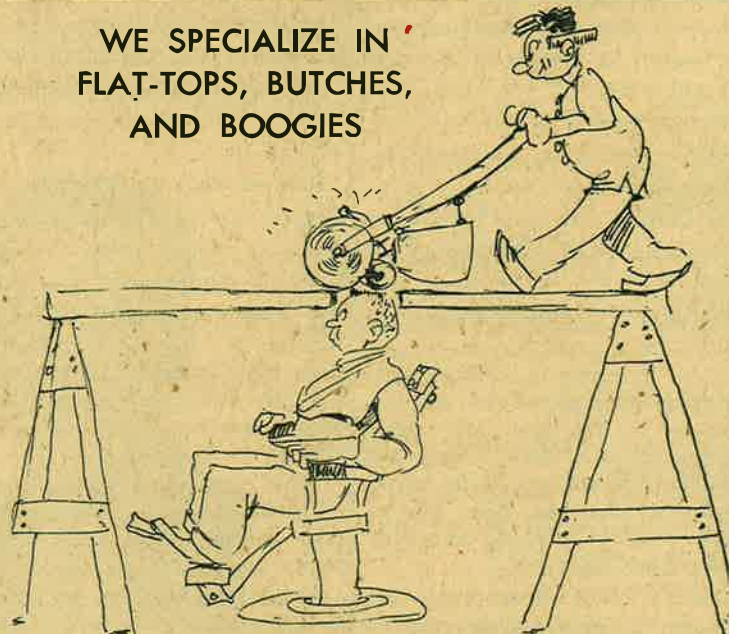

Dann said because many of the students are mainly arithmetic and science students, they will probably take courses in psychology or a related science course.

"This procedure," said Hansen, "has been tried successfully at other junior colleges in the state."

Mrs. Carter said, "Students who can pass the techniques of life savings tests at the end of the 17 week class will receive a badge entitling them to life guard positions during the summer."

Dr. Paul Pastor, swimming coach at FCC, stated that if the course works satisfactorily that plans will be made to have a class in water safety.

SPEECH

'The Pony Express' Winning Speech Of Fresno Coed

The pony express of early California has cut a trail for Fresno City College's Beverlee Jo Boyes to attend the state speech finals in Santa Cruz in June.

Mrs. Boyes speech, "The Pony Express," won first in the San Joaquin Valley area speech finals Saturday. Her speech won over the only other competitor, Pauline Piero, of Stockton Junior College. Miss Piero's topic was, "California Becomes a State."

JO BOYES

Mrs. Wealthy M. Falk, state chairman of the sponsoring Native Daughters of the Golden West, presented Mrs. Boyes with the winner's cup.

Mrs. Boyes' response, "It's so exciting. This is the first cup I've ever won. My husband, Jerry, and I have a dance studio where we often give awards to good dancers. We have a shelf loaded with cups, but not one of them was mine until now."

Mrs. Boyes is a first semester speech student coached by Franz A. Wienschenk.

Judging Saturday's contest were Mrs. Adrian Bellinger, Bakersfield; LeRoy King, Porterville, and Mrs. Charles Taylor, Fresno.

"Dancing," she said, "is a way of expressing one's latent emotions. Seldom is an individual given a chance to give form to emotions."

Joseph W. King, speech instructor co-ordinating the affair, said, "Each team will take the floor for ten minutes while the remaining five try to dis-arrange parliamentary procedures by asking various out-of-line questions.

The team having the least number of errors will be awarded with top honors.

Tillotson, Lusk Hurl FCC Rams Into League Lead; FSC Frosh Twin Bill Slated For Saturday

The Fresno City College Rams will host the Fresno State Frosh in a double header Saturday and will travel to Palo Alto Monday for a game with the Stanford Junior Varsity after sweeping a doubleheader Saturday from the Reedley College Tigers in John Eulless Park.

Swimmers In League Meet Next

Saturday will find College of the Sequoias of Visalia hosting FCC and other members of the Central California Junior College Association in the league swimming meet.

The FCC Ram mermen warmed up for the league meet last Friday when they were hosted by the COS Giants. It was the second meeting within a month of the two teams.

The results of the meet were much like their first meeting. The Giants won 50-36 but it was Chuck Polley of Fresno who brought the honors home.

In the meet Polley gained wins in the 50, 100 and 440 freestyle events.

Polley has been a consistent triple winner of Coach Paul Pastor's Rams this year. He should stand a good chance of bringing home several firsts for Fresno in the league meet. This could be enough for a Fresno victory.

The results:

College Athletic Association race with the College of Sequoias. Both teams will have 3-1 records.

The Rams got good mileage out of seven hits in the opener to score an 11-0 victory and came from behind with a pair of runs in the sixth and one in the seventh to post a 4-3 win in the nightcap.

Tillotson Wins Fifth

Thad Tillotson tossed a four hitter in the nine inning opener to post his fifth win of the season. Tillotson whiffed seven and walked only one.

Fresno scored three runs in the first inning and then broke the game wide open with an eight run barrage in the fifth. The inning was highlighted by a bases loaded triple by third baseman Jack Goodwin and a two run double by Kalem Barserian.

Ron Lombardi, with a double and a single, was the only Ram to collect more than one hit.

Lusk Tosses Seven Hitter

Les Lusk hurled a steady seven hitter in the second game to pick up the win for the Rams. Lusk fanned five and walked one.

Lusk aided his own cause at the plate when he delivered a two run single in the sixth to tie up the game at 3-3.

The Rams won the game in the last of the seventh on a single by Barserian and a long triple to right center field by Chuck Smith. Smith had gone hitless in eight trips in the two games before he delivered his crucial blow.

The Rams played the Visalia Redlegs of the Class C California League last night in John Eulless park. Results were not known at press time.

Tillotson, winningest pitcher on the squad, has FCC's only loss on his record.

Lowe Picked '59 Captain For Cagers

For the first time in Fresno City College basketball history one man has been chosen for captain for an entire year.

The man that received this honor from coach Joe Kelly and members of the team was Charles Lowe. He was elected to his position last Thursday night at a dinner given in the home of coach Kelly.

Lowe will represent Fresno in all games in the 1959-60 basketball season.

This year Lowe was third highest scorer on the team with 326 points and an 11.2 season average. He also had a 10.7 league average.

Two other honors were given at the dinner. Frank Johnson was chosen as the most valuable player. He will receive the Harry Coffee award. George Sarantos was selected honorary team captain for last year's season.

Attending the dinner were players Ray Allen, Chester Bishop, Everett Cowings, Frank Johnson, Charles Lowe, Mike Magdaleno, Darnell Mikel, George Sarantos, Mike Seigel, Lee Stark and team manager Del Spaeks.

Bowling scheduled for Apr. 20, at Mid-State Bowl.

Thinclads Lose To San Jose State Frosh; Fiorentino Tops Ram Shot Put Mark

The San Jose State Freshmen ran roughshod over the Fresno City College track team, scoring 83 points to 38 for the Rams in a meet held last Friday in San Jose.

The only consolation for the Rams was a school record effort in shotput by Frank Fiorentino at 50 feet. Fiorentino's heave eclipsed Frank Eller's year old school record by four inches.

The Spartan frosh picked up 11 of 14 first places while setting some outstanding times and marks.

Probably the best times of the day were set in the 440 yard run and the 220 yard dash, both won by San Jose State in the times of 48.3 and 21.3, respectively.

Coach Erwin Ginsburg will take his squad to Berkeley tomorrow to face the University of California Frosh at 4 o'clock.

Foot Notes By RUSS FOOTE, SPORTS EDITOR

I'll bet you've often wondered how a typical sports story written in typical sports style would turn out if some writer on the paper other than a sports writer were to do the story. You probably spend all your time wondering about this. Your studies are undoubtedly suffering. So to ease your minds here's how various other writers would write the following typical sports story:

Joey Giambra is seeking a title bout and Joey Giardello is seeking an investigation as a result of last night's middle weight bout in Los Angeles.

Giambra, 157, of New York, used a vicious body attack to pound out a 10 round decision over Philadelphia's Giardello before a slim crowd at Wrigley Field. Giardello, who was twice floored for mandatory eight counts, in the first and fourth rounds, is asking for a thorough investigation of the close decision.

News Analyst's Version

Joe Giambra, a veteran of many pugilistic policy disputes, scored a huge diplomatic victory last night as two contrasting fistic ideologies clashed before a surprisingly small portion of interested humanity in Los Angeles last night.

Giambra, a representative of New York, proved the necessity of an adequate defense as he on two occasions thwarted the efforts of Philadelphia's representative Giardello to maintain a balanced position.

Society Editor's Version

Young Joseph Giambra, a native of New York, is the latest aspirant to the middle weight championship after a meeting last night in fashionable Wrigley Field in Los Angeles with Joe Giardello who makes his home in Philadelphia.

Giambra, attired in blue rayon trunks with a white laced trim, delighted the exclusive gathering by twice rendering the pert young Giardello prone.

Weather Forecaster's Version

A small crowd, probably as a result of clouding skies and a threat of rain, watched Joe Giambra of New York (yesterday's high, 52), rain a torrent of blows with gale like fury on Joe Giardello of Philadelphia (little or no change) to gain a split decision in last night's bout in chilly Wrigley Field.

Giardello was twice snowed under and decked for mandatory eight counts. Apparently a little under the weather at the conclusion, Giardello stormily protested the decision.

Golf, Tennis At Home This Week

Fresno City College tennis fans will have ample opportunity to see the home team in action during the next week as the Ram netters will play two matches on the local court.

Fresno will host Reedley today at 2 PM and will meet Coalinga Apr. 22, also at 2 PM.

Coach Margaret Tylor's squad lost a 5-0 decision to the College of Sequoias Apr. 2.

Golfers Triumph

The Ram golf squad will meet the Allan Hancock College squad from Santa Maria on the Fresno Municipal course Apr. 23.

Coach Hans Wiedenhoefers linksman downed Taft 22 to 14 Apr. 9. Duffy Allison led the Rams with a 78.

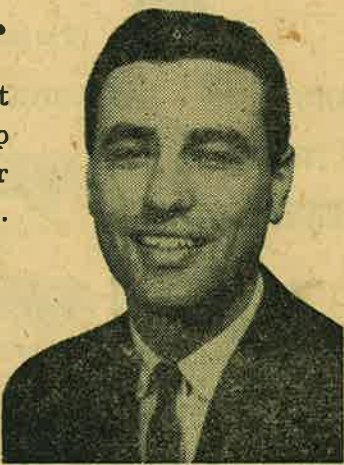

The results:
