FCC Choir Will Present 'Lowland Sea'

Graduates Will Have Rehearsal

Jackson C. Carty, the grand marshal of the 1960 graduation, this week issued a reminder to the 142 graduating students of the importance of attending the only rehearsal that will be held.

At 6 PM on June 6 a graduation practice will take place. Carty said he anticipates that it will last not longer than 1½ hours at the most. He said the 6 o'clock hour was set so those students having to leave for night classes would be able to attend most of the rehearsal.

For this practice session graduates are to assemble in the FCC auditorium for instructions.

George Holstein, the dean of admissions and records, reminded students in doubt about their eligibility to graduate due to final grades to check on their grades in the office of admissions and records between 4:30 and 5 PM, June 9, or on the morning of June 10.

Archie Bradshaw, the dean of students, said the line of march leaving the graduation will proceed directly to the dining room in the student center. The diplomas will be given out here, and graduates may meet their guests here and out on the adjoining patio.

Following the reception graduates are to return to either A-122 or A-126 to check in their caps and gowns. Coeds will use the latter number; men the former.

This year's ceremonies will mark the first time the event has been held outdoors. Florence Harper, an FCC student, and Dr. B. Lamar Johnson will be the commencement speakers.

Rally Club Schedules Fall Pep Girl Tryouts

Tryouts for pep girls will be held Monday, May 23, at 3 PM in the FCC gymnasium.

Mrs. Sara J. Dougherty, women's physical education instructor in charge of tryouts, said each candidate will try out in an individual routine. Eight girls will be selected to form next year's group of pep girls.

Mrs. Dougherty said a pep girl must be carrying at least 12 units of credit with a grade point average of 2.0 at FCC.

Candidates for student body yell leaders will tryout at the same time.

Students in the local high schools who will be enrolled at FCC in the fall are invited to participate in the tryouts.

Students will be judged on general ability, rhythm, appearance, audience contact and originality.

Programs Set For Tonight, Tomorrow

The Fresno City College choir, under the direction of C. Lowell Spencer and student director Gary Sexton, will present its annual musical production tonight and tomorrow at 8 PM in the FCC auditorium.

The musical is called the "Lowland Sea." The story tells of a young man's sailing away on the "Scarlet Sail" and of his eventual return to Dorry Davis, the girl who promised to marry him upon his return.

The leads have been double cast and each cast will perform on different nights.

Leads Listed

Johnny Dee is the hero who must sail away and leave his loved one behind. The part is shared by Bill Gardner and Bruce Howison.

Dorry Davis is the girl who is awaiting Johnny's return. Janet Alexander and Margaret Reta will play this role.

Nathaniel is the 'solid citizen' widower at home who takes advantage of the situation and asks Dorry to marry him. Lee Gilliard and Rodger Dunham portray this part.

Captain Jesse is the commander of the "Scarlet Sail." Sherrill Ankenman and Bill Madden will share this part.

Other Performers

Tom Dorn will play Doc, Helen Rohrbough will play Hannah, LaRene Thompson is Belinda, the children are Joan Alexander, Mary Brosmer, and Miss Rohrbough, and Odell McCoy will portray Amos in both casts.

The dancers are Susan Hill, Miss Alexander, Miss Rohrbough, Pat Torongo, Karen Cates, Miss Brosmer, Richard Nunes, Louie Bozigian, Ben Tayan, Sexton, and McCoy.

Tickets are priced at $1 for adults and may be bought from choir members or at the door. FCC and high school student body card holders will be admitted free.

Clyde G. Sumpter's stagecraft class is in charge of the props and lighting.

Irene and Shirley Kumano painted the backdrop, which depicts a small seacoast village.

The choir sang excerpts from the operetta, along with other musical numbers, at an assembly held at 11 AM this morning.

Richard Cencibaugh, a former FCC student, will accompany the choir on the organ.

Arnold Sundgaard wrote the words for the musical, and the music was written by Alec Wilder.

Reach Out

By WALTER MEEKS

I'm lost again. It shouldn't be a new experience, but each time I get this feeling it is a little different. Perhaps each time I have solved this problem I actually haven't completely cleared the path and each succeeding similar experience accumulates the residue of those previous disheartening events.

Give up! Change course! Drift! Then unavoidable return to the realization I'll always be lost until I find the key. It certainly will never find me. What shall I do? What can I do? I want to do so very many things. I do none of them. I want to understand why I'm here. I comprehend nothing.

Does everyone live on an island as I do? I think I want to find my own food, but enough falls around me each night to satisfy the next day's hunger. I take a walk on the beach, draw pictures in the sand, skip rocks in the surf, climb a hill to look at another island, and find that it is night once more. My island remains unimproved as do I.

It is morning now. Shall I continue as before? Shall I build me a house? Perhaps I could make a canoe and travel to another island.

It is necessary for man to succeed—at least a little—in that which he attempts. It is necessary for man to attempt that in which he would succeed. Perhaps failure can be as healthy as success. To do neither is to exist only as an animal. The human animal is invisible to the soul-possessing human being who feeds on the animal and is justified in doing so.

If man would only climb out of his cage and reach out, even if he lost an arm, he should reach out—and do it now!

EDITOR'S NOTE: The above article is one of the many articles which will appear in FCC's first literary publication, Potpourri. Larry Adams, the editor of the magazine, said the publication will be on sale within the next two weeks. The cost of the first literary magazine is 25 cents.

UC Engineering College Sets Higher Math Requirements

Pre-engineering students who plan to attend the University of California's College of Engineering will have a new requirement to meet beginning next year.

John S. Hansen, the vice-president of FCC, said 16 units of lower division mathematics will be needed in the future instead of 12 units, the present requirement.

Hansen said the lower division mathematics requirements will include analytical geometry, calculus and advanced calculus.

Previously these two courses have been taught separately with analytical geometry preceding calculus, but Hansen said next year the two will be woven together.

Hansen said instructors from Fresno State College, with whom FCC consulted before making the change, came to the conclusion that the new integrated teaching program would be beneficial to pre-engineering students.

FCC To Decorate Veterans' Graves

FCC will participate in the annual drive to collect flowers for deceased veterans. The flowers collected will be used to decorate graves on Memorial Day.

Miss Doris Deakins, the dean of women, said students who wish to donate flowers are asked to leave them on the patio outside of the cafeteria. A truck will pick the flowers up on Friday, May 27.

Miss Deakins said this is the first time that FCC will participate in the drive.

Exchange Notes

Grading System Is Prejudice-Proof

(ACP) — From the UCLA DAILY BRUIN comes the report of a "prejudice-proof" grading system for UCLA's Law School.

The new system resulted from a fight between a student and a professor who allegedly failed him because of "political disagreements," and destroyed his examination paper to prevent recourse.

In the new grading system, numbers are assigned to final exam papers and professors have no access to students' names. Grading is by number only. Not until grades are entered and distributed can a professor find out a student's number, but he can add or subtract three points from a student's grade for class participation and attendance before seeing the number.

"This gives a student complete freedom to say what he wants in class, and it discourages the kind of student that curries favor," says the DAILY BRUIN.

"What liver biopsy?"

Two FCC Instructors Announce Retirement

Two of Fresno City College's most highly esteemed and loved instructors, Mrs. Hazel V. Pedersen and Gertrude S. Stubblefield, have announced plans to retire at the end of the school year.

Mrs. Pedersen joined the faculty when the school reorganized in 1948, and Miss Stubblefield joined a semester later.

Instructors Get Science Fellowships

Ray C. Cramer and Paul H. Hofeditz, FCC mathematic instructors, have been granted summer school fellowships by the National Science Foundation in its research program for teacher training.

Cramer, a physics and mathematics instructor, will study the physical sciences for eight weeks at Colorado State College in Greeley.

Cramer studied physics at the University of Texas under a similar National Science fellowship grant last summer.

Hofeditz, an engineering and mathematics instructor, will study mathematics in a six week program at San Jose State College.

The Foundation said the purpose of the fellowships is to provide teachers with sufficient background in their scientific specialties an opportunity to become better acquainted with the nature and methods of research so that their teaching may become more meaningful and stimulating.

TV Show Features FCC Shop Courses

FCC's Technical and Industrial Division will be featured on KFRE-TV's University of the Air series Saturday.

Gerald J. Fries, who is coordinating the program, said the program will show the different activities of the shop classes through film and live presentations.

Mrs. Josephine E. Hostetler, a vocational nursing instructor, will appear on the show with a group of nursing students. Chester S. Garrison and Richard H. Handley, instructors, will present different areas of their T and I shop programs.

The University of the Air is scheduled to begin at 3 PM and is a half hour show.

Field Trip Takes Class To Europe

A tour of Europe is but a dream to most persons, but for one Fresno City College student, at least, the dream will become reality this summer.

Edna Handy, a 69 year old part time student currently attending the FCC beginning Spanish class, has enrolled in a six unit FSC course, history of western man, which consists of a field study in European history.

Mrs. Handy, 32 other students, and two professors will leave Fresno by air June 20 for San Francisco. From there the group will take the polar jet flight to London.

Once in London the group will travel by motor coach visiting first such places as Oxford, Stratford on Avon in southern England and thereafter Bruges, Ghent, and Brussels in Belgium. Principal cities in Germany and Switzerland include Cologne, Bonn, Weisbaden, Zurich, and Lucerne.

To Attend Opera

From Switzerland the tour will move east across Austria through Feldkirch, Innsbruck, and Salzburg to Vienna. Mrs. Handy plans to attend an opera in Vienna while the rest of the group visits the famous wineries of the area. She said she has seen many wineries in the Fresno area and would rather take advantage of the opportunity to hear one of the operas for which Vienna is so well known.

The major Italian cities to be visited are Venice, Florence, and Rome. Thereafter the tour will proceed north to Pisa along the Mediterranean to Nice and Cannes in France; then up the Rhone River to Lyon and finally to Paris.

Plans Side Trip

When the tour crosses the English Channel at Dover and returns to London, the class will fly back to the United States. Mrs. Handy, however, and a friend, Mrs. Olean Taylor also taking the tour, plan to leave the group for a side trip through England to Edinburgh and Glasgow, Scotland. They will include Belfast, Ireland on their itinerary if they are able to arrange transportation.

Dr. Theodore Grivas and Dr. Robert G. Comegys, associate professors of history at Fresno State College, will accompany the group — lecturing as they travel. The students are expected to take lecture notes and to keep notebooks of the trip. These notebooks will be turned over to the professors at the end of the journey, and then returned to the students to form the basis for the term paper each student is required to write to conclude the course.

Total Fee Is $1,295

Mrs. Handy said the course will emphasize the growth of western culture. She said the tour is open to anyone who can register as a state college student. The total tour fee of $1,295 includes the college registration fee.

Mrs. Handy is finishing her second year at FCC. She plans to return in the fall for another year of Spanish, and maybe later for other courses. She has completed courses in psychology, algebra and art. She said she hopes the art course will increase her appreciation and enjoyment of the galleries she intends to visit in Europe.

Before retiring at the end of 1956, Mrs. Handy worked in a real estate office.

Edwards Sets New JC Record

Harry Edwards, after one close attempt at setting a new junior college record in Taft at the Central California Junior College Athletic Association meet, finally reached his goal at the 34th running of the West Coast Relays held at Ratcliffe Stadium in Fresno, Saturday.

Edwards erased the previous record of 168 feet six inches set by Jerome Jennings of Compton College. Edwards' toss of 171 feet eight and one-half inches established a new junior college mark and also set a new West Coast Relays mark. The old mark was also held by Jennings of Compton with a mark of 160 feet one inch.

The record breaking toss came on Edwards' last throw. His best of the day, prior to that, had been 165 feet seven inches.

Besides setting the new records the crowning moment of the day came when the six feet eight inch, 17 year old Edwards was awarded the trophy for the Most Outstanding Junior College Athlete at the meet.

Chet Rooters got the most points for the Rams. His toss of 151 feet three inches took fourth place in the discus, which isn't Rooters' specialty.

Later in the afternoon Rooters pushed the 16 pound shot put 50 feet to take first place in the junior college division. For his efforts he received a gold wrist watch, as did Edwards.

Coach Len Bourdet and Captain Pete Lango

Rams Participate In Northern Track Meet

Bill Hall, after pulling a leg muscle at the Central California Junior College Association league meet at Taft, was unable to run in his events for the Fresno City College Rams in the Northern California Divisional semi-finals in Coalinga Tuesday.

Hall made a great effort at running the 100 and 220 yard dashes, but his injured leg caused him to pull up before the finish of each race. By not qualifying in these two events, he will not be eligible to run in the Northern California Junior College finals in Salinas Saturday. This meet also cut short his chances for the Olympics.

After putting in a fine performance in the baseball game against Oakland City College, which the Rams lost 10-6, Clark Bridgman captured a third place in the 100 yard dash of the semi-finals with a clocking of 10 seconds flat.

Joe Kelly Speaks At Sports Dinner

Joe Kelly, head basketball coach at Fresno City College, will be the guest speaker at the Spring Sports Banquet of the LeGrand High School Dad's Club.

Kelly will speak on what a college coach looks for in a high school athlete. The dinner will be Tuesday in Chowchilla, at Farnesi's Restaurant.

This third place made Bridgman eligible for the finals.

Fernie Montanez, a top 880 yard man for the Rams, added his name to the list of finalists with a time of 1:57.3 seconds, right behind the heels of the winner, Clyde Laird of Diablo Valley College.

Harry Edwards, the Ram giant who is now the holder of the national junior college discus record, will travel to Salinas with the purpose of bettering his own national record of 171 feet 8 1/2 inches.

Gene Johnson, Ram high jumper, and Chet Rooters, who is a strong favorite in the shot put, will be entered in the Salinas finals. Johnson tied for second place honors in the West Coast Relays with a jump of 6 feet 4 inches.

Rooters captured a first place in the shot put with a throw of 50 feet, and a fourth place in the discus with a throw of 151 feet 7 inches, also at the Relays.

Oakland Upsets Rams' State Title Hopes

By DAVE HANNA

The Oakland Junior College Thunderbirds rocked Fresno's ace righthander Bucky Hoover for four runs in the top of the first inning and went on to score a 10-6 win, eliminating the Rams from the state playoffs.

The T-Birds will play the winner of the Golden Valley-Coast Conference playoff in a best-of-three series tomorrow and Saturday, with the victor in that playoff entering the state finals against the winner of the southern area playoffs.

Sports Roundup

The Fresno City College golf team shot a combined score of 661 at the California Junior College State Tournament in Orange County over the weekend.

Jerry Weil, leading Ram golfer, shot a 36 hole total of 159 to top the Ram golfers.

Women's Sportsday

The FCC Women's Physical Education Department is planning a Sportsday for the entire student body. The Sportsday will be played Tuesday, May 24. Sports to be played are volleyball, swimming, tennis and badminton.

Bowling

The Associated Men's Student sponsored FCC bowling league race is getting tighter as the season grows to an end.

The AMS All-Stars, present leaders, are just one game ahead

Sports Banquet

The Fresno City College spring sports banquet will be held at 6:30 PM, May 24 in the committee room in the FCC cafeteria.

Gridders Play 4 Home Tilts

The Fresno City College football team will have four home games next year. Three of the home games will be Central California Junior College Athletic Association tilts. The other home game will be against Stockton College.

The schedule: Sept. 17, Fullerton, there; Sept. 24, Stockton at McLane; Oct. 1, College of the Sequoias, Ratcliffe; Oct. 8, Taft, there; Oct. 22, Coalinga, there; Oct. 29, Reedley, there; Nov. 5, Porterville at McLane; Nov. 12, Hancock at McLane; and Nov. 23, Los Angeles City College in Los Angeles.

Crucial Error

A crucial error by Ram short-stop Tommy Jacobsen opened the gates for five Oakland runs in the eighth inning, and that was the story of the game. The Rams had fought back from their early deficit to take a 6-5 lead until the fatal eighth inning.

Oakland's supposedly outstanding pitcher Dave Blasquez, who wasn't very outstanding in this game at all, opened the eighth with a single, and reached second base on Jacobsen's boot. A long double off the centerfield wall tied the score at 6-6, and a Texas leaguer that dropped between the outstretched arms of Jacobsen, Jim Sanders, and Joe Monis scored what proved to be the winning run.

First Inning

Oakland appeared ready to chase the Rams out of the park in the first inning, as they parlayed four solid singles, and a ringing double into four big runs. It appeared at this point the Rams wouldn't even come close to winning much less have the good chance they had.

The Rams came right back in their half of the first inning with some fireworks of their own. Clark Bridgman, who was a stand-out all day, caught the Oakland infield sleeping and laid down a perfect drag bunt down the third base line.

Blasquez then aided the Ram cause by throwing a potential double play ball off the bat of Sanders into centerfield, with Bridgman legging it to third.

Hoover then sent Bridgman home with a solid single, and Pete Lango beat out an infield chopper to load the bases. Dan Ramirez unloaded a long fly ball which the T-Bird leftfielder pulled down with his back to the wall. Sanders scored after the catch, making the score read 4-2 after one inning.

The Rams added another tally in the fourth on a long triple to right-center by Monis and a single by Ken Frankfort.

Oakland threatened again in the fifth inning, but Bridgman pulled down a long drive next to the 407 foot marker in center, and Ramirez backed to the right field to pull down another long drive.

The 'Birds added a run in the sixth on a wind-blown pop single, a sacrifice, and an error on first sacker Tom Burkman. This made the score 5-3.

Rams Lead

The Rams came up with three big runs in the last of the sixth to take the lead for the first time in the game. Ramirez led off with a walk and was sent to third on a single by Monis.

Frankfort and Burkman walked, forcing in one run, Jacobsen singled in another, and the final run scored on a wild pitch by Blasquez.

The fielding play of the game, and there were many on both sides, was turned in by Lango in the seventh inning. The hustling infielder dove and trapped a hard grounder on the infield grass, picked himself up, and threw the runner out at first base.
