FSC Teacher Speaks Before Student Group

"Man is not a thing, but a spiritual entity. We treat man like a thing without destroying his ethical and spiritual nature and leading to dictatorship."

These remarks were mentioned in an address by Wallace D. Henderson, a Fresno City councilman and former state assemblyman of the 32nd district last Saturday in the Fresno City College auditorium to the annual fall conference of the Central California Junior College Student Government Association.

Henderson, who is also an associate professor of political science at Fresno State College, spoke on the theme of "Youth and Government."

Democracy Has Drawbacks

He stated that some of the dangers of democracy come from its very nature. Dictators have an advantage in that they can frequently move faster because they do not have the people's permission.

He also stated that another danger of democracy is that government is often turned over to efficiency experts, scientists, and technicians and citizens fail to vote, analyze problems, and elect representatives.

He pointed out that there is a challenge in using modern research in planning, urban development, diplomacy, and other methods of national, state, and local government. The flexibility of not only turning these matters over to the technician but also exercising our duties as a citizen is needed.

Values May Change

The councilman said unless youth has a cultural background it may acquire a pragmatic, mechanistic philosophy which will close its eyes to essential values: life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness will be lost sight of in this fast-moving age. In other words, the heritage of our forefathers will be lost.

His concluding statement was that youth should exert leadership and participation in community affairs by registering to vote, voting, becoming informed, sometimes running for office, and assuming other responsibilities of citizenship. Otherwise, democracy loses its true meaning, and Americans may even lose their freedoms through inertia.

The trip is being sponsored by the Fresno Natural History Society and the Sierra Club.

Business Group Initiates 45 New Members

Approximately 45 Fresno City College students were initiated into Phi Beta Lambda, a business organization.

The initiation ceremony headed by Dick McMahan, president of the club, was held in the social lounge of the student center building last night.

The initiation consisted of some serious oaths and procedures, while most of the entertainment consisted of funny antics and stunts.

John Alexander, first vice-president; Artis Witt, second vice-president; and Vevadeen Breeding, treasurer, were present at the ceremonies.

AWS, AMS Will Sponsor Dance

Vanes Haddad of Tehran, Iran, the club president, will introduce FCC's foreign students, who will sit in the first seven rows in the center section of the auditorium. FCC has 96 foreign students, including 72 on state department student visas. Haddad will also introduce the speaker.

Fresno State College political science and international relations students have been invited.

Davis' Career Varies

Davis, a former Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent, has been a professional lecturer for 17 years and has spoken to forums, town halls, and college assemblies.

Davis was graduated from Wesleyan University and began his career as a minister. He entered the ministry after serving with the American Expeditionary Force in France for two years during World War I.

After serving in two New England churches, he became the headmaster of a Maine preparatory school. His interest in world affairs took him to Europe in the summer of 1931 and he visited the headquarters of Adolph Hitler in Munich. He camped on the trail of the molders of Europe's drab destiny long before most observers realized that a crisis was in the offing.

World Affairs Observed

He was in Italy when the country was seething with intrigue; he was in Prague in 1938 watching the Czech crisis move toward its climax; and he was in Warsaw in 1939 when the Germans invaded Poland. In 1940 he represented CBS in Havana and has been a frequent observer at the United Nations meetings. Davis was in San Francisco in 1945 to watch the birth of the UN.

Among the different places he has spoken throughout the United States are the Town Halls in New York, Houston, Texas, and Cleveland, Ohio, the Brooklyn Academy of Music, the University of South Dakota, and the San Bernardino College Forum.

Attention, all foreign students!

A tea is being held in your honor in the auditorium of the Holland Elementary School, located at 4676 W. Fresno Street, this Thursday, Oct. 13, from 4 to 6 PM. You are cordially invited to attend. The tea is sponsored by the International Committee of the Fresno Teachers Association.

Carty Says Library Use On Increase

"The use of the Fresno City College library is on the increase," declared Jackson Carty, FCC librarian.

The total attendance for the year of 1957-58 was 137,576 students. This record doubles the figure for the previous year.

Last year 1,600 books were added to the shelves, while 18,893 books, pamphlets, and magazines were placed in circulation and 234 magazines were received.

Carty said the 9,400 books in the library now are the results of a revision of the library in 1952. The library was organized along the junior college line and the technical high school books were weeded out.

Jackson Carty, FCC librarian, is urging all students visit the library this week. There is a display shown under the auspices of the International Club.

The library has added two new clerks to its personnel. Miss Vernelle Pate is in charge of the audio-visual department. Mrs. Lois Scarboro is employed in the reserve reading room.

Library hours are 8 AM-5:30 PM Monday through Friday.

Committee Plans Rally For Friday And Bus To Go To Coalinga Game

"The rally will begin at 12:15 PM tomorrow, and Clyde G. Sumpter, another rally committee sponsor, will try to develop a skit to be put on at this time," stated Bourdet.

For those who want to go to the game this Saturday, there will be a bus provided.

Paul Starr, dean of men, said, "The minimum number of students that have to sign up to go is 30.

Are The Students Losing Interest?

In the issue before last of this publication, we printed a list of those students qualifying for Alpha Gamma Sigma, and Phi Theta Kappa. These are two honorary societies which require primarily a B average with nothing on their record below a C.

If you bothered to read this list and count the number of persons eligible, you would have found the number to be approximately 40. This number is appallingly low in comparison to the number which qualified last semester, 107. What has happened? Why has the number dropped off so much?

If you go to the administration office and page through the files, you will find that number of students attending last semester who were eligible has not diminished to any great extent. That is, it has not diminished enough to be a good explanation of the drop off. Therefore, we can safely say, on the basis of statistics, that the majority of the eligible have not graduated and are still here — but not eligible this time.

Archie Bradshaw, dean of students, and George Holstein, dean of admissions and records, will tell you it isn't the grading this year. There has been an upgrading, they'll admit that, but it hasn't been to such an extent as to affect marks radically.

Of course, it might be that the instructors this semester are stricter. But is it possible that there has been widespread verbal or non verbal agreement between them to make things harder? This is highly improbable; yet some students will use this excuse.

Last year, the administration said the marks were poor. According to Holstein, many students were disqualified, and many more were put on probation than got off.

The fault, according to the administration, lies not in the students' ability, but rather in their application. Perhaps the students disagree with this, but could they give a better explanation?

25 Trees Leave FCC 96 Students Represent 29 Countries

Timber! Look out below! These and many other phrases will be heard by Fresno City College students and faculty members as the Cook's Tree Service Company starts the removal of 25 trees on campus.

A recommendation that the trees be cut down was made in the spring of 1956 by the city tree board, but protests from the students succeeded in preventing the action.

On Sept. 10, 1958, the city board of education again started action on this problem after a falling branch struck a plasterer causing a deep scalp wound.

Stuart M. White, FCC president stated, "What is being done is in order to eliminate potential accidents on campus."

The board of education will decide tonight what action should be taken in regard to 11 other trees, including 10 eucalyptus and one pine.

There are 96 foreign students representing 29 countries attending the fall semester at Fresno City College. They include 72 on student visas. Added to this total four are from Hawaii, and of the two neighboring countries, Mexico has one and Canada five.

Students representing countries from the Middle East are six from Lebanon, Iran has 17, Turkey two, Jordan four, Iraq six, India nine, Syria three, and one each from Greece and Pakistan.

The Far East includes six students from Japan, China has five, Korea three, and the Philippines also have three.

The European Continent is represented by three students from Holland, Germany has four, Denmark two and one each from France, Algeria and Austria.

There are also two students from Venezuela, and one each from Kuwait and Jamaica.

The Futile Poet

By RICHARD BRUUN

Were you ever tight, in the middle of night
With a mind not too clear, from a last tasty beer?
With your spirits so high, that you feel you could fly?
With a walk to and fro, and the feel of a blow
You pick yourself up to try it again;
And sooner or later you know you will win.
It is only a block to your house and the den
And you say to yourself,
"I done done it again."

MORAL: You receive from yourself the results of what you acquire.

PARKING PROBLEMS BEGIN — Al Cunningham, FCC student body president, Richard Bruun, The Rampage news editor, and Jacquie L. Harper talk to Patrolman Biggers as he issues citations to students' cars.

Parking Issue Becomes Major Problem As Large FCC Student Enrollment Gains

By SUSAN CYR

The plans of the Rampage to print a series of articles on Fresno City College's parking problem were given added impetus Friday when two city policemen were called to the University Ave. campus, where they had a field day citing illegally parked cars.

The problems facing the owners and drivers of these automobiles — those of finding a parking space close enough to school, in time to get to class, or just finding one — were bad enough in past years.

This semester, however, a new obstacle has been placed in the road to ample parking. And as the situation looks now, it appears that a solution will be difficult to achieve.

Four Campuses

The uniting of the four Fresno CC campuses is now being undertaken by the construction of new shop buildings in the block east of the University Ave. campus. And construction inevitably brings many "no parking" signs.

These signs are usually necessary, however, because the builders are entitled to one-third of the street area for piling debris, stacking lumber and steel, and so forth. But still they are inconvenient for the many students who could be utilizing that area by parking there. (And who, incidentally, have been doing just that lately — hence the many citations Friday).

But not only has the number of parking spaces decreased. To add to the trouble, FCC's enrollment is constantly on the increase. And more students mean more cars. Many of the cars carry only one person to and from school each day. A formation of car pools where possible would certainly help to relieve the cramped situation somewhat.

Solution Sought

Albert Cunningham, FCC student body president, said that the student council is working for a solution. He said that there are three or four possibilities to be checked on already, and they have hopes of finding more. The council is seeking advice and help from many sources, including the Fresno Police Department.

According to Cunningham, who conferred already with members of the police force and plans to consult them again, there are two main problems concerning parking around the campus.

These stem mainly from a somewhat uncooperative attitude adopted by the students. There is double parking by the traffic islands along University Ave. and parking both within and in front of private driveways.

For a little while longer now, students who drive cars to school will have to endure the inconveniences incurred. The administration, the students, residents of the area, and even the construction workers are meanwhile hoping for a quick solution.

Dates For Vets Allowances Set

J. G. Corbit, manager of the regional office of the Veterans Administration, has notified the Fresno City College of the schedule of payment dates for training allowances.

Veterans who enrolled Sept. 1 through Sept. 19 and whose enrollment papers reached the San Francisco office by Oct. 10 should receive their checks Oct. 20. Veterans whose enrollment papers were received after Oct. 10 should receive their checks within 15 days following the receipt of enrollment papers. Veterans who were enrolled on or after Sept. 20 and whose papers were received before Nov. 4 will receive a combination check for September and October on or about Nov. 20.

Distinguished Visitor Will Tour At FCC

Mrs. Fardos Saad, headmistress of the Shubra Secondary School for girls in Cairo, Egypt, will be a visitor on the Fresno City College campus Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Saad is spending approximately ten months in the United States at the expense of her government. During her stay in Fresno she will visit Fresno City College, Fresno State College and several Fresno City elementary and high schools.

Miss Doris Deakins, FCC dean of women, is planning a schedule for the two days she will be on the FCC campus. Mrs. Saad will visit classes, tour the campus, and meet many of the instructors and students.

Although Mrs. Saad is directly concerned with senior high school, she would like to study the entire California school system from kindergarten through junior college.

Edison Campus Is Hidden

Because Fresno City College is so widespread, many students are completely unaware that FCC has another campus located at Edison High School.

There are three buildings on this campus. The largest building houses the auto shop and welding classes. The body and fender classes meet in one of the small buildings, while the brick-laying and plastering classes occupy the other.

Most of the students attend the "O" Street campus for supplementary classes, although a few are enrolled at the University Ave. campus.

"After completion of two years of training, the college places as many students as possible in the fields of their endeavor," related Robert P. Hansler, dean of technical and industrial education.

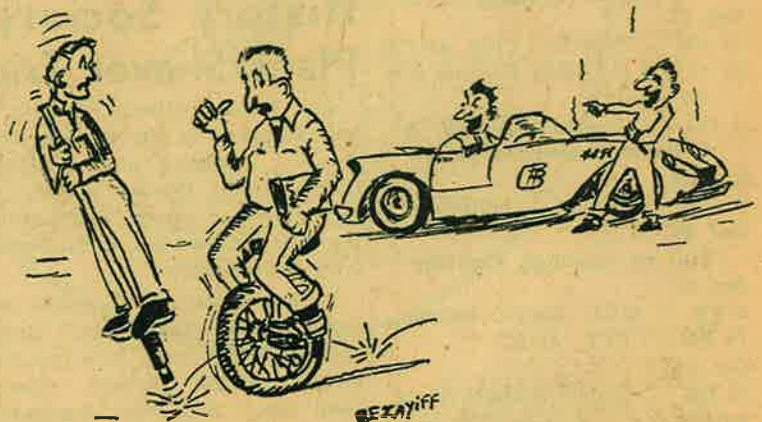

There are about 130 day students and 70 night students attending classes on this campus. The day instructors are Joe Woodman, Charles Coffman, Dean Larsen, and Carl Rustigian. The night instructors are Howard Goolsby, Elmer Blom, Kenneth Everton, and Edward Herron.

The new buildings being constructed on the University Ave. campus will be ready in the early stages of the spring semester.

Woodman said, "We'll be very pleased to get together again. We've been waiting for this move since 1948."

Dean Says College Girls Need Sense

Dean Margarette Berrisford of the Pensacola Junior College in Florida wrote a column for the school paper, The Corsair, which was headlined: "Horse Sense for College Girls Makes Common Sense Today."

"Let 'em laugh, wait 'till they try to find a parking place."

Club News

By KAREN McDUGALD

Are you a student who is an avid movie goer? If you are, then Interclub Council is sponsoring a project that has just the ticket for you. Movie cards are still on sale in the student center foyer and can be purchased for a single dollar.

"We have extended the ticket sale for the last time and tomorrow noon is definitely the last day to buy one," stated Miss Doris Deakins, the dean of women and sponsor of the Interclub Council. The money, she said, would go toward a scholarship that is presented each year by the council.

PHI THETA KAPPA

At the Monday meeting of Phi Theta Kappa, the Fresno City College National Association held in Ad-117 to decide upon a date to have the initiation rites for those students, who by invitation, will be made members of the group. The date set aside is Nov. 4 at the home of Dorothy Bliss, head sponsor of the club. The co-sponsor of the club is Robert J. Shaver.

CSTA

The principal purpose for the California Student Teachers meeting held last Wednesday noon in A-6 was to hear a report on a presidents' convention held in Burlingame, Oct. 12 and 13, by Connie Amadeo, president of the club. Miss Amadeo, stated that the convention consisted of the following items:

- 1. Goals of the club
- 2. Ethics and professionalism
- 3. Stronger affiliations with the NEA
- 4. Finances and activities

The next meeting of the organization will be Nov. 5 at 12 noon in A-6.

VETERANS CLUB

"The Veterans Club was not organized for the sole purpose of a few students but was organized for those who were honorably discharged from the armed service," stated Howard Regler, the secretary of the organization.

At a meeting held Monday in Ad-113, the primary purpose was to decide what and where the social events for the fall semester will be held.

CADUCEUS CLUB

The Cadeuceus Club, organized for the future members of the medical profession, is holding a car wash Saturday, Nov. 10, at Ivan Lees' Chevron station on Home and Van Ness Ave.

The car wash will be between the hours of 9 AM to 5 PM. The price of a complete car wash is $1 per car.

College Teachers Visit City Firms

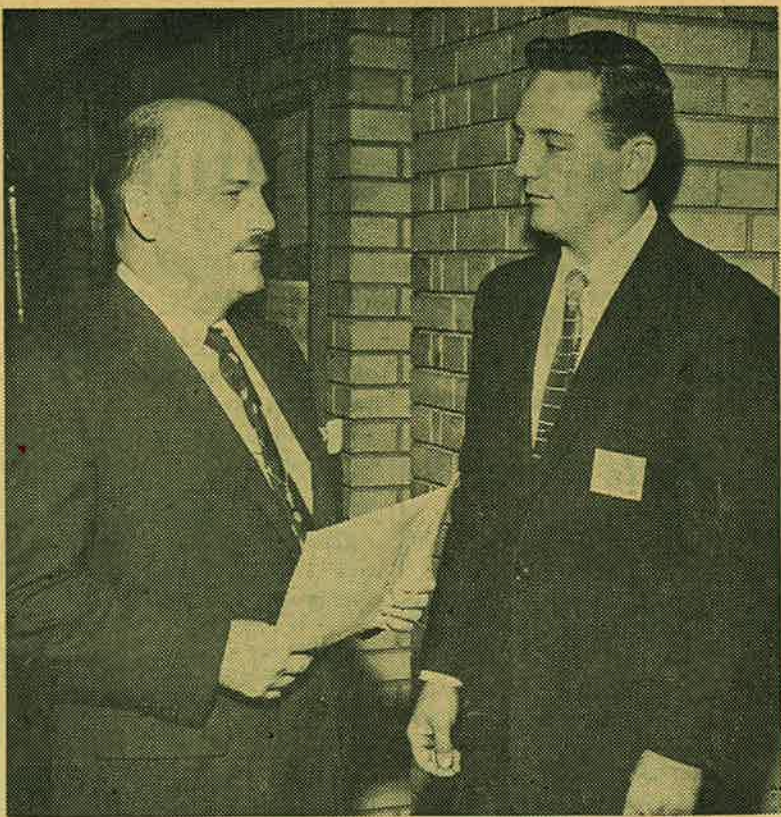

Wednesday will be a holiday for all day students at Fresno City College. The reason for this holiday is the annual Business Education Day, attended by the faculty members of FCC and all other city schools.

A day is set aside each year, usually late in October, for the teachers in the school system to better acquaint themselves with the changing conditions of the business world.

The faculty members will be versed on the different business operations so that they can better acquaint the students with the business world.

Pettit Talks On Election

By MABELLE BELL

Blaine Pettit, the Republican candidate for Assemblyman from the 32nd district, gave his views on the propositions appearing on the November ballot.

Pettit appeared Monday at an open meeting of the Young Republican Club in Ad-124.

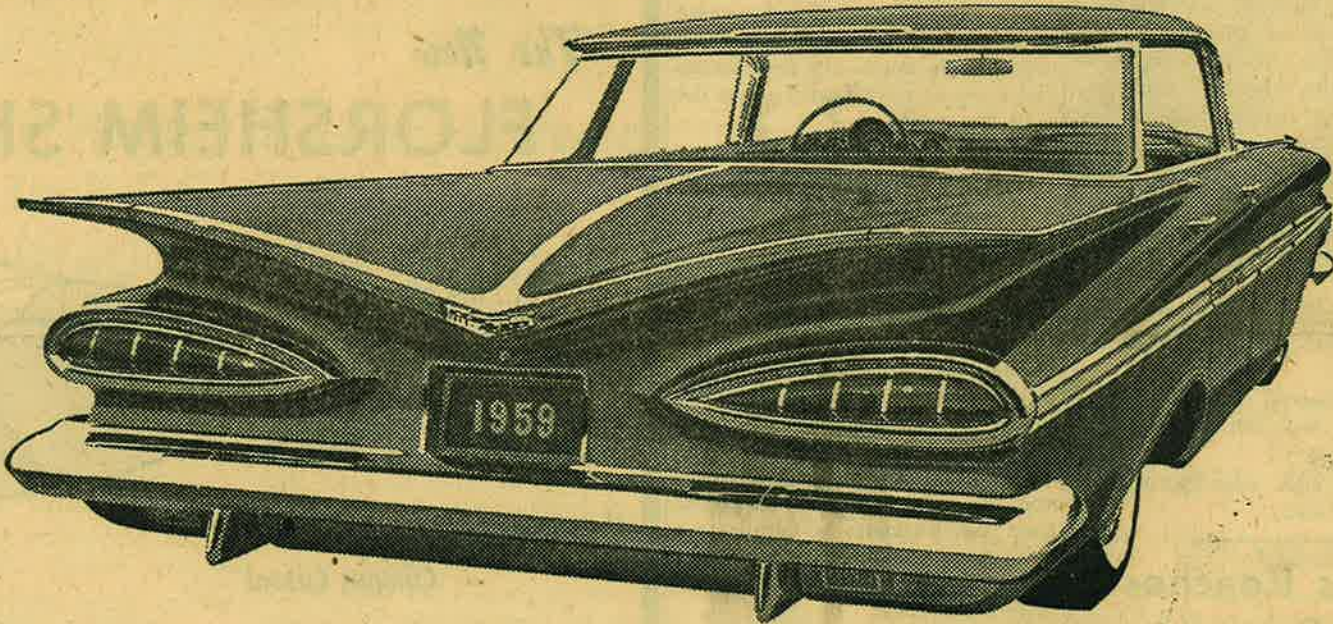

"There are two ways to finance legislation: pay as you go, or establish a bonding program," explained Pettit.

In regard to Proposition 16, Pettit declared that all property owned by a parochial school district was taxed if not used exclusively for educational purposes.

The principles of Proposition 17 would remove the burden of a three per cent sales tax upon the general public in reducing the tax to two per cent.

Pettit is a graduate of Fresno State College and received his law degree from the Hastings Law School in 1941. He has been engaged in private practice 10 years.

Coach Erwin Ginsburg's Rams last week won their opening meet of the season at Modesto to give FCC its first cross-country meet victory in the school's history.

Richardson, trailing Ray Pena of Reedley by 60 yards with less than a half-mile to go, finished strong to win going away. His time of 14:05.5 was a new course record for the two and a half mile hilly course.

Jerry McPherson finished sixth for the Rams. Billy Tuck galloped in seventh.

Jess McFerren was ninth, Ken Benscooter was 10th, and Henry Hicks 12th.

Fresno's next meet will be at Salinas Saturday.

Join now gang! Mel (muscles) Coznowski's super muscle building course.

Any emotionally immature, physically undeveloped wreck would be sure to enroll in a course which promises so much. My first lesson and a set of weights arrived in the mail last week.

Fifteen short minutes a day — It took me half an hour just to set up the equipment.

Privacy of your own room — When I answered the door holding a dynamic-press forearm developer in my hand and clad in my gym shorts, I started a small riot. It seems the ladies auxiliary for something was making a house to house inspection of mental health in the home.

I haven't grown an inch either and the only strength I've gained from the workouts is because we don't have a shower at my place.

The course has three distinctly different phases:

- Dynamic tension body development (weight lifting)
- Muscular co-ordination concentration (weight lifting)
- Internal contraction dynamics (lifting weights)

As you've probably gathered, I have little faith in these pseudo body building type courses. However there is a definite need for more muscular type heroes and for good health, self-confidence, and mainly the girls dig it.

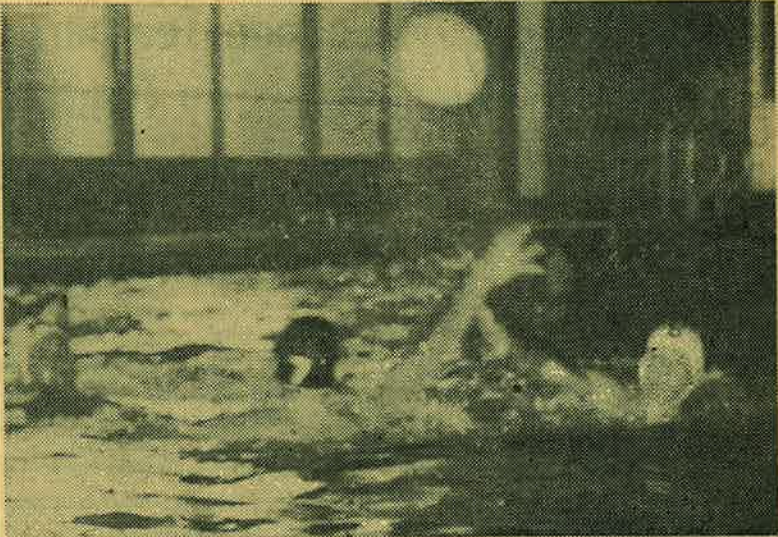

I've discovered a new and fantastically effective muscle building course which I'd like to pass on to all you eager body builders; unfortunately I've run out of room. So good luck!

According to Ram coach Hans Wiedenhoefer, "The Rams will be at full strength and will be ready for this one." The Rams will be without the services of quarterback Dennis Houx, but will be gaining the services of sophomore end Mike Love, who has been layed up with a serious knee injury. Veteran back Vestee Jackson will also be ready for this game as he missed the Taft game due to illness.

Coach Hans Wiedenhoefer stated that due to scholastic difficulties, many Ram players are having to drop out until their grades come up.

Water Polo Squad Meets COP Today

The Rams' water polo team will play the College of Pacific Tigers in an exhibition game at 4 PM today in the Fresno High School pool.

Coach Paul Pastor said that the Tigers, coached by Bilj Anttila, are a very highly rated team in the state and it should be an excellent game.

The starting lineup for the Rams
