Secretary Outlines Registration Procedures

Well, it's that time again. Yes, registration time is upon us; bringing with it the long lines, aching feet and listless hours of waiting for your turn.

With a deadline of Jan. 18, many students are choosing to avoid the last-minute rush and are taking the time to register now.

"If for some reason or other you have not made an appointment to see your counselor, you are urged by the counseling office to do so as soon as possible — appointment dates are still open for counselors," said Mrs. Violet Kelly, counseling center secretary.

As far as instructions to students registering are concerned, the following dates are to be adhered to

No Parking

Paul Starr, the dean of men, said that students parking on the north side of Weldon Ave. and the area where the new gym is being constructed will be cited, and cars parked in this area will be towed away.

unless a change is announced by the administration to speed registration.

January 4 for all students counseled by Dec. 20.

January 5 for all students counseled during the first week in January.

January 6-18 for all students (as they are counseled).

"This procedure in registering is to be followed:

1—Pick up your routing sheet in the Admissions Office.

2—Obtain your pre-registration form from your counselor.

3—Go to room A-128 for a residence check.

4—See the Financial Secretary in the Admissions Office.

5—Have your library card validated at the circulation desk in the library.

6—Fill out your registration book completely, then report to the Admissions Office to complete your registration.

A. Turn in your registration book.

B. Turn in your routing sheet.

C. Sign your (pink) admit cards and have your program card stamped."

Library Books Due

All library books will be due no later than Jan. 19, Jack Wolfenden, FCC librarian, announced.

All overdue books, unpaid fines and lost books must be cleared by this date or the grades of the students involved will be held until the books are returned to the library, Wolfenden said.

No books will be checked out after Jan. 19, the librarian added, until the new semester begins Feb. 1.

The purpose for getting all the books in by Jan. 19 is to get ready for the next semester, concluded the librarian.

Grades Help Repay Loans

Will high grades repay student loans?

A new education plan which would permit college students to pay off Federal loans with high grades, may be sent to Congress this year.

Representative Albert Quie, (R) from Minnesota, one of the members of a special House advisory group on higher education, sketched some of the details recently.

$1,000 Loan

Under the plan, college undergraduates could apply for a Federal loan of up to $1,000 a year to help them continue their studies. The loan would turn into an outright scholarship — with no repayment — for students at the head of their class.

Lower-ranking students would earn correspondingly lower discounts on the original loans.

Eliminate Barriers

AFL-CIO President George Meany also called for a massive Federal program to eliminate all financial barriers to college education.

"We as a people need to establish as a matter of public policy that an individual's ability must be the only ceiling on educational opportunity," said Meany in a prepared speech to labor and educational officials.

Labor Helps

Meany said that the labor movement is "unalterably committed to a massive assault on inequality of educational opportunity," including a stepped-up program of state and Federal aid to colleges and universities.

Other sources said the Kennedy Administration would recommend to Congress a new $120 million-a-year Federal program to improve the quality of public school education. The source said the program would help train teachers and provide incentives to the states to improve their schools.

CALENDAR OF THE WEEK

Dead Week.

Candidates Seek Top Student Body Offices

Voting booths will be set up tomorrow in the foyer of the Student Center and in the foyer of the administration building for the student body election for the spring semester said Commissioner of Elections Jim Baum.

"The voting booths will be open from 8 AM to 3 PM," Baum said.

"Students must show their student body cards to be eligible to vote."

Thomas Unopposed

Tim Thomas, a Roosevelt High School graduate, is unopposed for the office of student body president.

Thomas, a sophomore biology major, served on student council during the fall semester.

Suzanne Hazelton, the present student body treasurer, is unopposed in her campaign for student body vice-president.

Miss Hazelton, a business administration major, is a graduate of the Sierra High School.

Also unopposed for the office of student body secretary is Janet Francesconi, a sophomore secretarial major.

Miss Francesconi is a graduate of the San Joaquin Memorial High School and is serving FCC as a pep girl.

Other Offices

Other students seeking student body offices are Ellen Ewing, Associated Women Students president; Jerry Kuns, Associated Men Students president; and Ann Ehrenburg and Fred Faleta, student body treasurer.

Seventeen students are running for the 10 representative at large posts.

Those seeking office are: Barbara Cavanaugh, Beverly Brewer, Kenneth Maul, Joan Weber, Margaret Russell, Mary Dowler, Ann Cook and Deryl Jordan.

Representative Seekers

John DeWayne Peterson, Judy Moyer, Lloyd Kennedy, Phillip Ginsberg, Mary Conner, Elva Del Rio, Leonard Doos, Barbara Cardone and Sammy Ganimian.

Joseph King, the student government advisor, had this to say about the coming elections:

"We are very fortunate to have competent people running for office, and they deserve the support of the student body; support in the form of votes.

"I would encourage everyone who can to exercise his voting privilege and vote for the candidates of their choice."

Dennis Rogers is the fall semester student body president. Assisting him are Jean Dudley as vice-president, Jeanette Arax serving as secretary and Suzanne Hazelton is the student body treasurer.

Polio Shots Become Must For Students

Poliomyelitis immunization has been ruled mandatory for all students in public and private elementary and secondary schools in California.

The new immunization regulation as announced by the State Board of Public Health will become effective on Jan. 13.

The rules as they effect students and prospective students at Fresno City College according to a Department of Education bulletin are as follows:

1. A student who has been enrolled for the 1961-62 school year, prior to Jan. 13, is not affected by the regulation until he seeks enrollment in the 1962-63 school year.

2. Students who enroll for the first time on or after Jan. 13 must comply with the new law. The state regulation calls for three shots. Entering students may enroll with one shot and show evidence within one year of completion of the second and third shots.

Thus, the ruling does not affect most FCC students until school starts next fall. School authorities warn, however, that all students who are now freshmen and who plan to return next fall should make arrangements for their series of polio shots before school begins in September.

A signed "contrary to beliefs" statement must be presented before new enrollment by those students who do not believe in polio shots.

Students who have had polio shots prior to Jan. 1 will only require a signed statement of the student's parent or guardian or of an adult student himself. Shots taken after Jan. 1 must be verified by a signed statement from a physician or health agency.

Complete details concerning the new law are available in the office of the Dean of Students, Room 118 of the administration building.

Drama Club Has Initiation

Delta Psi Omega, the drama organization at FCC, initiated nine new members over the Christmas holidays at their annual Christmas dinner dance held at the Desert Inn.

Newly initiated into the organization was Diane Benbrook, JoAnn Rizzo, Doreen Kruger, Joyce Robinson, Don Kisner, Robert Bell, George Bryson, Ron Wyckoff and Tony Lozito.

These students were qualified for Delta Psi Omega for their participation in the 'Players' the pledge organization for DPO and their work on the drama organizations last production of "Our Town."

Sam Ganimian, senior pledge trainer, said that all students interested in pledging Delta Psi Omega should attend the next meeting which is to be held Feb. 7, in Room 154 of the administration building.

The March of Dimes noon dance yesterday was the climax of DPO's annual March of Dimes Drive, however, they are still selling peanuts in the foyer of the Student Center building.

DPO is now in the process of planning their annual Mardi Gras Ball and a week of activities which will precede the Ball.

Coed's Speech Wins In FCC Tournament

Sarah Zentner topped the speakers in the All Schools Speech Tournament which was held Jan. 5 on the Fresno City College campus.

Contestants in the preliminary rounds were James Fitzmorris, Gurlabh Baidwan, Phil Fraley, Jerry Salley, Larry Smith, Ron Manfredo, Jerry Rosser, Ron Lewis, Miss Zentner, George Mayers, Marvin Castagna and Rick Gardner.

There were two elimination rounds with the final round beginning at 3 PM.

Second place winner was Baidwan, and third place went to Manfredo.

Finalists

Other finalists were Rosser, Mayers, and Salley.

Judges for the speech contest were Noel Frodsham, Edward Hibler, Clyde Sumpter, Marjorie Cahn, Charles Moran and Robert Kelly.

Student judges included Bill Smith, Barbara Cardone and Dezie Woods.

Franz Weinschenk, director of forensics at FCC, said that all speakers should be commended for a job well done. He also added the competition was close.

Weinschenk Pleased

"I was very pleased with the turnout of this year's All School's Speech Tournament. This was the largest turnout for this speech contest since Phi Rho Pi sponsored the annual tournament.

"I sincerely hope the students who were involved in this contest will continue with their speaking abilities by taking advanced speech classes," concluded Weinschenk.

Where Art Thou Sun?

Where fer art thou sunny boy? Fresno, Fresno, that's my hometown. I think the platter goes something like "the sun shines everyday."

Ah yes, the local tribe basks in the sun every day. Fresnoans wake up in the morning to the beautiful California sun seeping through the window panes.

People from all over the United States come to the land-of-sunshine — truly expecting to see the sun shine day in and day out.

Southern Californians are swimming everyday in 90 plus weather — San Franciscans are wearing bermuda shorts — Fresnoans, on the other hand, are wearing long coats, ear muffs and gloves.

There may be a sunny California, but Fresno is not part of it, at the moment anyway. Layers of thick fog have blanketed our beautiful Raisin City; and people in general and students in particular are viewing in an obnoxious manner.

But the inclement weather may have its advantages, especially to the PE classes which are canceled (mine is anyway). It seems to me that many students dread dressing out for the active course which is suppose to be in line with physical fitness. However, I was shocked to find, while passing by a local junior high school, that a flock of energetic youngsters were prancing through the fog. Oh well, kids will be kids.

All in all, I hope that local Fresnoans will appreciate the blistering weather this summer and remember the past winter.

Here We Go Again

By DENNIS HAGOBIAN

Registration is back. The long lines, pushing and shoving, are here again. Last year this time the registration lines were short, but this year they have grown to tremendous length. This could be due to the change in the registration procedure or the increased amount of students over the year. The question arises . . . How long did it take you to register?

Pam Mazzoni, freshman — "I waited in line Tuesday from 8 AM until noon. After reaching the front, I didn't get my registration cards because they said it was the wrong date for me to register. It has taken me six hours to register. Speedy isn't it?"

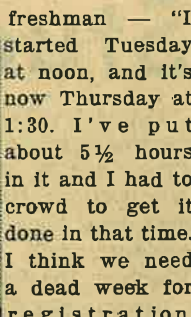

Phil Lybarger, freshman — "It took me about 1½ hours to register, but I didn't get the classes I wanted. It wouldn't have taken me that long, but my counselor made a mistake on my schedule. I don't think anything is wrong with the registration. I hardly had to wait."

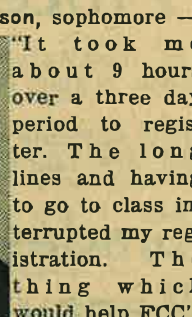

Barbara Cavanaugh, freshman — "There must be an easier way. It has taken me about 4 hours of shoving, fighting and crowding in line to finish in this time. My main peeve is that there is only one lady pulling registration cards for approximately 3,000 FCC students."

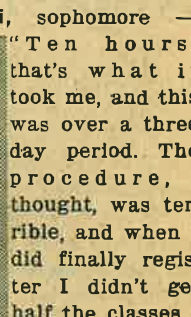

Don Wallace, freshman — "I started Tuesday at noon, and it's now Thursday at 1:30. I've put about 5½ hours in it and I had to crowd to get it done in that time. I think we need a dead week for registration."

Gayle Edmondson, sophomore — "It took me about 9 hours over a three day period to register. The long lines and having to go to class interrupted my registration. The thing which would help FCC's registration procedure is to have more help during registration."

Bill Bettinsoli, sophomore — "Ten hours, that's what it took me, and this was over a three day period. The procedure, I thought, was terrible, and when I did finally register I didn't get half the classes I wanted. I wish one system of registration would be kept."

Many students have cut their classes to register."

Watch Out!

Instructors Make Joke Of Students With Test

By DIANE WOLFE

Think you can follow directions?

Fifty seven students thought they could, and failed the test.

During the semester several instructors have given students a quiz to determine their ability to follow instructions.

Two freshmen and one sophomore went to the head of the class while 57 students failed to pass the first hurdle.

The quiz is tricky if not read carefully, and with a wide-awake mind.

Those who would like to test their ability to fool the instructors, take out a pencil and piece of paper and proceed:

Tricky Test

This is an exercise in following directions. Read each one of the following directions CAREFULLY. There is a limit of 5 minutes.

1. Read everything before doing anything.
2. Put your name in the upper right hand corner of this paper.
3. Circle the word name in number two.
4. Draw five small squares in the upper left hand corner of this paper.
5. Put an "x" in each square.
6. Put a circle around each square.
7. Sign your name at the bottom of this paper.
8. After your name write "Yes, Yes, Yes."
9. Put a circle around each word in sentence seven.
10. Put an "x" in the lower left hand corner of this paper.
11. Draw a triangle around the "x" you just put down.
12. On the reverse side of this paper multiply 348 by 27.
13. Draw a square around the word "paper" in sentence four.

14. Call out the first name when you get to this point in the test.
15. If you think you have followed the directions correctly up to this point, call out: "I have."
16. On the reverse side of this paper add 8,950 and 9,850.
17. Put a circle around your answer. Put a square around the circle.
18. Count out loud in your normal speaking voice backwards from 10 to 1.
19. On the reverse side of this paper divide 75 by 36 and circle the answer.
20. Now that you have finished reading carefully, do only sentences one and two.

Tricky, Yes?

"I warned you that it was tricky, didn't I?" was the comment of the gleeful profs.

The instructors really have a laugh watching students struggle to follow instructions to the letter (Almost to the letter).

Now that I have taken the test myself, I can join in with a chuckle or two when passing a member of the student body pouring over the Rampage with a pencil in hand.

Minnesota Editor Blasts Teenagers' Complaints

A Minnesota editor of the Murray County Herald suggests several ways teenagers of today could devote their time to worthwhile projects instead of wondering what to do with their time.

"Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teenagers . . . what can we do . . . where can we go?" writes a Minnesota editor.

"I can make some suggestions for complaining students. For instance:

"Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves. Mow the lawn. Clean the walk. Wash the car. Help your mom.

"Learn to cook, scrub floors, repair a sink.

"Build a boat. Get a job. Help the minister, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons.

"And when you are through . . . and not too tired . . . read a book.

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment . . . your town does not owe you recreation facilities . . . the world does not owe you a living.

"You owe the world something.

"You owe it your time, and energy, and your talents . . . so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick, or lonely again.

"In plain simple words, grow up.

FCC Students Go To Sea

By WAYNE HUXLEY

Recently two FCC freshmen were selected from 18 students in the diesel engine class to go to sea on the submarine, USS Perch commanded by Captain J. Hitch-bath.

Howell Roberts and John Rhine, diesel engine majors, were on the USS Perch eight hours during which time they ate ham and eggs and investigated the engine room.

"We were interested in the mechanical aspects of the submarine," said Roberts.

Mayor Goes Along

Douglas Dresser, mayor of Clovis, and 25 students from other states accompanied the two FCC students.

"We drove to Hunters Point, San Francisco and left the point about 8 AM," said Rhine.

The submarine went to sea under the Golden Gate Bridge and about 35 miles into open water, commented Roberts.

Expenses Paid

"Most of the expenses were paid by the U. S. government, stated Lt. Maurice Baker of the Fresno Naval Recruiting Office.

Lt. Baker was in charge of the expedition. The USS Perch had served in World War II and is now used as a troop carrier, he said.

"We enjoyed the trip very much," commented both Roberts and Rhine.

Foreign Students Must File Address

FCC foreign students must report their addresses to the government this month, said George Holstein, dean of admissions and records.

Students Give Piano Recital

Students in the advanced piano classes at Fresno City College will present a piano recital, C. Lowell Spencer, choir director, announced.

The recital will be held in Room 141 of the administration building at 8 PM on Jan. 18, he said.

The program for the evening will include solo and duet selections by advanced piano students, he added.

"They will be playing interesting music that I am sure people will enjoy hearing," Spencer commented.

Student artist, Gary Kruger will be featured in a series of numbers by Brahams, Chopin, Gershwin, and Debussy, he continued.

This has been a regular musical event at the end of the semester for the past four years, he concluded.

FSC Student Wins $1,000 Scholarship

A Fresno student, Kaizo Oto, has been granted a $1,000 university scholarship and trophy for his award-winning design in a model car competition.

Oto, a 1961 student at Fresno City College, received the trophy from Stuart M. White, president of city college, on behalf of the school for honors won in the 1961 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition.

The young designer first won a senior division honorable mention award for California while attending city college last spring and received $25.

In Detroit, Oto's model was judged with other winning cars from throughout the country.

It won a styling award resulting in a $1,000 scholarship for the 20-year-old Fresno student.

Oto now is in the general education program at Fresno State College.

"I hope to use the $1,000 award to attend art school," Oto said. "I am very much interested in creative designing.

"Winning the scholarship has given me the encouragement to take the big step into art," he concluded.

Student Insurance Still Being Sold

The Student Insurance Program will again be available during registration, announced Arch Bradshaw, dean of students.

"The premium is $7.50 for spring semester coverage and $12.50 for spring semester and summer coverage," added Dean Bradshaw.

Applications and descriptive material are available at his office in 118 of the administration building, the Dean concluded.

SB President Mourns Lack Of School Spirit

This letter to the student body was written by Dennis Rogers, student body president, after nominations assembly last Tuesday.

This is an open letter to the student body. Tuesday at the nomination assembly for student body officers, one of the best qualified groups of candidates in the history of FCC presented themselves and their platforms to a mere handful of students and three members of the faculty.

There has been much talk lately about a lack of school spirit and student apathy. Many students have expressed dissatisfaction with our school atmosphere.

Complain, Don't Vote

It is ironic that those students who complain the loudest participate least in student activities.

The candidates presented at the nominations assembly will be the students who will decide how your money, which you give through the purchase of your student body card, will be spent during the next semester.

It is astonishing that such a small number of students were concerned with who would be spending their money and how they would be spending it.

There were many new ideas presented by the candidates on how to improve spirit on campus and how to encourage a greater participation in student government.

But few students realize that student government reflects the student body itself; few students recognize that spirited student government and campus activities are made possible only by a spirited student body.

Responsibility Yours

So the responsibility for school spirit falls on the shoulders of you, the individual student. How much are you doing to support your student government and your college?

If you are dissatisfied with school spirit, why don't you offer some constructive ideas for building up school spirit?

If you are ashamed of your school atmosphere, why weren't you at the nominations assembly to hear the platforms and ideas presented by the candidates, and then to support the candidate who you thought would improve our school spirit and atmosphere.

In the last analysis, it is the attitude and enthusiasm of you, the individual student, that will determine the degree of spirit that will pervade the FCC campus.

Conference Play Opens

Billy The Kid Shoots Straight For Tournament Tough Cagers

By LEN BERRY

Following several early season games, FCC basketball coach Joe Kelly and fans alike all had the same outcry—HELP. At the present time with 21 contests under the bridge, the only pleas of assistance come from Ram opponents.

Since dropping a Dec. 9 tilt with San Bernardino, the Rams have won 13 of their last 15, including their initial CCJCAA start last Tuesday evening in Taft, and now own a 17-4 mark.

Crucial Saturday

Kelly will send his victory hungry squad after their second league win Saturday night against Allan Hancock in Santa Maria. The scrap will be the first crucial encounter of the infant CCJCAA slate as the Bulldogs are rated the top contender along with the Rams. Game time is 8 PM.

FCC opened defense of their 1960 crown in fine fashion Tuesday night as they humbled the Taft entry 92-48.

Flashy Billy Hicks had one of his frequent hot nights as he tanked 19 for high honors. Hicks received plenty of help, however, as center Bob Martin netted 15 and Al Uriarte and Steve Mazzoni followed with 13 and 10 respectively.

Leads Taft

Mike Groman was Taft's best with 17 markers.

Tournament play seems to agree with the Ram five in general and hothanded guard Hicks in particular, as FCC has gained the finals in three of three jousts this season, winning once, and the high scoring Hicks has made the all-tournament team on each occasion.

slot in the Bakersfield tourney in late November, the Rams grabbed all the blue chips in the 16 team Sam Barry classic held in Glendale Dec. 26-30.

Led by Hicks and 6'7" forward Rich Turney, FCC ripped Santa Monica 79-67, Glendale 84-75, East Los Angeles 86-71 and old foe Bakersfield 62-58 in the finals to bring home the winner trophy for the first time.

Turney joined Hicks on the all-star selections and was further honored with the Player of the Tournament award.

Other Results

Sandwiched between the Bakersfield and Glendale tournaments were victories over Fullerton, Stockton, Bakersfield, Modesto, Sacramento and Barstow and losses to San Bernardino and Oakland.

The most recent of the FCC tournament ventures, the 24th annual Modesto conflict, saw the Rams impressively gain the finals only to lose to San Mateo 62-48.

FCC knocked off Santa Rosa 56-45, COS 62-48, and touted American River 62-61 before dropping the title tilt. American River had previously derailed Hancock by a good margin.

Hicks tallied 86 points in the four games for a 21.5 average to easily attain all-tournament status. FCC center Bob Martin, who rebounded and scored at a steady pace, also was picked on the Modesto all-star squad.

Hicks leads the Ram scoring with a 17.3 average for the 20 pre-league contests.

By LEN BERRY, Sports Editor

Well, that time is here again. The old office has a new calendar, new year's eve is just another memory and finals are around the corner.

1961, with its birth of the twist and fallout shelters, and its rebirth of "Tropic of Cancer" is history.

GOOD FOR SOME, BAD FOR OTHERS

For some, 1961 wasn't the brightest of years and for others, the sophomore stanza of the swingen sixties was as sweet and wonderful as touching Marlboro tips with Julie London.

In FCC athletic circles, our recently departed year will fondly be recollected as sweet and wonderful, though I'd take Julie London anyway.

For many years an old saying has floated around within hearing distance — Never bet against the Yankees, Notre Dame or the Democrats (or something like that). Well now that the wins, losses and hangovers of 1961 are history, I believe that we better drop Notre Dame and add FCC.

HOW BOUT THESE APPLES

If we were to open the FCC record book to the year 1961, we would see the following:

Basketball — Coach Joe Kelly's roundballers paced by all conference selections Tom Jacobsen and John Malone won the CCJCAA crown and a berth in the state tourney.

Wrestling — The grapplers under athletic director Hans Wiedenhofer, snatched four individual state titles.

Track — Led by high jumper Gene Johnson, the FCC thinclads copped the CCJCAA title and then went on to win the Northern Cal. meet.

Baseball — Coach Len Bourdet's nine jelled like no FCC baseball team has jelled before to garner the CCJCAA, Northern Cal. and State championships.

Tennis — The freshmen riddled net squad under new coach Dan Ozier won the men's singles and doubles in the CCJCAA tourney.

Swimming — Nine of the 13 individual titles in the CCJCAA swim meet fell on the FCC side of the fence.

Cross Country — Another (ho hum) CCJCAA and Northern Cal. crown for harrier and track mentor Erwin Ginsburg.

Football — The gridders compiled a good 7-3 mark and finished in a tie for second in the CCJCAA, with Ron Leimbach paving the way with his hardnose play.

Golf — Led by now departed sophs Jerry Weil and Bill Byrd, the swing set bowed only to COS and finished in the runnerup spot on the CCJCAA ladder.

Water Polo — In describing the polo squad, I will have to quote Coach Jack Williamson, who aptly said, "This year, we spent building character." (Oh yes, the poloists were 2-10 on the season.)

How about it — shall we drop Notre Dame?

I won't touch upon the various other extra curricular accomplishments of the FCC student body for, as it is, I am remaining on the staff by the skin of my big toes, which isn't too thick due to numerous holes in my tennis shoes.
