

'A Dream Come True;' —Queen Robbie Rheam

"When I was a little girl I always wanted to be a queen or princess for Halloween, and I've finally gotten my wish. It's like an answer to my dreams," sobbed Robbie Rheam, after being crowned FCC's 1963 homecoming queen.

Diane Benbrook, 1962 Queen, crowned the tearful winner during the half-time ceremonies at the FCC-American River football game Saturday afternoon at McLane Stadium. Miss Rheam was sponsored by the Phi Beta Lambda, the FCC business club.

Still Dreaming

Miss Rheam, robed in red velvet and carrying a bouquet of red and white carnations, said "It doesn't seem possible, I'm still dreaming."

Six lovely coeds competed for the title of "Harvest Homecoming Queen." They were Susan Hawthorn, From the Associated Women Students; Diane Lawton, nominated by the Associated Men Students; Mary Lopez, by the Latin American Club; Carolyn Taylor, From the Rally Club; Robbie Rheam, by Phi Beta Lambda and Jeanne Vincent, nominated by Sigma Tau Alpha.

The half-time ceremonies began when the candidates entered the stadium and circled the field in a royal procession on their floats. They stopped in front of the stage, on the south side of the field. Inman Perkins and Don Petrucelli escorted the candidates to the stage.

Trophies Awarded

Fred Martin, student body president, gave a welcoming speech and, with the assistance of Kathy Murphy, vice-president; Bill Mazzeo, rally commissioner and Diane Benbrook, past queen, crowned the queen and presented the awards and trophies.

The "Best Float" trophy was presented to Bill Mazzeo in behalf of the Rally Club. The float was decorated in the form of a pumpkin coach, with the queen candidate riding inside and the pep girls sitting in attendance on the base of the float.

Special Trophy

The "Best Participation" trophy and the perpetual trophy were presented to AMS President Jim McLaughlin, in behalf of the Associated Men Students.

Delta Psi Omega, the national drama fraternity at FCC, entered a surprise queen candidate named "Liz Burton." "I don't see how Liz could have lost, we were so sure that she'd win!" said Bob Russell, DPO president.

Phi Beta Lambda, the business club, sponsored the Harvest Dance Friday night.

The decorations included a large cornucopia, a harvest moon over the bandstand, brown and yellow streamers and balloons which hung from the ceiling.

The queen candidates were introduced to the dancers when they burst through the cornucopia with their escorts. This event was climaxed by a "queens waltz."

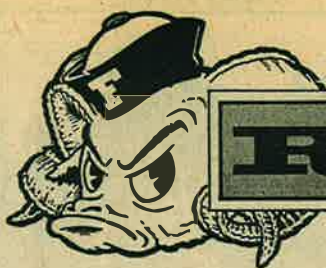

The Ralph Menfredo Band provided the music and Suiaua Muli-tauaple, a foreign student from Samoa, sang songs and played the guitar as an added attraction.

Ill-Fated Parade

After the game Saturday, many fans joined together to form an unauthorized victory parade through downtown Fresno. This parade consisted of the six floats, the Homecoming Queen, her attendants, the pep girls, cheer leaders, band, and approximately 30 cars full of Ram fans.

The parade began in the McLane parking lot and followed a route down Cedar to Belmont, to Blackstone, ending at Fulton St. The parade then "detoured" to Van Ness Blvd. to the FCC campus, where it ended in much dismay.

"People came running out of their houses and lots of little kids and old ladies were cheering and waving as we rode down the streets. I guess they've never seen a parade on their street before," said one student participant.

The Hard Way

SJCC Flyers Drop In On Antioch

Four San Jose City College marketing club representatives, homeward bound after a recent conference at FCC, escaped serious injury when their light plane crashed near Antioch.

The men, two students and two instructors, had just attended a meeting here to discuss the possibilities of affiliating junior college marketing clubs into a statewide organization.

After an unsuccessful attempt to get additional fuel at the Fresno Air Terminal, the pilot, student James C. Sampair, decided their fuel, enough for two and a half hours flying time, would be enough for the hour and 15 minute trip.

Poor weather conditions later set in, and with their fuel running low, Sampair circled Antioch hoping to find an airport.

A city police car attempted to lead the plane to the airport, but the fuel gave out and Sampair attempted a landing in a vineyard.

The plane ended up on its back and the pilot and the occupants, student Royce Payne and instructors Ralph C. Wildermann and Richard Casey, walked away unscratched.

Debaters To Open Season Tomorrow

Fresno City College's newly formed debate team will make its first appearance tomorrow and Saturday.

They will travel to Stanford University to compete against other two and four year colleges from the northern California area. The subject upon which they will take negative or affirmative stands is; Resolved: That the Federal Government should guarantee an opportunity for higher education to qualified high school graduates.

The team's ten members are: Carol Appleby, Michaela Gonzales, John Hacherian, David Hancock, William Martin, Bettie Nole, Marlene Smith, Mary Stanfield, Robert Weinstein, and Gerald Wootan.

There will be "Superior" awards given to those debaters who lose no more than one debate.

Tomorrow Marks Dead Week End

With the ending of "dead week" tomorrow, students will be preparing for mid-term exams, starting Monday.

"Dead week" was first instituted on the FCC campus three years ago.

"In 1960, FCC students asked the administration for one week before mid-term exams and semester finals, during which there would be no activities on campus," said Miss Doris Deakins, dean of women.

"There are no rules starting that teachers cannot give tests or have assignments due," added Miss Deakins, "The only restrictions during "dead week" are that there can be no club activities or meetings."

Regular campus activities will resume the week following mid-term exams.

Personal Ads To Appear In Next Rampage

A new feature will make its debut in the next issued of The Rampage.

The feature, according to editor Tom Walls, will be a "Personal Classified" section, in which students will be urged to submit advertisements of a personal nature—such as; "Boy wishes to meet girl," or, vice-versa.

"The standard student advertising fee of 50 cents will be waived in this instance," Walls said, "in the hope that students will feel free to make use of the service."

"The Rampage will respect the wishes of the advertisers," Walls added, "particularly in regards to their desire to remain anonymous."

Communications intended for publication could read similar to the following: "FCC male student, 21, wishes to make acquaintance with female student. Prefer blonde, with interest in politics, sports cars and Yogi." Send inquiries to 'The Rampage, Box 5'."

Walls stressed that all correspondence handled by the office "will be treated with utmost respect for the parties involved—no letters will be opened!"

Interested students were urged to mail their advertisements to "The Rampage, Care of Fresno City College, 1101 University Ave. Fresno Calif."

Although the student's name need not appear in the ad, it must be contained in the letter submitted to the office.

"This is to prevent outside interests from taking advantage of the service," Walls said, "and students may be rest assured that the information will be given to no one!"

Cunning Wins Frosh Presidential Post

Dannion Cunning emerged victorious in the run-off election for freshman class president, held last Friday.

Cunning announced that no definite plans will be made until he meets with the rest of the officers, but he indicated that there will be a "definite difference."

"People will once again look at FCC with respect. We will put this college right up on top, where it belongs!"

Cunning indicated a desire to work very closely with the sophomore class officers. He hopes the school will be able to function together as "a school team with mass school spirit."

He urged more participation in the freshman class, and he wants members to become better orientated on the new form of student government.

When the announcement of his victory was made, Cunning publicly expressed his gratitude and said "with a lot of cooperation from everyone, I will try to do a real good job."

Rampage Holiday

Due to the break for mid-terms during the coming week, The Rampage will not be published next Thursday.

Charles Wright, managing editor, said that the next edition will be in the news stands on Nov. 14.

The staff will take advantage of the "vacation" to analyze past issues and plan for improvements where necessary.

Seven staff members, along with advisor Tim Welch, will travel to the JAJC journalism conference, scheduled for Saturday at Foothill College, near Santa Cruz.

PLEASE TEST US ON SUBJECTS WE KNOW!

It is popular nowadays to criticize college scholastic programs. People claim that we are not well orientated in such subjects as history, English, science and mathematics. With mid-terms just around the corner, many of us will prove that the criticism is justified.

No one can claim, though, that we come out of school completely uneducated. The trouble is we are not tested on the subjects we are familiar with. Obviously!

How about a test like this to raise the grade points which suffer so under the load of the above topics.

1. Name eight brands of beer. Double credit will be given for foreign brands.
2. Mr. _____ is a bald-headed man who can clean your house and everything that's in it.
3. From the list below, pick the name of the author of "The Tropic of Cancer." (A) Winston Churchill (B) Billy Graham (C) Henry Miller.
4. Name the darkest spot at Lost Lake.
5. An XK-E is (A) A powerful chemical acid (B) A brand of tamales (C) A powerful sports car.
6. "Scotch on the Rocks" is (A) A famous painting of a Scottish mountain climber (B) A roll of adhesive on a pile of gravel (C) None of these.
7. Give 175 reasons why college coffee shops should serve beer on tap.

Campus Glances

Spectacular Ram Homecoming

By DAVID PACHECO, Feature Editor

It's over! Homecoming '63 has left the scene of FCC's campus. All the glamour, excitement and glitter of homecoming is gone. Three solid days of fun and excitement came to a climax at half-time with the crowning of Robbie Rheam as homecoming queen at last Saturday's football game against American River Junior College.

Everyone who had a hand in it deserves a pat on the back. Seldom has so much energy been put into the festivities by so many unselfish people. But many memories remain such as the crowning of a tearful queen, a football victory, the campus homecoming parade, a swinging dance, and that swingin' safari through the downtown streets of Fresno. Ah, yes these memories won't be forgotten—(sob, sob). What a tear-perker! — better stop — before making a three-act tragedy out of it!

Ram footballers find themselves on top of the valley conference standings after scoring their third consecutive victory over the American River Beavers game. This week Coach Slaughter's eleven will ramble into the state capitol to collide with the Sacramento City College Panthers. Plan to attend. You can bet the Rams will be loaded for panther.

CONGRATULATIONS... Don't hang down your head Bill Mazzeo the Fresno City Police sends you greetings for your handling of last Saturday's parade through Fresno's downtown area. It was the most unprovoked, irresponsible and mad joy-ride ever undertaken through the main drag of Fresno. Playing cops and robbers wasn't easy. Eh? But boy it was fun!

Santa Cruz here we come! Six rampagers will trek to Aptos Santa Cruz County for a journalism conference (including me!). Our noble editor will remain (he wasn't invited)—I understand there won't be a rampage published next week—Hooray! I guess it is dead-head week after all—when they mean dead they really mean it.

Can FCC's answer to the parking problem be solved? Feel grouchy in the morning when getting up because of an 8 AM class, just having half an hour to eat breakfast, pick up your girlfriend, drive through the early morning traffic, and have just enough time to be stopped by the red train signal that flashes off and on?

But worse comes to worse, as the grouchiest part of this miserable morning is yet to come! After waiting five minutes for the train you can't find a lousy parking space, so being already late for the class, you park in an illegal parking space, hoping there won't be a little tag on your windshield when you return.

Well if the girls don't feel ladylike riding a bike, even with their boyfriends, tell them to ride one themselves.

Faculty cyclists William A. Reynolds, instructor of French and English and David H. Hendrickson, history and geography instructor ride bikes daily to and from campus. They believe that bikes not only provide healthful exercise, but may solve the parking problem, a long time menace to FCC students and faculty.

So if you want to solve the parking problem, and be on time for your 8 AM class, and you want to do the best for yourself; take a bike—beat the train, park where you want—don't be detained.

HANG ON! Faculty cyclists David Hendrickson, front, and William Reynolds navigate a sharp turn around the administration building enroute to their 8 AM classes.

Legates Speak At Roundtable

Rick Wrightson, Kathy Murphy, and Leslie Gunzel, three of the FCC People-to-People ambassadors of last summer, gave a brief resume of their adventures abroad at the meeting of the Educational Roundtable Group October 22.

The Educational Roundtable Group is a section of People-to-People members consisting of about 30 persons. Mrs. Dorothy Naman, a spokesman for People-to-People, said that after the information was related questions were asked concerning the future of People-to-People. She feels that "there is a continuing interest in the club and it is showing constant improvement."

Edward Owensby, president of the World Affairs Council, has made arrangements for Wrightson, Miss Murphy and Miss Gunzel to appear on KAIL-TV on Nov. 5 at 8:30 PM. This will be a documentary type program, he said.

117 Students Placed In Jobs

The FCC Student Placement Office, Operated by the California State Department of Employment, reports it placed 117 students during the month of September in full or part-time jobs ranging from typists to pizza bakers.

The majority of the jobs were in the general labor or clerical categories such as sales and stock clerks, baby sitters, yardworkers and service station attendants.

Other jobs in which students were placed were bellboy, ushers, porters, toy assembler, delivery boys and winery inspector.

FCC placement officers are Dorothy Ediger and Blainy Shelton.

Record Attendance Drops By 339

Decreasing the record breaking 6019 fall enrollment total is a 339 drop out figure compiled at the end of the fourth week of school.

Day attendance has dropped from 3007 to 2926, while night enrollment decreased from 1975 to 1743. This was a decline of 232 regular night students.

Other withdrawals included 4 high school honor students, 3 "Plan B" students and 19 "Plan C" students.

PEOPLE-TO-PEOPLE HEAD FEATURED IN DIGEST

Working through People-to-People, which has a chapter at Fresno City College, the average American can make a strong contribution to world-wide friendship and understanding.

This is the theme of an article in the November issue of Reader's Digest by Dwight D. Eisenhower, former president of the United States and chairman of the board of People-to-People, Inc. This international organization, founded by Eisenhower in 1956, is a movement of private citizens which encourages contacts and communication among the world's people to build good will and respect.

"All of us—men, women and children—can join in a movement which I like to think of as an 'epidemic of friendship' among the peoples of the world," Eisenhower said. "It is a movement which in time could seep under the structures of governments and, through sheer force of popular opinion, create an international climate in which a genuine neighborliness of nations would thrive."

Frederick Wrightson, chairman of the FCC chapter of People-to-People, said the story explains the history of this organization and the many ways in which it works to bring peoples of various countries together to build mutual understanding and peace. Reader's Digest will be on the newsstands in late October.

Wrightson said the Digest story will be discussed on the television program "All America Wants to Know," which will be carried in this area in mid-November.

FCC Rams Conquer Third Straight Foe

Cagers Practice For Nov. Opener

Cal. State JC Title At Stake For Hoopers

By DON MENCARINI

Fresno City College state championship basketball team has begun practice in an effort to retain their crown.

Coach Joe Kelly and assistant John Toomasian are working their squad out every afternoon in preparation for the coming season. Kelly's 35-5 record of last year will be hard to match this year.

With the loss of guards Billy Hicks and Steve Mazzoni, Kelly will be trying hard to find a replacement for them. Both Hicks and Mazzoni were valuable play-makers and shooters.

Loses Loyear, Turney

Forwards John Loyear and Rich Turney will also be hard to replace. Turney was one of last years top scoring punches.

All-State center Lonnie Hughey, who can do just about everything with the round ball, is looking for another good season. Last year the 6-8 star averaged 18.6 points a game during the regular season.

Another returning letterman from last year will be guard George Monreal.

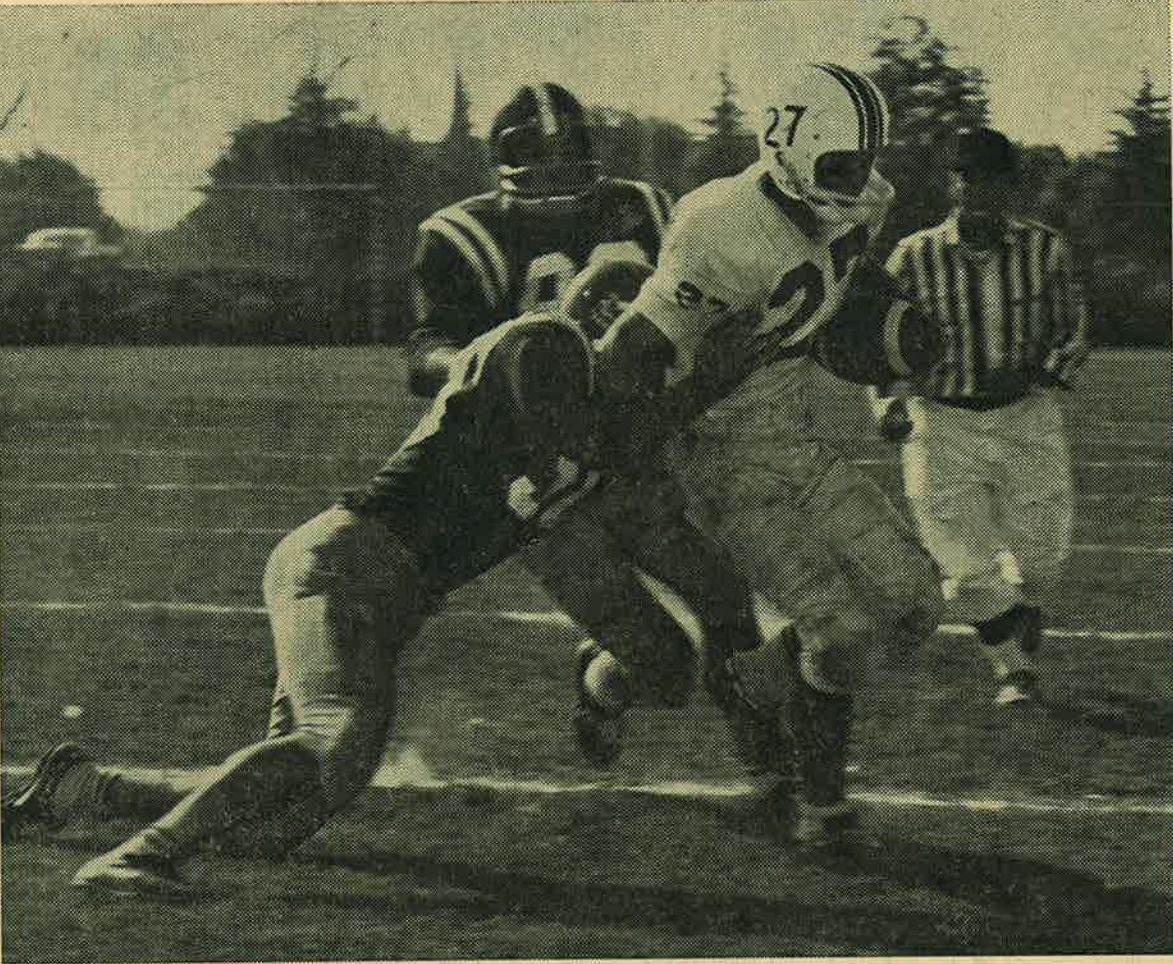

No. 6 Man On Team

Last year Monreal was the sixth man on the team. Monreal is offend compared with former Fresno State College and FCC star George Sarantos. He is expected to be a starting guard this year.

Many outstanding high school players are vieing for starting rolls. Among them are Ed Austin and Larry Scott from Fresno High, Ron Lewis from SJM, John Cates former McLane star, and Martin Elrod a star from Chowchilla.

ORIGINALITY — Lonnie Hughey (bottom) and George Monreal are shown being the first to break in the new FCC gym last year. Both are returning lettermen.

DEFENSIVE SHOW—Defending halfbacks Ron Cox (making tackle on Beaver Al Bianciani) and Steve Righards are two reasons out of 11 that produced the Ram's third straight win. The other nine also spell defense. Fresno edged American River JC, 12-6. (Clark Photo)

Martinez, Smith Pace Runners In Losses To COS, Sacramento

Fresno City College cross country runners lost to the College of the Sequoias, 23-32, in a Valley Conference meet on the Miller-ton Lake course Friday.

The leading two runners of the meet were George Jiminez and Arthur Ramos, both of COS, clocking at a time of 17:06.

Martinez Takes Third

Top FCC finisher was Frank Martinez, who placed third with a time of 17:18. The loss lieves Fresno with an 1-2 record and lieves COS with a winning 2-1 record.

COS is the defending conference dual meet champion.

In a dual cross country meet at William Land Park, Sacramento, FCC was defeated by Sacramento City College, 25 1/2-29 1/2, October 18.

Sacramento had three of the first five harriers to cross the finish line, including the first and second place runners in the three mile run.

First Across For FCC

Ron Smith, freshman for Fresno, who placed third, was the first Ram runner to cross the finish line, with a time of 16:47.

Running in fifth place was Bob Van Ingen of Fresno, with a time of 17:06.

The rest of the top runners for Fresno were Frank Martinez, sixth; Larry Stocks, seventh; and Pete Fekete, finished eighth.

Knott—Only Vet. Eligible Nine Frosh Out For Wrestling

By DON FOSTER

Woodrow Knott, last year's Northern California and Valley Conference wrestling champion in the 191-pound weight division, is the only sophomore eligible for Hans Wiedenhoefer's grappling squad during the fall semester.

"We need men mainly in the 177 and 157-pound weights," requested Wiedenhoefer, "But anybody can come out."

Next semester, sophs Keith Boyer, Warren Gray, and Rodney Crook will be eligible to participate in the muscle twisting sport.

Old Coach—New Faces

Wiedenhoefer, who just return from Holland after a year of teaching (financed by a Fulbright Scholarship), could not predict much on the season's outcome, do to his absents, but did say:

"Have have some good wrestlers out, but we won't know what we will do until we go through some matches."

Ron Marques, 103-pound Valley champion from Fresno High, is joined by Amondo Jacobo, 147-pound Valley champ from Roosevelt High, and Dave Rocha, 130-pound runner-up in the Valley Championships last year from Fresno High, in sporting the best in high school records last season.

Other frosh working out to get down to their weights are Joe Elia, 112-pounds from Fresno High; Tom McCarthy, 123-pounds from Bullard; Joe Armas, 123 or 130-pounds from Roosevelt; Dave Austin, 137-pounds from Fresno; Sam Karagavourina, 157-pounds from Clovis; and Rich Wharton, heavy-weight from McLane.

The coaches expect pigskinners

Frank Kerby and Milt Pickford out after the football season ends in two weeks.

Wrestles At 167 lbs.

Kerby is expected to wrestle at either the 167-pound limit or the 177-pound level, while Pickford, a 5-9, 230-pound tackle on the FCC football team, is expected to lose about 20 pounds before grappling in the heavy-weight division.

Boyer, Gray, and Crook are expected to weigh 167-pounds, 177-pounds, and 191-pounds, respectively.

Hardesty's Blocked Punt Saves Day

Thanks to Jim Hardesty, FCC defensive end, the Fresno City College Rams, 3-3 for season, are knotted with southern rival, College of Sequoias of Visalia in the neck and neck race for the Valley Conference title.

Hardesty, a converted quarterback from Hollywood, Florida, charged through the heavy American River Junior College line in the final period of Saturday's homecoming contest to block Beaver John Pafco's punt.

Buckler Hits Paydirt

End Mike Buckler grabbed the loose ball and hustled 10 yards into the endzone untouched to give Fresno a 12-6 victory.

COS kept pace with the locals by edging Sacramento City College, the Rams next opponent, 6-0, which gave the Giant's defense two unscored-against games.

Modesto Junior College, predicted at the start of the season to be Mr. Rough and Tough of the VC, is cellar-dwelling with American River with 0-2 marks.

San Joaquin Delta College of Stockton and Sacramento are in the middle of the standings with even 1-1 records.

Head coach Clare Slaughter's defensive secondary is still proving that it is one of the strongest in the State.

Center line-backer Frank Kerby took his turn in thievery of enemy passes Saturday, when he snatched one of Beaver quarterback Jerry Wilson's completed 11 passes for 92 yards—several yards less than in games before.

Ram Offense—Poofs

FCC's offense was in a state of collapse Saturday night, but did manage to hang the pigskin long enough to give the defense rest for one of their best defensive efforts of the year.

Halfback Harry Miller, as usual, was the top totter for both the Rams and the game. Miller punched out 58 yards in 16 carries for a 3.6 percentage.

Another offensive bright spot was alternate halfback Dave Ruiz, who caught two passes for 31 yards.

The score by quarters:

ARJC	0	6	0	0—6
Fresno	0	0	6	6—12

ARJC—Wilson 9, run (kick failed).

Fresno—Blehm 1, run (kick failed).

Fresno—Buckler 14, recovered blocked kick (kick failed).
