

FCC Presents Annual Fine Arts Festival; Many Events Slated For Next Week

Martin Elected SB President; New Constitution Passed

Fred K. Martin Jr. was elected the new Associated Student Body president in the election held last Friday.

Other officers are Kathy Murphy, vice president; Caroline Poindexter, secretary; Larry Krum, Treasurer; Jim McLaughlin, Associated Mens President; Susan M. Hawthorne, Associated Womens President.

The total of 516 votes is the largest total for several years. Commissioner of elections Chuck Overs announced that he was pleased with the total voter turnout. He stated that he congratulates all of the candidates and hopes they have a good term of office.

A new constitution to replace an older form was also passed by an overwhelming vote of the students.

The many minor changes will not affect the activities of the students. Most changes were updatings of the old constitution.

The major change made a 2.0 grade average all that is needed at mid-terms of the president and vice president. This was reduced from the present 2.5 average. This does not change the 2.5 overall average that is still needed by these officers. Also it leaves at 2.0 the averages that remaining council officers must maintain.

New representatives at large for the fall semester are: Jemima Chan, Percy Garcia, Maaike M. Maks, Wayne Jacobsen, Irving D. Lee, Milaun A. Dowell, David H. Coleman, Bernice C. Gade, Bruce A. Madsen, and Carol L. Schaeffer.

The council was installed last night at the annual student council banquet.

The group will get together during the summer to make plans for the coming year.

"I wish all the members of the new council," stated Martin, "would attend the council meeting next Tuesday, since it is the last chance for them to see how the council works."

Les Baxter's Balladeers will play at FCC Monday night. The Group is just one of the many events FCC has slated for the coming week.

Rampage Errors

Due to an error printed in the Rampage last week, many students may be under the impression that the summer session offers night courses.

Only day courses will be offered in FCC's first summer session beginning July 1. These courses will be held in the morning hours.

Drama Club To Present 'The Boy Friend' In Arts Festival

By DAVID PACHECO

The second annual Fresno City College Fine Arts Festival begins tonight as "The Boy Friend," FCC's first musical attempt, opens in the college social hall at 8:15 PM.

"The Boy Friend" will also be presented on Saturday night, May 18, and on May 23, 24, and 25.

Clyde G. Sumpter, the musical comedy's director and festival coordinator, said the highlight of the Fine Arts Festival will be the appearance of the Les Baxter Balladeers, a popular folk singing group, on Monday, May 20, at 8 PM in the administration building's east courtyard.

In addition, the festival will include two other events to be presented at 8 PM in the east courtyard of the administration building.

The first is a concert by the college band under the direction of Marvin L. Bedford on Tuesday night, May 21 and a concert by the college choir directed by C. Lowell Spencer on Wednesday, May 22.

Art students of Curtis D. Draper and Walter E. Witt will present their creations during the third annual Art-O-Rama May 20 through 24 from 8 AM to 10 PM daily in the student center patio.

The outdoor art exhibit will display ceramic sculptures, drawings, paintings, and portraits.

Many of the items on display will be for sale.

Fine Arts President Roger Derryberry said that he is making arrangements for five local jazz and folk singing groups to perform during the noon hour at the Art-O-Rama.

Derryberry announced the groups tentatively scheduled to appear. They include the Big House Group, with Jackie Willis as the featured vocalist, the Shantymen from Fresno State College, a jazz quintet, plus two other acts as yet unnamed.

Diane Benbrook, Stephen Berglund, Kathryn Thomas, Anna Tookoian, and Richard Fagundes play the leads in "The Boy Friend."

Darrel Rogers is the business manager, Russell, the stage manager, and Joyce Robinson is the wardrobe mistress.

Sumpter's classes in theater craft and rehearsal and performance techniques and members of Delta Psi Omega, FCC's dramatic organization, will assist with the production.

Dezie Woods is the choreographer of the play.

"Since 'The Boy Friend' is FCC's first musical, it will be a new experiment," said Sumpter,

FCC Musicians Present Show

Due to the lack of talent assemblies at FCC, some of the students are putting on an assembly.

The assembly along with "The Boy Friend" will start off the Fine Arts Week. The show will begin at 12 PM tomorrow and end at 1 PM. It will be held in the cafeteria patio.

The participants are: Jim Ganduglia, Stan (Dean) Paramore, Freddie McCavrin, Oliver Patterson, Clarence Pennywell, Henry Gorden, Jim Cone, Don Weed, Inman Perkins, John Hughes, Harry Dashjian, and Jeanie Powell.

The show will consist of jazz, rock and roll, and rhythm and blues and will be held in the auditorium.

Admission is free.

Annual Spring Formal At Rainbow Ballroom Tomorrow

Fresno City College's spring formal for 1963 will be held tomorrow night from 9 PM to 1 AM at the Rainbow Ballroom. The Associated Men Students and Associated Women Students are co-sponsors of the dance.

AWC President Joe Beth Jackson said that "Colonial Springtime" will be the theme of the dance and the Bob Hughes Orchestra will provide the music.

She added that the spring formal is the climax of spring activity at FCC and that AMS President Larry Krum and herself urge all students to plan to attend.

"Everybody has worked hard," she remarked, "and this will be one of the best spring formals FCC has ever had."

The heads of the committees disclosed by Miss Jackson are as follows: Robert Hughes, music; Dody Stocks, refreshments; Milaun Dowell and Mitchell Bower, bids and invitations; Richard Fagundes, Robert Russell, Carolyn Poindexter, and Barbara Didier, decorations; Barbara Roth and Roger Moon, publicity; and Tom Griffin, special effects and lighting.

Dead Week Coming

Dead Week, scheduled for May 27-31, is only two weeks away.

Student social activities will be at a standstill and the library should be working at capacity. The few weeks remaining in the semester following dead week will consist of the final exams.

THE MOST DEADLY ANIMAL ON EARTH

The current race riots in Birmingham, Ala. point out one important fact—we are not a nation comprised entirely of mature, rational beings.

We set ourselves as an example to the entire world. We want everyone everywhere to look upon us as their ultimate goal—"Follow our example and someday you will be as great as America."

It is no small wonder we have not injured our elbows patting ourselves on the back. It is unbelievable that in our "ultimate" society the government must revert to the use of police dogs and fire hoses to keep us from killing each other. Yet, it happens. It happened in Little Rock. It happened again at the University of Mississippi, and now it is happening in Birmingham.

Some say the situation is improving. This seems hard to believe. Whites are banding into even tighter sects, many of them bent upon violence if necessary to prevent integration. Negroes are turning, in desperation, to such fanatical groups as the Black Muslim Society, which preaches black supremacy.

And yet, in the hands of this same nation lies the power to destroy the entire human race with unspeakable weapons. There hangs in a cage at the Bronx zoo a mirror, which flashes back the image of the person looking into the cage. Over the mirror hangs a sign reading "The Most Dangerous Animal In the World."

There is more truth than folly in this statement.

Deadline Nears For Caps, Gowns

If 41 more students respond before tomorrow noon, this will mark the first year that all graduating students have rented caps and gowns for graduation.

Mrs. Jewel Herbert, bookstore manager, said that already 192 students have paid their rental fees, leaving only 41 outstanding.

"Already", she said, "this is the largest number in history to participate in a Fresno City College graduation."

Those eligible, but who have not yet reserved their caps and gowns, are William Asselin, Gary Bethke, John Crosby, George Cox, Kenneth Kritchlow, Roger Derryberry, Theron Dowell, Richard Forkner, Darryl Grewell, Marvan Hardary, Lee Hayes, David Howerton, Darrell Jensen, Raymond Johnson, Carolyn Lindgren, Donald Lockhart, Pauline Marcellino, James Markarian,

Rampage Lists Staff Openings

The Fresno City College journalism department reported that there are still several openings on the Fall semester staff of the Rampage.

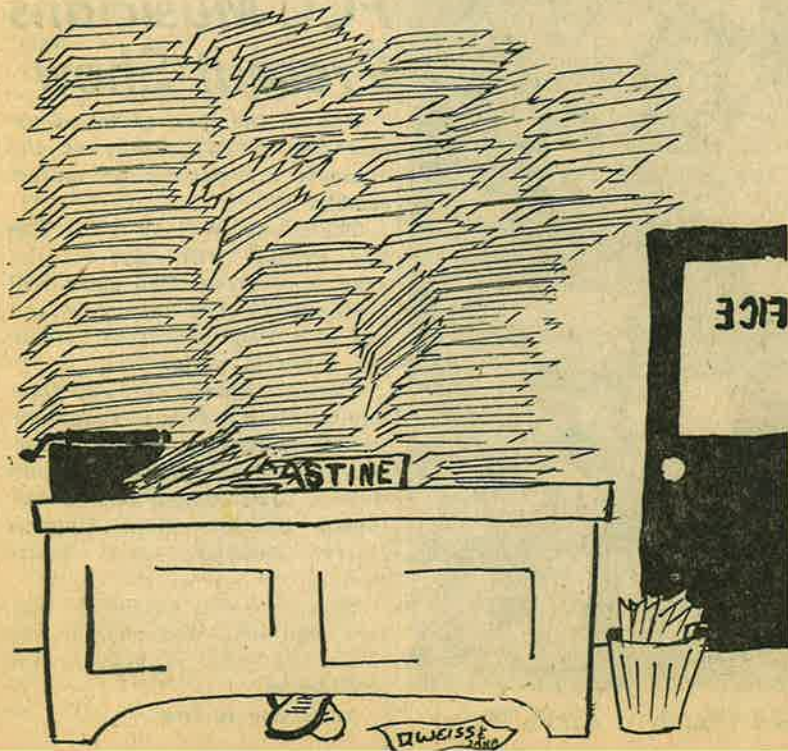

Advisor Philip Smith said positions are available for students with or without previous experience in the field. Students interested in the fields of newspaper reporting, editing, circulation and business management will be welcomed. He said that opportunities also exist in the advertising and clerical departments.

Smith said that two semester units are awarded students who work on the staff of the Rampage, but added that 3 more units may be earned by taking the Reporting class, Journalism 3.

He urged interested students to discuss the program with their counselors, or with himself.

Smith's office is located in room 211 of the student center.

Opportunities Available For JC Retailers

Opportunities for career employment in retail stores are growing even though there is an increasing number of high school, junior college, and four-year college students seeking jobs.

Retail store officials, however, are seeking students with specialized training and aptitudes.

Employers Visit Campus

Representatives from several large retail national chains have visited the Fresno City College Business Division seeking students with specialized merchandise education for management training positions.

They have expressed a preference for junior college students as executive trainees.

Students are being hired for fulltime summer positions with the provision that they enroll in the Merchandising Field Experience Program in the fall.

'No Applications'

One of the students enrolled in the Merchandising Field Experience Program for next year was recommended for employment to the local manager of a large national chain. He was hired in spite of the fact that a sign in the personnel office indicated that applications were not being accepted.

The merchandise field experience class is designed to provide middle management training for the fields of retailing, wholesaling and direct selling.

2 Hours - 3 Units

The class meets two hours each week. All students in the class must be employed an average minimum of 15 hours per week. Three hours of college credit per semester are granted for the successful completion of the course.

For further information concerning the merchandise field experience class, students are urged to contact Gervase Eckenrod, dean of the business division, or Dr. Gilbert Peart, coordinator of the merchandising field experience program.

Driving Trials Scheduled For May 18

FCC drivers from the ages of 18 to 25 may enter a citywide Young Driver's Safety Clinic.

The clinic will be held at the Fresno District Fairgrounds on May 18. The event is sponsored by the Fresno County Farm Bureau.

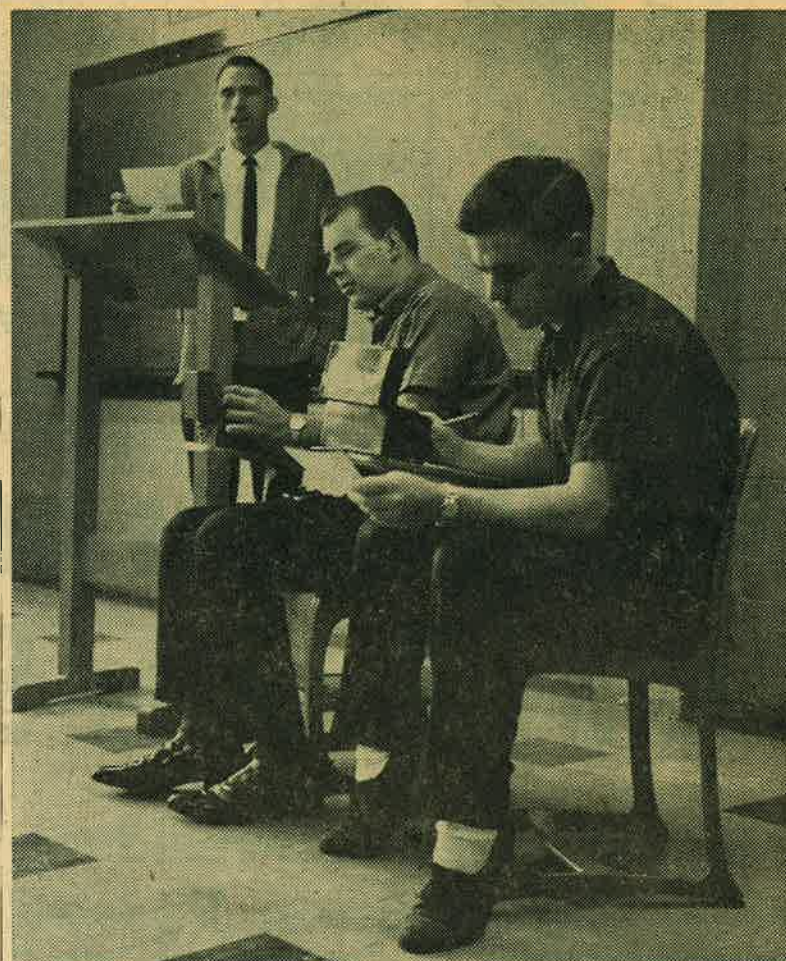

Interested students must telephone the Fresno County Farm Bureau (ADams 7-0263) or the Cal-Farm Insurance Company (AMherst 8-7386) for reservations by 5 PM tomorrow.

The program for Saturday includes a showing of safety films, a safety drivers quiz using the California Vehicle Code as its basis, a talk about citations and insurance rates, a panel discussion and a driver contest and vehicle safety check.

Members of the California Highway Patrol, the Fresno City Police Department and the Fresno County Sheriffs Department will begin the day at 9 AM with an introduction.

At 4 PM awards and certificates of participation will be given to the students. The awarding of trophies will be based on the safety quiz, vehicle safety and the obstacle course.

Participants in the clinic will meet at the fairgrounds cafeteria at 9 AM. Lunch will be served at noon after the panel discussion.

DEBATE LEADERS—William Germany, Dan Borders and David Hancock.

Debaters Win Awards At FSC Conference

Charles Overs was awarded first place in oratory and Robert Rogers won first place in informal debate at the annual Junior College Speech Arts Conference held on the Fresno State College campus May 11.

Debate coach Franz Weinschenk said that Karen Hayes took second place in the informal debate contest, followed by Ron Manuto and Dan Borders. Marlene Smith placed third in the oratory division, followed by John Bailey, who took fourth.

Miss Hayes also won third place in oral interpretation.

Weinschenk said that Porterville College and Fresno State College were the other participants in the meet, with Coalinga

College sitting in as an observer.

Advisors from the four schools attended a seminar for professors which dealt with the educational problems of the current decade.

Weinschenk reminded students interested in debate that there will be many openings on the Fall debate squad. He urged interested students to contact him personally to discuss the debate program.

Kentucky Crackdown On Necking Fails

Let us suppose just for a minute you are a dormitory resident at a four year college, location unimportant. Let us also suppose that one evening, around midnight, you return from a date, dreamy eyed and full of amorous thoughts about the charms of the opposite sex.

Suddenly your eye catches sight of an official looking sign prominently posted at the head of the dormitory steps. You read the sign. You gasp. You choke. Your face flushes with anger. You read the sign again. Nope, no mistake about it, that's what it says—"New Official College Rules In Regards To Proper Conduct Between Young Men And Women During Moments Of Seclusion."

Conspicuous among the long list of outrageous rules then listed are such warnings as "Girls while sunbathing may not talk to boys," or "Goodnight kisses must be brief." Then the real knee-slapper—"Students in cars must keep their heads in view at all times."

What would you do, I mean after you had regained your composure? "Ridiculous!" you say. "No college would post such rules." Ridiculous, I agree, but some college did post such rules. Western Kentucky State College, to be exact.

What happened? Oh, nothing that a fire truck, a few dozen policemen and a fire hose couldn't cure. That's right, a full scale demonstration. Roughly one thousand indignant students marched en masse down the hill from the dormitory and demonstrated for several hours, dispersing only after several had been escorted to the local bastille.

College officials, upon hearing of the near-riot, pleaded ignorance. They denied ever having posted such rules, which may have been the case.

Congratulations to Fred Martin and the other election victors.

This writer feels the student voters could not have made a wiser choice in selecting the man to represent them in the community, and to other colleges. Martin has proved his administrative ability in the past, and will serve the school well.

Congratulations also to Fred Faieta, outgoing president, for a job well done. Faieta survived, and even retained his composure, during many a trying moment during his two semester term. I believe I can speak on behalf of the entire student body in expressing our gratitude.

Festival Hosts Local Jazz, Folk Singers

"but our cast is very eager to do a good job."

The complete cast consists of seasoned performers who have appeared in many productions and others who will be appearing in their first play.

I urge everyone to attend this delightful comedy as I am sure that they will enjoy it."

The three act comedy was written by Sandy Wilson as a musical satire on the 1920's. The setting is the French Riviera at a girls' finishing school during carnival time. The central theme is the basic problem of every girl getting her man.

The featured performers of the Fine Arts Festival are the Les Baxter Balladeers.

The Balladeers are currently one of the hottest new acts in the field of entertainment.

They have appeared in well-known night clubs, numerous television shows, and have recorded an album.

The Balladeers are directed by Les Baxter, who selects all of their material, creates the arrangements and directs all of the staging. Their act is divided into three segments spotlighting folk singing, the popular standards of today and the audience sing-along sections.

The Balladeers consist of Peggy Taylor, Phil Campos, Jerry Yester, Paul Hansen, and Ted Botkin.

Miss Taylor, the featured soloist on popular standards, is a veteran performer on television and on the night club circuit. She is known as "Hollywood's Queen of Commercials," since she can be heard as the vocalist on many TV commercials.

Campos, also a soloist, has appeared in numerous night spots across the country. He is one of the most exciting members of the Balladeers as he sings with a most unusual style.

Yester, a former member of the New Christy Minstrel Singers, plays the banjo and is the comedian of the group.

Hansen plays the guitar and teams with his sidekick, Yester, to provide the laughs.

Botkin, also a guitarist, is the last member of the group. He came to them via Indiana University. His father is the very famous Perry Botkin, currently the musical director for "The Beverly Hillbillies" on television.

Director Spencer said seven soloists will be featured at the concert.

The vocalists are Patricia Ar-mer, Leonard Hoskins, Margaret Reta, David Nelson, William Petersen, Michael Lubbes, and Linda McDonald.

Songs will come from various Broadway hits, including "South Pacific," "West Side Story," and "Carousel."

The vocal ensemble and the choir will sing spirituals, hymns, and folk songs.

The program will also include a marimba solo by Kathryn Nelson and a piano duo "Danse Macabre" by Doris Schuermeyer and Cecelia Andersen.

The band concert performance during the Festival will consist of eight numbers according to band director Belford.

They will include "Sea Songs" and "Toccata Marziale" by R. Vaughan Williams, "Fanfare and Allegro" by Clifton Williams, "The Girl I Left Behind Me" by Leroy Anderson, "Folk Rhapsody" by Clare Grundman, "Crown Imperial" by William Walton, "Symphony in B Flat — first movement" by Paul Fauchet and "Divertimento" by Vincent Persichetti.

Sumpter declared that tickets may still be obtained for the play. Tickets are on sale in the foyer of the student center. The price is 50 cents with a student body card and $1 without.

One ticket will admit the holder to all Fine Arts Festival events. The holder must decide on which day he wants to see "The Boy Friend" when he buys his ticket.

Refreshments will be served at all events.

Ram Repartee

El Camino College's Warwhoop Southern California teenagers go through dances the way women go through hats.

An aspiring dancer will spend hours locked in his bedroom trying to coordinate his feet to perform the latest jump.

One dance of the day is the Bird which is done by doing an abrupt "right face," followed by a "left face," followed by another right. The arms are rotated as if the dancer's only ambition is swatting flies.

Observers are led to wonder what type of bird the resulting spectacle's creator had reference to. It's a cinch sparrows wouldn't claim it and neither would any self-respecting sea gull.

Raisin Growers' Speakers At Marketing Meeting

Marketing Club

The Marketing Club will have an assembly May 22 at 10 AM in the FCC auditorium.

George Craft, treasurer of the club, said that it will possibly be mandatory for all business students to attend this assembly.

Craft said the speakers will be Donald Price and Charles Glohn, representatives from Sun Maid Raisin Company.

There will also be a joint dinner meeting with the Business Club on May 23, in the Committee Room of the cafeteria, at 6:30 PM.

Sigma Tau Alpha

The Student California Teachers Association will have their last social event of the semester Saturday at Camp 55, Millerton Lake (Madera side). Warren Churchwell, president of the club, said that after swimming and a wiener roast, a luau will begin at 8 PM, at his home. Attire and complete theme will be Hawaiian including a feast at 9 PM. Churchwell also said that this event is for members only unless personally invited.

Ginsburg's Thinclads Travel To Modesto For State Qualifying

By BOB CAUDILL

Erwin Ginsburg's FCC thinclads will vie for state meet berths at Modesto's Northern California Championships Saturday after qualifying seven runners in the trials there Tuesday.

Half miler Curtis Craig and high hurdlers Al Williams and George Moore turned in their best times of the season in Tuesday's trials. The trials were held to narrow the Nor-Cal field to eight runners in all except the two mile and field events.

Quarter miler Oscar Haynes, low hurdler Fred Teixeira, miler Lylal Carlton, and the mile relay

Few JC Stars Get Attention In WC Relays

With many of the world's finest athletes gracing Saturday's 37th annual West Coast Relays, most of the action in the junior college division went relatively unnoticed.

Such international stars as Olympic broad jumper Ralph Boston, two time Olympic shot put champion Parry O'Brien, and UCLA's world decathlon champ, C. K. (One-man-gang) Yang, highlighted Fresno's annually great show.

But some of the JC stars could hardly be missed.

Bill Cowings of College of Sequoias, faced with sprinters who had run as much as two-tenths of a second better, flashed to a 9.5 winning time in the 100.

He also anchored COS's winning 880 relay team to lead COS to a tie for second in team scoring.

Unbelievable Don Castle of Foothill College, after winning the JC shotput at 59'½", tossed the ball 59'2" to place fourth in the open division, less than 1½ feet behind the Old Master, O'Brien!

Castle's teammate, burly Les Mills, placed second in the JC shotput at 58'3", won the JC discus at 175'8", and then turned around to place fourth in the open division discus at 177'6".

Both of these Foothill stars own national records in their specialties.

Al Williams was Fresno City College's only point getter. He scored a third in the JC high hurdles, clocking 14.7 seconds to equal his season's best.

Coach Erwin Ginsburg's mile relay foursome of Fred Teixeira, Curtis Craig, Oscar Hayes, and Houston Williamson placed second in an afternoon preliminary heat but failed to qualify for the evening finals.

Ginsburg saved most of his runners for the Northern California trials which were to be run Tuesday at Modesto. Williams, George Moore, and the members of the mile relay team were FCC's only entrants in the running events.

City College of San Mateo won the JC team title with 25 points. Long Beach CC and COS tied for second with 21, Santa Ana JC was fourth with 20, and Foothill was fifth with 18.

team of Teixeira, Haynes, Craig, and Houston Williamson also qualified for the Rams.

Craig placed second in his 880 heat, clocking 1:55.7. After a fairly slow start this year, Craig may now be ready to challenge the FCC half mile record of 1:54.0.

Williams and Tom Powell of the College of Sequoias set the stage for a terrific battle in the highs Saturday as they won their respective heats.

Williams clocked 14.6 seconds, one-tenth second under his previous best, and Powell timed 14.5, two-tenths second under his. Powell and Williams are even in their duel so far this year with one win apiece.

Moore placed third in Powell's heat at 14.8 seconds. Teixeira won his qualifying heat in 23.6 seconds, two-tenths of a second slower than his state pacing best of 23.4.

Carlton clocked a respectable 4:31.0 in qualifying for the mile, but Haynes and the mile relay team were a little off and were lucky to qualify.

Haynes was fourth in his 440 heat at 50.3 seconds. The relay quartet came in at 3:22.1, more than four seconds under its season's best.

Saturday's Northern California meet will include all the top JC athletes in the northern half of the state. The action starts at 1 PM.

In addition to Tuesday's qualifiers, the Rams' top field event men and two milers Frank Martinez and Ruper Snetzinger will represent FCC.

Discus ace Bob Jacobs, vaulter Bill Parkes, and Williamson in the broad jump are the most likely Rams to earn state berths in the field events.

FRED TEIXEIRA — This FCC low hurdler remained undefeated in junior college competition by winning his pet event in the Valley Conference championships in Sacramento with a time of 23.5.

Cunningham Medalist In VC Tournament; Shoots Hot 142

Fresno City College's golf whiz Richard Cunningham took top honors at the first annual Valley Conference Golf Tournament at Dryden Park in Modesto.

Cunningham's 73 for the first 18 holes was one over par but his 69 on the last round left him with a two-under par total of 142, one better than second place Jim Joelson of American River Junior College.

Cunningham's last golf match for Fresno City College will be the state junior college tournament at Torrey Pines Country Club Monday where he and the other FCC golfers will be competing against the cream of the crop from all over the state.

Finishing behind Cunningham and Joelson in the VC tournament were Dave Coker of College of the Sequoias with a 146, Bob Hall of Stockton and Randy Zellinger of Sacramento City College with 147's, and Randy Pannell of College of the Sequoias with a 148.

Joelson, Hall, and Zellinger will join the members of the top three Valley Conference teams (Fresno, Modesto, and COS) in the state tournament.

Other Ram golfers going to the state meet along with Cunningham are Mike Hoyt, No. two golfer who shot a 150 in the VC tournament; Lance Squier, who shot a 154; Bob Meldrum, 156; and Bill Fiori, 152.

Fresno had a team average score of 75.1 for the tournament with Cunningham's 69 the top round.

Rams Wind Up Loop With Twin Bill Split Against Rival Giants

By BILL HORD

Fresno City College wound up the Valley Conference baseball slate Friday by splitting a double-header with second-place College of the Sequoias at John Eulless Park.

The Rams will now be concentrating on the Northern California playoff to be played tomorrow and Saturday against the winner of the Coast League and Golden Gate Conference playoff.

At this writing, San Francisco City College, San Mateo Junior College, and Foothill JC were still in contention in the Golden Gate Conference and the winner has yet to play the Coast League champion Monterey Peninsula.

Site Unknown

FCC will travel to the home field of the playoff winner along with Reedley, the Central California Junior College Association winner and Santa Rosa, the Golden Valley champion.

The Rams were thwarted in the first game against COS 3-1 by the six-hit pitching of Giant pitcher Bob Ross.

FCC took an early 1-0 lead in the third inning however when George Monreal led off the inning with a single and then scored when third baseman Bob Schanze doubled to right field.

Schmidt Gets Loss

Howard Schmidt got the loss for Fresno, giving up only five hits and no earned runs.

The second game, figured to be a pitching duel between Fresno's Dick Selma and COS's Rusty Devine, turned into an easy 8-4 victory for the Rams when Devine was forced to leave the game in the fourth inning with a sore arm.

The fourth inning was a big one for FCC with four runs coming on five hits. Major Martin and Harry Miller got key doubles in the rally along with a bases loaded sacrifice bunt by Selma.

The victory was number 9 in the conference for Selma and snapped an eight game winning streak by the Giants and gave them a 12-8 record in conference play.

The Rams finished with a 17-3 record.

Schanze Is Leader

Bob Schanze led in the most departments in the final season's statistics for the Rams. The steady hitting third baseman led the club in hits with 46, doubles with 12, runs batted in with 24, batting average with .381, total bases with 63, and slugging percentage with .534.

Howard Martin was the leader in stolen bases with 9.

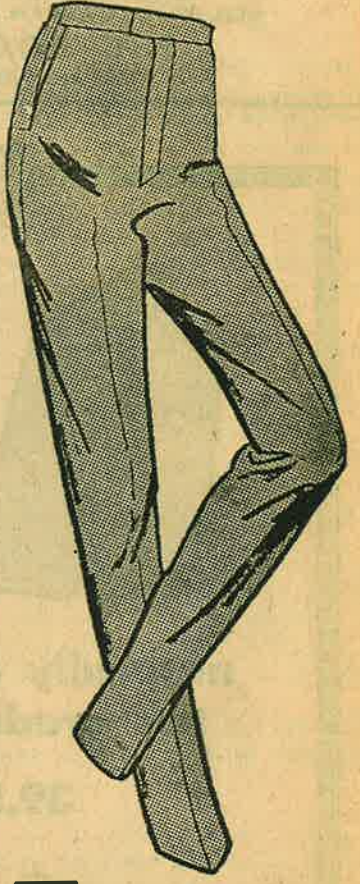

Four players, Larry Silva, Dick Selma, Bix Hayden, and Don Reinero tied for the lead in three base hits with two apiece. Selma was the home run leader with two.

Dick Selma was by far the leader in the pitching department. The big right-hander pitched the most innings, 97; gave up the most hits, 54; had the best earned run average, 1.30; gave up the most walks, 30; had the most strikeouts 130; had the most wins, 9; and had the most wild pitches with 12.
