2,000 Attend Annual Ramburger Roundup

Largest Crowd Attends First Social Event

A record crowd attended the seventh annual Ramburger Round Up last Friday to eat, dance and socialize.

An estimated 2000 students and faculty members invaded the faculty parking lot between the technical and industrial division and the student center, according to Ronald Primavera, chairman of the affair and representative at large.

Menu

Included in the menu were fish sticks, potato salad, pork and beans, soft drinks and ice cream. Manning the grills for the Ram feed were 65 faculty members.

Highlighting the evening activities was the introduction of eight newly selected cheer leaders, pep girls and majorettes.

Ram Leaders

Larry Krum, past treasurer of the Associated Student Body, and master of ceremonies for the first social event, introduced the Ram coaches and members of their respective teams. Yell leaders led the group in school cheers.

The Chanteymen, a local recording group, sang for the dinner session.

Climaxing the activities was a street dance. Music was provided by the Cindermen, another local band.

FCC Adds 18 Faculty Members

By DAVID GLASSBURN
Rampage Staff Writer

In-coming and first year students were not the only people who found Fresno City College a little different than previous encounters with an institution of learning. There were 18 new faculty and staff members when school opened its doors on Sept. 14, 1964.

The new members are Mrs. Betty J. Asburg, history teacher; Frank P. Attardo, philosophy and sociology; Richard S. Brown, geology and geography; William H. Day, chemistry; Chester Duckhorn, business administration and insurance; Clifford W. Eischen, business law; Martha L. Hoard, who instructs the registered nursing program; Frederick J. Johnson, drama and speech; Donald G. Larson, history; W. Vincent Moats, band director; Joan E. Shockley, accounting; Leo S. Ta-

Group Opposes

Today at noon a new student committee, entirely separate from the student government, will meet for the first time.

The committee, having no official name as yet, is referred to as "Students Against Proposition No. 14." The committee was initiated and organized by Fresno City College students headed by John Walke, who are concerned about politics and believe that proposition 14 should not pass.

"Anyone wanting information or who is interested in proposition 14 is invited to attend the meeting in Room 160 of the administration building," said Walke.

One Frosh Post Unopposed

Freshman enthusiasm in class elections is moving in relative leaps and bounds with only one office unopposed but sophomore apathy seems to prevail with only two students petitioning for office.

The office of treasurer is the only unopposed office on the freshman class slate. The sole candidate is Verlyn Letham.

Six Candidates

Six students are vying for the top office in that class. Presidential candidates for the freshman class are Buddy Tackett, John Lynch, John Porter, Lewis Masters, Harold J. Ruby and Wayne Martin.

Freshman vice presidential candidates are Kenneth Clouse, Tina Gyer and Diane Heller.

Opposing Richard Sander for the office of treasurer is John Ulakakis.

On the slim sophomore slate, John McDaniel is unopposed for the top executive office.

No Choice

The other candidate, Marlene Allen, has not registered her choice of office.

David Pacheco and Ray Bay, Jr., were sophomore and freshman presidents, respectively, last semester.

Monday marks the nominations assembly on the election schedule. Candidates will present their platforms and view on major student body issues for the attending students.

The assembly will be held at noon in the auditorium.

Controversial

"In the past, the students have had many complaints about how the student council has been running student body affairs," said Martin, freshman class president candidate and commissioner of elections. "The student body officials responsible for such controversial actions were elected by good students who didn't vote."

"Now is the chance for the student body to do thing right," he continued. "Put in the officers that will most benefit the theories of the individual student. Get to know the officers and who's responsible for what, and what can be done."

Petitions are available in the admissions office and are due there tomorrow. Qualifications for office are that the candidate carry more than 12 units and have at least a 2.0 grade point average.

Actors Choose First Production

"Ah, Wilderness," Eugene O'Neal's only comedy, will premiere on the Fresno City College in December as the campus Drama Department's first production in almost two years.

Tryouts for the story of a young man's growing pains will be held later this month, according to Fredrick Johnson, advisor for the department.

He said tryouts will be open to all FCC students and not only to acting students. The date for tryouts will be announced later, he said.

The playwright's production will be presented Dec. 11 and 12 in the social hall.

BUDGET, EMPTY POSTS FILL COUNCIL SLATE

The largest fall semester budget in the history of the Fresno City College student body and the appointment of four more commissioners filled Tuesday's council meeting.

This semester's budget is the first for the fall semester to exceed the $40,000 mark but failed to pass the $44,885 record set by last spring's budget, making it the third highest in student body history. The spring, 1963, budget is the second highest with $40,980.77.

The budget this semester is $40,499, only $501 below the expected student body income of $40,900.

(Budget on Page 2)

H. E. (Rick) Comstock, ASB president, presented applications for four commissionerships to the council for approval. Those approved are Joan Simpson, oral arts; John McDaniel, rally; Diane Heller, publicity and Harold Ruby, publications.

Remaining Posts

The remaining commissioner posts are expected to be filled at next week's council session.

In other action in Tuesday's brief but high level council meeting, the student leaders

—Appointed delegates to attend the next meeting of the State Center Joint Student Council with Reedley College;

Official Dress

—Arranged for council members to get their blazers, the official dress of the student body;

—Moved to permit the use of room 230 of the student union building for Associated Men Students meetings;

—Formed a committee to investigate a policy for the use of the old student lounge as a meeting place for clubs.

Student Lounge Closed Indefinitely

The present student lounge has been closed indefinitely as a lounge by action of the student council.

"When the new cafeteria is finished there may be space available for a lounge downstairs in the student center.

"This is based on the premise that the space is available, that we have enough money to furnish it, and that the students are willing to take the responsibility to take care of it," said Comstock.

This will not occur till the spring of 1965 at the earliest.

Spanish Instructor Returns From Fulbright Fellowship To Paraguay

By DAVID R. PACHECO
Rampage Staff Writer

D. Lee Ross, Fresno City College's Spanish instructor, has returned from a Fulbright Fellowship in Paraguay.

Ross, now in his ninth year on the FCC faculty, was awarded a Fulbright Fellowship by the board of foreign scholarships of the United States State Department to teach in Paraguay during the 1963-64 school year.

Ross said, "I taught English in Asuncion, the capital of Paraguay, at the National University of Asuncion.

There they have colleges or faculties of philosophy which are equivalent to our liberal arts schools here in the United States."

Ross said that the university is only run at night, not in the day. University students in Paraguay work in the fields during the day and go to school at night.

The Spanish instructor traveled throughout South America visiting every capital, except Caracas, Venezuela.

Friendly People

"Paraguans are very friendly people, they accept Americans very quickly," noted Ross.

"Paraguay is a poor country, but it does have enough to eat. We had a little trouble when the river was low — there was a shortage of bread, but that was the only crisis we had.

Paraguay is primarily a cattle country, but they do grow various crops, including rice, corn and citrus fruits."

The climate in Paraguay is subtropical. Ross remarked that they had a very warm Christmas time as the temperature reached 100 degrees.

"Day Of Kings"

Ross also stated that they celebrate Christmas much as do the people in Mexico. They celebrate Christmas on January 6 — the Day of The Kings — and exchange presents.

Ross said about Kennedy's assassination that many Paraguayans stopped him in the streets and offered their condolences throughout South America.

"I traveled through South America with my wife, Rae, and my two children, six-year old Demie, and 10-year old Greg," said Ross.

The FCC instructor traveled by plans, train, and bus in South

WAY DOWN SOUTH—D. Lee Ross points out the country he visited on fellowship.

America and flew from the United States to Paraguay.

"The two most spectacular sights that I can remember are the trip over the Andes and the sight-seeing trip to the Inca ruins, Marchu Picchu, in Cuzco, Peru," remarked Ross.

"I was very fortunate to know how to speak Spanish, because I was able to do many things that the average tourist cannot do," said the Spanish instructor.

While in Brazil, Ross said that it was harder to communicate because the language there is Portuguese.

Ross and his family spent a day in a Peruvian home and he added, "The people were very hospitable and warm."

Ross said that he and his family did not run into much anti-American feelings, except once in La Paz, Bolivia, where he and his wife were exposed to some student demonstrations, including tear gas. His wife wears contact lenses and this proved very painful.

On another occasion he and his wife were dining in a restaurant when a rock was thrown through the window. The rock just missed him by inches!

One slight adjustment that Ross had to make while in Paraguay was to learn to like Mate, a type of tea. He said that at first he did not like it, but as time went on he did.

Mate is served hot and when it is served with ice water it is called terere, which is a social drink equivalent to our soft drinks.

Ross also said that he did some work for the Alliance For Progress in conjunction with the educational system of Paraguay.

The Alliance has done a great deal for Paraguay, including agricultural training and farm equipment, the building of elementary schools, and road construction.

Ross said, "I enjoyed my trip to South America as did my family. I met a lot of wonderful people and made many friends. It was very exciting to see many of the things that I had only read about before."

Comstock Slates Dinner Meeting Of Joint Council

"The State Center Junior College District Joint Student Council will meet for the first time this year Wednesday evening in the committee room of the cafeteria," announced H. E. (Rick) Comstock, student president.

"The joint council was formed last year to bring about closer working relationships between FCC and Reedley College the two sister schools of the junior college district," added Comstock.

Dinner Meeting

The Wednesday evening dinner meeting will be attended by members of the Reedley and FCC student councils. Representing FCC will be Comstock; Jerralyn (Suzi) Holloman, vice president; JoAnn Tuck, secretary, and Myra Aten, treasurer.

Students Welcome

"All council members and other students who are interested in the Joint Student Council are welcome to attend the meeting," said Comstock. "We will take up many issues which directly concern the students of the Junior College District."

Sponsors for the Joint Council as well as the regular FCC student legislative body are Doris Deakins, dean of women and Joseph King, parliamentary law teacher.

Dean Starr Cites Parking Problem

"University Avenue is private property and unless double parking and speed are cut down, restrictive measures are going to be taken," said Paul Starr, dean of special services.

"University Ave., which runs between the main campus and the library is the property of FCC."

Starr added that many areas on the campus are not to be used as student parking lots. He indicated the restricted localities as the areas on either side of the new cafeteria, the facilities behind the shops and the administrative parking lot behind the library.

Foreign Students At FCC

ABROAD—Fresno City College has 54 foreign students from 17 countries enrolled for the fall semester on student visas from the State Department. Donna Estermann, an admissions office secretary, stated that Hong Kong and Iran had the greatest number of students attending FCC. The present enrollment is lower than last fall's enrollment of sixty-six. Hong Kong has sent no new students, which might account for the drop in enrollment. "Poor travel conditions may have resulted in this lack of new students from Hong Kong," stated Mrs. Estermann. "Foreign students, almost without exception are financed by parents or relations and not by their government or the United States," she added. Foreign students in the photo are from the left Mamoochehr (Michael) Saadloo and Shahram (Shay) Magame, from Iran; Percy Garcia, from Peru and Hector Herrera, from Mexico.

University Records Show Transfers Adjust Better

By DAVID GLASSBURN
Rampage Staff Reporter

For any students who are planning to transfer to the University of California or any of its branches, here are a few of the school's policies concerning transfer students taken from the University of California Bulletin.

Students who transfer to Cal are treated exactly like students who spend their first two years in one of the branches of the university.

Circle K Meets

Circle K Club, a service organization and Kiwanis affiliate, will meet Wednesday at noon in the committee room of the cafeteria.

Marvin Machin, president of the group, was elected to office last semester. Last week the members saw slides of Tahiti and were addressed by Keith Mealey.

The service group meets every Wednesday noon in the committee room. Circle K's faculty sponsor is Kenneth A. Wood.

INTER CLUB LEAGUE BEGINS COMPETING

"Would you like to bowl yourself and your favorite club a trophy?" asked Ronald Primavera. "If so, your opportunity will come this Thursday when the inter club bowling league holds its first contest."

Primavera, general chairman for the annually Associated Men Students sponsored league, is urging all clubs to enter at least one team.

Pep Squad Adds Newer Members To Liven Ranks

Many new faces will be seen in the ranks of the FCC pep squad, according to Georgene Wiedenhoefer, sponsor of the various spirit groups.

Chosen last Wednesday afternoon to lead the school yells were Diana Hamby, Gary McCurry and Frank Roderiquez. Sue Romias, the only returning yell leader will act as head of the group.

New Majorettes

This year's high strutting majorettes will be Mary Cabrera, Sherryl Garcia, Jeannette Ginder and Gail Tipton. Miss Tipton will begin her second year as a twirler.

Barbara Blue, Rosella Gentry and Janet Clemens will don the new uniforms and pom poms of the pep girls. Included from last year's line up will be pepsters Robbie Rheam, head; Nancy McIntyre; Sue Ortega; Sandra Taylor and Carolyn Taylor.

Women Students

The Associated Women Students will meet Monday at noon in room 160 of the Administrative Building to select a homecoming queen candidate and begin preparations for a float, according to Barbara Ehrenburg, club president.

Fall officers elected at the first meeting are Marihelen Thomas, vice president; Suzanne Reid, secretary, and Diane Heller, treasurer. At an installation dinner this semester the new officers will be installed and presented with the pins of their offices.

"The teams are comprised of four people," Primavera added, "however individual students may sign up and an unattached team will be formed."

Each Thursday at 4 PM the league will meet at Mid State Bowl for the bowling competition. The cost will be $1.10 for three games, with the shoes free.

At the end of league competition, the AMS will award various trophies for club teams and individual bowlers. Last year the Ram team won the club trophy. Individual awards were presented to Primavera, high game, and Santi Rogers, high series. Both of the bowlers represented AMS in the league competition.

"Clubs planning to enter teams, or students just wishing to bowl in the league should contact me as soon as possible," emphasized Primavera.

keuchi, industrial education and mathematics; Georgene Wiedenhoefer, an instructor in physical education; Robert F. Winter, health education and Yolanda Statham, librarian.

The two new counselors at FCC this year are Loren F. Gaither and Alvan E. Perkins.

John T. McCuen has stepped into the position of dean of instruction, and returning from a year's leave is English and Spanish instructor D. Lee Rose.

Spencer Attacks Ram Footballers

By DAVID PACHECO

In case anyone has gone by the Rams' practice field during the afternoon and heard grunts and groans that sounded like someone beating on a television, you're entirely wrong. It's the Ram football team being worked over by the Ram coaching staff — Clare Slaughter, Don Kloppenberg and Darryl Rogers.

The body breaking symphony composed by these three masters of physical fitness is created by the snapping of colliding shoulder pads, the vicious thump of a clean tackle, the sound of a tractor mowing down a field — in this case it's a sled being pushed up and down the field by the troops.

The guys should be ready for the Reedley Tigers Saturday night when we play host to them at McLane Stadium.

Mince meat?

If anyone went to Los Angeles last Friday night (I didn't) I suppose you thought our Rams would make mincemeat out of the Cubs. If you did you were mighty disappointed because the Cubs have a very fine football team — as our Rams found out.

After looking at the movies of the game I am convinced that we lost not only because they have an outstanding supporting cast, but because mainly of one man — No. 15. He is that Cassius Clay quarterback of the Cubs, Spencer Washington. He not only wrecked us with air strikes but also outsmarted us with his signal calling.

Poet

Why Cassius Clay type? The 6-foot 3-inch 207-pounder is a poet. Spencer's aerial bombs scored two teedees, Then a couple of fakes and a couple of breaks, Followed by a quick burst of speed by Grandy and Key, Set up two more quick scores, you see, This added up to a win over FCC.

We can't give Washington all the credit as speedsters Ken Grandy, Randy Key, and Ed Scott grinded out important yardage.

Ram Leaders

Outstanding Rams in defeat were Larry Willis, who returned a kickoff 48 yards; Steve Facciani, most tackles (11), Bill Griffin and Bert Giguierre, both given credit for a safety, and Fred Figueroa and Ken Long, who led the Ram runners.

TEE HEE . . . I understand that a squirmy, little creature who writes a column in the inside pages has decided to start a senseless war with this column.

He mentioned something about my inability to continue my platonic friendship with a certain blonde pep girl, tsK, tsK.

Roundup

Anyone who was at the Ram-burger Roundup will testify why I didn't make that trip to L.A.

Joey, foolishly, tries to be "one of the boys." Due to his frailty, he needs constant supervision. I believe that he was declared the Weakest Wrestler at Fresno City College when he was a freshman.

Well, so much for that fearless (?) prospector.

I was secretly informed by a highly reliable flink that the cross country runners were running around in circles at Friant last weekend . . . a couple of our outstanding runners didn't know the way around the course!

That's life brother . . . so long.

CLARE SLAUGHTER, head football coach, wonders if his team's loss to Los Angeles means the end of the Junior Rose Bowl. His team will face Reedley Saturday night.

ERWIN GINSBURG, cross country coach, will count on returning lettermen Ron Smith, Bob Van Engen and Richard Torres to lead his Rams to the championship. He will also have eight promising freshmen.

Rams Look For Easy Win Over 'Tigers'

By DAVID PACHECO
Sports Writer

Coach Clare Slaughter's repaired, remodeled, reinvigorated Ram eleven, after being shot in Los Angeles last weekend, will poke their collective noses out of the shadows of near-extinction to challenge the potent Reedley College Tigers in McLane this Saturday at 8 PM.

Slaughter said, "I expect the Tigers to give us a battle Saturday night. They're big and tough, but we should take them."

Fresno City College and Reedley College are even up after two gridiron outings. The Rams massacred the San Jose Jaguars, 44-6, two weeks ago, and suffered a 25-8 plastering at the hands of the LACC Cubs last Friday night.

Coach Don Danielson's Bengals, fresh off a 27-14 win over the San Jose Jags, were clipped by Monterey College, 21-20, in their season opener.

The traditional match between the Rams and the Tigers, dating back to 1948 in the old Central California Junior College Conference, has produced a colorful history of gridiron heroics.

FCC's Ram eleven has had the upper hand against State Center Junior College District sister school, Reedley.

In the 16-year grid rivalry FCC has only suffered two defeats by the Bengals, including last year's 12-7 hard-fought loss.

The Rams will undoubtedly be seeking revenge at the expense of Danielson's crew for last year's defeat and last week's LACC loss.

The biggest score FCC has mustered against the Tigers dates back to 1953's 32-7 lopsided win.

In 1959 the Tigers managed to bewilder the Rams to the tune of 28-7.

The man to watch Saturday night is hard throwing Reedley quarterback Frank Monis. The Tiger flinger's favorite target is 6'1" 180 pound right end John Williams.

The Monis to Williams duo zeroed in on last week-end's contest against Monterey several times, including a 42 yard pass play.

In last year's 12-7 Ram loss, Williams caught several key passes, including a 38 yard TD.

On the ground, the Bengals are led by hard charging Gene "Gino" Brewer, John Jones, and Don Schrack.

The pile-driving 6'1" 200 pound Brewer leads the Tigers in yardage gained and average per carry.

Coach Slaughter will stick to the same line-up that started against Los Angeles last Saturday night.

On offense the Rams will start Danny Robinson at quarterback; Ken Long, at halfback; Lincoln Marini at slot back; Larry Mai at fullback; Tom Daigle at tight end; Ernie Nolte at slot back; Steve Facciani and Milt Pickford at the tackles; Bill Griffin and Bert Giguierre at the guards; and Bill Fortenberry at center.

On defense the Rams will start Marini and Mike Freeman at the safety positions; Larry Willis and Ron Cox at the wings; Giguierre and Fortenberry at linebackers; Gene Suglian and Klare Yavaslie at the ends; Pickford and Facciani at the tackles; and Griffin at middle guard.

FCC's suicide squad — players who go both ways — defense and offense — are Fortenberry, Giguierre, Facciani, Pickford, Griffin, and Marini.

Slaughter said, "We made a few mental errors against LACC, but we could have won. It was a good game, we weren't as bad as the score indicates. The Cubs have a fine football team."

The Ram mentor indicated that there were no Ram injuries last Saturday night and that the Rams are at full strength.

Polo Team Faces Busy Schedule

The Fresno City College water polo team began practice on Monday, Sept. 14. Initially the team opened with 11 men; however, after one week the roster had been increased to 15.

This year's team will include four returning lettermen: Bob Arney, Roy Purves, John Rohner and Dave Turner. Gene Stephens, Fresno City College coach, also believes that Fresno High's Rich McMath and Bob Meserve, who was a water polo letterman at Fresno State last fall, will certainly be assets to the team's standings.

Coach Stephens said, "I think we're progressing ahead of last year's squad, but results need to be seen. This year's water polo squad will certainly have a chance to prove themselves, not only in their first skirmish with Bakersfield College, Sept. 29, but in the other 14 meets which will take place during the squad's busy schedule.
