Constitution Nears Vote

One of the most important issues to face FCC students in many years will go on the spring semester ballot, according to Morris Joy, representative at large. The issue at hand is a completely new school constitution.

Joy took charge of the constitution revision committee, upon the request of past student body president Harold E. (Rick) Comstock.

Make Meaning Clear

Joy stated, "The main reason for the complete revision of the charter is so it may be clearly understood completely by any student or visitor the school may have. In our present constitution there are many confusing and contradicting clauses."

The group headed by Joy had been meeting two to three nights a week since the latter part of October in order to ready the new constitution for placement on the spring ballot.

Judicial Amendment

The recent judicial amendment passed by the council was drawn into the new constitution, and given a separate clause.

The "pros and cons" of the new constitution were discussed by the council Nov. 24-25, and the proposed constitution was passed by the council Nov. 25.

Petitions Go Out For SB Elections; Deadline: Jan. 4

Petitions for student body offices will go out on Wednesday, according to Jefferey Lewis, commissioner of elections.

Lewis stated that voting was scheduled for Jan. 13.

Petitions are available in the admissions office and will be due in the office of Doris Deakins, dean of women, by 10 AM on Jan. 4.

"The nomination assembly will be Monday, Jan. 4 at noon," stated Lewis. "We will hold the assembly in the auditorium and the pep band will play."

Lewis urged all students to begin consideration of their next semester officers. "Start thinking now," he said. "Don't wait until petitions go out. Then it will be too late."

Students running for office must carry at least 12 1/2 units, he said. They must also be maintaining a 2.0 grade average.

"Candidates for president and vice president must have a 2.5 average," he added.

Offices open for election are president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, Associated Men Students president, Associated Women Students president and ten representatives at large.

"Of course there will be pictures of the candidates on the ballots in this election," concluded Lewis.

"It has proved very effective in that students can associate candidate's names with their faces."

ALL THIS?—Father John Shea, center, Air Force chaplain and coordinator of Operation Lifeline in Viet Nam, glances over articles which have been contributed to the Da Nang orphanage. With him are the initiators of the campus Lifeline program, Ronald Primavera, left, and Joseph Barela, right. Primavera and Barela served in Viet Nam.

Father Shea Visits Students; Proclaims Lifeline 'Success'

"The biggest and most successful project in the history of Fresno City College has come to a close," stated Joseph L. Barela.

Barela, FCC Operation Lifeline adviser, said, "Operation Lifeline was a tremendous success. I would like to thank the FCC student body, the faculty, and Fresno City and County residents for the support they gave the project."

Barela said, "The project cannot be measured by the amount of food, clothing, and money we collected, but by the wonderful spirit and enthusiasm that FCC students and contributors gave in aiding Vietnamese orphans that they had never seen."

The Rev. John Shea, an Air

Force chaplain who was the coordinator of Operation Lifeline in Viet Nam, visited the FCC campus last Thursday.

Father Shea's visit coincided with the conclusion of the charity drive to assist three orphanages and other welfare institutions in the Da Nang, South Viet Nam area. The Operation Lifeline project ended at noon Friday.

Rev. Shea came to Fresno to personally thank all the students at Fresno City for their time and effort in making the project a big success, said Barela.

The Rev. Shea said, "This help will be greatly appreciated. 'The Vietnamese people are very poor,

Dreams Of Christmas Held In TowneHouse

Soft lights and music of the Bruce Davis Band will be highlighted at Les Reves Noel, the Christmas formal, to be held Dec. 18 from 9 PM to 1 AM.

"Dreams of Christmas" will be set in the Champagne Ballroom of the Del Webb TowneHouse. Gold and white decorations will carry out the Christmas theme.

Bids are free to FCC students and one guest. They will be available beginning Wednesday at the ticket office of the bookstore.

The formal is co-sponsored each year by the Associated Men Students and the Associated Women Students.

Entertainment will be provided by Rusty Draper who appears with Bruce Davis at the Hacienda Motel.

The queen contest has been cancelled due to lack of club participation, announced Marhelen Thomas, chairman of the queen campaign.

Chairmen of the various formal dance committees are Dave Turner, bids; Barbara Ehrenburg, publicity; Janice Poindexter, invitations, and Diane Heller and Miss Thomas, decorations.

Turner, president of AMS, stressed that dress for the men will be dark suits. Dress for the women will be formal.

Invitations are being sent to all faculty members, added Turner. They are cordially invited to attend. The AMS and AWS will meet at noon today to discuss details about decorations and the reception line. All students interested in participating on dance committees are urged to attend, said Turner.

The two clubs will meet in the student lounge, upstairs in the student center. Volunteers are needed for the decorations committee.

O'Neill Comedy Produced By FCC Drama Department

Curtain Time At 8:15

"Come one, come all," are the thoughts and wishes of the cast and producers of "Ah, Wilderness!," the three act comedy, which will be staged in the social hall tomorrow and Saturday nights at 8:15.

The drama department production involves a teenager in love. Lead roles are to be portrayed by Lee Fossgreen, Rick Underwood and Nancy Wilkins.

Campus Hosts Debate Teams

Debate teams from 11 two-and four-year-colleges will battle for top honors in the Northern California Forensics Association team championships Friday and Saturday (Dec. 11-12) at FCC.

Franz Weinschenk, head of the speech department and coordinator for the program, said that this year's is the biggest turn-out in the history of the NCFA team championships.

Four-year colleges to compete will include University of the Pacific, Brigham Young University, and Sacramento State College. Brigham Young is sending two teams to the matches.

Weinschenk said that the public is invited to attend the debates.

"We hope a lot of people will get out to watch the matches," he said.

Competition will take place in debate, oratory, and interpretive reading. Each team member will have to compete in all events, Weinschenk said.

Prior to the matches, registration for competing schools is scheduled for tomorrow at 1 PM in the foyer of the administration building. The first round of debates gets underway at 2 PM.

Both the University of the Pacific and Brigham Young have top debating teams, according to Weinschenk.

"UOP's team is known as one of the top debating teams in the nation," he said.

Also challenging will be Cerritos College, which won top honors last year during the team championships. UOP took first (See Debate, Page 3)

Other parts in the comedy are played by John Clark, Christy Keener, Francis Sullivan, Joan Simpson, Dan Border, Bob Fenton, Darlene Cook, Margie Faulkner, William Peterson, Richard Toschi and Marcia Williams.

Tickets are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students from other schools. FCC students may obtain tickets free with student body cards.

Tickets may be picked up any time during the day in room 154 of the administration building.

"One Of Best"

"Ah, Wilderness!", Eugene O'Neill's only comedy, was rated by the New York Times as "one of his best." Main characters in the story are Nat Miller, portrayed by Fossgreen; Richard, by Underwood and Mrs. Miller, by Miss Wilkins.

Marilee Schumann is the stage manager; Sandra Dralle, business manager, and Harry Hart, student designer. Robert Salcedo will take charge of the lighting and Susan Cocciole and Sharon McGee are in charge of properties.

Debaters Honored

After the production the cast will honor visiting debaters at a reception in the social hall. All debaters will be admitted to Friday's performance free, said Frederick Johnson, drama instructor.

According to Johnson most of the play's cast are English majors. Many have had experience locally and in high school.

The action revolves around the Nat Miller family and their son Richard who is "helplessly" in love with a teenager, Muriel McComber. Muriel is portrayed by Miss Williams. The two families decide that Richard is a bad influence on Muriel and decree that he shall not see her again.

DREAMTIME—Rick Underwood, as Richard Millen, and Marcia Williams, as Muriel McComber, daydream of "better times to come" in "Ah, Wilderness!". The drama department will stage the production tomorrow evening and Saturday at 8:15 PM in the social hall.

RAMS MAY PLAY FOOTBALL IN RATCLIFFE

An editorial which appeared in the Rampage a few weeks ago has brought several results, but we feel that the matter warrants more attention.

The editorial concerned itself with the possible use of Ratcliffe Stadium for the 1965 Ram football season.

The editorial asked if Fresno City College should play its football games in Ratcliffe Stadium or in McLane Stadium.

One point brought out was the cost of renting Ratcliffe over McLane. This would be an additional $150 per game. The tentative 1965 football schedule has four home games slated. This would mean an extra $600 for the entire season.

This $600 actually doubles the sum now being paid for the use of McLane Stadium, but there are several reasons for consideration before scheduling the games for either stadium.

Firstly, the tentative schedule shows that FCC and Fresno State College will be playing home games on the same week-and on two separate occasions. Instead of having to compete against FSC on the same night, FCC could play its games on Friday while they play on Saturday night. This would increase attendance at the local games as FCC would not have to compete against FSC for spectators.

Said Ed Orman, sports editor of the Fresno Bee, in his "Sport Thinks" column: "No one can deny the conflict hurts the gate at both bowls, especially the CC Rams, who must perform in the shadow of the Bulldogs . . .

"The point is that wheer it is practical the conflict should be avoided and action should be taken now before 1965 schedules are drawn in favor of high school teams . . ."

Concerning the extra $150 per game, Orman wrote: "That amount should be wiped out easily by additional patronage and CC should be able to make money to boot."

And further, the Student Council has agreed to pay the difference between the rental of the two stadiums.

Secondly, the use of a college football stadium would associate FCC with the college world instead of the high school world. This may be a great factor in doing away with the general opinion that FCC is still just a "sort of a high school."

Thirdly, Ratcliffe Stadium is much closer to the college than McLane Stadium is, making it much more desirable in regard to after game social functions.

And lastly, since FCC football games are televised live, they should be played in the best available facilities — and this means Ratcliffe Stadium. We have a superb gymnasium for our televised basketball games; why should we not play our games in the best stadium?

Orman went further to say "Some day the Rams should have a stadium of their own. They've been kicked around too much like orphans. For years they had no permanent practice field. They finally got a fine new gymnasium for basketball. What about football, the big sport?"

We hope so.

RAMPAGE SUPPORTS UC DEMONSTRATORS

Normally the Rampage restricts its news nad editorials to activities of students on the Fresno City College campus or news of interest to students. But it is felt that since many students will be transferring to the University of California after completion here, the following editorial will be of general interest.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown recently called the student demonstrators are fighting for every citizen's right to participate in fonia a group of "anarchists."

The Rampage feels that this cannot be so. The demonstrators are fighting for every citizen's right to participate in legal political activities if he wishes — whether it be on a university campus or in a presidential candidate's campaign headquarters.

The demonstrations were begun in a peaceful manner to call attention to this issue about which the students are particularly sensitive.

The University's chancellor, Dr. Edward V. Strong, did, however, set aside certain areas for the students to participate in political activities. But this still abridged the privilege of the students.

The Rampage believes in the purposes of these student demonstrators. If their actions are "anarchy," then let us have anarchy before we have totalitarian government.

Rampage Has Opportunities For Staff

Editorial work, reporting, photography and cartooning are among the many and varied opportunities in the field of journalism open to Rampage staff members next semester.

There are positions open in both the non writing and the writing work on the school newspaper, announced Phillip Smith, journalism instructor.

Smith said he would like to talk to any interested students.

Journalism 4, offered in the spring semester, can be taken without having had Journalism 3.

News Class

Journalism 4 covers the handling of important news assignments, interviewing techniques, problems of reporters, specialized reporting, a survey of makeup, headline writing, editing and typography.

"I think this course is good for any student who wants to learn how to express himself succinctly and effectively," said Smith.

Non writing positions on the Rampage staff include circulation, photography, cartooning and secretarial work.

Smith said those students who intend to do non writing and non editorial work on the newspaper need no prerequisite to take project journalism, Journalism 5.

but this help will be more significant in view of the thousands of refugees left by the recent Viet Nam floods."

The Chaplain, a Catholic, was able to visit an entire day with FCC students and inspect the food, clothing, and other doantions in the FCC Student Council office.

In the afternoon, Rev. Shea had a press conference in the social hall. He stated, "I am very pleased with the charity drive. I think that the parents of the students who helped with Operation Lifeline should be proud of them."

Barela said that the Lifeline drive had netted over 3,000 pounds of food and clothing, which was packed into more than 142 cases, and $100 was collected in cash.

STUDENTS MAY GET TO TRADE OLD TEXTBOOKS

Some students at Fresno City College have voiced agitation at having to sell their textbooks directly back to the bookstore instead of being able to get together with other students to trade and sell them together.

But another group of students have not only voiced agitation but have also voiced a plan in the form of an end of the semester book bazaar.

The bazaar, it is felt, will give the students a chance to trade their books with others who have the texts needed or need a certain text.

In the past, students have had to either sell their books back to the bookstore for approximately one third of their original cost and pay about two thirds or more of their new cost for used books.

But there are some objections to such an arrangement. One administrator feels that the bazaar would greatly increase the theft of textbooks on the campus. This is, in effect, saying that the gerater part of the student body at FCC cannot be trusted, that they are nothing but a bunch of perpetual kleptomaniacs.

This cannot be true, for college students, by their very nature, are supposed to be responsible citizens. Even if it is true, many students who were asked about this idea said they are willing to risk the possibility of theft.

Despite this objection, the idea has been put into a subcommittee of the Student Council for study.

We feel that the bazaar will afford the students with an opportunity to save money where money is needed the most—for textbooks.

And the saving of money in education is the most important of all.

Hibler Wins Executive Spot In Health Group

A Fresno City College psychology instructor is the new chief executive of the Fresno Mental Health Association.

Edward B. Hibler, who joined the FCC faculty in 1961, was elected at the association's sixth annual meeting last week. He will succeed James F. Wagner.

"It is a tremendous challenge and honor," Hibler said. "I will do all I can to bring the message of the association's needs to the community."

Hibler is a native of Youngstown, Ohio. He received his bachelor's degree in psychology from Dartmouth College in 1938 and spent about 20 years as an advertising, business and sales executive.

Wanted To Teach

Deciding he wanted to go into teaching, Hibler attended Long Beach State College and received his master's degree there in 1960. He came to FCC the next year and is now in his fifth year of teaching here.

He is a member of the American Association of University Professors, the California Junior College Faculty Association, the American Federation of Teachers, the American Council of Family Relations and the Central California Psychologist Association and is a member of the board of the California Mental Health Association.

Writes Text

Hibler, who said his main interest centers on emotional problems in business life, is writing a text on that subject to be used on the junior college level.

He said he worked on his text during the summer and hopes to finish it soon.

Hibler was the advisor of the FCC yearbook, the Ram, until this year, when he began teaching psychology full time.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor of the Rampage; Sir,

What happened to the queen candidates for the Christmas formal?

Two weeks ago plans were sent to the clubs for the election and coronation of a queen for the annual fete — the first crowning of such a queen at Fresno City College.

The work was done; everything was aranged; dates were set. The only thing left for the clubs to do was to pick the candidate.

The ones who did the work couldn't go out and pick the candidates themselves for the clubs.

The clubs have to do their own choosing — it cannot be done by members of the sponsors, the Associated Women Students and the Associated Men Students.

When it was asked why there wasn't going to be a queen contest, there was little question in my mind as to what had happened: the apathy of the club members, sponsors and students at FCC is downright disgusting.

Why should just a few do all the work and get no response or reward from the remaining molecules that drift through this school.

It happens everytime. This is not the first incident of this type. Some weeks ago — in support of Proposition 2, the statewide bond issue which provides a substantial sum for junior college improvements — the Inter Club Council tried to sponsor a "Mr. Ugly" contest. But the same situation prevailed: no response.

If the students want any activities at this school, they are going to have to stop asking "Why is Fresno City College so dead?" It is dead to those who want it to be; to others, however, it is a storehouse of activities.

How do you stand?

s/Marihelen Thomas

Chaplain Visits FCC Campus

The Rev. John Shea, an Air Force captain and chaplain, who just 48 hours before had been some 10,000 miles away in Da Nang, Viet Nam, visited Fresno City College's campus last Thursday.

The Chaplain, enroute to visit his parents in Chester, New Hampshire, stopped in Fresno to visit Joseph Barela, FCC student and Advisor to Operation Lifeline, and to personally thank the Fresno City College Student Body for their charity drive to help orphans in the South East Asian country.

Rev. Shea said, "I am very pleased with the success of the drive, and I am especially impressed with the tremendous enthusiasm shown here in Fresno.

He added, "I think that the parents of these FCC students should be proud of them. Especially in these times, when incidents like the University of California demonstrations are going on, it is very good to see college students channel their energies to useful and humanitarian purposes."

There he became acquainted with Barela. As the chaplain at the base he became coordinator of Operation Lifeline, which was started in 1961 by a Captain John Sullivan.

Barela became very interested in the project which Rev. Shea directed.

When Barela's tour of duty ended, he entered FCC and told Primavera and others about his experiences.

Rev. Shea corresponded with Barela and the project was begun here at FCC.

The chaplain said that it was his first trip to the western part of the United States. He said, "The people here in Fresno are very hospitable, and I think Fresno is a very beautiful city."

While in Fresno he had his first malt in over a year and his first cigar in 18 months.

"These goods sent over by this project will really help," he said. "The entire rice crop was destroyed by the floods and I understand that about 40,000 refugees have poured into Da Nang."

"Right now I am on my vacation," he said. "After my vacation ends I will report to Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas."

The Rev. Shea said that his successors in the program in Da Nang, a Catholic and a Protestant chaplain, will receive and distribute the food and clothing collected by Fresno City students.

Fresno CC Student Body Secretary Plans Tour Of US Next Summer

JoAnn Tuck is one of the first students from FCC to take advantage of the Eastern US tour from Florida to Canada and all the states in between.

The trip consists of two separate tours, according to Miss Tuck, one leaving on June 14 and lasting to July 19, the other starting July 26 and going to Aug. 30.

Census Sets State Funds

This week is census week at Fresno City College, the second one this semester.

During census week each time a student is absent from a class he must get an absence slip from the attendance officer, Room 128 of the Administration Building, before being admitted to the class.

The absence slip is necessary whether the absence is excused or unexcused.

The purpose of census week is to enable the administration to organize the budget properly. The school district receives money from the state based on the number of students attending classes daily.

For purposes of figuring the average daily attendance to be submitted to the state, students who have an excused illness are counted present.

In order to save needless bookwork, strict records, including the absence slips, are kept for only two weeks during each semester. From these two "census weeks" a very close approximation of the actual attendance can be estimated.

"The tour is offered to all college students," said Miss Tuck. "Each group will be accompanied by a history teacher from its own school."

The tour will take in all the states east of the Mississippi River and goes from Florida to Canada, said Miss Tuck.

"Mr. John Toomasian is the history teacher who will be with our group," she added. "He will be there to explain points of interest to us."

"The trip is different in that we will not be traveling by bus or train as a lot of tours do. All the students will be divided into groups of eight or ten and each group will travel by 12 passenger station wagons."

The students will first travel by train to St. Louis, Mo., where the trip begins. "From there we will go to Washington, DC, where we will meet our senators and representatives on the floor of the Senate," added Miss Tuck. "Then we will go to Pennsylvania, Florida, New Orleans, Tennessee, New York, Georgia, Illinois, Michigan and Canada but not in this order, of course!"

According to Miss Tuck, some of the many points of interest will be things such as the dog races at Pensacola, Fla.; a ride on the Mississippi River starting from Memphis, Tenn.; wiener roasts on the banks of the Charleston; and viewing the "haunting life" of the Okefenokee swamp of Waycross, Ga.

"I've always wanted to see the United States and what it is all about ever since I was a little girl, and now I've finally got the chance," said Miss Tuck who received the opportunity for the trip as a Christmas present from her mother.

"We also get to spend three days in New York and will spend one day at the World's Fair."

"What I'm really looking forward to in New York is the whole day we get for a big shopping spree. I'm going to Macy's and all the big stores and really have a ball!"

The purpose for the trip is primarily for its historical, educational, and cultural values.

"It's also for fun, fun, fun!!" Miss Tuck said smiling.

"I'm looking forward to the Mardi Gras in New Orleans, and ice skating in Rockefeller Center."

When it was mentioned that she could ice skate here in Fresno she replied, "Not in Rockefeller Center!"

"We will also be seeing Niagara Falls, New York. I don't really know what we will be doing there," Miss Tuck said, "but there will be boys there!"

"The things I'm really looking for are seeing night baseball in Chicago, the Skyler mansion in Albany, N.Y., industrial industries of Michigan."

She added that the tour will be going along the Canadian Highway and into Canada a short way.

"Going into Canada is of cultural interest," said Miss Tuck, "because we will be able to compare their way of life with our own."

"I must say that the trip will be fabulous!" she concluded. "I can hardly wait to go."

Rams Face Toughest Schedule In History

Ralston Will Head Dinner

John Ralston, head football coach at Stanford University, will be the featured speaker at the 1965 fall sports award banquet at Fresno City College.

The banquet will be held in the student center social hall Tuesday, December 15. Dinner is scheduled for 6:30 P.M.

For the first time, parents of the players receiving awards will be invited to the banquet. Awards will be given to athletes in football, cross-country, and water polo.

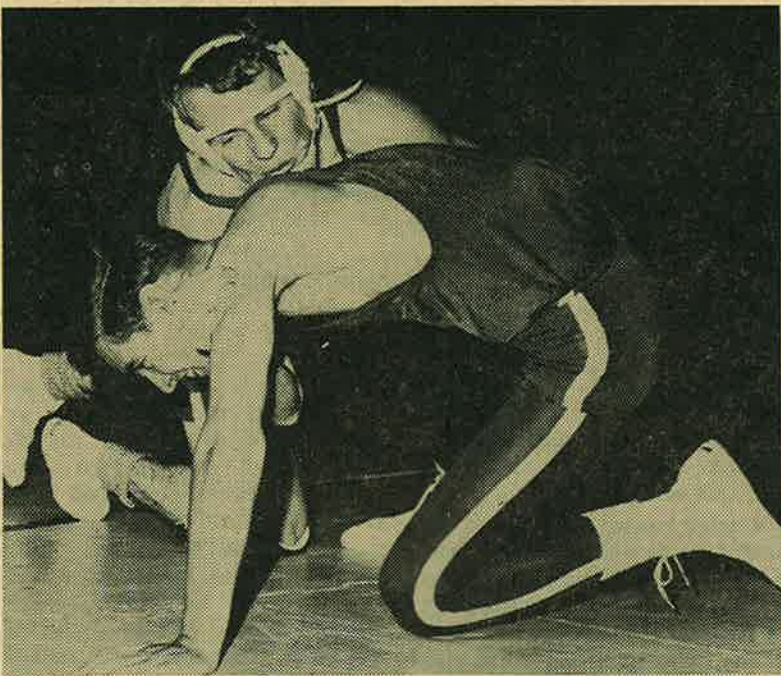

Dave Belman, sportscaster for the Ram football and basketball games, will emcee the dinner.

Special awards will be handed out to the top athletes in football, cross-country and water polo.

This year the Ram football team will receive special recognition for defeating Monterey Peninsula, 22-14, in the Lettuce Bowl.

The Water polo team had their best year in history. Coach Gene Stephens said that next year's team should be even better.

The Cross Country team also had a very successful year.

KELLY'S CREW BEATEN TWICE

The Fresno City College Ram basketball team had a nightmare last Thursday and Friday in Bakersfield.

They ended what was their worst three game series under Coach Joe Kelly when they dropped two out of their three games in the Bakersfield College Invitational Basketball Tournament in the Bakersfield Gymnasium, on December 3 and 4.

They started the tourney off with the weak Monterey Peninsula College Lobos, winning 89-64. In this encounter the Rams hit on but 37% of their shots. Monterey hit at a 40% clip.

Marlin Elrod played his best game of the year against the MPC Lobos, as he scored 25 points and pulled down 12 rebounds in leading FCC to victory. Lanky Ken "Chico" Lewis also turned in a top notch performance as he scored 15 points and garnered 10 rebounds.

Fresno outrebounded the Lobos 57 to 32 and that proved to be the margin of victory for the locals.

Thursday night the Rams faced a strong Merritt College team in what proved to be a thrilling contest. Fresno blew a ten point second half lead enroute to a 67-63 loss.

Marlin Elrod again proved to be the difference in the decision as he fouled out late in the game. His fouling out gave the T-birds the momentum for the come from behind win over the Rams.

Star of the game for Oakland was, 6-7, 230 pound center Billy Robinson who pulled down 25 rebounds and tossed in 21 points, in leading the strong Thunderbirds to their 67-63 victory.

Rams Lose Third

The Rams then had to bump heads with Valley Conference rivals San Joaquin Delta in a battle for third place in the Bakersfield Tournament.

Delta pushed the Rams, 66-53,

MARLIN ELROD

off the court on the shooting of all-tourney selection Dave Fox and the rebounding of Charles Jones and James Smith to defeat the poor shooting Ram quintet.

In this encounter the Rams shot a miserable 28% as compared to 33% from the field by Delta.

Fresno (89) Elrod 25, Lewis 15, Hamm 11, Davie 10, Lee 9, Field 6, E. Austin 5, Scott 4, White 2, Schwartz 1, Morse 1.

Monterey (64) Lindsey 18, Eld 9, Robinson 9, Lovett 7, McGovern 6, Ditullio 6, Smith 2, Smallwood 2.

Grapplers Tackle Southern Wrestlers

Fresno City College's Ram wrestling squad will travel to the University of California in Los Angeles, Friday, to compete in Saturday's Southern California Collegiates.

Hans Wiedenhofer's Ram wrestlers won their second consecutive mat win with a 24 to 11 dual win over the Bakersfield College Renegades only to be tripped up by the powerful Fullerton College team the next night, 22 to 20.

Tankers End Best Season In History

By DAVID R. PACHECO
Rampage Columnist

While FCC's football and cross country squads took all the laurels, Coach Gene Stephens and his water polo squad, unnoticed, had the best season ever in FCC's water polo history.

Stephens tankers had a 3-7 record in Valley conference competition to take fifth place in the six team league.

The record books don't show this, but the record might very well be 6-4 today, if FCC would have pulled out three ball games, two losses by one point and a ten minute overtime loss.

Bob Meserve, leading scorer with 91 points, played outstandingly along with Roy Purves, second leading scorer with 46 markers.

Coach Stephens said, "Here at FCC we have a problem with the water polo program because the sport is not played in Fresno high schools. Consequently we have to retrain completely while playing teams with experienced performers," he added.

Stephens said, "I have been coaching for about 19 years and this particular group of water polo men are the best players that I have had the privilege to associate with."

Cross Country

Coach Edwin Ginsburg, in his 36th year of track coaching and recently named to the Fresno Hall of Fame, led the cross country to a fine season. The Rams placed fourth in the Northern California Meet and placed eighth in the state meet.

Ginsburg said, "We had a fine season." He noted that it was a supreme effort by the whole team.

Football Kudos

Fresno City College's football coaching staff and the entire football team were sent a letter by Merle Martin, dean of students, and Dick Cleland, dean of men, congratulating them for a fine football season and their conduct on-and-off the football field.

The Ram wrestlers had opened the season with an easy romp over the Reedley College Tigers in the FCC gym.

Outstanding

Wiedenhofer said, "Our outstanding wrestlers so far this season have been 127 pound sophomore Ron Marquez, Armondo Jacobo, 157 pounder, Keith Boyer, a 177 pound sophomore, and freshman heavyweight Ben Brase.

Marquez, Jacobo, and Frank Kerby (167 lb. soph.) were among the top four in the state when Wiedenhofer led his wrestlers to a second place finish in the state meet.

Ram Coach Wiedenhofer said, "Kerby is ineligible this semester, but he will be back in the spring. He will help us; we will be a lot stronger."

Kerby Returns

Kerby won a second place in the state meet and was an outstanding performer throughout the wrestling season last year.

Wiedenhofer pointed out that the wrestlers have had their problems, especially making the weight classifications, so I am trying to get the latecomers into shape, especially some of the football players; and I am trying to get the whole team in top physical condition.

professional

We get pretty concerned about the way life insurance is often sold.

We're not in favor of a client just buying a policy and getting it over with. We want him to understand what it's all about, how his policy can be made to serve a variety of future needs, how it will fit into an overall financial program tailored to his own requirements.

It's this approach that separates the professional from the ordinary salesman. And if you feel you'd be more satisfied dealing with a professional, we're at your service.
