CAN'T CUT THE MUSTARD

Poor Turnout Opens Folk, Jazz Show

DePass Songs Capture Audience

By BETTY SUE KENNY
Rampage Staff Writer

What happens when Dennis Jacoby, Rampage columnist, can't cut the mustard anymore?

Jacoby says that'll never happen but Steve DePass, rhymeballadeer, brought forth the question in a song about FCC campus current events to an audience of 425 in the FCC gymnasium last Friday evening at the Caravan of Music Folk and Jazz Wing Ding.

DePass brought down the house with his impromptu ballads about FCC students, the low attendance at the show, baseball and raisins.

Regrets Turnout

He expressed his deepest regret at the loss of FCC student interest in one of the best shows to be presented at FCC this year. De-

Pass said that this was only the third poor turnout that the group received in sixteen performances.

The Modern Folk Quartet presented the audience with several "earthy" folk songs and a gallery of humor and wit. They presented several ideas for the male populace that have the feeling that Uncle Sam wants them a little too soon in their lives.

Mirthful Music

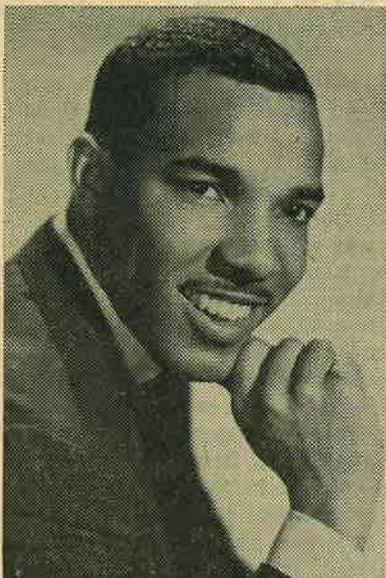

Judy Henske entertained with song, gyration and jest. The acoustics didn't do very much for Miss Henske's voice, but her clothes did quite a bit towards the advancement of her performance.

Cal Tjader, vibraphone player, played several numbers from his two albums, Several Shades of Jade and Breeze from the East. Armando Peraza was featured by Tjader on the bongos and congas.

AMS Queen

Sam Schwan, co-mc of the show, announced the winner of the AMS queen contest, Jackie Clark, sponsored by Dennis Jacoby and Charles Bain. Miss Clark, a freshman at FCC, is a home economics major.

Several records were given away as door prizes and a grand prize of a 1964 Mustang will be given away at the end of the Wing Ding tour. Everyone that attended has a chance to win the car.

COUNCIL HOSTS GUEST SPEAKER

Donald L. Pollard, Administrative Assistant to the Chief Administrative Officer at city hall, spoke to Student Council Tuesday about city projects.

In his half-hour speech, Pollard said that the people are "waking up and seeing what's going on".

Among Fresno projects are the completion of the Del Webb Building, the beginning of the new Convention Center, the beginning of the "mall", the beginning of the Federal building and the building of the new courthouse and destruction of the old, commented Pollard.

The method of building Fresno has always been a difficult problem, he said. One landmark in building is the sewer system construction. (See Pollard, Page 3)

ELECTIONS, JOINT COUNCIL FILL SEMESTER POLITICS

Student Body Gets Chance Not To Vote

16 ASB Posts Up For Bid

The student body will once again have the opportunity to exercise its right NOT to vote in student body elections.

May 1 marks the beginning of petitions for Associated Student Body offices. They must be filed in the admissions offices by 3 PM May 11.

"If you are interested in a student government office, run for one," urges Marihelen Thomas, commissioner of elections.

No Speech

Candidates for office will not even be required to make a nomination speech, she added. In lieu of the speech, the candidates may elect to provide some form of short entertainment for the audience. She cited the example of having someone present a song with the candidate's name in it.

A grade point average of 2.0 is required to run for office, with the exceptions of ASB president and vice president, which require a 2.5 average.

Candidacy

To run for president, the candidate must have been an FCC student for at least one year.

"Are you a student who has been complaining about the officers this year?" asked Miss Thomas. "If so, stop complaining and run for an office."

The election is scheduled for May 22 with the nominations assembly set for May 13.

Student Council Takes Equipment Inventory

"The student body should not have to pay twice for the things it owns," believes student body treasurer Carol Cloves.

"This is the reason Student Council asked us to conduct an inventory of student body property," added Miss Cloves, who is the chairman of the inventory committee.

Up until recently FCC has been a part of the Fresno City Schools system. The newly-formed junior college district must buy the property and equipment at FCC from the city.

However, many things, such as the furniture in the cafeteria, athletic equipment, an organ, Ram and Rampage equipment and desks for the student body officials, were acquired with student body funds.

The inventory covers all permanent items bought within the last five years with student body funds such as typewriters and furniture.

Joint Council Constitution Student Bodies Approve

The constitution for the State Center Joint Student Council has been approved by the governing bodies of FCC and Reedley College, according to Terry Edgmon, FCC Associated Student President and author of the document.

The joint council, which meets two times each semester, is composed of the executive officers of the two student councils and two other students from each school. The students are chosen to attend on a meeting to meeting basis.

Great Rapport

"The purpose of the joint council is to discuss problems, exchange ideas and create a rapport of significant value between the two bodies in relation to affiliation in the State Center Junior College District," stated Edgmon.

Richard Heath, ASB president at Reedley added, "When we sit down and talk to each other, we make friends and achieve mutual respect." Heath was elected to the post of state California Junior Colleges Student Government Association president at their convention held last weekend in Los Angeles.

Permanent Bond

The idea of a joint council was conceived by Edgmon and Heath soon after the issue of the new junior college district had arisen. The two presidents felt that there should be a permanent bond between the two colleges. The body will act as a clearing house of ideas.

"It is my opinion," added Edgmon, "that this new organization will be of benefit to both student bodies and create better student life and more opportunities to students of Reedley and Fresno City."

Rampage Wins Award

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society, awarded the Fresno City College Rampage with its all valley award for newspaper excellence.

The award was based upon competition with junior colleges throughout the San Joaquin Valley.

The award was accepted by Charles Wright, Rampage editor, at the annual conference of the San Joaquin Valley Scholastic Press Association at Fresno State College Saturday.

The Rampage also received an "excellent" rating from the Newspaper Critical Rating Service of the SJVSPA.

Jackie Reigns As Folk, Jazz AMS Queen

"I am really happy I was given the honor of being AMS queen," smiled Jackie Clark. "I was really surprised."

Miss Clark made the statement soon after learning that she would officially represent the Associated Men Students as their first Spring Sweetheart. The new queen was announced and presented with a dozen long-stemmed red roses at the Caravan of Music last Friday evening.

Miss Clark was escorted by Charles Bain, who with Dennis Jacoby, sponsored her in the AMS queen contest. She will now represent the club as a Spring Formal Queen candidate.

The McLane High School graduate is majoring in home economics at FCC and plans to transfer to Fresno State in another year. Miss Clark hopes to teach home economics in either junior or senior high school.

Hot fudge sundaes rate high on her "like" list and manage to take up her spare time along with swimming, working and studying.

The five queen candidates were escorted on stage at the Wing Ding by their AMS sponsors. Sam Schwan, local disc jockey, made the presentation. Miss Clark will succeed Dianne Lawton, the AMS homecoming queen candidate, in representing AMS.

PETTY THIEVERY POSES PROBLEM TO STUDENTS

An overwhelming amount of petty thievery may face the Fresno City College student body with the possibility of losing their cafeteria and coffee shop privileges when the new cafeteria opens this fall.

In a single month, 432 ash trays, 72 plastic paper cup holders (costing $1 each) innumerable pieces of silverware and several napkin holders and straw containers were taken from the cafeteria and coffee shop. Over a two day period in the same month, 38 sugar dispensers were stolen from that area.

The cafeteria is owned and operated by the Associated Student Body and the alarming rate of theft is depleting the ASB budget at an ever increasing rate. The students are stealing from themselves and it is they who must pay the loss in the end.

If the students do not discipline themselves and end the wave of thievery, the only alternatives may be to increase the student body card fee considerably or to curtail the privileges in the new cafeteria.

Spring Formal Will Headline Perez Prado

By INEZ MARTA

Rampage Staff Writer

A sparkling new ballroom and a big name band, just the ingredients called for to produce an enchanting evening.

Almost everyone, at one time or another, dreams of dancing ladies in flowing gowns and gallant gentlemen, sporting dinner jackets and bow ties, passing their evenings in an elegant manner and now FCC students have been presented with the opportunity to shed their tennies and sweat shirts and transform themselves for one special evening.

Biggest And Best

Headed by John Reynolds, joint committee chairman, the AMS and AWS are outdoing themselves this year by planning the biggest and best Spring Formal in the school's history.

The dance which is set for May 15 will last from 9 PM to 1 AM and will take place in the Fresno Hacienda's new Vegas Room.

New Custom

Playing for the occasion will be Perez Prado and his renowned orchestra.

As if this wasn't enough, a new school custom will be initiated by the crowning of a Spring Formal Queen to be selected by the student body the week before the dance.

Reflection In The Glass

By DENNIS JACOBY
Rampage Columnist

CUPS & SAUCERS: It seems that the girls in the coffee shop have a real problem (besides the rotten mustard). Why is it that people can't resist the temptation to put salt in the sugar containers? I realize this is great fun and we do need a little recreation and all that rot. But why not confine this sort of activity to one of the downtown establishments or to the bubble gummer hang out on Shaw Ave. Oh yes, and while you are out in the outside world, maybe you can swipe a few sugar containers, salt and pepper shakers, plates, cups and saucers, glasses, knives, forks, spoons etc. to replace the ones we have had stolen from our eateries. Looks like the latest jag is if you can't swap contents, swipe containers.

SONGS & DANCES for foreign countries are in store for those of you who choose to attend the World Show May 8 in the FCC auditorium. The program is being presented through the combined efforts of the International Clubs of FCC and FSC. The gig starts at 8 PM and student tickets can be purchased from Barbara Ehrenburg, Rudy Dar and Marsha Minkler for 75 cents. And for you adults, if there are any adults reading this column, tickets may be purchased from the same people for $1. And since most people don't have time to chase these people around the campus in quest of tickets, they will be on sale at the door the night of the performance.

LOSER OUTERS: Those of you who missed out on the Ford Caravan of Music last Friday really missed the boat. It is a real shame we can't get a little more participation for these programs . . . but why cry about it?

The highlight of the evening was probably Steve DePass's rousing interpretation of current events around campus and on the national scene. He was followed by the Modern Folk Quartet. Their performance was rollicking and really livened the program. Included in their numbers was a song about the Selective Service program, and the close listening draft dodgers were filled with new ideas by the time the MFQ's performance had drawn to a close. Cal Tjader as usual captivated the audience especially with the Afro-Cuban rhythms. Judy Henske was somewhat of a disappointment to a few and, although her songs seemed a little off key, her stories and gyrations kept the audience (male members anyway) spellbound. At the start of the evening Jackie Clark was named AMS queen and presented with a bouquet of roses by Sam Schwan, local disc jockey. All in all the performance was really great and the estimated 425 in attendance seemed very responsive. . . . Sorry you missed out troops? You ought to be.

DOGGONE PODIUM RUSTLERS: It seems that every Tuesday a little before noon someone makes the beat with one of the podiums from McLane Hall. Now this wouldn't be so bad if the culprit would remember to return the podium in question. Yep, you guessed it. The guy never returns the podium and therefore the custodian in McLane Hall has been forced to devote a great deal of time in quest of the aforementioned podium. . . . Now to get down to the facts: for the last few weeks I have seen a stray podium wandering around the student lounge. Every Tuesday just a little before noon the podium appears at the student council meeting. . . . So, if you council members need a speaker's stand (soap box) please see that it gets returned to its proper place. Let's not waste the custodian's time with such trivial matters.

While on the subject of council I noted that there are still quite a few lost souls who showed up without their "beautiful" blazers. When I asked them where their blazers were, they of course replied "It's too hot to wear them." So naturally being concerned for their welfare I took it upon myself to find a solution to this earth shattering problem. And after due consideration this is my solution, and I will submit this right here and now, Terry: why not invest another $1100 in summer uniforms (tee hee). Well now then there, uh, jes' tell 'em where you got it.

THE MUSEUM OF FINE ARTS: FCC's answer to the Museum of Fine Arts is located on the second floor of the SUB (student union building). This room is located right next door to the student president's office and is more affectionately known as the men's restroom (head or john if you prefer). On the walls of this very necessary room you will find everything from poems to phone numbers and names with a few drawings thrown in for spice. Most of these items are rather crude and obscene so if you decide to stop by, I hope you have a very strong stomach and if you are of the opposite sex a good disguise might help. . . . It is things like this that make people wonder what is wrong with our nation's youth. Ole Johnnie Wall Writer is at it again. Oh well.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN TWO WORLDS COLLIDE?

By BARBARA DIDIER
Managing Editor

Ten screaming students, engaged in a checkered career, have put their arts to the acid test, only to be buffeted by defeat.

These alleged students are busy as bees, keeping away from the clutches of the law. They were as cool as cucumbers when they attacked the East-Wingers. It was a sad sight to see their leader cool his heels into the West-Wing office only to depart in a vale of tears—the West-Wing devouring elements always hang in the balance by helping him to depart with a hail of verbal bullets following him far into the heart of the "business district."

Small in numbers, but of Herculean strength, the West-Wingers were always hungry as bears when it came to fighting for the lime-light into the long hours of the night to finish their weekly task. While the East-Wingers loom like sentinals as the West-Wing leader prepares them for their Waterloo.

"It never reigns, but it pours," the West-Wing leader said in reference to what he called radical East-Wing ideals.

The administration was combing the city college campus while it was raining cats and dogs. A sea of upturned faces searched the student center for a silver lining, only to smell a rat. The West-Wingers stalk to the spectator every Tuesday for a stormy session. They are admitted, but the East-Wingers are always stuck to their banners about the crying need into the great beyond (spirit?), using the words of the great white father quite vigorously.

Quick to hop on the wings of disaster, the West-Wingers must throw a monkey wrench into the discussion so that the swing of the pendulum is unbalanced and it becomes necessary for the able hand of the non-existent parliamentarian to unscramble the situation. In view of the coming alarm the prominent "law lords", white as sheets, step into the lime-light and send the whole issue at hand to a watery grave.

"Even though he was nipped in the bud, I think he's a picture of health that's as strong as a pillar of a church," said one middle-of-the-hall observer as he pointed with pride at the East-Wing leader.

While the East-Wing stands a little straighter, as though he had just won his spurs, the West-Wingers once again at 1 PM begin to work like Trojans to start the cycle of events all over again.

Future Graduates Must Make Reservations

Anyone participating in the graduation ceremonies at FCC on June 12, should make their reservations for caps and gowns and order their cards and announcements in the bookstore next month.

The rental fee for the caps and gowns is $3.50. The reservations for them must be made by May 15. If it is discovered that any of the students will not be graduating prior to May 29, the reservation may be cancelled.

Announcements and cards may be ordered any time before May 8.

Jewel Herbert, the bookstore manager, would like to see those who are graduating, so she may take the measurements and reservations.

Ram Week Finale Spots Noon Dance

"Wanted—one Fresno City College yearbook."

They're getting short of supply and this ad may run in the classified section of the newspaper before long.

The reason—a special sales campaign by the Ram staff to promote sales of the annual.

Ram Week, featuring a display window, coupons and a sales booth in front of the SUB, will terminate tomorrow with a free noon dance.

"If everyone on campus hasn't heard about Ram Week, it isn't our fault," said Jerralynn (Suzi) Holloman, acting editor. "The publicity has been great and the student body response has been tremendous."

Miss Holloman said "a great number" of Rams have been sold and the supply is running low. Only 800 copies of the yearbook have been ordered.

She advised students to buy their yearbooks "as soon as possible." The booth is open from 9 AM to 2 PM.

"We want students to know that this is the best annual ever," Miss Holloman commented. "We are behind it 100 per cent and we want the student body to know it."

The Ram costs $2.50 now but the price will be increased to $3 when the yearbook arrives. It is scheduled for a late May delivery.

Scholarship Applications Due Friday

Tomorrow is the last day to apply for an FCC scholarship.

These scholarships are available to entering freshmen from the high schools and to returning Fresno City College students. All applications must be received in the office of the chairman, Committee on Scholarships, Fresno City College, no later than May 1.

These awards are made on a competitive basis, with consideration being given to the applicant's scholastic record, financial need, character and promise of future success. Some scholarships are given on a two semester basis and the students receiving these are required to maintain above average grades in the first semester in order to receive the second semester award.

The applications may be obtained from the counseling center, room A-118 of the FCC administration building. The following documents are required: 1. Letters of recommendation, and 2. transcripts of one's scholastic record.

Each applicant entering FCC for the first time should have three letters of recommendation sent directly to the chairman, Committee on Scholarships. The application should include one from the high school principal. Continuing students need to submit only one letter of recommendation.

structed in 1903. The then mayor, Parker Lyon, was backing the bond. When he saw that it wasn't going to pass, he got an evangelist to pray that it would. Another landmark was the installation of tracks on Fulton St. for trolley cars.

Originally downtown Fresno had 2,500 parking spaces and the number will increase to an estimated 7,400 spaces, he continued.

"The Mall is only the frosting on the cake," said Pollard. "The real heart of the downtown project is the rehabilitation of the buildings. The only buildings that will remain of the old Fresno city will be the Fresno Hotel, Crest Theatre and the Travelodge Motel. "There will be literally thousands of people coming to Fresno to see the Mall."

Student Body President Voices CJCSGA Opinion

By TERRY EDMON
Student Body President

Last Thursday, five delegates; myself, Miss Susan Hawthorne, our attractive V.P.; Miss Frances Hanoi, equally attractive representative; Rudy Dar, commissioner of publications and International Club president; and our astute frosh pres., Ray Bay; plus our ever-jovial advisor, Mr. "Bing" King journeyed to the southland to attend the biggest event of the junior college year.

This was the famous CJCSGA state convention, the thirty-seventh annual meeting of the top student leaders of all the junior colleges in California and some from Arizona. For three days the six of us were continually on the go, never once pausing except for rest; attending banquets, workshops, caucuses, meetings, dances, informal get-togethers, and what have you. For three days we mingled with our counterparts from all over the state discussing common student government and school problems, meeting old acquaintances, and making new friends. Many resolutions were passed at the general assemblies which were of importance to all in the junior college system.

All-in-all, this was an experience which I feel more students should gain, and that the ones who did gain it will not soon forget it.

Bombers Face Crucial Match

By GEORGE KUEMPEL
Rampage Sports Editor

That fickle lady by the name of luck has only had eyes for Ram horsehidrs during the past two weeks, keeping them within shooting distance of the Valley Conference crown.

Sacramento City College, two weeks and four games ago, was sitting pretty in conference play with a comfortable four game lead over contending City College.

Today, two doubleheaders later, Sacramento finds itself with a narrow one game lead over City College with a critical twin bill with the Rams scheduled for Saturday at 12:00 PM in John Euleess Park.

Downhill

It all started with the Panthers suffering a two game defeat to the Delta Mustangs in Stockton, while City College swept a twin bill from American River Junior College two weeks ago.

With only a two game lead, Sacramento dropped two more the following week against the College of the Sequoias.

The Rams failed for a conference tie after splitting their double header with Delta the same day, 12-0 and 4-5, but the split brought them one game closer to slow-moving Sacramento.

If the Rams had taken the twin bill they would be going against the Panthers even up, but as it stands they need a dual victory to keep in the title race.

Even if the Rams split with the Panthers, they will be one game out with only a doubleheader remaining in conference play for both teams.

Need Sweep

A series sweep would give the Rams a one game edge, while a split would about kindle their chances to defend their crown, climaxing a three season championship record.

Chief horsehider, Len Bourdet was taking things in stride this week. "It still boils down to the fact if the kids will rise to the occasion," he said. "A sweep would give us an advantageous position," Bourdet said. "A sweep for them would give them the title."

Bourdet said that he would start with Tom Seavers, the Rams' main strong arm. Charles Merker or Roger Hubbull would start the night cap.

The Rams have four hitters who have batted over .300 in conference play. George Monreal leads the squad with an average of .455, and Ross Moschitto is second with a .381. Harry Miller is .375, and Don Reinero has a .316.

Look To Seavers

Seavers heads the pitching staff with a 4-2 record. Howard Schmidt is 3-1, while Merker and Hubbell are 1-2 and 1-0, respectively.

With three straight Northern California Championships, and shooting for their fourth consecutive title the Rams are 10-6 in conference play.

After the Rams 12-0 first game victory last Saturday, the squad got over confident, according to Bourdet. "They were so sure they could get that second game," he said.

The Rams will complete conference play, unless a tie must be played off, May 9 with a twin bill against the College of the Sequoias.

Ram Nine Splits Set With SJD

By DON MENCARINI
Rampage Sports Writer

Coach Len Bourdet and his horsehidrs almost threw the Valley Conference into a deadlock by narrowly missing a doubleheader sweep from San Joaquin Delta.

Unfortunately, the Rams lost the second game to Delta, 5-4 in extra innings, while overpowering them in the first game, 12-0.

Last Saturday, Sacramento City College lost a doubleheader to the College of the Sequoias in Visalia, 6-3, and 4-3, which gives them the VC lead with a 11-5 record. Fresno is one game out of first and is currently in second place with a 10-6 record.

This Saturday the Panthers of Sacramento City College will arrive in Fresno to play coach Len Bourdet's nine, which shall determine the winner of the Valley Conference.

FCC GOLFERS SINK COS; GET THREE-WAY CROWN

Coach Hans Wiedenhoefer's Fresno City College golf team are proud owners of a Valley Conference golf co-championship as they knocked off the College of the Sequoias of Visalia, 23-7, Monday on the Riverside Municipal Golf Course in Fresno.

GABE DECISIONS 'IRISH' COLLINS

Fresno City College's professional California welterweight champion, Gabriel "Gabe" Terronez, scored a sensational ten round decision over Irish Billy Collins in a bloody slugfest last Monday night before 2,000 screaming fans at the Memorial Auditorium in Fresno.

The Fresno Bomber, cheered on by cries of "Viva Terronez" from the partisan hometown fans, started fast in the early rounds by consistently stalking his prey, pressuring him into mistakes, and clobbering him on the head and body.

Referee Frankie Carter and Judge Abe Cohn scored the rounds 5-4 and 4-3, respectively, in favor of "Gabe". Judge Bob Mitchell scored 7-3 in favor of Collins.

"Collins is the roughest fighter I have met. I'm glad I beat him," Terronez said.

Terry McCabe paced the Rams with an even par 72 as he defeated Denny Turk of COS (79), 6-0. In the second match of the afternoon Dave Sabo of City College notched a one over par 73 as he edged past Roger Wilcox of COS who gathered a two over par 74 and won the contest by a 4-2 margin.

Tom Mirse gave the Giants their first and only victory as he defeated Bill Fiori, 5-1, tally, and picked up a five over par 77 with Fiori scoring a seven over par 79.

Take Matches

Dennis Makasian and Dan Diel picked up the fourth and fifth matches as they scored 6-0 victories over Walt Dwell and Randy Hansen of the visiting COS team.

Coach Wiedenhoefer will now prepare his high flying golfers for the coming Valley Conference Championship Tournament at Swenson Park Municipal Golf Course in Stockton.

San Joaquin Delta, one of the three teams that ended in a tie with the Rams and Giants, will be the host team and are favorites to capture the meet.

Ready For State Meet

FCC Spikers Fourth In NorCal Tourney

Coach Erwin Ginsburg, only mustering enough manpower to fill the opening lineup of a baseball team, led his Ram cindermen to a fourth place finish in the sixth annual Northern California Junior College Relays at Foothill College in Los Altos last Saturday afternoon.

American River Junior College of Sacramento paced by the triple-win performance of Bob Smith rolled to an easy win in the 1964 Valley Conference Swimming and Diving Championships at Modesto Friday and Saturday.

Second place Fresno City College paced by John Winstead, also a triple winner, rolled up a total of 99 points as compared to 129½ for the ARJC crew.

Bob Smith and John Winstead were voted co-swimmers of the meet for their outstanding feats in the two day affair. Smith took firsts in the 400 yard Individual Medley, 200 yard Backstroke, 100 yard Backstroke and also was a member of the winning 400 yard Medley Relay team.

Winstead Scores

On the other hand John Winstead, the FCC phenom, scored victories in the 200, 500 and 1,650 yard Freestyle Races as well as being a member of the second place Ram 400 yard Freestyle Relay team.

In the most exciting race of the meet Wayne Deaver remained in the undefeated column as he nosed out Terry McNally of Delta College by .2 of a second as Deaver was timed in 23.2 for 50 yard Freestyle race.

Winstead had probably the best individual effort of the meet as he rolled to three fairly easy victories in the events he swam. He won the 500 yard Freestyle race by more than a full length of the pool as he swam the race in the time of 5:15.0 to better the old conference record by 10.5 seconds and the meet record by 19 seconds.

Winstead scored his final victory in the 1,650 yard Freestyle as he broke the conference and meet records by 44 seconds and 56 seconds respectively. He also was a member of the FCC Freestyle Relay as he anchored them to their best time of the year with 3:33.0.

Saturday, FCC's spikers will travel to the American River Junior College campus for the Valley Conference Championships to determine qualifiers for the state meet.

Ginsburg is not worried as to what place the Rams will finish as a team, but only how many of his track aces can qualify. The Ram mentor has been priming his crew the past week for all-out individual performances, primarily relying on his charges' steady improvement and ability to come through in the "clutch".

Oakland City College's powerful track squad trotted off with the NorCal Relays with 60 points, followed by American River, 42, San Mateo, 37, and Fresno City College, 32.

Three Firsts

Fresno's spikers made a strong showing at the NorCal Relays by taking three first places, second only to the power T-Birds' four firsts, in the long jump, triple jump, and high jump. College of Sequoias, the pre-meet favorite and VC champ, finished a disappointing fifth among the 22 junior colleges competing.

FCC's versatile Houston Williamson salled 24 feet 1 inch to break the meet and stadium record in the long jump. The old record was set by former FCC star Charlie Craig, now attending Fresno State College. Williamson also owns the school record formerly held by Craig as he has gone over the 23-6 record several times.

'Not Bad'

Coach Ginsburg said "We didn't do so bad up there (Foothill) and if we show steady improvement I think we can give a good account of ourselves in both the West Coast Relays and the state meet."
