

Awards Program Needs Discussion

The Student Council last Tuesday voted to resubmit a proposed activity awards program to the planning committee which drafted it for further discussion.

The program, designed to give credit to Fresno City College students for their participation in extracurricular activities, has been arranged by a committee composed of Michael McGinis, Don Perry, Gary McCurry, Ron Winter and Suzanne Moxley.

"The purpose of the program," explained Ron Primavera, FCC student body president, "is to award points to students for their participation in the Student Council, organizations, clubs, athletics, music, drama, debate, Potpourri, Rampage and many other activities."

"The awards will be known as the Gold and Silver Rams, and they shall be awarded at an all school assembly at the close of the school year."

Primavera said one of the program's purposes is to stimulate interest in extracurricular activities.

He also pointed out that the program will benefit the student in later life in that a transcript showing the activities the student participated in will be placed in the student's file for further reference by employers who wish to know what type of person they are considering for work.

The committee for the awards program decided that for a student to be eligible for the Gold Ram he must have a 2.3 grade point average and that he must have earned 100 activity points during the school year.

To be eligible for the Silver Ram, a student would have to have a 2.0 grade point average and have earned 50 activity points.

Landscape Underway On Campus

Fresno City College students will witness a campus landscaping project.

The area to be developed is the plot of ground between the new cafeteria and the student center.

Miss Doris Deakins, dean of women, said that the area will be landscaped with trees and shrubs, with benches and adequate lighting for the evening.

An area for rallies will be cemented in, and walks will be provided for the flow of traffic to and from the gym.

Dr. Archie Bradshaw, president of FCC, gave an approximate cost of the project as $132,000. This also includes the new bookstore. Dr. Bradshaw has made some minor cuts in the approximate cost. He hopes the plans for the project will be submitted by the next board of trustees' meeting Oct. 28.

The proposed development will soon be up for bid, he said.

This project will eventually be extended to include the area surrounding McLane Hall. This will give the effect of a mall.

Lounge Improved

Dean Lauds Student Responsibility

Since it opened back in 1955, the Fresno City College student lounge has encountered several problems, some of which have resulted in the closing of the facility on a number of occasions.

But as far as Merle Martin, FCC dean of students, is concerned, many of those problems have been corrected.

"Students this year have been using the lounge properly," said Martin. "We appreciate the fact that students are more mature now and use it for the purpose it was designed." Martin specified that the lounge is designed for students seeking a quiet place to relax and study.

According to Martin, the lounge has been closed off and on throughout the past few years because students have abused the facility. He said that students have used the lounge as a sleeping place and as a place to play cards.

"The last time it (the lounge) was closed in the spring of 1964 was because of general misuse over a period of time," Martin explained.

When the lounge reopened this spring, the student council agreed to take over the responsibility of supervising its operation.

"I think it is good that the students can take care of their own problems instead of having the administration do it," Martin commented.

FCC students find the student lounge to their liking as they use the relaxed atmosphere for a comfortable study place between classes.

Martin said he believes that the movement of the cafeteria from the student center to its new location has relieved much of the pressure formerly placed on the Expansion Discussed By Board

The need to spend $3,251,334 for updating Fresno City College facilities for a projected load of 6,000 full-time students was discussed at a special night meeting of the State Center Junior College District Trustees last Thursday. The meeting was held in the board room of the FCC library.

FCC needs 27 more classrooms and 14 special rooms, laboratories or shops to accommodate the increased student enrollment. This was explained in the Space Adequacy Survey submitted by Stuart M. White, superintendent of the State Center District.

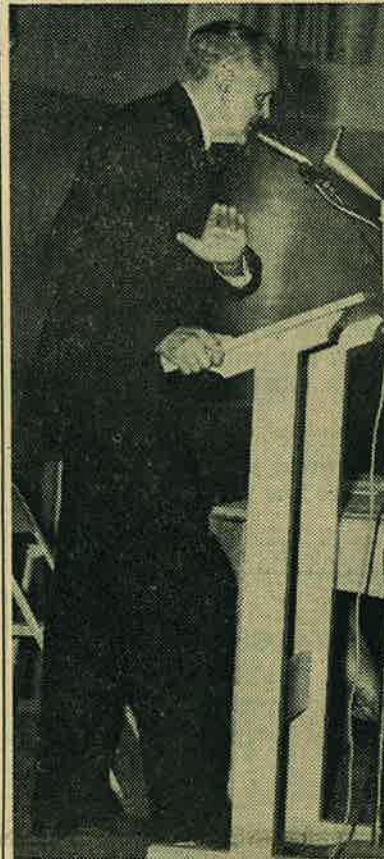

"The purpose of the meeting was to go into greater detail on how the Space Adequacy Survey calculated the estimated costs of expanding FCC," explained White.

"By 1968 we will be in a critical spot for classroom space."

Construction of classrooms costs $22 per square foot with offices at $26 and laboratories at $30.

"I felt the meeting was very beneficial," concluded White. "The board members are very interested in resolving our problem of growth at both the Fresno and Reedley campuses."

Speaker Raps Leaders Of UC Demonstrations

DR. EDWARD STRONG

Dr. Strong: A Disregard Of Obligations

Disregard for the obligations of membership in a community was pinned to the leaders of last week's demonstrations attacking United States policy in Viet Nam by Dr. Edward Strong, former chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley.

In a meeting of the World Affairs Council in Fresno Monday night, Dr. Strong assailed the students for using campus facilities to plan unlawful activities.

"It is only permissible to use campus facilities to plan, implement and raise funds for lawful activities," he said.

"The university is a public trust in which students must comply with the regulations of the university and regard the right of others."

Dr. Strong stated that there were some faculty members who participated in the demonstration, but they represented only a minority of the faculty.

"At most there are only 25 faculty members who are involved in these demonstrations," he asserted. "Of that number, only three are really active."

Four reasons were listed by Strong as the causes of the demonstrations of last week and last fall.

They include that students' question legally constituted authority, a disregard for the obligations to the school and the community, a militant zeal for authority and a concept that the end result justifies the authority to gain illegal means.

"Even though the university's policy will not aid nor condone actions contrary to laws of the state," Strong said, "campus facilities are being used to plan unlawful activities."

To prevent the campus from being politicized, Strong stressed the importance of deans having more authority to control the students.

Bradshaw To Direct Conference

The California Junior College Association fall conference will be held at the Fresno Hacienda Tuesday through Thursday at 2 PM.

Dr. Archie Bradshaw, Fresno City College president, will serve as the north-central region president and preside as chairman at the noon luncheon on Wednesday.

Dr. Bradshaw said that this is the state conference which meets once during each semester. It is the policy-making body for all the junior colleges in California.

Conference Theme

The conference theme is Unfinished Business: Continuing Challenges for the California Junior Colleges.

The conference is made up of faculty members, administrators and junior college school board members.

Stuart M. White, superintendent of the State Center Junior College District will attend the meeting and participate in a panel discussion, "The Master Plan for Higher Education: How Well is it Working Out?"

FCC Delegates

The faculty delegate from the north-central region will be Donald Wren, chairman of the Faculty Club's salary committee.

The official representatives are Robert Kelly, the dean of the evening college; John McCuen, dean of instruction; Franz Weinschenk, president of the Faculty Senate; Joe Kelly, educational advisor and Timothy Welch, public information officer.

Career Data Available

Are you aware of the many vocational and educational opportunities your education at Fresno City College will make possible to you?

Eric Rasmussen, an FCC counselor, said that provision of vocational and educational information is one of the services provided by the counseling center. He believes that students should avail themselves of this information.

A library of pamphlets and booklets is on display and on file covering a variety of career and employment possibilities.

Degrees Have Value Often Not Realized

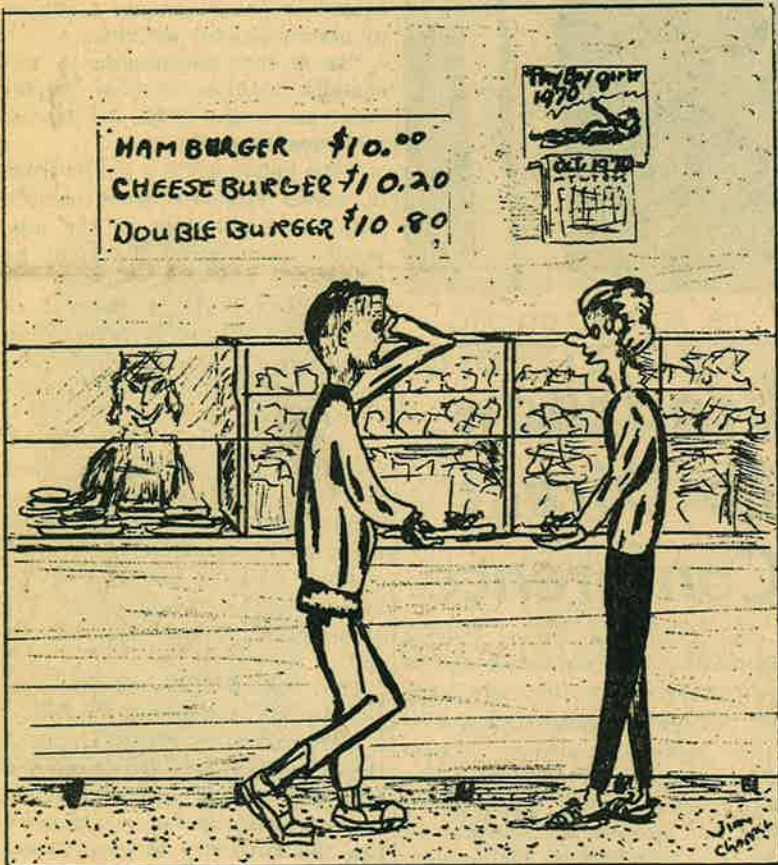

Students at Fresno City College do not seem to realize the value of the associate of art and associate of science degrees. A look at college records of past years will reveal that of the hundreds of freshmen who enroll at FCC only a small handful graduate with a degree.

To qualify for an AA degree all one would have to do is complete 60 units of college work with a C average or better in all work attempted. Twenty of the units would have to be taken in a specified field of study or an approved related field. The student would also have to complete basic subject requirements in American History, health education, physical education and six units of English and speech.

In addition, students must complete successfully at least one course in each of the following groups: man and society, mathematics and natural science and fine and practical arts. (Courses in these groups can be found in the 1965 FCC Catalog, Page 25).

Requirements for the AS degree are generally the same as those for the AA degree. However, students seeking an AS degree in trade preparatory majors must complete four semesters in one trade area.

For the advantages available in future employment and for the demands of today's society, it would seem practical that students would try harder to meet the few requirements needed for an AA or AS degree.

Well it all started back in 1965 when we wouldn't...

Signs Of The Times

Ever have a spare moment in which you noticed the dark sign with white letters saying "Vehicle Registration?"

That sign and ones like it seen in different areas of the campus are made by the production office, under the direction of Miss Evelyn Sterios.

The office is located upstairs in the Administration Building in Room 202, and does sign making and duplicating.

The machine which makes the letters is called an embosograf. To make the letters come out correctly, they must be placed in backwards. To use the embosograf, "You have to have patience," said Miss Sterios.

Miss Sterios said she generally makes about 75 to 100 such signs a year. The machine is for the entire school's use.

The only cost is for the paper which is 90 cents a ream, and contains between 180 and 500 sheets.

Shaky Ground Is Sought By Graph

How many students know that Fresno City College has a seismograph located on its campus?

A seismograph measures any change in rock formations in the earth, said Randy Kelly, son of Evening College Dean Robert Kelly.

Kelly, a student at Fresno State College, comes to FCC daily at 5:30 PM to read the seismograph. The reports are turned in to the University of California at Berkeley, where they are developed to supplement earthquake coverage by the more elaborate and expensive strong-motion seismographs of the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

The seismograph, located in the basement below the main office of the Administration Building, is controlled by Fresno State College. It remained behind when FSC moved to its new campus because moving it to a new location would throw its recording mechanisms off.

Practice, Expense, Or Make Your Own Gear

Every girl dreams of the excitement and thrill of being a pep girl, but few take the time to consider the expense involved.

"This year," said Janet Clemens, head pep girl at Fresno City College, "the school is paying for alterations of the uniforms and all pompoms, but each year the girls must pay for their own tights, shoes and gloves."

Miss Clemens noted that last year, the school paid for their new uniforms and the first set of pompoms. The second pair of pompoms had to be purchased by each of the girls. "We usually ended up making them ourselves to cut down on expenses," she said.

Eight Pep Girls

This year's FCC pep girl group consists of six regulars and two alternates. The regulars, in addition to Miss Clemens, include Sue Smith, Patty Hathaway, Sandy Howard and Shirley Boganwright. The alternates are Wylene Powers and Jennete Orndoff.

"We spend two hours each day practicing," noted Miss Clemens. "Practices are held during two physical education periods in the morning. We also receive credit for the class."

Miss Howard feels that more student cooperation would help. "If students are not willing to help, we cannot start to improve school spirit," she said.

Better Publicity

"After the game dances like Ramburger Round-up would be a big help," suggests Miss Smith. "We need better publicity and better organized rallies. Sometimes even I don't know where games are being held until a few days before."

Miss Powers, one of the newly selected alternates, believes that college spirit is much different than high school spirit. "Rallies have been cancelled because of lack of interest," she explained, "but Ram Spirit Incorporated is now working on the problem."

More publicity is Miss Orndoff's solution. "Clubs should help out in trying to boost spirit," she stated.

Although being a pep girl takes up a large amount of their time, all the girls agree that it does not affect their study time and that it has helped them to make new friends.

"I just moved to Fresno from Redding," noted Miss Orndoff. "When I first got here I didn't like the town and was very unhappy. Now that I'm a pep girl and have met so many people I love it, and do not want to leave."

Mrs. Georgene Wiedenhofer, faculty sponsor for the pep girl group, noted that a girl must maintain a C average and carry at least 10 units plus physical education.

Pep girls perform at all FCC football games, both at home and away. Each girl is a member of Ram Spirit Incorporated. Patty Hathaway serves as the club's Inter Club Council representative.

Center Is For All Students

"The Newman Center is designed for the college student. It is a Catholic club but anyone is most certainly welcome," Father Sergio Negro, the center's director, said.

It was started locally by Monsignor James G. Dowling in 1931 on the old Fresno State College campus. During that time the club met at the St. Therese Church.

On May 10, 1964, the center moved to 1572 East Barstow Ave. near Fresno State College. The land was donated by J. E. O'Neill.

Newman Center has a chapel, restaurant and lounge. "At the moment we are working on our library project. We are trying to collect 7,000 religious books," said Father Negro.

Presently Father Negro is teaching a class on a survey of Catholic beliefs and practices. Father E. M. James Petersen is holding a class on the discussion of oral theology.

"Wednesdays are the most active. We have a lecture at 8 PM, and some kind of student activity usually follows," Father Negro said.

"We plan to have a nationally known historian, Monsignor John Tracy Lellis, as a guest speaker in the near future."

"I would like to invite all the city college students to come and use our facilities and participate in the activities," Father Negro commented.

Library Offers Aid

A number of teaching aids and student services are now being offered by the Fresno City College Library.

The latest edition of the Library Handbook, published by Head Librarian Jackson Carty and staff, lists many of these services and aids and how they are designed to help students.

Among the services offered by the library are listening stations in the Reserve Room and in Room 206 of the library.

Both of these facilities are designed for students wishing to use tape recorders and record players for their studies. This equipment may be checked out in the Reserve Room.

Reserved

Originally, the handbook stated that conference rooms could be reserved for student group study and to use tape recorders and record players. Carty, however, said that the rooms are needed for classes.

"The only conference room available now is the board of trustee room. This must be used for State Center board and other important meetings."

Another student aid offered by the library, although not mentioned in the handbook, is the Thermofax copying machine. Carty pointed out that students wishing to have magazine articles and pages from books duplicated should notify the reference desk with the information they want copied. The first two pages are available free of charge, additional pages cost 10 cents apiece.

Reference Books

Reference books, such as encyclopedias, atlas, almanacs and periodicals, are also available, but must be used only in the library.

Reserve books are set aside by many FCC instructors for certain classes. These books may be checked out for two hour intervals at the reserve desk. Students wishing to borrow books overnight may check them out only after 4 PM, and returned them by 9 AM the following morning.

Other books, usually available for two-week periods, must be checked out at the circulation desk.

Student Cards

Students must present their student body cards with a library number included before any books are borrowed. Any student who has not already received a library number is advised by the library to notify the circulation desk as soon as possible.

Fines are charged on overdue, lost or damaged materials. Students returning reserve books late are charged 25 cents for the first hour plus five cents for each additional hour. Two-week books returned late will result in a five cents a day fine.

Periodicals

The library also provides a large selection of magazines and newspapers. These materials are available in the reference room, and must remain there. Only a limited number of magazines on reserve may be borrowed overnight.

Vocational material, pamphlets and college and university catalogs are also available to students in the reference room.

These aids and services are available to both day and evening college students on a daily basis. The library is open Monday through Friday from 8 AM to 5 PM and Monday through Thursday from 6:30 PM to 9:20 PM.

FCC Budget Climbs To All-Time Record

Linda Wood, associated student body treasurer, said the $47,157 budget is the highest in FCC history. The new budget is $6,600 more than last year's and is $6,504 over the tentative budget set for this year. The increase in the budget came with the increased enrollment and the need for more facilities and equipment. The substantial increase in the budget is also due to the increased participation in campus activities.

Journalists To Attend Convention

The Associated Collegiate Press national convention in San Francisco will be attended by eight members of the Rampage staff.

They will leave here in an FCC stationwagon at 1 PM today, and return after the final luncheon, Saturday.

Arrangements have been made for them to stay at the Sheraton Palace Hotel, where the convention is to be held.

Charles Schulz, creator of the Peanuts cartoon strip, will be featured as a speaker among many others to be speaking at the three day convention.

Indian Embassy Sponsors Essay

The Indian Embassy in Washington, D.C. is sponsoring an essay contest, open to American students between the ages of 18-21.

Nehru as a World Citizen is the essay topic. The paper must contain 2,000 to 2,500 words.

The first prize for the best essay will be a one-week vacation in India.

Those interested should contact Rolf Ordal or Hugh Golway, history instructors, for further information.

Athletic training supplies received the largest extension to its budget. The school had an opportunity to purchase supplies on a bulk basis which resulted in a large savings.

A new item added to the budget this fall is the new police training program. Its budget of $2,600 will be used for uniforms and equipment.

Mrs. Betty Anderson, financial secretary, said all expenditures are to be made through the finance office. A purchase order must be first submitted to the office for approval.

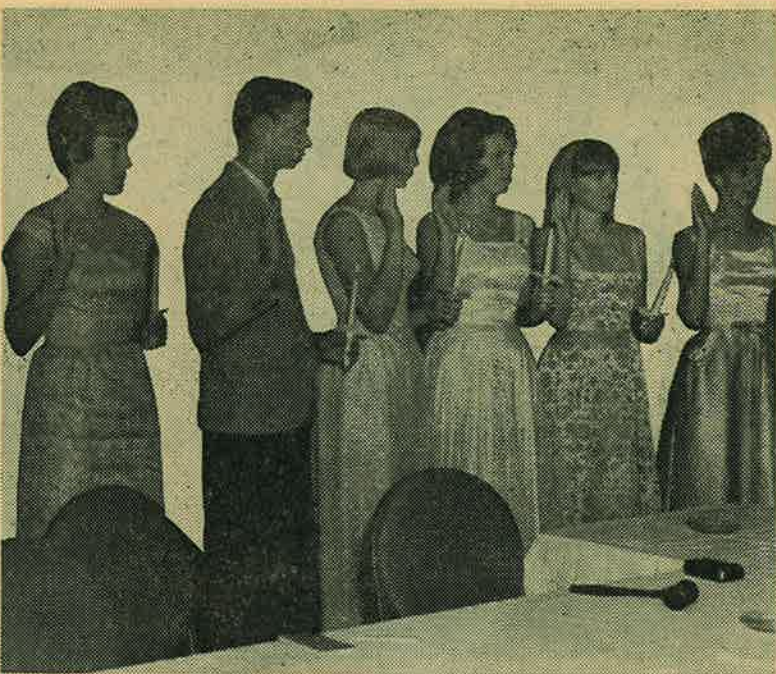

The other items on the budget had minor increases and decreases based largely on the request made by the committee to the council, added Mrs. Anderson.

The following are the approved allocations to be made to each group under the 1965 fall budget: activities, $6,515; athletics, $17,878; organizations, $5,560; publications, $9,106; others, including the campus police, transportation, and reserve fund, $7,100.

City College Musicians Take To The Field

FCC's 65 member marching band will make its second appearance of the season Oct. 29 at the Fresno City-American River game at Ratcliffe Stadium.

The theme of the half-time activities will be a Salute to the Fresno Mall, Vincent Moats, FCC band director said. Plans include the clock tower, sculpture from the mall, a fountain, the trams, and a band concert.

"Ideas come from the students and me," he noted.

Of those considered, three or four will be used. Art work for the half-time activities is done by FCC's art department under the direction of Dean Draper, an art instructor.

March Again

This is the first semester in five years that the marching band has been on the field. Moats attributes this to a change of tactics in music department programing.

First, senior high school bandsmen from the surrounding area were given an outline of FCC's musical program. He explained that prior to this semester new music students had no idea of what to expect and often would not sign up. Secondly, the band's meeting time was changed to noon, presenting less conflict with other classes.

Two minor factors which also affected the growth of the band are increasing enrollment and the draft, Moats said.

Coming Events

As the current performance schedule stands, the band will march in three games this fall, attend the Junior Rose Bowl band competition, participate in FCC's Homecoming parade and possibly give a pop concert this winter.

Moats noted that by keeping band performances to a minimum students are able to devote more time to their other classes.

Because of its large membership, there is a shortage of uniforms. If the uniforms are to fit each member correctly, Moats commented, 20 more will be needed. The band is also in need of three sousaphones and two drums.

News Briefs Sticker Deadline Friday

Tomorrow is the deadline for student vehicle registration.

All students who operate or park motor vehicles on Fresno City College property must have their vehicles registered.

Registration forms are located in the foyer of the student center. Completed forms may be turned in to Miss Doris Deakins' office in Room 128 of the Administration Building.

Parking stickers will be issued when the completed forms are turned in.

"Feb. 1 has been set as the deadline to file applications for degrees for all June graduates," announced George Holstein, dean of admissions.

Applications may be obtained in the Admissions and Records Office in the Administration Building.

Holstein said that all students who qualify for degrees will be given preference during registration.

Tryouts for Inspector General by Nicolai Gogol, a 19th century Russian farce, will be held Wednesday and Thursday from 3 to 5 PM in the Social Hall.

Frederick Johnson, play director, announced that parts for 19 men and six women will be filled.

Those who would like to do technical work on the production may sign up at tryouts or with Charles Wright, technical director, in Room 154 of the Administration Building.

The play will be presented on Dec. 2, 3, and 4 in the Social Hall.

Three major changes in the administration of Fresno City College have been made this semester.

Lawrence Martin was appointed as assistant dean of the evening college, Richard Cleland and Miss Doris Deakins were made associate dean of students. Cleland is also dean of men and Miss Deakins remains dean of women.

FCC Faces Sacramento In VC Meet

Valley Conference Cross Country action will find the Fresno City College harriers in Sacramento tomorrow for a dual meet with Sacramento City College.

The league meet will be held on the three mile course in Willard Park at 4 PM.

"Sacramento is the team to beat," said Coach Bob Fries. "They have three real runners which will make a victory difficult for any team."

"However," he added, "in a conference invitational earlier this month we placed two runners ahead of their top three. If we can add another of our runners ahead of theirs, we will win the meet."

Fries added that the team will be out in full force for the meet. No injuries were reported.

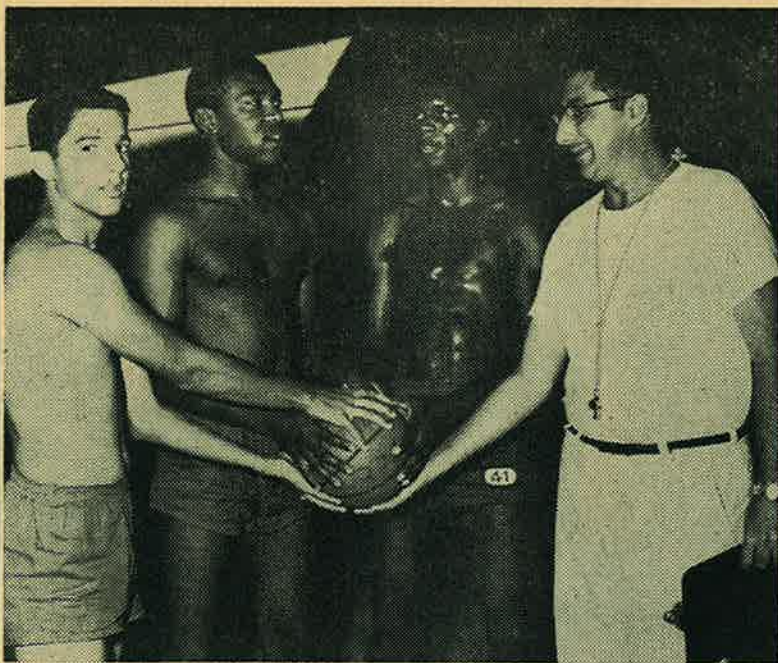

In last Friday's conference opener with Modesto Junior College, the Rams ran up a perfect score in defeating the Pirates 15-50.

The win marked the second time this season the Rams have made a perfect score. The first, however, came in a non-conference meet with Reedley College.

Ram harriers who placed in the first nine positions for Fresno were Steve Garcia, 16:16.7; Ben Mendiola, 16:25; John Garcia, 16:31; Larry Stocks, 16:47; Frank Luna, 16:59; Alton Durst, 17:09; John Begue, 17:52; Lenard Casillas, 17:54 and Dave Dunagan, 17:59.

Freshman harrier Ben Mendiola set the pace for 2 1/4 miles in last Friday's sweeping win over Modesto.

New Basketball Mentor

Toomasian At Helm

By HOWARD SAIKI.

The Fresno City College Ram basketball team will be under the guidance of new Head Coach John Toomasian.

Toomasian, a former Fresno State College basketball star, was one of the most successful high school coaches ever in the Fresno area. He had compiled a won-loss record of 146-31 before taking a position as assistant basketball coach at FCC in 1961.

Toomasian has published basketball articles in Athletic Journal and Scholastic Coach. His contribution to the latter was one of the 24 articles chosen for a book entitled the Best of Basketball From Scholastic Coach. His latest book, Developing A Winning Offense For High School Basketball, is a widely-used coaching aid.

He succeeds Joe Kelly, one of the most popular coaches who ever operated a Ram team. During the 12 years the Rams were under his coaching, they compiled a won-loss record of 277-99.

Kelly's teams won the league championship six times and twice the state crown. In his last year at the Ram helm the Rams finished the second in the state. Coach Kelly's crew came within three points of being state champions for the third time, as his team lost a heart-breaker 69 to 67 in an overtime contest.

Beat Monterey
Last Friday the Rams hosted Monterey Peninsula College and defeated them 24 to 7.

"I was very pleased with the team effort against Monterey," said coach Gene Stephens. "The team played well and their shooting was accurate."

Leading scorers for the Rams were John Winstead with seven goals, Ken Yegan and Tracy Terzian with four each, and Mike Garrison and Jay Huneke with three.

Building Endurance
"The team has lost several games this year in the last period of play," said Stephens. "Right now we are working on endurance in an effort to build up strength in the last period. If we can get this strength and endurance, we should be a winning ball club."

Ram-Pirate Tilt A 'Must Win' Game

By GRANT SIMS
Rampage Sports Writer

The Fresno City College Rams, concentrating on a ground attack, will face the Modesto Junior College Pirates tomorrow at 8 PM in Modesto in a "must win" game for both teams.

Each team will enter the field eyeing its first conference victory. FCC lost to the College of the Sequoias 16-0 in last week's contest, and MJC was downed by Sacramento City College 13-0. Both the Rams and the Pirates have an over-all 3-2 record.

"We should win," Ram Coach Clare Slaughter said. "But we've got to start running the ball. Our team has improved every week and has so far made good use of each game's experience."

Pirate Coach Stan Pavko has also expressed confidence. At the beginning of the season he stated, "This year's team is so far ahead of last year's team that there is no use even trying to compare the two."

Freshmen quarterbacks Ernie Bawana nad Babe Silva are two of Modesto's key men. Bawana, in four games, had a .644 completion average out of 45 pass attempts. His aerial game has been good for 382 yards and 3 TD's.

University of Utah transfer Jerry Shuman is the Pirate's star ground man. In 64 carries Shuman netted 163 yards for a yard-per-carry average of 2.5.

Countering Bawana as passing threats will be quarterbacks Jim Newman and Jes Ruelas, who have provided the Rams with an outstanding attack, including 244 yards and two touchdowns against Yuba College earlier in the season.

Details of last week's game with COS were the same as last year's. The event was a Homecoming and the score was 16-0. Last year, however, it was FCC's Homecoming and FCC's victory.

This year the Rams entered—and exited—underdogs in the FCC-COS clash as their offense failed to click against the Giants. They were held to only 20 yards net gain on the ground.

COS entered the game with a 2-2 record, FCC with 3-1. But Giant Coach Al Baldock's team rated the edge because one of their wins included a 20-6 romp over Reedley's Pirates—the only team to beat Fresno in preconference competition.

During the first two periods COS drove goalward several times only to be stopped dead by a staunch Ram defense. One push was halted when defensive right end Gene Suglian intercepted a pass on Fresno's 37 yard line. Later the Giants managed to travel to the Ram 14, where half-back Bill Rakow recovered a COS fumble.

FCC's only opportunity to score came late in the third period. It was lost when fullback Freddie Figueroa, hard-hit by Art Lewis, fumbled on the COS three yard line. The fumble was recovered by Giant guard Harley Dodd.

Scoring Summary:
COS 0 0 0 16—16
COS—Garcia 11 yard pass interception (pass for PAT failed)
COS—Welch 37 yard pass interception (Carr kicked PAT)
COS—Carr 23 yard field goal

We can't draw a profile of our most successful agents. They defy generalization.

But some things about them do stand out common. A strong sense of purpose. Enthusiasm about their work.

Especially clear is the fact that they all derive great satisfaction from working independently in a service field.

If the opportunity to work and build on your own ability appeals to you, you should investigate our Campus Internship Program for careers in life insurance.

Training—as well as income—starts now, while you're at college, allowing you to make a proper career decision before graduation.

Call us for an interview, we'll be glad to give you the details.
