Campaign Clash

Candidates Seek Top FCC Student Body Offices

Holloman, Primavera Campaign

A lackluster campaign for student body offices will be climaxed tomorrow as the students go to the polls to cast their ballots. Voting will be held from 8 AM to 3 PM.

Only one executive office, that of student body president, is being contested. There are no candidates for the offices of vice president, Associated Men Students' president, and Associated Women Students' president.

Vying for the top office in the student government are Jerralyn (Suzi) Holloman, incumbent, and Ronald Primavera, a write-in candidate.

Myra Aten is seeking reelection as treasurer, and Carol Johnson is waging a write-in campaign for secretary.

Candidates for the 10 posts of representative at large are Tina Gyer, incumbent; Arnold Craver; Edith Hughes, incumbent; Diane Portain, and Tracy Terzian, incumbent. Luis Mestas and Erik Stromberg are running as write-in campaigners for these posts.

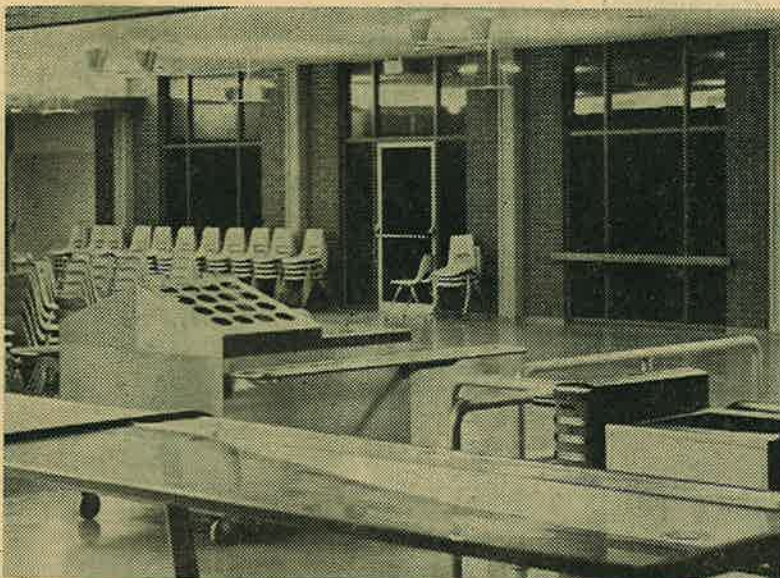

Because of the apathetic response of the students in running for office, Jeffrey Lewis, commissioner of elections, is urging that anyone interested in student government begin a write-in campaign.

"We hope to fill all the offices by encouraging write-in candidates," he said. "The general lack of response is not only the fault of the student council but of the student body as a whole."

COFFEE ANYONE?—Fresno City College's new coffee shop will open Monday.

Morley To Speak On Headlines

Free-lance correspondent John Morley, a current events lecturer, will address the Fresno City College student body at a 10:30 A.M. assembly in the auditorium on the topic "Eye Witness . . . Behind Today's World-Headlines."

Miss Doris Deakins, dean of women, said, "10 A.M. classes are to be excused at 10:25 AM and 11 AM classes will commence at 11:30 AM. I urge all students and faculty to attend this program."

Morley, winner of America's highest speakers' award and other awards for speaking and reporting, has made as many as 25 trips in the past 13 years to Moscow, Berlin, Cuba, the Congo, Viet Nam, Formosa, Korea, and many other countries.

Morley will discuss the Red China challenge, Viet Nam today, the Berlin Wall, the Israel-Arab conflict since 1949, anti-Communism in Russia and exclusive talks with Cypriot President Makarios.

STUFFING THE BALLOT BOX?—Myra Aten, running unopposed for re-election as treasurer is putting in her ballots into the ballot box.

Entire Facilities Will Be Open On Feb. 8

Lumsden Named Manager

Fresno City College's new coffee shop will open its doors Monday under the direction of newly selected cafeteria manager Dale Lumsden.

The cafeteria, designed by Walter Wagner and Partners, is estimated to have cost a million dollars, fully equipped; features a large coffee shop with a capacity of 200 and a scramble system area.

Cafeteria Opens

Paul Starr, dean of special services, said, "The entire cafeteria ought to be opened by the first day of the spring semester."

Lumsden, the new cafeteria manager, said, "This is a student facility and we want to make it a good facility."

Lumsden, a native Fresnan, received a Bachelor of Science in food services and management nutrition from Montana State University.

Starr Announces New Coffee Shop FCC Regulations

"New regulations governing the use of Fresno City College's coffee shop in the cafeteria have been approved by the State Center Junior College Board of Trustees and President Archie Bradshaw and will become effective immediately," said Paul Starr, dean of special services.

Starr said, "This being a new facility operated by FCC for the associated student body, it is necessary that rules and regulations be established in order for this area to be operated as efficiently as possible and so that it will remain for years to come in its present new condition."

Following are the rules and regulations for the use of the coffee shop:

Specific Rules

I—Coffee Shop—This area will be operated under the "scramble system."

1. Students will enter through the turnstiles, go to the area of food desired, receive their food or drink "self service." Pass the cash register and pay and continue to the tables in the area. Seating capacity approximately 200.
2. Students, when finished with food or drink, will bus their own dishes, silver, and trays to the endless belt, located along the east wall.
3. Students are requested not to loiter or study in the food service area; others may wish to eat, too.

General Rules

1. Chairs and tables are not to be moved.
2. All, repeat, all dishes used in food service will be bused to the endless belts.
3. Dishware, silver, trays, cups and saucers, and glasses are not to be taken out of the cafeteria and food service areas.
4. Unnecessary noise, loud talking, shouting, singing, etc., is expected to be kept to a minimum. We would expect students to conduct themselves as they would in a fine eating establishment or as they would in their own homes.
5. The walls, floors, tables, and chairs should be kept clean of debris, napkins, food, etc.

'CAMPUS' SMELLS PINPOINT LOCATION

Numerous are the sights and sounds of a college campus, but the student body at Fresno City College is at present more concerned with the smells around the campus than anything else.

In September, when the school year began, the students came to a campus replete with luxuriant green lawns. Throughout this semester, with countless people cutting across the lawns, the grass has suffered.

Hence, the fertilizer. And the comments. FCC is now located by smell, according to many students.

The smell of the fertilzier has caused a rankling of many two evils. Without this black covering to the campus now, noses, but this old factory stimulation is actually the lesser of the green we welcomed this fall would have a hard time returning.

Nursing Major To Compete In Golden Skate Competition

Jolene Robinson, a Fresno City College January vocational nursing candidate, will compete in the Golden Skate Classic Roller Skating Championships January 30 and 31.

The championships will be televised live from Bakersfield on the "Wide World of Sports" program.

The Golden Skate Classic, which has approximately 600 entrants, will be televised on Saturday Feb. 6 on the sports program.

Excited

Miss Robinson, a sophomore, said, "I'm really excited, but I am a little more nervous than excited."

She said that it would be an honor to place among the top four in the finals and have the chance to compete with the European champion and the United States champion, who are already in the finals.

Last July Miss Robinson won the Miss California Roller Skating Queen title. She was judged on poise, personality, and beauty.

Competed Last Year

Miss Robinson competed in Kentucky last year for the National Roller Skating Queen title, placing among the top five finalists. She competed in the senior ladies singles, the same division in which she will compete on the televised program.

The senior ladies' singles division consists of jumps and spins. Judges rate the entrants on showmanship, ability, and the interpretation of the musical arrangement.

The vocational nursing candidate said, "I want to be a world champion; my ambition right now is to win the national title and compete in the world championships."

'SWAP SHOP' BOOK SALE PLAN WILL PROVIDE CLEARING HOUSE

Swap Shop, a book clearing house planned by Phi Beta Lambda, the business club, was given approval by student council on Tuesday.

The clearing house will be in the form of a file box where cards containing the names and telephone numbers of students with books for sale will be sold.

The price of the cards will be ten cents. Students wishing to file cards advertising books for sale will be charged 10 cents per card. Jon Myers, Phi Beta Lambda president, emphasized the fact that the club has no part in the financial dealings. The book prices es will be set strictly by the buyer and seller.

At the present time the club has a table in the book store for the purpose of selling information cards. The service will be offered daily from 10 AM to 4 PM and will continue until Jan. 29.

The book clearing service will be re-opened Feb. 4 to 15.

Cards will supply information including author, edition, and title of the text. The cards will be sold on a first come first served basis, and the club will destroy all cards not called for by the end of the clearing house session.

Sky Ranch Is Confab Site

Sierra Sky Ranch will be the site of the annual orientation conference for Student Council members. The two day Sky Ranch meeting will allow new officers to learn about their jobs from the retiring council.

Newly elected executive officers will travel to Sky Ranch Feb. 1 and will be joined by the rest of the group the following day.

Inter-club council representatives and club presidents are also invited to attend the conference. Workshops for the various divisions of council members and representatives will be accompanied by films on parliamentary procedure and an awards banquet.

Retiring members will be presented with pins and certificates of merit, and the president and vice president will receive gavels.

The highlight of the banquet will be the presentation of the Outstanding Leadership award, which is given each semester to a student voted by council as deserving the honor.

The recipient will be presented with a gavel and sounding block and will have his name engraved on the perpetual leadership trophy.

A semi-annual tradition is the presentation of a picture of the retiring council to the college president Archie Bradshaw, who became the new president this year, will receive the council picture for the first time. After the awards banquet the picture will hang in the upstairs hall of the student center with council portraits from previous semesters.

Carol Cloves, chairman of social affairs, is in charge of arrangements for the Sky Ranch conference.

Organizations Halt Meetings

Clubs are making ready for dead week. They are finishing up activities started this semester and looking ahead to the spring semester.

Latin American Club

One jump ahead, the Latin American Club has already elected their spring officers. Taking office in February will be president, Jess Saldana; vice president, David Cortez; secretary, Gloria Riojas; treasurer, Julian Torres; sergeant at arms, Steve Macias, and Louis Mestas Inter-Club Council representative.

Associated Women Students

AWS will elect spring officers at their first meeting of the new semester. The president will be elected during the student body elections tomorrow.

Associated Men Students

AMS also will wait until the first meeting of the new semester to choose their officers. Their projects at the moment include supporting Ron Primavera as a write-in candidate for student body president and Maurice Joy, a write-in for AMS president.

Next semester will present a new project, the planning of the spring formal. It will be planned jointly with Reedley Junior College.

Inter Club Council

ICC will hold no more meetings until the new semester begins. Members of ICC have been invited to Sky Ranch.

The organization will sponsor hootenanny singers on campus March 5.

Alpha Gamma Sigma

AGS, according to Jo Ann Tuck, has been having a poor turn out of members this semester. They are working on a new plan for the spring semester that they hope will be effective.

Ex-Journalism Majors Report On Opportunities

Opportunities in the field of journalism are many and varied at Fresno City College, according to Stanley Tusan.

Tusan, a former cartoonist on the Rampage in 1954-56, has gone on to bigger and greater opportunities.

Tusan, visiting the campus last week on his way to an assignment with Walt Disney on a booklet of Disney Park, said, "I got my start obtained an associated arts degree, then transferred to the Shenard Art School of Los Angeles, and graduated with a bachelor of arts degree."

Tusan moved to Chicago, where he became a free-lance cartoonist. In Chicago he worked for the Chicago Daily News as a cartoonist and writer, appearing frequently in their culture magazine section, Panorama.

Tusan has worked for Hallmark Cards, producing more than 200 cards, and was the top seller for 1963 with a card of a cat.

He said, "I think that opportunities are very wide-open for the person who has ability and creativity, not only in cartooning, but in other media."

Athur Margosian, former FCC student editor and instructor, is an assistant professor of journalism at Fresno City College.

In his Tuesday lecture in Philip Smith's journalism class, he said, "The opportunities in journalism are very lucrative and rewarding."

Margosian said, "Courses in the journalism program at FCC are similar to the lower division courses at Fresno State College. "Students who take these courses and then transfer to FSC or any other journalism school will be on the same level as those who started at the freshman level."

Currently there are positions open in both the non-writing work on the school newspaper.

Editorial work, reporting, circulation, clerical, photography and cartooning are some of the fields open to students.

Philip Smith, Rampage adviser, said that no experience is needed although students with good English ability are preferred for writing and editing positions.

Smith invites interested students to discuss the program with him in his office, located in Room SC 211 of the Student Center Building. His office is open each afternoon from 1 to 3 PM Monday through Thursday.

Society Brands Individuals Says Published Poetess

By JOE ARMAS
Rampage Reporter

To stand as an individual is to be marked by society as either an outcast or a genius—the latter at times little more than the former.

We live today too much as a minute part of a whole. We are bound tight by tradition and mores as well as our passions and our appetites.

How much safer it is to choose to be mediocre and yield to conformity than be sifted by the mass for following one's inner voice.

Creative Writer

Joyce Lehman, student of Robert Shaver's creative writing class who is being featured with six of her poems in this month's issue of Crossroads magazine, chooses to be an individual.

About conformity she said, "To be a victim of society's mold is to relinquish your self, your mind, your mystery, your beauty."

Real Self

Joyce's manner and her dress and her behavior all are sparked by what she calls her "real self, whoever I may be."

And it is her "real self" who is reflected in the poetry she writes.

"To be an individual," said Joyce, "is to unmask yourself and to swim under the surface of cold uninviting waters to find your grotesqueness and your glistening gems, to feel life radiating within you."

Thinks Different

To think in a channel different from the "crowd" is admirable, but to find enough personal value in the unrestrained and candid individual to actually follow his true convictions definitely deserves merit.

Sophomore Snaps Set For February

"Sophomore pictures will be taken February 12 to 23 from 9 AM to 3 PM in the social hall of the student center," announced Jerralyn (Suzi) Holloman, Ram editor.

The Ram editors for this year are Miss Holloman, editor in chief, Kay Tillman, assistant editor, and Alan Amaral, Photography editor.

Pacheco Replaces Wright

David Pacheco, 22, sophomore and prelaw major of Fresno City College has been named Editor in Chief of the Rampage Staff for next semester.

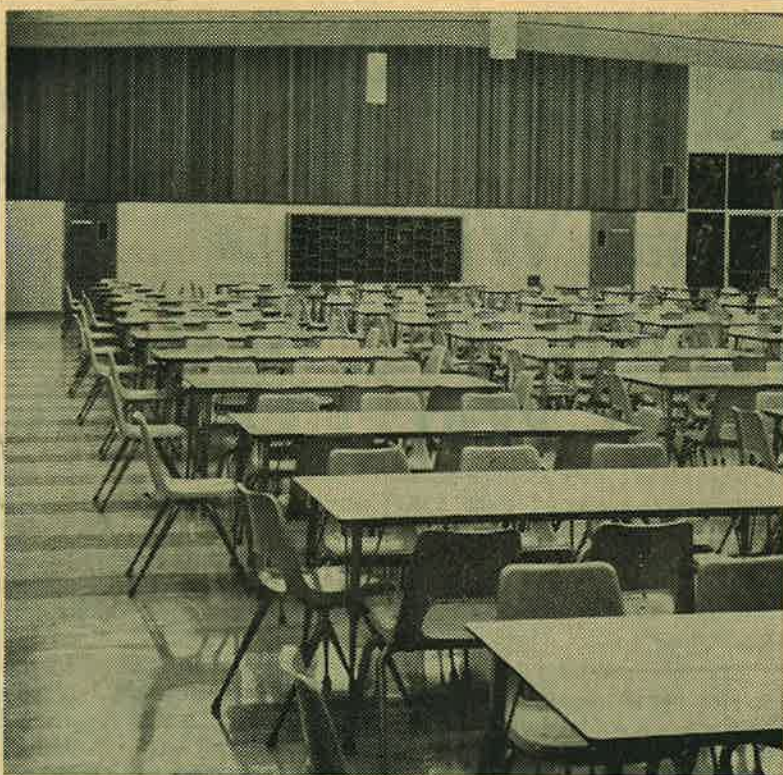

Philip Smith, head of the Journalism Dept., appointed Pacheco as successor to Charles Wright, who resigned to take a part time position with the Fresno Bee.

Pacheco has had previous experience as Rampage Feature Editor, assistant sports editor, copy reader, reporter and columnist.

Pacheco is a native of Fresno, California and graduated from Edison High in 1961. He plans on taking courses at Fresno State College this coming semester.

Pacheco stated, "Next semester I believe we will have an outstanding group of reporters on the staff. Especially since they had a semester of experience. I hope we can publish an outstanding paper."

Editors on the Rampage Staff who will not be returning in the spring semester are Charles Wright, Derry Modlin, and Barbara Ehrenburg. David Pacheco and Don Mencarini will be back. Those interested should contact Philip Smith, Journalism Instructor, Monday thru Thursday between 1 and 3 PM, in Room 211.

SNEAK PREVIEW—The coffee shop in the new cafeteria opens Monday! The cafeteria itself is scheduled to begin operations on the first day of classes in the Spring semester. Shown above is a portion of the dining area of the cafeteria, which can seat about 450 students.

Los Conquistadores Form Successful Club On Campus

Los Conquistadores, Fresno City College's newest club, is a tremendous success according to Michael (Mike) Wallick, club president.

Wallick also added that both he and Joe Haro, club vice president, are overwhelmed by the great enthusiasm shown by the 47 members of the club.

Speaks On Topic

"Panorama of Mexico" will be the theme of the club's next meeting on Feb. 4 at 7:30 PM. It will also be the topic of a lecture to be presented by D. Lee Ross, club sponsor and Spanish instructor. Ross will also show slides of his tour of Mexico. Also on this meeting's schedule is the ratification of the club's constitution.

Other activities on the club's agenda include a snow trip in February, a potluck dinner in March, a lecture on Panama by Louise Zachry also in March and a lecture on Peru by Lee Turner, a former member of the Peace Corps.

Sings Spanish Songs

Suiaua Mulitauaopele (Pele) a well known Fresno band leader will sing Spanish songs and provide some special entertainment for the club at a future date.

Committee chairmen include Jessie De la Cruz; posters, Mrs. Zachry; refreshments, Nick Martinez; activities; and Elberta Hurst, advertising.

President Returns From Hawaii Trip

Archie Bradshaw, the president of Fresno City College, is back at work now after spending his vacation touring Hawaii.

Bradshaw left San Francisco at 2:15 PM on Christmas Eve, and arrived in Hawaii at 4:20 PM (Hawaiian time, that is.)

After spending five days at Waikiki beach on the main island of Oahu, he began touring the other large islands. He visited five out of the eight major islands during the trip.

"The highlight of the trip," said Bradshaw, "came when I got special permission to visit the USS Arizona." Bradshaw was a crew member on the Arizona in 1923.

The lush vegetation of the various islands he visited was remarked on by Bradshaw. He pointed out that 600 inches of rain fall on the windward side of the island each year.

While on Hawaii, Bradshaw toured the Polynesian Cultural Center, conducted by Mormons on the island.

Other scenic features of his trip included 26 natural waterfalls and a visit to the Parker Ranch, a large cattle ranch on the island.

herself faced with the job of top executive when the current president was forced to resign two months ago.

"It's the easiest thing in the world to become president," stated Miss Holloman, "but it's very difficult to live up to the job."

Miss Holloman would like to see more faculty interest in the student government and hopes to work out a plan to allow campus clubs to raise funds.

So far Miss Holloman has found no prejudice against a woman president. "I don't think there are any drawbacks to having a woman head the student council."

A leader should be judged on organization, ability to speak and communicate, and not on sex. I would be willing to match my record against anyone's."

Primavera, 24, spent four years as a sergeant in the Marine Corps in Southeast Asia.

Primavera feels that this experience helps qualify him as a leader. Primavera said the office of president of the student body exists to carry out the will of the majority of the students.

"The majority of the student body desires a sound education acquired in the best possible surroundings," he explained. "I would like to see better parking facilities, better publicity concerning up coming events, and more social activities such as assemblies and dances, both to inform and relax."

"Activities and social functions are important, but acquiring a good education comes foremost."

Primavera stated that his biggest effort will go towards carrying out the wishes of the students. "I will try to execute the wishes of the majority of the students and will do my utmost to serve them faithfully and diligently."

Regulations

Receptacles will be available for disposal.

6. Card playing, chess, and checkers will not be allowed in any of the food service areas of the new cafeteria.
7. When weather permits and the patio can be used, students taking their food to this area must, as in all other areas, bus their dishes to the endless belt in the coffee shop.
8. Students will be expected to keep books and personal belongings off the eating surfaces of the tables.

"It is hoped that by Feb. 8, the first day classes begin in the spring semester, that all areas of food service, including the coffee shop and the cafeteria proper will be in operation," concluded Starr.

Roundballers Round Back Into Top Form

ELROD SCORES AGAIN: Scoring two of his four points against College of Sequoia is FCC center Marlin Elrod.

WRESTLING in the 137 pound class, Dennis Garrett of FCC throws Carl Parrish of Sacramento City College to the floor.

Rams Win Opener In Giant Win

The Fresno City College Rams last weekend opened their 1964 Valley Conference season with a resounding 102-67 victory over the highly touted College of the Sequoias in the Weldon St. gym last Friday night.

FCC never trailed in the high scoring contest as their 6'5" right forward, Ken (Chico) Lewis poured in 29 points, followed by reserve forward Larry Scott, who netted a total of 20 points before fouling out of the torrid contest. Other Rams who hit in the two digit column were Ed Austin with 14 and Bobby Lee, who notched up 10 points.

Runaway

It seemed as the game was going to be a runaway as the Fresnoans raced to a 24-4 lead in the first five minutes of the game, but the COS Giants came right back in the next 15 minutes and looked as though they were going to make a contest of it, with the score at halftime being 46-39 in favor of the Rams.

In the second half, though, the Rams proved to be the master of the big Giant quintet, outscoring the bitter Central San Joaquin Valley rivals by the whopping margin of 56-28 in the second session.

Cardoza Hits

Proving to be costly to the two teams in the contest was the fact that six players fouled out of the contest (three from each team). They were Larry Scott (20 points), Bobby Lee (10 points), and Marlin Elrod (4 points), all of FCC, while Doug Timmer (3 points) Bob Rozier (7 points), and Anthony Cardoza (18 points), all from COS, also fouled out.

The Rams last Saturday night traveled to Santa Maria to battle the always potent Allan Hancock Bulldogs in a rematch of the two rivals. The Bulldogs proved to be the Rams' master as they led the contest from wire to wire, winning the game by a 82-71 score. Eddie Austin led the Rams' scoring with 24 points.

Grapplers Continue To Extend Wins

Hans Wiedenhofer's Ram grapplers, riding on a seven straight dual win streak, will travel to San Luis Obispo to compete in the Cal Poly Wrestling Tournament against the state's best teams Saturday.

Fresno City College, considered among the strongest two year college wrestling teams in the state, pushed its overall record to 9-1 at the expense of the American River Junior College, 24 to 16, and the Sacramento City College, 42 to 0.

The Rams, now 2-0 in Valley Conference competition, scored a sweep of all the matches against Sacramento.

Armando Jacobo, the Rams' 157 pounder, won his 10th win in 11 bouts this season with a 6-1 decision over SCC Rich Morrison. Jacobo was third in last year's state meet.

Hoop Talk

KELLY DOES NOT OWN A HUGHEY

Does FCC's Ram basketball team have an outstanding player this year? It seems that every year Joe Kelly seems to come up with someone really great, someone like last year's all state center Lonnie Hughey. Last year Hughey was Mr. Basketball on the FCC campus. This year he is playing for the national ranked Fresno State College Bulldogs. With such teammates as Johnny Bocko and Morrie Talbot, Hughey is no longer acclaimed as the best on his team.

Kelly has potential outstanding players in Chico Lewis, Eddie Austin, and Frank Davie. All three have had their good games, and all three have a chance to be outstanding players.

With the material Kelly has this year, the team will have to work together in order to have a good year. An outstanding coach like Joe Kelly will put forth his best effort to coach the team. If the squad does likewise, the Rams could have a very successful season (with a little luck).

The most improved player for Joe Kelly this year has been Dennis Field. The former McLane star is beginning to jell and may break into the starting line up before the season is over. Known by most of his friends as "Pody," Field seems to have the knack of being in the right place at the right time.

Another player who is beginning to show much improvement is Phil Hamm. With more experience Hamm will probably see more duty as a substitute. It seems that when Hamm is on the beam with his eye, he will not miss very many shots from his corner position.

Both Hamm and Field met their old rivals Doug Timmer and Anthony Cardoza from COS last week.

Wrestlers Face Lonely Struggle For Self Win

By JOE ARMAS

Rampage Feature Writer

The world of the collegiate wrestler is a tough and lonely one. Unlike the football or basketball or baseball player, the wrestling athlete must pit his skill, intelligence and strength against an opponent alone. No one can be blamed for his mistakes but himself because his actions are witnessed individually by everyone.

Start warming up. There's only one man before you. It sure is cold in here. Not too many people here yet. Keep your mind on the match, try to learn something. Forget the odd feeling in your stomach and your thumping heart. Sure wish they'd hurry . . .

"Watch the side roll out there!" They all seem to be working the roll; better remember that. There's the whistle, man we barely won that one.

"Good work buddy." Now it's my turn. Jump around, get loose. He looks pretty strong; better not tie up with him. Ref is calling you. Well here you go, just you and him. Now everyone can see if you've learned anything during practice.

Be Aggressive

Shake hands. The whistle, get in quick! Be aggressive. Don't tie up. Now! Shoot for the legs. Bad move. Didn't follow through with it. Now you're two points behind. Move now, get the escape. Whistle. That's the end of the first period. That was quick. You're down; think now what you are going to do.

Now. Sit out and roll. Escape, that's one point. Now duck under; good. That's two more. Keep the pressure on.

Man this guy is strong. Wish this thing was over. Look out for the roll! Got careless, now you're behind again. Work; got to get off your back. The people are yelling but can't seem to make out what they're saying. They seem far away. Whistle, second period. Man was I saved then.

My throat sure is dry. Man I'm tired. Should have worked harder in practice.

Down The Wire

"What's the score?" Three to five, got to get him on his back to win. There's the whistle, grab a leg, break him down. Watch the roll. Man this guy is strong, can't muscle him. Have to use your holds. Let's see if you learned anything.

People are yelling. Keep your mind on the job! You're letting him slip off. He's going to reverse you. Let him go, give him just one point. Darn it, see what happens?

Score is tied. Now get in for the take down. Whistle, end of match. Well you sure blew that one. It was in the bag and you blew it. Shake hands with him. See what happened; you had him and you blew it.
