Joan Of Lorraine Selected

Johnson Sets Dates For CC Play Tryouts

By SANDRA DRALLE
Rampage Staff Writer

Tryouts for Joan of Lorraine, the drama department's spring production, will be held Monday and Wednesday at 4 PM in the FCC auditorium. Parts are open for 18 men and six women.

Frederick Johnson, drama director, stated that the tryouts are open to any member of the student body and that scripts may be obtained in Room 154 of the Administration Building during the school day.

The play, which is to be presented May 13, 14 and 15 in the auditorium, is the story of a young peasant girl who leads a small army against the English and drives them out of her French homeland. Today she is the patron saint of France.

"This production," Johnson reported, "will open the annual Fresno City College Arts Festival . . . and is also scheduled as part of the city-wide arts festival."

Students taking part will be helping to revive this event, as it was not held last year.

The city arts festival, May 1-15, will also include participation from Fresno State College and the Fresno Community Theater.

State Center Board Dines In Cafeteria

The State Center Junior College District Board of Trustees will meet tonight at a dinner in the Fresno City College cafeteria.

President Archie Bradshaw, Superintendent Stuart M. White, and Assistant Superintendent Garland P. Reed will attend.

Board members attending are Baxter K. Richardson, Robert J. Hixson, Walter G. Martin, Lynn B. Ford, Jack L. Hammerberg, Alvin J. Quist, and Mrs. Elmina Tellman.

The program includes a presentation of color slides showing the State Center Junior College District.

Narration and background music will be provided by Dick Karr of KYNO Radio.

Employment Office Sets Occupations Deadline

Students seeking full-time employment during Fresno City College's Annual Occupations Day have until Apr. 9 to file applications.

Applications may be acquired from instructors or division deans.

First In FCC History To Run For Fresno City Seat

By DAVID PACHECO
Editor

Henry R. Tafoya, Jr., a Fresno City College student and local insurance man, is running for city councilman No. 6 in Fresno's Apr. 13 municipal election.

He is the first FCC student in the college's history to run for a political office in the city while still attending school.

Tafoya, a former radio broadcaster, is tri-lingual, being fluent in Spanish and Italian. Also he has studied two years of Russian in high school.

"I intend to major in Spanish," said the councilman candidate. hope to teach foreign language

"After graduation from college I here in Fresno either in a Fresno high school or at FCC."

Tafoya, a resident of Fresno since 1957, is a member of the California National Guard.

The councilman candidate said, "I have been a member of the guard since it was started in 1948. In point of service," he added, "I am the oldest in seniority."

Weekend Warriors' Sergeant
Tafoya, senior master sergeant, is the Fresno guard's first sergeant on weekends. His duties in the guard include administrative and personnel work.

"Taffy," as he is called by his close friends, is not new to the political arena. His first cousin is United States Congressman Roybal of the 30th congressional district of California.

Tafoya also is the distant cousin of the late United States Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico.

Guarded Kennedy

In speaking of his many experiences, he said, "I was in charge of the enlisted detail assigned to guard President John F.

Kennedy during his official visit to Fresno to open the San Luis Dam Project in Aug., 1962.

An admirer of Kennedy, Tafoya remembers the late President commenting on how good Fresno's water was and on the nice sunny weather we have here during the summer.

Tafoya said, "After being in the military world for so long, going to FCC is like entering a new world." He said, "I think that the instructors of FCC are tops and they motivate me tremendously."

"I like Fresno and its people," he added. "I am staying here forever. Fresno has a tremendous future."

Mid-Term Tests Start Monday

Midterm tests are just around the corner.

Midterm examinations will start Monday and end Apr. 2.

Miss Doris Deakins, the dean of women, said, "Deficiency notices will be mailed to deficient students about Apr. 5."

"Regular club and social activities will resume after the dead week and midterm examination periods," she said.

FIRE DRILL WARNING!

Warning!
There will be a fire drill in the near future. Really; it's true.

President Archie Bradshaw said the only reason FCC has not had a fire drill of late is because the bell system has been out of order. He plans to call one soon, so have your shin guards ready.

Needs Council Approval

Primavera Presents Summer Dress Code

By DENNIS MCCARTHY
Rampage Staff Writer

A recommendation to "relax" the clothing requirements exclusively for male students during the summer session was presented to the Student Council last Tuesday by Student Body President Ron Primavera.

The objective of this plan, in Primavera's own words, is "to relax the dress code so that men will be able to wear bermuda shorts during the warm summer session."

Potpourri Announces Deadlines

The deadline for manuscripts to be turned in to Potpourri is April 2.

Potpourri will give awards for the best contributions in prose, poetry and art.

Students may submit contributions to Robert Shaver in Room A-203 of the administration building or Rusty Draper in Room A-228.

Potpourri, consisting of stories, poems, and art work by the students of Fresno City College, will go on sale during Fine Arts Week, which begins May 14.

Selected staff positions on this year's edition are Carolyn Smith as the chief editor, Joe Armas as associate editor, Don Telshaw the fiction editor, Sylvia Carlson the associate fiction editor, Corinne James as feature editor, David Pacheco the associate feature editor, and publicity manager.

Victoria DuMar is the Poetry editor, Judy Pearce the associate Poetry editor, and Bonnie Farris is the art editor.

Should the recommendation win the approval of the council — and Primavera said he was confident that it would — it will be sent to Robert M. Kely, dean of the evening college and the summer session. Dean Kelly would include it in his committee report to the president's advisory council, which meets next Tuesday.

Primavera emphasized that the proposal would carry certain restrictions. No cut off Levi's or other cut-off pants would be allowed — only "store bought" bermudas or walking shorts. Also, any male wearing bermudas or walking shorts would be required to wear socks and shoes.

When asked if he expected much opposition, Primavera said that most of the students he had talked to — men and women alike — were in favor of the proposal.

Primavera said that the new dress code will apply exclusively to male students during the summer sessions only.

He said that the Student Council should have a greater voice in the student activities and in student government.

"Student Council does not want to get involved in issues that are not in the best interests of the student body."

Rights Vs. Basic Values— A Subtle Distinction

THE TRADITIONAL SPRING cleaning, still an important function of togetherness in our society, is at its usual standstill. The Johnson lazily rummage through the trophies of the past.

"Hey, lookit this," six-year-old Steven cries to his father and sister. With a quick handsweep, the jacket of a college yearbook is plainly visible: "University of California at Berkeley, 1965."

Mrs. Johnson has joined the excitement as the family presses through the yellowing pages.

"Ah, yes," boasts Bill Johnson, "Those were the good old days of college — the days of free thought! The old class of '65 took the reins. We had to fight for our rights in those days!"

"Oh, daddy," the daughter cries, "I'm so proud. Can I take this to class with me and show the kids and teachers. They're always talking about the importance of voicing our opinion and satnding up for what we believe."

"Sure, take it to class. Show them how we had to stand up for what we believed. Show 'um what a go-getter your old man was."

Steven again squeals for family attention. He has again found his father's picture — this time toward the back of the book. Johnson is looking directly into the camera. A few students are gathered behind.

The sharp, black letter of the sign which he is carrying stands out boldly.

"Mommie!" Steven tugs at his mother. "What does the sign say? ... What spells '...'"

Mother and daughter gaze in silent confusion. They lower their heads.

More Emphasis Needed On Today's Education

PEOPLE TEND TO devaluate what they have until they see it lost or not developed.

In this case it is both a comic and tragic situation.

"Is Cape Kennedy in the United States?" asked a fellow worked as he watched the giant rocket blast off on the screen. "If not, where could it be?" I answered, intrigued. "In South America," was the answer.

"What is the Gemini Project?" he questioned further.

The scene: a large business establishment in Fresno. The actors: real-life, middle-class, white-collared employees with high school educations.

They were not straight-from-the-sticks hillbillies, half-dazed foreigners or a product of the imagination.

I am not trying to emphasize a few people's lack of knowledge of geography or of our latest space exploration projects. Rather, I am trying to give an example of an exasperating problem.

As students here, whether we want to be first on the moon or the last to be destroyed by an essence of immorality, injustice and prejudice, ignorance is taboo and a higher value on education is a must.

Opinion Polls

Students Take Stand On Alabama Issues

By LESLIE HART

Do you think college students should go to the south and help in the civil rights movement? This question, raised in the advent of the Alabama Freedom March, was put to several Fresno City College students on the campus this week. The following are some of the students' replies:

Terri-lynn Ryan, freshman business administration major: "No. All students here don't really know what's going on in the South — just what they read in the papers. If they do go there then they should observe first to determine whether they should be involved or not."

Anthony Garvin, freshman commercial art major: "Yes I do. It involves not only adults but everybody. Before they go down they should learn as much as possible though, or else they will just mess things up."

Pat Lane, sophomore home economics major: "We don't have the experience or the knowledge of what's going on. Half of them don't know what they're fighting for or against either."

Arthur "Buster" Haynes, sophomore recreation major: "No. Most of the ruckus is being caused by the adults; the college kids should stay out. Let the people who live down there solve the problems."

Jan Kahn, sophomore physical education major: "Yes — if they live in that area. The college students from the West Coast if they feel they have a cause should clear up the discrimination here first."

Campus Instructors 'Pedal' Advice For Parking, Physical Problems

By CORINNE JAMES
Rampage Staff Writer

Students, would you like to improve your physical fitness and help decrease the parking problem? Simply ride a bicycle to school. So say instructors David Hendrickson, Hugh Golway, Franz Weinschenk, and William Reynolds.

Hendrickson rides a bike because he finds it more relaxing than driving a car. He also says that riding a bike tends to keep a person in good physical shape. "Riding a bicycle might add to the mental and physical health and well-being of the students, and would also ease the parking lot problem; namely some of the drivers who think they are driving at Raisin City," he said.

It's Fun

Golway rides because he feels he needs the exercise. As a boy, he loved to ride a bicycle. He says "It's fun; I think you should do things that are fun. It has nothing to do with parking. I just enjoy it. In fact, I ride all over on weekends. However, it does give me a different view of drivers. Once in a while I find the bike a problem. Sometimes I can't carry all I would like to."

Weinschenk finds riding a bike very relaxing. He says it's "a nice, quiet time between the bedlam at home and the bedlam at school."

He also feels that it's good exercise, saves on gas, and saves having to fight for a parking space.

Relieves Parking

Volunteer Worker To Lecture

Miss Marilyn Pagagni, a sophomore at the University of Santa Clara, will tell of her experiences with Amigos Anonymous in Mexico tonight at 7:30 PM in the Newman Center.

She spent two months working in Mexico City in the summer of 1964.

Amigos Anonymous, a community development program sending college students to Mexico during their summer vacations, began four years ago as a personal venture of a nuclear engineer and his family.

Working with a handful of American students in the slums of Mexico City, they managed to clear a plot of rubble and build in its place a school and carpentry shop. The project not only gave the youth of the area a means of education and labor, but an avenue of hope for a better life as well.

The four years since the modest beginning have seen Amigos Anonymous grow rapidly. Last summer 175 students from the West Coast staffed projects in six villages scattered throughout the central Mexican states of Michoacan and Guanajuato.

On Mar. 28 at 11 AM an award winning insight film starring Efrem Zimbalist and Ann Helm will be shown at the Newman Center.

Sister Bands Join For April Concert

The Reedley and Fresno City College bands will unite for two campus performances Apr. 5 and 8.

The musicians, 91 in all, will make a concert appearance in the FCC auditorium Apr. 8 at 8 PM. A concert at Reedley is scheduled for Apr. 5.

W. Vincent Moats, FCC band director, said that the band will probably play the following selections: Music for a Carnival by Grundman, Andante by Englesy and Minute Man March by Pearson.

Fresno were to make some bicycle paths for the people to ride along, a lot more people would ride and it would relieve the parking problems downtown. It's an enjoyable and healthful habit, and I recommend it to everyone," he said.

Reynolds says "Bicycle riding keeps down the 'spare fat.' I think it's a very agreeable exercise. I enjoy being out in the air instead of a car. It keeps one physically fit. I think more people ought to ride bicycles. In fact, someone should promote a 'Bicycle Week' to show that riding a bike can be very chic."

Little Dog Trouble

The teachers interviewed said they didn't have too much trouble with dogs in general, although Hendrickson "took a header off his bike" while trying to avoid a dog some years back. Reynolds has been bitten a few times. Other than these few minor experiences, there has been no trouble.

Okay, students, polish up those old bikes and ride them. The fun you discover in riding a bike might surprise you.

Conference Passes FCC Resolution

The California Junior College Student Government Association Conference was held over the weekend. The nine members composing area 5 are: Taft, Coalinga, Allan Hancock, Porterville, College of Sequoias, Reedley, Bakersfield, Bakersfield's desert division and Fresno.

The theme of the conference was Leadership Through Education and the guest speaker was Golden K. Driggs, who is an executive for New York Life Insurance Company in Fresno. He spoke on Your Orbit Of Influence in Human Relations.

Ronald Primavera, student body president said that FCC's resolution stating that all junior colleges launch an Operation Lifeline program was passed.

Primavera said also that a state seal will be chosen at the California State Conference. The Seal representing area 5 was submitted by FCC.

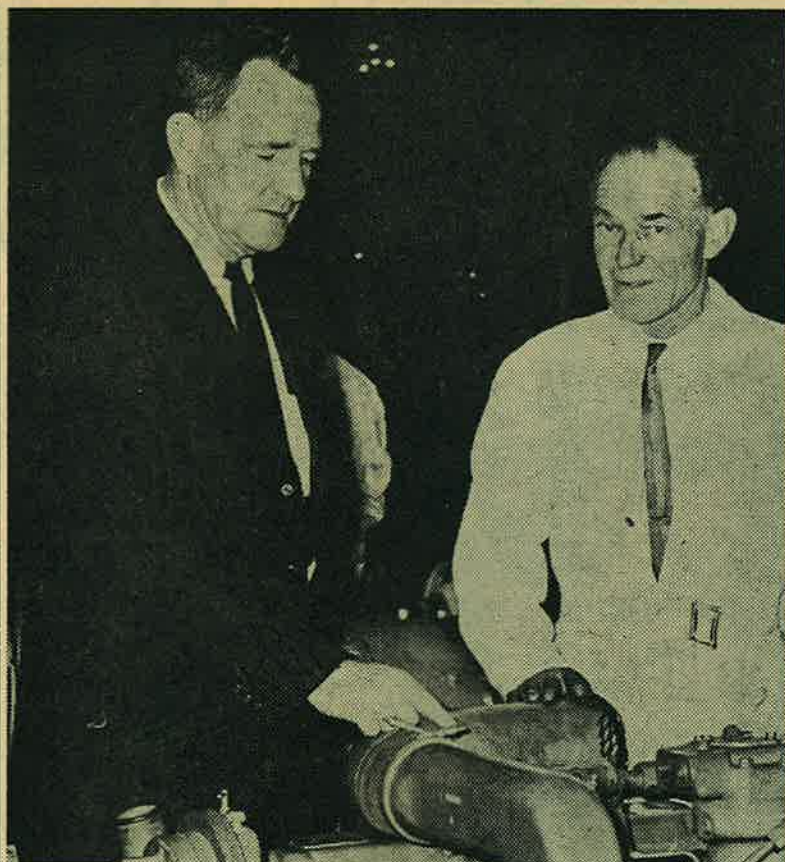

The Activities committee made a resolution to obtain well known entertainers at a lower price by having guaranteed booking for them at seven or eight schools in area 5.

Ken Clark, next fall's Student Council advisor and Joseph King, present Student Council advisor accompanied the following 20 delegates to the conference:

J. R. Canny Donates Second Engine To FCC Mechanics

A $6,000 diesel engine has been donated to the Fresno City College diesel mechanics shop. This is the second engine to be donated within two years by J. R. Canny, manager for Watson and Meehan, Fresno distributors of Cummings Diesel engines.

Canny said that there aren't enough good diesel mechanics who are able to keep up with technological changes.

Watson and Meehan have hired many FCC students in past years and currently employ four apprentices from the mechanics classes.

With modern technology, mechanics need a reasonably good education, and they need to read and study to keep up with the times."

Canny feels that he is getting the best part of the deal by enabling the future mechanics to practice on these diesel engines.

The 2000-pound, 265 horsepower standard highway truck engines are torn apart and reassembled by students for training exercises.

Students Question Restriction

Some students at Fresno City College feel that the 10:30 PM dance admittance restriction should be lifted.

Miss Doris Deakins, the dean of women, stated that the reason for the restriction is to keep already crowded dances from becoming over-crowded.

When asked about the students' reactions to the rule, she stated, "The student personnel services committee will send a recommendation to the Student Council asking it to rule on abolishing or possibly raising the time limit."

As the Council's agenda is already crowded, Miss Deakins said the recommendation will not be discussed in the very near future.

Student Warns Of Cancer's Danger Signs

Helping to educate the Mexican-American population of Fresno and Madera Counties on the seven danger signals of cancer is the interest of Nancy Martinez, preforestry major at FCC.

Miss Martinez represented Madera County at the experimental Mexican-American workshop at the Catholic senior Guadalupana Convention in Glendale, Mar. 5-7. She was chosen because of her previous work with the Youth Against Cancer Organization at Madera High School, from which she graduated in 1964.

The workshop was created by the American Cancer Society in conjunction with the Catholic Youth Organization to observe the methods used by the Mexican-Americans in the Los Angeles area to educate their people in regard to the disease and to apply these methods in other areas of California. The counties represented were Fresno, Madera, San Jose and Sacramento.

Crime Trials Represent Red Justice

From "The Bulletin," a weekly paper put out by the German Federal Government, the Rampage has taken Communist Germany's estimate of the 1964 toll of punishment for political "crimes." During 1964, at least 415 persons were sentenced to prison by the courts of the Soviet Zone and East Berlin. In two cases the terms of imprisonment were life, and in 18 cases the terms were 10 to 15 years. For the remaining 395 cases, the terms, added together, amounted to a total of 800 years. The victims of these "crime" trials are probably very aware that what they hold in their hands is just a fraction of the over-all Communist "justice."

AMS SPONSORS FCC AUTORAMA

The Wonderful World of the Automobile will be the order of the day at the Associated Men Students Autorama, which will be held on Apr. 27 from 10 AM to 3 PM.

The show will feature cars of all types including Fred Teixeira's "drag" Willys. The show will be held in the parking lot between the auto shop and the body and fender building.

Rustigian Shows Interest By Working With Pupils

By CORINNE JAMES

One of the best-known and, perhaps, best-loved personalities on campus is Carl Rustigian, Fresno City College's body and fender shop teacher.

"Rusty," as he is known to his students, is described as a "real cool head." Many of the boys have told me, "Rusty takes a real interest in us kids; he makes us feel we amount to something. Most adults don't really give a big hoot about us kids. He's swell."

Rustigian was born in Boston, Mass., in 1916, where his family, including two sisters, lived until 1918, when the family moved to California.

In 1934 Rustigian was graduated from Fresno Technical High School with a major in mill cabinet. He immediately went to work as a cabinet maker; his pay was 30 cents an hour. Finding no future in this job, he went to work as an auto body repairman in 1936.

In 1941 he entered the Army Air Force, working as a radio technician on the heavy bombers until 1943, when he was discharged. He then re-entered the auto body construction field and soon grew to like the work so well that he began to teach his fellow workers the intricacies of building car bodies. This later influenced him to attend college so that he could teach school formally.

In 1952 he took summer classes in industrial education at the University of California's Berkeley campus; he also attended Fresno State College in the evenings during the school year. He began to teach at Fresno Junior College in 1952.

At this time his shop classes met in a "dinky little hut" on the Edison High School campus. In 1958 his classes were transferred to the building where they are now held.

Rustigian's interest in his students does not quit with the body and fender classes, he is also the Associated Men Students' adviser.

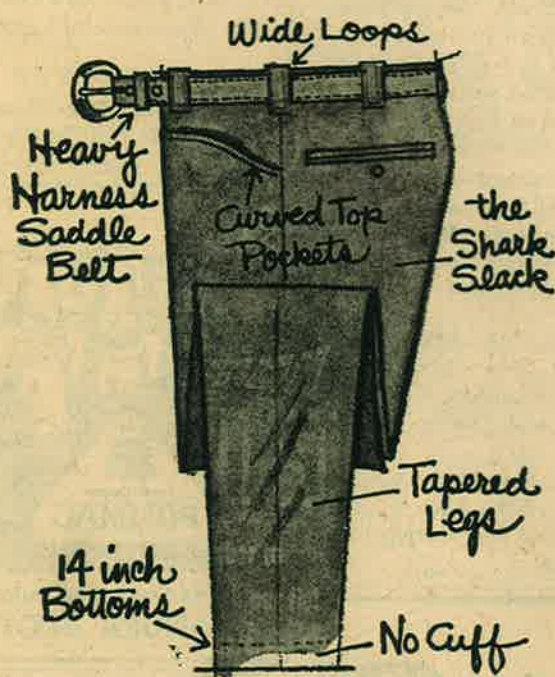

Rustigian has been heard to say that the Fresno City College campus, faculty members and students are second to none in California.

He can be found in the body and fender shop every day from 8 to 11 AM and again from 1 to 4 PM.

Tracksters Face Modesto Pirates, Relays Saturday

By DON MENCARINI
Sports Editor

Today the FCC track team travels north to face Modesto Junior College in a dual meet beginning at 3 PM. Saturday the Rams will be in Santa Barbara to compete in the 27th annual Easter Relays at 1 PM.

"We will save our strong boys as much as possible for Santa Barbara," said FCC Coach Erwin Ginsburg. "Modesto is probably the weakest team in the Valley Conference."

Other VC teams entered in the Easter Relays are College of Sequoias and American River Junior College.

Modesto is led by last year's state broad jump champion Gary Ard. Ginsburg said, "Ard is the only real outstanding performer Modesto has at the present time."

In defeating ARJC last Friday, 79½-56½, Pete Santos set two new school records in the mile and two mile events.

Bettors Old Mark

Santos bettered his old mile mark of 4:20.8 by clocking a 4:15.3. In the two mile race Santos ran a 9:30.1 to better his old record of 9:39.9.

Ginsburg said, "I believe Santos will be able to break 4:10.0 in the mile by the end of the year."

Moving up behind Santos on the all time record last at FCC in the two mile event are Larry Stocks and Steve Garcia. Stocks is second behind Santos with a time of 9:45.0, while Garcia holds down third place. All three bettered the record of 9:57.2 set last year by Frank Martinez.

Burts, Palacios Move Up

In the 440 yard run Ezunial

Burts moved up to a tie for second place time of 49 flat. In the same race Bob Palacios moved up to fifth spot with a time of 50.3.

Burts also moved up to second place on the all time FCC list in the 330 intermediate hurdles event with a first place time of 39.3.

Ginsburg said, "I am sure Burts will break the school record in the intermediate hurdles."

Larry Cormier won his high jump dual with ARJC's Craig Leggett. Cormier cleared 6 feet, 5 inches, while Leggett jumped 6 feet, 4 inches. Tyrone Powell, who has cleared 6 feet, 7 1/3 inches, did not qualify for the finals.

Alvin Mann, FCC sprint star who is nursing a leg injury, won the 100 yard dash in 9.9 and jogged a 22.5 in the 220 yard dash to place second behind teammate Tim Vaux.

"Unless the team falls apart," Ginsburg said, "I think we clinched at least a tie for the Valley Conference."

Rams Face COS Team Tomorrow

Valley Conference tennis action will find the Fresno City College Rams in Visalia tomorrow for a dual league tennis match scheduled for 2:30 PM against College of the Sequoias.

The Rams are currently tied with COS for second place in the league.

"This is going to be a real tough match," commented FCC Coach Dan Ozier. "COS is the second strongest team in the conference and could give a lot of trouble to anyone."

In last week's conference action the Rams slipped past Modesto Junior College, 4-3, and followed up with another victory against San Joaquin Delta College.

Ned Andreoni Hits Two Homers In Sweep Over AR

By HOWARD SAIKI
Rampage Sports Writer

Fresno City College's baseball team will find themselves trying to get even with the San Joaquin Delta College Mustangs Saturday in Stockton starting at 12:30 PM on the Mustangs' campus. The Rams dropped an earlier contest to them in the COS tournament.

Under the leadership of Coach Len Bourdet the Rams find themselves riding on a six game winning streak in league and overall eight game winning streak.

Last Saturday lanky freshman Bert Bandy and company defeated the American River Junior College Beavers 13 to 0 in the opener. While Bert was taming the Beavers with a five hitter, his company was taking the Beavers for a tune of some 14 hits.

Freibe Collects Three

Leading the onslaught on the Beavers were Craig Freibe with three hits, while Ernest Coppo, James Teter, John Lung, Robert Bentley and Ned Andreoni each collected two hits apiece.

The Rams scored in the bottom of the fourth inning, thus breaking the pitcher's duel, as the Beavers' dam gave through for five runs to score. Coppo's triple to left center and singles by Andreoni and Freibe weaved around two errors to put the Rams ahead.

In the seventh and eighth inning the Rams scored a total of four runs off the relief pitching of Terry Weathers to ice the game and put themselves two games on top of the VC pennant race.

In the nightcap the Rams got only five hits, but two of them went for the distance as Andreoni accounted for both of them.

ARJC finally scored a run after going 10 fruitless innings. Shortstop Mike Alberghini beat out a bunt, stole second and went to third on the overthrow and then stole home on pitcher Chuck Merker.

Error Helps Rams

The Rams came back to score in the third on the generosity of ARJC leftfielder Frank Hopson, who let Bentley's high fly fall in for a double. Hopson called the shortstop off and the ball fell untouched with Robinson and Lung scoring with the closest Beaver being 10 feet away from the ball.

ARJC tied it 2 all in the fourth when Alberghini walked and went to second on an error and scored on Brian Gardner's double to left.

FCC went ahead on a 360 foot homer by Andreoni. Ken Papi followed with a walk, Merker bunted him to second, and he scored on Robinson's single.

FCC Pool Re-Opens April 5th

The Fresno County Public Health Department has closed all swimming pools in the county for 14 days. Students registered in swimming classes should continue to report to the instructors for further information. Coach Gene Stephens reported to his 11 o'clock Monday and Wednesday class that it must report as usual.

Badminton Tourney

A badminton tournament for beginners and intermediate players will begin Monday at 3 PM. Today is the last day to sign up in Room 100 in the gym. This tournament is for both men and women. Awards will be given to first and second place winners.

Slaughter Elected Secretary

In Bakersfield last Saturday, Clare Slaughter was elected secretary-treasurer of the California Junior College Football Coaches Association, a newly organized group to promote better feelings among the schools and coaches. Stan Pavko of Modesto Junior College was elected president, and Jim Stangland of Long Beach City College, vice president.

special

Fifteen years ago, our Company pioneered the idea of an internship program for college students interested in life insurance careers. Time has proved its worth.

Our campus agents are trained while they're still at school, given a chance to make a proper career decision before graduation. 37% of those participating in this program in the last 10 years are currently enjoying successful careers with the Company in sales, supervisory, and management spots. 22% of the Company's 50 top agents began their insurance careers while college students.

We think our campus internship program is pretty special—so do others. We'd be glad to tell you more about it.
