Sanchez Attends FCC; Seeks Master's Degree

By DAVID R. PACHECO
Editor

Philip V. Sanchez, Fresno County Administrator, is currently enrolled in an evening division political science class at Fresno City College. Sanchez is also enrolled at Fresno State College.

Sanchez, the County Administrator since 1962, is seeking a master's degree in political science.

PHILLIP V. SANCHEZ

"My job is very challenging and interesting," California's youngest executive said. "I try to deal with 400,000 people to translate their needs and desires into an effective governmental program."

The 1953 Fresno State College graduate said that Fresno County has over 3,000 employees and spends over a million dollars a week.

Sanchez has received numerous honors, including, being selected as the Citizen of the Year by the Community Service Organization in 1959 and in 1962 the Fresno Junior Chamber of Commerce chose him as Fresno's Outstanding Young Man.

In Oct., 1963 he was named one of California's "Five Outstanding Young Men" and in Dec., he was a finalist in the National "Ten Outstanding Young Men" selections.

Sanchez, a major in the Army National Guard, has received two state commendation medals

First Dormitory Opens Next Fall

September will mark the opening of the first Fresno City College dormitory.

The Fresno State College Sigma Chi fraternity house, located at 1509 N. Moroa Ave., has been purchased for use as an FCC women's dormitory next fall. The dormitory will hold about 40 women students.

Mrs. Ethel Thorton will be the house mother. Mrs. Thorton has been house mother at a women's dormitory at Washington State University. She has also been a social director at the Glacier Park Inn in Montana.

"The dormitory will have a private study lounge, a recreation room, and excellent food," said Doris Deakins, FCC dean of women.

"The dormitory will make a comfortable home for young women

"All men will be removed before the girls move in," chuckled FCC Dean of Students, Merle Martin.

TOPIC: Is College Obsolete?

FSC's Dr. Ness Speaks; Scholars Hear Views

Two hundred Fresno City College students have ordered caps and gowns in preparation for their graduation exercises in the West Court of the Administration Building June 11 at 8 PM.

Mrs. Jewel Dettinger, manager of the FCC bookstore, who was in charge of placing the orders for the caps and gowns, said, "This is an excellent turnout because many of the 418 possible candidates for graduation completed their studies at FCC in February and have since transferred to four-year colleges. Last year about 190 graduates participated in the commencement exercises."

Special graduation practice will be held June 7 at 5 PM in the auditorium. It is the only practice.

At 7 PM graduation night women will dress in Room A-132 and men in Room A-142 of the Administration Building.

Ness Speaks

Dr. Frederic W. Ness, the president of Fresno State College, will give the commencement address.

Contrary to a previous announcement, Dr. Ness' topic will be "Is College Obsolete?"

Students receiving AA and AS Degrees are:

Shipman Wins Award; New Council Installed

A highlight of the Student Council awards banquet Tuesday was the presentation of the outstanding leadership award. This year's recipient was James Shipman.

The installation of the fall semester Student Council officers preceded the awards ceremony.

Ron Primavera was installed as student body President by ASB Chief Justice Michael McGinnis.

McGinnis also officiated at the swearing in of Steve Hoxon as vice-president; Shipman, treasurer, and Carol Andrews, Secretary. Primavera installed Doug Wayne as Associated Men Students' President and Louise Cayton as AWS president.

Certificates of service were presented to all the council members. Mrs. Betty Anderson, FCC financial secretary, and Dean Draper, an FCC art instructor, also received certificates of service from the council.

During the awards ceremony Joseph King was presented with a gift for his long service.

LAST DEADLINE—David R. Pacheco (center), retiring Rampage editor-in-chief and Sandi McClurg (left), news editor, feverishly attempt to beat the clock and finish editing this semester's last issue. Louis Bell (right), assignment editor, has been selected as Pacheco's successor and will head next semester's staff. Next week Dead Week begins and Final Examinations begin the following week.

POTPOURRI

Carolyn Smith, Potpourri editor, has announced the winners of the literary magazines' awards.

Miss Smith said, "The winners are Tobe Hendrikson (prose), Edna Mae Crabb (poetry) and Jeannette Baylard (art)."

The magazine is still on sale at three locations on campus.

The 36-page magazine is composed of short stories, poetry, and art work done exclusively by FCC students.

The primary sales location of Potpourri is in the foyer of the new cafeteria building from 9 AM to 2:30 PM daily.

The staff will have a banquet tomorrow night at the Hacienda with the Ram staff where the winners will receive their awards.

What Kind Of A Year Was It?

By DENNIS MCCARTHY
Rampage Writer

Two weeks from today the final curtain will fall on the 1964-65 school year when more than 400 Fresno City College students receive degrees at commencement exercises in the west courtyard of the Administration Building.

What kind of a year was it? It was a year in which FCC student admission figures soared to new all-time high. Archie Bradshaw, who succeeded Stuart M. White as FCC president when the latter became superintendent of the State Center Junior College District, welcomed a record 6,150 students when school opened last fall and an even greater total of 6,222 this spring.

Campus Action

Social activities frequently dotted the school calendar during the past year, providing students with a wide variety of entertainment. The activities included the annual Christmas formal in the plush Champagne Ballroom of the Del Webb Center, the drama department's production of "Joan of Lorraine," presented as part of the city-wide Fine Arts Festival; the annual "Mardi Gras" week, another activity sponsored by the drama department during the last week of February; and the first joint campus spring formal of the new State Center District in the Fresno Memorial Auditorium.

Help Needy

This past year will also be remembered as the one in which an FCC sponsored program to aid needy South Vietnamese orphans drew wide local praise and support.

Operation Lifeline, a program introduced by FCC student Joseph Barela and officially endorsed by a number of local organizations and leading city officials, including former Fresno Mayor Wallace D. Henderson, became a successful reality.

Receive Awards

The achievements and efforts of many deserving Fresno City College students did not go unnoticed this past year, nor did they go unrewarded. Ron Primavera, campaigning as a write-in candidate, won the student body presidency for the spring semester and was recently reelected to a second term. Suzi Holloman, a former FCC student body president, was selected by the People to People Club to tour Europe this summer as part of the Ambassador Program.

Two FCC business majors, Richard Peralta and Jo Anne Swinning, were the recipients of $200 Bank of America leadership awards. Elaine Silvera, a freshman liberal arts major, was crowned Homecoming Queen during halftime ceremonies of the FCC-College of the Sequoias football game.

Take Championship

Fresno City College sport fans had plenty to cheer about during the fall and spring semesters as the title-minded Rams wrapped up a number of championship honors.

In football Coach Clare Slaughter's "suicide squad" captured the Valley Conference title, then went on to crush Monterey Peninsula College in the Lettuce Bowl at Salinas.

In basketball, Coach Joe Kelly led his VC champion basketball team to a second place finish in the State Junior College Basketball Tournament. Fresno's VC champion track team also shared the fruits of victory, capturing top honors in both the Santa Barbara Relays and the Northern California Finals. The latter effort earned them a trip to the state finals in Modesto Saturday.

The FCC baseball team, still another VC title winner, advanced to the semi-finals of the state playoffs before bowing to Allan Hancock College in the three-game Northern California playoffs series.

So, what kind of a year was it? The 1965-66 school year was a year of achievement — achievement not so much for the school itself but achievement by the students who played an active part in making FCC the highly respected college that it is.

Work Of Graduates Just Beginning

JUNE 11 WILL mark the end of a successful junior college career for some 418 Fresno City College students. For many, City College has been the first step toward a four-year college education. Others will move into the jobs for which they have been trained and assume their roles in community life.

In these students — both transfer and terminating — rests the future of the nation's junior colleges. These students will be watched by teachers and employers. They will, in effect, lay the foundations for their classmates just entering or currently enrolled in the junior colleges. The success, or failure, of the junior college-educated student will pave the road for fellow classmates.

In short, the junior college graduate of tomorrow will be judged by the graduates before him. The success of today's graduate will determine the expectations of those following him.

The work of the leaving student, in effect, has just begun. Those of us who know the quality of junior college instruction are confident of the endurance of the institution. More so, we are confident in the ability and goodwill of our classmates. Their examples, we are certain, will enhance the prestige of the junior college; the prestige of those who will follow.

To them, and those to follow, our best.

The Will — A Student's Study

(Ed note: The following, by student Sark Avakian, appeared in a national ethnic publication. The Rampage is interested in student work, and believes that it should be presented to the student body.)

In the conflict between objectivism and subjectivism the weapons of reason and logic are used liberally to strengthen both positions. Both claim to have the key to what reality is for both claim to follow intellect. As a matter of course, without argument, both have accepted man as a rational animal. A being capable of finding the essence of matter and non-matter through reason. Those who adhere to intellect, either through ignorance or an oversight, have forgotten to take into consideration man's.

Will Governs

For it is not intellect that governs man, but his will. It is not intellect that chooses, but his will that decides. For man does not choose because he has found reasons to do so, rather he finds reasons for his choice. Under the intellect is the will, a force of unlimited desire that can be guided by the intellect — as the servant guides the blind master — however it is the will that provides the adhesive force for all ideas and thoughts that are held by the intellect.

Seeks Expression

The fundamental character of the will is its desire to express itself. Freedom then is that which allows each individual the expression of his will. Only after the will of the people is assured can we give our attention to the freedom of intellect or reason. For without free expression of man's will, no matter how dangerous that man may be, we automatically destroy the contributions that the will can provide by the guidance of the intellect.

Pit Fall

The pit fall many men make at this point is that they interpret free expression of the will as a mandate to justify their irresponsible behavior. It is true for me, as it was for Kant and is for the existentialists, that there is no will apart from freedom. However Kant's ethics are undeniably correct: there is no good or evil apart from will. The former has been verified, and now it remains only to clarify the latter. Since it's apparent that the will can transcend forces of varying degrees and act upon the environment, by its very nature, it places itself in the realm of social justice as well as public condemnation.

'Revolutionary' Poets Will Discuss Works

By LESLIE HART
Rampage Staff Writer

Leaders of what has been termed a revolution in poetry will present their views and poems at the Berkeley Poetry Conference July 12-24 on the University of California campus.

The conference brings to Berkeley poets from all over the United States together with some of the most noted poets in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Writer Topics

Participants will have the opportunity to enroll in any of four one-week seminars conducted by the poets. They will learn more about how poems are written and how poets think about their work.

The conference also features a series of seven lectures and ten poetry readings by the poets.

The conference is organized so that those who wish to follow the work of an individual writer may attend a combination of lectures, seminars, and readings.

There are various fees for the program. Tickets for the individual readings and lectures, at $1.50 each, are sold only at the door the evening of the presentation. The cost of the seminar is $25 for one and $45 for two.

Poets Teach

Some of the poets giving seminars are Allen Ginsburg, "What's Happening on Earth," LeRoi Jones, "Poetry and Murder," Gary Snyder, "Poetry and the Primitive," Charles Olson, "The Casual Mythology."

Joint Formal Draws Large Attendance

Cheryl Jordan and Bob Stockton reigned as queen and king of the annual spring formal.

The formal, sponsored by the Associated Men and Women Students from Fresno City College and Reedley College's freshman class, was held at the Memorial Auditorium Friday night.

General chairmen of the formal were AMS President Maurice Joy, AWS President Juanita Clark and Joe Peacock, freshman class president of Reedley. Les Brown and his band of Renown provided the music for the event.

Jim Shipman, treasurer elect, said that the formal had one of the largest student and faculty turn outs. He stated that there were a total of 327 Reedley and FCC student couples and 35 faculty couples from Reedley and FCC in attendance.

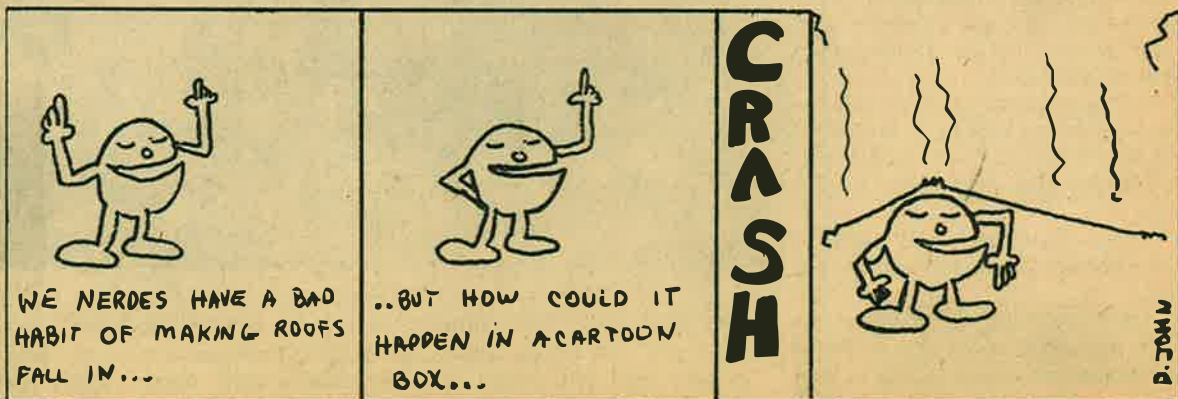

During the intermission, Miss Jordan and Stockton were named as reigning queen and king. They then led the Queen's Dance.

The auditorium held between 30 and 40 tables decorated with hand-made center pieces made by Reedley students. A reception line greeted guests as they entered the atmosphere of Moonlight and Magic Moments. The line was staggered so that different couples were doing the receiving at various times.

Campus Coed 'Miss Unique'

Mary Louise McGough, a Fresno City College public relations major, has been named "Miss Unique" in Miss Northern Central California Bronze queen competition.

Miss McGough said that her award was for best dressed. There were three awards for fashion and three for hair style, she said.

Latham Assigns Projects

The primary aim of projects assigned to students in Dr. S. E. Latham's sociology classes is the independent sociological research using community resources.

This is done by the students visiting city and state officials and agencies, business concerns, industries, churches, libraries, and other sources.

Using such topics as city planning, religion, marriage, divorce, dope addiction, welfare agencies, crime rates, vocational planning, and implications of automation, students investigate the subjects by use of symposiums, group reports and the socio-drama, a panel discussion followed by a question and answer period.

Dr. Latham noted, "The only limitation in obtaining information and method of presentation is the ingenuity of the students."

Tea Honors Retiring Employees

A tea honoring employees who are leaving at the end of this semester will be held today from 3:30 to 5:30 PM in the faculty dining room. The hosts will be the faculty women.

Retiring employees are Mrs. Edna Hartley, English department; Paul Soderstrom, business division; and Harry Ariery, library custodian.

Leaving will be Mrs. Ruth Best, nursing education; Mrs. Mabel-claire Norman, director of nursing; Mrs. Evelyn Stewart, President Arch Bradshaw's secretary; Mrs. Dee Roshong, a counselor; and Don Kloppenburg, physical education department.

Entertainment will be provided by the music department under the direction of C. Lowell Spencer.

All FCC employees are invited to attend, Miss Deakins, dean of women, stated.

Bradshaw Predicts Large Enrollment

President Archie Bradshaw, at the last faculty meeting of the year held Tuesday, predicted a gigantic freshman class this fall.

"I checked with our admissions office today and find that we have more applications on file than in August of previous years," noted Bradshaw. "We are approaching 2,200 new students in applications filed."

He added that this does not mean that all will enroll who file applications, but if the present rate continues there will be many problems concerning space.

He explained that it is hoped a block system can be arranged to compensate for the loss of space. There would be Block A, morning; Block B, afternoon; and Block C, evening division.

Total Offerings

"By block I mean total offerings rather than isolated subjects," he said, "thus enabling both students and faculty to schedule their on campus time into compact units rather than having classes scattered throughout the day."

"The gymnasium and cafeteria are also a concern for the future. Both facilities were planned for 6,000. But the library is considered the most pressing problem."

"The library is already feeling the pinch. We most certainly will have to expand this facility."

Diversion

"I do foresee the possibility of diverting students to Reedley College. Those students diverted would be those living in Selma, Sanger, Fowler and possibly Clovis."

He summed up his report by thanking the faculty for their cooperation and support during the year.

Slides telling the story for the State Center Junior College District were presented. The 20 minute program shows campus facilities and activities of Fresno City and Reedley College.

Council Puts Marquee Up

The Student Council passed a proposal to construct a marquee in front of the Fresno City College Gymnasium.

Myra Aten, associated student body treasurer, proposed the motion "because many of the students are unaware of activities being held on and off campus. This will give them an even greater opportunity to be informed."

The motion was seconded by Ron Brumley and passed after discussion.

The marquee will cost approximately $668 and be paid for from the Associate Student Body General Fund.

A motion was also passed to appropriate $205 for a sign in the cafeteria.

The council contends the sign will be used as a bulletin board for social and athletic events and for publicizing the work of the Student Council.

The marquee will be placed outside where it can be easily seen from most anywhere on campus. It will have moveable letters so that the announcements posted on it can be kept as current as possible.

Desert Inn Hosts FCC Banquet

The 13th annual Rampage banquet will be held tonight in the Desert Inn Buffet Room.

Arthur Margosian, director of public relations at Fresno State College, will be the main speaker. His topic will be Opportunities in Journalism. Elberta Hurst, Rampage advertising manager, will be the master of ceremonies.

Staff members receiving awards for three or more semesters service on the Rampage are Miss Hurst, David Pacheco, Donald Mencarini, George Kuempe, Charles Wright and Barbara Ehrenburg.

Entertainment will be furnished by Ross Hunter and David Hunter, better known as Ross and David. They will perform folk music.

VC Titles Highlight Spring Sports Dinner

By DAVE GLASSBURN

League championships in six of 10 sports paved the way to the Valley Conference all sports trophy for FCC. This year's claiming of the award made it two in a row for the Rams. The trophy goes to the college with the best won-lost record for all the sports throughout the year.

The trophy and all those of the spring sports who helped keep it at FCC were honored at the annual spring sports banquet Monday night in the cafeteria.

One athlete from each sport was honored as most outstanding. The winners of these awards were track, Alvin Mann; baseball, John Lung; basketball, Ken (Chico) Lewis; wrestling, Ron Marquez; swimming, Wayne Deaver; golf, Dave Sabo; and tennis, Bob Nelson.

Most Improved

Seven athletes selected as most improved in their respective sports were also feted: Marlin Elrod, basketball; Ernie Coppo, baseball; Del Thompson, track; Dennis Deliddo, wrestling; Dave Turner, swimming; Dave Adams, tennis; and Dennis Makasian, golf.

Larry Scott, basketball, and Jim Teter, baseball, captains of their respective teams, were given special recognition. A most inspirational award went to Pody Field, basketball, and a newly created most coachable award to Bobby Lee, basketball.

Jackets, Trophies Presented

Members of championship teams were presented with jackets for the first year men and trophies for those who were on repeating league championship teams.

Barkin' Joe Kelly was given a standing ovation in recognition of his retirement from the coaching ranks to enter full-time administration.

FCC athletic teams were league champions in football, track, basketball, baseball and wrestling. The Ram golf team was league co-champions with American River Junior College of Sacramento.

Ram Tracksters Qualify For California JC Final

By DON MENCARINI
Sports Editor

Ten members of Fresno City College's track team have qualified for the California Junior College State Meet Saturday at 4 PM in Modesto.

"Santa Ana Junior College will be the team to beat," said FCC Coach Erwin Ginsburg. FCC will be led by pole vaulter Dan Stone, discus thrower Bob Jacobs, long jumper Delbur Thompson, sprinter Alvin Mann, intermediate hurdler Ezunial Burts, high jumpers Larry Cormier and Tyrone Powell and the mile relay team of Tim Vaux, Mark Bogdanovich, Bob Palacios and Burts.

Last week the Rams won the Northern California track title, the second for Coach Ginsburg in 11 tries. FCC rolled up 84 points for first ahead of College of San Mateo with 77 and host Foothill College with 71.

Mann Qualifies

Mann won the 100 yard dash in 9.8 to tie the meet record and captured the 220 in 21.5 to qualify for the state meet in both events. He also anchored the Ram 440 yard relay team to a meet record time of 41.4.

Thompson got off a 24 foot 2 1/2 inch jump in the long jump to best Gary Ard of Modesto Junior College and erase the record of 24 feet 1/2 inch set in 1953 by Charels Booth of Contra Costa Junior College.

Powell, Cormier Place

Stephens Announces New Swimming Class

Intermediate Swimming 16 B, a new swim class, will be in the offering for next year's Fresno City College students.

The class, designed to teach and develop techniques in water polo, will be held on Monday and Wednesday.

"One doesn't have to be a good swimmer to take this class," emphasized Coach Gene Stephens.

"All that is necessary is a desire to swim. It will be conducted on a non-competitive basis."

He added that the new class could be a stepping stone for a position on the school water polo team.

"If a person shows enough interest and ability, he could easily become a member of the team."

Stephens used as an example John Rohner, who last year made all conference as a goalie for the Rams.

"Because of the warm weather, several men are coming in after school and playing water polo," Stephens commented. "If any other student is interested in playing after school, all he has to do is report to the pool ready for action."

Latin Club Wins Three

The Latin American Club is champion of the slow-developing Fresno City College intramural sports program.

LAC was victorious in three out of the four games they had against the team sponsored by the Associated Men Students, the only other team to participate in the program.

As FCC team champions LAC will travel to Reedley tomorrow to meet the team champions of Reedley College's intramural softball team.

In our house it's service.

Financial programs require planning and planning calls for service. Not the occasional contact, but the professional kind.

The men in our Campus Internship Program (for college students interested in life insurance careers) are trained to offer this kind of service. They're given a solid grounding in the professional approach to life insurance programming.

Their training—as well as income—starts while they're still students, offering an excellent opportunity to make a proper career decision before graduation. 37% of those participating in the program in the last 10 years are currently enjoying successful careers with the Company in sales, supervisory, and management spots.

You might find our specialty appetizing, too.
