

NIGHT OF SPLENDOR — Dancing couples will set the stage for the annual formal. Del Courtney and his orchestra will supply the music this year. Moonlight in December is the theme and the dancing starts at 9 PM in the new Convention Center Exhibit Hall.

Choir Will Present Show In Cafeteria

The FCC Choir will present their annual Christmas assembly next Thursday at 2 PM in the Cafeteria. They will also present the concert to the public at 8 PM.

"We will present everything from strong Beethoven selections to the sentimental numbers of Clokey," said choir director C. Lowell Spencer.

Selections for the concert will include the Kyrie and Gloria from Missa Solemnis by Beethoven.

Soloists for these two numbers are Judy Ide, Janice Cones, Janet Houlding and Kathy Reams. Male soloists are Ron Gonzales, Ray Smith, John Clatworthy and Albert Cowager.

When the Christ Child Came by Clokey and Shepherds Had an Angel by Besley are the two other selections the choir will sing.

Kathy Reams will be the soloist for Shepherds Had an Angel and Bob Clark will play the English horn.

The whole program will be accompanied by pianists Karen Christenson and Alex Molnar, FCC music instructor.

"For some students this will be the only chance for them to hear the choir and we want them to enjoy it," said Spencer.

The program is free to the public and FCC students.

Car Accident Kills One, Injures Eight Others

By RITA JOHNSON

FCC student Joseph Wayne Harris was killed, and eight other students injured in a car accident Friday evening southeast of Madera.

Harris, the driver of the vehicle, and the other eight were returning home to Madera after school, Friday. The one car accident occurred at Road 38 and Avenue 12.

Captain Alva Cooper of the California Highway Patrol, said that the car slid out of control after going over a canal bump in the road. The car then rolled five times. Cooper said the roads were slippery because of Friday's rain.

Thrown From Car

Cooper said all passengers were thrown from the vehicle. Harris died in the Madera County Hospital two hours after the accident.

A Highway Patrol spokesman said Camillia Brown, Cecil Jones and Marjorie Crittenden received major injuries.

The other students suffering minor injuries were Addie House, Pearl Willis, James M. Brown, Nancy Turner and Andrew Thomas.

One Student Returns

Thomas is the only student who has returned to school.

Harris, 19, was a second semester student majoring in auto mechanics and taking 13½ units. He graduated from Madera Union High School in June of 1965.

Funeral services for Harris will be held Friday at 1 PM in the Madera Funeral Home.

Spring Elections Petitions Ready

Petitions for spring semester student body officers will be available Monday in the Admissions Office.

Miss Doris Deakins, an associate dean of students, said the Jan. 11 ballot will list 18 officers. A nominations assembly is scheduled for Jan. 9. The location for the assembly hasn't been decided yet.

She said candidates for student body president and vice president must have a 2.5 grade-point average and carrying 10 units. Students running for the other offices need a C average.

Moonlight In December

Formal Set For Tomorrow Night

FCC's annual winter formal will be held tomorrow night from 9 PM-1 AM in the Fresno Convention Center Exhibit Hall. The theme will be Moonlight in December.

The Associated Women Students and the Associated Men Students are jointly sponsoring the formal. Vicki Worden and Ed Reid, AMS vice president, are co-chairmen.

Bids for the formal will be available in the Cafeteria foyer until 1 PM tomorrow, according to Miss Doris Deakins, the dean of women. Admission to the dance is free but students must have a bid in order to attend.

Attire for the dance is formal. This means tuxedos or dark suits for the men and long or short formal for the women.

Del Courtney and his 12-piece orchestra will provide entertainment for the evening.

A king and a queen will reign at the formal. They will be elected from candidates representing various campus clubs. Voting will be during intermission at the dance, according to Mrs. Sara Dougherty, coordinator of student activities.

Dan Ozier, a speech instructor and master of ceremonies, will introduce the candidates at 9:30 PM. Their names, ages, majors and sponsors follow.

Karen Christensen, 19, music and Doug Nelson, 19, marine biology—Alpha Gamma Sigma; Ed Reid, 20, business—AMS; Vicki Worden, dental hygiene, 19 — AWS; Kathy Nunes, 19, business education—Collegian Hall.

Irene Vasquez, 18, liberal arts and Leo Trujillo, 19, accounting—Latin American Club; Lupe De Santiago, 20, business—Phi Beta Lambda; Carolyn Bell, 18, and Harry Nabors, 19, police science.

Debaters To Host Tourney

Coach Franz Weinschenk's forensics squad will host the annual tournament of the Northern California Forensics Association on the FCC campus tomorrow and Saturday.

The tournament will begin with team registration at 1 PM tomorrow. Events will include debate, oratory and interpretive reading.

Trophies will be presented to the four highest-scoring schools in both the two-year and four-year categories. Outstanding individuals will also receive awards on the basis of their overall records.

Annual Hosts

FCC hosts this event every year. Coach Weinschenk anticipates a good showing from his team.

"We won this event last year, and I expect to win it again this year," he said.

Weinschenk invites all interested students to attend.

Several Activities

"Several things will be going on in various rooms around the campus," he said. "The rooms will be posted, and a schedule of the entire tournament will be on the bulletin board by the attendance office."

Three teams of two members each will represent each school in debate. Debating for FCC will be Tom Stringfield and John Black, Jim Johnstone and Alan Decker and Richard Lehman and Spencer Kendig.

Other members of Weinschenk's squad are Murlen Hatley, Scott Davis, Tina Gyer and Paula Cohen.

All members of the team will participate in oratory and interpretive reading events.

Bowl Game Spirit High Despite 32-12 Defeat

By MARY YOUNG

Spirit ran high among the 12,849 people who attended the 19th Annual Potato Bowl Game in Bakersfield last Saturday, even though the Rams lost 32-12.

Fresno City College students participated in activities at the game and in the pageant held earlier in the day.

The FCC band marched in a parade in Bakersfield at 11 AM. FCC's fight song was the band's number in the parade.

FCC President

Dr. Archie Bradshaw, president of FCC, and Mr. Richard Cleland, dean of men, were also in the parade. They rode in a car ahead of the band.

The band also marched in the grand entry at Bakersfield Memorial Stadium along with the Fullerton Junior College band and 14 high school bands from neighboring areas.

The FCC band received a trophy for its participation in the activities.

Signs, confetti and streamers were brought by the Rally Club and other fans to use during the game.

Cheerleaders were Connie Brooks, Stephen Ortega, Anita Ginder, Maureen Eilenberger and Kathy Nunes.

Pep girls were Jennett Orndoff, Wylene Powers, Dorothy Escobedo, Cathy Engstrom, Patty Hathaway, Mary Jane Coronado, Judi Fish and Rose Mary Woods.

FCC's Ram mascot was Linda Hashimoto.

The FCC band performed at half-time. A Salute to Fresno was their theme.

Special Salute

The band gave a special salute to Dr. Bradshaw, FCC and the Shriners, who sponsored the game.

Other formations by the band represented outdoor recreation, cultural activities, agriculture and night life in Fresno.

Jo McCrary and Jeryll Clark, FCC's majorettes, performed with the band.

Campus Club Readies Sale Of Art Work

The Fine Arts Club will sponsor an art sale Dec. 14-16 in the Cafeteria foyer.

The annual money-making project will include drawings, paintings (both oil and water color) and ceramic seconds. Curtis Draper, sponsor of the club, explained that ceramic seconds are imperfect pottery objects.

Sale time will be from 9 AM to 2 PM and 8 to 9 PM Wednesday and Thursday.

Draper said that the price of art objects will be determined by the students that submit them. But the price range will not exceed $10, and most items will cost between $2 and $3. The club will receive a 25 per cent commission. The other 75 per cent goes to the students who have sold their art work.

Draper estimates that about 100 pieces will be on sale.

Students interested in submitting art work may contact Draper in Administration 226. Work may be turned in until Dec. 13.

The sale is being organized by Lynn Wilson, club president, Kathy Safer, vice president, and Marilyn Foreman, secretary-treasurer.

Draft Alternative

Induction By Lottery Offers Equal Chance

At last week's Junior College Student Government Association convention in San Francisco, the attending delegates passed by a small margin a recommendation that induction into military service be conducted by a lottery system.

With the increase of those in college the importance of the inequities of the system has increased since the manpower needs of the military have risen. Those who are not in college are the first target of the draft and this puts a needless price upon the value of college.

Those who, for one reason or another, are unable to attend college are presently carrying the burden of this nation's defense. This certainly is unfair. The responsibility of defense belongs to all of us whether in college or not.

For those not in college the problem of establishing themselves in the world is a real one. Often times a recent member of the labor force no sooner gets situated in a job or begins to establish credit than he receives notice for military induction.

It is true that a hardship is worked on the student whose studies are interrupted but it is just as true for the regular working civilian.

The answer, as many have suggested, seems to be universal registration and induction by lottery. Then, all registrants are on an equal chance basis. It will not eliminate pulling a man from school but it will aid the man in a civilian occupation by giving him an equal chance. It will involve all registrants in an equal risk.

Pugsley Comments On Crime Statistic

Crime in Fresno County has increased 27.5 per cent according to figures published by the State Bureau of Criminal Statistics for 1964 to 1965.

Murder, robbery, assault, burglary, larceny, auto theft and forgery are averaged in the figure.

"The thing that this figure doesn't indicate is an increase in county population," Earl Pugsley, coordinator of the FCC police science department, explained.

Figure Excludes

He said that the figure only takes into account the number of crimes reported and excludes the total number of apprehension and crimes solved.

"You cannot make an adequate evaluation of the efficiency of a police force without averaging in the apprehension rate and crimes solved," he said. "A figure such as this can be misleading for this reason."

He said that one indication of citizens confidence in the ability of Fresno County police to apprehend criminals is an increase in the number of reported crimes.

Average Rate

"According to the Fresno County Sheriff's Office, we have an average crime rate for a county this size in the western states."

Sources at the office explained that while their case load is up, manpower has not increased.

Pugsley said that civil disobedience has recently become a factor in the rising county crime rate.

Crimes Express

"Civil disobedience is expressed in such crimes as unlawful assembly, disturbance of the peace, property damage and assaults on police officers."

When asked about the lack of student demonstrations and dissident student factions at FCC, Pugsley explained that FCC is a community college and that students would not choose to damage the reputation of their school.

"Unlike Berkeley, students have a local stake in FCC. Many of the students at Berkeley come from out of town, and some don't care what kind of trouble they cause when away from home."

Riot Cause

He added that one cause of the student riots at Berkeley is the lack of student-instructor communication on student academic problems.

"Students here can come to any instructor on campus and talk out academic problems, while at Berkeley instructors are too busy with large and numerous classes for that."

"FCC offers many student-based organizations and activities that allow students a chance to express themselves in creative and democratic ways instead of purposeless and destructive student rioting," he said.

Markarian Impressed

Student Takes World Trip; Finds Middle East Unrest

CAMEL POWER — Lousander Markarian shown before the sphinx riding a camel. This was just one stop out of 13 countries Markarian visited. He obtained a leave of absence from his night class for the 35-day world tour.

An FCC evening student made a 35-day world tour during October and November.

Lousander Markarian obtained a leave of absence from his night class for the trip. He said he learned about the trip through the Elks Club.

Markarian graduated from FCC in 1964 but returned to FCC to continue his studies in art.

Markarian visited many countries. They included Greece, Hong Kong, India, Thailand, Japan, Egypt, Taiwan (Formosa), Iran, Lebanon, Jordan, Israel, France and Iraq.

The trip began Oct. 14, and Markarian returned Nov. 16. The tour was arranged through a travel agency.

Highlight of Trip

He felt that Jerusalem was the highlight of his trip. He was able to visit the Biblical areas and was awed by their religious significance.

Markarian was very impressed by the unrest in the Middle East between the Arab and Jewish people. He also remembers Egypt because he had his money purse stolen there.

In Thailand he saw the famous Buddha shrines. He saw the reclining Buddha, the gold Buddha, the solid emerald Buddha and the largest Buddha in the world. Markarian said he felt that the people were more interested in their religion than their economy.

India impressed him with the poverty of the people. He was told that the average life span was 34 years. He felt that this was the dirtiest part of the trip and was surprised how fanatical the Indians were about their religion.

Taj Mahal

Markarian was fascinated by the beauty of the Taj Mahal, a mausoleum built of white marble in honor of Shah Jahan's favorite wife in the 1600's.

While in France Markarian was able to spend a whole day in the Louvre, an ancient royal palace converted into an art museum. He found Paris exciting and lovely.

Markarian bought 20 loaves of French bread while shopping in Montmartre, a northern section of Paris famous for its cafes and night life. He said he surprised his family when he arrived in Fresno loaded down with French bread.

Letters To The Editor

December 2, 1966

EDITOR OF RAMPAGE:

The problem of tuition charges in California's public junior colleges is so extremely complex and tied so intimately to our historical notions of equal educational opportunities for all, careful research is necessary before attempting an intelligent discussion of such a vital subject. Your recent editorial on the subject may have created more confusion than light for some of your readers.

If you are interested in pursuing the study of this problem, may I suggest the following excellent sources, just for openers:

Licenses For Listening Required In Great Britain

By JOHN YOUNG

In England one must have a government license just to listen to the radio or to watch television.

A television license costs about $15 per year, and a radio license costs $3 per year. The license covers any number of sets in one home.

This aspect of broadcasting in Great Britain was brought out by Peter Travers in a speech which he presented to Phil Smith's Journalism 1 class.

Travers, an exchange instructor from Manchester, England, is currently teaching geography and geology at FCC.

BBC and TV

There are two broadcasting organizations in Great Britain: the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC), established in 1922, and the Independent Television Authority, established in 1954.

The BBC is completely owned and operated by the British government. It has a complete monopoly on radio broadcasting in the British Isles. It broadcasts both a domestic service and a foreign (shortwave) service. There are no commercials on the BBC. Its revenue comes from government sources.

The domestic service is divided into three sets of programs. The Home Service provides programs of general interest including music, religion, news and political discussion.

Light Program

The second service is called the Light Program. It is intended to provide light, relaxing entertainment for the majority of the public.

The third service is referred to as the Third Program. It provides intellectual and educational entertainment. Examples include a discussion of modern Egyptian archaeology and a program consisting of 40 minutes of French harpsichord music.

Programs in 43 languages can be received in this country on a shortwave receiver through the BBC World Service.

BBC began regular television programming in 1936 and had a monopoly in that field until 1954, when the Independent Television Authority was established by the government.

The BBC's TV programming is divided into two services: BBC 1 and BBC 2.

BBC 1 provides a range of programs for a general audience, while BBC 2 provides intellectual and educational TV programs.

The Independent Television Authority, while under the same governmental supervision and scrutiny as BBC, must rely upon advertising for its income.

Popular Shows

Batman, the Lucy Show, and the Dick Van Dyke Show are among the more popular shows from the United States that the ITA transmits to its viewers.

Travers said that the BBC shows only two American shows at present. They are Perry Mason and the Defenders.

He mentioned that of the top 20 TV programs in Britain only one is on BBC.

No Local Stations

Broadcasting in Britain is entirely on a national basis. There are no local stations in the country. This is made possible by the size of the country (about the size of California).

Recently the British government has been plagued by so-called "pirate" radio stations. Operating from beyond the country's territorial limits, they broadcast commercial programs, mostly pop music, to certain areas of the country.

Travers said that recent action by the World Court has given the government the power to close the stations by force, if necessary. This ruling goes into effect on January 1, 1967.

Radio Moscow

Listeners in England frequently listen to stations from other countries as well as their own domestic broadcasts. Among the most popular station, Travers said, are Radio Luxembourg and Radio Moscow.

Instructors Will Form Bureau

A faculty speakers bureau is being formed by the FCC community relations office.

Timothy Welch, community relations officer, said that the bureau is being organized due to an increase in requests by local clubs and organizations for faculty speakers.

Requests are now being filled on a "catch as catch-can basis." Speakers are being sought a few days in advance of a meeting, making it difficult to get a speaker on such short notice.

New Program

The new program is expected to be ready by the first of the year. A brochure is being compiled which lists all speakers, their background and the topic or topics they will speak on plus their pictures.

This brochure will be mailed out once a year to all clubs and organizations on the FCC mailing list.

Clubs will be asked to contact the relations office about two weeks in advance of the meeting with three choices. These three selections will insure the group of getting one speaker they request in case one or more are not available on a certain date.

Free Speakers

No fee will be charged for speakers as long as they speak within the college district. Welch said those who speak outside the district become their own bargaining agents and can charge for their services.

About 30 faculty and administration members have signed to speak. Welch hopes that eventually the total will reach 40.

All four-year and many two-year colleges in California have some type of organized speakers program, Welch said.

This bureau will also be available to campus clubs interested in obtaining speakers.

Drama Group Extends Play Until Sunday

Tennessee Williams' Summer and Smoke will be presented by the FCC Drama Department tonight, tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday at 8:15 PM in the Social Hall of the Student Center.

Frederick Johnson, director, said no tickets are available for tonight and tomorrow nights, but a few tickets are still available for Saturday and Sunday night.

"Due to this increasing demand for tickets, the play will run until Sunday," said Johnson.

Play Postponed

The play was postponed one week when the lead actress, Letitia Scordino suffered from a broken leg recently in an accident after rehearsal on Nov. 19.

Chris Manson has taken Letitia's place.

Johnson said, "In three weeks Chris has come up to equal the rest of the cast."

"This cast is probably one of the best casts I have had since I've been at Fresno City College."

Tickets

Tickets are free to FCC students with student body cards. The cost is 75 cents for other students and $1.50 for adults.

Tickets are now on sale in the FCC box office from 1 to 5 PM. It is located in Student Center 217.

Nursing Group Celebrates With Christmas Dinner

By GLORIA RODRIGUEZ

Phi Rho Nu, a professional nursing group had a Christmas dinner Monday evening at the Water Tree Inn.

An estimated 65 students, faculty and guests attended the dinner. The group was entertained by the professional nursing instructors, who sang songs composed by them.

The singers included Mrs. Martha Hoard, Mrs. Alma L. Palmer, Mrs. Monette Viau, Mrs. Dorothy Turner, Mrs. Mary Treet, Mrs. Rose Howell and Mrs. Nain T. Young.

Other entertainment was provided by the nursing students.

Ellsworth Black was the master of ceremonies.

Club officers are Linda Luther, president; Anna Reyna, vice president; Mrs. Karen Couto, secretary, and Sue Reichart, treasurer.

Phi Beta Lambda

At their meeting Friday Phi Beta Lambda, a business club, talked about plans for their Christmas party.

"The club is also considering collecting textbooks that have no monetary value from students who have no more use for them and have them sent to foreign countries," said Mrs. Miller, club adviser.

"The blazer committee has selected royal blue blazers for the winter season to be worn at their convention meetings and all-club sponsored events," said committee chairman Judy Kramer.

SCTA

The Student California Teachers' Association will meet from 7:30-9 PM Thursday, Dec. 15 in Conference Room A of the Cafeteria.

James Lundberg, a Fresno State College supervisor of practice teachers, will speak on The Credential Dilemma in California. He has subtitled his speech What is All This Credential Jazz? or How to Get a Credential at FSC.

He will bring mimeographed copies of the requirements for a California teaching credential. A discussion period will follow the speech.

Club Meetings

International People to People will meet at noon today in Administration 158. Circle K Club will also meet tonight at 7 in Committee Room C of the Cafeteria.

Council Conventioneers

Delegates Favor New Draft System

By MARY MORRIS

A resolution supporting the lottery draft system is being forwarded to the President's counsel on the selective service after being approved by the delegates to the California Junior College Student Government Association Convention.

Six hundred delegates from 78 junior colleges met from Thursday to Saturday in San Francisco's Hilton Hotel for the semi-annual CJCSCGA convention.

FCC participants were Tim Mancini, student body president; Richard Machado, vice president; and student body representatives Bart Turner, Tim Hensleit and Darryll Kahn. They were accompanied by two sponsors, Miss Doris Deakins and Kenneth Clark.

Opposes Lottery

Turner said that although the FCC delegation opposed the lottery, it was approved by the general assembly by a small margin.

The lottery would pick by lot the men to be drafted who are physically and mentally fit. The names of all eligible men would be placed together and the required number drawn.

Other major issues at the convention included a student bill of rights, and immediate financial aid for junior colleges.

JC Bill of Rights

Defeated was a proposal for a junior college bill of rights. Jim Soletti, president of CJCSCGA, said that the issues were much the same as those of the Berkeley Free Speech Movement, but handled in a different way.

Soletti is a student at San Francisco Junior College.

"The main reason for its defeat was because of poor wording," said Turner.

"It would have been unusable in concrete terms," he said. "In the next convention it will probably be reintroduced."

Ask Aid

Machado said that due to the defeat of so many junior college bond issues in the recent election the convention resolved that the CJCSCGA should be in favor of supporting action by the State Legislature to provide immediate financial aid for the junior colleges.

"Some of the workshops that the student officers attended included the president's workshop, campus organizations, philosophy and function of student government and a new workshop called campus currents," said Machado. (See Editorial)

Educational Film Scheduled Today

Films of educational interest will be shown each Thursday noon in Library-103.

Alfred Herrera, audio-visual director, said that the 1966 Indianapolis 500, the second film in the series, is being shown today.

Next Thursday The Innocent Years will be shown. It is a National Broadcasting Company historical documentary from 1901 through 1914.

Films scheduled for the rest of the year will cover travel, sports and human interest. The films run from 26-52 minutes in length.

There will be no admission charge for the films.

"We felt that there should be a type of student activity open to the students and the faculty," Herrera said. "We feel that the program will catch on in a few weeks."

WHAT TYPE OF MAN WEARS WALTER SMITH CLOTHES? He is the type of man who appreciates the new, in design and knows when the design is sound. Bob Stephenson and Dave Vagim tour Fresno's new Convention Center in new clothes selected at WALTER SMITH with the knowledge that what they wear is the latest in design and are sure that it is in quiet good taste.

Bob wears a lambs wool V neck pull-over from England by Byford, $16.00; and a pair of Harris "prest for life" hop-sack trousers, $8.00.

Dave enjoys the comfort of his Arnold Palmer alpaca sweater for $23.00 and a Haggar reverse twist all wool slacks for $16.00.

Ram Matsters Place Second In Tourney

Six preseason matches are in line for Coach Bill Musick's wrestling team before league action begins Jan. 6.

Athletics Director Hans Wiedenhoefer looks to the "skill, strength and stamina" of this year's team for a promising season.

Placed Second

The team displayed these qualities well at the College of San Mateo Saturday. The Ram matmen, competing with 17 schools from California and out of state, placed second in the all-day tournament.

Keith Boyer, a two-year FCC veteran, was voted most outstanding wrestler in the meet.

Defeated Baker

Boyer defeated Baker of Chabot College. Chabot took first place ahead of FCC in the meet.

He pinned Fitzpatrick of Modesto Junior College, Bryant of American River Junior College and Ehert of the College of San Mateo before defeating Baker for the title.

High-Placing Rams

Ram wrestlers placing high in their weight divisions were Eddie Moraga, 115, third; Russ Simpson, 145, second; Ron Lott, 152, fourth; Tom Opperman, 167, third; Eddie Ortiz, 177, second and Paul Herschfelt, heavyweight, third.

Musick expects the team to improve as they play the six preseason matches.

"Everyone did pretty well at this meet," he said, "but they need some improvement in preparation for conference action."

Two statisticians, male or female, are needed to keep records of the Ram basketball games. The only requirement is to attend all home games. Any interested person should contact Coach John Toomasian.

Track Begins This Week At San Mateo

Track and field action for the FCC squad will begin Saturday, Dec. 17.

Coach Erwin Ginsburg will enter a relay team in the San Francisco All-American Indoor Track and Field tryouts at San Mateo College on that date.

The top three teams at the tryouts will travel to the Cow Palace in San Francisco to compete in a special relay medley.

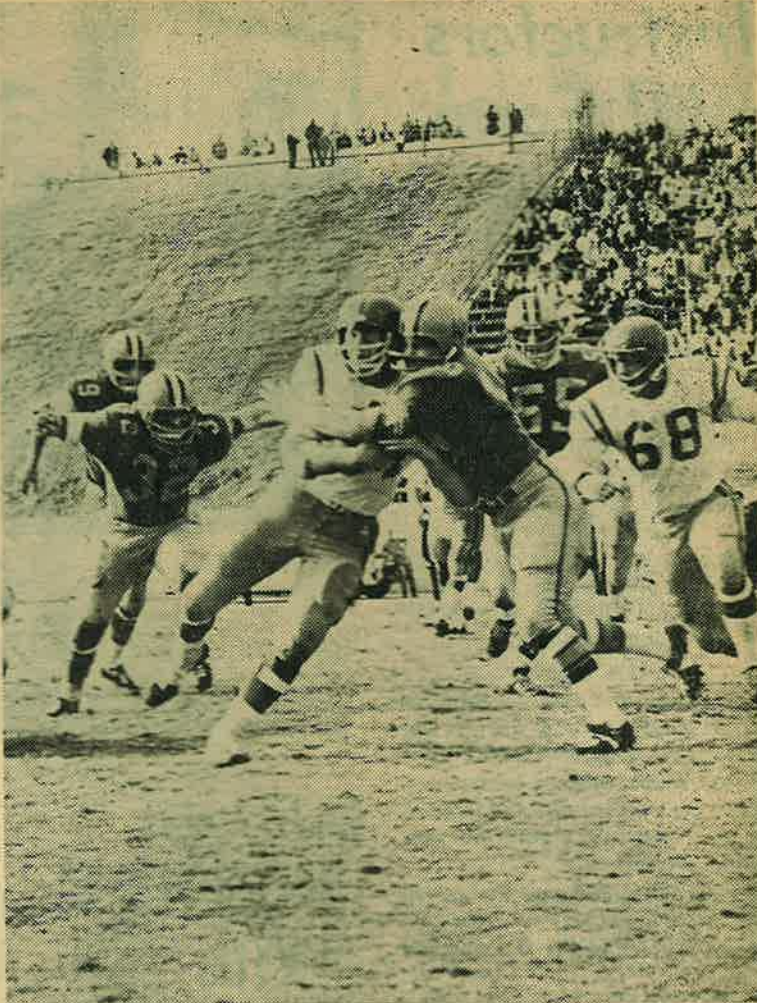

Ginsburg said that the Rams' chances for the Valley Conference title will not be as great as they were last year.

"We're not going to have the depth that we've had other years," he said, "and in some events we are rather thin."

He feels his exceptional runners will be Ervin Hunt, Sam Davis, Marty Growdon and newcomer Mike Wood.

"The team will be built around these boys because there are not too many incoming runners," Ginsburg said.

Two cross country men, Frank Luna and John Garcia, will continue their running on the track squad.

Ram Cagers Go On Road For Weekend

The Ram cagers will be on the road this weekend to play San Bernardino Valley College tomorrow and Pasadena City College Saturday.

Next Tuesday the Rams will travel to Bakersfield College. All of the games begin at 8 PM.

FCC placed fourth in the Bakersfield Invitational Tournament last weekend.

In the first round Fresno squeaked out a 70-68 thriller over Monterey Peninsula.

Floyd Sanders, James Polk, Don Slade, and John Glavinovich were all in the double figures.

In second round action Fresno was beaten by San Francisco City College 84-60.

In the final game with San Joaquin Delta College of Stockton the defending Valley Conference champion routed FCC 108-84.

Rams Meet Defeat In Last Bowl Game

After trailing for three periods, Fullerton Junior College broke loose for 22 points in the fourth quarter to defeat the Rams 32-12 in the 19th annual Potato Bowl game at Bakersfield Saturday afternoon.

The Eastern Conference champions discovered a weakness in the Rams' deep pass defense to turn an interception, a fumbled kickoff and a blocked kick into three quick scores in the fourth quarter and erase the Rams' lead.

Ground Game Stifled

Quarterback Jerry Miller, taking to the air when the Hornets' ground game was stifled, completed 12 of 22 passes for 221 yards, including a 45-yard touchdown pass to Gary Orcutt and two short TD tosses to Dennis Dixon and Greg Keller.

Contrasted with Miller's passing, the Rams' hustling defensive line held Fullerton's rushing backs to only 39 yards in 39 carries.

Nearly As Effective

Ram quarterback Ron Hudson was nearly as effective as Miller, completing 14 of 28 for 177 yards. Split end Tom Chatmon palmed eight passes for 110 yards.

The Rams carried a 12-10 lead into the second half, but midway in the third period lost their key defensive lineman, Bruce Bennett. Moments later he was joined on the bench by defensive end Jamie Weldon.

This was all Fullerton needed to surge ahead to victory. On the first play of the fourth period, Bill Van Leeuwen, defensive star of the game for the winners, intercepted a Hudson pass on the Ram 45. Miller immediately hit Orcutt far behind defensive halfback Del Thompson for a TD, and Fullerton was out in front 16-12.

26-Yard Field Goal

Moments later Dale Curtis' bounding kickoff struck the unlucky Thompson on the leg, and Dan Clayton recovered for Fullerton on the Ram 35. A 16-yard pass, Miller to Dixon, set the stage for a 26-yard field goal by Curtis.

After the Rams failed to make a first down, Bruce Hawkins' punt was blocked by Mike Pena, and Fullerton took over on the Ram five. Miller flipped to Keller on the second play for the TD to run the score to 25-12.

Clem Crum got the last Fullerton score on a seven-yard scamper with two minutes remaining.
