'Vaudeville At The Palace'

Festivities Set For Social Hall

By LINDA GARRET

The eighth annual Mardi Gras Ball will be held tomorrow from 8:30 PM to midnight in the Social Hall. The affair is being sponsored by Delta Psi Omega, the honorary drama fraternity.

Tickets are free with student body cards and are available in the Cafeteria from 11 AM to 2 PM. Costumes will be required, but masks may be purchased for a quarter at the door for those who do not wish to wear costumes.

Vaudeville at the Palace is the theme of the dance. The Palace was the top vaudeville theater in New York. The Social Hall will be set up similar to the backstage of a theater. Decorations will be highlighted by billboards featuring top vaudeville stars.

Halfway through the dance there will be entertainment conducted by FCC clubs. Punch and cookies will be served.

Music will be provided by the Group, a local rock-n-roll band.

Francis Sullivan, president of DPO, will present trophies for the best costumes and the best entertainment.

Committee chairmen for the dance are Evelyn Budmark, Cherie Franklin, Sue Cocciolo, Donna Osborn and Sandy Dralle.

An Evening at the Moulin Rouge was the theme of last year's dance which featured a Mr. Legs contest.

FCC Enrollment Shows Decrease

Fresno City College has 7,019 students, with day enrollment standing at 4,203, and night attendance set at 2,816.

These figures, compiled last Friday, when final registration closed, were announced by George Holstein, dean of admissions and records.

The enrollment this semester is 543 greater than the spring semester of 1965.

However, the enrollment this semester shows an 11 per cent drop from the fall semester of 1965.

Holstein said the spring semester usually has a lower enrollment.

He said this spring's enrollment figure is close to estimates. The administration has expected approximately 4,200 day students.

the spring semester and we hope that everyone will come," Sandy Dralle, DPO vice-president said. "Our club members have worked very hard to put on something that the students will enjoy."

Trustees To Select Architect

The financing of college growth and the choosing of an architect are the main and immediate projects in the expansion plans of the State Center Junior College District Board.

Garland P. Peed, the assistant superintendent of business, said that one task, that of selecting architects, has been partially solved.

The board of trustees screened 14 of the architects who applied for the contract to design a proposed new campus and enlargements of the Reedley and FCC campuses. Seven architects were eliminated.

Architects

The seven remaining architects were interviewed at the board meeting on Jan. 27.

"So far, no decision has been made. This is one decision which the board won't rush because of its importance," Peed said.

He said the largest of the expansion problems is raising the needed funds. The expansion of the two existing junior college campuses and the construction of a new third one will cost approximately $32 million.

"The board is working upon various considerations to raise the needed money," Peed said, "but we can't go ahead on any of this work on a pay as you go basis."

Bond Issue

Peed said a bond issue might be proposed or a tax override is authorization to increase

Classified Personnel Select Merit System

By TYREE VERNER

The results of an election by classified employees from the Fresno City and Reedley College campuses have been accepted by the State Center Junior College District Board of Trustees.

The election called for the creation of a merit or civil service type personnel system for non-teaching employees.

Garland P. Peed, assistant superintendent of business for the State Center College District, said that under the new legal provision, a personnel commission consisting of three members, will be established.

The responsibility of the commission will be to assume many duties and functions formerly performed by the board of trustees.

The commission, headed by a personnel director, will make salary surveys, prepare an annual budget and classify all employees and positions within the jurisdiction of the governing board or of the commission, Peed said.

In cases of apprenticeship probationary periods, the standards of duration and qualifications shall be fixed by the commission insofar as they do not exceed maximum standards set by the California Apprenticeship Council

In case of suspension, demotion or dismissal of a classified employee, he can appeal to the commission within 14 days after receiving the charges in writing by filing a written answer to the charges.

John Porter was elected to the office of student body president by the slim majority of 10 votes in Wednesday's election.

Porter is the first candidate in FCC history to win his office in a revote.

Last month's election was contested because of irregularities during the voting.

Michael McGinnis, who opposed Porter in the election, asked for a recount Wednesday afternoon. McGinnis polled 360 votes.

Bart Turner, unopposed, took the office of student body vice president. He garnered a total vote of 641.

The post of student body secretary went to Suzanne Moxley who received a total vote of 290. Shirley Munson, who opposed Miss Moxley, had 276 votes, losing by 14 votes.

Student body treasurer was won by Nancy Bryant. Miss Bryant opposed the incumbent, Linda Wood. Miss Bryant's total vote was 385.

Ron Winter, who was unopposed, won the office of associated men students president with 335 votes and Michelle Martin, also unopposed, was elected to the associated women students presidency with 294 votes.

The constitutional amendment which combined seven commissioner posts into three posts passed by 359 votes.

The commissioner posts of student welfare and scholarships were combined into student welfare; assemblies, rallies and social affairs commissioners into a social affairs commissioner and commissioners of publications and publicity into publicity commissioner.

Speakers Schedule Talk On U.S. Foreign Policy

Constructive Alternatives in U.S. Foreign Policy in Viet Nam will be the topic discussed during an all-day seminar at Fresno City College Saturday.

The seminar will be held from 9:30 AM to 9 PM in the FCC Auditorium. The sponsor is the Fresno Interfaith Committee on Peace, a group of laymen and ministers. The public is invited.

Dr. Robert Scheer, foreign editor of Ramparts magazine and author of How the United States Got Involved, will speak on An Eyewitness Report From Viet Nam at 10 AM.

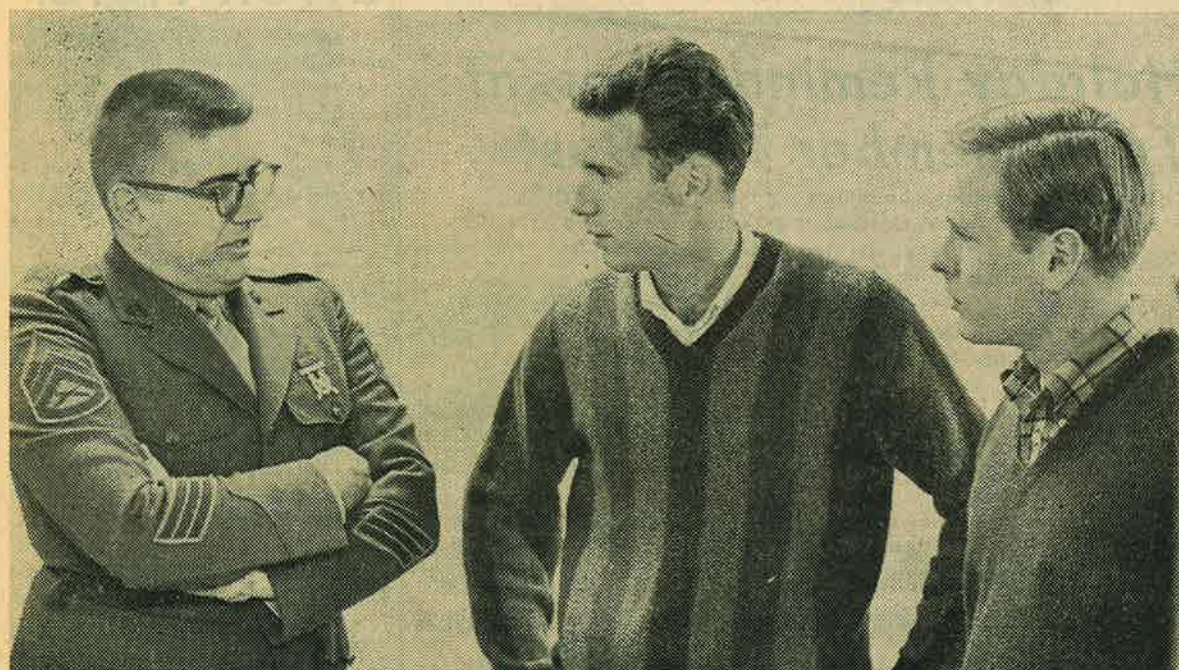

Dr. Mark Mancall, a professor of history at Stanford University, will speak on China, Viet Nam and U.S.—A Problem of Identity at 1:30 PM.

Dr. Edmond L. Auchter, an assistant professor of economics at Fresno State College and a former economist with the United States Operation Mission to Viet Nam from 1962-64, will also speak at the 1:30 PM meeting. His topic will be Viet Nam—A Case Study in the Dilemma of Foreign Aid.

Meetings for group discussion will begin at 3 PM, and discussion leaders will question the speakers at 7:30 PM.

Registration fees will be $2 for adult and $1 for students. The fee for any one session will be $1.

A luncheon will be served at noon in the Cafeteria for $1.75. Luncheon reservations should be mailed to the Fresno Interfaith Committee on Peace, 4535 E. Fairmont Ave., Fresno 93626. The deadline is Wednesday for reservations.

'Drastic Problem' Has Not So Drastic Solution

Fresno City College's current parking problem is enough to drive anyone to the bottle—the aspirin bottle, that is.

But it is going to take a lot more than a couple of aspirin tablets or even a whole bottle of them to solve this headache.

The problem has little to do with the quality of the parking facilities now available. It does, however, have a great deal to do with the quantity of parking spaces. There simply are not enough facilities on campus to adequately accommodate FCC's large enrollment.

Surveys conducted by Paul Starr, dean of special services, have revealed that more than 80 per cent of the students attending FCC drive cars or other motor vehicles to school.

Unfortunately, there are only enough facilities on the FCC campus to accommodate about 600 vehicles, or approximately 16 per cent of the student motorists.

Bad though this situation may seem, it is not entirely hopeless. For the past five years, there has been a solution to the parking dilemma, but Fresno City College students have either failed to recognize it or refused to consider it. The solution? That large empty parking lot across from Ratcliffe Stadium.

Although owned and operated by representatives of Fresno State College for use during sporting events and special functions in Ratcliffe Stadium, the lot remains vacant more than 75 per cent of the time.

Superintendent Stuart M. White told the Rampage recently that he has made a standing "gentlemen's agreement" with FSC to allow Fresno City College students to park in the lot during the week.

Fresno City College students should take advantage of this excellent opportunity. This parking lot, located on the southwest corner of Blackstone and Weldon Avenues, offers Fresno City College students a number of advantages.

One advantage is its access to Blackstone Avenue, the main traffic artery for the city of Fresno. With convenient entrances on both Weldon and Blackstone, students can enter and leave whenever necessary without having to worry about the usual traffic tangle around the campus.

Another ideal advantage is free parking. There are no parking meters, nor are there any parking lot attendants. And there is nothing to indicate that there will be in the future. The only exception would be when there is a sporting event or a special function taking place in Ratcliffe Stadium. The rest of the time the lot is open to anyone who wishes to use it.

This advantage seems even more attractive when one considers that Fresno State students are required to pay for parking stickers and Fresno City College students are not.

What this amounts to is that FSC students have not one but two things to pay for—1) money for parking and 2) the consequences for paying (those long walks to class can be very tiring!).

Fresno City College students who choose to park in the Blackstone-Weldon parking lot would have to walk a little bit; this is not to be denied. But at least they would not be forced to reach for their pocketbooks.

Some students feel that it would take too much time to walk from the lot to their classes. But would it? In the time it would normally take to find a parking space in the University Avenue parking lot, a student could parking his car in the Blackstone-Weldon lot, walk the quarter of a mile or so to his class and still be in his seat before the final bell sounds.

It can be done. And who knows? It might even bring the "fast pain relief" that the FCC parking headache has long needed.

IT'S ALL OVER. Porter and McGinnis congratulate each other on a battle well fought.

Inquiring Reporter

Women Considered As Draft Choices

In recent weeks there have been murmurings in Washington, D.C., that one of the congressmen might make a proposal to begin drafting women into the service.

Any positions filled by women would be non-combative in nature.

The question asked by this week's inquiring reporter was: What do you think about drafting women into the armed services in non-combative positions?

Jim Chappel, freshman art major, "I'm all for it, but not for battle. Technologically they're as capable as men. Our services are becoming more technical and they can certainly fill some of the needs."

Linda Cox, freshman English major, "I'm definitely against it because a woman's place is in home. It's okay if they want to, but I don't think they should be drafted. It's too rough a place for a woman."

Doug Nelson, freshman pre-law major, "As long as it's a non-combative situation I think it's a good idea. Women are better qualified for clerical work. One thing, it would make women appreciate college a lot better rather than taking three or four units while looking for a husband."

Virginia Espinoza, freshman, "I think it's a good idea because it would free more men for combat duty. Personally, I have thought about serving my country. Women are better at clerical jobs than men."

Joe Rampage (picture unavailable): "Sometimes women think that they are equal to men. In this case, I notice that some women are backing down. Actually, I don't think that many women could adapt to living without hair spray."

Glamour Delayed

Three contestants out of six appeared last Monday to be interviewed for Glamour magazine's ten best dressed college girls contest. The campus contest is sponsored by the Rampage.

Interviews have now been postponed until further plans can be made.

Rampage co-workers emphasized that if there is enough participation the contest will continue.

Sandra Dralle, Rampage news editor, said, "This is a nation-wide contest. It is too bad that Fresno City College girls are not interested enough to participate in such an event."

Letter To The Editor

Posters Raise Ire Of City Student

As I walk down the corridors and across the campus, observing the offensive products of our poster artists, I find myself constantly asking, "Could this really be college?"

The slapstick lettering and art work that I see on the campaign posters bring back fond memories of my junior high school days when we kids could actually get away with such atrocities.

Nor do I get a great intellectual charge from the rhetoric of these posters. One suggestively constructive sign in particular advises me to "CHEWS MUNSON." Somehow I find that a bit hard to swallow.

I am confronted with another one which entreats, "LET JOHN DO THE JOB." Could that be a deliberate attempt at alliteration?

Then, there is the attention-grabbing "SOS" which, upon closer inspection, becomes a meek "SOLD ON SUE."

Our campus sloganeers make even the CPUSA (Communist Party United States of America) look intelligent by comparison.

I hope to see some improvement in campaign publicity next semester. Maybe I will vote then.

Holiday Reminds Present To Remember The Past

Tuesday is a holiday in honor of Washington's birth.

In this age of sophistication it is often considered trivial to be patriotic by thinking that the heroes of the past matter. The future is emphasized, the past is forgotten.

The future is a new and exciting venture. But there would be no future if it weren't for the past.

It was men like Washington who looked back and built for the future.

Today is a result of the work that has preceded our generation. In learning to cope with our age it is often good to reflect on those who preceded us and realize that their world was as new to them as ours is to us.

When Washington was first president he had to set a precedent for future presidents to follow. He had little or no guide lines, only his own judgment, the suggestions of friends and the criticism of his enemies.

In our present age we can look back to the triumphs and the tragedies of our forefathers.

This then is what we honor on Feb. 22, the legacy of the past.

FCC Band Is Called 'The Best'

The Fresno City College Symphonic Band is the finest in FCC history," said its director, W. Vincent Moats.

"Though it had difficulties in the first couple of days, it has progressed very well in the past week."

Most of the band members were in the marching band of the fall semester.

Brass
The marching band, emphasizing brass instruments, played at FCC football games.

The concert band, which balances woodwinds and brass, will play only at performances.

Several concert performances are planned this semester, with dates to be confirmed later. It now has 10 members.

Distinction
Fifteen members of the marching band are not in the concert band due to schedule conflicts, the draft and transferring to four-year colleges, Moats said.

Moats organized the concert band in his first year at FCC two years ago.

He was graduated with a bachelor of arts degree from Fairmont State College in West Virginia. He received his master of arts degree from the University of West Virginia.

Apr. 22 is the date for the International Club dance, which will be held in the Social Hall.

The dress for the affair will be casual.

The club is planning a sight-seeing trip either to San Francisco or Los Angeles for the Easter vacation.

"Most students are not able to travel much," said Jeff Lewis, club vice president. "This trip will give them a chance to see a little of California."

They are discussing the possibility of spending a day at other junior colleges.

The International Club at Cabrillo Junior College and College of the Sequoias have extended invitations to the FCC International club.

Phi Beta Lambda
Phi Beta Lambda, the business club, will hold a "Slave Day" on Mar. 2.

From Mar. 25 to 27 Phi Beta Lambda members will be in Los Angeles for a state convention at the International Airport.

The club will also hold a High School Visitation Day in April. High school seniors will be invited to FCC and be introduced to the campus by Phi Beta Lambda members.

At present, PBL members are selling Polly Wogs candy for 50 cents a box, said Carol Andrews, club president.

Ski Club
The Ski Club met Tuesday in Conference Room B of the Cafeteria. Patches were awarded and plans for future snow trips were discussed.

AMS
The Associated Men Students will meet tomorrow at noon in the Student Lounge to elect spring semester officers. All men students are welcome to attend, said Ron Winter, president-elect.

Summer Jobs To Be Offered

The U.S. Postal Department is holding examinations for summer employment on Mar. 11 and 12. Closing date for applications is Feb. 24, and these are available at the main post office in Room 20.

One-hour written tests will be held on a nationwide competitive basis. The positions of seasonal assistants will be filled in a limited number of post offices throughout the United States at a pay scale of $2.37 an hour.

Those who pass the exam will be furnished a list of post offices in their home state and will be allowed to apply to no more than three.

Some of the assignments offered involve the operation of motor vehicles, and a license is required for these positions.

Temporary workers have been hired by local postmasters in the past, but the post office department was criticized for this policy after it was learned that some of those hired were children of congressmen.

Golf, Track Workouts Set To Begin

Golf and track will soon be added to the growing list of active spring sports.

Hans Wiedenhoefer, Fresno City College athletic director, said that students interested in trying out for golf or track teams should report to the gymnasium for sign-ups.

Wiedenhoefer said there are only three men who have signed up for golf and that two more are needed.

"We need two more golfers so we can form a team to compete in the league," he stated. "Anyone who is interested or who has played in high school and would like to join is urged to sign up in the gym at any time."

No Returning Lettermen

Last year's team, coached by Wiedenhoefer, won the Valley Conference championship for FCC but none of the players will be returning this season due to graduation.

However Wiedenhoefer still could express optimism for the coming season.

"We have three real good men, Rick Richard, Tom Shropshire and John Winsted, out for golf," he said. "Richard is rated as one of the top prep golfers in the state."

Good Track Prospect

Track Coach Erwin Ginsburg said a good season should be in store for the track team this season.

Anyone who is interested in trying out for track should report to Ratcliffe Stadium any time between 2-6 PM.

A host of lettermen will be returning to the squad this year. In addition the team will have some outstanding freshmen who were stars in high school.

Among the outstanding freshmen products will be Sam Davis, Erwin Hunt, Rowell Perez, Martin Growden, and Havis Nelson.

"We will have a real strong track team this season," said Ginsburg. "In the past our strong point was usually focused on the field events."

FRESNO CITY COLLEGE wrestler, Roger McClaughry, top, prepares for action from Bob Davidson of Sacramento City College. McClaughry pinned his opponent in the third round.

Matmen Eye Title; Two Matches Left

By TED HILLIARD

Tuesday's 36-7 win against San Joaquin Delta Junior College gave Ram grapplers a 7-1 conference record, placing them in the lead for league championship.

Only two more league matches remain for Ram wrestlers this season.

Tomorrow at 4 PM the Ram matsters will invade College of the Sequoias at their Visalia gymnasium. The final league match of the season will take place in the home gym when FCC hosts Modesto Junior College at 4 PM Wednesday.

FCC must win both upcoming matches to take the championship.

Coach Hans Wiedenhoefer is hopeful for victory in the COS action.

On Feb. 9 the Rams lost to them by a close 23-20. Wiedenhoefer believes the outcome of tomorrow's match could hinge on the performance of the 130 and 137 pound weight divisions, both of which were draws in the last COS match.

Wiedenhoefer expects rough competition from Modesto Wednesday.

"Modesto picked up several new wrestlers at mid-semester," he said, "and they should be tougher than before."

Coach Wiedenhoefer is depending particularly on the performance of Frank Kerby in the 177 division.

FCC Nine To Face Top Teams In State

Fresno City College's baseball team will be pitted against some of the top teams in the state today when it competes in the San Mateo Baseball Tournament, scheduled to begin at 9 AM.

The Rams will open their first game of a round robin series against the College of San Mateo at noon.

"This invitational tournament will offer some valuable early season experience," said Coach Len Bourdet. "There will be several top teams competing."

Coach Bourdet will send his ace pitcher, Burt Bandy, to the mound in the first game against San Mateo. Bandy wrapped up the 1965 season with a 9-2 record and a 1.61 earned run average.

Following the San Mateo game, the Rams will play Santa Rosa Junior College and then meet Allen Hancock Junior College.

Sherman Lee will be the starting pitcher for the Rams' second game against Santa Rosa.

A starting pitcher for the Allen Hancock-FCC game is still undecided.

Ram Cagers Pin Defeat On ARJC

By HOWARD SAIKI

The Rams' basketball team took revenge last Friday when they defeated the Beavers of American River Junior College 96 to 86 in the ARJC gymnasium.

The victory was a reverse of the first game for Coach John Toomasian's Ram quintet. He first of all got the win over the Beavers and secondly got a balanced scoring attack from his team as six players hit the scoring column in double figures.

Leading the attack was guard Ken Delpit with 18 points. He was followed closely by Donny Slade with 17, Paul White's 15, Lloyd Sanders' and Hart Polk's 14's, and Bobby Lee's 10.

The first two minutes of play saw the Rams and Beavers sinking nine consecutive baskets as ARJC led 10 to 8, but then the Rams caught on fire and went on a scoring spree and at halftime found themselves leading 51 to 35.

But Coach Bud Garners' Beavers were not going to give up that easily as they came fighting back to within three points with three minutes to play, narrowing the score to 83-80.

However they could not catch the Rams who hit 42 out of 88 shots for a 48 percentage and the victory.

Pacing the Beavers in a losing cause was Gary Stevenson with 21 points. He received help from Mike Ames, Issac Fontaine and Fred Mason. The trio hit for 20, 15 and 14 points respectively.

Leading the Rams to their eighth consecutive Valley Conference win over the Panthers of Sacramento City College was Sanders, who tallied 20 points. He received scoring support from Lee, Delpit and Slade. The Rams raced to their 75 to 57 victory over the Panthers in the Panther courts.

Leading at halftime, 33 to 26, the Rams employed a three-quarter court press defense to stop the Panthers, at the same time getting a balanced scoring from Sanders, Lee, Delpit and Slade.

Sanders finished the game with 20 points to be the game's leading scorer. He was followed by Lee with 14 and Lee was followed closely by Delpit and Slade who netted 13 and 11 points, respectively.

Larry Sweltzer was the big Panther with 19 points.
