FCC Will Assist Youth Job Corps

By GARY JEPSON

Fresno City College will be host to 50 members of the Neighborhood Youth Corps on Mar. 16.

Ranging in ages from 16 to 21, the young people of this job corps are currently employed in government-subsidized jobs, working in parks, museums and other similar places.

"None of these people have had any vocational training and many are high school drop outs," said Merle Martin, dean of students.

Opportunities At FCC

Martin said that during their visit to FCC the people of this corps will be informed of the opportunities in vocational training at FCC.

"The job corps only lasts for six months per person. During these six months these people are exposed to many different situations and speakers in an attempt to motivate them to improve their skills or return to school for vocational training," Martin said.

A general meeting will be held at 9 AM on the day the corps visits. Speakers will be FCC student personnel staff members, John Ryska, counselor; Alvan Perkins, counselor; Merle Martin, dean of students; Curtis Lackey, dean of technical and industrial division and Gervase Eckenrod, associate dean of the business division.

First Perkins will give a short talk on the purposes and aims of the junior college, and then there will be slides shown called the State Center Junior College Story, said Martin.

After that there will be a question and answer period.

Records Reveal Foreign Student Enrollment Drop

This semester 37 foreign students are enrolled at FCC under the State Department's student visa program.

George Holstein, dean of admissions and records, stated that foreign students interested in enrolling must fill all regular enrollment requirements and pass an English examination. Foreign students are charged $5 per unit.

FCC provides no special program for financing foreign students. Holstein said that financing is usually handled by the student's family or a local organization in the home country.

He said that foreign students this semester seem to major mainly in drafting and engineering.

Fifteen different countries are represented by a combination of 29 men and eight women students.

The countries represented are Iran with 10 students, Japan seven, Greece four, Hong Kong, three, Canada and Mexico, two each, Ecuador, Ghana, Kuwait, Venezuela, Trinidad, China, Iraq, Pakistan, and Portugal, one each.

Tomorrow Is Last Day For Dropping Classes

Tomorrow will be the last day to drop classes without penalty.

Any student who drops a course after Mar. 11 will receive a W (withdrawal) for that course if he is doing A, B or C work.

If the student is doing D or F work at the time the course is dropped, he will receive a grade of WF (withdrawal-failure).

The procedure is the same as withdrawing from school, but the student has to fill out a withdrawal form and return it to Administration 118 within three school days.

'Politics Of Dissent'

Frodsham Believes Protests Are Useful - When 'Peaceful'

By DENNIS MCCARTHY

Fresno City College history instructor Noel D. Frodsham believes that "peaceful" protests can serve helpful and useful purposes. But only as long as they are "peaceful."

At an open public discussion on "Politics of Dissent" last Monday night, Frodsham pointed to the Period of Dissent in English history for examples of how "the dissenters in the three decades after the Napoleonic Wars carried England far along the road from aristocracy to democracy."

Frodsham was part of a three-member panel, which also included Richard Yanowitz, from the Fresno State College English Department, and Frank Verges, from the FSC Philosophy Department.

As Frodsham sees it, the more well to do businessmen, lawyers and doctors have an advantage over others because they can "funnel their protests through respectful organizations, like the Chamber of Commerce, the American Medical Association and the American Bar Association.

"But students and minority groups have no effective organizations nor can they support lobbying," he added.

Yanowitz, a representative of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, said he believed the only way to integrate Fresno schools is "to force integration."

He also said he admired persons who burned their draft cards because "they feel strongly enough to take a stand on what they believe in.

"They are protesting a law," he said, "which they feel is immoral, forcing you to conform to the moral structure of the country."

Verges said he felt that the "power structure" of this country, by seeing the effects of protest and dissent, could take more progressive action.

Business Club To Hold Dance Tomorrow Night

Phi Beta Lambda, Fresno City College's honorary business club, will hold a dance tomorrow night in the Social Hall from 9 PM to midnight.

The attire for the dance is informal. FCC students will be admitted free with their student body cards.

Entertainment will be provided by the Teensmen, a six member campus rock and roll band. Members of the band include Ed Reid, Ron Fuller, Gordon Story, Jim Chappel, Odie Wallace and Cliff Chandler.

Dance chairman is Michael McGinnis.

Janice Mann, the band chairman, invites all FCC students to "take advantage of this great opportunity."

"This is the dance that students have been asking for," she added.

Veterans To Benefit From New GI Bill

By JOSEPH KOBE

President Johnson signed a Cold War GI bill last Thursday providing permanent education and loan benefits for honorably discharged veterans with more than 180 days of active service since Jan. 31, 1955.

The bill will offer one month's education payments for each month of active military service but has a 36-month limit. There will be $100-a-month education payments for a single veteran, $125 a month if he has a wife and $150 monthly with two or more dependents.

Unlike the Korean War GI bill, tuition will not be paid. Students attending school part-time will receive scaled down payments.

"The Korean War GI bill affected 27 per cent of the students at FCC at its peak," Joe Kelly, FCC educational adviser, explained, "but I feel the new bill will cover less than 20 per cent of the student body, although how much I'm unable to estimate."

The total enrollment next fall is expected to exceed 8,000 students, and because Kelly figures this

Play Tryouts Start Wednesday

Tryouts for Arms and the Man, the drama department's spring production, will be held Wednesday and Thursday at 4 PM in the FCC Auditorium.

The play is a comedy written by George Bernard Shaw, an English playwright.

"He was an outstanding satirical writer," Frederick Johnson, play director, said. "In Arms and the Man he pokes fun at the Victorian idea of glorious war, handsome uniforms and dashing soldiers."

It is set in the Balkans at the turn of the century. The cast in-

FCC Apathy Disappears As Students Turn Out

If Fresno City College students are apathetic, you certainly would not have known it by their actions last Friday in the Social Hall.

A crowd of more than 300 students gathered in the hall for a special noon dance, sponsored by the Associated Men Students for the benefit of the United Cerebral Palsy of Fresno.

The objective of the dance was to raise money for the UCP drive. The AMS said that all contributions would be turned over to the drive in the name of the entire FCC student body.

Students did not have to pay to attend the dance. They did not even have to donate money for the UCP cause. But donate they did, more than $120.

The AMS must be complimented for their unselfish and worthwhile project to aid the UCP cause.

But just as important—if not more important—were the contributions made by the students themselves, contributions which could have only been measured in dollars and cents. It was their generous donations which fulfilled the main objective of the dance and which made it the big success that it was.

If "Happiness Is Helping," as this year's UCP drive theme suggests, then FCC students should be proud of the contributions they made to those less fortunate than themselves.

Publication Date Nears

Potpourri, the campus literary magazine, is now collecting material for its spring publication.

Joe Armas, the editor, urges any FCC student interested in writing to submit his work.

He also invites students to submit their best works in painting, drawing or sculpture. Armas noted that awards will be presented for the best works in all fields.

Students may submit their work to Robert Shaver, Administration 203, or Dean Draper, Administration 226; to Armas or to any member of the Potpourri staff.

Deadline for submitting material has been tentatively set for the first week of April.

Memo From The President Porter Notes More Interest

Last week I expressed my concern over the apathy of our student body and the lack of interest shown in student affairs. But possibly this is not a completely valid evaluation of City College students.

I say this because I have seen an increased interest in the past few weeks, especially in student government.

I received 28 applications for the eight commissioner posts provided for in the constitution.

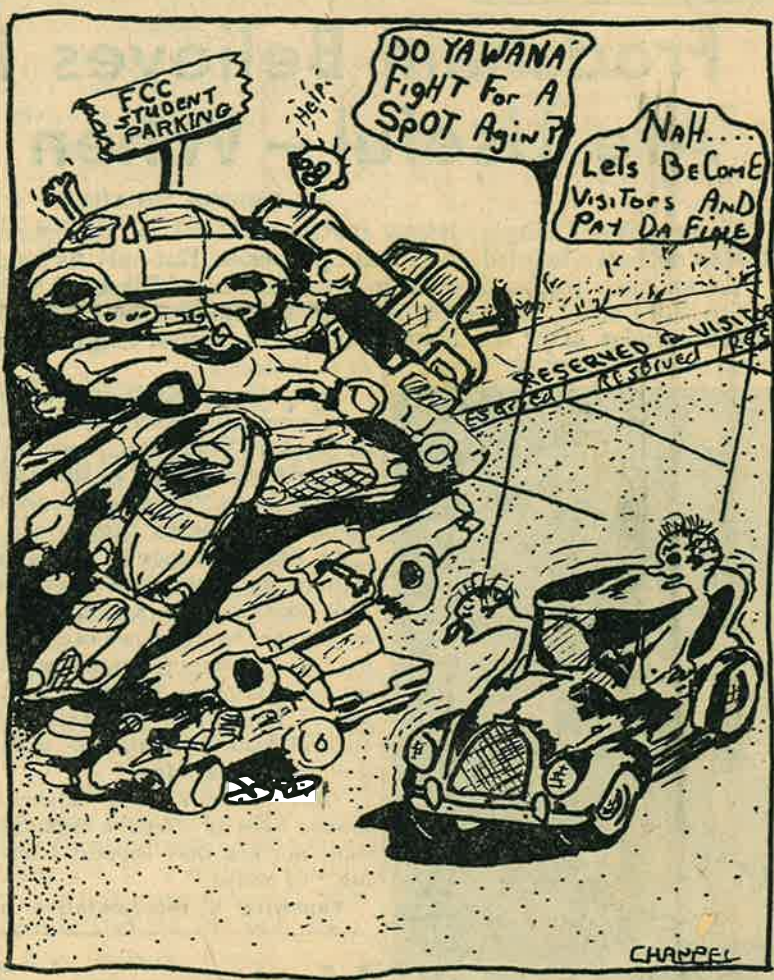

Also, we had 25 students attending the area conference in Porterville this past weekend.

Finally, the council chambers have been filled with interested students these past few weeks.

These factors indicate an increased interest in student affairs, but they also indicate an increased need for the opportunity to participate.

Such an opportunity will be provided if a proposed constitutional amendment now before the student council is ratified. This amendment calls for increasing the number of representatives from 12 to 16. While in itself, this change will not increase interest in student affairs, it will provide the opportunity for greater participation.

John Porter, ASB President

Pastel Colors, Above Knee Hemlines For This Summer

Spring fashions are continuing with the skirts above the knee.

Mrs. Donna Mehas, commentator for the spring fashion show last Thursday in the FCC Auditorium, said the "in" look for the upcoming summer months is casual with accents on mixed pastels.

Sponsors for the fashion show were Phi Beta Lambda, the Marketing Club, the business division, the music department, the drama department and Fresno department stores.

Modeling for the fashion show were Kathleen Shintaku, Darryll Kahn, Carolyn Kuehn, Katherine Yager, Bruce Craighead, La Creta Poyer, Laura Phillips, John Porter, Betty Jo Swartz, Bart Turner, Marion Osborn, Jim Shipman, Carol Andrews, Linda Wood, Michael McGinnis, Nancy Brunner and Lupe Santiago.

During the intermission Anne Bryant sang a Bye Bye Birdie medley and Ray Smith sang Since I Fell for You.

Students Air Opinions On FCC Campus Police's Job

FCC students were asked if they thought the campus police were doing a proper job in controlling parking and other duties.

In general, most students felt that the police were handling the parking problem rather well but that the flow of traffic in the parking lot could be better.

Gerald Martinez, political science: "I am a part-time student, but the little that I have seen of the campus police is good.

"They take care of the things that seem to irritate us, such as spinning wheels and dragging."

Carol Taylor, social science, "The campus police give plenty of tickets to people who park in the lots without stickers but do nothing to those who block the flow of traffic. These are the ones who should get the tickets.

"It's hard trying to get out of the parking spaces with other cars blocking the way.

"One time I even saw a policeman stop and talk with one of these traffic blockers."

Rudy Wagner, secondary education: "I think that they are doing a very good job. I can see an improvement since they have been patrolling.

"For one thing they keep a lot of high school students from using our parking lot."

Mike Raypholtz, carpentry: "They do a good job in controlling parking, but they don't keep the traffic moving very well.

"I don't think there are enough police patrolling the parking lot.

"They are really needed after the lunch hour, when most students are looking for a parking space."

Evelyn Gregurich, business: "I think they do their job very well, but I wish that they would check the parking stickers more closely.

"I have seen some Fresno State College cars without FCC stickers parked in the lot. I think the campus police ought to do something about them."

Rickie Centrella, social welfare: "They seem to be doing well with the parking violations, but I think they should give warning to the students who keep blocking traffic."

Winners will receive a 10-day all-expense-paid vacation in the South Seas. Regional winners will receive blazers and local winners trophies.

FCC Licks Its Furniture Problem

What do you do with those little sticky things you often get when you buy gas?

FCC saves theirs.

Paul Starr, dean of special services, said FCC uses its trading stamps to buy furniture. He said the furniture in the Student Lounge and some in the president's office were bought with redemption stamps.

Furniture Purchases

Starr said Supt. Stuart M. White, former president of FCC, initiated this use of the stamps. He bought the furnishings for the president's office and the Student Lounge with them.

Purchases with the trading stamps were originally the responsibility of the president. "Now," Starr said, "I do the buying on the recommendation of Dr. Bradshaw." Dr. Archie Bradshaw is president of FCC.

An article stating that "Kissing Can Make Teeth Holy Mess" proved interesting reading in the Falcon Times.

Reactions to this subject received good comments. One of these was, "I always brush between dates and before and after every kiss I rinse with a cup of fluoridated water."

Another comment was, "Kissing is sweet, but I haven't had a cavity in years. The sports feature editor said the whole affair is 'preposterous'."

The Times suggested, "before kissing anyone be sure to get name, toothpaste and dentist."

Explanation Of Census Week

Richard L. Cleland, the dean of men, said the purpose of Attendance Census week was not necessarily to check on students but to aid the state department of education in determining the amount of state aid FCC will receive.

Absences because of illness are excused and are added to the attendance total. So, the higher the attendance, the more money FCC will receive.

Freshman Is Honored

Michael Dronyk, an FCC freshman, has received an award from the Fresno County Chapter of the Red Cross for saving the life of a 2½ year old boy.

The small boy, Gary Lehman, was playing near the Herndon Canal close to the Dronyk's home, which is located on 1031 West Swift Ave. The boy slipped and fell in the water while his companions ran for help.

The FCC freshman heard their screams and ran down to the canal. He found the boy lying face up in the water five feet from the bank.

Dronyk jumped into the water, pulled the child out and proceeded to give him mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Afraid that the boy's lungs were filled with water, he started to turn him over on his stomach when he heard the muffled sound of a cough.

By this time the fire department had arrived with an oxygen tank, but it was decided that the boy should be taken to the hospital for observation.

The bill also provides for home loans, job counseling and placement assistance, eligibility for hospital care on the same basis as veterans of wartime service and extension of veterans preference for civil service jobs.

Debaters To Enter JC Finals

Fresno City College's debate teams will travel to Buena Vista to participate in the junior college state finals Apr. 13-17.

Debate team members are John Porter, Tim Mancini, John Black and Dolores Dade.

Miss Dade, FCC sophomore speech major, received the third place trophy for interpretation at the Raisin Center Invitational tournament meet. It was held Feb. 25 at Fresno State College.

The contest took the lecture recital form with the readers integrating prose and or poetry selections from at least two authors on a central theme.

Brenda English, a student from California State College at Los Angeles, placed first in the contest. Pat Pruitt, a student at Fresno State College, was second.

Competition

"The tournament was for four year college students, and our students were competing against juniors and seniors," said Franz Weinschenk, FCC debate coach.

Fresno City College's two debate teams were entered in the tournament.

Porter and Mancini comprised one team. Miss Dade and John Black were the other team.

Topic

The debate was on the inter-collegiate debate topic of the year for 1965-66: Resolved: That law enforcement agencies be given greater freedom in the investigation and prosecution of crime.

Porter and Mancini defeated Cal Poly and Fresno State College and lost to the University of the Pacific, University of California and University of San Francisco.

Miss Dade and Black conquered California State Polytechnic College, Linfield College and Fresno State College. They lost to Sacramento State College and the University of San Francisco.

FCC had a 5-5 won-loss record in the tournament.

Pacific College also had representatives in the debate tournament.

"Our students did quite well," Weinschenk said.

Counselors Visit Local High Schools

Fresno City College counselors have been visiting local high schools to acquaint high school seniors and their counselors with FCC.

Merle Martin, dean of students, said two counselors visit each school to discuss the registration procedures, transfer requirements and general information concerning FCC. They then have a question and answer period.

The counseling staff includes Dr. Lucile Allen, Mrs. Dorothy D. Bliss, Norval R. Caywood, Loren F. Gaither, Alvan E. Perkins, Eric H. Rasmussen and John W. Ryska.

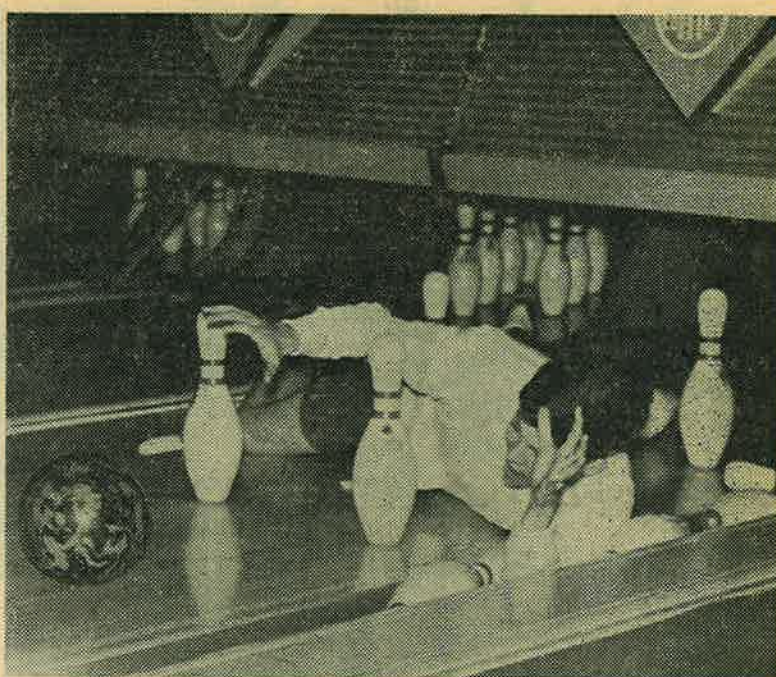

The high schools being visited between Jan. 20 and Mar. 15 are Fowler, Bullard, Edison, Fresno, Hoover, McLane, Roosevelt, Clovis, Washington Union, Central, Madera, Kerman and Chowchilla.

The installation tea was held in cafeteria Committee Rooms A and B from 3-5 PM.

"It is my aim to provide more opportunities for women to get together socially as well as for the benefit of the school," Miss Martin said.

Also listed on the AWS social calendar is the Spring Formal on May 13 in the Memorial Auditorium.

Harry James and his orchestra will provide the music.

The dance will be presented jointly by the AWS and the Associated Men Students.

VC Action Starts; Rams Face Delta

By LOUIS BELL

Coach Gene Stephens' natators will be looking for an important win tomorrow when they open Valley Conference swimming competition against San Joaquin Delta College of Stockton.

The dual meet will be held in the University of the Pacific pool with the first event scheduled to begin at 3:30 PM.

"This is going to be a rough, and an important meet," Stephens said. "Delta has a well-balanced team with several individual standouts. If we are to win, we will have to capitalize on the freestyle events, in which most of our team's power lies."

The starting lineup for the Rams will have Mike Garrison competing in the freestyle; Tom Gross, utility; Terry Heller, 50 and 100 freestyle; Jay Huneke, breaststroke; Blair Looney, middle distance; Bob McAlister, diver; Gary Martin, individual medley and butterfly; John Montgomery, 50 freestyle, Chris Murray, butterfly; Jim Riley, backstroke; Charles Taylor, freestyle; and Ken Yegan, middle distance.

Last Saturday's dual meet against San Jose City College saw the Rams overpowered 60-31 in the FCC pool.

Heller proved to be the Rams' individual standout, winning his specialties, the 50 yard freestyle and the 100 freestyle with 22.5 and 51.1 clockings.

His timing in the 50 freestyle set a new school record and equaled the pool record.

Yegan provided the other win in the swimming competition when he took the 200 freestyle in 1:59.6.

McAlister won the diving division when San Jose forfeited because of lack of entries.

Netmen Eye League Play

Fresno City College netmen will begin Valley Conference tennis competition this weekend when they host Modesto Junior College tomorrow and San Joaquin Delta College Saturday.

The starting time for the Modesto game is set for 2:30 PM with the Delta match beginning at 9:30 AM.

"I think we should do very well in these matches," said Coach Dan Ozier. "Modesto has a strong team and is a major contender for the league championship. However I think we will beat them."

The starting lineup for the Rams will find Gary Hippensteil leading off the first men's singles; John Grey, second men's singles; Rick Firoi, third men's singles; Doug Banta, fourth men's singles, and Frank Waterhouse, fifth men's singles.

Rams Will Play Delta Saturday

Coach Len Bourdet's Fresno City College baseball team will be looking for its first victories of the 1966 Valley Conference season this Saturday when it meets San Joaquin Delta Junior College in a doubleheader at John M. Eules Park.

The Rams opened defense of their 1965 VC title last Saturday, dropping two games to American River Junior College, 3-2 and 4-3, on the Beavers' home diamond. American River is expected to be a prime contender for the league crown along with the Rams.

Top Moundsmen

Bourdet will send his two pitching aces, Bert Bandy and Sherman Lee, to the mound Saturday against the Mustangs. Both pitchers were decisioned last Saturday in FCC's double loss to American River.

The Rams will be playing a freshman dominated team Saturday when they meet Delta. Bourdet said hitting is one of the strong points of this year's Mustang team.

Saturday's game will be the second meeting of the Rams and the Mustangs this season. Earlier this season, FCC pinned a 5-2 loss on Delta in the College of the Sequoias Tournament.

Compares Teams

In comparing Delta with American River, Bourdet said the Mustangs can "swing the bat as well" as the Beavers, but added that they are not as strong defensively, especially in the pitching department.

As for the Rams' two losses to American River last Saturday, Bourdet said he was "disappointed with losing the games," but not with the team's showing.

"American River battled all the way," Bourdet commented, "but they got ever conceivable break."

Matmen To Host State Tournament

By TED HILLIARD

Statewide grapplers will vie for top honors tomorrow and Saturday as the Ram mat team hosts the State Junior College Wrestling Championship in the FCC gymnasium.

El Camino College, which has taken the state championship for two consecutive years, is favored for a repeat performance in Saturday's action.

Major Contenders

However, several other junior college teams will be making a strong bid for the state title among whom will be Foothill College, Chabot College, Cerritos College, Bakersfield College, College of the Sequoias and FCC.

Although FCC captured the Valley Conference championship and placed second in the regional tournament, Coach Hans Weidenhoefer is wary of the opposition whom Ram grapplers will face in the state action.

Needs Champions

"A team of 11 good wrestlers can win a dual meet," Weidenhoefer said, "but it takes more than good wrestlers to win a tournament like this. It takes four or five champions."

Weidenhoefer is depending strongly on the performance of Fred Contreras in the 115 pound class.

"Contreras has improved steadily this year," Weidenhoefer brought out, "He should be a contender for the state championship."

Outstanding Wrestler

Contreras was voted the outstanding wrestler of the regional tournament last Saturday at Modesto City College. He took third last year in the 123 pound class.

Three other wrestlers who should do well in the state tourney are Carols Gayton, Al Katuin and Frank Kerby—champions in their weight divisions in the regional tournament.

The Rams qualified eight wrestlers for this weekend's state tourney.

To qualify for the state tour-

name, a wrestler had to place among the top three finishers in the regional tourney.

The other grapplers who will be competing for FCC are George Peverill, Tom Opperman, Roger McClaughry and Paul Herschfeld.

Bakersfield College qualified 11 wrestlers in the tourney and outscored runner-up Fresno 91-78 to take team honors.

DOCTOR, LAWYER, OR A LOT OF GRIEF?

Grief is graduating with a B.A. degree and no idea of what to do with it. A lot of grief is graduating with a B.A. degree and the wrong idea of what to do with it. And wasting the most important years of your life discovering (the hard way) that you chose the wrong career.

Enrolling in our Campus Internship Program now could save you a lot of grief at graduation. How? By giving you the opportunity to become involved in—not just exposed to—life insurance sales as a career. You learn life insurance as a profession, from a professional. You put what you've learned into practice, and find that a life insurance sales career pays off in dollars as well as a sense of satisfaction. By graduation, you know what you're going to do with that B.A. degree.

We're old pros at saving graduates a lot of grief while they're undergraduates. And we can prove it.

Ram Thinclads Enter Conference Relays

Fresno City College trackmen will travel to Visalia this Saturday to compete in the Valley Conference relays. The first event is scheduled to begin at 1 PM at the College of the Sequoias.

All six Valley Conference teams will participate in the meet.

In last year's VC relays, the Rams broke seven meet records on their way to winning the team title with 73 points.

American River was the nearest contender garnering 57 points for second place.

Fresno will be out for a repeat performance this year with a team described by Coach Bob Fries as stronger than that of last year.

"The team has made a lot of progress," he said. "We have had a full week of work and I think we are ready."

Fries feels confident that the Rams will do well in the triple jump; the long jump, the discus, the 440 yard relay and the 880 yard relay.

Last year's 440 and 880 yard relay teams placed second in the national junior college rankings.

Three members of the 440 yard relay team will again be competing for the Rams. They are Ezunial Burts, Alvin Mann and Delbur Thompson.

Some of the Ram team members and the events they will be competing in are Sam Davis, long jump; Scott Glaspey, discus; Richard Goodson, shotput; Ervin Hunt, triple jump; Havis Nelson, discus; Delbur Thompson, triple jump and Walter Trigg, shotput.
