

FCC-Reedley Band Concert Tonight

By SANDY DRALLE

The Fresno City College and Reedley College symphonic bands will hold joint concerts tonight and tomorrow night.

Tonight's concert will be held at 8 PM in the Reedley College Cafeteria. The other program will be given tomorrow night at 8 PM in the FCC gymnasium.

The Reedley band will begin the program. It will play Prayer and Dream Pantomime by Humperdick, Choral and Capriccio by Giovaninni and Inglesina March by Delle Cese.

FCC's band will play the third movement of the William Byrd Suite by Jacob, Prelude and Fugue in G Minor by Bach, one movement from Concerto Grosso for jazz combo and symphony.

The combined bands will play Fantasy on American Sailing Songs by Grundman and Liberty Bell March by Souza.

"The bands are the best in the history of the two schools," Vincent Moats, FCC band conductor, said. "Reedley's band has 55 members, and the FCC band has 70."

FCC's studio (dance) band will compete in a festival Saturday at Sacramento City College. The group will be competing with 20 bands from throughout California.

The event will feature a band clinic conducted by Stan Kenton, famous band leader. FCC students will also compete for music scholarships.

Find Your Date—By Electric Brain

By ELBERTA HURST

The Fresno area is being invaded by a system called Computer Dating.

"Computing machines not only process Fresno area students' grades, but they now provide them with suitable dates," said Ron Sherman, manager-owner of a recently opened computer romance firm in Fresno.

Sherman said that he has already received 500 applications to be sent through his machines.

Questionnaires Required

He said that approximately 100 of the applicants are from FCC, and 100 are Fresno State College students.

Interested persons fill out questionnaires stating their age, weight, height, religion, and other facts concerning themselves and their ideal date.

The applicant then sends his questionnaire to the specified computing firm, where staff members key punch the data from each questionnaire to IBM cards. The cards are then fed into the computer, which matches the applicant with the best possible dates from his social and age group.

Guaranteed Match

"All participants are guaranteed to be matched or their money will be refunded in full following a personal interview by one of our staff," Sherman said. If the student requests, he added, "we will

'Paradise Under The Sea'

Joint Committee Sets Plans For Spring Formal

Don't be too surprised if you see a few mermaids or mermen at the FCC spring formal on May 13.

With "Paradise Under the Sea" as the theme and a joint decoration committee, anything is possible. The committee is composed of members from the Associated Men Students and Associated Women Students.

Hard At Work

Laura Phillips and Mike Lawless, co-chairmen of the decoration committee, report that their committee is hard at work. Miss Phillips and Lawless are also chairmen of social affairs in their respective organizations.

Lawless said that Jim Adair was sent to scout the Memorial Auditorium, where the dance is to be held, to facilitate more intelligent decoration planning.

and things are going smoothly. We plan to start purchasing materials tomorrow," he said.

Costly Decorations

AMS President Ron Winter estimated the two clubs will spend about $750 for decorations.

All decorations will have to be put up the day of the dance so "everything is going to be as prefabricated as possible," said Miss Phillips.

She said both clubs will help make the decorations, but it will be up to the combined decoration committee to do the actual setting up of decorations.

The decoration committee is also in charge of refreshments.

Committee Named

In addition to the co-chairmen, the committee members are Lydia Barcellos, Linda Hashimoto, Pattie Weaver, Colette Silva, Karen gines, Vicki Ratalo, Janice Mann, Diana Partain, Susan Maxely, Janet Crater, Irene Rodriguez, Joan Cardwell, Shirlee Costa, Judy Jones, Pat Lane, Carlene Meekins, John Brown, Gary Brinkley, Doug Wynne, Ed Reid, Jim Daly, Jim Blocker, Russ Russell, Mike McNally, LaVan Scott, Bruce McGowan and Mark Powers.

Peace Corps Placement Test May 3

Application forms (volunteer questionnaires) for students interested in taking the Peace Corps Placement Test are now available in the Counseling Center, Office J, Administration 118.

The test will be given May 3, at 1 PM, in Bungalow 4.

Alvan Perkins, Fresno City College counselor, encourages all interested students to sign up as soon as possible since only 20 tests will be available. He said the forms will be issued on a first-come, first-serve basis. Each student will be required to fill out a form before taking the test.

The test, which usually takes about an hour and a half to complete, is designed to help the Peace Corps match applicants' abilities with the various jobs to be filled.

Perkins said a number of jobs are usually available in agriculture, community development, road construction, teaching, physical education and medicine.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Perkins in

FCC President Heads Confab

By TYREE VERNER

Dr. Archie Bradshaw, president of Fresno City College, will preside over the business session of the North Central Region California Junior College Association when it holds its spring conference at Modesto Junior College Saturday, April 30, at 9 AM.

DR. ARCHIE BRADSHAW

FCC faculty members serving as chairmen in the section meetings will include Robert Kimura, physical science; Mrs. Mildred Bostader and Mrs. Martha Hoard, nursing.

Distribution Of Funds

"The principal objective of the conference is to discuss equal distribution of state funds to the junior college level," Dr. Bradshaw said.

The welcome address will be delivered by Dr. Walter Garcea, superintendent of the Yosemite Junior College District.

The Junior College and the Master Plan for Higher Education, will be the topic of Sid Broosman, director of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education. He is the keynote speaker.

Legislature And Research

Legislature as it affects junior colleges will be discussed by Dr. John Given, division of higher education, State Department of Education.

Dr. Tom Merson, director of research, California Junior College Association, will discuss Research on Junior College Needs.

Two station wagons will leave City College for Modesto at 7:30 AM Saturday.

Faculty members desiring transportation should sign up with Paul Starr, dean of special services.

Play Tickets Available

Tickets for "Arms and the Man," the spring production of the FCC Drama Department, will go on sale Monday, from 10 AM to 4 PM, in Administration 154. They are priced at $1.50, adults — 75 cents, students. Tickets will be available free to FCC students with student body cards.

College Forum Series Bring Rare Opportunities

The idea of a college-sponsored community forum series is not in itself unique. But the idea of such a series collectively sponsored by a chain of colleges is.

There is at least one collegiate organization today that makes a rare and attractive opportunity such as this possible for many California state and junior colleges. That organization is the College Association for Public Events and Services, commonly referred to as CAPES.

It is the responsibility of CAPES to block-book well known speakers and cultural events through the consent of its 57-member schools and with a guarantee from each of a certain prescribed amount of money. Under this system, small state and junior colleges which might otherwise find it impossible to afford such cultural programs, are given the opportunity to pool their financial resources to reserve booking engagements.

As a charter member of the CAPES organization, Fresno City College has the right to actively participate in the actual selection of speakers. After this selection has been made, each member school is entitled to determine which of the speakers it wants for campus appearances.

At least two speakers have already been selected for next year's Sunday Evening Series. They are Broadway playwright Gore Vidal and architect R. Buckminster Fuller. Two more are to be announced at a later date.

The success of next year's forum series will depend upon the response of the public. Let us hope FCC students, as well as residents of the surrounding area, find time to avail themselves of this excellent program.

Absence Inspires Return Of FCC Woman Student

By SPENCER KENDIG

Absence makes the heart grow fonder, and Mrs. Caroline Wesley Cooper, FCC student, is delighted to be returning to school after 57 years to increase her knowledge in both mental and physical activities.

"Education has been a comfort and aid to me all throughout my life," Mrs. Cooper said. "A little mental and physical activity keeps you from turning into a human vegetable when you get older."

Mrs. Cooper, 76 this month, is taking vocabulary building and intermediate Spanish this semester and hopes to take English 1A this summer.

She is active with the Fresno City College Bowling League, which introduced her to the sport. The Associated Men Students are the sponsor.

"I don't have time to visit with people and do homework too," she said. "My neighbors cannot understand why I keep so busy at my age."

Born in Spokane, Wash., Mrs. Cooper graduated from the Spokane High School in June, 1909.

Widowed for 12 years, she formerly cooked for many wealthy families in San Francisco.

"I hope to earn an associate in arts degree in history at FCC and go on to Fresno State before too long," she said. "It is stimulating to go back to school and meet young people who look forward to the future instead of back."

FCC Clubs Start Preparations For Little Reno Day

By MARY MORRIS

Roulette, dice, wheel of fortune—these all characterize the famed establishments of Reno, Nev. Fresno City College will include these and many other events in Little Reno Day.

Little Reno Day is one of two events the clubs of FCC are preparing for. The other is Club Day.

Little Reno Day is planned for May 20 from 10 AM to 2 PM in the quad between the Cafeteria and the Student Center Building. Final arrangements will be made at today's Inter Club Council meeting.

Booths And Dance

Jim Shipman, Little Reno Day chairman, said featured events will be booth activities and an evening dance, which still awaits ICC approval at noon today.

Each club is allowed two booths. Booths will include roulette, dice, wheel of fortune, water-dunk, baseball throw, dart throw, kissing, sno-cone sale, cake and cookie sale booths.

The ICC, which is coordinating the event will issue script money. Shipman said there will be no refund on unused script.

Profits To Be Shared

Club profits will be distributed according to the amount of script the booths take in.

On May 22, members of FCC clubs will travel to Kearney Park for Club Day. It will last from 1 PM until dark.

A picnic and sports activities are included on the agenda.

FCC Coed Wins Second In Pageant

FCC sophomore Carlene Meekins is the runner up in the San Joaquin Valley Miss Wool contest.

Miss Meekins, 20 years old and a graduate of Clovis High School, entered the contest because "she wanted to see a beauty pageant from the inside."

Competing with 10 other girls from the valley area, Miss Meekins said that she was "excited" by the judge's choice. This was the first time she had entered a beauty contest of any sort.

Should the pageant winner, Charlene Smith of Fresno State College, be unable to fulfill her duties as Miss Wool, Miss Meekins would take over.

Majoring in history and art, Miss Meekins hopes to work as a stewardess for a commercial airline.

Also entered from FCC was Donna Knowlton who was sponsored by the Associated Women Students. Miss Knowlton, who is 20 years old, is a secretarial major. She is an AWS member and secretary of Alpha Gamma Sigma, the FCC honor society.

Culture Notes

Bach's Piano Concerto Highlights Culture Activity

By NELLIE BONILLA

Fresno State College students will hold an ensemble piano recital in the recital hall of the college music building Sunday at 3:30 PM.

Dr. Bob Bennett and Georgia Nicklett are the directors of the program which will include works by Milhaud, Poulenc, Tailleferre, Smetana, Mozart, In-tante and Bach. The FSC String Orchestra will join the pianists for a performance of Bach's Concerto in A Minor for Four Pianos and String Orchestra.

Admission will be free, but those attending will be invited to contribute to the Miriam Fox Withrow Scholarship Endowment Fund established to provide financial aid to piano majors at the college.

Brigadoon Tomorrow

Pacific College will present the Lerner and Loewe musical, Brigadoon, tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 PM in the college's amphitheater at 1717 South Chestnut Ave.

The McLane High School Pipers will provide the bagpipe music, and the Roosevelt High School Orchestra will play the musical accompaniment for the magical Scottish musical.

Tickets are on sale at the Hockett-Cowan Music Company box office.

FSC Art Show

FSC seniors Kay Evans, Ann Marie Harian, Bill Poole and Gretchen Proctor will exhibit their paintings at the FSC art gallery.

The gallery, located in the art-home economic building, is open from 8 AM to 5 PM daily. The exhibit will continue through May 4.

Margaret Webster, a leading contemporary figure in American theater, will present the Seven Ages of Bernard Shaw at the Roosevelt High School auditorium on May 6 at 8 PM.

The manager trainee program covers a four year period.

"First," said Netzley, "we start out in the stockroom, then we are promoted, depending on an oral examination, into the merchandising department, where we learn how to take care of damaged goods and how to make claims."

In other parts of the program the trainee will be given the responsibility of various departments such as keeping the counters well stocked and ordering store supplies like adding machine tape and typing and carbon paper.

Netzley is in his second year of the training program.

Department Testing

"We are given four tests throughout the program by the manager of the particular department we happen to be working in. They are very intricate and there is no fooling around," said Netzley.

By the end of the program Netzley will have had full responsibility of the manager at one time or another.

Scholarships And Summer Trips Available Through Counselor

Looking for a scholarship to a Pennsylvania school? A European summer tour for students? A square dance workshop?

Information regarding these and other college-connected activities is available in Administration 118B from Eric Rasmussen, FCC counselor in charge of the guidance material.

"Students should avail themselves of the guidance material that we have on file in the Counseling Center," Rasmussen said.

Urges Reading The Bulletin

He urges students to read the Monday bulletin which lists recently acquired information about scholarships to other schools, extracurricular activities and special summer sessions.

Besides this special information the counseling center has vocational information files and brochures on specific professions. Rasmussen said that students are welcome to come in any time to read the material.

The counseling center has recently received material on the following:

Transatlantic Student Sailing

1966 of the Council on Student Travel; students travel in organized groups and in some cases receive financial aid to enable them to make the trip.

Third National Achievement Scholarship Program; it provides financial aid for outstanding Negro students.

Square and Round Dance Workshop at Colorado State.

Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency; it provides scholarships for upper division students to attend a Pennsylvania college.

Students To Inspect Institution

The California State Youth Authority will sponsor a Career Day program for FCC police science students tomorrow. Earl Pugsley, instructor in police science at FCC, will attend with the 40 police science students.

The students will leave at 7 AM tomorrow for Deuel Vocational Institution in Tracy, where the program will take place.

The program begins at 9 AM and lasts until 3:30 PM. The keynote speaker will be Michael N. Canlis, sheriff of San Joaquin County. Many other speakers will participate in the program from different parts of California.

The workshops will cover such topics as youth authority, corrections, law enforcement and probation. There will also be a tour of the institution.

Pugsley believes that this program "will give the students an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the institution and partake in these important areas."

GI Forms Available

Application forms are available for veterans desiring eligibility for education and training under the provisions of the new GI Bill.

Glenn Corbitt, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in San Francisco, said that veterans and other interested parties may obtain these forms by applying in person or by letter.

The address is the Contact Division, Veterans Administration Regional Office, 49 Fourth St., San Francisco, 94103, or telephone, (Area Code 415) 556-3025.

The bill will offer one month's education payments for each month of service with a 36-month limit. There will be a $100 a month education payments for a single veteran, $125 a month if he has a wife and $150 a month with two or more dependents.

Educational benefits begin June 1, and veterans must complete their training within eight years after discharge. "The approaching summer school session will begin the flood of veterans coming back to school," Corbitt said.

The bill also provides for home loans, job counseling and placement assistance, eligibility for hospital care on the same basis as veterans of wartime service and extension of veterans preference for civil service jobs.

FCC Dean To Advise Educators

Curtis E. Lackey, dean of the FCC Technical and Industrial Division, has been appointed to the educational advisory committee for the California State Department of Education.

Richard S. Nelson, chief of the state bureau of industrial education, confirmed the appointment.

Lackey said the group's purpose is to exchange ideas on industrial education.

Reporter Discusses Chinese Innovations

When the amount of time is taken into consideration, the Chinese have made admirable strides in their advance.

There is not at the present time what may be termed as a scientific revolution, but there is what may be considered "an enormous sense of scientific innovation."

These are the opinions of Lisa Hobbs, San Francisco Examiner staff writer, who visited Red China last year. She spoke to an audience of nearly 250 students in the FCC Auditorium last Monday.

"The great danger for the Chinese is their obvious isolation from the Western world," Miss Hobbs said. "The problem is not one of technology, for they know they are behind the West. The main thing they cannot understand is the social progress that we have made in the past century."

Attitudes

Miss Hobbs said that the Chinese base their views of the West from the attitudes and conditions that existed at the turn of the century. They feel that the West has no "social conscience."

"They (the Chinese) were always quite surprised to find that I had a degree in Sociology and that the West does in fact have a social conscience."

Miss Hobbs said that generally the conditions in the six cities that she visited were not as terrible as we expect them to be.

"It is true that many of the houses are mere hovels, but I did not see one case of malnutrition while I was there," Miss Hobbs said.

Conditions

She explained that she realized that she was shown only the best areas but that at least the people are eating enough to keep fairly well.

"I was given complete freedom of travel while I was there," Miss Hobbs said, "but there is no public transportation as we know it. There are railroads and the like, but inter-urban transportation is nonexistent."

Miss Hobbs said that they were treated very well and that the few restrictions that were placed on photographs were reasonable. She was asked not to take pictures from a plane, and if she wanted pictures of an individual, she was to ask the person first.

Miss Hobbs said that the West should be more objective in its attitude toward the Chinese.

"In order to communicate with them we will have to bend over backwards and do all sorts of things. However, we must do this because it is inevitable that the Chinese will eventually rule Asia at least economically," Miss Hobbs said.

People To People To Feature Speaker

By NELLIE BONILLA

People to People, foreign culture group, will present speaker Francis Gill tonight at 7:30 PM in Cafeteria Committee Room B.

Miss Gill, who is presently in charge of the Spanish program in the Fowler schools, taught in Spain for the armed forces for three years. She will show slides and give her impressions of the present situation in that country.

Shay Maghame, club president, invites all faculty and students to attend.

Phi Beta Lambda

Phi Beta Lambda, business club, will hold a car wash Saturday at First Street and Ashlan Avenue from 10 AM to 3 PM.

The price is $1 per car.

Presently the club is working on plans for a spaghetti dinner June 4 in the Cafeteria at 5:30 PM.

The price is $1 for adults and 75 cents for children 12 years old and under.

"It is open to the public," said Carol Andrews, club president, "and it will be an excellent dinner."

Philosophy

Frank Attardo, philosophy instructor, is trying to organize a philosophy discussion group for the fall semester.

He said that those who are interested may contact him in Administration 220.

Sullivan's previous experience on The Rampage includes a semester as a reporter and one as city editor; he is presently managing editor. Sullivan is replacing Dennis McCarthy.

As general manager Thomas Arriet will take over supervision of all non-editorial jobs in the Rampage office.

Jay York, present photo editor, will have the jobs of reading copy and writing some editorials as managing editor next fall.

Louis Bell will be moving from his present job as sports editor to city editor. Bell was editor-in-chief last semester.

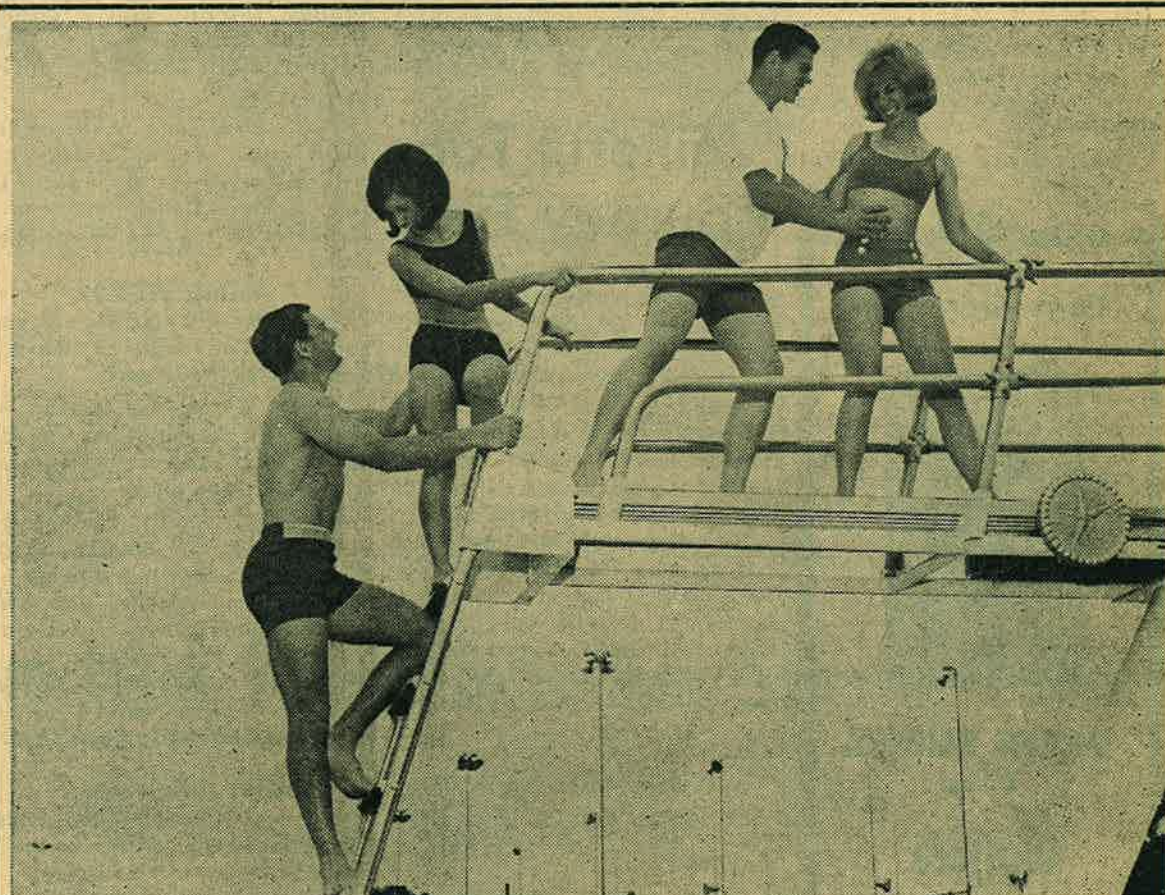

Present city editor Spencer Kendig will be handling page two as news feature editor.

Nellie Bonilla will move from club news editor to take duties of organizing page three as news editor.

Page four will have Ted Hilliard as sports editor. James Mendoza will help Hilliard as assistant sports editor.

Helen Rohrig will keep her present job as business manager for The Rampage.

Other new members to next fall's staff will be Linda Garrett, copy editor; Linda Yazijian, photo editor, and Mary Morris, as club news editor.

He said the system is based on the assumption that all questions are answered truthfully and accurately.

"We do not assume responsibility for any characteristics of the student's match, or for any of his or her actions," he said. "After all, only the applicant has the final decision to make as to whether they date them or not."

Trackmen Win League Championship

Rams End Perfect Season

Fresno City College cindermen captured the Valley Conference track championship for the second straight year last Friday when they smashed San Joaquin Delta College 108-28 on the Mustangs' home course.

The Rams, weakened by injuries to several top personnel, placed first in all but two events to wrap up the season with a perfect 5-0 record.

The Rams will host the Northern California Junior College Relays in Ratcliffe Stadium this Saturday.

Schools Entered

Twenty-eight schools have entered the annual event which will begin with the field events at 1 PM. The running events will get underway at 2 PM.

Along with FCC, San Francisco Junior College and American River Junior College is favored to win the meet.

"We will be going all out to make this a good meet," said assistant Coach Bob Fries. "But due to injuries, we will be saving our top strength for the Valley Conference qualifying meet next weekend."

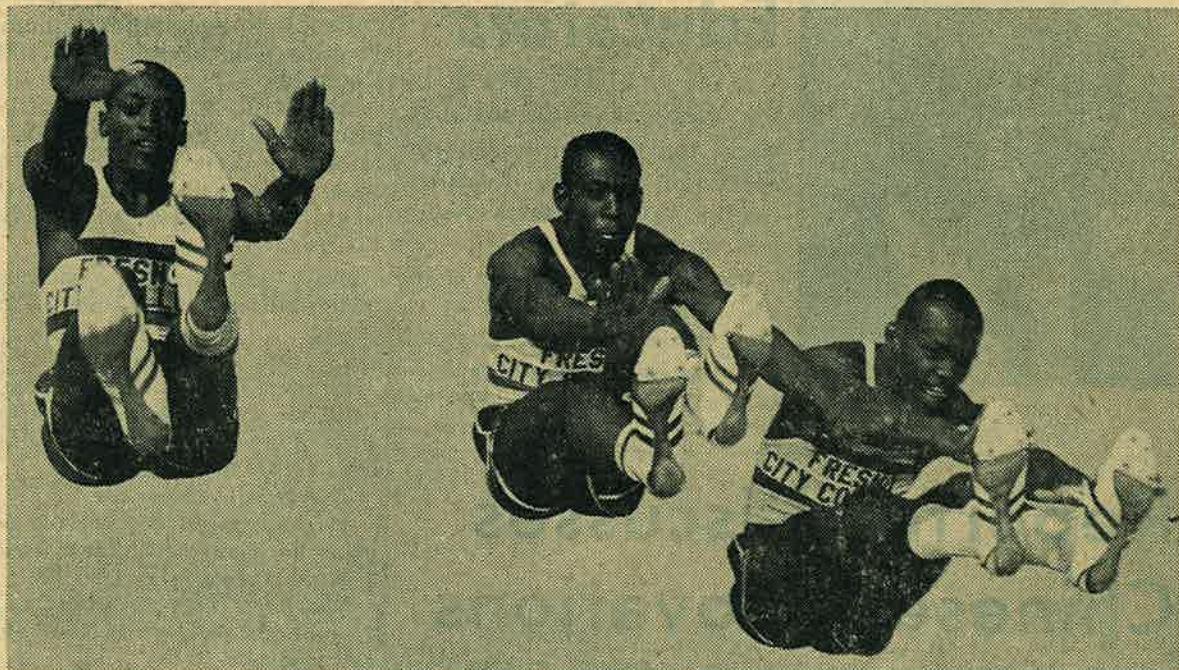

Competition Expected

Coach Erwin Ginsburg and Fries said the Rams could face tough competition in the relays from SFJC who will have a 9.6 sprinter in O. J. Simpson running as anchor man.

Allan Hancock Junior College is expected to do well in the sprint medley with Dugan, 4:01 miler, and Casmere in the distance events.

Fries also expects rough competition from Dennis Phillip, a 16 foot pole vaulter from San Mateo Junior College.

Though hampered by injuries in the running department, FCC will still sport a strong field team and can be expected to do well in the distance relays and medleys.

The Rams will have two of the best jumpers in the state competing in the triple jump with Herold Thompson and Delbur Thompson. H. Thompson has the best mark in the state at 49'3" and is closely followed by his cousin D. Thompson at 48'6".

Coach Fries has given Alvin

Mann a possible chance of winning the 100 yard dash.

The red and white will enter a strong distance medley team composed of Marty Growdon, 440; Raul Perez, 880; John Garcia, 1320; and Pete Santos, mile. Ginsburg and Fries gave the team a good chance of winning this event and a possible chance of making it a double in the 2-mile relay competition.

Ram Nine Prepares For VC Doubleheader

The 1966 Valley Conference baseball season apparently started too early for Coach Len Boudret and his Rams.

Since losing their first six VC games, the Rams have fought back to win eight of their last 10 league contests to move into a third place tie with American River. Both teams currently

Veillette Tops Tourney Field

Ken Veillette smashed his way past a field of approximately 100 contestants last week to win the annual Fresno City College intramural badminton tournament held in the FCC Gymnasium.

Veillette, competing in the intermediate class, held off Dan Opperman in the finals to win the first place trophy, 15-12, 15-7.

The tourney, which ran Monday through Thursday, saw Veillette make it two in a row when he teamed up with Opperman to take first place honors in the men's doubles division by dropping the team of Vernon DeFehr and Guadalupe Vasques, 15-5, 15-8.

In the men's beginning division, Jack Spann captured first place honors when he downed Jim Elliott, 15-10, 15-7.

Sharon Ricci dominated the women's division when she tumbled Barbara McLendon in the finals, 15-12, 15-10.

Golf, Tennis Teams Face Last Games

Valley Conference action will come to a close for the Fresno City College tennis and golf teams this weekend and Tuesday when they complete in their final league meets.

The FCC tennis squad will end its season this weekend when it travels to Sacramento City College tomorrow for a 3 PM encounter with SCC on the Panthers' courts. Saturday the Rams will meet American River Junior College on the ARJC courts at 9 AM.

Coach Dan Ozier will be looking for a double win when he sends out his starting lineup of Gary Hippensteel, Rick Fiori, Doug Banta, Frank Waterhouse, and John Grey.

The Ram golf team will play its last league match Tuesday when it hosts the College of the Sequoias Giants on the FCC courts at 1 PM.

Coach Hans Weidenhoefer will be looking for a strong finish in the league with a victory over COS.

The tentative starting lineup for the Ram linkmen will be Rich Richards, Tom Shropshire, Bill Parks, Roger Stiles and John Winstead.

Swimmers To Enter State Meet

Tomorrow and Saturday the Fresno City College swim team will compete in the Northern California Championships at Visalia.

The action, which will begin at 9 AM both days, will take place in the College of the Sequoias pool.

The Ram tankers will meet tough competition, especially against favored Foothill College.

Coach Gene Stephens has high hopes for his "very talented team" which has set seven school records this season.

Bob McAlister's diving chalked two of these.

Bob holds a record of 435.10 points in 3 meter diving, and at the Valley Conference meet in Sacramento Friday he established a conference record of 368.60 in the 1 meter event.

Tim Riley, Rod Latham, Ken Yegan and Terry Heller set a school record in the 400 medley relay this season with a time of 4:00.7. The record in the 400 freestyle was made by Jay Huneke, Blair Looney, Ken Yegan and Terry Heller with a time of 3:27.6.

Ken Yegan has a record in the 200 individual medley with a time of 2:16.9.
