Graduation Ceremonies June 10 FRESNO CITY COLLEGE 513 Sophomores To Be Honored

VOL. XX

Fresno City College graduation exercises will be held June 10 at 8 PM in the west courtyard of the Administration Building. Degrees will be granted to 513 students who have completed a two year course of study. This is the 56th commencement exercise of FCC.

Frank E. Young, assistant to the president of the Bank of America, will be the main guest speaker. Christopher Bordagaray, an honor history major, will speak on behalf of the graduating class.

The highest honor graduate of the class of 1966 is Ruth E. Strickland.

Gloria S. Pavelski and Verlyn K. Lethem have received honorary lifetime memberships in Phi Theta Kappa, the national junior college scholastic honor society. For membership, a student must maintain a 3.5 grade point average for four semesters.

Miss Strickland, a liberal arts major, and Lucile Mealey, a general education major, will read the names of the graduates.

Miss Doris Deakins, dean of women, said that a reception will follow the graduation exercises in the east courtyard of the Administration Building.

Summer Jobs Available For FCC Students

Chuck Powell, head of the Fresno City College Student Employment Office, said many FCC students are looking for summer jobs.

"It is definitely not too late to see us about a summer job," Powell said

"Most summer job openings come to us about the middle of June."

The Student Employment office is located at the west end of Technical-1 and will be open from 8 AM to 5 PM weekdays this summer.

Powell said that presently there is a need for experienced service station people. He said jobs as fruit inspectors are open if the person could stay with the job through September.

"Jobs for women range from mother's helpers to clerical openings in all types of businesses," he said.

"The summer jobs we have (Continued on Page 3)

Draft Tests Near

FCC male students have one more chance to take the Selective Service examination.

The deadline to mail in applications is June 1. The test date is June 24.

Joe Kelly, FCC educational adviser, said applications will be available in the FCC Admissions Office.

Fall Day Enrollment May Reach 5,200

By LINDA GARRETT

FCC should have an enrollment of 5,200 day students next fall.

George Holstein, dean of admissions and records said there will be no problems with the extra students since the increase has been expected.

Merle Martin, the dean of students, said that due to the enrollment increase the faculty will also be increased.

Normal Adjustment

"There will not be any new classes although we are going to add some sections to the existing classes," Martin said.

Martin added that this is a normal curriculum adjustment which fluctuates with the projected enrollment.

Due to the increased enrollment 15 new faculty members will be added. However, a representative of the dean of instructions office cautioned that this number might change at any time.

New Faculty Members

There will be two new faculty members and two instructors replaced in the business division, nine new instructors in the letters and arts division and three additions to the math and science division. Three part-time members of the technical and industrial division will become full-time faculty members.

Culture Notes Tim Mancini Editorial Importance Of Degrees ASB President Depends On Graduates Continues Career

No college degree in itself can insure automatic success and happiness. The true value of any college degree depends solely upon the graduate and how he chooses to use the degree he has earned.

George M. Holstein, Fresno City College dean of admissions and records, probably best summarized the values of the associate of arts and the associate of science degree programs when he said, "It's not the degree that is so important it's what you do with it that counts.'

The actual value and importance of any college degree whether it be an AA degree, an AS degree or any one of a number of honorary degrees-is perhaps nothing more than the creation of individual initiative.

This year more than 500 students will graduate from FCC. Many will go on to four-year colleges and universities. Several others will move into specialized jobs, many of which they have been specially trained.

For those willing to take full advantage of their college degrees, whether as a means of furthering their educations or as a means of reference in establishing employment, the opportunities are many and the rewards quite gratifying.

In the final analysis, however, it is up to the graduate himself to decide whether or not the degree he has earned was worth the time and effort he spent to earn it.

student body president, although only 18, has had quite a political career.

He graduated from Fresno High School and was on the senior class committee, the student body executive committee and was an officer in the Letterman's Club. Last semester at FCC he was commissioner of oral arts.

Mancini, a freshman, is a prelaw major. He was born in Oakland, but has lived in Fresno most of his life. He attended San Joaquin Memorial High School his freshman and sophomore years and then transferred to Fresno High School.

Mancini is very interested in student government and "hopes to help the students in every way he can." He believes that the average student does not realize how important student government really is.

"Junior college students," he said, "may live at home and usually go from school to work, whereas the university students probably live on campus and detheir social activities; therefore they become more involved."

Business Students Receive Recognition The FCC business Division held its annual awards assembly

Wednesday morning to honor 12 outstanding business students.

Speaker for the assembly was Halbert T. Cupps, director of the Voice of America relay station in Delano. Cupps' subject was "Communication-Backbone of Education."

Students receiving awards were judged on scholarship, achievement and capacity for success on the job.

Recipients are as follows: The first Merchandising Student of the Year award, Mary Lou King; Wall Street Journal award, Jeffrey Emrich: Bank of America awards, Caroline Lewis and Claudia Spomer.

Accounting, Sally Tokubo; data processing, Caroline Lewis; clerical, Marsha Eckhardt; medical secretary, Lynette Anderson; secretary, Donna Knowlton; typing, Lynda Borjas; and Machine Shorthand Writer, Sue Fulmore. Venie Cargil received two awards for legal secretary and manual shorthand writer.

"I feel," said Eckenrod, "that this is one of the most important things we do in the business division because we have so few opportunities to honor students and, because we strive for a quality program, this provides an example of excellence for students who will be here in years to come.'

Dramatists Are Initiated

Delta Psi Omega, the honorary drama fraternity, initiated three new members Sunday in the FCC auditorium.

Cherie Franklin, Al Cirimele and Renee Clendenning are the new members. Membership is attained by working on city college drama productions.

Officers for the fall semester were elected following the initiation. Linda Jones was elected as president for the fall. Other officers are Sharon Serna, vice president; Renee Clendenning, secretary-treasurer, and Al Cirimele, senior pledge trainer.

At a picnic held Sunday afternoon at Wild Wood Country Club, awards for outstanding contribution were given. Carolene Lung received the best actress award and Dan McGeorge, Evelyn Budmark, Linda Jones, Cherie Franklin and Sandy Dralle received awards for technical work.

The Associated Men Students bowling team will be going into today's final round of the Fresno City College bowling league with a two-game edge over the second place New Breeds.

The AMS team, headed by Dave Drzwiecki with an average of 185, almost assured itself of the first place team trophy last Thursday by sweeping a three game series over the Alleycats.

Other members of the AMS team are Ron Winter, 165; Gary Brinkley, 160; and Ed Reid, 161. The AMS team needs only to take two of its remaining three games to clinch the trophy.

Trophies will be awarded to each member of the winning team as well as to the bowler with the high game and the high series in both the men and women's division.

Drzwiecki currently leads the trophy dash in the men's division with a high series of 602 and a high game of 244.

Pressing him for the high series is Joe Miltonw ith a 599 high series and a 220 high game. The women's scores have not been totaled.

The league is sponsored by the Associated Men Students and is held at Mid State Bowl every Thursday at 4 PM.

ket awards. Pettinelli proved an invaluable player in the Rams' second half comeback in baseball. Batting a .403 average, he helped the team go undefeated in their last 12 games, which almost earned them a share of the Valley Conference championship.

Recipients for track and field awards will not be selected until after the state track meet in Modesto this Saturday. The outstanding track team member will be selected next week.

Durst, Yates Take Honors In Tourney

Jim Durst and Jim Yates ended the intramural tennis tournament Tuesday as championship partners in the intermediate men's doubles.

Durst and Yates completed the intermediate competition undefeated with near-perfect scores of 6-1, 6-1 over Rudy Garcia and Don Grover.

Garcia and Grover came through the preliminaries undefeated, then lost 6-3, 6-1 in the semi-finals to Durst and Yates.

Garcia and Grover won a split set in the first round with Dick Gong and Don Miyasaki, then split again in the loser's semi-finals.

The first split ended with a 6-1 win for Grover and Garcia, and the second ended with a 6-3 win for the same team, qualifying them for the final competition with Durst and Yates.

Miyasaki won the intermediate singles competition last week, but failed to make final competition in the doubles, due to the two split with Garcia and Grover.

Gerald Cisneros took second behind Mivasaki in the singles competition.

Cisneros, who earlier defeated Miyasaki, 6-4, 4-2, in the semifinals, had to face him again in the finals when Miyasaki topped Jim Durst, 0-6, 6-4, 6-0, in the loser's bracket.

The same situation occurred in the beginning singles division when David Ward dumped Dan Aten in the semi-finals, 6-0, 6-1, and faced him again in the finals after Aten decisioned Phil Zobel, 6-3, 7-5.

However, Ward was able to make it two in a row over Aten, winning 6-3, 6-3, to take the first place trophy.

Shirley Stillwell, tournament director, was pleased with the participation of this year's intramural play.

"We have had a good turnout for the event," said Mrs. Stillwell, 'and some very good tennis playing, especially in the intermediate division."
